

KEEPING IN TOUCH.

Abreast the Spirit of the Times.

Bargains Never go Begging

Our bargains never go a begging, always a prompt, hearty response when the news gets abroad. The reason is that we are always careful to use the word "bargain" in its broadest and fullest sense. Bargains at this store do not mean special lots of cheap merchandise, bought for the purpose of advertising at a low price, but our offerings consist of regular goods from regular stock at reduced prices.

The buying public will not fail to note the difference. You are invited to make an investigation, note the prices and quality of the goods offered. They are all of a wanted summery nature, picked from various stocks to fit the needs of now. All summer goods have their orders to leave.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

AIDED BY TWO BROTHERS AND SEVERAL FRIENDS

Carrying Out of Conspiracy Gave New man Slaughter His Liberty—Officer was About to Take Him Back to New Jersey.

The most daring and outrageous escape of a prisoner ever occurring here was perpetrated at the depot this morning.

It has been told in a previous issue of THE REFLECTOR of the arrest by police officers of Greenville of Newman Slaughter, a negro guilty of grand larceny in New Jersey, who had made his escape from the reformatory there and came to this section. Patrol Officer Charles S. Moore, of Rahway, N. J., came here and identified the prisoner, but Slaughter refused to return to New Jersey with him without requisition papers. Officer Moore then went to Raleigh to get the necessary papers signed by Governor Glenn and returned to Greenville with these papers Sunday evening, intending to start back to New Jersey with the prisoner this morning.

When Slaughter was first arrested here last week he was placed in the town guard house. It was discovered later that he was attempting to cut his way out of the guard house and the prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Tucker for commitment to the county jail that he might be kept safely.

Before train time this morning Officer Moore, in company with Chief of Police J. T. Smith and Assistant Police G. A. Clark who had made the arrest, went to the sheriff's office in the court house where Officer Moore produced the necessary papers from the governors of New Jersey and North Carolina, and Slaughter was turned over, receipt for his delivery being given the sheriff. At the same time the $25 reward offered for the arrest of Slaughter was paid over to Capt. Smith.

Slaughter was handcuffed and securely tied with a rope and Officer Moore then left the court house for the depot with the prisoner. Policemen Smith and Clark both accompanied him to the depot and on the way there Capt. Smith held the end of the rope with which the prisoner was tied. Reaching the depot Capt. Smith turned the prisoner over to Officer Clark to take him in the colored waiting room while he went in the ticket office with Officer Moore to get tickets.

Officer Clark took hold of the rope and led the prisoner into the waiting room where both of them took seats. It was noticed that several negroes were in the waiting room, but this being usual about train time nothing was thought of it. A moment later, however, several other negroes went into the waiting room, Ham and Sam Slaughter, two brothers of the prisoner, being among them. These crowded around where Officer Clark and the prisoner were sitting near the window. This seemed to be a signal to the prisoner and instantly he made a dash for the window. Officer Clark tightened on the rope to pull Slaughter back when some one in the crowd cut the rope so Slaughter could go. He jumped out the window, the crowd rushing to intercept the officer from following him. Officer Clark drew his gun and reaching over a negro woman's head fired a shot through the window after Slaughter but could take no aim. The pistol caused a break among the negroes in the waiting room which cleared the way for Officer Clark to get to the window. He sprang through the window and as he did so some one in the mob in the room fired a shot at him.

By this time Slaughter was some distance in the lead. Capt. Smith in the meantime rushed out of the ticket office and he and Officer Clark both fired shots at the running prisoner but did not strike him. Slaughter was pursued but made good his escape, his brother Sam going with him to assist him. Officer Clark returned to the depot and arrested the other brother of the prisoner, Ham, and placed him in prison. Other arrests will likely follow and the guilty ones get just punishment.

It was a well planned conspiracy on the part of his brothers and the other negroes to release the prisoner. It has developed today that twice during last night negroes went to the boarding house of Deputy Sheriff S. I. Dudley and called for him, but he spent the night elsewhere. It is believed that they thought he had the jail keys and that it was their intention to entice him from the house so they could overpower him and take the keys to get Slaughter out of jail. Failing in this they followed the method carried out at the depot this morning.

No blame whatever can attach to Officer Moore or either of the police officers for the escape of Slaughter. The negroes in the conspiracy were armed with knives and pistols and there were twenty or thirty of them in the mob. That Officer Moore may be exonerated before the New Jersey officials, Sheriff L. W. Tucker has given him an affidavit setting forth the facts of Slaughter's escape.

Fire at Spring Hope.

