Col Daniel Lamont Dead.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 23.—C. I. Daniel Lamont Secretary of war under President Cleveland, died at 9:15 this evening at his country residence, at Millbrook, Dutchess county, N. Y., after a brief illness. Heart failure was the cause of death.

Col. and Mrs. Lamont were out driving this afternoon and Col. Lamont appeared to be enjoying the best of health. After dinner he complained of feeling ill and Dr. Stewart, of New York, who is a guest at the house, immediately went to his aid. The physician diagnosed the case as an attack of heart failure and in spite of the heroic treatment, Mr. Lamont passed away within half an hour.

Daniel Scott Lamont was born at Cortlandville, N. Y., on February 9, 1851. He began life in journalism and from 1885 to 1889 was private secretary to President Cleveland, by whom he was appointed secretary of war on March 6, 1892. Mr. Lamont was vice president of the Northern Pacific railway and a director and trustee in many railroad and financial corporations. He leaves a widow and two daughters. He was a member of many New York clubs.

1,000,000 Barrels of Oil Burn

Humble, Texas, July 23.—Fire started this afternoon in a tank belonging to the Texas Oil Company, caused by lightning striking the oil. The fire was held under control all the afternoon but began to spread tonight and 12 tanks belonging to the company are certainly doomed. Eleven of them contained 200,000 barrels of oil each and the one struck had 238,000 barrels. The fire started across the prairie toward other rigs, but its progress is held in check somewhat by a heavy rain. It may spread. The loss up to 11 o'clock tonight is estimated at fully 1,000,000 barrels of oil or $250,000, with the fire still raging. Some of the oil was pumped away, but the fire spread so rapidly the men were forced to abandon their work.

The estimate now is that at least forty miles have perished, the drivers abandoning them where they were at work digging new tanks. There are rumors, but no confirmation, of loss of life.

Hatch Bros' Excursion.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain in the early hours of the morning, people were not deterred from going on Hatch Bros' excursion to Norfolk today. There were many to get on at Kinston, the starting point, and more at the intermediate stations, so that when the hundred or more got on at Greenville the five coaches were crowded until there was hardly standing room. Hatch Bros. are successful excursion managers and always carry a crowd when they go.

Condition Improving.

For fear the local in Monday's REFLECTOR may unnecessarily alarm some of his friends out of town, we are requested to say that Roy Hearne is not critically ill but is now much better than he has been during his sickness. The family have good hopes of his early recovery.

WELL PLEASSED.

Durham, N. C., July 10, 1905. Mr. F. M. Hornaday, Insurance Agent. Dear Sir: The policy on my life with The Security Life and Annuity Company of Greensboro, N. C., has been received and am well pleased with it, especially with the clause in regard to Total or Permanent Disability, which makes the policy as desirable as I could wish it to be. Yours truly, S. J. Kilpatrick.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., July 25, 1904

Mrs. Britt and children, of Wilmington, after a pleasant week with Mrs. H. G. Burton, left for their home Friday.

Miss Mary Moseley, of Kinston, is visiting Miss Blanche Cannon. Charles Smith has gone to Asheville to rusticate.

Miss Mary Overton, who has been visiting the family of Benjamin Smith, near here, has returned to Tarboro.

F. L. Carr and wife came up from Morehead Saturday and left at once for their home at Willow Green.

Ronald Harrington has come home from a visit to friends at Strabane.

Miss Dessie McKinnie, who has been away for some time with friends in Hyde, came home Sunday morning.

J. J. Hines, E. V. Cox and J. M. Blow drew the lucky numbers that entitled them to a trip to and return from Norfolk next Tuesday. The numbers being 112, 134 and 857.

W. J. and Mrs. Munford spent Sunday in Winterville.

It is certainly gratifying to his host of friends to learn that the condition of Mr. Ferd. Tucker is very much better, though we regret that the situation is yet right serious. All our people are interested in Mr. Tucker for he is popular with everybody who knows him.

Misses Edith and Beulah Munford are visiting friends in Winterville.

Miss Nina Frizzelle came up from Washington Saturday and spent Sunday out at T. Doc. Frizzelle's and returned home yesterday. She was accompanied by Miss Nannie Frizzelle.

