TOWN MATTERS.

Aldermen Hold Last Business Session for the Fiscal Year.

The board of aldermen met for the first time Thursday night in the new official headquarters for the town in Masonic temple building, and found it a comfortable and convenient place for meeting. This was the last regular business session for the fiscal year. The writer, who has served as clerk to the board during the year, can say that he has never served with more clever and agreeable gentlemen. They are all thorough business men and have conducted the affairs of the town in a business like way. Through the entire year we do not recall a single harsh or unkind word uttered at any meeting, the proceedings always being conducted pleasantly. All but one of the members succeeds himself for the coming year.

At this last meeting the finance committee gave a report showing settlement with the tax collector, including the insolvent list. The figures embraced in this will be given in a statement being prepared by the committee for publication later.

The tax collector was instructed to collect what he could from the insolvent list, a reasonable commission to be allowed.

The street committee reported that the damage done to the streets by the storm on the 24th had been repaired.

The lights and wells committee reported that some of the old oil street lamps had been sold, and the public wells repaired where needed.

The market committee reported that the total rents collected from the market house for the fiscal year amounted to $505.20.

The white cemetery committee reported that the cemetery needed cleaning but there were no funds in hand at present to do the work.

The fire department committee reported that all the hose reel stations were completed and the reels placed in them ready for use.

A small parcel of ground was reported sold in the colored cemetery.

The treasurer, tax collector, police officers and chief of fire departments presented reports for the past month.

The mayor also tendered a report which made the following showing: Number of arrests made by policemen during fiscal year upon warrants issued by the Mayor 255. Of this number 206 were adjudged guilty and 19 not guilty, and 30 were bound over to Superior court. There was paid over to the treasurer of the board of education for public schools of the county $245.79, fines collected, and paid into the treasury of the town $439.70 arising from costs.

Orders were drawn on the treasurer amounting to $2,580.15, of this amount $1,625 being for interest on improvement bonds for the past six months.

The board took a recess until 9 o'clock Saturday morning when it meets to turn over to the incoming board.

Common Now.

So many cotton blooms came to THE REFLECTOR that all of them could not be mentioned. The first one came on the 21st and by the 24th they were no longer a novelty.

Rain Fall for June.

C. V. York, who is river observer for the government station at this point on Tar river, reports that the total rain fall here for the month of June reached 6.35 inches. The heaviest fall any one day during the month was 2.90 on the 24th.

W. S. Bernard, of Chapil Hill, came in Thursday evening.

DONNA LUCIA COMING.

Will Reach Greenville Next Wednesday.

This morning a press dispatch was received from Donna Lucia D'a Lordores from her sunny estate in far away Brazil. The old lady is in the best of health, and is making preparation for her trip to North America, in fact she is on the way right now. Perhaps even now she is tossing on the waves of the Atlantic. She is surely coming, and expects to reach Greenville on the afternoon of next Wednesday.

Charlie Spettigue is anxious for everybody to meet her when she comes, he is her nephew. He has rented the opera house from the Masons and expects to have all his friends to a reception there in her honor. Her last public appearance in America was in Edenton. The people were perfectly delighted with her tone and never grew tired of talking about her.

Let's all go to the reception and make her think Charlie is the whole show in Greenville. She herself and the company she is bringing with her are "all to the mustard," worth both your time and your money. Next Wednesday evening.

Poor Reason for Divorce.

Reasons for divorce are very plentiful. One young man asks for a decree because he and his wife were both drunk at the time of the marriage. He didn't get one, the judge evidently holding that after marrying on champagne there was plenty of time for repentance on bromoseltzer. Then an Iowa man, weight 96 pounds, asks a divorce from his wife, who weighs 312 pounds and manifests her displeasure by walloping the diminutive head of the household. This case hasn't been decided, so that it may yet be settled just what difference in weight is good cause for divorce. Tom Reed's declaration that no gentleman—or lady—would weigh more than 900 pounds may possibly be sound law, so far as the divorce courts go.—Winston Sentinel.

Tarboro Team Here.

Greenville and Tarboro are playing ball in Arthur Park as we go to press. The Tarboro boys came down on a gas boat reaching here about noon. This team is said to be a strong one and a good game is expected.

H. Walter Lewis, of Wilmington, in a fit of remorse following a protracted spell and because he could not get more whiskey, sent a bullet into his heart in the presence of his wife Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at his home.

BUILDS UP THE STATE.

