IS HE DEAD?

Three Different Reports About Admiral Rojestvensky.

THE LIST OF LOSSES GROWS.

One Report Says the Admiral Went Down With His Flag Ship, Another That He is Badly Wounded, Another That He is Captured--Total of 22 Russian Ships Lost.

Washington, D. C., May 30.—According to a dispatch declared to be official received by this government today, Admiral Rojestvensky is dead. The dispatch says the admiral went down in the Kniaz Suoyaroff, his flag-ship, sunk in the Korean strait.

Flag Ship Sunk.

New York, May 30.—The report is confirmed at St. Petersburg that Admiral Rojestvensky is badly wounded and has been placed on a torpedo boat. His flag ship, the Kniaz Suoyaroff, is sunk. It is reported from Tokio that he has been captured.

List of Losses Grows.

New York, May 30 The latest reports from Tokio show that the Russian loss is great. The official list has already reached twenty-two vessels, and the number is perhaps larger.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Adopted by Stockholders of the Bank of Greenville

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to take from among us Mr. James Burton Cherry, one of our most influential and honored stockholders, we, in this our annual meeting, resolve

First, That in his death we have lost a wise counsellor in business affairs, an unflinching friend, and a neighbor whose heart was full of the milk of human kindness.

Second, That we esteem it an honor to have been associated with him in business—a man who discharged every duty both public and private—and to have personally claimed his friendship.

Third, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of The Bank of Greenville, and published in the papers of our town, and a copy sent to his bereaved family.

Glee Club Thursday Night.

Owing to a conflict with the lawn party and merry-go-round ride planned by the ladies of the Baptist church for Wednesday night, the Wake Forest College glee club has changed the date for its concert here to Thursday night. This insures the club a larger audience and it is hoped they will have a full house. Tickets will be on sale at Coward & Wooten's.

Pleasant Time.

The ladies of the Christian church met with good success at the lawn party and merry-go-round ride Monday night, realizing some over $28. The court house lawn was illuminated with electric lights, making it very attractive. All enjoyed the evening.

Don't Fail to Register.

Registration books for the town election next Monday will be open in the several wards tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. Every voter not-registered should see that his name is properly entered.

GREENVILLE BOY'S SUCCESS.

Charlie R. Sugg Graduates. With Distinction at the George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

We are pleased to acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to the annual commencement of the George Washington University, May 28 to 31st, sent by Charlie R. Sugg, son of Col. I. A. Sugg, of this place, who graduates as Bachelor of science in electrical engineering, and ranks his class in distinction. We congratulate Charlie, who has been in Washington some years but is still a resident of Greenville. He informs us he is offered a position on the Panama canal engineering corps of the United States Government.

No Wonder She Died.

A cow belonging to Mr. Thomas McCorkie became sick the other day and all efforts to relieve her were vain, and she died in much suffering. The carcass was cut open and the contents of the stomach revealed the cause of death.

It contained an old stocking and a whole shoe sole, and a hard round ball about as large as a ball. This was cut open and inside were found two or three corkscrews, some gravels, iron and brass tacks, bits of leather and other things. The tacks were such as are used in the heels of shoes, it appearing that whole shoe heels had been taken to the stomach, the leather dissolved by the gastric juices and the nails left. The frequency of deaths of this kind among cattle suggests that clean pasturage should be provided.—Monroe Journal.

Help the Library.

The churches, children of the different societies and the base ball have had their day with the merry-go-round and now the greatest general good has the exclusive fan for the evening today.

The Greenville Public Library will engage the kindly consideration of the good people from 5 to 11 tonight. This is an investment that will bear great and abundant fruit in the days to come. The good women are entitled to the best the people have and I hope and believe the people will be liberal for this effort. Don't forget the merry-go-round. Come everybody.

I. A. Sugg,
For the Library Committee.

Odd Fellows Take Notice.

You are urgently requested to be present at tonight's meeting. Election of officers and work in second degree. W. F. Evans, R. S.

Give the public library a good lift at the merry-go-round tonight.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., May 30, 1905.

Last Saturday afternoon the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harrington was buried in the cemetery here. This making ten persons that have died here within the last three weeks. This is unprecedented in the history of Ayden and we believe a circumstance that will not again occur during a lifetime of the oldest person. In fact seven of the deceased were infants and died of natural causes. One a very old lady whose span of life had naturally spent itself. One a lady and the other a man who in the natural course of events passed quietly away. There has not been here now the slightest sign of an epidemic. As before stated the cause of such an unusual number of deaths was a mere happen so and we sincerely hope and believe will never occur again.

