THE ALDERMEN.

Have a Busy Session Thursday Night.

The board of aldermen burn the midnight oil when they assemble in a regular meeting, the volume of business to transact in administering the affairs of the town being large. It was so on Thursday night, being past midnight when the board completed its labors.

The street committee reported the streets in good condition. The fire of filling on Fourth street has been completed, and several drain ditches opened in different portions of the town.

The stock pound was reported completed and ready to entertain dogs or other quadrupeds found running at large contrary to the rules prescribing their liberties.

Matters in the lights and wells department were reported in good condition.

The market committee reported that a few number of stalls are occupied, now that the dull season is on. Water connection has been ordered for the purpose of flushing the market house and keeping it clean.

The cemetery committee reported the summer house in the white cemetery about completed.

The special committee appointed to confer with the water and light commission relative to rates to be charged against the town for public water and light service, reported that the rate agreed upon was $30 per year for each water hydrant and $60 per year for each electric arc light. The present number of hydrants and arc lights, including eight additional lights recently ordered installed at locations given in Thursday's REFLECTOR, make a total cost for public service of $4,800 a year. This gives the town the use of water needed for sprinkling streets and public watering troughs, and lights for graded school building, market house, and other places used by the town without additional cost.

The fire department committee reported the hose reel stations nearly completed.

The chairman of the water and light commission presented a statement showing expense of something over $1,700 incurred by the commission which it was thought ought to be charged to the construction account of the plant instead of to the operating account and requested that this be credited on the amount that had been advanced to the commission out of the general fund of the town.

The board of internal improvements presented an itemized statement of the cost of construction of the water and light plants, which was referred to the finance committee.

The different officers filed their monthly reports.

The hand fire engine and street sprinkler were ordered to be painted.

A communication was read from the superintendent of the water and light plants showing the number of customers being furnished.

The finance committee was instructed to have all accounts of officer properly examined and prepare financial statement of the town for the fiscal year for publication.

The suggestion being made that in order to give electric current a part of the day to operate fans and motors the plant be run from 11 o'clock in the day until 1 o'clock at night, the board expressed opposition to the lights being out off any part of the night.

Accounts were allowed amounting to $631.71.

It sends the life's blood dancing through your veins; the exhilarating feeling one feels after using Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is wonderful. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

GLEE CLUB.

Wake Forest Boys Give Fine Concert.

The Wake Forest College glee club appeared in Masonic temple opera house, Thursday night, and gave a concert that is pronounced by all present to be the best of its kind they have had the pleasure of witnessing. The audience was large and appreciative. Every number on the program was excellently given and encores were frequent.

Two members of the club could not appear in the entertainment here, one being taken sick while in Scotland Neck Tuesday and another after reaching Greenville Thursday afternoon. Notwithstanding this disadvantage to the young men, the audience was able to detect no incompleteness whatever in the program or any selection given.

The glee club is composed of splendid young men who reflect credit upon the college they represent.

OAKLEY ITEMS.

OAKLEY, N. C., May 30, 1905.

H. A. Gray returned from Washington yesterday, where he had been to consult a physician.

We are glad to know that W. J. Jenkins' sick horse is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Williams gave a reception last evening in honor of the young ladies Misses Rosa Lee Skinner and Daisy Parker visiting their home. Ice cream and cake was served abundantly and greatly enjoyed. Each young man had to draw for the girl he was to take to supper and the following couples repaired to the dining room: Charles James and Miss Rosa Lee Skinner, J. O. Williams and Miss Daisy Parker, Eli Rodgers and Miss Ludie Corey, E. S. Mizelle and Miss Alma Jenkins, Lycargus Belcher and Miss Minnie Whitehurst, W. J. Jenkins and Miss Mary Taylor, E. B. Parker and Miss Pearl Jenkins, Henry Congleton, and Miss Lydia Carson, Frank James and Miss Alma Congleton, Ben Jenkins and Miss Reba Corey, Z. V. Whitehurst and Mrs. C. G. Brown, Walter Carson and Mrs. S. G. Williams, Charles Wynne and Mrs. Ida Parker. J. H. Barnhill came in the eleventh hour but was fortunate in having two girls to take him to supper. After returning to the parlor Claude Brown added to the amusement of the evening by his "rag time" dance. Mr. J. O. Williams making the music.