NOETON, Tenn., June 26, 1905. Mr. F. M. Hornaday, Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir:— I received your letter and the policy today. In enclose the receipt requested. I am well satisfied with the policy and have never hesitated to recommend the Security Life and Annuity Company as a company worthy of the increased patronage it is everywhere receiving. I think it especially advisable that North Carolinians patronize it because it builds up business in their own state instead of putting it in the North and because by reason of a higher interest rate and lower expense loading it can furnish them the same policies at cheaper rates.

With best wishes for your success, I remain your friend,

E. C. PERROW.
[Mr. Perrow is adjunct professor of History in Trinity College, Durham, N. C.]

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., June 30, 1905.

A negro woman giving her name as Bessie or Bettie Barber is making a round of the small towns and soliciting the ladies who have old cast off clothing to dispose of to let her sell it on commission and what she does not get clear of she will return. There are several of our lady friends in Ayden who have been taken in by this siren of light ginger cake complexion, short, say 5 feet, fleshy, and in her promises exceedingly fair but by her deeds one must judge her methods dark and could but justice be meted out as it should this maiden, on her rounds would find a home where her complexion, slick tongue and wily ways would be suppressed to the gratification at her many victims here and perhaps others elsewhere. She hails from Goldsboro and if any know ought of her a little information silently wafted in this direction would be highly appreciated.

J. L. Sugg and Charles Cobb, of Greenville, were here Tuesday.

J. R. Smith and family have been visiting the country this week.

Harvey Cox, of Winterville, spent Tuesday here.

Mrs. F. G. Buhmann is off on a visit to friends up the road.

D. G. Bibb left Wednesday for a summer vacation.

James L. Smith, of Vanceboro, has been a visitor in Ayden this week.

That was no small crowd which left here Wednesday on the Masonic excursion for Kinston.

J. W. Taylor and wife left last Wednesday morning for Dunn, N. C., where Mrs. Taylor will remain until Mr. Taylor returns from Philadelphia, where he will go to take a special course in optics.

F. B. Tucker, constable for this township is seriously sick at the home of his father near here with fever and grave apprehensions are felt as it is feared an operation for appendicitis will have to be performed, which will leave him in a critical condition. We hope however to hear of his speedy recovery. Mr. Tucker is an efficient officer, a clever gentleman and very popular with our people, and all sympathize with him in his affliction.

Miss Julia Bready left Thursday morning for a visit to Adamstown, Md., and other points in Western Maryland. She was accompanied by her little niece, Miss Letha Fair. They will remain during the summer.

J. W. Perkins and Louis Lawrence were here yesterday.

W. T. Lipscomb, of Greenville, has been here in the interest of the Liberty warehouse.

C. O. Brown was here yesterday soliciting for the marble works in Greenville.

Capt. Richardson, one of the old vets of '61, is here in the interest of the insurance feature of the Masonic fraternity.

Mr. Phillips, of Sumter, S. C., has seemingly been very pleasantly entertained here for the past day or so.

Bentley Harris and L. F. Waters, of Greenville, made us a short call yesterday.

Miss Rosa Randolph came from House yesterday to visit Mrs. Stancill Hodges.

Wednesday evening in the Methodist church at Snow Hill, Mr. J. E. Albritton, a prominent merchant of Hookerton, and Miss Mattie Albritton, of Snow Hill, were united in marriage by the pastor of that church. We extend congratulations.

Mrs. Fred Cox returned from Richmond Thursday evening.

THAT CHINESE BOYCOTT.

The seriousness of the Chinese trade situation struck this country very suddenly with telling effect, and when it became apparent that the merchants of Shanghai and other commercial centers were determined in their effort to boycott American manufactured goods, the authorities at Washington were quick to act. The cabinet was mustered together and the matter thoroughly discussed, and as a result of that caucus Mr. Roosevelt went to work to try to satisfy the indignant Chinese.

All this trouble has grown out of the exclusion of the celestials of this country. But it remains to be seen how the Chinese take their explanation. It may be that their determination cannot be diverted, and this country will have to act very careful if they smooth over these differences.

The warmest thing we have seen come down the pike is the editorial which appeared in a recent issue of the Charlotte Observer, in which Editor Caldwell unmercifully scores one Rev. A. J. McKelway. It reads as follows:

"For twenty-eight years I have been writing newspaper editorials and it has been my fortune within that time that many ears have barked at my heels. Some of these have left the State between suns and others have dropped into obscurity. Others still remain. The most malignant and indecent of all these dogs is A. J. McKelway, preacher, reformer, editor of a so-called religious paper and common liar."

