AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

AYDEN, N. C., Feb. 2, 1906.—Wiley Brown and G. D. Stephenson, of Greenville, were here Monday night in attendance upon the protracted meeting.

Miss Kate Brown, representing the Orphan's Friend, has been here during the week and met with good success.

J. J. Edwards went to Kinston Monday and returned Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Sumrell and Mrs. Julia Nunn have come home from a visit to Lenoir county.

L. H. Witherington has had his residence newly painted and he now has a very pretty home.

Ex-Sheriff Jenniss Harrington was here Wednesday.

Constable D. G. M. Langley, of Rocky Mount, was here Wednesday looking for a colored man right badly needed in his town.

C. L. Tyson and M. J. Sumrell were in Winterville this week.

There is a kind of ebb and flow in the marriageable market around here just now. Some weeks they do and some weeks they don't. We don't.

J. S. Moore has been married 17 years and is the happiest daddy in the seven kingdoms. Its a boy and his first.

Miss Willie Harper, of Greene county, is visiting Mrs. R. C. Coward.

The firm of Hart & Jenkins has dissolved copartnership, M. L. McLawhorn has bought the interest of Mr. Hart and hereafter the firm name will be McLawhorn & Jenkins. They will conduct the same line of business as the old firm.

Mrs. Iryin Jenkins, of Grifton, is here on a visit to friends.

Misses Annie Lee Perry and Clyde Harrison, of the Winterville High school, spent Wednesday night with Miss Ida M. Edwards.

Bank examiner Haywood has been here and found the Ayden Bank in good hands and prosperous.

The forcing of spring is in evidence. The painter's brush is making its sign and many places in and around Ayden are made more attractive.

The meeting in the Methodist church here still continues. There are conversions at every meeting and all of the churches have been greatly revived. It is undoubtedly the greatest revival of religion ever known in Ayden.

Mrs. Elias Turnage, after several days visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Edwards, returned to her home in Ormondsville yesterday.

Rev. J. A. Hornaday came down from Greenville last evening to attend the protracted meeting.

Honor roll of fifth and fourth grades for month ending Jan. 19, 1906: Edith Mumford, Irma May Cannon, Beulah Mumford, May Smith, Lucretia Worthington.

PROGRAM FOR TEACHERS' MEETING.

Saturday, February 10th, 1906.

10:30 a. m. Devotional exercises, Rev. J. A. Hornaday.

10:45. Roll call and reading of the minutes.

11. Paper, Some of the needs of first grade teachers—Miss Annie L. Irvine.

11:15. Libraries, and how to use them—Supt. H. B. Smith.

11:45. Paper, The Want of Interest in the Schools, How can it be overcome? Miss Louise Finley.

12. Presentation of the Grimes medal, H. W. Whedbee.

12:10. Presentation of the Arthur medal, J. L. Fleming.

12:20. Presentation of prize for second best paper on Pitt county history, Preston S. Cotten.

12:25. Presentation of prize for second best paper on the educational progress of Pitt county for the past five years, Stephen C. Wooten.

It will be seen from the above program that the next meeting of the teachers promises to be one of unusual interest. The weather was too inclement for you to attend the last two meetings. We are expecting a fine day this time. We want every teacher in the county to be here at the meeting. I believe you will come if you can, but I want to urge you to try and make it convenient to be here even though you do so at a sacrifice.

It will be seen that four prizes are to be presented by gentlemen whose appearance before us promises "a feast of reason and a flow of soul." Anyone in the county, who will, is cordially invited to be present. W. H. RAGSDALE, Supt. Schools.

Silver and Jewels for the President's Daughter.

Rare jewels in unique designs, which friends of Miss Alice Roosevelt have selected for her wedding gifts, are being set by skilled workmen at Tiffany's Forest Hill plant.

The largest presents are a magnificent silver service, one of the most beautiful ever made by Tiffany, which has been ordered by the Rough Riders' Association, and a Krag-Jorgensen rifle, fashioned of 22 karat gold, an exact full size working model, to be presented to her by the officers of the United States navy.

