END OF THE CENTURY CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

The End of Century Club was charmingly entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. R. W. King at her home on Dickinson avenue.

The meeting was very interesting as well as important. The program for next year being brought up and voted on "Sculptors and Sculpture" as a subject was decided upon.

A paper on "Germany and the Germans" was read by Mrs. Harry Skinner, and Mrs. E. B. Ficklen read a paper on "Berlin and its chief attractions." Mrs. T. J. Jarvis was to have had "Vienna" (Its siege by the Turks, its falling thrice into the hands of Napoleon), but owing to a misunderstanding of dates she was not prepared, so will read at the next meeting of the club.

It was decided that as the library has become so popular and the librarian finds it difficult to attend to the wants of all the callers, with the library open only two afternoons a week, a committee will talk with her and try to arrange that it shall be opened three afternoons.

A unique feature of Mrs. King's entertainment was an auction of articles concealed in oddly shaped packages, to be purchased with beans, fifty of which were given to each guest. The bidding was fast and furious while the packages lasted. Mesdames L. C. Arthur and B. W. Moseley were the able auctioneers.

Quite a number of visitors were present, who added much pleasure to the entertainment by their presence. Those present being Mesdames Thomas, of Nashville, Tenn., N. S. Fulford, of Washington, N. C., S. T. White, J. B. White, F. W. Clare, C. S. Carr, C. S. Forbes, Sam Parham, H. A. White, B. W. Moseley, N. B. Nelson, Harry Whedbee, C. C. Vines and R. J. Cobb.

Delightful refreshments were served and the club adjourned to meet on the twentieth of February with Mrs. R. O. Jeffress.

LEG DROPPED OFF.

Singular Case That Baffled Physicians.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Feb. 6.—The strangest case noted by physicians recently in this end of the state is that of Henry Sykes, of Columbia, Tyrrell county, who for over a year had been afflicted with a curious disease in his leg in which the flesh from the knee to the foot had been undergoing slow process of ossification. He was expected to die and physicians gave him up, acknowledging that they could do nothing.

For a full year he lived in a recumbent position but last Friday when the diseased leg was being dressed it, of its own accord amputated itself at the knee joint, dropping to the floor leaving the remainder of the limb in a healthy condition.

The man who buried the disjunct limb said it was hard as iron. The case created general attention among physicians here.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Postponed.

A bashful young couple, who were evidently very much in love, entered a crowded street car in Boston the other day. "Do you suppose we can squeeze in here?" he asked, looking doubtfully at her blushing face.

"Don't you think, dear, we had better wait until we get home?" was the low embarrassed reply.—Life.

BREAK IN COTTON UNWARRANTED.

Raw Cotton Should be 14 Cents.

Spinners of yarns and print cloths openly admit that present prices of their finished output authorize a price of 14 cents for the raw cotton. This fact is well known to every person who has investigated the high prices of cotton goods in all lines. It is also well known to all careful students of the question of actual supplies of spot cotton and the enormous demands of legitimate consumption, that there will not be a sufficiency of raw cotton to meet the demands for consumption before another crop can be planted, cultivated and harvested. The present price of spot cotton is, therefore, not based upon the intrinsic value of the staple. No cotton this season has been sold on this basis of its intrinsic value. "Bearish" speculation is now running riot with the cotton market. The present "Bear" raid has been caused by a combination of spinners, exporters and bearish speculators, organized a few weeks since in New York to drive the market down for the distinct purpose of breaking the backbone of the present holding movement among the farmers of the South and to destroy the effectiveness of the Southern Cotton Association as a factor in the future marketing of the South's great staple crop. Nearly nine million bales of the present crop has already passed out of the hands of the producers, furnishing temporary needs of spinners and placing them in an advantageous position, as they have the ammunition. But this condition cannot last long. This crop is 3,500,000 bales short of the crop of 1904. Six million new spindles were added to the world's manufacturers in 1905. The demand for cotton goods is unprecedented. We sold a 14,000,000 bale crop for ten cents. There is only a remnant of one million bales left from the present short crop of 10,250,000 bales, and those who have the nerve to hold their cotton in the face of present unwarranted depression will yet sell it for fifteen cents.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

A pointer dog died in Mecklenburg county recently whose owner said had been in the family for 56 years.

John C. Daucy, colored, of this state, has been reappointed recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia.

Near Thomasville three white tramps asked the section master of the railroad to let them ride to town with him on the dump car. Permission was given two of them, but the third, being drunk, was told he could not ride. The tramp drew a pistol and shot the section master and was about to make his escape when one of the negro section hands shot him down. The section master and tramp both died of their wounds in a short while.