"Is it hot enough for you?" This question is generally asked by those who haven't anything else to do. Men who work and attend to their own business haven't got time to be asking such foolish questions. At this season of the year we all know it is hot enough for us.

It looks like China is determined to make all that is possible out of the exclusiveness of the United States with regard to immigrants from the Flowery Kingdom. Their indignation may carry them too far.

The first bale of cotton grown this year was sold a few days ago in Galveston, Texas for thirty cents a pound. We hope this is an indication that the fleecy staple will bring a good price this fall.

The rise in cotton now does not do the farmers much good as the majority of farmers, the ones who needed good prices more, was forced to dispose of the staple for about 7 cents.

The two proposed Republican papers for Greensboro bid fair to look horns, but then they will get along as well as the three dailies at the capital.

The reason so many people go broke is because they make it a habit of breaking every dollar they get their "paws" on.

There are scores of people who swallow their conscience without the slightest fear of having a case of indigestion.

The way cotton is acting on the New York cotton exchange makes us think that Dan Sully is hanging around there again.

It appears that the Japanese-Russian war has satiated the war spirit of more countries than Germany and France.

Whenever the noiseless firecracker is invented we can look for quieter 4th of July's.

So far Mr. Blackburn hasn't got a single scalp to adorn his belt.

Digests all classes of food, tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs. Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, and makes rich red blood, health and strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure rebuilds wornout tissues. Gov. G. W. Atkinson, of W. Va. says: "I have used a number of bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have found it to be a very effective, and, indeed, a powerful remedy for stomach ailments. I recommend it to my friends." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

Success And Failure

It sometimes happens that the man who is popularly rated as successful has utterly failed, though no one else is so well aware of the fact as he is himself. He may have acquired wealth or he may have achieved fame, but in neither the one thing nor the other did he obtain what was most essential to him. On the other hand, the man who is rated as a failure may have achieved a very desirable sort of success. He may live in poverty and obscurity, but he may be the possessor of a character which is an inestimable blessing to him and to others. He has adjusted himself well to his environment and sustains right relations to the world about him. Idle gossip does not disturb him, and he is not filled with apprehension by the pranks of fortune. We do not conceive of such a man as an inactive fatalist: Work is one of the best forms of prayer, and it brings the best form of mental peace that is possible to men in this world.

We would not be understood as holding that the man who has accumulated wealth has necessarily failed. If that was his chief desire and ambition, and if he succeeds in his efforts, he may be satisfied. The fact that he has sacrificed everything to the one end of money getting may not trouble him, and his accumulations may fill his sense of need. This is sometimes the case, though not always, but when it is, it is an instance of success as the world generally looks at it. When a man accumulates a fortune and feels that it represents sacrifices for which it does not atone, he knows that he has failed, no matter what others may think about it. So with the individual who achieves fame. The sacrifices often outweigh the reward, though occasionally it may mean success. Generally, though, there is more satisfaction in the struggle upward than there is in the seat on the heights. Very often the situation is isolated, lonely and removed from the channels of human sympathy. Money does not necessarily mean success, not does fame, and these facts claim consideration. People should try to determine what is best worth while, as a chief aim in life. There is wealth in this world's goods and there is wealth of character—personal worth. This abides. It is something that the individual may take with him wherever he goes. Its possession does not necessarily involve self satisfaction, but it is rarely a source of disappointment. It is not accompanied, with the feeling that life has been frittered away, that the individual vitality has been expended in an effort to gather trifles that are only for a day.—Danville, Va., Bee.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

"Ever since the days of Eve woman has been a close observer," says a writer in a fashion magazine. Huh! That's nothing new. Everybody who watches a woman knows that she is a clothes observer.—Wilmington Star.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

The present war among Republican politicians in this State is due altogether to the fact that the ins want to stay in for life and the outs do not want to stay out for life. If the outs could get together they would outnumber the ins and could shift the tables and get possession of the advantageous position now held by the ins. In this war almost all depends upon the generalship of the outs. Here is a fine opportunity for some Togo to strike a blow that would land many an out squarely in the place now garrisoned by the ins.—Lexington Dispatch.

Buy It Now.