Among the other jewels are a pearl collar of ten strands, the largest ever made by the company, and worth $31,000. A diamond tiara, containing 500 stones, is said to be another, and there are two diamond collars and two bowknots of diamonds.

Two diamond lockets are believed to have been ordered by Secretary of War William H. Taft. Miss Carow, sister of Mrs. Roosevelt, is having jewelry made, as is also Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of the President. Most of the gifts have been ordered by well known persons living in New York, Washington and Cleveland.—New York Dispatch.

COULDN'T STAND THE NAMES

Ev. Governor Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, Gets Off Something Good.

A good old Northern preacher once visited the South to evangelize the heathen of Dixie. At the close of his sermon he announced he would baptize the children if their parents would bring them forward. There was a large crowd present, and a sturdy woman brought forth a half dozen babies, ranging from one to six years old. "Name this child," said the old preacher, laying his hand on the head of the eldest. "Jeff Davis," was the reply. The audience smiled and the preacher nervously baptized the child.

"Name this child," taking the next one in his arms. "Albert Sydney Johnston." The smile of the audience grew broader, and the face of the preacher grew redder as he went on with the ceremony.

"Name this one," he gasped. "Alexander Breckinridge Beauregard."

The next was a little girl, and the preacher heaved a sigh of relief. "Name this child," he said tremulously. "Mary Sesesh Stonewall Jackson Lee," came the proud response.

The audience roared, the preacher dropped the child, telegraphed the President for protection, and took the first train for the land of "Yankee Doodle."

A large crowd came in this morning from Bethel and Robertsonville to witness the horse race this afternoon.

FOUR ARMED NEGROES.

Threaten to Kill Two White Men.

About 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon a telephone message from Staton's Mill, about 7 miles from town, to Sheriff Tucker advised him that several negroes were there armed with shot guns and threatening to kill Messrs. A. G. Whichard and Ernest Dudley. Deputy Sheriffs S. I. Dudley and R. Hyman left at once for the scene. Arriving there they found Messrs. Whichard and Dudley in the former's yard and afraid to come out. About 150 yards distant at a house on Mr. Whichard's place that was occupied by William Mooring, colored, they found him and three brothers, Sam, Abram and Chester, armed with shot guns and pistols, and in an ugly mood. Shells that the negroes had were loaded with heavy buck shot.

The trouble grew out of Mr. Whichard wanting William Mooring to move out of his house, and William's brothers went there to help bid defiance. Officers Dudley and Hyman arrested the four negroes and brought them to jail. A preliminary trial was had this morning before Justice C. D. Rountree and they were bound over to Superior court in the sum of $100 each.

President Assigned to His Wig Wam.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—Great Incohonoe John W. Cherry of the Great Council of the Independent Order of Red Men in the United States, who recently assisted in the induction of President Roosevelt as an honorary member of that body, today announced that the president would be assigned as a member of the I. O. coela Tribe No. 1, I. O. R. M., of Alexandria, Va., which is the oldest tribe of the order.

Great Incohonoe Cherry is having prepared on parchment to be folded and attached to an elegant leather case a certificate commending President Roosevelt as a Red Man entitled to all the rights and privileges of the order.

Roe Shad

Louis Lawrence and Will Dunn caught a roe shad while skimming in the river here this morning. They sold the fish for $1.

Ground Hog Day.

Today was something of a mixture and ought to have suited the ground hog. Very early there was just a little sunshine which was soon hid by clouds, and before 10 o'clock there was a light flurry of snow, to be followed by sunshine again a little later.

THE WEATHER

Fair colder tonight temperature below freezing on the coast, Saturday fair.

No Fire.

About noon today a little excitement was caused by burning soot in a chimney at the Cherry house, corner Greene and Third streets. A crowd hurried there looking for fire, but there wasn't any.

As one man put it, today is sausage day. That is ground hog.

A. H. Taft,

Victor Hugo's Modesty.