There is a certain family in town who are known for their Christian piety and the careful manner in which they train their children. Among the latter is a little girl, the youngest, of five summers, who is very anxious for a new little "buddie" and has often so expressed herself. The other day at dinner the father was telling his wife of the doctor having just carried a nice little fellow to the home of a near by neighbor. Immediately the little tot in just indignation and with flashing eyes spoke up and said: "Why in the devil didn't he bring us one."

The look of consternation around that table can better be imagined than described.

Misses Helen and May Dudley have been visiting Miss Delia Smith up until last Sunday. W. E. Hooks returned Saturday from Greensboro where he has been in attendance upon a banquet and a general meeting of the Security, Life and Annuity Company. He will tell the news later on, watch.

W. E. Patriek spent last week with friends at Edwards. He returned some Saturday, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. W. J. Boyd and little Miss Lila Rookh Boyd, who will spend some time here.

A young lady came to see Layette Worthington last Sunday and the boys are cudgeling their brains as to the name of the fair young miss.

Green Case, one of the oldest citizens in the county, from near Beaver Dam, was here Saturday.

Miss Georgia Joyner, who taught the primary department in the graded school here last session has accepted a position in the Winterville High School for next session. Winterville is certainly to be congratulated.

The following named gentlemen qualified before J. M. Blow, Esq., yesterday as board of trustees of the Ayden graded school for the ensuing term: Jesse Cannon, W. C.

Jackson and W. M. Edwards.

They say variety is the spice of life. Suppose we could have our streets cleaned up, ditches cleared out and a general all around turn about, we would have right much variety and spice too, wouldn't we?

We made a mistake in our last items in saying "Mr. Holton was behind the bars." It should have been "Mr." John Cannon. We beg Mr. Holton's pardon.

A Narrow Escape.—Last Friday evening while Carroll, a little three-year old son of W. E. Hooks, was sitting out in the streets, just in front of his home, on the bank between the wheel track and horse track, two men came driving rapidly by in a buggy and passed right over the little fellow and didn't even hurt a hair on his head. A wonderful escape. But they do say there were some badly frightened ladies in that neighborhood just at that time, some screamed, some cried and some did both.

Ayden and Ormondsville tied, 8 and 8.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

Miss Bessie Joyner, of Littleton, is visiting Miss Alice Lang.

The colored base ball team went to New Bern Monday evening, to play in that town.

Miss Maud Evans, of Goldsboro, came in Monday evening to visit her mother, Mrs. A. M. Evans.

Mrs. J. R. Pender and children, of Tarboro, arrived Monday evening to visit Mrs. J. W. Perkins.

Miss Annie Jordan, of Kinston, who has been visiting Miss Katie Tunstall, returned home Monday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Pender and children, of Grifton, who have been visiting his father near here, returned home Monday evening.

Mrs. G. B. King and children, of Washington City, arrived Monday evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. King.

Miss Lucy Parker, of Oakley, who has been visiting Miss Maud Lanier, returned home Monday. Misses Maud and Lillie Lanier accompanied her for a visit.

ORMONDSVILLE ITEMS.

ORMONDSVILLE, July 24, 1905

Ormondsville and Ayden played an interesting game of ball here last Friday but Ayden was very much disappointed.

H. M. Hardy, of Norfolk, came in Saturday and is spending some time with relatives and friends.

Miss Effie Moore, of Snow Hill, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Frank Heath.

After spending Saturday and Sunday at J. T. Frizzell's, Miss Nisa Frizzell returned to her home in Washington, N. C., accompanied by Miss Nannie Frizzell.

Mrs. C. F. Moore and children, of Snow Hill, visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Heath, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Allen Bowen has been on the sick list for several days but we hope she is now improving.

Matthew Bowen who attempted suicide last week is improving but his condition is very serious. The wound on the neck will not prove fatal but his mind is entirely deranged.

Our friend Maryin Ormond seems to know just the proper time to purchase a new buggy.

Mutual. Legal Reserve.

A Home Company conducted on a safe, economical basis in the interest of its policy holders. Why we can save you money.

The oldest companies have been on a 4 per cent. reserve basis for many years. Several of them have recently changed from a 4 per cent. basis to a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. basis, on account of a decrease in interest rates. Probably 90 per cent. of all the outstanding business is now on a 4 per cent. reserve, only the new business being on a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. reserve. Following are the rates of a few companies on the old and new basis:

Twenty-Payment Life. Age 35.