Now is the time to buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is certain to be needed sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly—you will need it quickly. Buy it now. It may save life. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

Good for Stomach Trouble and Constipation

The Chinese boycotters are right and have knocked us down with their argument. We had entirely overlooked the fact that they were entitled to be treated white till we discovered that they bought annually $21,000,000 worth of goods from the country. Henderson, N. C.

Gentlemen:—It gives me pleasure to state I have been using myself and prescribing for my patients the Buckhorn Lithia Water very freely for several months and I do not hesitate to recommend it in highest terms.

In lithemia, in rheumatic and gouty conditions and in certain cases of constipation I have seen excellent results follow its use. It is an exceedingly pleasant drinking water.

Very truly,

MOCHA COFFEE.

Most of It Taken by the Sheiks and Governors of Arabia.

"I don't believe there is a pound of genuine Mocha coffee on this continent," a coffee merchant informs me, "or that 200 people in this country have ever tasted it unless they have at some time visited Arabia and drunk it at the table of some sheik or governor."

"The true Mocha is the finest coffee grown. It has a delicious flavor that makes it as superior to the very best of other brands as silk is superior to cotton, but the crop is extremely limited and hardly ever more than satisfies purely local demands. Some Arabian coffee may find its way to this country. It may even be called Mocha, but it is not the real article, I am sure, and none of us have ever had it here, though we do get the best of other brands that are grown in Ceylon and Java, and that means some mighty fine coffee. It is not Mocha, however, for the whole of the true Mocha crop each year wouldn't supply the coffee demands of one ward in St. Louis alone for a period of six months. The best and plumpiest berries of the Mocha growth, those with the most exquisite flavor, are eagerly taken by the governors and sheiks in the vicinity, and they have to get their orders in advance, so that they may be sure of their annual supply. The second grade berries go to the wealthier citizens, not of the governing class, and the third, or poorest, grade berries, which are not much superior to the best Java coffee, are sold to the people, and the demand invariably exceeds the supply tenfold."

"Sometimes a few pounds of this cheapest grade of Mocha find their way to Constantinople, but it is very, very seldom, and I don't believe an ounce of it has ever got any farther west than that. We get the best coffee grown, apart from the Mocha, but the local conditions which prevail where that coffee is raised prevent us from obtaining any, and I hardly think the real thing will ever be found in our markets."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Opinions Change.

(First Baby.)

Fond Young Mother (to proud young father)—Albert, dear, did you hear the sweet, precious darling cry his little eyes out last night?

Proud Young Father—I thought I heard our angel twitter.

(Second Baby.)

She—Albert, you unfeeling wretch! To hear that child screeching all night and never offer to take him!

He—Let the little demon howl!—London Chronicle.

NATURE'S DOCTORS.

How the Adirondack Mountaineers Fight Bodily Ills.

"When the Adirondack native becomes afflicted with any of the numerous trifling ills which make mankind wretched," said the returned visitor to a New York Herald reporter, "he does not waste much time on doctors, but goes straight to the woods or the attic for nature's own remedies. There is one old man whom I have met with a pack basket on shoulder and shears and a rough board stool in his mitted hands, going after yarrow, which, dried, is the standby for coughs when it has been made into a wicked looking brew. Fir balsam, coaxed drop by drop from the blisters which swell on the balsam fir at full moon, is a sovereign remedy for chest and lung complaints."

"Gravel weed, by which name they insult trailing arbutus, is excellent for the complaint which gives it its name, and bladder root has a desirable effect on the kidneys and neighboring organs. Sage tea, containing a little summer savory, is efficacious for worms in children, for which belmonia, also steeped, is also used. Sunflower seeds, also steeped, strained and sweetened with molasses, will cure the whooping cough. Horseradish leaves wilted and bound on the face and back of the neck, will drive away neuralgia, and a nutmeg, bored and tied around the neck, will keep it away. The nutmeg must be renewed about once every six weeks."

"Onions, sliced, pounded and placed in a cloth and laid over the affected part, will draw out inflammation. A red onion, halved and with one part slightly scooped out and the cup placed over a carbuncle or a boil, will speedily remove the pus and has saved life."

"There are many more of these simple remedies in the North woods pharmacopoeia which the wise ones have at their fingers' ends, and if they are not more widely used and money kept in the overalls of the thrifty native it is because a lenient and more fortunate fate presides over the incomes of the Adirondack medics."

In a Hurry.

Henry Seton Merriman—his real name was Hugh Scott—was one of the swiftest writers the world has ever seen. Mr. Merriman only wrote at long intervals, but when he once sat down at his desk he would produce two or three chapters of 5,000 words each in an evening.