Victor Hugo liked to be praised. Robert Harborough Sherard, author of "Twenty Years In Paris," tells how when young women from England or America came to gaze upon the master, as occasionally it was permitted them to do, the interpreter of their simple praises did not boggle matters in the least. The young ladies would say in English or American something like this: "Oh, tell Mr. Hugo that we have read his works and like them so much and that we are so pleased to see him." These seemingly encomiums would be rendered thus: "Illustrious master, these young daughters of the young republic (or of an antique monarchy, as the case might be) feel it impossible to leave Paris without laying at the feet of that genius which is the imperishable glory of France and the wonder and honor of the universe the laurel wreath of their profoundest admiration and homage."

Her Reason.

A little girl attended a distribution of prizes given by the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. She had won a book as a reward for writing the best essay on the subject given and, with the other successful children, was undergoing a viva voce examination.

"Well, my dear," said the gentleman who had given away the prizes, "can you tell me why it is cruel to dock horses' tails and trim dogs' ears?"

"Because," answered the little girl, "what God had joined together let no man put asunder."

Both of One Mind.

"Please be very careful," said the nervous lady at the hairdresser's to the attendant, who was twirling a smoking hot curling iron in her fingers preparatory to plunging it into the victim's hanging locks. "I hate to have my hair searched."

"Oh, yes, indeed; I'm always careful," chirped the highly perfumed and pompadoured girl who was presiding over the tongs. "There's nothing worse to me than the smell of burning hair."

Cleaning an Old Clock.

Have any of our readers a clock they value that seems to be near the end of its career of usefulness? Does it skip a beat now and then, and when it begins to strike seem to be in pain? Let me tell you what to do. Take a bit of cotton batting the size of a hen's egg, dip it in kerosene and place it on the floor of the clock, in the corner, shut the door of the clock and wait three or four days. Your clock will be like a new one—skip no more, it will strike as of old, and as you look inside you will find the cotton batting black with dust. The fumes of the oil loosen the particles of dust, and they fall, thus cleaning the clock. I have tried it with success.—National Magazine.

Trivial Causes.

In most unhappy marriages the cause of evil has been trivial. As Steele says, the first maxim in a married man's condition is that husband and wife should be above trifles. When two persons have so good an opinion of each other as to come together for life they will not differ in matters of importance, because they think of each other with respect and are prepared for mutual assistance and relief. But for smaller matters they have made no preparations, and hence springs the mischief.

They never gripe or sicken, but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

There's a cure for old age; an excellent and thorough one. There is nothing sensational about it. It is the best the doctors can find under existing circumstances. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosen the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A big memorial meeting will be held in Atlanta on the 25th in honor of the late Gen. Joseph Wheeler.

Like crystals fair of morning dew, Your complexion now can be, If you will take this good advice, And drink Rocky Mountain Tea. Wooten's Drug Store.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Men are quite as eager as women to cultivate good looks. We know of hundreds of men in this vicinity that are taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Smart fellows. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C., says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

If a nice young man calls on a girl and she requests her little brother to recite for him, the hint is quite sufficient.

Don't let your face grow old, sallow, hollow and wrinkled. If you care at all for beauty, take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fulness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

When Jordan went after North he made him wince.

In this quarter the ground hog saw all the shadow he was looking for.

You can count on it that Governor Glenn will display his good judgment and not pardon Bishop.

As the men made a failure on the Raleigh monument, the women are going to try their hand. This gives a little show of success.

A bill has been introduced in the Ohio Legislature which provides that a person of sound mind who is sick unto death, and who is suffering unbearable pain, can ask a physician to administer an anesthetic until the patient loses consciousness and dies. The physician must consult three other physicians before administering the drug, and also must administer the patient that certain death is to follow. The physicians, after death ensues, must notify the coroner of all the facts of the death in signed statements. The bill was introduced at the instance of a woman, Miss Hall, who it is said has made a study of the subject, her interest being aroused by the long and painful illness of her mother from an incurable disease. The bill will hardly pass. There is something to be said in its favor but there is more to be said against it. Hedged with all the precautions possible, it would hardly be safe to give such discretion to physicians. The privilege, even if it was desirable, could be too easily abused.—Statesville Landmark.

