THE MARKET OPENS.

SEASON BEGINS MOST FAVORABLY.

Warehouses Well Equipped—Large Corps of Buyers—Prices Start Off Well.

The Greenville tobacco market opened today for the season and the beginning makes a most favorable showing, indicating that the season will be a successful one. Owing to the farmers yet being very busy curing their crops, and most of them wanting to see how prices open before coming on the market, the quantity at the opening sale was not large, the warehouses averaging from 7,000 to 10,000 pounds, making 35,000 to 50,000 pounds on the market.

There was a large crowd of people present and more satisfaction was heard at the prices for which tobacco sold than has been noticed at an opening sale in the last three or four years. The offerings consisted only of primings, yet the prices ranged from $4.00 to $12.50, several farmers making averages of $8 through. Grades that last year sold for $3 easily brought $5 at this opening. These higher prices at the opening gave all a good feeling.

The Liberty warehouse had first sale, the other houses—Star, Center Brick, Parham, and Farmers—following in the regular order that prevailed heretofore.

THE WAREHOUSES.

Since last season two of the warehouses have been destroyed by fire, so that now there are five. Each of these is well equipped and they are amply able to handle all the tobacco that can come to the market and every one of them looks well to the interest of the farmers. There are not many changes in the personnel of the houses. Some additions to the forces may come a little later in the season. At present they are as follows:

Liberty—W. T. Lipscomb & Co., proprietors; R. F. Betts, auctioneer; N. H. Whitfield, book keeper. Parham—Parham & Foxhall, proprietors; H. A. Timberlake, auctioneer; W. L. Hall and E. B. Thomas, book keepers; T. H. Walker, floor manager.

Center Brick—Brinkley & Lassiter, proprietors; B. T. Bailey, auctioneer; D. S. Spain and G. E. Harris, book keepers; C. D. Reuntee, cashier; H. S. Hardee, floor manager.

Farmers and Star—Both these houses are owned and operated by the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co.; O. L. Joyner, general manager; W. H. Dail, Jr., auditor; R. J. Cobb, treasurer; W. T. Burton, auctioneer; W. P. Edwards, T. M. Hooker and Edward Matthews, book keepers; Ola Forbes, manager Star branch.

THE BUYERS.

The Greenville market has a strong force of buyers who are anxious for tobacco and willing to pay good prices for it. They feel an interest in the market and co-operate with the warehousemen in making tobacco bring as high prices as it will afford. The American Tobacco Co. is represented this season by F. W. Clare, and the Imperial Tobacco Co. by R. O. J. Press. Beside these there are the Skinner-Garden Co., E. E. Ficklen Tob. Co., Geo. S. Pritchard & Co., Moyer & Kennedy, C. W. Harvey, A. A. Andrews S. J. Parham, G. F. Evans, J. Y. Monk, R. S. Evans and R. A. Tyson, with others to be on later.

The Greenville market cannot be surpassed and the farmers will make no mistake in selling their crop here.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 1, 1905.

J. S. Ross and wife are spending the day in Greenville.

Miss Marion Hodges, of Kinston, is visiting Miss Studie May Cannon.

Mrs. Maggie Griffin, of New Bern, came up Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. N. J. Ormond, of Ormondville.

If telegraph, telephones and electric wires get much thicker over head in and around Ayden a fellow won't have to go in the house when it rains. They are thick.

Miss Olivia Berry came home yesterday from Scotland Neck. Mrs. C. F. Burroughs, her sister, came with her and will spend several days in Ayden.

Mrs. D. G. Berry returned Sunday evening.

J. D. Moon, of Burke, Va., is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. Staniel Hodges.

J. F. Stokes, of Winterville, is in town.

Religious services were conducted in the Episcopal church last Sunday by Rev. W. E. Cox.

M. B. Alexander went to Greenville Friday.

Miss Nina Cannon has come from a visit to Grifton.

J. R. Smith & Bro. have a cow and calf to sell at a reasonable price.

Mrs. W. C. Jackson and children are visiting in the country.

Some of the finest timber logs we have seen are on the yards of the Ayden Milling Mfg. Co. The logs generally are whoppers.

The overseers of Contentnea township are hereby notified that the road supervisors will meet in Ayden August 5th 1905. It being the first Saturday as required by law. They will meet at 10 o'clock a. m.

