CHARLIE'S RECEPTION.

Amy, Kitty and Ella.

These girls are interested in the library.

Amy Spettingue, Kitty Kodeem and Ella Delchey are three girls that you certainly ought to see. They are as generous, unselfish, good-looking and attractive a trio as one usually sees in any part of all the world. For a long time they in company with several other patient souls have been working for the sake of the public library in this town.

Of course it is possible to tell which is the prettiest of this trio, but it would be really hard to do and they might not agree with me anyway. But I can say this much about them: They are all to be married, and you ought to see their husbands; they will make you laugh a week.

All of these girls and their husbands are going to be at Charlie's reception in honor of his aunt Donna Lucia, and a great deal of their courtship is going to take place there and they are to be married there. It is going to be a regular picnic for the old maids and bachelors, they can get points enough to insure them a speedy entrance to the ever enticing fields of matrimony.

Donna Lucia, Kitty, Amy and Ella are the ladies you will see at the reception, and Sir Faucount Babberly among the men is enough to mention, for he doesn't lack much of being a whole show within himself, and Jack has been a drawing card everywhere he has been.

Tickets to the swellest reception for years can be obtained at the drug store of Co. ard and Wooten, for the sum of 50 cents; admission to the gallery 25 cents.

It is going to be an interesting comic play. It is well gotten up, and is for the benefit of the public library. No worthier cause can be found. If you are public spirited and have the welfare of the town at heart you can never show it better than by attending the play when they have it. Admission 50 and 25 cents.

Good Preacher.

The Baptists are to be congratulated on having secured the services of Rev. John E. Ayscue to supply for the month of July.

He is a man of unusual ability and striking personality. He took both the Bachelor's and Master's degrees at Wake Forest, and recently graduated with honors at Chicago University, taking the Bachelor of Divinity degree. While at Chicago he preached regularly at Hebron, Ill., with satisfaction and good results.

He preached Sunday to a large audience, and gave them a good sermon.

He was popular in his classes at college, and is popular among young people, and will do good service while he is here.

Excursion Tomorrow.

The Alterio and Myrtle have been chartered to carry the ball team tomorrow. You take no chances by going on either boat. They have never failed to make the trip on schedule time. Remember, when you go on either of the above boats, you are helping support your base ball team. Both boats will leave at 9 o'clock. Fare 75 cents round trip.

Printer Resigns.

C. W. Hearne, who has for sometime held a position with THE REFLECTOR, has resigned and after a few days rest expects to leave for the West. His purpose is to go to Chicago and complete his trade in one of the large printing establishments in that city. He is ambitious and not afraid of work, and will win his way to success.

Last Hours of Secretary Hay.

Newbury, N. H., July 1.—The body of Secretary of State John Hay, whose unexpected death early today has caused sorrow throughout the land and evoked expressions of sympathy and regret the world over, lies tonight in a room of "The Fells," the quaint Gambrel roofed mansion, which for fourteen years, had been the summer home of the Hay family.

Just one week ago tonight the Secretary arrived at this village from Washington, wearied with the cares of State and anticipating a "long summer rest." Tonight the same launch in which Mr. Hay made the short trip from Newbury to the landing at "The Fells," conveyed relatives of Mrs. Hay to the cottages, where they brought sympathy and help to the stricken woman and her only son.

The only members of the secretary's family at "The Fells" when the end came were Mrs. Hay and Clarence Hay, Mrs. James A. Wadsworth, of Genese, N. Y., a daughter has been ill recently and had not been at Lake Sunapee this season. Mrs. Payne Whitney, another daughter, is on her way to Europe.

Mr. Hay died at 12:25 o'clock this morning.

Visit From Former Superintendent.

The Baptist Sunday school was delighted to have a visit Sunday morning from M. A. Allen, of Danville, who while a resident here was superintendent of the school. Sunday afternoon he also visited the school in the country of which he was also once superintendent.

Notice to Trustees of Graded School.

Rule 7 of our laws reads: "The annual meetings of the board shall be held on the first Thursday in July in each and every year."

I therefore beg to remind the trustee of this meeting and to request that they meet promptly at the office of Jarvis and Blow at 8 o'clock a. m. Thursday July 6 1905. THOS. J. JARVIS, Chairman Board.

