SMALL FIRE.

Interrupts the Church Services.

The fire alarm coming about 9 o'clock Sunday night had a demoralizing effect on the congregations in the churches, and caused a cutting short of sermons. That is one thing Greenville folks will do, make a bolt for the open when a fire alarm strikes, and we suppose the same thing is true in other towns.

The house on Washington street, between Second and Third, occupied by Ben Price, colored, was on fire. The old man and some grand children were in the house while the others of the household were at church. The fire is supposed to have started from a lamp being left so near the wall that it caught some paper.

The fire department turned out promptly and soon had a stream from the hydrant on the corner. The building burned so rapidly that the flames seemed all over it when the department arrived, but in a short while they had the fire out.

The building belonged to D. E. House and was not insured.

SANS SOUCI CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

The Sans Souci club spent a most enjoyable evening at the residence of Miss Lizzie Jones, Tuesday April 25th. The president being absent, the vice president, Mrs. Woodward, presided over the meeting.

The literary program consisted of a short story read by Mrs. Dail and items of interest were given by each member of the club.

The guessing contest was unusually interesting, Miss Suttle being the winner of the beautiful prize, an embroidered picture frame. The souvenirs for the occasion were attractive and unique, and each guest was fortunate enough in the souvenir to find a prize. The meeting then being over delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Helen Fobes.

We had the pleasure of having with us besides the club members, Messdames Ficklen, Little, Wooten, Coward, Flanagan, Cobb, Carr, Andrews and Miss Suttle. The club meets next with Miss Bertha Patrick May the 9th.

The "Martin Family."

The "Martin Family" came to town this morning from Kinston after closing a most successful meeting at that place.

One hundred and forty-three people of all ages confessed Christ during the two weeks that Dr. Martin and his talented family were at Kinston; and so great were the crowds which overflowed the church, that one young man, anxious to make the confession, forced his way in through the transom and in that way accomplished his purpose.

Dr. Martin is a man of striking personality and a speaker of great power. Each member of his family is gifted with fine musical talent, and form a strong setting for the evangelist.

There is no doubt but what the meeting will tax the capacity of the Christian church, where the meetings begin tonight at eight o'clock.

There will surely be a rush for seats, and all are advised to come as early as possible. The church will be open at 7, meeting at 8.

Fine Singer

A. L. Kronfeldt, a young traveling man of New York, spent Sunday here. He is a singer of marked talent and Greenville people twice had the pleasure of hearing him. He sang in the Methodist church Sunday morning and also at the Odd Fellows celebration in the opera house in the afternoon.

FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. A. T. King Closes His Pastorate at Baptist Church.

On Sunday night Rev. A. T. King preached his farewell sermon as pastor of the Memorial Baptist church here. A very large congregation was present to hear his closing words. In keeping with the cordial relation between the pastors, the Christian church was closed for this service and that congregation worshipped at the Baptist church to join in the farewell to Mr. King.

Mr. King's subject for this closing sermon was "The Christian's Hope" on which he spoke most earnestly. He urged the church to faithfulness, to be steadfast, always abounding in good works. He had not concluded his sermon when the fire alarm sounded, causing the greater part of the congregation to leave the church.

A hymn was sung to restore quiet, and at the conclusion of the song Rev. H. H. Moore, pastor of the Christian church, arose to speak a parting word for himself and his church. He referred to the cordial greeting Mr. King had extended him in the service in which he was welcomed to Greenville, how closely he had lived up to the spirit of that welcome, the cordial relation that had existed between them in all things, and the regret with which he came to the hour of separation. Mr. Moore spoke with much feeling and earnestness and prayed that God's richest blessings might go with Mr. King to his new field of labor, and that the Holy Spirit might guide the church in selecting a successor to him.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale also spoke a parting word to the retiring pastor. His remarks were attended by much feeling, and so correctly voiced just what every member of the church felt, that THE REFLECTOR has been asked to print them. We can not do this today, but will endeavor to give our readers the pleasure of reading the beautiful tribute tomorrow.

Mr. King responded with emotion to the words of both Moore and Mr. Ragsdale. He spoke how much he loved Greenville, and would be willing to always live and die here, yet he felt the Holy Spirit's direction in the step he was taking and wanted the Lord to use him as He saw best.