Miss Magdaline Cox, after a very pleasant week spent with Misses Lorena and Lizzie Dixon, returned to her home in Winterville last Friday.

Ex-sheriff W. M. King, of Greenville, paid us a highly appreciated visit last week.

Miss Hattie Denton, of Greene county, has returned home from Littleton Female College.

Miss Lizzie Carver, principal of Ormondville High School, left here on the train last week for her home in Raleigh.

Capt. D. G. Berry and wife are visiting in Scotland Neck.

Miss Hattie Doughty, of Pamlico, is visiting the family of C. M. Holton and will also take in the commencement this week.

Clarence Cannon is home from Chapel Hill.

R. F. Johnson and Lil Cannon went to Kinston yesterday and returned this morning.

Miss Lala Rookh Boyd, of Edwards, who has been quite sick at the home of her grandfather, C. L. Patrick, here, we are pleased to learn is very much better.

Miss Lula Harris, from the country, was here shopping yesterday, so we are informed by a certain handsome widower clerk in one of our popular stores.

B. A. Highsmith and Luther Smith, of Winterville, have been recent visitors.

Don't forget June 10th the Orphan singing class will be in Ayden.

Joe Stroud returned from Washington Saturday, where he has been attending the Martin meetings and other meetings.

R. T. Evans, of Greenville, has pitched his tent near the postoffice and is prepared to take the pictures of any and everybody.

William Manning and wife went up the road Sunday morning.

Rountree was the attractive point which drew many of our people from town last Sabbath.

Miss Jimmie Davis has returned from Wilson where she was a student in the Christian college last session.

Ed Hooks has gone to Fremont.

Mrs. Bell, of Kinston, returned to her home Sunday.

The Free Will Baptist commencement opens tonight with an address from our townsman, E. V. Cox, Esq.

Miss Ethel Barnett, of Oak City is visiting Mrs. O. C. Nobles.

Last Day of Merry-Go-Round

Tomorrow will be the last day that the merry-go-round will remain in Greenville, and all who want to get a farewell ride should be on hand. From 1 to 5 o'clock p. m. it will be run for the general public, and from 5 to 11 exclusively for white people. It will be under the management of the ladies of the Baptist church, who will also have a lawn party on the court house square where ice cream in abundance can be had.

FARMERS CONSOLIDATED TOBACCO COMPANY.

From its organization THE REFLECTOR has had faith in the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company. We had faith in it because we knew the men who organized it and believed in their integrity and ability to carry out what they undertook. Again we had faith in it because we believed the policy of the company and the purpose for which it was organized was right and was just what the tobacco farmers ought to do to cooperate together to advance their own interest.

We have watched the progress of the company and our faith in it has strengthened as it has developed. We have read a recent circular issued to the tobacco farmers of Eastern North Carolina by O. L. Joyner, president of the company, which sets forth facts that should be of interest to every tobacco grower. These are presented for consideration:

1st. The object of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co., is to draw the farmers together into a successful business organization that will yield an annual profit to every farmer connected with the association.

2nd. To secure into its membership every tobacco grower in the whole country, satisfy them that it is to their interest to join the movement and with their aid and support to build up the best, biggest and strongest industrial organization of farmers in the United States.

3rd. To bring about a better understanding and feeling between the buyer and seller and thus secure in an orderly, legitimate and business way higher and more satisfactory prices for the farmers tobacco. With a better understanding of the condition of the farmers, their trials in getting and controlling labor, the great risk and cost of growing tobacco, we have no hesitancy in saying that a much better and more satisfactory price can be secured.

This circular shows that in the face of tremendous opposition last season the company conducted its business, paid every obligation and declared a dividend of 15 1/2 per cent on all its stock. This is remarkable and from a financial standpoint puts it up with any institution. The company also caused the farmers to get more for their tobacco than they would have received had it not been for the organization. This was clearly proven in the report of the secretary of the tobacco board of trade showing that while other houses on the market averaged $8.85 on sales, the houses operated by the Consolidated company averaged $9.32. This difference in price put over eleven thousand dollars in the pockets of the farmers in one season.