Sunday at Richmond, the Rev. Dr. Hawthorne, of that city, preached a very remarkable sermon on the dangers which surrounded the youth of that city, in the course of which he said,

"We must combine for moral health; as we do for physical health. We do not value the souls of our children as we do their bodies. If we were as much concerned about their moral insecurity as we are about their physical perils, we would raise such a clamor in this old city as would compel the powers that be to stamp out the centers of moral infection that are making drunkards, gamblers, whoremongers and criminals of a large percentage of the rising generation."

It has to be admitted that municipalities do not pay a tenth of the attention to "moral insecurity" that they do "physical dangers." A great many people honestly believe in a "wide open" town and the "survival of the fittest." To them the idea of laws looking to greater moral security are interferences with personal liberty. But we are persuaded that their is the wrong view and that of Dr. Hawthorne the right one.—Greensboro Telegram.

How to Keep an Umbrella.

Do you ever lose your umbrella? Are you in the habit of losing your umbrella? If so, it is a bad habit, and you should break yourself of it. How can it be done? By falling into the habit of taking care of it. It is all a matter of attention. Have a particular place at home and at the office to keep your umbrella. At home, the umbrella stand will do, at the office you should hang it in the same place every time. When you leave home with the precious article, tax your memory with the fact. If you ride on the car keep in touch with it. If you stop on the way, do not lay it down stick to it. When you finally arrive at the office, hang it in the usual place. If you will do this for a week or so, you will form the umbrella habit, and the rest will be easy. Habits once formed, whether bad or good, are hard to break.

But some may say that all that trouble is not worth while. All right. If the umbrella is not worth its care, leave it to take care of itself and keep losing it. It's your choice. But don't blame us for it. We are telling you how to break yourself of the habit of losing it. If you'd rather not follow the advice, it's all right with us. But it's very annoying to lose an umbrella every week or so, and it's always worth while, we think, to take pains to avoid annoyance. Moreover, to cultivate the umbrella habit, we mean the habit of taking care of it, is to cultivate the habit of care and attention in all things. And that's worth while, now isn't it.—Times Dispatch.

Last of Old Confederate Blockade Runner Going to Pieces.

The beach near Lumina pavilion was strewn with wreckage on Sunday from the old hulk of the blockade runner that has been lying off shore there for years. The wreck began breaking up in Thursday night's storm and among the pieces that drifted up was an old iron safe. This was broken open by Mr. H. E. Bonitz and others but nothing of intrinsic value was found therein. Mr. Bonitz found an old watch chain and a rusted carving knife which he brought home as relics.

It is supposed that the hulk which is breaking up is that of the blockade runner Hebe, which was driven ashore under fire of the Federal blockaders during the war. The Hebe and the blockade runner Dee are known to have gone down about off Lumina, but the wreck in question is thought to be that of the former. The General Beauregard went aground farther down towards Carolina Beach. Another ship lost in blockade running was the Emma. The safe which has now been cast up ashore was probably relieved of everything of value before it was beached to escape possession of the enemy.—Wilmington Star.

Another South Carolinian has come forward with a present for Speaker Cannon and this time it is a pair of white socks. Why don't they present him with a muzzle—for self use, of course.—Wilmington Dispatch.

GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE CO.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

CAPITAL $100,000.00

SURPLUS $25,000.00

During its first six months existence the company has demonstrated to the people of North Carolina that they not only save money by buying life insurance at home, but that the Greensboro life gives more protection than is afforded by other companies. The people of North Carolina believe so strongly in the Greensboro Life Insurance Company that they are giving it more business than any other company is writing in the State.

"THE BEST LIFE INSURANCE POLICY IN THE WORLD"

is the unanimous verdict of the people who have bought the Greensboro Life's superb INCOME INFIRMITY POLICY. This is the most satisfactory life insurance contract ever devised. It carries insurance to its logical conclusion by protecting both the insured's life and his earning power. It pays double insurance in case of accidental death, and in the event of total and permanent disability or incapacity, the policy becomes paid up and participates in the profits of the company. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of annual premiums.

Could Take His Place.

There is a delicious story of a very vain officer who was helping to garrison Edinburgh castle when the Boer war was in its early days.

"You are ordered off for active service immediately!" exclaimed a stripling, rushing into the officer's establishment.