Farmers are having plenty of rain.

MEETING AT BALLARDS.

For about 2 years Mr. Jas. Cobb has been trying to get the writer to visit and preach at Ballard's. So last Lord's day after services at Rountrees we were taken by Mr. Cobb's son Joseph, out to Ballards and after enjoying a splendid dinner and a good rest for about an hour we went out to the public school house where we were met by a large, intelligent congregation. One very noticeable feature about the service was the splendid attention of the congregation. I have never preached to better listeners, nor seen a better behaved congregation. The Farmville minister, I. W. Rodgers, with several of his congregation were present and rendered valuable assistance in the meeting.

Brother Rodgers will preach there on the 4th Lord's day in June at 3.30 o'clock p. m. and the writer has an appointment for the 4th Sunday afternoon in July. The public are cordially invited to attend. D. W. DAVIS.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Saturday.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., June 2, 1905.

The commencement exercises of the Free Will Baptist college closes tonight. There was a large crowd here yesterday and all during the week very much interest has been shown throughout the occasion. Everything has passed off smoothly and harmoniously. The prospects for the fall session are said to be good and indeed they should be for this school is a credit to its people and should receive their liberal patronage.

Dr. Pat Burruss, of Rocky Mount, is here on a visit to his sister, Mrs. M. M. Sauls. Everybody is glad to see Pat, for every body likes him and he's a jolly good fellow too.

The next time we go fishing it will be strictly understood we are after bullfrogs.

Miss Hattie Randolph came up Wednesday from Kinston for the commencement.

Be sure and remember June 10th the Oxford Orphan singing class will be here.

Riding out in the country one cannot help being impressed and pleased with the result of the work done by the convict force on our public road. It is first class.

Mrs. Hardy, of Green county, has been visiting her brother, W. J. Mumford during the week.

Grover McLawhorn, who holds a position as express clerk on the A. C. L. between Richmond and Charleston, is here on a visit to his parents.

Mrs. Dora Lee, of Kinston, is visiting out at Eld. C. C. Bland's.

Tuesday we were invited by our friends, J. N. Hart and Carlos Harris to accompany them to the store of J. R. Smith & Bro. Upon arrival they showed us a sample and test of five different paints. The paints were each given the same ingredients, oils and other necessities, then applied to a pane of glass. Not telling us the names of either they requested our judgment, knowing but little about such matters we hesitated, but they insisted, after a careful examination, we pointed out the best we thought, in our opinion and the selection was to the credit of Harrison's Town & Country paint because we perceive it was of a smoother surface, thicker and of a purer color at the same time it did not flow on the glass as the others did. We were commended as a tip top judge by two experts present.

Jesse Peyton, a convict serving a 10-months sentence on the road gang, has made his escape. He is black, weighs about 160 pounds, height 5 feet 5 inches, 30 years old but looks old. Guard McLawhorn will pay $10 reward for his capture and return.

Daughters of The Confederacy.

The George B. Singletary Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Mrs. L. C. Arthur, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, to commemorate the birth day of Jefferson Davis. A full attendance is desired by the president as it will be the last meeting before disbanding for the summer and business of importance is to be transacted.

Acreage and Condition.

The government report issued today places the decrease in cotton acreage at 11.4 and the average condition of the crop at 77.2.

Hours Changed.

The hours for keeping the public library open has been changed from 10 to 12, a. m., to 5 to 7, p. m., Tuesdays and Fridays.

Brings bright, shining, merry eyes; rich, red blood, good health. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

Neligee Suits.