Tarboro, N. C. Aug. 7.—The town of Spring Hope had a $15,000 fire about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, with insurance reaching not one-third of the loss. One block of the business section of the town was practically wiped out.

The A. C. L. depot and contents narrowly escaped, being saved only by hard work. Everybody was asleep at the time the fire started so that its origin is not known. Eight stores, two barber shops, a broker's office and a restaurant were consumed.

Road Machine.

L. C. Arthur had his road machine used on the business section of Evans street this afternoon, to give a demonstration of the work the machine will do. The officials of the county and town are both interested in better highways and we hope this interest will result in improvement.

Fourth Case of Diphtheria.

On Saturday physicians pronounced that one of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Lunsford Fleming, in South Greenville, has diphtheria. The house was promptly quarantined. This is the fourth case that has developed.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds R. Williams issued licenses to the following couples since last report:

WHITE.

Mack Buc' and Captellus Mayo. Moses Spivey and Florence Kilpatrick.

Thos. Adams and Mary Hadjeck. No license was issued for colored people during the week.

The Christian Church.

R. A. Smith, state evangelist, will preach in the Christian church Wednesday night August 9th, at 8:15 o'clock.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy tonight, showers in western portion.

AUGUST SHIRT SALE.

The object of this sale is to clear out stock of 16 1-2 size Negligee Shirts before the opening of Fall trade as we are greatly overtaken on this size only.

We don't believe in carried over goods. They've a poor claim for patronage.

What would you think if next year you bought a Shirt from us identical to the one some fellow got this season? You'd feel pretty cheap, wouldn't you?—and you wouldn't have a very good opinion of us. Now to obviate things of this sort we are willing to accept a loss—a most severe one. Hence this Mutual. Legal Reserve.

A Home Company conducted on a safe, economical basis in the interest of its policy holders. Why we can save you money.

The oldest companies have been on a 4 per cent. reserve basis for many years. Several of them have recently changed from a 4 per cent. basis to a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. basis, on account of a decrease in interest rates. Probably 90 per cent. of all the outstanding business is now on a 4 per cent. reserve, only the new business being on a 3 per cent. or 3 1/2 per cent. reserve. Following are the rates of a few companies on the old and new basis:

Twenty-Payment Life. Age 35.

COMPANY	OLD RATE	NEW RATE	NEW RATE
New York Life	4 per ct. $35 00	3 1/2 per ct.	3 per ct. $38 34
Equitable	35 00		38 34
Penn Mutual	34 21		37 25
Prudential	34 01		36 95
Mutual Benefit	33 97		36 22
Aetna	31 97	$36 96
Mutual Life	35 00	36 87
North Western	34 91		37 80
Security Life & Annuity	32 60

The variation in rates of companies on the same reserve basis is due to difference in the amount added for expenses. Every policy is registered and the full legal reserve deposited with the Insurance Commissioner.

Is it Right?—An Appeal to Heart and Conscience.

The case of the inhuman beating of a white youth on the Cabarrus county chain-gang has attracted wide attention and elicited much discussion. The incident may prove not an unsexed evil, for it may arouse the interest of men and women who have hearts in their breasts in other chain gang cruelties, and primarily to the wrong which is done many petty offenders in their being sent to the chain-gang at all. We append an extract from a judicious editorial in The Raleigh Evening Times:

"Let it be made a test case. Let us see whether it is constitutional for a mayor, having no jurisdiction over any offences save misdemeanors punishable by not over a $50 fine or 30 days in jail, to send a man to the county roads for being drunk on the street—to the chain gang, where, garbed in felon's stripes, he endures a felon's punishment for a petty misdemeanor."

A year ago or more Judge Emory Speer, of the United States District Court for the northern district of Georgia, had a case of this kind before him and in his opinion delivered a terrible philippic against the wrong of sending any man to the disgrace, hardship and suffering of the chain-gang at the will of one man—without trial by jury. His argument has never been answered and never will be. It is something dreadful—the thought of subjecting a man taken in a trivial fault, for being drunk in public, for an affray, for vagrancy, or some such infraction, to a felon's stripes and the shame of the chain gang. Here is a field of endeavor for the humanitarian, for the individual who believes in even-handed justice for the rich and the poor, the proud and the lowly. Good roads are of the utmost importance, but the people would better pay for them out of hand than by the unjustifiable sacrifice of their brethren—rational, intelligent, immortal beings.

We speak this word in behalf of a class which is not able to speak for itself and in the hope that the thought may take root in many honest hearts.—Charlotte Observer.

