MEMORIAL DAY REUNION.

Large Attendance of Confederate Veterans—Interesting Program of Exercises—Splendid Addresses by Gen. Roberts and Dr. Martin—Bountiful Dinner for Old Soldiers.

Each recurring Memorial day brings back memories of the past. It recalls vivid scenes and incidents of the greatest struggle known in the history of our country as the few survivors of the bloody war of 1861-'65 come together again to greet their comrades in arms and rehearse the thrilling events through which they passed and which cemented them as a band of brothers. It is an occasion of both sadness and pleasure—sad because the hand of time continues to thin the already depleted ranks and leaves fewer to participate in each successive reunion; pleasure because those still left are permitted to come together and clasp hands once more, while those too young to be participants in those trying days and know of them only as handed down from our ancestors or through history, can do our part in honoring these surviving heroes and scattering sunshine about them in their declining days.

We are glad to have the old soldiers with us on this memorial occasion. We are proud to greet them as heroes. It is a privilege to march with them to the home of the dead and there spread fresh garlands of love upon the graves of the departed. Greenville has done herself proud in the entertainment provided for the veterans. The early hours of the morning saw many of them coming into town from all directions—some minus a limb lost on the battle field, others battle scarred, many with feeble steps, but all with buoyant hearts and gallant spirits.

At 9:30 o'clock the members of Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans met in the court house and held a short business session. When the roll was called seventeen deaths were reported since last meeting. Mr. J. H. Harding was elected commander of the camp, E. A. Moye first lieutenant and H. A. Blow secretary.

At 10 o'clock the procession in command of Maj. Henry Harding formed and marched to Cherry Hill cemetery and faced in around the Confederate monument. After a song "Memorial Day" by a quartette the camp was addressed by Lieut. E. A. Moye. The monument and graves of soldiers were then decorated with flowers.

The line again formed and returned to the Masonic temple opera house where the remainder of the exercises were held. The opera house was crowded to overflowing. The veterans occupied the center tier of seats, the Singletary Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy to their right and the F. J. Jarvis Chapter were on the stage with the choir and speakers. The following program was carried out:

Song, "Dixie Land Battle Hymn," by choir.

Invocation, by Rev. J. A. Hornaday.

Song, "America" by choir. Welcome in behalf of Mayor.

Instrumental selection by Martin Family.

Introduction of speaker, by Col. I. A. Sugg.

Address, by Gen. W. P. Roberts.

Song, "The Old North State." Address, by Dr. R. S. Martin.

Song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," by Quartette.

Benediction, by Rev. H. H. Moore.

Song, "God be with you till we meet again."

At the conclusion of the song "Dixie" Maj. Harding called the veterans to attention and they responded with the "Rebel Yell."

The veterans and audience also broke in several bursts of applause during the rendering of "Dixie" by the Martin Family.

Gen. Roberts was called the boy general of the civil war, being the youngest to reach that distinction. Yet in valor, heroism and bravery he was the peer of any. In his address he went over again many of the incidents of the war, gave due praise to the Confederate soldiers and paid a brilliant tribute to the noble women of the South, declaring them to be the real soldiers of that great war. His speech delighted the veterans and was frequently applauded.

Dr. Martin's address was a gem. He spoke eloquently of Americans, and particularly of Southerners. He said that in all his travels he found in the Carolina's the purest American blood in the land. His beautiful tributes were greeted with bursts of applause.

After the exercises were over a sumptuous dinner was served on the court house square. This was abundant and elegant and all ate to their hearts content. Many of the veterans declared that they had attended no more enjoyable reunion. The committee in charge of arrangements deserves much credit for the success of the day. They performed their duties well.

A large crowd again greeted Dr. Martin and family at the Christian church Tuesday night.

The sermon was a powerful one "The Four Greatest Forces of Life."

He outlined the power and influences of education, environment, heredity and God's grace. This last force greater than all of the others combined, and able to save men from all sin.

Tonight the subject will be "Similarities of Soldiers and Sailors." This will be an appropriate topic at this time.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1905.

It's Warsaw and Chicago now.

There will be a feeling of relief when Miss Patterson drops out of the public eye.

The penitentiary in Columbus, Ohio, has ten bank presidents and cashiers enrolled, all for embezzlement.

