THE BANK OF GREENVILLE.

Holds Annual Meeting and Elects Officers—Remarkable Growth of the Institutions.

At the recent annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Greenville the following directors were elected: R. L. Davis, J. A. Andrews, R. W. King, S. T. Hooker, O. Hooker, J. G. Moye, J. R. Moye, W. B. Wilson and J. L. Little.

The board of directors then elected the following officers:

R. L. Davis, president.

J. A. Andrews, vice-president.

J. L. Little, cashier.

W. G. Ward, assistant cashier.

There is no change in the bank's regular force. The annual report of the business of the bank was exceedingly gratifying to the stockholders. After paying a good dividend, the balance of the earnings for the past year were added to the surplus already accumulated and increased the total to $32,000, which is $7,000 in excess of the capital stock. A comparison of the surplus and capital stock of this bank give it a high rank and standing in the financial world that few banks attain.

The Bank of Greenville began business nine years ago, at that time succeeding the private bank of Tyson & Rawls. The estimation in which it is held by the public has been shown in the splendid increase of business and remarkable growth each year. The total volume of business the first year of its existence amounted to $83,127, while up to now its high water mark has reached $399,408.

This bank has always observed a liberal policy in extending credit to encourage legitimate enterprises. In this particular it has been very fortunate, for under the wise management and good business judgment of those directing its affairs the bank has never incurred a loss worth mentioning.

Since organization the bank has never changed president or cashier. The names of its directors and officers, coupled with its fine business management and steady growth, inspires confidence with the public.

THE WEATHER

Rain tonight, warmer in interior Friday rain.

VISIT DURING THE FAIR.

President Will Look Upon the State Fair at Raleigh.

Relative to the visit of President Roosevelt to Raleigh in the fall the Washington correspondent of the Raleigh Post says in today's issue of the paper:

"A most interesting feature of the first meeting between Governor Glenn and President Roosevelt was the fact that the President expressed a strong desire to be present at the State Fair in Raleigh next October and said that he was contemplating not calling the extra session of congress until the middle of November, and this would give him an opportunity to be in the North Carolina capital during fair week. The invitation to visit Raleigh at that time was extended by Governor Glenn. The President voiced his admiration for the people of the Old North State and the glorious record of their forefathers in the history of this country. He expressed his personal appreciation to Governor Glenn of the fact that he and his staff attended the Presidential inauguration last March."

Troops May Be Called Out for the Chicago Strike.

Chicago, May 24.—With the strike spreading every hour in the lumber district and no signs of peace in sight, affairs in the teamsters' strike assumed a serious aspect tonight. Unable to meet the demands for police protection, Mayor Dunne tonight issued a call for 1,000 able bodied citizens to report to Chief O'Neill's office and be sworn in as policemen to do strike duty.

The sheriff issued a proclamation tonight begging citizens to keep cool as the civil authorities were still able to handle the situation and that should an emergency arise both the state and federal troops were available on short notice.

Armed sentries are guarding the various armories located in the city; and the officers expect a call to arms at any moment. Fifty thousand rounds of ammunition have been distributed among the four regiments in the city and the naval militia.

Fire at Washington.

Washington, N. C., May 24.—At 3 o'clock this morning a fire originating in the second story of the old Lockyear building, corner of Main street and Union alley, gutted the building and almost totally destroyed the contents. The building was under double occupancy, the saloon of C. D. Smith being in one half and that of Wm. Parvin in the other.

Smith's loss is about five thousand dollars according to his statement, and that of Parvin about twenty five hundred. The insurance on the former loss was two thousand dollars, on the latter, twelve hundred. The building was owned by Messrs. Jno. H. Small and J. Havens and was not insured. If the property is built upon again a brick structure will adorn it as it is in the fire district.—News and Observer.

Merry Go-Round and Lawn Party.

Friday evening from 5 to 11 o'clock the Willing Workers will have charge of the merry-go round, and will also have a lawn party on the court house square. The square will be beautifully lighted and ice cream will be abundant. Everybody go.

