NEW COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

S. M. Jones Appointed to Succeed the Late J. W. Page.

On Tuesday Superior Court Clerk D. C. Moore appointed and qualified S. M. Jones, of Bethel township, as a county commissioner to succeed J. W. Page, deceased. This appointment is an excellent one and will give satisfaction throughout the county. Mr. Jones has before been a county commissioner, having served during the years of 1895-'96, and is experienced in the duties of the office. He also served two terms on the county board of education.

Mr. Jones is one of the best farmers in the county and a man of good business qualifications. Being a man who manages his own business well he is a good one to look after the affairs of the county.

Fever Situation Improving.

New Orleans, July 31.—There is a decidedly more optimistic feeling here today in regard to the yellow fever, due to the fact that the spread has been less than expected to the belief that all the concealed cases have at last been brought to light, and to the circumstance that the malady has in no case established itself in any locality outside of the originally infected district in the Italian quarter.

These hopeful feelings are entertained by the United States marine hospital physicians; by the New Orleans board of health and local physicians. It will not be possible until the end of the week, to determine how much work done here has been effective. The sanitary committee has been assured by the banks and capitalists here that any amount of money without limit needed for the sanitary work will be given.

The record up to noon today shows 283 cases since the beginning of the epidemic. Of these 55 are dead, 138 cured or convalescent and beyond all danger, 90 still sick, of whom 45 are in the two hospitals.

A later report says the situation is worse, 42 new cases occurred Monday.

Cotton is Injured.

The Weekly crop Bulletin for the week ending Monday, July 31, says: "The characteristic feature of the weather during the past week was the relatively low temperature that prevailed. While the mean of the week for the state at large was only slightly below the normal, the night temperatures were generally below 70 degrees and the maxima below 90 degrees, except at a few places on Sunday, July 30th. As the weather was also quite cloudy during the most of the week, the conditions very pleasant for outdoor work, but the absence of sunshine, and excessive moisture in places caused further rank growth of vegetation and has delayed the formation of fruit, which it is feared will make crops, especially cotton rather late. The rainfall was irregularly distributed and generally small amount; over most of the interior of the state the first part of the week was dry and favorable; with good showers on Friday, but in some northeastern counties, chiefly Beaufort, Halifax and Nash, and in several west of the Blue Ridge the rains, though small in amount, were too frequent for best results. In most counties, however, the week was fairly favorable both for work and for the growth of crops. Laying by crops is practically completed, and the chief work on hand is cutting and curing tobacco, plowing for wheat, seeding turnips and making late hay. More sunshine and a period of dry weather would be beneficial.

"Cotton has overgrown its normal size in most counties, and in the central eastern portion the plants are not very full of blooms and fruit. There is considerable damage by rust, but less report of shedding, although where the crop is suffering from excessive moisture both bolls and leaves are falling, and on light lands plants are turning yellow. In the west in spite of rapid growth cotton seems to be blooming freely and fruiting well. Very favorable conditions from now on will be needed to make an average crop of cotton. Early upland corn is about made; fodder is ripening, and pulling has begun in a few counties, young corn appears to be earing and filling nicely, in places from 1 to 4 silks to the stalk are reported, much bottom land corn is still badly in the grass. Tobacco is doing fairly well as a rule and is caring nicely, but it is over ripe in some places, and on thin land the cures are light on account of damage by too much moisture. Peanuts, field peas, sweet potatoes and rice have progressed nicely. Thrashing wheat and other grains is about over, and in many instances the yield has turned out somewhat better than expected. Sowing turnip seed and late hay making are under way. The fruit crop in the west will be short and inferior; apples are very shabby, grapes are ripening, the moist, cloudy weather continues to favor the spread of fungus diseases causing delay. Transplanting strawberry plants has made poor progress.

The Security Life and Annuity Company

Mutual. Legal Reserve.

A Home Company conducted on a safe, economical basis in the interest of its policy holders. Why we can save you money.

The oldest companies have been on a 4 per cent. reserve basis for many years. Several of them have recently changed from a 4 per cent. basis to a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. basis, on account of a decrease in interest rates. Probably 90 per cent. of all the outstanding business is now on a 4 per cent. reserve, only the new business being on a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. reserve. Following are the rates of a few companies on the old and new basis:

Twenty-Payment Life. Age 35.

COMPANY	OLD RATE	NEW RATE	NEW RATE
New York Life	4 per ct.	3 1/2 per ct.	3 per ct. O
Equitable	$35 00		$38 34
Penn Mutual	35 00		38 34
Prudential	34 21		37 25
Mutual Benefit	34 01		36 95
Aetna	33 97		36 22
Mutual Life	31 97	$36 96
North Western	35 00	36 87
Security Life & Annuity	34 91		37 80
	32 60

The variation in rates of companies on the same reserve basis is due to difference in the amount added for expenses.