While Gates and his crowd were put to flight by the Chicago bulls Roosevelt was charging the bear in Colorado.

Every man who opposes a tax for better roads simply helps to retard the valuation and improvement of his own property.

The Savannah Press says: "Our liquor bill is $1,000,000,000 a year." Phew! Wonder what kind of liquor that editor drinks?

The only punishment a man ever gets for stealing a kiss, unless perhaps he kisses a consumptive, is in the after married life.

We may talk about a scarcity of hands, but there were enough of them to gather more berries than the railroads could ship.

A Kansas man says the Panama canal will not be completed in two hundred years. Then there is no need of any of us hurrying plans to be present at the opening.

A Boston divine says, "Mr. John D. has no axe to grind." We suppose not. He has never had any use for a sharp axe as he has never been caught cutting prices.

It is stated that the printers have joined in the strike at Warsaw. Well, we don't much blame them considering those terrible Russian names they had to "set up" day after day.

The transportation lines will have to do much making good, but that will not compensate the farmers for the heavy loss sustained through insufficient facilities for getting the berry crop to market.

The only way District Attorneys Jerome and Rand can square themselves with the public is to enter no objection to Nan Patterson's release on bail and quietly let the indictment against her be squashed.

Washington Duke, founder of the Duke tobacco industry at Durham, and who made a great fortune in tobacco manufacturing, died in Durham Monday at the age of 85 years. He had been a useful man and served his generation well.

And here comes a newspaper man who says he lost his trunk and fourteen shirts in the wreck of the Ogden train. This is wonderful news. Well, we thought we were pretty well fixed in the shirt line, but this poor unfortunate had just thirteen more shirts than we have.

A man from Kansas, who has just returned from the isthmus makes the declaration that the canal will not be completed in two hundred years. Thinking possibly that this gentleman was disappointed in getting a job out there we make haste to discount his figures 50 per cent.

In keeping with the policy of other progressive railroads, the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad Company has established a land and industrial department and has appointed Fred L. Merritt agent of this department with headquarters at Goldsboro. The establishment of this department means an organized and persistent effort for the development of the section through which the road runs, by bringing in a good class of immigrants to settle the lands and outside capital to help develop the resources. Mr. Merritt is a capable man for the position to which he has been appointed and will leave nothing undone to bring success out of it.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, Kan., Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Pacific between Wichita and Klowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in the office today, we asked him about it. He says terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Jno L Wooten.

Washington Duke.

While Washington Duke may not have been a great man, that he was a good man, possessing a kindly heart, we all know. He filled the place allotted him in the world to the best of his ability, and no man can do more and few do so much. He founded a great enterprise but the making of it great was left to his sons. He was rich beyond his needs and gave of his surplus where he perhaps thought it would do most good. It may be that he had enemies but if so it is doubtful if he knew or suspected it. He became possessed of millions but they came too late in life to spoil a character already formed, and he died as he had lived, a plain, honest, good man, satisfied with the ordinary comforts of life and the friendship of his friends. His years were full and his end was peace.—Durham Herald.

Bilious Bill was getting bloated, and his tongue was much coated. Patent "tonics" wouldn't cure him. Companies would not insure him. All his friends were badly frightened, but their spirits soon were lightened. For Bill said—and they believed him, EARLY RISER pill relieved him. The famous little pills "Early Risers" cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Billiousness, etc., by their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe or sicken but impart early rising energy. Good for children or adults. Sold by Jno L Wooten.

An Indiana jury granted a divorce to a woman, allowed her $47,000 alimony, a house valued at $35,000, gave her the custody of the children and an additional allowance of $250 a month to support them. All this was done on the ground of "cruel and unusual treatment," the principal allegation being that her husband subjected her to great pain, humiliation and mortification because he failed to wear a dress suit at a dinner and reception which she gave some of her fashionable friends. Surely and indeed it would have meant electrocution for Adam to have had his case in the hands of that jury.—Wilmington Star.

Hot Weather Piles.

