AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

AYDEN, N. C., Jan. 23, 1906.

Carlos Harris, of Greenville spent Sunday afternoon in Ayden.

Robert Anderson, of Greenville, has been here on a visit to friends.

William Worthington and family left on the train yesterday to visit relatives in the northern portion of the county.

Misses Janie Kittrell, Annie and Gussie Lawrence, of the Winterville High school, spent from Saturday until Monday morning with Mrs. Joseph Dixon.

Ed Sutton, of Kinston, has been here, and really from the expression of two very charming young misses of our town we cannot tell which was the most highly appreciated, Mr. Sutton or his handsome turnout. Anyway we venture the assertion he enjoyed his visit.

The following who were burned out in the recent fire can now be found: W. C. Jackson & Co. in store of J. H. Bynum; J. H. Tripp & Bro. at store formerly occupied by Mrs. Moye as a milliner; Horton & McLawhorn in store of J. W. Taylor recently occupied by Dr. M. M. Sauls; W. H. Dew, barber shop next door to J. A. Harrington; all on West Railroad street.

Supposed Incendiary—Saturday night sometime about 12 o'clock the colored Methodist church was discovered on fire. The scent thereof was not seemingly of an accidental nature, but more on, what is supposed, an odor of sulphurous origin. There had been no services nor had a fire been used for sometime, and general presumption is that it was set on fire. Two fires in one week for our usually quiet little city is indeed deplorable.

Services were held in the Disciple church Sunday morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones.

We have been requested by the sufferers of the recent fire to tender thanks to those of our citizens who rendered such timely aid and assistance in their hour of trouble. Also to thank the members of the Disciple church and others for room in which to store goods that had been saved until better arrangements could be made. Every body was kind, everybody worked, regardless of position and color, and the thanks of those who suffered are sincerely tendered.

Miss Mamie Dawson, of Grifton, spent Sunday with Mrs. F. G. Buhmann.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner was here a short while Saturday.

Just now they tell us the public road overseers are busy getting ready for that glorious meeting on the first Saturday in February.

Miss Mary Long Whitehead, of Scotland Neck, came on Sunday evening's train to accept a position as teacher in the graded school here. This makes seven teachers now employed. The enrollment of the school we are informed is something more than 200.

Sunday was a day of no small excitement in Ayden. The fire the night previous, the news of the murder at Farmville, the shooting of Mr. Tunstall at Greenville and the capture of the negro who shot him at Grifton and bringing him through our town that evening, made Sunday truly a day not only full of excitement but gave our people much to talk about and ponder on as to what a terrible state of affairs seem to exist throughout the entire county. Surely there is a remedy and what is needed most is a rigid and prompt application of that remedy to bring about a better state of reform and morality.

BOX PARTY AND BABY SHOW.

Two Prizes to be Offered.

At the baby show to be held in the Perkin's opera house Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, two prizes will be offered. All children from one month to two years old will be admitted to the contest for first prize, and those from two years old up, for second prize.

Admission fee of ten cents will be charged for the entrance of each baby's name to be voted upon. A large number of ladies have already presented names of their children, and the occasion promises to be one of great interest.

For the box party in the opera house the same evening a delightful program, consisting of music, recitations, etc., has been prepared. Great care has been taken in this work and each number will be something entirely new.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds R. Williams issued licenses to the following couples since last report:

WHITE.

W. J. Manning and Lucy Jones. Frank Randolph and Rindy Whichard.

COLORED

Bryant Hooks and Missouri Bell. J. T. Brown and Sallie Moore. Lovelace Blow and Rinoe Barrett. Lewis H. Burney and Tilda Evans. Jno. Sessums and Hortense Jenkins. Fernanda Whichard and Mary Wilson. Windsor Daniel and Sophia Wilson. Allen Vines and Rosa Dixon, Lewis Grant and Carolina Hodges.

SUPERIOR COURT.

List of the Cases Tried.

Friendly Howard and Cornelius Newsome, harboring escaped convicts, not guilty.

Frank Young, assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill pleads guilty, sentenced to penitentiary for twelve years.

Frank Young, carrying concealed weapon pleads guilty, judgment suspended.