GENERAL NEWS.

Happenings of Interest Over the Country.

A woman in Boston killed herself and four children by turning on the gas in their bedroom.

Two passenger trains collided on a railroad near Portland, Ore., resulting in the death of four persons and serious wounding of several others.

Rev. George H. Simmons, pastor of the First Baptist church at Peoria, Ill., whose character was being investigated under grave charges, committed suicide by taking poison.

Near Ozark, Ala., a negro attempted to kill a white man by shooting at him through the window of his home, but did not injure him. Later a mob went to the negro's home and shot him to death.

By the burning of a frame shanty occupied by colored people, in a village near Baltimore, nine of the inmates perished. Only one person escaped from the house alive, a woman who jumped from the second story window.

Merry, Merry Minstrels.

The "Merry, Merry Minstrels" will be the attraction at the Masonic opera house, Saturday night, Feb. 10th.

It will be the Barlow & Wilson's Greater New York Minstrels and a splendid performance is promised. The company numbers forty of the best vocalists and vaudeville stars of the minstrel world, and is accompanied by an excellent band and orchestra. This well known organization comes highly recommended, yet giving all that is new and novel in the line of this latter day minstrels, retaining all the gems of the old style of minstrels, that is so pleasing to amusement lovers of this style. The company gives a grand, gorgeous and spectacular street parade which takes place at noon of the day of the engagement. All the popular songs, dances, sensational specialties will go towards making up an evening entertainment that will be appreciated by the most fastidious. Seats now on sale at Coward & Wooten's.

MRS. H. L. COWARD ENTERTAINS.

Reported for Reflector.

Imagination must indeed be swift winged to conceive of a more delightful and elegant entertainment than the dinner tendered by Mrs. H. L. Coward, to something over a score of her lady friends, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th.

The luxurious home was softly lighted with innumerable candles the glow of which fell, as with a tender benediction, upon the brow of three beautiful young brides, who appeared in exquisite evening gowns, forming a pretty contrast to the rich but darker colors of the maturer matrons. The spacious dining room admirably suited for such an occasion, held two tables arranged in the form of the letter V, the brides occupying the centre. Covers were placed for some twenty or more guests. The dinner lasting from six to eight o'clock was served in courses consisting of a profusion of the luxurious viand which the winter season alone furnishes.

The repast was enlivened by cards with a number of questions relative to North Carolina but more especially to Pitt county and Greenville. Mrs. Jarvis giving the largest number of answers, was awarded the first prize, which she then presented to the bridal party to be drawn for. Mrs. C. S. Carr waving her claims, presented the gift to the new resident, Mrs. Charles Forbes. Mrs. Charlie McDowell (nee Miss Kitchen), winning the second prize.

During the evening Mrs. Travis Hooker rendered some popular song selections, after which an Italian band played their own and other national airs from the veranda.

At nine o'clock a number of gentlemen dropping in were served with a boufet luncheon.

The following were the guests of the occasion: Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, Mrs. Herbert White, Mrs. C. C. Vines, Mrs. L. C. Arthur, Mrs. R. W. King, Mrs. B. W. Mosley, Mrs. C. S. Forbes, Mrs. E. G. Flaagan, Mrs. Stewart Carr, Mrs. T. E. Hooker, Mrs. Sam White, Mrs. G. W. Baker, Mrs. J. L. Fleming, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, Mrs. R. J. Cobb, Mrs. G. J. Woodard, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. J. A. Andrews, Mrs. J. L. Wooten.

WEATHERCOCKS.

How They Came Into Existence in the Ninth Century.

A contemplative individual, with some power of observation, was asking about weathercocks.

"Why weathercocks?" he asked.
"Most vanes are in the form of arrows. Sometimes they are hands that point with the index finger in the direction toward which the wind is blowing. A running horse is quite popular as a vane. Fish, trumpets, locomotives and many other forms are used, but I seldom, if ever, see vanes, except in pictures, that can with any propriety be called weathercocks."

I referred the matter by note to our mutual friend, Dr. Detail, and received the following reply:

"The ninth century was a time of extreme ignorance among all countries which now lead in civilization. An authentic account of the controversies, political, social,
and religious, that then occupied Europe would make a curious and interesting list of reading. In England the question of how persons who devoted their lives to religion should wear their hair and at what particular Sunday they should celebrate Easter became so bitter that the conversion of that part of the Saxon people who still remained pagans fell into neglect, and even those that had been won from idolatry showed signs of apostatizing.