That's what the hot weather Suit really is--a two-piece neglige Suit.

Now, don't allow yourself to become careless and think any sort of a Two-piece Suit will do for hot weather.

Any kind won't do at all.

You've seen "Summer Suits" that were thin stuff, put together to keep their shape just long enough to sell.

The hope the only place you ever saw them was on the other fellow.

New Spring Goods

ARRIVING DAILY.

There is one thing that we do not claim in our business to do and that is to sell goods cheaper than they can be bought--neither do we want to create the impression that our store is full of shop worn, out of style goods nor by filling our store with show bills and sign boards will we try to impress false ideas in your mind that we are going out of business, but we do wish it understood that we are receiving daily shipments of the newest things in and kindred materials so desirable with the women folk of Greenville and Pitt county, and we do hope that you will at least favor us with a visit to see these many new things.

"MORE RESTRICTIONS NEEDED."

Under this head the Charlotte Observer writes. The Observer has evidently grown tired of so much paternalism and attempt at legislating morals and good manners into the people by the legislature. It says:

"The Monroe Enquirer says it required no act of the legislature to keep it from publishing the income tax returns; that it 'considered that it would be in just as good taste and as much a matter of public interest to publish the amount of property listed by certain citizens as to publish the returns made by them as to their incomes. However,' it concludes, 'it looks like a mighty thin law—that prohibitory law against publishing facts from the tax books—and we have no idea it would stand if tested. The tax books are public property and a newspaper has a right to publish anything that may be found on them.' But as General Leach used to exclaim when he reached a climax in his speeches, 'Great God, fellow-citizens! don't you understand?' The thing to understand now is that if anything is being done that you don't agree ought to be done, the remedy is to pass a law. If the hogs persist in sleeping under the churches in Pitt county—pass a law. If the boys ride bicycles on the streets of Roper—pass a law. If the bears won't behave themselves in Big Wildcat Pocosin—pass a law. If there is anything worse needed in North Carolina than public education and foreign immigration, it is more prohibitory laws. To repeat Dr. McIver's story of the command given by the mother to the house girl concerning the children: 'Sallie, go out in the yard, see what John and Mary are doing and tell them to stop it.' If any citizen of North Carolina is now doing anything that is not prohibited by law, a law to cover his case ought to be passed and he ought to be made to stop it."

THE IMMIGRATION PROBLEM.

In the immigration campaign we sincerely hope that nothing but the better class of foreign immigrants will be induced to settle in this country.

This is a matter that is of no little concern to the farmers of North Carolina. The colored labor is becoming scarcer and scarcer every year. The portion left seems to become more and more irresponsible as the years go by, and we suppose this is the primary cause of that movement on foot to induce the better class of foreign immigrants to settle in North Carolina and permanently make their homes here.

This movement was formerly launched and fairly advertised at the holding of the Southern Industrial congress in Washington in the third day's session which closed last Thursday.

The welcome these new comers will receive depends largely upon the success of the undertaking. There will be many who will be prepared to invest their capital in land, but the majority will apply themselves for the farms.

We notice that George B. Crater, former business manager of the Charlotte Observer has assumed the management of the Raleigh Evening Times. He also goes on the editorial staff of the Times. The Times grows stronger and stronger and this adds additional strength.

A man in Milwaukee, has been sent to the penitentiary for ten years for attempting self destruction. Possibly if he had attempted or taken the life of a fellowman he would have been turned loose on the plea of insanity or self-defense. It committing or attempting to commit suicide is not a trace of insanity, it is funny to us.

If the remains of John Paul Jones hadn't been dug up he would possibly groan and turn over in his grave in recalling the memories of once having served in the Russian army.

We haven't heard of any Republicans grieving over the fact that Governor Douglas, of Massachusetts, has declared he will not be a candidate for governorship again.

We notice that Togo is called the silent admiral, but in this case we suppose the Russians will agree that his actions speak louder than words.