The grand jury returned a true bill for murder against Jerry Cobb and Sylvester Barrett.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Wednesday. Decidedly colder with a cold wave in western portion.

PERSONAL MENTION

Of Those Going and Coming.

J. F. King went to Norfolk this morning.

J. L. Sugg went to Ayden this morning.

J. J. Turnage went to Ayden Monday evening.

W. S. Fleming went down the road this morning.

Miss Ida Edwards went to Grifton this morning.

Miss Lucy Johnson went to Ayden Monday evening.

Mark Williams returned Monday evening from Wilson.

Miss Helen Brinkley went to Durham this morning.

R. W. Ward returned Monday evening from Rocky Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Outerbridge went to Robersonville today.

C. C. Cobb, of Norfolk, who has been spending a few days here, left this morning.

Mrs. Martha Latham, who has been visiting Mrs. Nana Brown, returned to Grifton this morning.

H. S. Hexter, the advance agent for the Corinne Runkel Stock Co. left this morning for Rocky Mount.

Rev. E. C. Glenn, who is conducting a meeting at Ayden, came up to spend Monday with friends here.

N. B. Allsbrook, of Scotland Neck, came in Monday evening to take a position with J. R. & J. G. Moye.

Mrs. Wells, of Wilson and Miss Winstead, of Rocky Mount, who have been visiting Mrs. W. M. King, left this morning.

Little Tampa at the Opera House.

The Corinne Runkel Stock Co who opened their three nights engagement at the opera house last night did not fail to please the most critical person. This company came here with a good reputation and it certainly sustained that title here. The house was the largest of any popular price production that ever showed here and the universal opinion was the Runkel Stock Co. is the best stock Co. that ever appeared here.

The play was a very interesting one and the characters were all taken well. To portray any special one would be an injustice to the others. The specialties were good and Berton-Runkel trio was the cleanest specialty seen on the local boards.

Tonight a great detective play "The Shadow" will be seen and Wednesday a matinee will be given at 3 30 a great comedy "Turned Up." Will be played and after the matinee Miss Runkel and the members of the company will hold a public reception on the stage serving ice cream and cake. All are cordially invited to attend the function. Prices will be 15 and 25c.

9,998,000 Bales.

The government ginners' report issued today places the number of bales of cotton of the 1905 crop ginned up to Jan. 16th at 9,998,000 bales. Future declined about 25 points.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

Recommendations Made to the Court.

To His Honor, B. F. Long, Judge presiding, Pitt County Superior Court, January term, 1906:

We, the grand jury for the term beg leave to report as follows:

1st. That we have acted on all bills received that we could find witnesses for.

2nd. That a committee of four jurors consisting of A. G. Cox, W. E. Ellis, J. F. Harrington and C. H. Langston was sent to the county home of the aged and infirm who have submitted a written report to us, which report we have accepted and that said report is hereto annexed as a report of the grand jury for that institution.

3rd. That we have visited the jail and the convict camp (which is in the jail) and find the jail and convict camp in a very cleanly condition, and the prisoners and convicts well fed and cared for, and that the superintendent of the convicts is a worthy and competent man for that place.

We recommend that iron berths be placed in the cells three tiers high, so that the bedding could be better cared for and by this means give more room in the apartments.

We also recommend that the cells be furnished with combination or ratchet locks to make them secure.

We also recommend that the inside walls of the jail be sealed with sheet iron to prevent prisoners from escaping.

4th. That we have visited the offices of the clerk, register of deeds and the sheriff and find them and their books in good condition.

We recommend that the children of Abram Galloway have a guardian appointed to look after their estate.

We also recommend that a good desk be put in the clerk's office for his and the public benefit.

We also recommend that the books in the register of deeds office where land is recorded be re-indexed so that citizens can more readily find their deeds, etc., recorded.

We also recommend that the floor of the sheriff's office be laid in wood to make it more healthful.

We also recommend that an electric light be placed at the top of the two stairways leading to the court room.

We also recommend that some seats be furnished in the hallway of the court house that witnesses who are waiting to go before the grand jury may be comfortably seated.

All of which we most respectfully submit.

This Jan. 22nd, 1906.