J. T. Smith, Jr. and family are at Morehead.

Miss May Moseley, who has been on a visit to Miss Blanch Cannon, has returned to her home in Kinston.

The owners of the new stores that are completed are making new cement pavements in front of same. It will not be long before all the sidewalks on our principal streets will be of cement which will of course add very much to the convenience as well as appearance of things in general. Now if our business men would only get together and start a factory Ayden would be strictly in it. The only thing needed is a little enterprise and display of energy. The money is here in abundance and we sincerely hope the matter may be considered.

Miss Lena and Lottie Belle Dixon are visiting friends near Johnson's Mills.

R. F. Johnson, of Kinston, a former Aydenite, was here Monday.

AUGUST SHIRT SALE.

The object of this sale is to clear out stock of 16 1-2 size Negligee Shirts before the opening of Fall trade as we are greatly overtoked on this size only.

We don't believe in carried over goods. They've a poor claim for patronage.

Whas would you think if next year you bought a Shirt from us identical to the one some fellow got this season? You'd feel pretty cheap, wouldnt you?—and you wouldn't have a very good opinion of us. Now to obviate things of this sort we are willing to accept a loss—a most severe one. Hence this Legal Reserve.

A Home Company conducted on a safe, economical basis in the interest of its policy holders. Why we can save you money.

The oldest companies have been on a 4 per cent. reserve basis for many years. Several of them have recently changed from a 4 per cent. basis to a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. basis, on account of a decrease in interest rates. Probably 90 per cent. of all the outstanding business is now on a 4 per cent. reserve, only the new business being on a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. reserve. Following are the rates of a few companies on the old and new basis:

Twenty-Payment Life. Age 35.

COMPANY	OLD RATE	NEW RATE	NEW RATE
	4 per ct.	3 1/2 per ct.	3 per ct.
New York Life	$35 00	38 34	$38 34
Equitable	35 00	38 34	38 34
Penn Mutual	34 21	37 25	36 95
Prudential	34 01	36 95	36 22
Mutual Benefit	33 97	36 96	36 22
Etna	31 97	36 87	37 80
Mutual Life	35 00	36 87
North Western	34 91
Security Life & Annuity	32 60

The variation in rates of companies on the same reserve basis is due to difference in the amount added for expenses. Every policy is registered and the full legal reserve deposited with the Insurance Commissioner.

TUESDAY, AUG. 1, 1905.

The Merchants Journal, published by Norman H. Johnson in Raleigh, has completed its first year. The Journal is helpful to all mercantile interests and deserves the support of every business man in the state. Its success is shown in the fact that it is soon to be enlarged and become even more interesting than formerly.

Horse traders will have to look sharp now to detect blind animals. A Concord veterinary surgeon has successfully placed an artificial eye in a horse which only an expert can distinguish from a natural eye.

Among the other sins charged against the mosquito, he is said to be responsible for the spread of yellow fever.

Governor Vardaman, of Mississippi, has not caught the yellow fever.

National Divorce Law.

Within the past few days Governor Glenn received from Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, a letter urging him to appoint delegates to attend a convention to be held in Washington at an early date for the purpose of agreeing upon some plan of memorializing Congress to pass a uniform divorce law for all the States of the Republic.

While Governor Glenn was reading the letter to some of his friends, J. Crawford Biggs, Esq., of Durham, was present in the executive office, and remarked that this movement for a national divorce law should be taken up in connection with a similar movement to be set on foot at the convention of the American Bar Association soon to be held at Asbury Park. N. J. Messrs. Biggs, F. H. Busbee, Clement Manly and A. B. Andrews, Jr., of the North Carolina Bar Association, are to be delegates to the Asbury Park convention, and when Governor Glenn was apprised of that fact, he immediately appointed those gentlemen as delegates to the Washington divorce convention. Governor Pennypacker was so notified.

It is to be presumed that a national divorce law means a national marriage law. A national marriage law will mean no discrimination as to color in matrimonial unions, and as the Southern States prohibit intermarriage of the races the principal part which Southern delegates to the Washington divorce convention will take will be to find out whether the divorce convention expects Congress to pass a general act about divorce without saying what shall be the form and manner of marriage for the people the act proposes to divorce. If the Southern laws prohibiting intermarriage are to be endangered, the South will be pretty apt to fight shy of a national divorce law, yet that is the logical solution of the divorce evil.—Wilmington Star.