Russia ought to have one consolation in the fact that she has not got but one or two more ships for Togo to sink.

The people in Oklahoma who are building cyclone cellars, may be expecting a visit from Carrie Nation.

That was a bad hand Togo run up on Rojstevsky.

Mayor Weaver blew out the gas.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera, Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

The Shells We Live In.

It is astonishing to think that any intelligent person living in this age of action should be so lost to his environment as to care nothing for one of the most momentous events of human history, reported in the newspapers at almost the hour of its occurrence. Astonishing as it is, it is true, and "pity 'tis, 'tis true." We could hardly believe it had we not seen persons of average intelligence and education shut their ears to the reading of the most graphic stories of the naval battle in the Korean strait and heard them declare that they felt no interest whatever in it.

There is no excuse for any one who can read the newspapers not to be in touch with history-making events in all the world; and yet how many people know little and care less for a battle that may have a deciding influence in changing the current of history. What little shells we live in! It is amazing.—Raleigh Post.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the condition of the stomach and conveys the nutritious properties to the blood and tissues. This builds up and strengthens the entire system, overcomes and cures indigestion, dyspepsia, belching, sour stomach, etc. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for what is sometimes called America's national disease. Dyspepsia, is destined to eventually work a wonderful and lasting benefit to sufferers from this distressing and mind harassing condition. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Yes, Some Like It.

Many persons are easily humbugged, and some really seem to like to be humbugged if we may judge from their eagerly grasping after humbugs.

This thought is suggested by a very attractive picture that recently occupied a whole page in several of our state dailies, and was distributed in circular form through the mail. This picture represents a man scattering dollars in showers to an eager crowd, all with outstretched arms surrounding him and struggling to get their share.

This picture was, of course, an alluring advertisement of one of the many modern "get rich quick" schemes that attract the cupidity of the credulous.—Chatham Record.

Billions Bill the sleepy head, Dearly loved to lay a bed; Couldn't wake him if you shook him; When his slumbers overtook him. Suddenly he started waking Every morn when day was breaking.

What's this magic nectonance? EARLY RISERS, that's the answer.

The Famous Little Pills, "Early Risers" cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, etc., by their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe or sicken, but impart early rising energy. Good for children or adults. Sold by John L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is almost definitely settled that President Roosevelt will make North Carolina a visit during the month of October, and that he will be at Raleigh during the Fair. Of course our people will be glad to see Mr. Roosevelt. Some "fire-eaters" would say now that the South does not care to see Mr. Roosevelt. But those "fire eaters" will be the most patient "bench warmers" when Mr. Roosevelt does come.—Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

Last Friday Captain Bradshaw and Captain Busbee, in charge of the convict camp on the Raleigh and Southport Railroad at Lillington, Harnett county, gave Judge Fred Moore and the members of the bar a picnic at the camp. This varied things for the members of the bar who generally have a picnic when the court meets.—Wilmington Star.

The Salves That Penetrates

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve penetrates the pores of the skin, and by its antiseptic, rubefacient and healing influence it subdues inflammation and cures Boils, Burns, Cuts, Eczema, Tetter, Ring Worm and all skin diseases. A specific for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. The original and genuine Witch Hazel Salve is made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., and sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Our government is actually sending some bloodhounds to the Philippines to run down the colored men who do not like "our way" of controlling them. History repeats itself. It is not a Democratic administration that is doing this; nor, did the suggestion come from a Southerner.—Rocky Mt. Echo.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

The Children's Favorite.

Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

(Save the Lion-head for valuable premiums.)

Indian Revenge

Jed Wilson and I pitched our camp near an Indian village on the Umpqua river. The chief of the tribe was one Wah-kia-na, a tall, muscular Indian of perhaps forty-five. Wah-kia-na became quite a frequent visitor. His favorite lounging place was the log cabin in which Jed and I did the cooking.