C. D. ROUNTREE,
Foreman Grand Jury.

SUB-COMMITTEE REPORT.

We your committee appointed to review the premises of the county home respectfully submit the following report:

We find the church needs improving and elevated more from the ground, also some needed repairs to the roof, and the graveyard back of church needs some repairs by filling up graves which have caved in.

And upon investigation we find pest houses in good condition, though in danger of fire should the woods get burned that surrounds them.

The land under cultivation in fair condition. We visited all the inmates and find 21 in number, and from what information we could gain they seemed to be cared for as well as could be expected under existing circumstances. The buildings are uncomfortable for the inmates and a disgrace to the county. After viewing the situation we recommend that for comfort, convenience and appearance that it would be advisable to build (and should be built at once) a dormitory where the better class of inmates could be cared for better and use the best buildings for such inmates as they are best suited for.

We find Mr. John A. Hardee, the manager of our county home, and from what we could learn Mr. Hardee is kind and attentive to them; but we find from general report that Mr. Hardee is often under the influence of strong drink.

This Jan. 22nd, 1906.

A. G. COX,
J. F. HARRINGTON,
C. H. LANGSTON,
H. E. ELLIS.

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Believing truly in that old saying, that it is better to pin a nose-gay on the coat of a friend while living than to erect a green house over his grave. I desire a little space in your paper to publicly express thanks and appreciation to the generous people in and around Grimesland for their goodness and kindness to us during the two years of our stay among them."

They were all that neighbors could be toward us and we will ever remember them most pleasantly and lovingly.

And our removal from their midst was for other good reasons and certainly not from their cause.

We will also remember them for sympathy and help during the sickness in our family last summer. Words fail here to express our thanks and wherever we go, we will ever look back to them one and all, and pray the blessings of God to rest and abide upon them. "When we live the past over it is then we will think of them.

Now the people in Ayden have received us most cordially and pleasantly and we think our stay among them will also be pleasant and that we will like our new home all right.

Last Monday night quite a number of people came to our home and gave to us a genuine "pounding." It was a serious offense for them to enter in my absence but considering the looks of things before I left home and on my return I will excuse them for this time.

We are almost like the man we read of in the Bible, who said, "Soul thou hast enough goods laid up for many days" &c.

Many, many thanks dear friends and God's blessings be upon you.

DEFICIENT FACULTIES.

Do What You Can to Develop and Strengthen Them.

Few people are well balanced, well rounded. A great many have splendid ability in certain lines, good education, fine training and yet have some deficiency in their makeup which cripples the whole life and dwarfs the results of their utmost industry. Many of us have some little, contemptible weakness which offsets our strong qualities and ruins their effectiveness.

What a pity to see a giant in possibility tied down by some little, contemptible weakness which cripples what might have been a magnificent career! If parent or teacher would only point out to a child a weakness which perhaps will be fatal if not remedied and teach it how to guard against it, how to strengthen the defective quality by mental exercise, what a tremendous help it would give to the child, perhaps preserving it from failure!

It is pitiable to see a young man bowing to what he calls fate, which he thinks has been fixed by the contour of his brain or in his hereditary tendencies. Why should we drag our weaknesses through life when a little common sense, a little right thinking in fixing new habits of thought, will soon remedy them?

If you are conscious of a mental weakness, a deficient faculty, using a little concentration, thinking in the opposite direction and dwelling upon the perfect faculties you desire would soon put you in a normal condition. It is normal thinking that makes the normal life.

But if you leave your weak faculties alone—do not exercise them, do not try to enlarge them, do not think it worth while—how can you expect them ever to become strong? You cannot develop a symmetrical body by simply exercising the arms. The same is true of the mental faculties. Those which are not used deteriorate. If you long for a thing and strive for it with all your might persistently enough and long enough you cannot help approximating it. You must get what you wish in some degree.—Success.

Why Not Own a Home?

REAL ESTATE IN GREENVILLE IS A

Safe Investment.

Secure a Good Location while there is an opportunity to do so at Reasonable Prices and on Easy Terms.