Don't Be Absent.

There is a saying that "the absent one has little chance of being the heir" and in newspaper advertising is this quotation particularly applicable in this day, when publicity is demanded of the merchant who has goods to sell, says the New Bern Journal. There are merchants in every town who do not advertise. There are also people in every town who buy most, if not all, their goods from out-of-town merchants or dealers. Neither of these classes, the non-advertising local merchant, or the non-local buying citizen, can be reckoned with as local influence for local betterment, in the way of helping along local enterprises. But no merchant doing or wanting to do business and build up a strong and permanent line of customers, can afford to be "the absent one" in the newspaper columns, for such absence means possible customers attracted to the merchant who advertises his good. Public favor in the mercantile trade, means honesty of goods, and publicity of them through advertising methods, and the newspaper is the medium through which the best, therefore the cheapest, publicity can be secured. On the spot, publicity, is the kind which is ever before the possible customer and buyer of any kind of standard article of merchandise, whatever it may be. Public favor from the street is attracted by the show window with its artistic display. And public favor is more surely attracted by the liberal newspaper advertisement which points out what the merchant has for the customer, telling its story of goods or wares in a way that makes a buyer, where without the newspaper advertising display, there would have been no business. This on the spot, publicity, is what means business and trade, gain and prosperity for the merchant who is alive to newspaper advertising, and whose name is never absent from the newspaper's columns.—Merchants Journal.

Watch the Eye, Not the Mouth, for Hydrophobia

S. L. De Fabry writes in The Country Calendar for August: "As dogs do not perspire, the only relief they seem to get when overheated is from inhaling cool air through their wide-open mouths in short, puffing breaths. The friction between tongue and lips, caused by their rapid, laborious breathing, produces saliva, which is sometimes ignorantly diagnosed as foam, one of the symptoms of hydrophobia. Many innocent victims have lost their lives an account of such stupidity.

"If your dog should feel ill, sick with some ordinary ailment, he will wag welcome to you with a sad, piteous expression, looking up inquiringly, as if asking for help and relief. If it has come to the worst, and he feels by instinct the germs of the dreaded disease in his frame, his action will be entirely different. You will find him with low bent head, withholding his usual glad welcome, hardly noticing or glancing at you. If your eye meet his, the restless, nervous, strange expression will startle you. The dog, feeling his doom, is conscious of approaching danger, and would like to prepare and warn you. These unmistakable and early recognized signs should be watched closely and always heeded. Corner the dog at once and, with the help of a broom or barn fork, keep him at a safe distance until locked up."

The Conqueror.

Did you ever see a man whom you could not down—whom no discouragement, however great, could dishearten, whom no hardships could discourage? Did you ever see a man who had no give up in him, who would never let go his grip no matter what happened—who, every time he failed, would come up smiling, with the air of a conqueror, and more determined than ever? Did you ever see a man who did not know the meaning of failure, who never knew when he was beaten, who had excluded the word "can't" from his dictionary, who did not know what it meant to be discouraged, whom no obstacle could down, no reverse weaken or turn back—the man who never wavered or doubted or took a step backward, no matter what misfortune overtook him? The man who was never feazed have you met him? If you have, you have seen a conqueror—a real man, says Success.

Everyone would be glad to see the death penalty abolished, but murder must be abolished first. We have arrived at our present stage of civilization by a long and bloody battle with the savage instincts and passions of the brute man. Let us not spike our guns and break our swords before the ape and tiger die, or the battle may have to be all fought over again.—Pittsburg Gazette.

Let Common Sense Decide

Do you honestly believe, that coffee sold loose (in bulk), exposed to dust, germs and insects, passing through many hands (some of them not over-clean), "blended," you don't know how or by whom, is fit for your use? Of course you don't. But is another story. The green berries, selected by keen judges at the plantation, are skillfully roasted at our factories, where precautions you would not dream of are taken to secure perfect cleanliness, flavor, strength and uniformity.

From the time the coffee leaves the factory no hand touches it till it is opened in your kitchen.

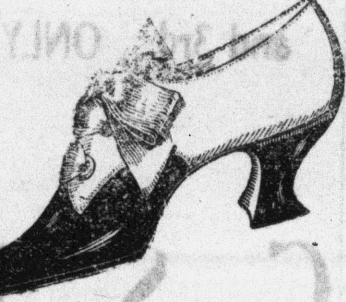

This has made LION COFFEE the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES.

