CONFEDERATE FLAG REACHES GREENVILLE.

Major Harding Again Possesses the Flag of the Beaufort Plow Boys.

The flag of Company B, known as the Beaufort Plow Boys of the 61st North Carolina Regiment has been returned to Maj. Henry Harding. This flag was captured by the 9th New Jersey Regiment at the battle of New Berne, March 15th, 1862. A large number of the 9th New Jersey Regiment were killed at the battle of New Berne, and are now buried in the Federal cemetery at that place. In memory of the New Jersey dead the state of New Jersey on last Thursday unveiled a beautiful monument in the Federal cemetery at New Berne and returned to the governor of North Carolina the flag of the Beaufort Plow Boys which was captured 43 years ago. On Thursday night a large and enthusiastic crowd assembled in the court house in New Berne and Governor Glenn presented the flag to Mrs. Mary Winfield Joyner, wife of Rev. Edmond Joyner, she being the same person who for three years ago presented the flag to Major Henry Harding, who at that time was captain of the Beaufort Plow Boys.

Mrs. Joyner received the flag from Governor Glenn, and she then presented it to Mr. F. C. Harding who was there to represent his father on that occasion.

The speeches of Governor Glenn, Mrs. Joyner and Mr. F. C. Harding were greeted with long continued applause.

There were present at the presentation 128 survivors of the 9th New Jersey Regiment, who, with the governor of New Jersey, came to New Berne to be present at the unveiling of the monument and the presentation of the flag.

Maj. Harding is glad once again to behold the flag under which he fought in the defense of his country in the days of his young manhood. Maj. Harding will keep the flag for a short while in order that all who desire to see it may do so, and then he will present it to the Hall of History in Raleigh.

The flag now hangs on the wall of Maj. Harding's office in the REFLECTOR building and all who desire to do so are cordially invited to see it.

Passed Examinations.

Durward S. Wilson, son of W. B. Wilson, has received official notice of having successfully passed the physical examination for admission to the military academy at West Point. He passed the mental examination last year, but at that time was a little below the requirement of chest measurement. Recently he stood the physical examination and met every requirement. In the notice advising Mr. Wilson of his success he was directed to report at West Point for admission on June 15th, and will leave here on 13th. It is a high honor to the young man and his friends congratulate him.

Sunday School Institute.

Rev. Hight C. Moore, Sunday school field secretary for North Carolina, will reach Greenville this evening and will hold an institute in the Baptist church to-night at 8 o'clock. The public generally, and all Sunday school workers especially invited. Mr. Moore is a live man and something good may be expected of the institute.

AT FARMVILLE.

Closing Exercises of Graded School.

There are few towns of its size in North Carolina that has had a more splendidly conducted school than Farmville, and from which there has been better results. The superintendent, Prof. J. H. McIver, is an up-to-date school man in its broadest sense and a teacher of marked ability. He has been assisted in the work of the school by three magnificent lady teachers. The closing exercises of this school were held on Thursday.

At 11 o'clock Hon. E. E. Hilliard, of Scotland Neck, delivered the address. Every business house in the town closed for one hour to hear the address and the town people were out en masse. A number of people from the surrounding country were out and but for the grass they would have been there in large numbers. Mr. Hilliard spoke on the subject: "Difficulties and their Mastery."

He said that difficulties might be classed under the head of national, state, social and personal, and that they were of two kinds, imaginary and real, and that they have the relative proportion to each other as a mouse to an elephant. He showed in a strong, earnest manner how difficulties might be overcome. The speech was a masterful effort from beginning to end. Mr. Hilliard was very strong and happy in his illustration of every point made, and the writer heard a sensible, thoughtful gentleman say after the speech was concluded that ten years from now this speech would be bearing results in the lives of every true young man that heard it.

Such speeches are a benediction to any community and the Farmville people so regard this one.

At night a splendidly selected program was rendered in a manner that reflected credit upon the pupils taking part. Some of the pieces were very beautiful in effect. The town has a large and handsome opera house about completed and the exercises were held in this. There must have been something like six or seven hundred people comfortably seated in this room who witnessed the exercises with as good behavior as we have ever seen anywhere. There were several hundred who never got in the building at all.

This school is the pride of Farmville and the surrounding community. It is under the management of as fine a board of trustees as ever had charge of a school and is safe in their hands. Everybody showed their interest by closing their business places both day and night and attending all of the exercises, it was red letter day educationally for the district.

LETTER TO W. A. POLLARD.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: Here's a sample; how Devoe upsets things.