Table with columns: COMPANY, OLD RATE, NEW RATE, NEW RATE. Lists various insurance companies and their rates.

The variation in rates of companies on the same reserve basis is due to difference in the amount added for expenses. Every policy is registered and the full legal reserve deposited with the Insurance Commissioner.

IT'S GREAT.

The following is from the pen of a Kentucky editor, a Kentucky woman being his subject:

"Figure it out on a rose leaf and write with the brew of a lily that nowhere under the great blue dome is there a creature half so pretty as a Kentucky woman. She's prettier than an evening star in the shadow of a summer sunset, more inspiring than a thousand songs, and as bewitching as a fawn tangled in the vines of a wilderness of roses. She's our hope, our romance, our vine and fig tree—the light which enables us to see a million miles beyond the North Star."

With the Kentucky girl on his mind and under the inspiration of three or four Kentucky julsips we are not surprised at the above lines.

We thought it was about time for Judge Parker's summer swims in the Hudson to be heard from, and the incident of Saturday shows that he is still at it.

The continued rains are doing much injury to crops, and the prospect points to a much shorter cotton crop than had been anticipated.

Milwaukee has dived into the grafter-busting business. It seems that things other than beer may yet make her famous.

We will be glad when the United States lets up on rattling the bones of Paul Jones.

Moonshining As a Business.

Most people have been of the opinion that the home of the moonshiner was in the mountains of the States of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Georgia, and that all of the whiskey that was made contrary to law and reached its destination without the government stamp duty having been paid on it was manufactured in the hollows of those mountains.

True, contraband liquor was made in the mountain regions of Pennsylvania, and perhaps other Northern States, but "moonshining" was considered an industry peculiar to the mountains and to the States mentioned.

It will be news to many readers to know that there is in these latter days, much "moonshining" in the larger cities of the North. The information comes direct from Mr. John W. Yerkes, United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and is, therefore, reliable. That official says:

There is moonshining in every part of the country despite the efforts of our men to stamp it out. I have no doubt that illicit distilling is being carried on at this very minute in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities. At frequent intervals our men uncover illicit stills in the large northern and eastern cities, while down in the mountain districts of Georgia, Kentucky and other Southern States "mountain dew" is distilled by the natives in defiance of the law.

The commissioner further says that illicit distilling is decreasing in the mountains, but is increasing in the cities. He does not think the illegal manufacture of whiskey can ever be stopped, no matter how vigorous the work of running down moonshiners may be prosecuted. That the work is vigorously prosecuted is shown by the figures. Last year there were 1,018 illicit stills seized and destroyed, and 991 moonshiners arrested. During the past eight years 13,624 stills were seized and destroyed by government officials and 7,000 arrests were made. Chasing moonshiners is sometimes a dangerous business, for during these eight years seven officers were killed and eighteen wounded by the moonshiners in defense of their illicit distilleries.

The commissioner is of opinion that there is but one way to put an end to the business of the moonshiner, and that is to take the tax off distilled spirits.—Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

The "Breeches Bible."

Thoughts of kindness of Mr Richard A. Ricks, formerly of Caroline county, but now residing in Richmond, we have had the privilege of inspecting what is known as the "Breeches Bible." The rare old book was in the Ricks family, residing near Chuchatuck, in the seventeenth century. It passed out of the family in 1799, but was finally purchased by Mr. S. B. Pretlow, of Southampton, who presented it to Mr. Ricks. It is in a fair state of preservation, although some of the pages are torn. The "Breeches Bible" is so called from the use of the word "breeches" in verse 7, chapter 3, of the Book of Genesis, which reads: "The eyes of them both were open, and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves breeches." In the St. James version, the word "aprons" is used, instead of "breeches." The fly leaf contains the following inscription: "The Bible that is the Holy Scripture contained in the Olde and Newe Testament, translated to the Ebrew and Greeke and conferred with the best languages in divers languages with most profitable annotations upon all the hard places and other things of great importance. Fear ye not, stand still and behold the salvation of the Lord, which He will show you today.—Exod. xiv:13."

