NEED OF RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

I have read with considerable interest a recent editorial in THE REFLECTOR on the need of a religious revival in Greenville. It is refreshing to see the secular press take an interest in these matters to the extent mentioned in the article above referred to, and I have waited with patience to read an expression from some of our citizens upon this important subject, in the columns of your paper.

I should hesitate to say that Greenville does not care for a religious revival, but it seems that a deeper interest in so great and good a theme should be manifested if the people of our thriving town really desire a stirring-up of the holy fires of religious zeal and activity.

Of course I do not understand the Editor of THE REFLECTOR as pleading for some one or all of the churches to hold a series of "protracted meetings." I do not understand him to plead for a speeding up of church machinery, nor for spurts to see how many converts can be added in a given time by some great evangelist; if I read his message aright, it is a plea for the churches to awaken to the real purpose of their existence, which is to save souls and build up believers in righteousness and true holiness.

Are the energies of Greenville churches being directed in these channels as much as they should be? What is the prime consideration of the individual Christian in our midst, is it to make dollars or to make Christians? I will not undertake to answer this question now, it will be sufficient to remark that when our prime consideration is to be holy, and to bring others into that desirable spiritual condition called "holiness," a revival of religion will be here—nothing can stay it under such conditions. A week of prayer and fasting in the good old Scriptural way, and a throwing overboard of the "world, the flesh and the devil" will do much towards a religious revival, but we must remember that the class of Christians who attend the next minstrel show will not bring a revival atmosphere into the sanctuary on the following Sunday morning.

Respectfully,
H. H. MOORE.

Teachers' Meeting.

Tomorrow is the day for the teachers' meeting. If the weather permits it will be a large and enthusiastic meeting. There are four prizes to be awarded and the program is a very fine one. Every body is invited and we believe the people of Greenville ought to show some appreciation of such a gathering by being present tomorrow. We are sure that every one who attends will be astonished to find that we have such a meeting among us. You will enjoy your visit should you be present.

No Market For Two Days.

On account of Lincoln's birthday, 12th, which is a holiday in several states, the New York cotton exchange will be closed both tomorrow and Monday and will send out no market reports those days.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

AYDEN, N. C., Feb. 9, 1906 — J. H. Tripp had the misfortune Wednesday to lose an account book, containing charges to the amount of about $35.

J. J. Edwards & Son have just received another car load of Ellwood wire fencing.

Miss Lucy Turnage, of Ormondsville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. M. Edwards, left Wednesday to visit friends in Kinston.

Mrs. Martha Smith, of Greenville, is visiting the family of W. C. Jackson.

Chills and fevers are playing a conspicuous part in and around Ayden. There have been several shakes and more are anticipated. We will not refer to the warmer period. Certainly we hope for a better change and that soon.

If the representatives from Ayden to the teachers' meeting in Greenville tomorrow are not voted the fairest of the fair, then surely the judges on that occasion will be biased in their expression.

There was a large crowd from the Swift Creek section here Tuesday in attendance upon a magistrate's court.

J. M. Moore has had another of those trips down the road. We do wonder how many more some folks are beginning to feel interested.

G. L. Buck went to Greenville yesterday.

J. H. Savage made a flying visit to Grifton Wednesday on business.

Mrs. B. C. Coward has returned from a recent visit to Snow Hill.

Miss Nellie Barnhill has accepted a position with W. E. Moyer.

Rance Dixon, an old colored man who was raised and lived all his life in this section, but now living in or near Kinston, killed another colored man Saturday night and is now in jail. There was a festival at Rance's house and the negro killed was drunk and was whipping the wife of his host when the homicide took place.

W. H. Harrington, of Greenville, spent Tuesday night in Ayden.

F. Lilly went to Norfolk Tuesday to visit his wife who is there in a hospital for treatment. Mrs. Lilly's many friends here hope to hear of her speedy recovery.

Miss Ethel Pierce is on a visit to friends near Greenville.

D. G. Gibb returned Wednesday evening from a business trip up the road.

J. A. Hatton and little daughter have been on a visit to friends on the other side of Tar river.

This scribe visited his old home, Greenville, last Wednesday. We saw all our folks, right many of our old friends, and we had a good time. They all seemed glad to see us and we were glad to see them and it is not going to be long before our next visit. We like being treated white and we are going to try it again. We speak thus early, for we want ample preparation made for the occasion.

Seats were going today for the minstrel show tomorrow night.