Littlestown, Pa., was a cheap paint town up to a year ago, when Messrs Basehoar & Mehring took our agency. They send us the names of the painters now painting Devoe:

A. C. Bellinger, A. Wm. Unger, Joshua Beihl, Edw L. Kellenberger, John F. Kellenberger, J. B. McSherry, John G. Frey, G. C. Lawrence, Charles Steich, L. C. March, and forty names of property owners painting Devoe; and every one of the painters tells why he paints Devoe.

They are not mistaken; Devoe is the cheapest paint in the world—so far as we know the world and paint.

If painters everywhere knew it, they'd paint it; every man of 'em.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.
 P. S. B. L. Carr sells our Paint.

THE MARTIN FAMILY.

Having Good Meeting at Washington.

Reports from Washington indicate that Dr. Richard S. Martin and family whose work as evangelists is meeting with great success everywhere, are in a great meeting at that point. Several Greenville people have been going down there during the week and report crowded houses with the ministers of the various churches cooperating in every possible way to make the meetings successful.

The Christian church having proven inadequate to accommodate the large and constantly increasing crowds the Methodists offered the use of their commodious building. This offer was gratefully accepted and the meetings will be held from now on in that place. The pastor of the Methodist church, as well as board of stewards express themselves as being in hearty sympathy with the good work and desirous of aiding it every way possible.

A number of our citizens went to Washington Sunday to attend the meetings and report a good day. The music as well as preaching, was of the usual high order. No doubt many will be added to the churches there, and the work generally revived. Fifteen confessions are reported to date.

The Martin Family carry with them the good-will and prayers of a host of friends from this place. While here they endeared themselves to many and it was with regret that their engagement here had to finally come to an end. Calls were pressing, however, so they had to go.

Smart Dressers.

Young men are, as a general thing, the smartest dressers.

The up-to-the-moment Young Man is a sort of a lexicon of clothes style and correctness.

He knows what's what and gets it. But good fit, the newest colors, patterns, etc., aren't enough; for unless that snappy, jaunty appearance—characteristic of our Tailor Made Clothing—is there, it is not what the young man wants.

Our success in pleasing Young Men is not just "luck." It's due to our knowledge of what the young man wants and our ability to provide for him.

Then again our prices are always reasonable. Did you ever notice how many young men come here for clothes? There's a reason for it.

PITT COUNTY'S SUPERINTENDENT.

Upon his return home after a visit to Winterville where he delivered the commencement address, Hon. Josephus Daniels in the News and Observer paid a deserved compliment to our townsman, Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, which we copy below. One correction should be made, however, as this great change in the schools have come about in two years, instead of four years as stated by Mr. Daniels.

In educational matters, Pitt has shown more progress in the last four years than any county in Eastern North Carolina. Four years ago there was not a public school in Pitt county that employed more than one teacher. About that time the progressive Board of Education of the county had the wisdom to demand all of the time of Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, easily one of the foremost educators in the State, as County Superintendent of schools. He is "a steam engine in breeches" and has gone through the county as an evangel of public education, talked to the people in their homes and in public, and has led in securing a sentiment for public education that has already made itself felt and that will, within a few years bless every school district in the county. Here is the record: Four years ago not a school in Pitt county with over one teacher; today Greenville has 8, Bethel 4, Farmville 4, Ayden 5, Grifton 4, Centerville 2, Ballard's X Roads 2. There is a movement in other districts to vote a local tax, to grade the schools, and make them more efficient. The leader, the inspiration, the agitator who has set new influences in motion is County Superintendent Ragsdale. The key to the public school policy of the State is the county superintendent. Where a county has a live superintendent like Prof. Ragsdale and pays him a proper salary, the local tax districts multiply and the people manifest deeper interest in the public schools. Pitt county is fortunate in many things and in possessing many useful and eminent sons, but in nothing is she so fortunate as in having Prof. Ragsdale as County Superintendent.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

We differ from Theodore Roosevelt in his political views, but we must commend him in the course he has taken relative to buying ships and other things necessary to build the canal across the isthmus of Panama in the open markets of the world. When the stand-patters learned of the government's course a great howl was heard far and near. The president has taken a firm and decided stand with reference to the purchasing of canal supplies. He is teaching the United States an object lesson of the manner in which the trusts are holding up prices. Roosevelt is the servant of the American people, and in this particular matter he seems to be serving his people faithfully. He has been instructed to build the Panama canal with as little graft as possible. He requires two ships of 6,000 tons each. To buy these ships at home will cost the government $1,400,000, and to buy them in Europe they will cost only $750,000, a saving to the tax payers of the United States of $650,000, nearly enough to buy two more ships. Really and truly he is giving in this matter a "square deal." He is administering to the stand-patters a dose of their own medicine.