Persons afflicted with Piles should be careful at this season of the year. Hot weather and bad drinking water contribute to the conditions which make Piles more painful and dangerous. CREDIT CUSTOMERS.
Where They Have an Advantage Over Those Who Pay Cash.
"I should think they'd show more consideration to a good cash customer," exclaimed the shopper, who had just had a wordy encounter over an exchange slip with the floorwalker. "If they would take the trouble to look the matter up they'd find my name regularly on the delivery books."
"That's just the trouble—it's only on the delivery books and not among their charge customers."
"But I should think the firm would want a big cash trade?"
"It does, but firm and employees look at it differently. When a woman says, 'Charge, please,' the clerk sits up and takes notice. The woman who has an account is the woman who can most easily complain of discourtesy and inattention on the part of a clerk. The value of her trade is known to the firm. She prefaces her complaint with the words, 'As you know, I've had an account here ever since the store was opened.' The cash customer represents a single sale. She cannot prove how valuable her trade is to the house, and the clerk knows it. I've watched the rule work again and again. It almost discourages one in the self imposed task of paying cash."
"But, on the other hand," objected the tired shopper, "if a woman pays cash she buys more carefully, more providently."
"That is just the point," smiled her wise companion. "It is the woman who buys improvidently, sometimes foolishly, who commands the respect and incidentally the attention of clerks."—New York Press.

Wanted Some Himself.
A traveling agent, for a large wholesale grocery house was selling a bill of goods to one of his customers, a grocer in a little village. "Now," he said, "to wind up with, don't you want a few cans of our maple sirup? You'll find it the best you have ever kept in stock."
"No," said the grocer, "I've plenty of maple sirup."
"When did you get it? I don't remember selling you any when I was here on my last trip."
"You didn't. I got this in the country."
"Is it the real stuff?"
"That's what it is. My brother made it in his own camp. He's got 500 trees."
"I'd like to taste it."
A sample of the country maple sirup was brought out. He tasted it and took the grocer to one side.
"Say," he said in a low tone, "I'm not going back on the strictly pure goods I sell of course, but I want a gallon of this stuff for my own use."

The Aid and the Sun.
An old writer says, "When men lived in houses of reed they had constitutions of oak; when they lived in houses of oak they had constitutions of reeds." This is a very fine, picturesque description of the injury which may come to us from fine houses too closely sealed to keep out the fresh air and too heavily curtained, preventing the entrance of sunshine, which is almost or quite as important as air. But it is not at all necessary to have our fine houses unhealthy, and it only requires intelligence and thoughtfulness to render a house of oak as promotive of health as a cabin. Fresh air will come from a well ventilated oak house as well as through the open cracks in a house of reeds, and sunlight through a window in a palace as well as in a hovel.—Health.

Her Parting Shot.
An old lady, well known in a Scotch town for learning and for "taking down" conceited people gave an evening party where a young man was present who was about to leave for an appointment in China, and he formed the object of attraction during the evening. As he was exceedingly extravagant in his conversation about himself, the old lady was all but silent during the evening until he was leaving, when she shook him heartily, by the hand, saying, "Tak' gude care o' yoursel' when ye're awa', for, mind ye, they eat puppies in Cheena!"

A Wise Woman.
"Now, for $2," announced the test medium, "I'll sell you a philtre that will make your husband love you to the exclusion of all others."
"I don't think I'll invest," said the practical housewife, "but if you have a philtre that'll make him bring home some of his salary on pay days I'll allow you a percentage on the amount realized."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

An Amended Address.
"Mr. Hunter's married now," said the bride to be, preparing to send out her cards, "so we'll have to address his invitation to Mr. and Mrs. Hunter."
"Better not," her brother advised. "She's the boss, so you'd better send the invitation to Mrs. and Mr. Hunteress."—Philadelphia Press.

Queen Quality

It Sets the Style.

What do we mean when we say that the styles of most of the shoes for women originate with the "Queen Quality" Shoe?

Simply this. The "Queen Quality" is, and always has been a leader. It gets up its own original patterns at great expense, and has established a reputation for the style and beauty of its creations.

OTHER MAKERS ARE CONTENT TO AWAIT THEIR APPEARANCE, and then copy them as closely as possible.

But "Queen Quality" "sets the style"—don't forget that!

And one other point—"Queen Quality" offers twice as many styles for your consideration as any other shoe. You cannot suggest a need which is not fitted with a "Queen Quality" shoe specially designed for it.

Does not this realize the ideal of a strictly custom shoe? And such a shoe for $3.00. Think of it! Oxfords $2.50.

Tans in all shape are here.
