THE LIQUOR BAR

A Bar to heaven, a door to hell—
Whoever named it, named it well
A Bar to manliness and wealth,
A Door to want and broken
health.
A Bar to honor, pride and fame,
A Door to sorrow, sin and shame
A Bar to hope, a Bar to prayer.
A Door to darkness and despair
A Bar to honored, useful life,
A Door to brawling, senseless strife.
A Bar to all that's true and brave,
A Door to every drunkard's grave.
A Bar to joys that home im-
parts,
A Door to tears and broken hearts.
A Bar to heaven, a door to hell—
Whoever named it, named it well
—Christian Herald.

Governor Glenn has issued a lengthy report on the result of his investigation into the charges that if the State hospitals for the insane at Raleigh and Morganton were cleared of the patients who are able to pay for treatment in private hospitals room could be made for the indigent insane now claimed to be confined in jails and elsewhere waiting for admission. He says he has had every case examined as to financial ability and found in the Raleigh hospital only two patients who were able to pay in a private hospital, also two in the Morganton hospital able to pay for keep in a private hospital and three in the Morganton hospital over 21 but whose parents are amply able to take care of them. These are to be removed at once. There were thirteen in the Raleigh hospital who were able and did pay for their keep and 32 in the Morganton hospital under the same condition.

This, from the Washington Post, is a little rough on Thomas Dixon, Jr.:

"It does not occur to us that Mr. Dixon, intrinsically, is worth one fraction of the notice he receives. On the contrary, as we see him, he is a mere incendiary mountebank who seeks to stir up trouble in order that he may put money in his purse."

Everybody who has been keeping up with Mr. Dixon's movements knows that it is not money that he is after but fame. Incidentally he is gathering in the shekels but the main chance with him is the glory of the thing. And, as for his worth, a man is usually worth what he passes for and Mr. Dixon could not be so widely noticed and commented upon without being worth a great deal.—Greensboro Telegram.

We have said it often, and we say it again, patronize your home merchants. It is the local merchant and business man who pays the taxes, contributes to the relief of sufferers at home, gives credit in time of need and adds to the wealth of the town and county. The trade-at-home spirit, however, must be backed by fair business methods, on the part of the local business men, and he must exhibit acumen and enterprise by using the advertising columns of the local papers. The two things are the most effective weapons against the mail order business.—Concord Times.

WITH MRS. WHEDBEE.

Another Beautiful Entertainment.

Reported for Reflector.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Whedbee, wife of our prominent townsman, Mr. Harry W. Whedbee held a full dress reception at her home in West Greenville from 3 to 6 o'clock, this being another of the many charming entertainments tendered by a number of our leading society ladies to their resident and visiting friends.

Mrs. Whedbee's handsome home, recently remodeled in Colonial style, was artistically decorated with plants and flowers, while each guest was presented with a bouquet of carnations as she entered the large drawing room.

Six handed euchre was much enjoyed by all who participated in that interesting game, after which refreshments were served. This delightful feature of the entertainment was brought to a successful close when the flash of electric lights above the candelabra warned the guests that twilight reigned outside, and that patient husbands might be waiting in quiet sitting rooms at home.

Among the guests present were Mesdames Ficklen, Jeffress, Grimes, Dail, Cobb, Wooten, Jarvis, White, Fleming, S. J. Parham, Clare, Asa Parham, Woodward, Vines, Flanagan, Wilson, Carr and Arthur, and Misses Snapp, James, Cobb, Winnie Skinner, Higgs, Nell Skinner, Jones, Lottie Skinner and Ethel Skinner.

A Summary of the Railroad Rate Bill.

Following is a summary of the railroad rate bill which passed the House of Congress Thursday:

"The bill increases the inter-State commerce commission to seven members, stipulates that they shall be appointed for a term of nine years (not more than four men from the same political party) and fixes the annual salary of each at $10,000.

"The commission is authorized to determine and prescribe a just, reasonable maximum rate; its order is to go into effect thirty days after notice to the carrier, and is to remain in force unless suspended or set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction. Violation of the commission's order shall subject any carrier to a fine of $5,000 for each offense. The various district attorneys are to prosecute for the recovery of such forfeitures.

