COTTON ACREAGE AS VIEWED NOW.

New Report Makes Cut Over 14 Per Cent.

Washington, July 26—Assistant Secretary Hay today made the following report to Secretary Wilson on the acreage of cotton in the Southern States in 1905 as compared with that in 1904:

"The crop estimating board of the Department of Agriculture has considered the report issued by the Bureau of Statistics on June 2; relative to the acreage planted in the Southern States in 1905 as compared with that planted in 1904 and has concluded:

First: That a new estimate should be made on acreage planted and that the figures in Mr Hyde's hands when making his estimate should be used as the basis.

"Second: That Mr. Hyde with Mr. Holmes at the elbow, prompting him, made the estimate lower than the facts at his hand from the reports from the seven classes of reporters employed by the bureau warranted.

"Third: The board finds, upon careful consideration of the reports of all classes of correspondents and agents, that the acreage planted in cotton this year, including the entire season, should have been estimated at 85.1 per cent, of that planted last year, equivalent to a reduction in planted acreage as compared with last year of 14.8 per cent, (instead of 11.4 per cent) or 4,731,000 acres—the estimate of the total acreage planted this year being 26,999,000 acres

DECREASE BY STATES.

"The estimated percentage of the decrease in each of the cotton growing states is as follows:

"Virginia, 18; North Carolina, 16; South Carolina, 14; Georgia, 14; Florida, 12; Alabama, 11; Mississippi, 16; Louisiana, 17; Texas, 16; Arkansas, 19; Tennessee, 13; Missouri, 15; Oklahoma, 15; Indian Territory, 11.

"The acreage was made for each State by each of the four members of the board, and the comparative small disagreements were harmonized almost wholly by averaging, and the above results are fully agreed to by each and every member of the board.

"Respectfully submitted:

Victor Olmsted.

"Stephen D. Fessenden,

"George K. Holmes,

"W. W. Long,

Crop Estimating Board.

"The above findings and report made under my supervision have my entire approval, (Signed) "W. M. Hays,

Assistant Secretary in Charge,

Bureau Statistics."

"Approved, Jas. Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture."

Department Bulletins

The State Department of Agriculture is preparing several bulletins, and the July bulletins on analyses of spring samples of fertilizers, is now in the press. Other bulletins to be given to the printer soon are by Veterinarian Tait Butler, on North Carolina hog raising; Entomologist Sherman, on North Carolina insects, and an industrial bulletin, which will probably appear late in August.—News and Observer.

Lawn Party Near Griffon.

A MAD STRUGGLE

Woman's Screams Brought Aid and Arrest of the Negro.

Charlotte N. C., July 26.—Ed Hall, a young negro, attempted criminal assault upon Mrs. Mack Auten at the home of her husband, four miles east of the city, this morning, but was foiled in his purpose.

The negro, who is employed in the city as a driver, was sent to Mr. Auten's home after some meat. He was half drunk, and upon some slight pretext he went into the house and asked Mrs. Auten to phone to town for him. As she complied and was turned with her face to the phone, the negro threw his arms around her from behind and attempted to drag her into an adjoining room. The woman screamed loudly and put forth efforts to free herself, but the negro did not desist in his criminal purpose. Mrs. Auten continued her cries of help and was heard by a Mr. Beatty, who was working nearby. As Mr. Beatty started toward the house the negro broke and ran.

Mrs. Auten was found on the floor half fainting, her clothes were badly torn and an examination showed several bruises on her arm and body. Where the negro had clutched her arm there was a great red ring.

When the lady was revived she told graphically of the assault and gave a good description of the negro, whom she had known for some time. Hall was arrested at Pineville, about ten miles from the scene of his crime, late this afternoon. He was brought to Charlotte and lodged in the county jail. Feeling is high, but the law will take its course.

A Marked Improvement.

Washington, July 25.—The weekly crop report of the Weather Bureau today says:

Although improvement is indicated in parts of nearly all of the cotton states, it is neither general nor marked. While the staple has grown rapidly, and is generally fruiting well in portions of Georgia, Alabama, Texas, and Missouri complaints of unsatisfactory fruiting are received from the Carolinas, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Oklahoma, and rust or shedding from all sections. Insects are causing considerable damage to cotton in localities in Texas, but generally there is no great injury reported. The crops are opening in the southern portion of the belt, and picking is under way in southern Texas.