EXAMINATION FOR REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5, 1906.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

An examination will be held under the Civil Service Commission, on February 26th to 28th inclusive, for the purpose of securing eligibles from which to fill vacancies in the position of cadet in the Revenue Cutter service. Applicants, when appointed, must be not less than 18 nor more than 25 years of age, physically sound, and mentally qualified. Examinations will be held in Eastern North Carolina at Raleigh and Wilmington. Applicants should apply to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for application form and other information. The position is a very desirable one.

Respectfully,
JNO. H. SMALL.

Ten Thousand Affected.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 8.—At a mass meeting here today of miners employed by the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Coal and Iron Company, Jefferson and Clearfield and Iron Company, and allied concerns with headquarters here, it was decided unanimously not to go to work again until all grievances between the men and companies have been adjusted. It is alleged by the miners that the Altoona scale is being violated. About 10,000 men are affected.

Chinese Should Wear Longer Shirts.

The Progressive Farmer quotes Mr. Richmond Pearson Hobson as saying that the 430,000,000 of Chinese alone would use all the cotton crop in the South if they had the money to properly clothe themselves. Wu Ting Fang stated it differently when he said to Senator McLaurin: "If my people used cotton as your people do, and every Chinaman should add one inch to his shirt, that alone would consume an entire cotton crop of the South!"

Why not begin a propaganda to induce every Chinaman to lengthen his shirt one inch? It would be a patriotic movement and would make such an additional demand for American cotton that it would not be necessary for President Moore, Mr. Dockery, Mr. Parker and other leaders of the Southern Cotton Association to be going about the State urging the cotton farmers to keep down the acreage of cotton. If the Chinese would just add this one inch to their shirt and all Celestials would wear cotton shirts the South would be put to it to raise enough cotton to meet the demand for cotton at fifteen cents a pound.

Let us agitate for longer shirts for the Chinese!—Raleigh News and Observer.

THE WEATHER

Fair, colder tonight. Saturday fair, colder in eastern portion.

No, it did not rain much, but just poured a little.

One craze that has not struck Greenville is the skating rink.

MASONIC LODGE.

Instituted at Shelmerdine.

On Thursday night Shelmerdine Lodge No. 545 A. F. & A. M. was instituted at Shelmerdine, in this county, under a warrant from the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. The following officers of the new lodge were installed:

Those who went from Greenville report a most interesting occasion.

Abbott Hooker.

The following invitations have been issued:

Mrs. Elizabeth Hooker requests the honour of your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth to Mr. Stephen Mark Abbott on Wednesday evening the twenty-first of February at half after eight o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Hooker Greenville, North Carolina.

Bad Roads.

It is usually the case at this season of the year that the roads leading in to Greenville are in awful condition, but people coming to Greenville over the Tarboro road say that the road from the Anderson place toward Falkland in places is simply impassable. It seems to us that the convicts should be kept at work on this road until it is permanently fixed, for it is by all odds the worst in the county.

As Good as Any.

During the last few days we have watched the new bank statements of a number of towns throughout the State, especially the towns about the size of Greenville, and we find that the banks of this town make as good showing as any of them.

Sheriff Hodges Dead.

A telephone message from Washington this morning announced the death of Sheriff R. T. Hodges. He had been sheriff of Beaufort county for nearly twenty years, and was a man of exceptional character and integrity.

PERSONAL MENTION

Of Those Going and Coming.

J. S. Higgs went down the road this morning.

F. D. Foxhall went to Bebel this morning.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale returned from Grifton this morning.

J. F. Brinkley returned from Norfolk Thursday evening.

Official Gifts Not Desired

Washington, Feb. 8.—Mr. Hengelmuller, the Austrian ambassador here and acting dean of the diplomatic corps, after a conference with officials of the Washington government, has advised his government that it is the wish of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt that no official gifts shall be presented to their daughter upon the occasion of her marriage next week to Mr. Longworth. Mr. Hengelmuller, in a circular to the members of that fact, and it can be stated that the other European governments will follow the example of Austria. Whatever presents are sent will be in the name of the sovereign. They will be in the nature of a personal expression of good will and not as presents from the governments themselves.

Twenty-Eight Men Dead.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 8.—At least twenty-eight men are supposed to have met death in a terrible mine explosion in the Parall mine of the Stewart Colliers Company, near Oak Hill. Thirty-nine men were employed in the mine and only eleven have escaped alive. At midnight six bodies had been recovered near the mouth of the mine, and it is certain all the others in the mine are dead.

The rains have put the river up again.

The passenger train was more than two hours late Thursday night.

C. L. Wilkinson & Co., are to have a "white sale." Watch their advertisement.

Members of the Baptist choir are requested to meet at the church tonight for practice.

Two or three wrecks have been reported from up the road in the last few days.

We have escaped so far, but it may take something like a snow to settle this weather.

THE OLDEST OBELISK.