Not only his own church but the people generally of the community regret that Mr. King leaves. He has made a faithful pastor. He is an able minister, a cultured gentleman, a true friend, and devoted to his work.

ODD FELLOWS ANNIVERSARY.

Joint Celebration Of Greenville And Ayden Lodges.

The Odd Fellows lodges of Greenville and Ayden, on Sunday celebrated together the 86th anniversary of the order. The exercises took place in the Masonic temple opera house and were exceedingly interesting. Besides the two lodges participating there were a number of visitors from other lodges, and the audience completely filled the house.

J. White was master of ceremonies and the program was as follows: Anthem, by choir. Hymn "Blest be the tie that binds."

Scripture reading.

Prayer, by Rev. J. L. Rumley.

Solo, by A. L. Kronfeldt.

Introduction, by D. L. James.

Sermon, by Rev. N. M. Watson.

Anthem, by choir.

Hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus name."

Benediction, by Rev. P. E. Hunt.

The sermon of Mr. Watson was excellent and most appropriate to the occasion.

He asked the question, how can every member of the order best live up to the principles of Odd Fellowship and answered by quoting his text: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus."

The singing of the choir was beautiful.

CONFERENCE CLOSES.

R. C. CRAVEN,
L. E. THOMPSON.

At 5 p. m. the conference adjourned sine die with benediction by Rev. J. D. Budy, P. E.

On Sunday the Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and colored Methodist pulpits were filled by members of the conference. It was a beautiful day and the worship at all the churches was very enjoyable and edifying.

COLORED PEOPLE GRATEFUL.

A. M. E. Zion Church, Greenville, May, 1st.

We extend high appreciation to the conference of white people in Greenville for able selection made in sending us men to preach on yesterday. The pulpit of A. M. E. Zion church was ably filled. Such instructive sermons could only come from God fearing men.

We trust that the white people will think of us often and keep on doing that way. Such teachings will lessen the crimes committed by our people. Give us more help such as was given yesterday and we will guarantee to give you less trouble. "Come over in Macedonia and help us."

ED WARD FIELDS,
Church Secretary.

MONDAY, MAY 1, 1905.

TRAGEDY DRAMA WITHOUT FOOT-LIGHTS.

Nan Patterson, the show girl, who has been on trial since last Monday in New York for the third time, charged with the murder of "Caesar" Young, holds up admirably under the terrible ordeal.

At the first trial the jury could not agree on a verdict, the opinion prevailing that Nan Patterson was innocent of the crime for which she stood charged. And the general opinion then and now is that she ought to have been acquitted. There has only been a broken chain of circumstantial evidence from the start, and when Prosecuting Attorney Rand stated that he would prove that the pistol which killed Young was bought by J. Morgan Smith, Nan Patterson's brother-in-law, every one feared the worst for the now notorious show girl. But in this Rand fell flat. Stern, the pawn broker, from whom the fatal pistol was purchased, could not identify either Nan Patterson or Morgan Smith. The prosecution relied upon proving that Smith and the Patterson girl bought the pistol, and had Rand proved this fact, it would have moved Nan Patterson perilously near the electric chair. But the prosecution failing to establish this fact, in our mind, makes Nan Patterson's chances 90 per cent. better.

Sunday night's fire, though a small one, demonstrated the value of the town having a good system of water works. As soon as the alarm sounded the firemen only had to take a hose reel to the nearest hydrant and there was water in abundance. There was no waiting to harness horses, fire up the engine and run out long lines of hose from the cistern. The fire department is now in shape to do good work when needed.

A Berlin professor says laziness is a disease, and claims to have discovered a brand of anti-toxin to cure it. That's nothing. We've already got a treatment for it down this way. Squire Rountree has injected thirty-days on-the-roads doses to several afflicted with it and every one coming under treatment went right to work.

In a Northern court it has been decided that every man who is married is the head of his home. We don't know, but it strikes us that to many this decision will be all they will have to show for their authority.

Charlotte does not want any more German doctors to write whiskey prescriptions, at least the druggists of that city don't.

The doctors are saying tuberculosis is not incurable. But people go on dying with it, like they do with every other disease.

Folks had best stop trying to kill themselves if they are to serve a sentence in the chain gang for it.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soused meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Great Town Builders.