It is needless to say that old style type is used. Following this inscription is a picture representing two armies about to engage in battle, with these sentences surrounding the picture: "Great are the troubles of religious, but the Lord delivereth them out of them all. The Lord shall fight for you; therefore, hold your peace.—Exod. xiv:14. Imprinted at London by the deputies of Christopher Baker, printer to the Queen's Most Excellent Magestie. 1599." Then the phrase, "Cum privilegio."

The "Breeches Bible" is otherwise known as the Geneva Bible" being an English translation from Geneva in 1560 by several English divines, who had fled thither to escape persecution of the reign of Mary. It was the first complete Bible to appear in Roman type, the first to omit the Apocrypha, and the first to recognize the division into verses. This translation was in common use in England until the version made by order of King James was introduced in 1611. In addition to the Old and New Testament Scriptures, it contained the Psalter, the Collects and the "Selections of Psalms" in verse.—Exchange.

Russian Proverbs.

When the priest sits down to read mass the people lie down to hear it. When the thunder ceases the peasant forgets to cross himself. A man needs only not to be a cripple or a hunchback to be accounted a handsome fellow by the women.

Even an old man can win a woman's love and keep it, if he isn't jealous. When a woman goes to heaven she wants to take her cow with her. Over the woman from afar the devil pours honey.

When the devil cannot arrive in time he sends a woman on before him.

Praise your wife, not three days after the wedding, but three years after it—if you can.

A SCIENTIFIC PUZZLE.

The Unsolved Mystery of That Wonderful Entity, Ether.

Certainly, though no sane person doubts the existence of the ether, we are sorely troubled when we are asked to describe it, for we are almost forced to give it properties incompatible with one another. This you will see when I enumerate all the functions which this utterly mysterious entity discharges. It conveys the force of gravitation. It has the power of vibrating from side to side, and these vibrations, according as they are fast or slow, have the most varied results upon us. They all travel along at the same speed, which is that of light—186,000 miles a second—but the waves may oscillate from side to side as they go, either two or three times a minute (or less) or even a million times a minute (or more).

When the waves are very slow we call them electric waves. When they are a little faster we call them Hertzian waves and telegraph across oceans with them. When a little faster we call them Blondlot rays. A little faster they are called heat rays, or radiant heat. A little faster they are called red light, then yellow, and so on to violet. Then they become invisible again, as they were before, and we call them ultraviolet light. Then a little faster we call them Becquerel rays, and the fastest we know yet we call Roentgen rays.

I have missed out more than I have named, and there are many gaps yet to fill, but you will agree with me that the entity whose vibrations cause electricity, heat, light and Roentgen rays, besides conveying the force of gravitation, must be a very remarkable substance. And, more than that, it is supposed that all ponderable matter is really made out of the ether. By ponderable matter we mean matter which is subject to gravitation and therefore has weight. The ether itself, which conveys the gravitation, is conceived of as being without weight.

It comes to this, then—that in the ether modern science recognizes the most profound of all its problems, except that of consciousness. By gravitation it makes the universe one, by its movements it makes the universe alive, and it is the stuff of which the material universe is made.—C. W. Saleeby in Harper's Magazine.

Not Exactly a Compliment.
A medical man humorously relates the following little experience, admitting that he "didn't think it particularly funny at the time."
"The driver of a bus on which he had jumped happened to mention the name of one of his patients."
"It's a bad job about poor Bill X, ain't it, sir?"
"Yes," returned the doctor. "Very serious case. You know him, then?"
"Know him?" echoed the driver. "We went to school together. Poor Bill! I shall miss him."
"Oh, well, while there's life, there's hope, y' know," said the doctor. "Your friend isn't dead yet."
"No," gloomily returned the driver. "But I heard as they'd called you in this morning. Poor Bill!"
Glasgow Times.

Poisons That Leave No Trace.
The late Sir R. Christison, M. D., of Edinburgh, testified at a trial that there existed poisons which left no trace of their work behind. He was about to mention one when the judge stopped him, remarking that such knowledge was not desirable to be bruited abroad. Next morning Sir Robert was besieged with inquiries contained in letters, asking for the name of the poison. The writers, of course, professed that their interest in the matter was of an entirely scientific nature.

Human Nature.
After a long, weary search the man secured work.
"How do you like your job?" we inquired at the end of the first week.
"I'd like it pretty well," was the reply, "but for one thing."
"What is that?"
"They're mighty slow about offering me a day off."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it.
Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer— weaken, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.