It stands on the Banks of the Nile Not Far From Cairo.

The oldest of all the obelisks is the beautiful one of rosy granite which stands alone among the green fields on the banks of the Nile not far from Cairo. It is the gravestone of a great city which has vanished and left only this relic behind. That city was Bethshemes of Scripture, the famous On, which is memorable to all Bible readers as the residence of the priest of On, Potipherah, whose daughter Asenath Joseph married. The Greeks called it Heliopolis, the city of the sun, because there the worship of the sun had its chief center and its most sacred shrine. It was the seat of the most ancient university in the world, to which youthful students came from all parts of the world to learn the occult wisdom which the priests of On alone could teach.

Thales, Solon, Eudoxus, Pythagoras and Plato all studied there; perhaps Moses too. It was also the birthplace of the sacred literature of Egypt, where was written on papyrus leaves the original chapter of the oldest book in the world, generally known as "The Book of the Dead," giving a most striking account of the conflicts and triumphs of the life after death, a whole copy or fragment of which every Egyptian, rich or poor, wished to have buried with him in his coffin and portions of which are found inscribed on every mummy case and on the walls of every tomb. In front of one of the principal temples of the sun in this magnificent city stood, along with a companion long since destroyed, the solitary obelisk which we now behold on the spot. It alone has survived the wreck of all the glory of the place. It was constructed by Useresen I., who is supposed to have reigned 2800 B. C., and has outlived all the dynastic changes of the land and still stands where it originally stood nearly forty-seven centuries ago. What appears of its shaft above ground is sixty-eight feet in height, but its base is buried in the mud of the Nile, and year after year the inundation of the river deposits its film of soil around its foot and buries it still deeper in its sacred grave.

Quite Sufficient.

A man who has for years convulsed audiences of old and young at his pleasure says that no comment on his entertainments ever tickled his sense of humor more than one made by a ten year old girl of his acquaintance.

She was a serious little person, and when the lecturer said to her. "I saw you in the front row, Jean, but I'm afraid you didn't have a good time," she looked at him with large, reproachful eyes.

"Why, I had a splendid time!" she said, earnestly. "Didn't you see me laughing? I laughed several times."

A Valuable Threat.

J. W. Brooks, a great railway manager of Michigan, whose penmanship was very poor, once wrote a letter to a man on the route, notifying him that he must remove a barn, which in some manner incumbered the road, under penalty of prosecution. The threatened individual was unable to read any part of the letter but the signature, but took it to be a free pass on the road, and used it for two years on the company's trains, none of the conductors being able to dispute his interpretation of the document.

Many a worthless fiasco has a good disposition.

A meary heart kills more microbes than any medicine.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

When a man boasts of his humility, you can depend on his hypocrisy;

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Some men expect to unload their own sins by confessing those of others.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The way of the transgressor is to acquaint himself with the law in his line.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C., says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat." Sold by John L. Wooten.

People who dwell in glass houses must live in a state of painful embarrassment:

A man who once had rough horny-hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Haze Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The secret of the widow's power is that she has discovered that men are only little boys grown big.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

A Royal Flirtation.

Perhaps the most striking example of the phrase "She stoops to conquer" in English history is furnished by Queen Elizabeth's celebrated flirtation with the Duke of Anjou. It was most important for the queen, threatened as she was by the hostility of Spain, then the leading power in Europe, to secure and maintain the friendship of France. The reigning king, Henry III., was willing to form an alliance with England if Elizabeth would marry Anjou, his younger brother. The queen promised to do this, though she had not the slightest intention of keeping her word. She invited the duke to England, carried on with him a prolonged courtship, presented him to the court as her affianced husband and even on one occasion condescended to kiss him in public. She thus kept France in a good temper until the danger from Spain had for the time passed away, when she jilted him with excusable shamelessness.

Ancient Vegetables.

During the building of the great pyramid of Cheops, says Herodotus, 1,600 talents of silver were spent in radishes, onions and garlic for the workmen.

Other patriarchal vegetables which we know from old inscriptions were grown in Egypt and other parts of the east quite forty centuries ago are the melon, the cucumber and the leek.

Many of our common vegetables we owe to the Dutch, who four centuries ago, at a time when English people hardly understood the word garden, were famous horticulturists. It seems difficult to believe that so late as the reign of King James I. peas were worth their weight in silver. A writer of the time speaks of them as "fit dainties for ladies—they come so far and cost so dear."—London Standard.

America's "Good" Women.

There are many varieties of good women in the world, some passive and others active, some subjective and others aggressive. The good American woman is the most active and aggressive of her sex. She exercises the strictest discipline over her own family. She has the most decided convictions on social questions. In nine cases out of ten she is an antidrinker, antimoker and antigambler.—Blackwood's Magazine.