"At this time, by a papal order,
it was enacted that the figure of a cock should be set upon churches in order to put the people in mind of Peter's denial of our Saviour and of his unfeigned repentance, thus at once admonishing those who would renounce the Saviour and offering forgiveness to the penitent apostle."

"No," said Miss Winthrop-Brad-mine did, and I cannot marry you!"

"Do you know why they did not?"
replied Mr. Johnstone Smythe de Jones. "Well, I'll tell you. They were not the kind of people who travel on excursions."

Saying which, he strode haughily from the room.—Washington Life.

Try These Cures For Stings.

All sorts of stings, whether from bees, wasps, hornets or bumblebees, should be sucked to remove as much poison as possible; then have a slice of acid fruity apple, tomato or peach, or a crushed berry or grape, either ripe or green, bound lightly to the wound. If the pain is severe, after a minute take off the fruit, wash the sting in warm water and bathe it well in alcohol. Then wet a folded linen rag in either alcohol or vinegar, and bind on the sting. If neither alcohol, vinegar or fruit of any sort is at hand, try a bruised plantain leaf. Change the application, whatever it is, every ten minutes until the pain subsides.

Many a worthless fian has a good disposition.

A meary heart kills more microbes than any medicine.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

When a man boasts of his humility, you can depend on his hypocrisy.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosen the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Some men expect to unload their own sins by confessing those of others.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The way of the transgressor is to acquaint himself with the law in his line.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C. says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat." Sold by John L. Wooten.

People who dwell in glass houses must live in a state of painful embarrassment.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Haze Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The secret of the widow's power is that she has discovered that men are only little boys grown big.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fulness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The thermometer and cotton are both keeping down to the freezing point.

The North Carolina contingent are making the President earn his salary.

If February is to continue as bad as it has done so far, there is some satisfaction in it being a short month.

If a piece of Greenville property goes on the market there are quick purchasers. This shows something of the faith the people have in the town.

Democrats are not doing any kicking about the fight that is still going on between Republican factions in the western part of the State.

The dispensary as a State institution is about to be killed by the Legislature of South Carolina. As conducted over there it has been a breeder of much corruption.

The Southern Railway is making a reputation as a street fighter—or at least fighting for streets. Some years ago it had quite a lively round with Durham and now it is taking a turn with High Point.

It is one thing to have laws and another to enforce them. If there was as much persistence in looking after violators of the Watts law as there is after the game law, you would see a difference.

The man who fails to pay his taxes is not considered much of a citizen in this country of ours, and sometime he causes trouble in directions not expected. Some years ago William E. Breece and other officers were indicted for wrecking the First National Bank of Asheville. They were tried, convicted and sentenced to several years imprisonment in the penitentiary at Atlanta. Appeal to a higher court was taken, and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond to which the case went has reversed the decision of the lower court and dismissed the indictment. The ground upon which this action was based was, the fact that two of the grand jurors who found the bill of indictment had failed to pay their taxes and were disqualified to serve. By this failure to perform the part of good citizenship the bank wreckers escaped the punishment deserved.

The Pythias will have work in the first and second degrees at tonight's meeting. Full attendance of members desired.

A man from the West remarked to THE REFLECTOR, "I see you are advocating a building and loan association for your town. Keep it up until one is established, for no enterprise you can get will do the town more good. I have just finished paying for a nice home through a building and loan association with the money that formerly went for rent, and many people in your town can do the same thing if you have an association here." This is the kind of experience that counts.

THE SOUTH'S INDUSTRIAL ADVANCE.