One morning Jed discovered Wah-kia-na in the act of jabbing a long, sharp pointed piece of iron he invariably carried in his belt into the soup kettle, hoping, no doubt, to fish out a nice hot chunk of beef. This was more than my companion could stand.

Knocking the iron out of the red-skin's hand with a quick blow, Jed grabbed the fellow by the scruff and the slack and rushed him out of the cabin, quitting him with a push that sent him sprawling upon the ground.

After that Wah-kia-na came to the cook house no more, and in a month or so the incident had dropped completely from our minds, but not from the Indian's. In his heart he nurtured vengeance.

One day we learned that three emptied into the Umpqua a certain stream the exploration of which promised considerable sport. This tributary was known as Smith's river, after an unfortunate trapper who had been killed by the Indians many years before.

When we had arranged our plans, we made them known to Wattie Linn, a sturdy old backwoodsman, who had taken quite a fancy to us youngsters and had more than once proved himself a true friend. Just as we were pushing off along came Wattie.

"Waal," he said, "good luck to ye. But look hyar. I want ye to promise me a something. Guess it'll take ye three days to get up to Smith's, thar bein' a freshet in the river, but a day ought to fetch ye back slick as grease. Now, give me yer word, boys, to be back hyar by five days at the latest—that is, if ye kin."

We promised the old fellow and dipped our paddles, impatient to be off.

"Good, lads, and now look hyar. If so be as you meet trouble and hev to quit the canoe and tramp home, make tracks down the right bank of the river; the right bank, do you hear?"

Nothing particular happened until the afternoon of the third day. We were ripping along very quietly when suddenly Jed reached over the side of the canoe and fished something out of the water. It proved to be a small, closely woven Indian basket.

"That's bad, Jed," I exclaimed. "Sure as guns thar's redskins ahead of us."

"We'd have met the beggars if they had come down stream; so they must have gone up," said I. "What's to be done, Jed?"

"Done! Go ahead and trust in Providence," replied Jed. "They may be friendly or they may not. Anyhow, we've got our rifles."

"What's that yonder?" cried Jed, pointing to a hill a little distance ahead. Its sloping side was dotted with what looked to be huts. We rested on our paddles and gazed upon the scene with silent anxiety.

We found the cause of our wonder to be an old Indian burying ground. The hutlike risings were simply hillocks of earth, each of which marked the resting place of a warrior.

Paddling a mile or two farther along, we camped for the night.

As soon as it was light enough we started to mount to the top of what we meant to be our long-to-boggan slide back to Umpqua. It was the worst rapid we had yet encountered. After trying it several ways without success we had to resort to the towing line.

We dragged our little craft up through the boiling current yard by yard. It may have been within a dozen feet of us when, crack! the stout hide line suddenly snapped, and away went the canoe with all our stores and Jed's rifle, dashing madly down the falls.

"What fools to worry," cried Jed, "when we can get all the canoes we want!"

"Where?"

"Down in the burial ground, of course. It's only a mile or so. Come along."

Fortunately we were on the same side of the river, and an hour's hard struggling through the dense woods brought us to the cemetery. We found that most of the canoes were in very bad condition, but finally came across one that seemed seaworthy. Our good fortune mended our spirits, and as we sped onward we laughed and joked and broke into rollicking songs.

We had made a mile or so when, shooting round a sharp elbow of the river, we were thunderstruck to find ourselves abreast of a large Indian camp pitched on the bank. The narrowing of the stream at this point brought us within twenty yards of our foes.

Uttering a howl of rage, they made a wild rush for the water's edge, threw themselves into their canoes and came after us in full pursuit. And foremost among them we recognized the tall form of Wah-kia-na.

With a swift wave of our paddles we turned the nose of our antique craft toward the bank, reaching which we leaped ashore. I seized the gun, and in two seconds we were tearing through the thick brushwood toward the forest beyond.

That afternoon and evening I tramped many miles. At nightfall, being utterly fagged out, I threw myself upon the turf beside a small stream and was soon sound asleep.