John Hay's Wit.

John Hay was once the subject of a cane presentation and stood while the spokesman of the donors made a speech that ran into an elaborate oration.

A friend afterward commented to the diplomatist on the length of the speech.

"Yes," replied Hay, "he didn't want me to have the cane till I really needed it."

Reviews of Reviews

Many other publications are desirable, and you may prefer this or prefer that fiction and art publication, but the Review of Reviews is necessary. Substantial American men and women are going to keep up with the times and they are going to take the shortest cut which is the Review of Reviews.

The Cosmopolitan

A leading magazine for 18 years. With the recent change of ownership it has been improved. It is far better in every respect, and aims to be the best in the field. Every year or so there's one notable advance in the forward movement among the many magazines. This year it is the Cosmopolitan.

Woman's Home Companion

The Woman's Home Companion is for every member of the family. For our bright, earnest, cultured, home loving American woman it is an ideal entertainer and helper in a thousand congenial ways; but the fathers and brothers and sons join in its perusal by the fireside; children eagerly turn to the pages that are written for them.

The American Farmer is the leading Agricultural paper of the country, and pertinent to farming, live stock and poultry raising. Every farmer should have it.

SHOOTING STARS.

The Blazing and Paling of These Erratic Baby Planets.

The shooting star is an oddity of the very oddest kind. It is a world of itself—a miniature planet—probably not larger than the papier mache globe on your study table or the rubber ball with which the schoolboys play “three cornered cat,” but it is a world just the same. These baby planets are not always round, as planets are generally supposed to be, but are known to be in all sorts of queer shapes. Some are square, others octagonal; some irregular and many cornered, while one is occasionally met with which is smooth as a brick or a cement paving stone. Probably you have never heard of a man (or woman either, for that matter) “meeting with” a shooting star in any of his wanderings. Let us see how such a thing might be possible.

The shooting star is originally a miniature world, revolving around the sun with as much regularity as the earth, Jupiter, Venus or Mars. It keeps up this unerring flight thousands or even millions of years. Finally it reaches the limit of its existence. Suddenly and perhaps without any visible cause it shoots off at a tangent. It is now a “shooting star.” Formerly it was a world, but even now it is not bright as other stars are. Let us see what will cause it to “flame up like a gigantic torch in the heavens.” This particular body that we are talking about shot off from its orbit in the direction of our earth. Its speed is not less than twenty miles a second, probably five times that.

In the great outer sea of space it encounters no resistance to its headlong flight. But wait. It is nearing the envelope of atmosphere which surrounds our globe. What will be the result when it comes in contact with “the air we breathe?” The first stratum it strikes is so attenuated that its resistance is very slight. Yet the friction is great enough to instantly raise the temperature of the world. Within the hundredth part of a second the dense stratum of atmosphere has been encountered. The flight of the little world is now perceptibly checked, the result being a sudden firing of the mineral matters in the stone. There is an instantaneous burst of light, and then we see the doomed representative of the miniature planets in all its meteoric splendor. Possibly the streak of fire it leaves athwart the heavens will not appear to be more than a few hundred feet long. Certainly it will be thin and short if the little world was not larger than a football, because it will be almost instantly consumed as soon as it strikes the denser portions of the atmosphere. On the other hand, if this world which has so suddenly come to an end was as large as a good sized barn when it started fragments of it weighing from ten to 1,000 pounds may reach the earth. It is from these fragments that we learn the shape and composition of the aerial phenomena referred to as “shooting stars.”

A Grim Wager.

Wagers have sometimes taken a grim form. It is credibly recorded that in the eighteenth century a wager was laid for one of a party of gay revelers to enter Westminster abbey at the hour of midnight. He was to enter one of the vaults beneath the abbey, and in proof of his having been there he was to stick a fork into a coffin which had recently been deposited there. He accomplished his object and was returning in triumph when he felt himself suddenly caught and was so overcome with terror that he fell in a swoon. His companions, not being able to account for his long absence, found him in this condition. The fork which he had fastened into the coffin had caught and pinned his long cloak and so occasioned a fit of terror which nearly proved fatal.

An Adapted Version.

An Irishman was sitting in an inn in County Mayo one day while it was raining furiously without. A nobleman's brougham drew up at the door of the hostelry. Blazoned on the panels of its doors were the arms of its owner, inscribed with the motto “Fides regnat ubique” (Faith reigns everywhere). “Pat,” asked some one of the Irishman, “how do you translate that?” “Easy enough,” Pat replied. “Fides regnat ubique—Faith, it rains everywhere.”