Millions of American Homes welcome LION COFFEE daily. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity. "Quality survives all opposition."

(Sold only in 1 lb. packages. Lion-head on every package.)

A GAME OF CARDS.

She Made the Trumps and He Approved of Her Decision.

They had been partners at the card party all the evening, and naturally he became her escort home. "I held such poor hands during the series of games that I would enjoy holding better ones now," he said as he reached gently for hers. "If you had a different partner," she said after a mild and ineffectual resistance, "you might have held better hands during the game and afterward."

"But you were such a good one then and such a good one now," he insisted, "that I want you to be my partner all through the game of life."

For a brief instant her hands struggled to be released. "I am afraid I do not know how to play my cards," she said smilingly.

"He drew her tenderly toward him and said, very low, very earnestly, "I want you to help me the best you can to play whatever cards Fate may deal us."

Timidly she looked up into his face and whispered, "If I play with you may I name the trump?"

"Yes, yes," he said—"always and always."

"It shall be a diamond for awhile," she said slowly as she looked far away into the mysteries of the starry sky.

"I shall play the ace tomorrow," he said exultingly as he tried to draw her toward him.

But she repelled him until she said, "And after that it shall be hearts for all the years that are yet to come—hearts for every minute of the time that shall blossom between us and eternity."

"Yes," he said, stooping as she came unyieldingly toward him, "hearts of love, trumps that shall win always and always while you and I are partners, my dear."—New York Times.

Habit Was Too Strong.

The force of old associations, as Samuel Beverly learned one Sunday morning, is something against which to be on guard. After thirty years of service as a railroad man, chiefly in the capacity of conductor, Beverly had retired and was spending his days quietly in his native town.

Just after he had taken his accustomed seat one morning in church he was requested to perform the duty of an absent deacon, by assisting in taking up the collection. He was proceeding decorously along the aisle with the plate when, half way down the aisle, he came to the Atkinson pew. On this morning Mrs. Atkinson's Uncle Harvey, who happened to sit next the aisle, had dropped off into a pleasant little nap.

When Beverly espied the old man, he unconsciously doffed the demeanor suited to the place and in a twinkling became official. He tapped the sleeping man on the shoulder.

"Ticket, please!" he demanded, sharply and audibly.

A Winning Bluff.

Fogg—What do you mean by saying that the thing can't be done? Gouger says it can be done, and Gouger is the best authority in the whole world. I suppose you will admit that?

Fenderson—Oh, of course! If Gouger says it can be done, I have nothing more to say.

Figg (after Fenderson's departure)—Who is this Gouger, and is he such an authority upon the matter?

Fogg—Never heard of him in my life. Don't know there is such a person. Probably there isn't. If there is, don't know whether he is an authority on this or any other question.

Solved the Servant Problem.

Tired Housekeeper (in employment agency)—Oh, dear! I wonder if there'll ever be any solution to the servant girl problem.

Employment Agent—Oh, yes, mum. My wife solved it long ago.

"Well, well! How?"

"She got rid of the hull gang and did the work herself."—New York Weekly.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Engine and Caboose Wreck a Cart at Crossing.

About noon today an Jacob Forbes, colored, and his two sons were going out of town in a cart, they were run down by an engine and caboose at the railroad crossing on Fifth street. The engine with the caboose in front was backing from the depot to the tank at the river to get water. At the crossing the caboose struck the cart and demolished it. The old man and both boys were thrown out but fortunately escaped so worse injury than a shaking up. The horse was hurt about the shoulder. It was a close call for Jacob and his sons, and is remarkable that they were not killed.

Did Shark Eat Boy.

Rev. Livingston Johnston returned yesterday from attending Baptist meetings at Beaufort, Davisboro and Marshallburg in Eastern Carolina.
Mr. Johnston says that he spent Friday and Saturday at Davis Shore, and that while there he heard nothing of a boy having been attacked and eaten by a shark, as has been reported in telegrams from Beaufort. He does not believe that there is anything in the matter.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Taken to Raleigh.

Feeling at Tarboro arose to such a pitch against Robert Wingate, who last week was charged with attempting an assault upon a lady in that town, that on Sunday morning officers took him to Raleigh as a safeguard against lynching. Wingate is a native of A den in this county, and is said to have a wife and four children there.