Tobacco has made rapid growth and is generally in satisfactory condition. The crop is weedy and some has been drowned out in Kentucky, damaged locally by rains in Virginia, and is poor on light soil in Maryland. Topping is in progress in New England and Ohio and curing is becoming general, with good results in North Carolina.

Dr. E. Allison Killed.

Dr. Allison was well known here, having lived in Salisbury prior to January last when he went West to live.

His body will be brought to Statesville for interment by his brother William Allison, of Chicago and who has gone to Colorado for that purpose.

The Security Life and Annuity Company

Mutual. Legal Reserve.

A Home Company conducted on a safe, economical basis in the interest of its policy holders. Why we can save you money.

The oldest companies have been on a 4 per cent. reserve basis for many years. Several of them have recently changed from a 4 per cent. basis to a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. basis, on account of a decrease in interest rates. Probably 90 per cent. of all the outstanding business is now on a 4 per cent. reserve, only the new business being on a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. reserve. Following are the rates of a few companies on the old and new basis:

Twenty-Payment Life. Age 35.

COMPANY	OLD RATE 4 per ct.	NEW RATE 3 1/2 per ct.	NEW RATE 3 per ct.
New York Life	$35 00		$35 34
Equitable	35 00		38 34
Penn Mutual	34 21		37 25
Prudential	34 01		36 95
Mutual Benefit	33 97		36 22
Etma	31 97	$36 96
Mutual Life	35 00	36 87
North Western	34 91		37 80
Security Life & Annuity	32 60

The variation in rates of companies on the same reserve basis is due to difference in the amount added for expenses. Every policy is registered and the full legal reserve deposited with the Insurance Commissioner.

THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1905.

From the arguments going on we infer that the issuing of bulletins by the government giving the condition of the cotton crop at stated periods will not be abolished. Because there have been leaks is no reason why there is not value in the reports, but they should be properly safeguarded to prevent advance information being furnished to speculators.

The report that John F. Wallace, who has lately resigned as chief engineer of the Panama canal was to become president of the Seaboard Air Line railroad has been denied. While he is an experienced railroad man the Seaboard thinks it can get along very well without him.

It is stated that the government is contemplating an order discontinuing the use of bicycles by rural mail carriers on their routes. We fail to see why there should be objection to any means of locomotion used by the carriers so long as they perform their duties well.

The weeds and grass that have been cut and remain on the sidewalk is a nuisance saying nothing about the danger it is to the health of the town. Weeds when cut should not remain over twelve hours, they should be hauled off to a safe distance.

In New York they send "mashers" up anywhere from six months up, but here in North Carolina they either send them to the undertakers establishment or to the hospital.

We learn that the President has been worked up to such an angry pitch that he is about to lay down the olive branch and take up the big stick again.

Its all right to pay honor and respect to a man after he is dead, but wouldn't it make a fellow feel better to receive some of it while he still lives?

Gen. Marston Paid for Contempt.

The following anecdote is told of General Gilman Marston, a once famous lawyer in New Hampshire:

General Marston was attending court at Dover, when a young attorney made a motion that was denied by the court. The young man remonstrated against what he thought was the wrong ruling of the judge. So vehemently did he remonstrate that he was fined $10 for contempt of court. An older attorney took the matter up, and he was fined a similar sum. Still another, who thought he stood a little better with the judge, endeavored to straighten the matter out, but he, too, enriched the coffers of the state by paying a "ten spot" for contempt.

General Marston was then seen to rise in his seat and advance to the clerk's desk. Taking his long pocketbook from his pocket, he took out two $10 bills and laid them on the desk.

"What is that for?" said the court, "I want you to distinctly understand," said the general, "that I have just twice as much contempt for this d--n court as any man here, and I am paying for it!"—Boston Herald.

Experts are now trying to determine whether more Russians have been killed by Jab butters than have run themselves to death. It's a nutty question.

"Went to Sleep." Went to sleep out yonder, Where the daisies grow, An' the daisies hid him from me Long—long ago!

But I see him still in Springtime— Trace his footprints in the snow! He comes to me when mornin' Makes the meadows smile so sweet

There's a rustle o' the rose-leaves— I hear his dear heart beat, An' on the twilight stairs of life The paterin' little feet!

Went to sleep out yonder— Birds sang him to his rest, And I whispered, in God's silence: "Tis God that loves him best!"

But he comes near, and still I hear His breathing on my breast!

—Atlanta Constitution.