Once he argued with Walter Pater at Oxford on this matter. "Nothing," Mr. Pater reiterated—"nothing can be done well that is done in a hurry."

"Nothing?" said Mr. Merriman. "Nothing," said Mr. Pater.

"How about making a train?"

Modern.

The fairy godmother was about to touch the pumpkin with her wand.

"Oh, dear firstcousemother," interposed Cinderella, who had become imbued with sundry modern ideas, "no coach, if you please. The prince is only a man, after all, and the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Turn the pumpkin into a pie and leave me to pretend I made it all myself."

But hereupon it transpired that the forces of magic were not without their limitations.—Puck.

What the Jars Mean.

A stranger on walking through the streets of Chinese towns for the first time is puzzled, among other things, by the appearance of jars in various positions on the roofs of the houses. On inquiry he learns that a jar placed with its bottom end toward the street indicates that the daughter of the house is not yet of age to marry. As soon as she has developed into a marriageable maiden the jar is turned with its mouth to the street, and when the young lady gets married the jar is removed altogether.

Sweetheart Abbey.

There is in Galloway, Scotland, an ancient ruin known as Sweetheart abbey. Within its ivy colored, storm battered walls lies buried the affectionate and devoted Dergorvil, with the heart of her husband, John Balliol, embalmed upon her breast. Lovely in their lives, in death they are not divided. The crumbling masonry is still and must ever be a romance in its symbols of death and decay, telling every day, as it has for 600 years, the thrilling story of a woman's tender love and devotion.

Passing It On.

"That drug store man up by our house is a rascal," said Squeezem. "I'll never trade with him again." "What's the matter?" asked Judkins. "He passed a bad quarter off on me." "I suppose you gave it back to him?" "No," said Squeezem; "it was too much trouble. I put it in the collection basket at church."

J. B. CHERRY & CO.

GREENVILLE'S GREAT DEPARTMENT STORE.

DOPE FOR THE FANS.

Stunts in front of the Grand Stand
Have you "Ball" white cap?
Guess you are going to Washington.
Gene Turner owns up that he is dead in love. He is an honest soul anyway.
"Tige" said he played Romeo and Juliet last night, though no one knows where he was.
Do you ever stop to think about Bawe's catching in the game at Kinston? It was tip top.
If you had seen Rowe coming from Kinston you would have thought he was a good doctor.
Old "Ball" wants to go home to join the Holt guards. In a few days they go to Wrightsville beach for camp.

Say, what about the record our team is making. Seven games played and six won, beats Washington don't it?

Bert James and Turner J. hit at 500 in the Kinston game. How would that duplicated fit in the next Washington game?

Bert, you and Turner Jim sbo' did hit 'em some at Kinston last Wednesday. Each of you bugged the spheroid for two singles out of four four times up.

You miss half of your life if you don't go to Washington next Tuesday. Lets all go and beat them on their own grounds, then surely we'll be satisfied with life.

A pity Washington could not make that street parade they come prepared to make up here. Am afraid their material will be waste matter, but maybe they used it down there after the Tarboro game.

That was fast sprinting when Turner E. scored from first on John Ivey's two-bagger. That boy always has his perambulators in good shape, and he more than used them there.

Why?

Why, when buying a book, are we influenced by the author's name? Why, by an artist's, if we purchase a picture?

Why do wise buyers insist upon having a reliable name on nearly everything they purchase?

It is because the name attached is the safeguard of the buyer a protection against the palming off of inferior articles.

"This 'game guarantee' we all look for in the most important things we buy, and what can be more important than our food?

Everybody knows that all intelligent housekeepers are very particular about the buying of things to eat and drink, and nobody realizes it more than the up-to-date grocer, who caters to the wants of his customers.

For instance, every real grocer knows the reason for the universal popularity of Lion Coffee, the leader of all package coffees. He knows that its uniform purity and high quality have made it welcome to millions of American homes for over a quarter of a century.

Realizing this, he cannot but hand it out cheerfully when asked for it. He knows that the people accept the package as a guarantee of the contents.

Yet there may be a few grocers left who do not recognize that the buyers—not the seller—has the right of choice, and they may want to sell their loose coffee (who knows what it is, or where it came from) instead of Lion Coffee, which the customer asks for, and the merits of which both know.

In such cases the wise advice is: "Change your dealer."
