Mrs. Robert Little and her sister, Miss Lucy Galloway, were in town Tuesday evening shopping.

Misses Ida and Lula Vincent were in town Tuesday evening shopping.

Rev. Mr. Stanfield, of Ayden, preached an excellent sermon here last Sunday evening in the Methodist church.

Charlie Boyd and his brother were visitors in town Sunday.

Quite a number of traveling men have been in town this week doing business as usual.

A. G. Cox and son, Roy, spent Sunday at Sam Mumford's, who lives near Ayden.

Messrs. F. O. Nye and J. B. Carroll attended services at Hancock's last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper attended services at Hancock's last Sunday.

Mr. D. L. House, of House spent Sunday with his sister Miss Nannie, who is a student of the Winterville High School.

Miss Lela Roach who is a student of the Winterville High School, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents who live near Coxville.

Will Powell went to Greenville today.

The six year old daughter of G. E. Jackson, who lives near Winterville happened to the accident last Tuesday evening when returning home from school falling down, and cutting a place in her forehead about an inch long. While she is right badly hurt we hope it will not be serious, and that she will soon be out again.

The announcement made in the last report about the entertainment to be given in the W. H. S. chapel Friday night Feb. 23rd, stated that there would be an admission fee of ten and fifteen cents, but that statement being speedily made was incorrect. There will be no admission to the play at all, it is going to be free to all who wish to come, and after the entertainment is over oysters and ice cream will be sold. The public is cordially invited to be present. There is a rich treat in store for you. Be sure to come and bring your friend with you.

Carolinians in Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 19.—The Board of Governors of the North Carolina Society will meet this week to make arrangements for the annual banquet of the society on May 20th, the anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

As that date falls this year on Sunday, under the constitution of the society the banquet will be held Saturday evening, the 19th, and it is probable that the celebration will be in the nature of a dinner early in the evening followed by addresses by several prominent Carolinians who have been invited to be present.

ORMONDSVILLE ITEMS.

ORMONDSVILLE, N. C., Feb. 20.

Miss Lucy Turnage returned home last Saturday from an extended visit to friends in Ayden and Kinston.

The first shad of this season made their appearance here last Saturday, but they seem to effect the purse so heavily that many looked upon them with an anxious eye and anticipated the time when they will be cheaper.

C. A. Moore, formerly of Ormondsville, but now of Snow Hill, spent a few hours here last Sunday evening.

H. A. Stocks and wife, of Hookerton, spent last Monday night at the home of W. W. Forest.

Mrs. W. W. Forrest, who has been very ill, is improving rapidly.

Services were conducted in M. E. church last Sunday by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Pate.

R. I. Corbett and wife went to Bethany last Sunday.

The election held here last Saturday in the interest of a graded school was defeated by a large majority. There was much enthusiasm manifested on both sides.

The Telephone Girl.

"While it is possible that the telephone girl has her faults, she does not deserve all the adverse criticism to which she is sometimes subjected," said an old telephone man yesterday.

"It is of course very trying to be interrupted in the midst of a conversation by having the line cut in on' getting the wrong connection, bad connections and all those little things that try one's patience, but we should remember that telephone girls, like every one else, are liable to make mistakes and that all the troubles are not chargeable to her.

"For instance, it is often charged that the telephone girl claims that a certain line you want is busy when it is not. Now, as a matter of fact, the telephone girl can more easily give the desired connection than to report it busy. Making the connection is an easy matter and if you notice, when calling for a number you can tell whether she has made an effort to give you the number you want. If the number you call for is busy you will hear a distinct rattle as she attempts to join the lines.

"The telephone operator has many things to try her nerves and it is a wonder she is really as good natured as she is. The position being so trying it is absolutely impossible to avoid all the annoying little things that bring abuse on the head of the telephone girl."—Birmingham Aged Herald.

At the Opera House March 1st.

"A Jolly American Tramp," one of the biggest successes now on tour, will be the attraction at the opera house Thursday night, March 1st. It was written by Edward E. Kidder, the man who constructed "A Poor Relation" and "Peaceful Valley" for Sol Smith Russell, and is said to be a fit companion play to these great successes. "A Jolly American Tramp" will be interpreted by a very capable company under the able management of U. D. Newell.

Needham Pitts, of Granville county, was caught in the belt of his saw mill and so badly mangled as to cause his death.

MOTHER GOES MAD

Throws Her Children Into The Sea.