I have devided that splendid property, just east of the town limits in South Greenville, into convenient lots for home-seekers and will sell them on easy terms. There is no better location for homes anywhere around Greenville. High elevation, level, and convenient, being only a few minutes walk from the business part of town. This property is just outside the corporate limits, yet those who reside there will have the benefit of the graded school, and be as near to the churches, and depot and postoffice as are the people in many parts of the town, being only three hundred yards from Five Points, nice neighborhood adjacent to the property. Talk it over with me and let me show you these desirable lots. No better time than NOW to buy. Greenville will grow rapidly in the next few years and property will be higher. Catch the opportunity before it is too late.

Since purchasing the interest of W. H. Ricks in this business I have decided to add another line. Therefore I want to reduce my present stock of Groceries to about one half.

In order to do this we offer for CASH, for 30 days, my entire stock of high grade CANNED GOODS, BREAKFAST CEREALS, HEALTH FOODS, NUTS, CANDIES, CHINA WARE, PICKLES, ALSO MIXED PICKLES & Etc., AT COST.

Thanking all for a liberal patronage during the past year and especially during the Xmas holliday trade.

I am your friend,

JNO. A. RICKS.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Catarrhs gripe, weaken—dissipate while DeWitt's Little Early Riser simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by John L. Wooten.

N. B. Truth, St. Paul, June 31, '08—I've lived so long, I remember well when the Mississippi was a brook. My good health and long life came by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. Wooten's Drug Store.

No, dear, a sheep thief is not a shepherd's crook.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the Liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs Colds, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A little love, a little wealth,
A little home for you and me;
It's all I ask except good health,
Which comes with Rocky Mountain Tea.
Wooten's Drug Store.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use it. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

One of the hardest creatures in the world to train up in the way that he should go is a rich uncle.

Men are judged by the company they keep, but it isn't as easy to size up a woman by her hat. Judge her by the amount of Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea she takes. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

A reasonable amount of food thoroughly digested and properly assimilated will always increase the strength. If your stomach is a "little off" Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat and enable the digestive organs to assimilate and transform all foods into tissue building blood. Kodol relieves Sour Stomach, Belching, Heart Burn and all forms of Indigestion. Palatable and strengthening. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Don't let your face grow old, sallow, hollow and wrinkled. If you care at all for beauty, take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, cuts sores, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This Salve draws out the inflammation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts permitting or aiding Nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

It is said that money is only good for the things you can buy with it, but that depends on what you buy.

Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest—allows it to recuperate and grow strong again. Kodol relieves Indigestion, Belching of Gas, Sour Stomach, Heart Burn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the kind of rich red blood that makes health and strength. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The Gaylor Greene investigation shows what a pull the crowd had until they were chopped off.

If all Mrs. Duke says about him is true, the president of the tobacco trust made anything else but a good husband.

The capacity of Durham jail is to be doubled. It will be needed unless there are some changes around that town.

Governor Glenn is credited with saying "I have but one ambition, and that is to make North Carolina a good governor." He is doing that.

Mrs. Chadwick raises a kick at having to take her turn at the wash-tub in the Ohio penitentiary. Not quite as easy job as fleecing the bankers.

Every little helps, and every prisoner sentenced by the courts to work on the roads is something in that direction, but it will take a long time to get good roads in that way. Until the people become thoroughly aroused as to the need of good roads and are willing to pay something for them, there will not be any worthy the name.

If people living along the rural free delivery routes want the routes continued, they should get to taking more newspapers so as to give more mail for the carriers to handle. It is said the post-office department is considering plans to discontinue all routes that handle less than 2,000 packages a month. The routes are a great help to the people, and they should show enough interest not to allow any to be discontinued.

Be Sure You Are Right.

"Be sure you are right and then go ahead," is a saying that is far on its way to becoming a classic, for it is alive with truth and enriched by the experience of every impulsive man, woman and child that ever, at any time, hastily commenced the doing of anything.

Here is a woman who sews a seam without being sure that all is right, that the ends match, that the proper sides are placed together, or that her thread is of the correct color or fineness. When the work is done or, perhaps, half finished, she finds something wrong. If she could simply now begin to do it right, the trouble would be a slight one, but valuable moments must be spent in ripping apart in order to commence all over again.