We understand that there will soon be made a canvass of the county to enlist the co-operation of all tobacco farmers in the company. From our viewpoint we do not see why they all should not be eager to unite with it. The Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company looks to us like a plain, common sense, business matter—the farmers coming together to establish a business of their own—to sell their own products in their own interest. That it can get them higher prices for what they sell and at the same time pay a dividend as high as this pays, looks like not one would hesitate a minute about taking stock in it and in selling his tobacco through the company.

The long looked for battle between Russia and Japan has actually taken place and the country can now take a long breath. In this battle the Japs sent hundreds of Russians to the bottom of the sea to be devoured by sharks and other sea animals.

While this has been a glorious victory for the Japanese, the whole world should sympathize with Russia in the destruction of her great army. We have sympathy even for the villain who is doomed to die on the gallows or in the electric chair. Whether Russia has been right or wrong in the war is a matter of contention. Still she deserves sympathy in this her hour of defeat.

The success of the Japanese fleet in the engagement with the Russians on the sea astounds the world. We believe that it shows conclusively that the hand of Providence is with the Japanese forces in this bloody conflict. Such a defeat for Russia ought to cause that nation to sue for peace and bring the war to a close. It looks little less than cruel to force her subjects unwillingly into conflict only to see them slaughtered by thousands. Russia's cause seems hopeless and the sooner the war is ended the better it will be for her.

Wilmington saloon keepers are contesting the action of the aldermen to make them pay a city license tax of $600. And those best acquainted with the situation are saying that the said saloon keepers are fixing to put themselves out of business and place Wilmington in the list of prohibition cities.

A Sunday paper headed an article "Russian Fleet in the Straits of Corea." In the Straights of Togo would have been better.

No, Rojestvensky did not divide his fleet. That act was done by Togo.

Rojestvensky sailed by Togo one time too often.

Rojestvensky had To-go.

Strictly Genuine.
Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, Kan., Globe: "Joe Tac's, a well known engineer, running on the Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in the office today, we asked him about it. He says terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Jno L. Wooten.

Just As Easy.
It's just as easy to have a good town as it is to have a bad town or a town with a bad reputation. Let it be understood that lawlessness will not be tolerated. Once the impression gets out good and strong the work of the police and deputy sheriff will be lightened.—Fitzgerald Enterprise.

Bilious Bill was getting bloated, And his tongue was much coated. Patent "tonics" wouldn't cure him, Companies would not insure him. All his friends were badly frightened, But their spirits soon were lightened, For Bill said—and they believed him, EARLY RISER pill relieved him. The famous little pills "Early Risers" cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, etc., by their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe or sicken but impart early rising energy. Good for children or adults. Sold by Jno L. Wooten.

Depends How Much.
Steal a dollar and you are a thief, steal a thousand dollars and you are an embezzler; steal ten thousand and you are an operator; steal a hundred thousand and you are a manipulator; steal a million dollars and you are a financier; steal ten millions and you are a captain of finance. After that, steal all you can get and you can be a deacon in the church all the same.—Rome Tribune.

MR. F. M. HORNADAY WRITES.

Editor REFLECTOR:
From an editorial in THE DAILY REFLECTOR of Monday, May 29th, I give a few quotations: "That North Carolina needs more preachers is apparent on every hand." That is true, Mr. Editor.

"Preachers who can produce the glorious results." This also is unquestionable true.

"Let our older ministers be diligent in the selecting of bright and promising young men, and urging them to prepare themselves for the ministry." Wouldn't it be better, Mr. Editor, to follow the directions given by the Great Head of the church, Mat. 9:38, which reads as follows: "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, (not our older ministers), that he, (not our older ministers), will send forth laborers into his harvest."

The Gospel ministry is not a profession, hence no matter how "bright and promising" may be the young men selected, and no matter how thorough may be their training, so long as the selections are made by our "older ministers," the cry for "preachers who can produce the glorious results" will still be heard in the world.

Very truly,
F. M. HORNADAY,
Greenville, N. C., May 30th, 1905.

In expressing the belief that the boll weevil is more or less of a "humbler," a Little Rock, Ark., cotton dealer asks, "If the South made 13,500,000 bales with him, what would it have made without him?" That is a rather pertinent question, and carries a strong suspicion that the ravages of the cotton pest are more fanciful than real or else that Texas is not by any means the "whole thing" in cotton growing.—Charlotte Observer.

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use "a" tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot. First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3 (Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. Don't use water that has been boiled before.)