GENERAL NEWS.

Mrs. Tip Sanders drowned herself and three children in a creek near her home two miles South of Sulphur Springs, Texas. The oldest child was a boy six years of age. The other children were girls, aged 3 years and 10 months respectively. The tragedy was the result of domestic troubles. Sanders, the husband, left home early in the morning to work on the public road. Returning home for dinner he found a note on the table from Mrs. Sanders telling him that he would find the bodies of his wife and children in the creek.

The President has issued an order prohibiting the employment of convict labor on government works. The question of the employment of such labor was raised in connection with certain river and harbor improvements in Arkansas, the contractor for which desired to employ a number of State convicts under contract with the State authorities. The officials of the War department were almost unanimously opposed to the plan and Judge Advocate General Davis gave an opinion that it was contrary to the spirit if not the letter of the labor laws of the United States.

TIME TO BE THINKING.

The time is drawing near for another municipal election, but so far very little is being said about it though it lacks only a week to the holding of ward primaries to nominate candidates for aldermen. The present board of aldermen has given the town a good administration and it may be that the people are satisfied and contemplate no changes. But if this is so, it is no reason their satisfaction should drop into indifference. There is no telling what emergency might arise, and it is the duty of every voter to attend his ward primary. There is even a possibility that an under current is at work against the temperance sentiment that has prevailed and given the town such improved conditions during the past year. A change of this condition would be a calamity. We throw out these hints that people may be thinking and not be caught napping when it is too late.

There has been much, and we rather think too much, said and written about divorce evils. There is no doubt but what there are divorces too lightly obtained, but possibly in order that other marriages may still be lighter entered into. But there is a question, whether in the end the rapidly increasing number of divorces is or is not a direct or indirect result of the true nature of marriage than a lack of reverence for it. This seems to be the case where the woman is applicant for divorce and freedom, and in most instances this is true.

The idea of women removing their hats in church is growing. The women of a Spartanburg, S. C., church recently had a meeting to consider the question and when a vote was taken the decision was unanimous to remove hats.

North Carolina Spinning Four Times Her Production of Cotton.

At the meeting of the Georgia Industrial Association, lately held in Atlanta, President Gordon reported on the number of cotton mills, spindles, looms and other data in Georgia, as follows:

Number of mills, 121; number of spindles, 1,319,623; number of looms 30,988; capital employed, $28,641,000; cotton consumed 1903-04 (bales), 469,566.

Perhaps the most interesting lesson that can be drawn from these statistics is in a comparison with the two Southern States that exceed Georgia in the volume of their cotton manufacturing industries.

While Georgia is spinning only one-fourth of her average crop (which is estimated this year to reach close to 2,000,000 bales), North Carolina, with 1,900,000 spindles is approximately spinning four times her own State production of cotton; and South Carolina, with her 2,900,000 spindles, is spinning three and one half times her cotton production.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, Kan., Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Pacific between Wichita and Klowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in the office today, we asked him about it. He says terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Jno L Wooten.

"The white face of death," said Tom Watson, when Pat Walsh, his inveterate antagonist, died, "is a flag of truce." It is a beautiful trait of human character and realization of it must cause us all to think better of the race, and when a man dies we are apt to magnify his virtues and excellencies and minimize his errors and vices. No Virginian of modern times, if any of any time, has been despised more heartily by the best people of the State than Gen. Wm. Mahone. Yet now that which is remembered longest about him is that he was a dashing and gallant Confederate officer. SPRING AND TEMPERANCE.

Written for THE REFLECTOR.

[By W. R. RANDOLPH.]

All verdure seems perfection,
Painted by Nature sublime;
Every branch is clothed with beauty,
And likewise every vine.
We hail its coming with delight,
With its landscapes pure and grand
Come view the grand and noble sight
Which has always been so grand.

The young and old with joyous hearts
With new pleasures, welcomed
spring
From scenes of winter gladly part,
While the birds so sweetly sing.
Come listen with rapt emotion
To the murmur of the brook
In its rush to join the ocean,
While we think of the blessed Book.