"The commission is to have access to all records and accounts kept by carriers. The requirement that the railways should regulate refrigerator cars more satisfactorily by furnishing icing is regarded as a specially distinguishing feature of this bill. 'Midnight tariffs' are also to be abolished by a provision that no schedule is to be changed without thirty days' notice. Failure to publish rates make the common carrier amenable to a writ of mandamus issued by any United States Circuit Court and failure to comply with the requirement that, to be lawful, rates must be just and reasonable, is punishable for contempt, the commission being empowered to apply for an injunction against any common carrier to restrain it from doing a transportation business until the provisions of the bill are complied with."

PRESIDENT MOORE COMING.

Will Speak in Greenville Feb. 24.

We have received the following letters which we publish in full as they are of vital interest to every man of every calling in Pitt county. Now farmers, merchants, lawyers, doctors, all turn out in full and give the president of the North Carolina Cotton Grower's association your loyal and enthusiastic support.

He is engaged in a great work and every man in Pitt county should hear him. Remember the day and date Saturday, February 24:

LETTER FROM SECRETARY PARKER.
Greenville N. C. Feb. 15th.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Please announce through your columns that Mr. C. C. Moore State President of the Southern Cotton Association will speak at the following places.

Kinston, Thursday Feb. 22.

Snow Hill, Friday Feb. 23.

Greenville, Saturday Feb. 24.

Washington, Monday Feb. 26.

Please urge the farmers and business men to attend these meetings.

Unless court is in session he will speak at the court house, at 11 o'clock. If court is in session the local committee should provide a hall for him. T. B. PARKER.

Sec.
LETTER FROM PRESIDENT MOORE
Greenville N. C. Feb. 15th.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Greenville, N. C.

I am pleased to read in the paper you send, the interesting report of the Pitt County Cotton Association. I appreciate the thought which prompted you to send the paper.

If you have space will you kindly publish the following:

Pitt county is reported as being active in Cotton Association work. This is well, because a county producing a crop of over 25,000 can well afford to set a good example to counties of less production.

Doubtless the Pitt county farmers realize what a benefit the Southern Cotton Association has been them.

I have heard that "figures don't lie," if this old saying is true, let us try figures here.

It is admitted that through the work of the Cotton Association the price of cotton was advanced fully $20 per bale, multiply 25,000 bales by $20 and you have the magnificent sum of $500,000 deep down in the pockets of Pitt county farmers as their share

That is not all, the business men have enjoyed an increase in their business of $500,000.

Then every family in Pitt county has enjoyed more comforts in the home than ever before.

I hope every farmer in Pitt county will join his district or township club at once and attend regularly every meeting.

I request the secretary of each club to forward to our office the roll of members so that we can from time to time send our literature direct.

Bear in mind that when the United States produces above eleven million bales of cotton we sell it around five to seven cents, but when the crop is about ten million

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

The residence of Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, at Raleigh, was badly damaged by fire Tuesday.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of J. M. Millikan as marshal of the Western District.

COX'S MILL ITEMS.

COX'S MILL, N. C. Feb. 13, 1906.

Misses Eva Cox, Minnie McGowan, Cora and Sadie Carroll attended the teachers' meeting at Greenville Saturday and report a very pleasant and instructive meeting. Miss Rosa Tucker, who is teaching near here, also attended the meeting and stayed over with her mother until Sunday afternoon when she came back to continue her school.

Benny Savage, of Greenville, was in our section Sunday.

Some of our people attended church at Red Banks Sunday.

Miss Ellen McGowan is on the sick list, but is getting better.

L. N. Edwards, who was hurt by the train some days ago, is improving quite fast.

Our clever merchant and mill man, J. M. Cox, has a very sick child.

We are having it wet enough now, so wet one almost has to hold his breath when he walks in the field.

The B. C. L. Co. is doing lots of work in this section.

Farmers have right much cotton around here waiting for 12 or 15 cents. Do you think they will get it?

Good weather would make people get busy on the farms. As yet not much has been done.

THE WEATHER

Fair, colder tonight. Freezing temperature on the coast, Friday fair.

One could hardly imagine that today's weather would come out of the kind we had yesterday.

There are entirely too many legal holidays. There ought to be a law forbidding the holiday observers to do any observing business without a quorum.—Gastonia Gazette.

bales we sell around ten or twelve cents per pound.

We cannot afford to produce over ten million bales in 1906, therefore we must reduce our acreage 25 per cent. from 1904.

Talk this over at your township club meetings and resolve to reduce acreage as advised by the New Orleans convention.

On Saturday, February 24th, I expect to be in Greenville and I want to see every man who chops, plows or picks cotton in Pitt county.