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.
1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.
2d. With Cold Water. Instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.) (Lion-head on every package.) (Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

GIVE ME A TRIAL.

ABRUPT JUSTICE.

Case in Which "If This Court Knows Herself" Was First Used.

A Pike county Missourian is credited with having first used the expression, "If this court knows herself, and she think she do."

Long before the discovery of gold in California a Pike county boy named Blackburn, so it is said, ran away from home and went to the Rocky mountains, where he grew to manhood as Indian fighter, hunter, trapper and mountain guide. He became six feet four inches tall, proportionately thin and marvelously awkward. He had many encounters with grizzlies and Indians. He was scarred from head to foot, one eye had been partly gouged out, his hair was thin and coarse and stood straight up on top of his head and hung in every direction from the sides. Blackburn, as might be supposed, was not an educated man, but he was not lacking in keen wit and sound sense.

When gold was discovered, Blackburn went to the mines, and the miners, as a sort of joke, elected him alcalde, an office similar to that of justice of the peace. The first case brought before the alcalde was that of a gambler, who while drunk and on horseback had run over a young Mexican woman, knocking her down and seriously injuring her. The trial took place in the largest cabin in the neighborhood, which was packed with roughly dressed, much bewiskered men. The gambler, who was rich, hired able counsel to defend him. Alcalde Blackburn called the young woman, who told her story in broken English, but frankly and honestly. When she finished, the alcalde peremptorily ended the trial. The attorney for the defendant protested vehemently, but the alcalde ran his hand through his hair until it stood up straighter on top than ever and remarked:

"If this court knows herself, and she think she do, I fine you $500 damages and assess upon you the costs of puttin' this yere gal in good condition."

When asked what he meant by "good condition," he replied that the "gamblin' chap" must pay the doctor's bill and all other costs of the woman's illness. A more learned judge might have made a more formal ruling, but scarcely a juster one.—Kansas City Journal.

Do It!

It has been said that the main difference between insignificant men and great men is energy, which remark being interpreted means: If you've anything to do, do it, and if you haven't anything to do, find something. This is not intended to apply to labor, as conventionally expressed, but means simply the general quality inherent in the individual which makes action necessary to comfort. And it should find expression in the child before the time comes when amalgamation into the great body of workers makes the individual a unit in the great question of labor versus capital.

In childhood, while the mother is still the motive power of the forces that go to build up character, this quality, or the lack of it, begins to show, and then is when the mother can do much toward making her boy either an insignificant man or a great one.—Exchange.

Jarred the Head Waiter.

A western millionaire was dining with a New York friend in the most fashionable restaurant in the metropolis. Summoning the head waiter, the western man, who is very fond of joking, said:

"I presume everything in this place is the best that money can buy?"

"Most assuredly, sir," replied the waiter, with a dignity that might have aroused the envy of a United States senator.

"Well, that's all right, but when you run short what substitute do you use for terrapin?"

For once in his life that head waiter was "left at the post" and never tried for an answer.

Measuring Eternity.

"Eternity?" The voice of the preacher sunk to a horrified whisper. "An eternity of torment!" he repeated. "Do you bethink you as what eternity is? I tell you, it is as long as it would seem to you if you were going to the theater and were waiting for your wife to get ready and she had eight or nine heads instead of one!" Here several men rose, haggard and tottered forward to the anxious seat.—Puck.

Gripped Him.

Their courtship had lasted two years. "I suppose," he ventured timidly, "that if I were to ask you to marry me you would promise to be a sister to me."

"Well, I should say not," she replied, with some spirit. "You can't get out of this with anything short of marriage."—Cleveland (O.) Leader.

Queen Quality

It Sets the Style.

What do we mean when we say that the styles of most of the shoes for women originate with the "Queen Quality" Shoe?

Simply this. The "Queen Quality" is, and always has been a leader. It gets up its own original patterns at great expense, and has established a reputation for the style and beauty of its creations.

OTHER MAKERS ARE CONTENT TO AWAIT THEIR APPEARANCE, and then copy them as closely as possible.

But "Queen Quality" "sets the style"—don't forget that!

And one other point—"Queen Quality" offers twice as many styles for your consideration as any other shoe. You cannot suggest a need which is not fitted with a "Queen Quality" shoe specially designed for it.

Does not this realize the ideal of a strictly custom shoe? And such a shoe for $3.00. Think of it! Oxfords $2.50.

Tans in all shape are here.