In all conditions of life the undoing of what has been wrongly done takes a large share. A faithless employee, a man who works for wages on you, does bad work; to stop him in his work and get rid of him is accomplished with trouble and delay.

If the next man could go on with that work, take it up at the point at which the other man was forced to drop it and improve its character, his employer would be glad. But no, that ill must be torn down that the good work may have a chance. A dressmaker carelessly makes a gown, the carelessness involving loss of temper and money to her employer. Neither of these people cared to be sure that they were right before they began, and probably did not care very much for the results that were sure to follow.

But it is on the conscientious worker that the rule has the most beneficial effect. He, or she, wishes to do well, but in the excitement or enthusiasm of the moment haste is called upon to serve, and haste being but a very poor servant, the work stands certain chances of wreck. Pages must be re-written, long columns of ledgers reviewed, the work of the needle, undone, the slate rubbed clear, perhaps with tears, and then the worker is free to start again. If but a small part of the time taken for the undoing had been taken and applied to the purpose of being sure that the beginning was right, there is no doubt that the road to success would have been uninterrupted.

It is a trite saying that each one of us has influence, but certainly bad work, whether of intention or carelessness, exerts powerful influence, and conversely, good work, even though arrived at through frequent beginnings, is benign in its influence. But it is to the man or woman who starts carefully, and then, being sure that all is right, goes on triumphantly, that we yield respect and reference.—Faith and Works.

How to Get Out.

We see an article in our esteemed contemporary, the Chapel Hill News, on "How to enter a newspaper office," and it gives some good instructions on the proper way to do it.

That is very well, and every one should know how to perform this act in a creditable way. But going out of a newspaper office is one of the things that concern many of the uninitiated. If a fellow goes out with his collar hanging to the back button and his legs and arms spread out like a scare crow, you may know that he is somewhat troubled about getting out, but he is going, and not standing on ceremony in the going. He's the fellow that changed his mind concerning the editor after he entered the office. If you see a fellow with blue eyes, going out with large, tempting black ones, he's the fellow that entered to pulverize the editor's nose, but did not see exactly how to do it. When you see a fellow going out with his eyes almost flashing fire, his lip puckered up and working in and out like the rubber on a washing machine, and using language that would melt the type if printed, he's the fellow that got mad over something he saw in the paper; ordered his advertisement out and stopped his subscription.

When you see one going out, all smiles—happy with himself and all the world besides—he has either increased his advertising space, or paid a year in advance for his paper. He is the man who carries sunshine with him and left some of it in the office.

Yes, you can enter a newspaper office all right, and in manner you please, but it is the going out that frequently tells what manner of man you are.—Durham Sun.

May Hit This State Hard.

If the postoffice department carries into effect a policy that has been agreed upon for reducing the number of rural free delivery routes throughout the country the service in North Carolina will be hit hard. In explanation of the action of Postmaster General Cortelyou in asking for a reduced appropriation for rural free delivery from congress the statement was made by an official of the department that the service is to be cut down where it is not "appreciated." The action is to be taken on routes that do not handle 2,000 packages a month. The department does not believe that patrons have a proper appreciation of the service where the number of packages fall below that figure. The average number of packages handled on the routes in North Carolina is 1,900, and if the department lives up to its announced policy there is a fine prospect for thinning out the rural routes in Tar Heeldom. In South Carolina the average is 2,400 packages. In this connection a high official expressed the opinion that each case would be decided on its merits, and that the policy would not be literally carried out.—Washington cor. This changeable weather is dangerous for pneumonia.

Not so many people here this week as last.

The warm weather brought out some mosquitoes, but they will freeze if they stay out.

After all, people enjoy cold weather better than warm in January.

It will be to your interest to send or bring the cash to E. M. McGowan's market for your fresh meats. 8 tfd

You will soon be wondering what went with that spring like weather of the last few days.

J. R. & J. G. Moye have inaugurated their white goods sale. You can learn something of the goods and very low prices by reference to their advertisement.

WHAT IS A MUMMY?

A Chapter of Information About Some Egyptian Customs.

When a member of an Egyptian family died all the relatives put on mourning and abstained from baths, wine and delicacies of all kinds from forty to sixty days, according to the rank of the person deceased. Death in one respect put an end to all distinctions that had prevailed in life, and king and slave were subject to the same law.