To the Gum Chewing Girl My dear young woman: Don't get the habit. The evils of the gum chewing propensity upon the economy of your physical system are vividly explained by Dr. Joseph S. Diamond of Bellevue college, New York, who ought to know.

He says, for instance— If you chew gum habitually you excite the salivary glands unduly. You swallow some pints of saliva every day, if you are a confirmed chewer. And if you chew during the time of digestion you neutralize the acidity of the stomach.

Now, the doctor says, you thereby delay digestion, which is a very bad thing of itself, and you also run the risk of microbes.

Besides: Dr. Diamond says gum chewing is a neurotic manifestation—that is to say, there is something jangled about your nerves. They are not what they ought to be. You have developed a sort of jaw unrest that is no trivial thing.

"Pish," you exclaim. Somehow, all this talk about stomach and nerves and things never touches you. You have never had any trouble that way that you know of.

But say: Do you know this: Gum chewing, habitually followed up, will destroy some of the beauty of your mouth and chin and sooner or later put ugly lines in your lower face. It is the honest truth.

And now I see you sit up and pay attention. That sort of warning is worth while. It stands to reason. The machinery of your lower countenance was not built for perpetual chewing gears. And overwork will rack the parts just as any other machine is racked by strain. Muscles and nerves and blood vessels are delicate.

Nothing is here said concerning the ugly spectacle made by this perpetual motion of jaw machinery. Where everybody in your set chews and chews and chews it is folly to be finical, of course.

But just remember, will you, concerning those ugly lines about the mouth.—Ex.

EARLY ELECTRIC ROADS.

Line in Baltimore Perhaps Our First Regularly Operated One.

Daft began work on the Hampden branch of the Baltimore Union Passenger Railway company in August, 1885, at first with two and a year later with two more dummies, which pulled regular street cars. A central and the running rails were used for the normal operation, but at crossings an overhead conductor was installed, and connection was made with it by a transversely hinged arm carried on the car and pressed upward against it by a spring. The driving was by a pinion operating on an internal gear on one of the axles.

This was, I think, the first regularly operated electric road in this country, and the conditions under which the contract was taken, including waiting a year for payment conditioned on satisfactory operation—and finally, even on these onerous terms, secured only in the face of an opinion by a well known scientist that no one but "a knave or a fool" would undertake it—were anything but encouraging. Fortunately for Daft, however, T. C. Robbins, the general manager of the railroad company, was strong in the faith.

This equipment was followed by a more ambitious one—that of a section of the Ninth Avenue Elevated railroad for a distance of two miles, where a series of experiments was carried on during the latter part of the year 1885 with a locomotive called the Benjamin Franklin. The motor was mounted on a platform pivoted at one end, and motion was communicated from the armature to the driving wheel through grooved friction gears held in close contact partly by the weight of the machine and partly by an adjustable screw device. This locomotive, pulling a train of cars, made several trips. But the experiments were soon suspended, and they were not resumed until three years later, when during several weeks a rebuilt and improved Benjamin Franklin was frequently run between the steam trains on the section between Fourteenth and Fiftieth streets, attaining at times a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, and on one occasion pulling an eight car train up the maximum grade of nearly 2 per cent at a seven mile rate.—Century.

The Deadly Cobra.

Most deadly of all snakes is the cobra, or cobra de capello. It inhabits India and Ceylon, Burma, the Andamans, southern China, Indo-China and the Malay peninsula and archipelago. To the west it ranges to Afghanistan, northeast Persia and south Turkestan as far as the east coast of the Caspian sea. Cobras are most active at night. They feed on small animals, birds' eggs, frogs, fish and insects. They attack hermits and swallow the eggs whole. They drink a great deal of water, although they can live for weeks, even months, in captivity without touching food or water. As a rule, they are not aggressive, and unless interfered with or irritated they crawl along the ground with neck undulated, looking like some harmless snake.

A Dog and Cat Story.

In a certain English home there lived a cat and a dog on the usual terms of enmity. The cat had kittens, which were taken from her, drowned and buried. The bereaved mother mourned, would not eat and became a sort of embodied ghost of her own dead self. Her enemy, the terrier, ceased to annoy her, began tenderly to shepherd her about, dropped pieces of food in her way and played about her as if he would joke her back to happiness. It was in vain. Then the dog was missed for some hours. He came back eventually, bounding with pleasure. Upon the hearth rug before the cat he deposited a furry something, retreated, returned with something else and again went out to come back with a similar burden. They were the dead and buried kittens, which he had discovered and resurrected.