Every policy is registered and the full legal reserve deposited with the Insurance Commissioner.

GOVERNOR JARVIS IS YET YOUNG.

Writing from Morehead City to the Charlotte Observer, Col. Fred Olds has the following to say that is of especial interest to Greenville people:

On arrival at Morehead City ex-Governor Jarvis was seen. Time certainly deals greatly with this true North Carolinian. He looked about as young as he did 24 years ago, when the Atlantic Hotel used to be known as the "Summer Capitol" and when he and his wife used to hold levees there in the big ball room. It was at one of these that Senator Vance and his wife (who was Mrs. Martin) were given an ovation. Ex-Governor Jarvis chatted about quite a wide range of subjects, but said with a smile that he really knew just at present very little about politics. He spoke about immigration to North Carolina and said he did not desire to see this unless it was of selected classes, for example of people from the North and West, Scotch, English and Germans he also considered desirable.

Mr. Jarvis does not know it, but he is already being talked about as a senatorial possibility. So are ex-Gov. Aycock and Chief Justice Walter Clark. It is not a great while now before Senator Simmons' term expires. It is presumed that he will be up for re-election. He is a strong man and has made a notable record, yet there are people who say there will be some opposition. Some friends of Judge Clark say he would prefer to remain chief justice, while some others say the senatorship has a great attraction for him. Mr. Aycock said two years ago he had no senatorial aspirations, but his friends may insist.

There are some sharp politicians in South Carolina. The campaign for senator is about to come on with a lively contest in prospect between Senator Tillman and ex Senator McLaurin, and a movement has been started to send the latter as a special representative to China to see what can be done toward raising the boycott against American goods. We doubt if ex Senator McLaurin will submit to being put out of the way so easily, though it is quite a fine trip that is offered him.

"Chicago is a very decent place between strikes," says the Washington Post. This may be so, but the intervals are so short that the city don't have time to get in much work along decent lines.

It is strange the government graft hunters haven't thought to investigate the government printing office. If they decide to do this they will have plenty of work to do.

Having to buck against a suit brought by the state of New York, makes it look like more rough walking ahead for the Equitable.

The Clark Howell Smith campaign in Georgia is calculated to make the small politician feel a whole lot bigger.

With two Southerners on the new government crop statistics bureau better crop reports may be expected in future.

There are plenty of educational institutions that are ready to dare Rockefeller to give them a little money.

WOULD LIKE TO KNOW HIS NAME.

We take the following letter from the Raleigh Post, and hope the gentleman's name who Col. Means would like to learn will be looked up. Col. Means' letter is as follows:

"At the reunion of Confederate veterans in Louisville last June I met Colonel Andrew Chowan, who commanded the First New York battery at the battle of Gettysburg. He wants to know the name of a North Carolina officer who was wounded near his battery, July 3rd, 1863, which battery, that day, was posted at 'the clump of trees' on Cemetery Ridge next to Cushing's battery and near the angle of the stone wall where General Armistead fell.

This wounded North Carolinian was put on a cot in a bedroom on the first floor of a farm house back of the Taneytown road and Round Top, and in this room with him were Lieutenant William P. Wright and Lieutenant W. H. Johnson of Colonel Cowan's battery. The surgeon of the First New Jersey brigade cared for these three wounded officers together, amputated an arm of the North Carolinian and rendered him a great and peculiar kindness. The first son of that North Carolinian was named for that surgeon. The surgeon and the two lieutenants are dead and the North Carolinian may be dead also.

Any one seeing this and able to identify this North Carolinian will please send his name to me at Concord, N. C., as a favor to Colonel Cowan, a splendid gentleman and a magnificent representative of that glorious old "Army of the Potomac."

North Carolina papers please copy.
PAUL B. MEANS,
Concord, N. C.

The encampment scene has changed to Charlotte and that city will be full of brass buttons, uniforms and bayonets for the next few days.

It would be funny if Blackburn called that bluff and found it to be a bob-tailed flush.

Secretary Hay's Contempt for Liars.

Though his characteristic mental attitude was that of placidity and serenity, he never degenerated to the level of the cynic. He was never the man who concludes that nothing matters—never the disciple of Talleyrand who took to his heart the maxim, "Above all, no zeal." Mr. Hay's modesty would not permit him to make a parade of his earnestness or sound his zeal from the housetops; but he was zealous and earnest as to all vital things, just the same. He had a fine scorn for all that is petty, mean, contemptible. He detested all unnecessary and wanton falsehood. For the sort of diplomacy that rests essentially upon tergiversation he had a most hearty contempt. One of his sayings is famous in the diplomatic world. It was used of a certain titled European not now a member of the corps at Washington.