With its pages of repeated history,
Which is always pure and sweet;
May we learn with joy its mystery,
Recorded on its sheets.
May we learn then by its teaching
Our duty to God and man,
And by practice as well as preaching
To lend assistance when we can.

To struggling and fallen humanity,
Now lingering on the brink;
With blighted hopes for eternity,
Brought on by curse of drink.
God in His infinite wisdom,
Has provided but one drink;
And of His precious promises,
May we never cease to think.

That He furnishes bountifully,
And made it free to all;
Come unto Him ye weary ones,
And heed the Master's call.
He sends it down the hillside,
Rushing so pure and sweet;
Distilled in the early morning dew,
And treasured in the mighty deep.

Let us praise His great and holy name,
For untold blessings here;
And may we ever lip His name,
In earnest and sincere prayer.
Let us pray for one another,
Their burdens may we share;
Try to help our afflicted brother,
Through this world of sorrow and care.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county. Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he and what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder. If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach will be avoided. A LITTLE DUKE.

Young George John Frederick Sackville, Who Died at Twenty-one.

There is no Duke of Dorset now, for the last time that the title descended from father to son was more than a hundred years ago, in 1799, when George John Frederick Sackville found himself, by the death of his father, at the age of five, fourth Duke of Dorset, being also Earl of Dorset, Earl of Middlesex, Baron Buckhurst of Buckhurst and Baron Cranfield of Cranfield. Rather a heavy load for one small boy to carry, for he was a boy like other boys, even if he came to a dukedom and ranked next to a prince before ever he had come to a knowledge of reading, writing and arithmetic.

He grew up in the beautiful county of Kent, known as the "Garden of England," and we can imagine him playing with his little sisters, Mary and Elizabeth, among the stately beeches of Knole park—perhaps, too, playing at hide and seek in those 365 rooms, which all belonged to him. Later he went to school at Harrow and to college at Oxford. He must have been clever, for his university gave him the degree of doctor of civil law before he was twenty years old, and very few people, and most of those gray haired, can write "D. C. L. Oxon" after their names nowadays. He must also have been popular, for he was a lieutenant colonel and the commandant of the militia of Sevenoaks, the nearest town to Knole, at the same age.

There has been very little recorded of his short early life, and there was, alas, no later life to chronicle. At the age of twenty-one he was killed by a fall from his horse in the hunting field when on a visit to his mother in Ireland. The title went to his cousin, who was the fifth and last Duke of Dorset.

Thus George John Frederick never lived to gain the fame of his great ancestor, the poet and statesman, the first Earl of Dorset.—St. Nicholas.

The Art Show.

An art show is a place where artists exhibit their nerve and others their ignorance.

A connoisseur is one who at once upon entering an art show wonders why certain pictures were hung on the line rather than certain painters on a telegraph pole.

An art show is less brilliant than a horse show. But there are nevertheless many women who find it easier to talk pictures, clothes and scandal than horses, clothes and scandal.

Abroad an art show is called a saloon, but in America saloons and art shows have little or nothing in common.

Polite usage lays down rigid rules for the conduct of the visitor at an art show. He is to have his stick checked at the door, after which he is to look at the pictures, pronouncing all which remind him of anything mere daubs and buying all the rest.—Life.

Another Account.

"Mr. Tomkins," said the head of a firm, "you are a personal friend of Mr. Robertson's, I understand?"

"That is so, sir," said Tomkins. "Well, I wish you'd try to get this account from him. Nobody else can, and it's a long time overdue."

Tomkins agreed to try, but the next morning his face wore a somewhat curious expression.

"Well," said the head, "how did you get on?"

"I—I don't know," said Tomkins. "You see, I called there last night and saw the old man. 'Mr. Robertson,' I said to him, 'I've called to ask you if—' And then he caught me up. 'That's all right, my boy,' said he, 'you can have her. I hope you'll be happy!' Then he told me I should find Amelia downstairs and shut the door on me."