TAR HEELS IN-NORFOLK

The city of Norfolk, in Virginia, is made up largely of North Carolinians, it being estimated that about one-third of the city's population went from this state. North Carolinians are leaders in the business of the city and its wholesale trade goes principally from this state. So extensively is the Old North State identified there that it has often been said that Norfolk ought to be in North Carolina.

So many Carolinians are in that city that recently they decided to organize a North Carolina Society. This society held its first public function on Saturday night, 20th, in an elaborate banquet. The date was selected because it celebrated the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. Congressman John H. Small was the guest of honor on this occasion, and he responded to the toast "The Old North State."

We are glad the Tar Heels across the line held sacred the memory of "down home" and congratulate them upon the success of their society and banquet.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, Kan., Globe: "Joe Tae, a well known engineer, running on the Pacific between Wichita and Klowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in the office today, we asked him about it. He says terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Jno L Wooten.

Cartoonists picture Mr. Roosevelt as exhibiting a beautiful set of teeth and we can see him displaying them just about this time over the discomfiture he is causing the stand-patters in his party. If Women Only Knew.

No man is ever really in love who can say so with all the ease, ardor, and eclat of a stage lover.

No man ever loved a woman just because she was good.

The man who says pretty things to his wife all the time must have had lots of practice either before or since his marriage.

The husband who never gives his wife a decent word or a compliment would knock down any other man who would treat her in the same way.

The man who can pour tea and make a good Welsh rabbit before marriage may often be an awful bother round the kitchen after marriage.

There are two kinds of courage: The courage of the limelight, which prompts a nice young man in white ducks of jump overboard after a girl's pocket handkerchief, and the real courage that makes a man face the horrors of a fashionable wedding, the torture of meeting the bills of a house keeping apartment, and the agonies of walking the floor all night with a baby. The two are seldom coupled in one young man.

A New Scheme.

It is said that the darkey is an imitator, not an originator. May be, but not all of them. On account of the anti-jug law, liquor cannot be shipped from any place in the State into prohibition territory. For instance, Greensboro cannot order it from Reidsville, Winston and other North Carolina towns, but a man can go after it and bring it back with him. This however, is expensive where much of it is required, so some of the larger blind tigers, so the officers say, now buy it in big lots in Reidsville, have it shipped by freight to Danville and from Danville it is shipped to Greensboro. One man the other day bought two barrels of pints and two of half pints securely packed in hay in flour barrels. Danville being outside of the State, the jug law does not apply.

Yet why should these fellows do this? They can order it from other Virginia points and get it as cheap and as quickly. But maybe they are patriotic and want to keep the money in the State.—Greensboro Record.

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

THE BAT—A FABLE.

Why This Odd Little Animal Appears Only at Night.

A mouse one time rendered a service of some importance to one of the eagles of Jupiter. "Ask," said the grateful bird, "anything that you desire, and in the name of my master, Jove, I promise to grant it to you."

"Oh, sir," said the mouse eagerly, "I have long felt the mortification of living among such vulgar creatures as the beasts and have ardently desired to associate with the more refined society of the birds. If you could but grant me wings my happiness would be complete."

"Consider well what you ask," said the eagle gravely. "Nature has placed you in a certain grade of society, and you need not hope that wings alone will make you a bird."

"I have considered the matter thoroughly," said the mouse, "and feel certain that if I had but wings I could at least associate with those I have so long envied and admired."

"Very well," said the eagle, "be it so!" And instantly, wings springing from the mouse's shoulders, the first bat was created.

His ambitious desires, however, were not realized, for the birds, perceiving that he still had ears and a tail and, besides covered with hair, would not associate with him, while, upon the other hand, his own pride had withdrawn him from his old companions.

"Alas!" said the poor, lonely animal. "Why was I not contented with the humble sphere that nature intended me to fill? My very wings, that I hoped would be my pride, now prevent me from walking upon the ground, where I belong."

So mortified and disappointed was he that thenceforth he ventured out into the world no longer by daylight, but only at night, when all other creatures had retired. — St. Nicholas.

Les Bijoux.