The pompous man, alert with excitement, was on his feet in an instant.

"Good heavens!" he burst out. "Has Roberts been killed already?"

A GRATEFUL BRIGAND.

The Story of "The Church of the Cup of Cold Water."

One of the many churches of Spain bears the strange name of "The Church of the Cup of Cold Water." This is its history: A certain good hearted but very poor priest, living in a little village not far from the mountains, was startled one day by two or three soldiers entering his house, carrying with them a bleeding brigand with a broken arm. The priest hastened to bind up the wounded arm, though the captors seemed to care little whether or not their prisoner lived. The injured man, who bore his sufferings without a groan, then begged for a drink of water, and as he raised himself to receive it, encouraged by the priest's kind manner, he whispered that his two children were left friendless on the edge of the wooded hills. When the prisoner had been dragged away the cure went in search of the poor children, found them crying and hungry and brought them to his humble home. Then, poor as he was, he sent the boy to school and the girl to a neighboring convent and, by much self denial and in spite of many remarks on his folly, provided for their support.

Years passed away, and the children were almost grown up when one day a magnificent carriage stopped at the door of the humble parsonage. A fine looking man in uniform, his breast covered with decorations, stepped out. He explained that he was the wounded brigand, that he had escaped and in one of the many Spanish revolutions had chanced to be of the winning party, now held a high office and had returned to claim his children. And when he had affectionately greeted them he asked permission of the good old priest that he might build him a new church in place of the shabby little mountain chapel and call it "The Church of the Cup of Cold Water."

The Mule.

No animal is more abused than a mule, yet few have as much good, common sense. When a mule thinks he has enough he quits eating. If he is too hot he will not drink until he has cooled off. When a horse thinks he has enough he is sure to be foundered, and the hotter he is the more he wants to drink. Mules run off sometimes, but they seldom do any damage. They soon get tired and stop and never run into ditches or fences. Some horses cannot, but no mule can be driven into a ditch or on a dangerous bridge at night. A mule will lie awake nights to get a chance to kick a man or a dog, but seldom wastes his strength on a wagon or a buggy. A kicking horse will kick anything and everything. A mule has sense enough to keep out of a barbed wire, while a horse will go into it almost every chance he has. When they are sold, a horse has to sell on his individual merit, while a mule sells because he is a mule. Some mules are better than others, but all mules are good mules, as all fat cattle are good when it comes to selling them.--Atchison Globe.

Her Guardian Cat.

A good dog enjoys a reputation as a guardian of the house, but a certain old woman puts her faith in cats. Her house was entered some time ago, and her belief in her pet was justified. The midnight hour had not long struck when she heard unusual sounds in the hall below. She slipped out of bed, took her faithful feline, which always spent the night in her room, in her arms and walked quietly on the landing. She leaned over. A burglar was on the stairs. Suddenly in an unlucky moment he struck a match. The lady then dropped puss upon the burglar's head. The cat uttered an unearthly screech and began to use its claws for all it was worth. The next instant the man was outside in the street.

Beauties of the Nile.

The girls of ancient Egypt were noted for their lithe figures and never allowed themselves to grow stout. Even the middle aged women were as beautiful of figure as girls in their teens. In the belief that obesity produced old age and that a slender woman need never look nor grow old, that fat produced rheumatism, heaviness, stiffness and difficulty in moving about, undue sleepiness and a difficulty in breathing, they instructed their daughters that no greater misfortune could fall upon them than that of overweight.

The SansSouci Club was delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon, January 30th, by Miss Nell Skinner.

The literary programme was especially interesting, this consisting of papers on the lives of Emerson and Longfellow by Miss Janie Brown and Mrs Haywood Dail, also selections from these by Misses Irma Cobb, Bertha Patrick and Willie Skinner.

After the literary programme the motion was made to adjourn, after which delightful refreshments were served.

We were very glad to have with us on this occasion, as visitors, Mesdames H. A. White, R. J. Cobb, B. W. Moseley, N. S. Fulford, of Washington, E. B. Ficklen, R. O. Jeffress, C. L. Forbes, J. L. Woo, J. D. Fleming.