Between 1880 and 1905 the South increased the number of its cotton spindles from 667,000 to 9,205,000, and the consumption of cotton in its mills from 225,000 to 2,163,000 bales. To some readers that on its face may not convey much meaning, but these figures gain a new force when it is remembered that New England and all the country outside of the South in 1880 consumed 1,350,000 bales, or six times as much as the South, and in 1905, 2,282,900 bales, or but a few thousand bales more than the South. Between 1890 and 1905 the South nearly quadrupled its consumption of cotton, while New England increased 28 per cent. A new conception of the meaning of the 3,100,000 tons of iron produced is gained when it is remembered that this is nearly as much pig iron as the entire country made in 1880, and that the 70,000,000 tons of bituminous coal now mined in the South, and annually rapidly increasing, is 28,000,000 tons, or 60 per cent. more than the output of bituminous coal for the United States 25 years ago. All that has been accomplished in Southern material upbuilding which can be measured by dry statistics is, however, as nothing compared to the value of the experience gained, the capital accumulated, and the realization of power and strength as against weakness and hopelessness of twenty-five years ago. If from Mount Mitchell—the highest peak east of the Rocky Mountains—a bird's-eye view of the South could be had, there would be seen a mighty, resistless, onward movement of a people who, having struggled amid the darkness of the wilderness with no pillar of fire to guide them, strengthened in body and mind by the hard but victorious fight, have at last come in sight of the Promised Land. No longer moving westward as heretofore, the tide of population would be seen to be turning southward. The hardened veterans of the South's struggle for industrial independence are seen to be drawing heavy re-enforcements from this incoming tide. Capital, the greatest coward of earth, joins the procession, and the South, beggar no longer, invites the world's surplus money seeking the most profitable field on earth for investment,—invites it not with a beggar's plea, but with the right to say: We are independent, we can stand alone, we have accumulated enough of money and experience to assure a great and steady advance; but so vast is the field, so sure are the returns, that we bid the world a welcome, that all man share in the utilization of our resources and in the consequent wealth to be created. Here, says the South to all mankind, is a region of which earth has no duplicate. Does that statement seem too strong? Examine it a moment.—From "The South's Amazing Progress," by Richard H. Edmonds, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for February.

A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The officers of the North Carolina Retail Merchants' Association are considering the feasibility of establishing a fire insurance company. It is thought that it will be easily formed and that the merchants throughout the State will give the same their entire co-operation. It is believed by those who have investigated this subject that much cheaper insurance can be had by introducing the feature into the association and besides it will contribute to the support of the association. This matter will be thoroughly investigated and it is expected that the insurance feature will be begun at the next State convention, which meets in Morehead City the latter part of June.—Merchants Journal.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

THE TRACK WALKER.

His Work is of Peculiar Importance to the Railroad.

If you have nothing else to do some day when you are passing through the vast network of tracks of, for example, the great railway running northward out of New York, give a thought to the man who walks them for you, the man on whom your safety in this particular place so much depends.

He is a peculiar individual. His work is so very exceptional, so very different from your own. While you are sitting in your seat placidly wondering whether you are going to have a pleasant evening at the theater or whether the business to which you are about to attend will be as profitable as you desire, he is out on the long track over which you are speeding calmly examining the bolts that hold the shining metals together. Neither rain nor sleet can deter him. The presence of intense heat or intense cold has no effect on his labors. Day after day, at all hours and in all sorts of weather, he may be seen placidly plodding these iron highways, his wrench and sledge crossed over his shoulders, his eyes riveted on the rails, carefully watching to see whether any bolts are loose or any spikes sprung. Upward of 200 cannon ball fliers rush by him on what might be called a four track bowling alley each day, and yet he dodges them all for perhaps as little as any laborer is paid. If he were not watchful, if he did not perform his work carefully and well, if he had a touch of malice or a feeling of vengefulness, he could wreck your train, mangle your body and send you praying and screaming to your Maker. There would be no sure way of detecting him.—Theodore Dreiser in Tom Watson's Magazine.

Japanese Art.

The oriental artist does not so much seek to transcribe nature as to suggest her moods. His interest is centered in the poetic sentiment which she elicits. The saying of the Japanese that a picture is a "voiceless poem" is particularly appropriate to their landscape painting. Our best artists also seek to express the poetry of nature. But they find it in many things. Our aesthetic pleasure in landscape is a complex one. The oriental, on the other hand, in conformity with his type of mind, finds it in the dominant character, in that which remains when all its accidents are eliminated—in other words, when it has been simplified and idealized, "for a landscape painting," to quote our Japanese critic once more, "is not loved because it is a facsimile of the natural scene, but because there is something in it greater than mere accurate representation of natural forms, which appeals to our feelings, but which we cannot express in words."—W. M. Cabot in Atlantic.

Reviews of Reviews

Many other publications are desirable, and you may prefer this or prefer that fiction and art publication, but the Review of Reviews is necessary. Substantial American men and women are going to keep up with the times and they are going to take the shortest cut which is the Review of Reviews.

The Cosmopolitan

A leading magazine for 18 years. With the recent change of ownership it has been improved. It is far better in every respect, and aims to be the best in the field. Every year or so there's one notable advance in the forward movement among the many magazines. This year it is the Cosmopolitan.