All come and let us look into questions important to us as farmers.

Anniversary Services.

The Memorial Baptist church here will hold an anniversary service on the fourth Sunday in March, that Sunday conforming nearest to the date of the organization of the church, March 27th, 1827. A committee has been appointed to take charge of the arrangements.

Came Back to Life.

A negro died near Grifton, Monday night. At least his family and friends thought he was dead and prepared him for burial. Next morning a mesanger was sent to Grifton for a coffin, but when he returned with the coffin the supposed dead man had revived. The coffin was sent back to town.

Improvements.

Mr. J. S. Smith is getting ready to have a house built on the lot adjoining his residence on Greene street.

Mr. J. B. Cherry is having a modern stable built on Washington street on the premises near his mother's residence.

Too Wet.

The 14th was pretty enough to tempt people to begin gardening, but it would have been like digging in a mud hole to stick a hoe in the ground.

A Salisbury man has voluntarily retired from the saloon business. It is stated that he "set an example of sobriety that almost repelled the purchaser of a drink." Such a man has more to answer for, in conducting a saloon, than one who has less control of himself. He has, or might have, refused sensibilities that would operate to make him slow to place evil invitingly before his fellow man.—Greensboro Telegram.

Queer Theory of the Universe.

The natives of Australia have a queer theory of the universe. The sky is said to be inhabited by three persons—a gigantic man with an immense foot shaped like that of an emu, a woman and a child who never develops beyond childhood. The man is called Ulthaana, meaning "spirit." When a native dies his spirit is said to ascend to the home of the great Ulthaana, where it remains for a short time. The Ulthaana then throws it into the salt water, from which it is rescued by two benevolent but lesser Ulthaana, who perpetually reside on the seashore, apparently merely for the purpose of rescuing spirits who have been subject to the inhospitable treatment of the great Ulthaana of the heavens (Alkirra). Henceforth the rescued spirit of the dead man lives with the lesser Ulthaana.

Pat Laughed Last.

An Irishman on seeing a notice in a haberdasher's window one day which ran, "Everything sold here by the yard," entered and asked the man of the shop if he sold butter-milk.

"Yes," was the answer.

"Then give me a yard," said Pat.

"All right," said the man, and, dipping his finger into a dish of milk at his side, he drew it a yard in length on the counter.

"Anything else?" he queried triumphantly of Pat.

"No," said Pat. "Just rowl it up in a piece of paper, and I'll take it with me."—Limerick News.

Secure a Good Location while there is an opportunity to do so at Reasonable Prices and on Easy Terms.

I have devided that splendid property, just east of the town limits in South Greenville, into convenient lots for home-seekers and will sell them on easy terms. There is no better location for homes anywhere around Greenville. High elevation, level, and convenient, being only a few minutes walk from the business part of town. This property is just outside the corporate limits, yet those who reside there will have the benefit of the graded school, and be as near to the churches, and depot and postoffice as are the people in many parts of the town, being only three hundred yards from Five Points, nice neighborhood adjacent to the property. Talk it over with me and let me show you these desirable lots. No better time than NOW to buy. Greenville will grow rapidly in the next few years and property will be higher. Mere Variations.

Mr. Newhall, the bridegroom, was humbly trying to learn some of the simpler technical terms applying to feminine garb and a few of the lesser intricacies of dressmaking language, but Mrs. Newhall declared that he was very slow.

"I think it's a shame for Mme. Fitz to make Elsie Gray's gown exactly like mine, when we're both brides, and she knew we'd be invited to the same places," said Mrs. Newhall on her return from a dinner party.

"Why, it looked entirely different," said the husband in his most soothing tone. "It was yellow, and yours is pink, and?"

"That's just the point," said Mrs. Newhall indignantly. "That's one of Mme. Fitz's mean little tricks. It was exactly the same gown, only it was yellow instead of pink and chiffon instead of silk, and where mine has tucks hers has folds, and in place of my rosettes Elsie's has those loops, and where mine has the material hers has the lace, and the top of my sleeves is the bottom of hers, and?"

"Help! Help!" cried Mr. Newhall.—Youth's Companion.

ENGINEERS AND FIREMEN SHOULD HAVE BETTER PROTECTION.