I awoke a little after dawn, cold and stiff and desperately hungry. I was about to move along when I was startled to hear a crackling among the brushwood. I set my teeth and brought my rifle to my shoulder, ready to fire as soon as the thing should break cover.

Presently who should stagger into view but Jed, the poor fellow ready to drop with fatigue and hunger. We started off, but soon Jed, who was carrying the gun, while clambering over the rocks made a misstep and fell. The weapon flew from his hand, and, the trigger striking hard against a stump, a loud report followed among the surrounding hills.

But that was not the worst. Jed's ankle received a very bad twist in his fall, and for some minutes the poor fellow was agonized with pain.

Now we noticed a column of smoke rising nearly opposite our position from the other bank of the river.

"A signal!" cried Jed. "They must have heard the report. What a clumsy idiot I was!"

"And see," said I, "there's an answering signal to the right and another to the left. But we've got a good start of them, and before they strike our trail we must be miles away."

All that afternoon we toiled onward over our rugged course. Meantime, however, Jed's wounded ankle grew worse, until at sunset it was swollen to twice its natural size, and he could proceed no farther.

Twilight slowly darkened into night. The moon rose and cast her fading light upon the scene. A more welcome light, I think, I shall never behold.

Presently signal fires on the hills near by told us that the rest of our enemies were close at hand. Again I looked to the priming of my gun and otherwise prepared for action.

For fully twenty minutes we heard nothing of our foes, though we knew well the cowardly fellows were debating how best to reach us. Then from their ambush in the wild oats we heard voices, as though they were encouraging each other to charge, and we realized that the crisis was at hand.

Suddenly I was startled by an exclamation from Jed.

"It's all up, Joe!" he cried. "No use firing. The villains have got us in the rear!"

"Hist, boys, hist!" whispered a voice from the bow of the canoe.

"Good heavens, it's Wattie!"

"Aye, boys, and just in the nick of time. Catch hold of this hyar line and haul us in right smart!"

This was done, and all so quietly and quickly that the Indians knew nothing of our re-enforcements. A minute later they broke cover, rushed into the open and, with a blood curdling yell, charged pell-mell down upon us.

"Fire!" shouted Wattie in a voice that rang loud above the uproar, and instantly five spouts of flame flashed in the faces of our foes.

Surprised, thunderstruck, utterly discomfited, the advancing body reeled back from the volley they had so little expected.

"After 'em, boys!" yelled Wattie, leaping up over the bank and giving chase. We sent them flying in all directions, each Indian intent only on securing his personal safety.

Then, returning to the bank, we sought our two fallen foes. The first we came up to was lying face downward, having pitched forward as a bullet found his heart. Turning him over, we found he was none other than the villainous Wah-kia-na.—George H. Westley in Boston Globe.

The Ruling Spirit.

A Paris journal relates that a celebrated speculator, who had reached the age of eighty-five and still preserved a lively interest in the market, was told one day:

"Evidently you are going to live to be a hundred years old."

"No—no," he said. "I'm going to die very soon. I know it."

"What makes you think so?"

"What makes me think so? Do you suppose death is such a fool as to take me at 100 when he could get me at eighty-five?"

Queen Quality

It Sets the Style.

What do we mean when we say that the styles of most of the shoes for women originate with the "Queen Quality" Shoe?

Simply this. The "Queen Quality" is, and always has been a leader. It gets up its own original patterns at great expense, and has established a reputation for the style and beauty of its creations.

OTHER MAKERS ARE CONTENT TO AWAIT THEIR APPEARANCE, and then copy them as closely as possible.

But "Queen Quality" "sets the style"—don't forget that!

And one other point—"Queen Quality" offers twice as many styles for your consideration as any other shoe.

You cannot suggest a need which is not fitted with a "Queen Quality" shoe specially designed for it.

Does not this realize the ideal of a strictly custom shoe? And such a shoe for $3.00. Think of it! Oxfords $2.50.