The record of the life of the deceased had to be examined by a tribunal of forty-two judges before he could be given burial with his ancestors. If the deeds of his life proved that he was worthy of burial his body was carried across the sacred lake, of which each province had one, and was there permitted to rest. If the judges found him unworthy, even though he belonged to the highest rank, he could not be buried with his ancestors. The body was returned to his relatives and was buried on the side of the lake opposite to the burial place of the just.

The belief of the Egyptians in a future state of existence gave rise to the practice of embalming the dead. They wished to carefully preserve the body, so that the soul upon its return to its former abode at the end of all things might find it ready for its reception. Bodies were embalmed in three different ways. The most expensive and magnificent method was used upon the bodies of kings and other persons of distinguished rank, the cost amounting to a talent of silver, or $610.

A number of persons were employed in the process of embalming, and they were treated with great respect. They filled the cavities of the body with myrrh, cinnamon, spices, and many kinds of sweet smelling drugs.

After a certain time had elapsed the body was swathed in lawn fillets, which were glued together with a kind of thin gum, and then crusted over with costly perfumes. By this mode of embalming the shape of the body, the lineaments of the face, the eyebrows and eyelashes were preserved in their natural perfection. Bodies thus embalmed are what we now call Egyptian mummies.

Greek Humor.

When, after Salamis, Xerxes was in full flight for Asia, and the overcrowded vessel, so the story ran, was laboring in the storm, Xerxes, getting frightened, asked the captain whether there was any chance of safety. "None," said the captain, "unless the ship is lightened of some of its passengers," whereupon Xerxes, turning to the Persians, exclaimed, "Now is the time to show your loyalty to your king, for on you my safety depends." And without a word the well trained courtiers made obeisance and leaped into the sea. Thus unburdened, the ship arrived at the land, whereupon Xerxes presented the captain with a golden crown for having saved the king's life and then ordered his head cut off for having caused the death of so many noble Persians.

The Old Age Question.

An erect old gentleman, whose hair was fast turning silver, entered a crowded street car. He was obviously proud of his years and carried himself well. As he grasped a strap a fussy, fidgety woman immediately rose and offered the elderly gentleman her seat. He declined with the remark:

"No, I thank you. I couldn't think of accepting a seat from you."

"Oh, I always give up my seat to an old gentleman," said she.

"Madam," replied the man, without any effort to hide his frustration, "I very much doubt the disparity between our ages."

The woman left the car at Union street. The old gentleman remained standing.—Manchester Union.

He Knows.

No one can tell what put such a funny idea in this little fellow's head, but his teacher is laughing over it yet. He attends one of the schools in the west end, and the teacher was quizzing her pupils in geography. After she had asked several questions and received satisfactory replies she asked what a volcano was. Up went the boy's hand, and his face beamed with delight.

"What is it, Willie?"

"A volcano is just like a sheep, only its hair isn't so long," was the startling reply.—Albany Journal.

The Power of His Eye.

It is told of Van Amburgh, the great lion tamer, that on one occasion while in a larder he was asked how he gained his wonderful power over animals. He said:

"It is by showing them that I'm not in the least afraid of them and by keeping my eye steadily on theirs. I'll give you an example of the power of my eye."

Pointing to a loutish fellow who was sitting near by, he said:

"You see that fellow? He's a clown. I'll make him come across the room to me, and I won't say a word to him."

Sitting down, he fixed his keen, steady eye on the man. Presently the fellow straightened himself up, rose from his seat and came slowly across to the lion tamer. When he was close enough he drew back his arm and struck Van Amburgh a tremendous blow under the chin, knocking him clean over the chair, with the remark, "You'll stare at me like that again, won't you?"—London Standard.

"Sugar" in Parliament.

The Encyclopaedia Britannica is authority for the following account of the speeches delivered in the house of commons by the elder Pitt, afterward earl of Chatham:

It is related of him that once in the house of commons he began a speech with the words, "Sugar! Mr. Speaker," and then, observing a smile to prevail in the audience, he paused, looked fiercely around and with a loud voice, rising in its notes and swelling into vehement anger, he is said to have pronounced again the word "sugar" three times and, having thus quelled the house and extinguished every appearance of levity or laughter, turned round and disdainfully asked, "Who will laugh at sugar now?"