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 20.—The open door of a state-room which had been occupied by a woman and three young children on the trip of the Fall River line steamer Plymouth, from New York to this city, early today led to the discovery that Mrs. John Watters, of Brooklyn, N. Y., had taken the lives of her three little ones and then her own. Mrs. Watters apparently had thrown overboard her two young daughters and infant son, and then jumped after them.

Investigation by the attaches of the steamer indicated that the tragedy occurred between midnight and 3:30 a. m., the fact of the state-room being unoccupied just before the Plymouth made the Newport landing. The woman left two notes addressed to her husband. In one pencilled on the back of an envelope she begged forgiveness, in the other, written on wrapping paper she said that she "had worried" until she feared insanity and could not bear to leave the children.

What Woman Suffrage Will Do.

The national convention of Woman Suffragist was in session in Baltimore recently. The Baltimore Sun says of it:

Woman suffrage will, according to different speakers:

- Bring an end to war.
- Solve the divorce problem.
- End the contest between capital and labor.
- Make salaries and wages higher.
- Cause prices to be lowered.
- Bring an end to the supremacy of the servant girl.
- Settle the race problem.
- Purify municipal government.
- Decrease race suicide.
- Make babies plentiful, fat and precocious.
- Improve the complexion.
- Make jails and penitentiaries more congenial for criminals.
- Keep girls from getting too sentimental.
- Improve the methods of courtship.
- Cause factory girls to stop wearing red hats.
- Increase the age of messenger boys.
- Make Grover Cleveland admit that he knows nothing about women.
- Teach the girls and boys to go hand in hand to school and arm in arm to the polls.
- Make girls stop idolizing soldiers and show greater regard for the young men with tall foreheads and serious purposes.
- Bring about hundred of other reforms that will make this world just lovely.

Masquerade Party.

So many requests for another masquerade party have caused class No. 13 of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School, to plan for another one, to take place on Friday evening, March 9th. They are expecting a very large crowd to be present and a great number to masquerade, and a good time for all who come.

A Blind Spot in the Eye.

It is remarkable that although the optic nerve is of all parts of the eye the most sensitive to light, yet should an object fall on it as we look around us—and some object must always be thrown on it—it is invisible to us, and in our field of vision there is in reality a gap, though in ordinary sight the surrounding edges of this gap draw up together and so fill it. But by closing one eye by practice one may actually force the object which is reflected on to the optic nerve to disappear completely from the field of vision. Bernstein tells us that even the sun itself can be made to disappear if it falls exactly on the blind spot where the optic nerve enters the eye. This may account for the fact that some people can close one eye and stare the summer sun without wincing.

Art and Geography.

Among the visitors at an art exhibition were two old ladies from the country. They were examining with great interest a bas-relief of a young Greek shepherd, beneath which were inscribed the words, "Executed in terra cotta."

"I wonder where Terra Cotta is?" ventured the elder of the two, turning to her companion.

"Well, now, I ought to know," hesitated the other, "but I can't seem to place it just now."

"Ah, well," rejoined the first speaker as they passed on, "it must be a dreadful place if they execute harmless young boys like that there."

Sometimes I wonder what I was made for anyhow.

I hear other animals talking about mosquitoes. What are mosquitoes?

Of all the awkward, ungainly things I ever saw I think the kangaroo in that next cage is the queerest.

A widow always hopes to get a different sort of man the next time.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

It is a dry town in which one has no occasion to raise an umbrella.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The need of securing success at the outset is imperative. Failure at first is apt to damp the energy of all future attempts, whereas past experiences of success nerve one to future vigor.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

It's but a step from cunning to rascality.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C. says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A premature start often indicates a premature finish.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Knowledge of one's ignorance is the master key of wisdom.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fulness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Among politicians the proportion of the elect is very small.

His Choice of a Church.

"What church do you belong to?" asked a friend once of Senator Matt Carpenter. "I don't belong to any." "Why don't you join one?" "I don't want to. None exactly suits my views." "What one would you join if you were to feel forced to a choice?" "The Catholic, by all means." "And why the Catholic?" "Because they have a purgatory, and that's a motion for a new trial."—Kansas City Independent.

DUELING STORIES.

A Combat That Won Applause in the Time of Charles IX.

In its mediaeval form dueling was a serious affair. The loser was not only regarded as under the divine displeasure, but as the absolute property of the victor. He might be hanged or kept prisoner or handed over for disposal to the lady in the case. De Fendilles refused to enter the lists till he had seen a fire lighted and a gallows made ready to hang and burn his enemy after the victory he made so sure of. Another method of the time's barbarism was to drag the beaten man around the field, dead or alive. Even Bayard complied with this most unchivalrous custom. There were doctors of dueling, who were consulted just as were advocates of law, and the institution became entangled in the intricacies of red tape. The regulation about the choice of arms gave rise to many abuses.