They Gave In.

At an assizes in the south of England the jury could not agree and were locked up. After a long discussion a division was taken. Ten were found to be for conviction and two for acquittal. Another long debate followed, and eventually a big, burly farmer, who was leading the majority, went over to the diminutive individual who, with a companion, formed the minority, and, assuming his most aggressive attitude, said, "Now, then, are you two going to give in?" "No!" defiantly replied the small man. "Very well," was the answer, "then us ten will." And they did.

How It Looked and Tasted.

"Lizzie's come home from th' city with a lot o' newfangled cookin' ideas," said Mr. Medderrass. "Fixed up a new kind o' custard pie last night with what she called a mee-rang on top of it."

"Mee-rang?" said Mr. Cartapple. "Now, what'n airth's that like?"

"Hanged if I know. Somepin' like sweetened soapuds."—Judge.

NOT AN ADVERTISEMENT

But a Notice Issued to the Customers of Baker & Hart.

It is a well established fact that no other paint manufactured anywhere is the equal in durability and covering capacity of "Town and Country Paint." Like all other commodities of recognized merit this excellent paint has not escaped the attention of counterfeiter, and various other kinds of paint, none of which possess any of the distinctive and desirable qualities of "Town and Country," are being offered as its equal, thus employing the reputation of this deservedly popular paint to sell an inferior product.

"Town and Country paint" will readily distinguish itself when on duty, but it is difficult for those who are not familiar with paint to appreciate the importance of using the best. "A rose called by any other name will smell as sweet" is an old saying, just as all paint is paint in the minds of many inexperienced consumers. But we believe that those who expect the best results for the money when they buy paint will appreciate any suggestion that will offer more positive and ready means of securing the right kind of paint. Be sure that the paint you buy is branded "Harrison's Town and Country Paint."

It is neither our desire or purpose to decry the character or quality of any other paint, and certainly not that of our honorable competitors, but it is proper that we should make an effort that will, while preserving the proper distinction between a perfectly pure paint and a so-called pure paint, enables the property owner and the trade at large to guard against the mistake of buying undesirable paint that is claimed to be just as good on the reputation of "Town and Country Paint," which is, as every one knows, of unquestioned merit, and which during our experience of over one hundred years of good paint making we have jealously guarded.

Baker & Hart, Greenville, N. C., are our wholesale and retail distributors.

LETTER TO R. O. JEFFRESS & CO.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sirs: These facts from Leachman & Edeltz, W. Va., will be useful to you.

A customer painted his house last time with the paint they were selling then—they thought it first-rate; it cost them 5 cents a gallon more than ours—took 18 gallons.

They sold him 18 gallons of Devoe for same house; he used only 11; returned 7; saved about $30.

If this is the way Devoe is going to work, there oughtn't to be much difficulty in selling it.

This is only half of the story. The other half is the wear. A third half is the reasons for both; all paint goes further and wears longer than part paint; true paint than false paint; full measure than short measure. A fourth half is the cost of painting, which goes by the gallon. It costs a third more to paint 18 gallons, than 11.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.
P. S. H. L. Carr sells our Paint.

Queen Quality

It Sets the Style.

What do we mean when we say that the styles of most of the shoes for women originate with the "Queen Quality" Shoe?

Simply this. The "Queen Quality" is, and always has been a leader. It gets up its own original patterns at great expense, and has established a reputation for the style and beauty of its creations.

OTHER MAKERS ARE CONTENT TO AWAIT THEIR APPEARANCE, and then copy them as closely as possible.

But "Queen Quality" "sets the style"—don't forget that!

And one other point—"Queen Quality" offers twice as many styles for your consideration as any other shoe.

You cannot suggest a need which is not fitted with a "Queen Quality" shoe specially designed for it.

Does not this realize the ideal of a strictly custom shoe? And such a shoe for $3.00. Think of it! Oxfords $2.50.

Tans in all shape are here.