SHELMERDINE ITEMS.

SHELMERDINE, N. C. July 1st.

Dr. Chas. Laughinghouse, of Greenville, was in town a short while Thursday.

Mrs. O. G. Calhoun has been sick for several days, but is reported better today.

Mr. Stallings, of Richmond, spent Thursday in Shelmerdine.

Mr. H. B. Phillips and family came Tuesday night and will spend several weeks in Shelmerdine.

Mrs. George Robins, who has been critically ill for several days is slowly improving.

Mr. Braswell, of Tarboro, made us a visit this week.

Mr. Joe Bobbitt and bride, nee Miss Daniels of Williamston, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bobbitt.

Mr. Lipscomb, of Greenville, was in Shelmerdine Thursday.

Dr. L. E. Ricks visited Greenville this week.

Mrs. Rufus Jennings and children, who have been visiting relatives in Portsmouth, returned home Friday night.

J. D. Cox is in town this week.

Somebody has boiled Hubbard's Garcia to this message: "If you never do more than you are paid for, you will never be paid for more than you do." What a sermon in these few words to the property owner who will not take the trouble to insure himself against loss of money when buying paint, when a glance at the can to insure himself the label reads, "Harrison Town & Country Paint" would protect him against loss. DOPE FOR THE FANS.

Stunts in Front of the Grand Stand.

On to Washington, are you going!

Wasn't old "Rusty Top" hitting 'em hard Friday.

Ask old Bull if he didn't have a good time Friday night.

Did you ever hear Turner, J., laugh? Ain't it a good one.

C. S. Forbes to Rowe: There is your girl. Rowe—No it ain't.

Burt old boy that was a swell catch you made Friday.

Turner, J., got a pretty hit scoring two men Friday.

Alex Blow made a nice stop in right field, and cut off a hit.

The second "Bull" Thompson is among us. He will hold the initial sack.

John Ivey got four hits Friday, and says he saved at least two more for Tuesday.

Have you seen the new first baseman. He comes with a good record.

John Ivey over hit 'em some Friday, four hits out of five times up, think of it.

Nearly all the "Flossies" are going to Wrightsville. What are we going to do.

Dr. Rowe said Old "Bull" was entitled to milk shakes Friday after his long foul.

Old "Bull" can go on to play first base, can't he? He is all to the evergreen any way.

One young lady was heard to remark Friday night that Rowe was so bashful that he was actually cute.

Guess you are going with us. The Shiloh is chartered. We can make a street parade down there if you want to.

If "Bull" I will give us some of that Chapel Hill hitting tomorrow, won't he endear himself to us. Now is your chance "Bull."

"Bull" Thompson, the first, is as changeable as the winds that blow at night. Wonder where the next flowers will come from?

Hobbs and Hobbs went down to the city below last night, but there was never a hero of the diamond who didn't get his bumps.

Say, don't you feel sorry for Washington? Have you any friends down there. Get them to leave tomorrow for a holiday. They will feel better.

It will make you forget your troubles to see that new fielder work; the one who is coming tonight. He is something fast and has been known to hit when one was needed.

If it takes 99 yards of baby blue ribbon to make a baby hippopotamus a kimona and 17 yards of yellow cheese cloth to make a lame mule a smoking jacket. How many yards of blue flannel did it take to make Lloyd Wooten's base ball jacket? TIGE.

Said "Bull" number one, to a lady of the town: "If you would go along, your presence would intoxicate me with a wild and delicious joy, and I know I should pitch the game of my life, and could I but win your sincere congratulations the happiness of other men would be to mine as the fragile lily is to the giant trees of the forest. Oh, my dear lady I could say more but I must stop."

SECRETARY HAY DEAD.

The whole country mourns for the death of Secretary John Hay, which occurred at his summer home Saturday.

A few days ago the announcement was made that the statesman had suffered a chill, followed by an attack of acute euramiasis, this caused general uneasiness, owing to the low condition of his health.

In the sudden death of the secretary the administration loses one of its best servants and advisers, and the whole country one of its foremost men. As a diplomat he was unsurpassed. His equals were very few. He was a man with fine intellect, believing in America's ability to become one of the greatest world powers, bringing his long experience in public service to his aid in helping to place this nation in the exalted position among the powers of the world which she now occupies high up.