A case much admired at the time was that of two gentlemen in the reign of Charles IX. of France, who rowed over to the Isle du Palais in order to be free from interruption. Just as they were about to cross—by themselves and without any seconds—they saw a number of gentlemen making for the quay to get boats and come and separate them. But they ordered the boatmen—they were both in one boat—to hurry and get them across as they were on urgent business. As soon as they touched shore they said to each other no more than "Let us get to work. These people will be here in a minute." And so they did—scarcely crossing swords before each man killed the other. Thus they were found dying side by side.

There was a historic case at Piedmont, in which a fencing master advised a young gentleman under his tuition to fight with dagger and sword and a steel collar around the neck of each duelist, with sharp points above and below. The young man was short of stature, and the arrangement enabled him to look up at his adversary comfortably, while the latter could not look down at all without the risk of nearly cutting his head off by his own exertions. Consequently the young gentleman dispatched him very easily in a couple of strokes.—Chicago News

Physical Irregularity.

The two sides of a person's face are never alike, according to the Indianapolis News. The eyes are out of line in two cases out of five, and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right ear is also, as a rule, higher than the left. Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest percentage of defects prevailing among fair haired people. The smallest interval of sound can be distinguished better with one ear than with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity, that of the middle finger growing the fastest, while that of the thumb grows slowest. In fifty-four cases out of a hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.

FOR HUMANITY'S SAKE.

Pitt county is one of the largest counties in North Carolina, covering an area nearly 40 miles square. It has a population above 30,000, and in the strictly agricultural counties ranks with any in point of wealth. While there are no very rich men in the county, the people are well to do and good liverers at home. The taxable value of the property in the county is $7,750,000 and the actual value is probably double that sum. The county is prosperous and the people have been wonderfully blessed with good health and plenty to supply their needs.

Yet as good as is Pitt county in all the things enumerated above, there is one institution in the county that is in the highest degree discreditable. More than that, in its present condition it can be singled out as the monumental shame of an enlightened and prosperous people. That institution is the county home for the aged and infirm. Grossly misnamed, to say the least of it.

In years gone by the institutions in the several counties throughout the State were called poor houses, a name most fitting, for in the majority of cases they were poor houses indeed, the very picture of poverty and want. These places were intended as a refuge for taking care of those who affliction or adversity had deprived of a sufficiency of this world's goods to provide for themselves, and had to be cared for at public expense or thrown upon the cold charity of the world. There was a stigma to the word poor house that was repulsive, even to those who had become objects of charity, and by an act of the Legislature the name was changed to county home for the aged and infirm.

It was no doubt the intention of the Legislature that these institutions should indeed be HOMES for the aged and infirm, but in most of the counties they yet remain the poorest of poor houses. There are laws making it the duty of every county to take care of such of its citizens who are unable to take care of themselves. There is never a criminal term of the Superior Court held in any county but what the presiding judge in his charge to the grand jury refers to this, and instructs the jury, either as a body or by a competent committee, to visit the county home and see if its inmates are properly cared for. These grand juries report back to the court with such recommendations as they deem necessary, and it becomes a matter of record. But it is too often true that the recommendations are never carried out and nothing more is heard of the county home until another court comes around!

The grand jury at the last term of court in Pitt county was a splendid body of representative men from the various sections of the county. This grand jury sent out an excellent committee to the home to inspect it and the report to the court said in part:

"The buildings are uncomfortable for the inmates and a disgrace to the county. After viewing the situation we recommend that for comfort, convenience and appearance it would be advisable to build (and should be built at once) a dormitory where the better class of inmates could be cared for better."

Taking the past as a precedent, nothing will be done with the grand jury's recommendation. Following the adage "what is everybody's business is nobody's business," things will continue to jog along in the old way and the inmates of the home left to drag out in misery their declining years until death comes to their relief, unless something is done to awaken the people of Pitt county to a sense of their duty.

It was with this motive in view, to do something for humanity's sake, that we visited the county home a few days ago, to see just what conditions exist there and appeal to the noble and generous people of Pitt county to do something for their betterment. Things seen on that visit were truly pitiable. The hardships, the want of personal comforts and necessities, the absence of everything to induce happiness, the abject poverty. Oh, for shame! A person with a heart can not look upon these things without a shudder at the thought that some change in fortune might send him or some of his loved ones to such a place.