At the rate they are going the railroads of the country will not take many years to kill off their engineers and firemen, and it will be a serious problem to get enough men to keep moving the trains that run by steam. Seldom a day passes that does not bring accounts of wrecks attended by fatalities, and it is noticeable that the list of killed is nearly always composed of the men on the engines. There seems to be some degree of safety for the passengers, but none for the men in the cab. We are not prepared to offer suggestions as to what the railroads should do for the better protection of their employes, but really something ought to be done. It has reached the pass that a man is almost selling his life when he hires himself to go on a locomotive, and it is a wonder that the railroads can even now employ men to take these hazardous positions.

The public may read the accounts of these wrecks and think it is only a matter of small consequence if the engineers and firemen are killed just so the passengers escape, but the lives of these men are as dear to themselves and their families as are the lives of the passengers. It is appalling that these men, who in most instances are heroes, are being slaughtered so rapidly. There is blame somewhere, and if the railroads do not bring about some reformation it is only a question of time when they will be unable to get men to run on their engines.

Did you get one? We did and it was a "bute."

The familiar face of the Charlotte Chronicle smiles on us again. Looks like an old friend.

Wrecks are reported on the Southern railway almost as regularly as the days come around.

If the Corporation Commission investigates all the railroad wrecks it will have its hands full.

If the Americans have to leave China there is plenty of room for them to come back home.

Every woman in the land will want a copy of next Sunday's big papers to read the account of the wedding.

The baseball season draweth near. We are told Greenville will not have a team this year, as the backers got enough amusement out of it last season to last them for time to come.

Postmaster Glenn says it is all a mistake. He is not after Collector Duncan's place and would not even have it if it was offered to him.

Wonder what good old St. Valentine would think could he see how the day he dedicated to sentiment is desecrated in this age. The love missive being displaced with the comic cartoon, and the postage stamp supplanted by the club banging on the front stoop is, almost enough to make his bones turn in the grave.

Entirely Improper.

A dispatch from Wilmington says there is much excitement at Wallace, Duplin county, on account of an incident which occurred there one night last week. A church sociable was given and an orchestra from Wilmington furnished the music. While the festivities were in progress the young people proceeded to engage in dancing. The minister of the church, under whose patronage the affair was given, grasped hold of the bass violin and demanded that the affair stop. The music stopped, there was some excitement and then the minister and his followers left the house, after which the dance proceeded. If this is correct the young people were entirely at fault. To turn a church sociable into a dance was entirely improper.—Ex.

The Dangerous Enemy.

The most dangerous enemy of our government is the man or paper who is constantly attempting to array class against class and to stir up envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness on the part of the less wealthy classes against those who are more fortunate in the possession of this world's goods especially when the effort is made to discredit the integrity and honesty of the members of the judicial branch of our government. Our judges are presumed to be upright and honest and to be especially diligent in seeing that the law are administered alike to all. What a crime to attempt to destroy confidence in our courts.—Wilmington Messenger.

NOTICE OF EXECUTION SALE

NORTH CAROLINA, In the Superior Court.
PITT COUNTY. R. L. Smith & Company vs. Basil Dixon.

By virtue of an execution directed to the undersigned from the Superior Court of Pitt county in the above entitled action, I will, on Monday, the 10th day of March, 1906, at 12 o'clock M., at the Court House door of said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy said execution, all the right, title and interest which the said Basil Dixon, defendant, has in the following described real estate, to-wit:

The one undivided one eighth interest of Basil Dixon, subject to the life estate of his father, E. S. Dixon, in and to the lands which descended to him from his mother, Henrietta Dixon, (formerly Henrietta Boyd), and described as follows: "Adjoining the lands of L. A. McGowan, E. P. Fleming and wife, Ed Laughinghouse, John F. Boyd and others, and containing three hundred and fifty acres, more or less, and being the entire interest of the said Basil Dixon in and to the lands of which his mother, the late Henrietta Dixon, (formerly Henrietta Boyd), died seized and possessed, situated on the north side of Tar river, Greenville township, Pitt county, subject to the life estate of E. S. Dixon, the father of the said Basil Dixon.

Rain Coats

COPYRIGHT 1905 BY THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

This is splendid weather for Ducks, Doctors and Rain Coats.

Every prudent Man will buy a Rain Coat and get along without the Doctor and his bill. A Cravenette Rain Coat, if it is genuine, is a regular Fall Overcoat of Covert, fine Chevic, or mixed Worsted, with the fabric chemically treated before the Tailor gets hold of it. The process doesn't hurt the cloth in any way, but helps it in most ways; makes it impervious, though not proof against a fire-hydrant. In short, a Gentleman's Rain Coat is both a luxury and a necessity. Rain Coats tailored and finished in the best style, known to Rain Coat makers, $10 to $25.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

All Records Broken.