Every person interested in the growth and prosperity of the town should be in favor of the organization of a building and loan association. We believe nothing would augur more for the future of the town. Homeseekers, investors and workers of every kind should be interested in such an enterprise.

The Free Lance, of Spartanburg, S. C., recently had this to say of the building and loan associations in that place:

The maturing of a series of one of the building and loan associations of this city, announcement of which has been made, furnishes a significant lesson in the value of small savings and their interest and profit-making features. The subscribers to the stock of this series get $100 for each $78 paid in, making a net profit of $22 on each share. This is an average of 9 per cent. per annum in a perfectly safe investment. An investor who has been paying $10 a month finds himself possessed of $1,000 in cold cash that he probably never would have had but for the establishing of a regular practice of saving.

There are four or five such associations in Spartanburg, all managed by local people who are safe business men and the results are always good. Every man and many women in Spartanburg should have some building and loan stock, if it isn't but one share, requiring the payment of one dollar a month. It not only makes them save money, but establishes the habit of saving and puts the money saved to earning a good rate of interest as fast as paid in.

The building and loan associations have done a great work in the upbuilding of Spartanburg by furnishing loans to erect dwelling and other houses and hundreds of neat and cosy homes in this city were built with money borrowed on easy terms from the building and loan associations and repaid or in process of repayment in small monthly installments. The result is that with a monthly payment but little, if any, in excess of what is usually paid for the rent of such a house the borrower soon becomes the owner with clear title to a home, for which he never has to pay rent. The building and loan associations have done much for our citizens and there are no more popular institutions in Spartanburg.

Bilious Bill was getting bloated, and his tongue was much coated. Patent "tonics" wouldn't cure him. Companies would not insure him. All his friends were badly frightened, but their spirits soon were lightened. For Bill said—and they believed him, EARLY RISER pill relieved him. The famous little pills "Early Risers" cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, etc., by their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe or sicken but impart early rising energy. Good for children or adults. Sold by Jno L. Wooten.

All women should strive to be beautiful. Beauty rules mankind. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea brings red lips, bright eyes and cream like complexion. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets.—Wooten's Drug Store.

The Confederacy's Postmaster-General.

The tie of union having been broken, Mr. Reagan was chosen as one of the six delegates to the Provisional Congress of the Confederacy. In Montgomery, while taking part in the formation of the constitution for the Confederacy, to his surprise, he was offered by President-elect Davis the appointment of Postmaster-General. He accepted the role with misgivings, for it was no simple task to organize and set in operation a postal system of the magnitude demanded by the seceding States,—a system which was to be subjected to the severest tests. Here was his great triumph. Not only did he give the South better mail service for half the cost under the Union, but actually year after year, while the financial condition of the Confederacy steadily grew worse, he increased the net returns of his department. Even the last year of the war the surplus in the treasury credited to his department was no mean sum. This was a splendid achievement,—an achievement proclaiming exceptional executive ability.

Apart from Mr. Reagan's duties as Postmaster-General of the Confederacy, he was one of the most faithful and trusted of President Davis' advisers. On many points of policy he took issue, not only with the other cabinet members, but with the President as well. The most conspicuous instance of this character concerned the plan of the campaign of 1863. He opposed with more than mild words the sending of General Lee into Pennsylvania, urging the dispatch of part of his forces to the relief of Pemberton before Vicksburg and the clearing of Tennessee and Kentucky of Union troops, the Army of Virginia meantime acting on the defensive. After a decision had been made, Judge Reagan wrote a final note to the President appealing in vain for a reconsideration of the question, pointing out the certain calamities which eventuated in Vicksburg and Gettysburg.—From "John H. Reagan,—A Character Sketch," by Walter Flavius McCaleb, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews of May.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, Kan., Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Pacific between Wichita and Klowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in the office today, we asked him about it. He says terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Jno L. Wooten.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

Hot Weather Piles

Persons afflicted with Piles should be careful at this season of the year. Hot weather and bad drinking water contribute to the conditions which make Piles more painful and dangerous. Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

Died of Poisoning.

John Murphy, a man well known here as dealer in barbecue, died in Washington Sunday under peculiar circumstances. He was there trying on his business, and the report says he had bought a bottle of whiskey and put it away in a building until he was ready to use it. When he went after the whiskey by some mistake he got a bottle of poison that had been left in the same building. He drank some of the poison and it killed him.