He was far-seeing, broad-minded, and honest in his diplomatic work. Chicanery and double-dealing in his intercourse with other nations were unknown. He firmly believed in adhering strictly to the American idea of open and fair dealing with other powers. The following is a sketch of his public career:

John Hay was born in Salem, Ind., October 8, 1838, graduated at Brown University in 1858, and studied law in Springfield, Ill.; was admitted to practice before the supreme court of Illinois in 1861, but immediately came to Washington as assistant secretary to President Lincoln, remaining with him until his death, acted also as his adjutant and aide camp, and served under Generals Hunter and Gillmore, and was brevetted colonel; was appointed secretary of legation to France March 22, 1865; retired March 18, 1867; appointed secretary of legation to Austria Hungary May 20, 1867, where he acted as charge d'affaires until August 12, 1868; appointed secretary of legation to Spain June 28, 1869; retired October 1, 1870; then became an editorial writer on The New York Tribune, remaining five years, during seven months of which he was editor in chief; removed to Cleveland in 1875 and took an active part in the presidential canvasses of 1876, 1880 and 1884; was appointed assistant secretary of state November 1, 1879; retired May 3, 1881, in that year he represented the United States at the International Sanitary congress in Washington, of which he was president; was appointed ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to Great Britain March 19, 1897; retired September 19, 1898; appointed secretary of state September 20, 1898.

The "up-to-date, high class daily" that was to have appeared July 1st, has not made its appearance yet, or at least there were none to be had at any of the Greensboro news stands Saturday. Just imagine the "consternation and disappointment" of those Greensboro people.

Just now Japan is not Russia's only foe. Her sailors on the high seas and in hundreds of cities have lined up as one man against bureaucracy and demand that impositions cease.

Claudius hasn't got any permanent address just now.

Don't put all the blame on the town officials for dirty streets and side walks. Every family in Greenville can help prevent dirty littered streets. Just get out of the habit of throwing scraps of paper and other rubbish on the streets.

It now crops out that the Equitable has been paying salaries to dead men. This is not out of the ordinary, for in Philadelphia and St. Louis dead men are voted in every election.

When you haven't anything else to do but gossip and tattle, just get you a good book and read it. Possibly you will read something that will greatly benefit you.

TEXTILE EDUCATION AT THE A. & M. COLLEGE.

North Carolina is rapidly growing in importance as a textile manufacturing State. New mills are being built and mills now in operation are, in many cases, changing to a finer product. All of them are busy.

The Textile Department of the A. & M. College, Raleigh, N. C., is educating young men for the textile mills of North Carolina. The graduates of this department who have gone into mills have met with signal success. Within the past year three former students have been made superintendents of cotton mills in this State. There is a demand for the services of all the graduates.

The courses offered in the department are as follows:

1. Four year course in cotton manufacturing.
2. Two year course in cotton manufacturing.
3. Four year course in dyeing.
4. Special short courses in cotton yarn manufacturing.
5. Special short courses in weaving and designing.

Further information about these courses and the Textile Department will be gladly furnished, if you will write to Prof. Henry M. Wilson, West Raleigh, N. C.

Many improvements are being made, including the addition of new machinery to the value of $5,000.

The textile industry in North Carolina is a large and varied one. It affords to young men practically and technically trained a satisfactory and remunerative career. There are many opportunities for advancement and many calls for men of talent and industry.

A Boy Who Will Succeed.

Some time ago we ran an article about a girl attending school for nine years, not missing a single day or being tardy at any time. Prof. Boyle informs us that Whitfield Clary, of this place, has been going to school at the graded school four years, ever since it has been in existence, and one year at the private school which Prof. Boyle run before the establishment of the graded school, and that he has not missed a single day or has he been tardy during those five years. This is a remarkable record, especially so for a boy. To show his determination, the little fellow, though having the mumps, would not be deterred from standing his examinations at the recent closing of the school. As he could not go with the other children Prof. Boyle allowed him to stand the examinations in his private office.—Rocky Mount Record.