Just as the excursion boat was leaving the pier Dennis Riordan came rushing down, picnic basket in hand, shouting, "Wait for me!" The boat wouldn't wait, so he jumped, easily clearing the three feet of water between the dock and the boat, and landed fairly on the deck, but struck his head against a post hard enough to render him unconscious for half a minute. As he came to, he stood up and looked in amazement at the wide stretch of water between the steamer and the pier.

"Glory be!" he exclaimed. "What a jump!"

Reviews of Reviews

Many other publications are desirable, and you may prefer this or prefer that fiction and art publication, but the Review of Reviews is necessary. Substantial American men and women are going to keep up with the times and they are going to take the shortest cut which is the Review of Reviews.

The Cosmopolitan

A leading magazine for 18 years. With the recent change of ownership it has been improved. It is far better in every respect, and aims to be the best in the field. Every year or so there's one notable advance in the forward movement among the many magazines. This year it is the Cosmopolitan.

Woman's Home Companion

The Woman's Home Companion is for every member of the family. For our bright, earnest, cultured, home loving American woman it is an ideal entertainer and helper in a thousand congenial ways; but the fathers and brothers and sons join in its perusal by the fireside; children eagerly turn to the pages that are written for them.

The American Farmer is the leading Agricultural paper of the country, and pertinent to farming, live stock and poultry raising. Every farmer should have it

WHISTLER'S WAYS.

Winning Street Children as Models and Then Tiring Them Out.

The late famous but eccentric artist, James McNeil Whistler, had this gift of winning children to like and trust him. His friend, Mr. Menpes, has drawn an amusing picture of how he would proceed with some stray little child of the streets whose beauty or picturesque tatters had caught his eye. "A few words and a smile and the child would accompany him to her home. A harder step was in explaining to the mother, who was willing enough she should be painted, but certain to desire to wash her up and put on her best clothes, that she must come just as she was. But that conceded and due payment promised, he would sail off triumphantly with the ragged mite trotting trustingly at his side. And when Mr. Whistler and his model had arrived at the studio the artist would cry gayly:

"Now we are going to do great things together!"

Then he would prepare a luncheon, set the table, and finally—a moment of breathless interest to the small girl, who had been allowed to help in all the preparations—he would cook and turn a beautiful omelet and serve it blazing hot on a big platter. They would have a gay and festive meal together—and after that, business. He would pose the child and begin to paint.

Once he began to paint he quite forgot, except for the purpose of art, that the child was a child. He never asked or thought if she were growing tired. He painted on and on. He would have painted on until his little model fainted with weariness had she submitted so long to the ordeal. Fortunately she was sure to protest in time, although confidence in her new friend usually inspired a really long period of patient endurance, so long indeed that when the inevitable protest came it was of the most primitive, inarticulate and irresistible kind.

There would be a sudden loud, prolonged howl or an outburst of tempestuous sobs. The absorbed artist, greatly annoyed, would cease work and turn in bewilderment to his friend, exclaiming helplessly:

"Pshaw! What's it all about? Can't you give it something? Can't you buy it something?"

But, although gifts often assisted in soothing the exhausted and unhappy little model, the sitting was over, and it sometimes took more gifts and all Mr. Whistler's powers of persuasion, even with another prospective omelet included, to induce his overtired little friend to come again for another one. — Youth's Companion.

The Seed of Hemp.

Chief Justice Cattlin (1571), from whom the Spencers, Russells and many of the greatest English families are descended, when sentencing a prisoner convicted as a go-between in the correspondence between Mary of Scotland and the bishop of Ross thus addressed him: "The good seedsman hath sowed in you good gifts, but as it is said in the gospel, then came the enemy and he sowed darnel, cockle and noisome weeds. Such wicked seedsmen have been in England. If they had sown the right seed for their own use, the seed of hemp, and felt of it, then had they received according to their deserving, hemp, meet seed for such seedsmen."—London Standard.

Work is What Counts.

I pity the man who does not work, at whichever end of the social scale he may regard himself as being. The law of worthy work well done is the law of successful American life. I believe in play, too; play and play hard, but do not make the mistake of thinking that that is the main thing. The work is what counts, and if a man does his work well and it is worth doing, then it matters but little in which line that work is done—the man is a good American citizen.—Theodore Roosevelt.