This one man power is all wrong. A mayor or a magistrate should not be clothed with authority to sentence any person to a term of imprisonment. No man should be sentenced to prison without a trial by jury. Mayors and magistrates should only have authority to impose fines, or to bind over to a higher court when the offense is beyond their jurisdiction. Even Superior court judges are not invested with such individual power as is given to these. The judge does not himself pass upon the evidence and decide the innocence or guilt of the defendant and pass sentence accordingly, but the defendant before his court is acquitted or convicted by a jury of his countrymen upon the evidence, and if guilty the judge imposes a sentence already prescribed by the law making power—the legislature—in accordance with the gravity of the offense.

Mayors and magistrates have too much power in this particular and reforms along this line would be wise. Mr. Witte, Russia's representative in the peace negotiations, having taken a suite of rooms at the St. Regis, New York, the most expensive hotel in the world, indicates that his government does not mind adding a million or so to the war expenses. Japan would hardly listen to a plea of poverty in the face of this.

It looks like this alternative confronts Russia—either to accept Japan's peace terms, whatever they are, and pay the price; or fight on a while longer, get whipped some more, and then have to pay a bigger price. Better come down with the price now.

You can usually find a squabble in South Carolina. A warm one is on now between Senator Tillman and ex Senator McLaurin. It is their fight.

The Beaufort shark story calls to mind the little girl and bunch of balloons fake worked off at Morehead some years ago.

Now that Uncle Sam has taken charge of it, better results may be expected in the yellow fever situation.

If he keeps growing in notoriety the mosquito may yet be considered more dangerous than the rattlesnake.

No use to cry over spilt milk these days, for it has been discovered that milk is chock-o-block with germs.

They say it is all on account of the mosquito. Why not crop his wings or pull his tooth.

Thou Shalt Not Steal.

In the business world there seems to be need of a sweeping and drastic repeal of all the many and ingenious amendments to the old law—"Thou shalt not steal!"

Observe that in its original form the law is as simple as it is brief. One has no use for a lawyer to assist him in interpreting it. A lawyer could find in it nothing wherever to pay the ingenuity for a fee. It makes no distinction between stealing that which belongs to one other person and that which belongs to the public. It takes no cognizance of the development of the corporate idea. It does not say "One shall not steal," or "A corporation shall not steal," or "Stealing may not be done, except for a good purpose or from one careless or indifferent or ignorant of the existence of his property." It does not except stealing done by agents or with the approval of human law. It simply says "Thou," and adds "shalt not steal!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Following Instructions.

"Children," said the teacher, instructing the class in composition, "you should not attempt any flights of fancy; simply be yourselves and write what is in you. Do not imitate any other person's writings or draw inspiration from outside sources."

As a result of this advice Tommy Wise turned out the following composition: "We should not attempt any flights of fancy, but write what is in us. In me there is my stomach, lungs, hart, liver, two apples, one piece of pie, one stick of lemon candy and my dinner."—Tit Bits.

To Get a Splinter Out of Your Hand.

When a splinter has been driven into the hand it can be extracted by steam. Fill a wide mouthed bottle nearly full of hot water, place the injured part over the mouth and press it slightly. The action thus produced will draw the flesh down, and in a minute or two the stream will extract the splinter, also the inflammation. Try it and be convinced.

How the population of this country increases! During the month of July there were 48,000 arrivals from the old country people who have come here to make America their home. The last bulletin of the Census Bureau gave the population of the United States at this time at about 84,000,000. These are a good many people, and when 48,000 new recruits are added in one month, it can be seen how rapidly we are growing. It is something to think about, that with, say, 84,000,000 people, we are a world power, while China, by a recent estimate of population, has 420,000,000. Yet America is the equal of four of China. The difference is in the blood of people.—Charlotte Observer.

There is no way to maintain the health and strength of mind and body except by nourishment. There is no way to nourish except through the stomach. The stomach must be kept healthy, pure and sweet or the strength will let down and disease will set up. They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. There is not one of them, however, who may not be brought back to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. They also regulate the bowels. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

Sick headache results from a disordered condition of the stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If it does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be prepared at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

Nothing on the Market Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customer, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell a d recommend this preparation." For sale by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist.

GAVE UP SUPPORTER.
"I was a supporter for four years, to keep up my womb, which had grown everything down before it. I wrote Mrs. S. J. Chittenden, of Nashville, N. Y. My doctor told me no medicine would help me. I suffered untold misery, and could hardly walk. After taking two bottles of Cardui I gave up my supporter. Now I am taking my fifth bottle. I have no bad feelings as formerly, and can be on my feet half a day at a time. I strongly recommend Cardui to every suffering woman."