"When the court comes to talk to me," said Mr. Hay, "I do not use my wits trying to ascertain whether or not the man is lying. I know he is lying. What I try to find out is why he is telling that particular lie."

—From "John Hay: An American Gentleman," by Walter Wellman, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for August.

Original Observations.

One pound of experience is worth a ton of advice.

People with rubber necks always have elastic tongues.

Some people are born foolish and others grow up foolish.

Every man thinks you are mean if you don't go his way.

Not all of the "green hunters" are to be seen in a horse show.

The breakers are very detrimental to seashore engagements.

The great trouble with first love seems to be that it is seldom the last.

Some people wear the cloak of religion because it doesn't cost them anything.

The man who sits down on the road to success and waits for a free ride will get left.—Orange (Va.) Observer.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If it does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

Nothing on the Market Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customer, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell a d recommend this preparation." For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. There is not one of them, however, who may not be brought back to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. They also regulate the bowels. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

A little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Anyone who makes it a rule to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea remedy at hand knows this to be a fact. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

Sick headache results from a disordered condition of the stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

SEA MONSTERS.

Some Unfamiliar Ocean Giants of Hideous Aspect.

Of all the big game of the deep sea that have been taken by man the cuttlefish are the most diabolical in shape and general appearance, says the Metropolitan Magazine. I have handled and measured one that was thirty-eight feet in length, a weird, spiderlike creature with two antennae-like arms thirty feet in length. Specimens of these animals have been caught seventy feet in length, the captors fighting them with an ax, cutting the arms which seized and held the boat.

Off the coasts of California and Alaska there is a deep sea ally of this animal—a big, spiderlike octopus that haunts the deep banks, preying upon the fishes most esteemed by fishermen. It is found off the Farallones on rocky bottom, and at times the fishermen haul in their lines, thinking they have fouled a stone or rock, so heavy is the weight. But when the surface is reached long, livid arms shoot above the water, seize the boat, and the men are forced to fight with knives and hatchets the weird, uncanny game that has a radial spread of thirty feet, its eight sucker lined arms being fifteen feet in length and possessed of extraordinary power. A specimen taken off the island of San Clemente had a spread of about twenty feet and gave the boatmen a hard battle to sever its flying arms.

Nothing more diabolical can be conceived than this spiderlike giant of the deep sea, living among the rocks 600 to 1,000 feet below the surface. An individual of moderate size, which I kept alive, displayed the greatest pugnacity. The moment I approached it would literally hurl itself at my arm, winding its long tentacles about it in a manner suggestive of what a large individual might do. Indeed Dr. A. S. Packard, professor of zoology at Brown university, says: "An Indian woman at Victoria, Vancouver Island, in 1877 was seized and drowned by an octopus, probably of this species, while bathing on the shore. Smaller specimens on coral reefs sometimes seize collectors or natives and, fastening to them with their relentless suckered arms, tire and frighten to death the hapless victim."

Worship of Wells.

Worship of wells was everywhere common in England and Ireland before the days of Christianity. Even yet, in spite of the canons of St. Anselm, issued in 1102 against well worship, relics of it are found in some English and Irish neighborhoods. The third Sunday in May is known as Sugar and Water Sunday, it having been the custom for many centuries in the north of England to meet on that day at the wells in the neighborhood to drink sugar and water, a ceremony at which the village girls were supposed to be the hostesses of the young men. When this had been done, the party generally went to the nearest inn, where the young men returned the hospitality they had received with cakes, ale and punch.

Old Inns.

The Ostrich inn at Colnbrook, Middlesex, England, has had an uninterrupted existence since the far-away days of King John. It was doing a thriving business before Magna Charta was signed and had qualified as a veteran before Crecy was fought. The Seven Stars in Manchester was a licensed house in the year of Pottiers (1356), two-thirds of a century before the cathedral was founded, and it boasts today a staircase clock which began to tick ever so long before Dr. Johnson was born—nearly two centuries ago.

Tart.

A lady entered a railway station not a hundred miles from Edinburgh the other day, and said she wanted a ticket for London. The pale looking clerk asked, "Single?" she replied, "It ain't any of your business," she replied. "I might have been married a dozen times if I'd felt like providin' for some poor, shiftless wreck of a man like you."—Dundee Advertiser.