Germany's attitude toward the situation in Morocco is rather peculiar and is calculated to cause suspicion on the part of the French government. She asks for an international conference to settle the relations of the foreign powers toward that country and toward each other in reference to their interests there. Yet she refuses to give her reasons for asking for such conference or to say what matters she expects to bring before it should it be held or what demands she will make before it. On the other hand, France is willing to have such conference held if she is not forced to go into it blindly. She wishes to know what the powers are going to be asked to confer about. She has certain rights which she thinks the other powers are not concerned in. These she is unwilling to leave to arbitration. All other matters she is willing to leave to the conference. But Germany will say nothing but that she wants an international conference.—Wilmington Messenger.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says, "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

When you want a pleasant laxative that is easy to take and certain to act, use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

EATING AND DRINKING.

Results of an Excess of Food and the Effects of Fasting.

Every living body requires a quantity of food that is commensurate with the tissues it consumes in the performance of its functions. When nourishment is withheld, the body is forced to subsist on its own tissues. The fat is first appropriated, then the muscles and other structures. The emaciation and loss of strength are so rapid that life has rarely been maintained longer than ten days when neither food nor drink was taken. If, however, an abundance of water is drunk, the wasting is greatly retarded, and life can be supported for a much longer time, provided that the body be kept at complete rest. Thus restricted, fasting is often a valuable adjunct to other measures in the treatment of disease. A limitation of the diet is more frequently resorted to than an entire withdrawal of nourishment.

Restriction of diet is often valuable also as a means of preventing illness. Most persons not employed in manual labor eat more than is requisite for their support. Overeating seldom yields an increase of nutrition. The excess of food, on the contrary, imposes a burden upon the liver, kidneys and other organs whose office is to free the blood of effete matter. When this burden becomes excessive, illness is induced. Headache, loss of appetite, lassitude and all other symptoms commonly assembled under the term "biliousness" are the usual manifestations of it. The accumulation of poisons is further favored by neglect of drink, when too little water is taken into the system to maintain the secretions and carry off the waste.

The waste products which result from an overindulgence in meat are more acutely poisonous than those from vegetables. They belong to the uric acid group of poisonous substances, which are regarded as particularly active in the production of gout, rheumatism and neuralgia, or if the quantity of animal food taken be so excessive and remain so long in the intestines as to undergo decomposition through the action of bacteria, ptomaine poisoning is produced, and it may be so severe as to be distinguished with difficulty from typhoid fever.

In the less severe cases relief is promptly secured by abstaining from meat for a few days, hastening the removal of the toxic matter by the drinking of as much pure water as the stomach will tolerate or by means of a laxative mineral water. Muscular exercise and bathing are also advantageous for prevention.—Youth's Companion.

His Recompense.

A popular physician was much pleased with a certain aerated water and by his assiduous recommendation procured for it a celebrity it justly deserved. The doctor acted solely in the interest of humanity generally and expected no return.

To his surprise there came one morning an effusive letter from the company, stating that his recommendations had done them so much good that they "had ventured to send him a hundred"—Here the page came to an end.

"This will never do," said the doctor. "It is very kind, but I couldn't think of accepting anything." Here he turned the page and found the sentence ran:

"Of our circulars for distribution."

Dodging a Duke.

One time the aged Duke of Savoy, king of Cyprus and Jerusalem, was in love with the beautiful young Mme. de Valentinois, who had an estate at Monaco. Says the reminiscences of Mme. de Crequy: "He often came to Monaco without sound of trumpet or drum so as to give her an agreeable surprise. Mme. de Valentinois did not care in the least for her neighbor, who, moreover, was a septuagenarian and humpbacked like a sack of nuts. In order to put a stop to his visits she used to have his movements watched, and directly he passed her frontier he was saluted from all her batteries. Twenty-one guns was the precise number, sufficient to proclaim for miles around that his grace was taking an outing."

A Financial Manager.

Mrs. Peterby is a woman with a head for business.

"Just see here. I have bought a beautiful rocking chair at auction worth $3 and only paid $2 for it. So, you see, I have $1 clear profit. Don't tell me after this that the women have no business sense."

"Do you need the rocking chair?" asked Mr. Peterby.

"No."

"Then what did you buy it for?"

"To save money of course. How could I have saved $1 if I hadn't bought it, stupid?"

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated. Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.