MEDICINE IN PERSIA.
A Cure That Pleas'd the Doctor More Than the Patient.

Of the progress of medical science the Persian people know little. They divide diseases into two classes, hot and cold. A cold remedy is applied to a "hot" disease and a hot remedy to a "cold" one. In "With the Pilgrims to Mecca" the author tells his experience with one of their physicians:

The evening before I left Mecca for Jiddah I was suffering from a racking headache, and my friends advised me to consult a certain Arab physician.

In the east they never break the ice of silence with a remark on the weather. The customary opening is to inquire if you are in health. I told the doctor in answer to his question that I had a bad headache and had come to him to be cured. He asked me on which side the head ached. I touched the spot, whereupon he fell to rubbing it vigorously with the palm of his right hand, calling out the while to the urchin to fetch the necessary apparatus for the forthcoming operation. The boy disappeared. In a few minutes he came back, bearing in both hands a round, hollow plate of clay in which were a few lumps of burning charcoal.

The next thing he brought in were a couple of iron rods about twice the length of an ordinary pencil, together with a cup filled with a black liquid composed, if I mistake not, of starch and the soot of an oil lamp. The doctor thrust the rods in the glowing charcoal. The fear of being branded bathed my brow in sweat. The doctor assured me I had no cause to be afraid.

The tips of the rods by this time were red hot. Having dipped them in the cup of ink, he closed his eyes, and then raised his voice in an incantation that lasted several minutes. Not a single word could I understand. When it was over he opened his eyes and, saying the word "Bismillah," proceeded to draw with one of the rods, now cool, on my right temple five perpendicular lines crossed by five horizontal ones, thus forming sixteen tiny squares. Several magic hieroglyphics besides were inscribed in the same manner behind my ears and on the nape of my neck.

After every operation the good doctor would pause to ask me, "Is the pain gone now?" Four times did I tell the truth. Then, fearing further tattooing, I assured the persevering little man that I thought I was better.

His joy knew no bounds. He said the secret was left to him as an inheritance from his father and that on no account must I wash off the signs until the next day or the pain would return.

Chinese Fossils.
Chinese paleontology is not an uninteresting subject. The Chinese have for long been interested in fossils in a practical if not in a very scientific way. Thus slabs of limestone with fossil trilobites are a common article of commerce. They are known as "petrified swallows," and the tailpiece, or pygidium, of one of these trilobites bears a striking resemblance to a swallow with widely outspread wings. The celebrated "pagoda stones," used to make ornamental panels and screens, are slabs of stone with sections of the fossil shell orthoceras, and these latter, along with rhyconella and other fossil shells, are to be found in the Chinese pharmacopoeia. Pounded up and swallowed, they are the orthodox remedy for various diseases.—London Globe.

Softening of the Brain.
According to a London physician softening of the brain is a very common occurrence in the country, one-third of the laborers in rural districts of England dying from it. The cause of the disease, according to this authority, is the lack of brain exercise. "The intellect of a rural laborer rusts rather than wears out, and when he attains the age of sixty-five or seventy-five he usually dies in an apoplectic fit or something of the kind. Judges and others whose thinking capacity is continuously employed live to a far greater age than the average rural laborer."

But new things never find a place with us until they have earned recognition by their merit. We like our friends to FEEL safe and BE safe in every transaction. No experimenting at their expense. Now, however, after the most careful scrutiny, we are pleased to offer which is a real innovation, and comes to us bearing the seal of approval, it being recommended by New York's most famous dressmakers and it actually disposes of some grave corset difficulties. The name almost lets the cat out of the bag, but one glance will tell any corset wearer the whole story. No matter what corset you wear this new corset will interest you, and we hope you will come and look. Among the many fine models you will find just what you want, and, like the little girl in the book, "you'll be happy ever after."

COLTON'S INVISIBLE LACING CORSETS

Colton's Invisible Lacing Corset

If You Suffer from Catarrh.

My advice is take Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and Wash. I was a severe sufferer from catarrh of the head and ear. The discharge from the ear and nose was copious and very unpleasant. I suffered in that way for five years. I tried various treatments which did no good. Finally my physician advised me to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and Wash. I used seven bottles of the Remedy and used the Wash with a syringe for my nose and throat. It cured me. Scads would form in my nose, which was almost unendurable, until by constant and hard blowing, I would relieve myself—it was a fearful affliction. The cure was perfect, and I have never had a symptom of a return and my health is fine.