Woman's Home Companion

The Woman's Home Companion is for every member of the family. For our bright, earnest, cultured, home loving American woman it is an ideal entertainer and helper in a thousand congenial ways; but the fathers and brothers and sons join in its perusal by the fireside; children eagerly turn to the pages that are written for them.

The American Farmer is the leading Agricultural paper of the country, and pertinent to farming, live stock and poultry raising. Every farmer should have it!

THE FUNNY PUFFER.

Queer Creature of the Salt Seas is the Blowfish.

The funniest little fellow in salt water is the puffer, or swellfish. Fishermen call him the blowfish. When he is swimming around at ease with nothing to alarm him he looks queer enough, for the skin of his abdomen is all loose and wrinkled, and he has such a funny tail and such ridiculous little fins and such a big, three cornered head that he looks entirely absurd. His mouth, instead of being big and gaping, as most fish mouths are, is only a tiny round hole at the end of a pointed, conical snout. Out of this circular mouth protrude his teeth, like those of a rabbit. He would be about as homely a fish as could be made if it were not for the beautiful orange and yellow and silver colorings that play all over him. But queer as he looks when he is at ease, it is only when he is frightened or excited that he becomes really funny. If he is hooked, for instance, he comes to the surface grinding those protruding teeth so that the sound can be heard a good many feet away, and then as soon as the hand touches him he begins to grunt hoarsely, and with each grunt he swells a bit till within a few moments he has puffed himself so full of air that he is quite round and firm, like a ball. So thoroughly does he distend himself with air that when the fishermen hurl him at the water with all their force, as they often do, he will bounce like a rubber ball. If he is dropped into the water after blowing himself full of air he floats on as lightly as thistledown, and he will stay that way until he has assured himself that danger has gone by. He does the same when he is pursued by other fish, and as he floats almost entirely out of water, with only a little bit of his hard, spiny body sunk under the surface, very few fish can hurt him once he is inflated.

The Doctor They Wanted.

A little girl was sent in a hurry for the doctor the other day, and when she reached the steps of the physician's office she found there a doctor of divinity, the pastor of the church which she attends.

"Well, my little girl," said the minister, who recognized the child, "what's the matter? Nothing serious, I hope."

"I don't know for sure," said the girl. "Only we can't find my tennis ball high or low, and we think maybe the baby's swallowed it."

"Dear me!" exclaimed the reverend gentleman, much amused. "And so you want the doctor? Well, I'm a doctor. Won't I do?"

The little girl eyed him a moment in a brown study, as though the idea was new and might be good. "No," she said at last, shaking her head with decision. "We want a doctor that practices, not one that preaches."

A Humorist's Peculiar Habits.

The late Bill Nye replied as follows to a correspondent who inquired about his habits of work and life:

"When the weather is such that I cannot exercise in the open air I have a heavy pair of dumbbells at my lodgings, which I use for holding the door open. I also belong to an athletic club and a pair of Indian clubs with red handles. I owe much of my robust health to this. I do most of my writing in a sitting posture or in an autograph album. When I am not engaged in thought I am employed in recovering from its effects. I am very genial and pleasant to be thrown amongst. I dress expensively, but not so as to attract attention. In the morning I wear morning dress, in the evening I wear evening dress, and at night I wear nightdress."

The First Doctor.

There is no subject whose history has more of curious interest than that of medicine. Its origin is far back in the mythical period, where the marvelous is nothing strange. The first physician, whose name was passed down by tradition to the Greeks, was Chiron. He belonged to that singular race known as Centaurs—half man and half horse. So the first physician was a veritable horse doctor indeed and no pretentious veterinary surgeon. Modern M. D.'s, however, have no cause to blush over this apparently humble origin, for Chiron was an honor to his profession. He failed of cure in but a single case, which is more than can be said of his followers.

It Sounded Familiar.

George Y. Wallace, president of the Rocky Mountain Belle Telephone Company, and one of the best known residents of Salt Lake tells this as the latest telephone story:

In a certain Western central office one "hello" girl was late in arriving in the morning. Time and again the manager had pleaded with her to be more prompt. Her tardiness continued until he was moved to desperate methods.

"Now, Miss Jones," he said one morning, as he came to her exchange with a package in his hand, "I have a little scheme which I hope will enable you to arrive at the office on time. Here is a fine alarm clock for you. Promise me you will use it."

The young woman promised and accordingly set the alarm for the proper hour when she retired that night.

At 7 o'clock there was a tremendous whirring from the alarm clock.

The sleepy "hello" girl rolled over in bed and said sweetly and still asleep:

"Line busy; call again!"—New York Tribune.