"Les bijoux" are the remnants sold by cooks of large establishments and by first class Parisian restaurateurs. These are collected from door to door and jumbled together in no very appetizing fashion. But the seller of the bijoux sorts and arranges the various articles, which are then properly adorned (pared), scraped and cut into neat pieces, nicely garnished and set out on clean plates. Customers who are brave enough to forget the antecedents of such dainties may thus purchase for a trifle portions of the choicest game or the best fish served on high class tables, with many other delicacies of tempting appearance. Many old reiters, so called, living in garrets and sunning themselves all day on benches in the public gardens, where they talk politics with their fellows, get really good dinners in this way.

An Artist's Fea

The following story was told of Sir Edwin Landseer: At a gathering in London a lady remarked that nobody had ever yet been able to draw two things at once. "You are mistaken, madam," said Landseer. "If you will lend me two pencils I will show you." The two pencils were produced, and the artist, sitting down before a table, drew with his right hand the profile of a stag's head, antlers and all, while at the same time and without hesitation his left hand produced the head of a horse. Both pictures are said to have been perfect in every detail.

At a Maori Feast.

"I was greatly pleased with the 'nose rubbing,' which I had never seen before. One old woman in wonderful striped garments, very stately and solemn and carrying a fine green wari, a battle-axe shaped like a round fan, came down the street and stopped whenever she saw a woman she knew, took her left hand in her own left, made a beautiful bow, leaned over her and gently, very gently, touched noses! I assure you it was most impressive.—New Zealand Letter in London Outlook.

NOT AN ADVERTISEMENT

But a Notice Issued to the Customers of Baker & Hart.

It is a well established fact that no other paint manufactured anywhere is the equal in durability and covering capacity of "Town and Country Paint." Like all other commodities of recognized merit this excellent paint has not escaped the attention of counterfeiter, and various other kinds of paint, none of which possess any of the distinctive and desirable qualities of "Town and Country," are being offered as its equal, thus employing the reputation of this deservedly popular paint to sell an inferior product.

"Town and Country paint" will readily distinguish itself when on duty, but at is difficult for those who are not familiar with paint to appreciate the importance of using the best. "A rose called by any other name will smell as sweet" is an old saying, just as all paint is paint in the minds of many inexperienced consumers. But we believe that those who expect the best results for the money when they buy paint will appreciate any suggestion that will offer more positive and ready means of securing the right kind of paint. Be sure that the paint you buy is branded "Harrison's Town and Country Paint."

It is neither our desire or purpose to decry the character or quality of any other paint, and certainly not that of our honorable competitors, but it is proper that we should make an effort that will, while preserving the proper distinction between a perfectly pure paint and a so-called pure paint, enable the property owner and the trade at large to guard against the mistake of buying undesirable paint that is claimed to be just as good on the reputation of "Town and Country Paint," which is, as every one knows, of unquestioned merit, and which during our experience of over one hundred years of good paint making we have jealously guarded.

Baker & Hart, Greenville, N. C., are our wholesale and retail distributors.

HARRISON BROS. & CO., Inc.

Notice.

I, the undersigned hereby forbid the dispensary in Greenville or any party or parties in Greenville or elsewhere who have in their possession liquors, or any kind of intoxicants, to give or sell the said liquors or intoxicants, to my husband, Wiley Bun Ricks, or to his agents or representatives. Because of his inhuman treatment to his family this notice is served, and any party or parties disregarding same will be given the full penalty of the law. MINNIE L. RICKS.

Compliment to Greenville Firm.

We heard a traveling man in a position to know say that the firm of Baker & Hart, in Greenville, sells more paint than any store in North Carolina with one exception, the exception being a firm in the city of Wilmington. That is a high compliment, and we feel sure this progressive firm deserves it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brady left for Clinton this morning to spend the summer.

E—G. Barrett came in this morning from Kingston.

Earl Harrington went to Scotland Neck this morning.

Queen Quality

It Sets the Style.

What do we mean when we say that the styles of most of the shoes for women originate with the "Queen Quality" Shoe?

Simply this. The "Queen Quality" is, and always has been a leader. It gets up its own original patterns at great expense, and has established a reputation for the style and beauty of its creations.

OTHER MAKERS ARE CONTENT TO AWAIT THEIR APPEARANCE, and then copy them as closely as possible.

But "Queen Quality" "sets the style"—don't forget that!

And one other point—"Queen Quality" offers twice as many styles for your consideration as any other shoe. You cannot suggest a need which is not fitted with a "Queen Quality" shoe specially designed for it.

Does not this realize the ideal of a strictly custom shoe? And such a shoe for $3.00. Think of it! Oxfords $2.50.

Tans in all shape are here.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us."