Reviews of Reviews

Many other publications are desirable, and you may prefer this or prefer that fiction and art publication, but the Review of Reviews is necessary. Substantial American men and women are going to keep up with the times and they are going to take the shortest cut which is the Review of Reviews.

The Cosmopolitan

A leading magazine for 18 years. With the recent change of ownership it has been improved. It is far better in every respect, and aims to be the best in the field. Every year or so there's one notable advance in the forward movement among the many magazines. This year it is the Cosmopolitan.

Woman's Home Companion

The Woman's Home Companion is for every member of the family. For our bright, earnest, cultured, home loving American woman it is an ideal entertainer and helper in a thousand congenial ways; but the fathers and brothers and sons join in its perusal by the fireside; children eagerly turn to the pages that are written for them.

The American Farmer is the leading Agricultural paper of the country, and pertains to farming, live stock and poultry raising. Every farmer should have it

REMARKABLE TREES.

Some of the More Striking Curiosities of Plant Life.

On the Canary island grows a fountain tree, a tree most needed in some parts of the island. It is said that the leaves constantly distill enough water to furnish drink to every living creature in Hiero, nature having provided this remedy for the drought of the island. Every morning near this part of the island a cloud or mist arises from the sea, which the winds force against the steep cliff on which the tree grows, and it is from the mist that the tree distills the water.

China, too, claims her remarkable tree. This is known as the tallow tree, so called from the fact of its producing a substance like tallow,
and which serves the same purpose, is of the same consistence, color and smell. On Loochoo island grows a tree, about the size of a common cherry tree, which possesses the peculiarity of changing the color of its blossoms. At one time the flower assumes the tint of the lily and again shortly takes the color of the rose. In Tibet there is a curious tree known as the tree of the thousand images. Its leaves are covered with well defined characters of the Tibetan alphabet. It is of great age and the only one of its kind known there.

The baobab tree is considered one of the most wonderful of the vegetable kingdom. It appears that nothing can kill this tree; hence it reaches an astonishing age as well as enormous size. The natives make a strong cord from the fibers of the bark; hence the trees are continually barked, but without damage, as they soon put forth a new bark. It appears impervious to fire, and even the ax is resisted, as it continues to grow in length while it is lying on the ground.

In Mexico there is a plant known by the name of palo de leche. It belongs to the family of euphorbia.
The Indians throw the leaves into the water, and the fish become stu-pefied and rise to the surface and are then caught by the natives. In this case the effect of the narcotic soon passes off. The milk of this plant thrown upon the fire gives out fumes that produce nausea and headache. The milk taken internally is a deadly poison. It will produce death or insanity, according to the size of the dose. There is a popular belief among the lower class in Mexico that the insanity of the ex-Empress Carlotta was caused by this poison.

A Poser.

"When I was your age," says the man to his little son, "I was the best behaved boy in town. My parents would not allow me to play in the street, they made me keep my face washed and my hair combed, they compelled me to be well mannered at all times and I was sent to bed early every night and awakened early the next morning. My parents trained me to be a model, obedient, polite boy. Why can't you be like I was at your age?"

"But, papa," answers the lad,
"what would be the use? It doesn't seem to have done any good in your case."—Chicago Tribune.

Splinter of Steel Removed From Brain.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 22.—A splinter of steel, three inches in length, was today removed from the brain of John Nail, of Winston, N. C., at the Jefferson Hospital here. An effort was made to draw out the splinter by means of a powerful magnet, but the steel was so firmly imbedded that the surgeons were compelled to resort to the knife. The operation was successful and the patient is reported to be doing well.

Five Years Added.

The sentence of the negro, Frank Young, passed Monday of seven years in the penitentiary for shooting at Mr. C. D. Tunstall, was later changed to twelve years. Judge Long learned that after Mr. Tunstall struck the negro the latter went home to get a pistol and had some time to think over it before returning to the store and doing the shooting. From these facts the judge deemed that the punishment should be heavier.