No blame can attach to the superintendent of the home that the inmates are no better provided for. He is doing the very best he can under the circumstances. He is a kind hearted man and the surroundings show the touch of his care and his thoughtfulness for those placed under his charge. He would do better if he could. But the system is wrong. The idea of huddling these unfortunate people away out there in little shacks of buildings, some of them not as good as barns, is a disgrace to the county. If we are to have a county home for the aged and infirm let us have one in reality, one that is worthy the name. The inmates of the county home are human beings. God has seen fit to deprive them of the ability to care for themselves and has placed on us this duty, and it should be met generously.

THE REFLECTOR has this suggestion to make: The location of the county home should be changed, and it should be at or near the county site where all of the people of the county can see it and feel an interest in it. If the home of this county was easy of access to the people of Greenville, every day that the weather would permit the good women of the town would visit the home and carry delicacies and comforts to the inmates. Pitt county is amply able to provide a good home for the aged and infirm, and we believe it could be done without taking a dollar from the treasury. The county owns 160 or more acres of land surrounding the present home that is doing little good beyond supplying the fire wood used at the home and growing a few vegetables. This land would easily sell for enough to buy a site near town and build a modern home upon it. Or if all the money the land sold for should be needed for suitable buildings and equipment, we believe enough could be easily raised by popular subscription to purchase the site and donate it for that purpose.

This is written in the hope that the good people of the county will take more interest in the matter. For humanity's sake let something be done and done quickly.

AUCTION SALE! OF VALUABLE BUILDING LOTS ON BEAUTIFUL WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, MONDAY AND TUESDAY, FEB. 26TH AND 27TH.

The Washington Investment Co., invites investors, and the public generally to be present at the opening of their new property, "Washington Heights" on Monday and Tuesday Feb. 26th and 27th.

Sales will be conducted on the grounds, beginning 10 o'clock each day.

Terms of sale: 10 per cent of purchase price cash, balance 3 1-2 per cent of purchase price per month until paid.

No interest will be charged on deferred payments and no taxes. Each purchaser will be given coupon at time of first payment: One coupon in the lot will entitle the holder to one extra lot, in addition to those purchased. Rail Road fare will be allowed off the 10 per cent cash payment, to out of town purchasers within 100 miles of Washington. Company give bond for deed. As an investment these lots are far above Government Bonds; there is not a building lot within two miles of the City Hall of Washington, that will not bring 50 per cent more than it can be bought for today, within two years. Numbers of lots in Washington have doubled in value within the past two years, some have trebled, and others have increased four and five times. Washington Heights lies just beyond the corporate limits of Washington; the plot contains 165 acres of open land which the Washington Investment Company has divided into business and residential lots 50 by 150 feet in size; the streets and avenues are 60 feet wide. The plot is beautifully situated, being on a high rolling plateau some 30 feet above tide level, and giving a grand view of the broad Pamlico river, and the town of Washington in the near prospective, and not more than fifteen minutes walk from the City Hall. One hundred, only, of these lots will be sold during this sale. As an investment these lots offer the very best opportunity ever offered you. Remember the date Monday and Tuesday Feb. 26th and 27th, 1906. Come yourself and bring your friend.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

Catskin Rug.

A lady residing near London has a hearth rug which is probably unique. It is composed entirely of the skins of her deceased feline pets. As her cats died she had the skin of each tanned and added to the rug, which is now complete and contains the skins of fourteen dead "pussies." The rug is entirely of one color, black, as the lady in question has always made a point of keeping cats of that color. On the reverse side of each skin there is an inscription recording the name of its dead owner and the period during which he or she was the lady's property.

IN SAVINGS BANKS.

Romances That Come to Light in Their Everyday Business.

A ragged little newsboy entered a Pittsburg bank one day and boldly invaded the private office of the president.

"Say, mister," he said, "can I put some money in this bank?"

"Certainly you can," the president answered. "How much do you want to deposit?"

"A quarter!" exclaimed the youngster, pulling a handful of pennies and nickels out of his pocket. The banker took him over to the receiving teller and introduced him with all the deference that he would have shown to a millionaire.

The boy left the city soon after opening the account, but he kept adding to his deposit from time to time, and as he was naturally bright and shrewd everything he undertook prospered. He is back in Pittsburg now, the head of a successful manufacturing concern and one of the bank's most valued customers.

A year ago a proud young father out in Michigan sent $25 to open an account for his first born son, then less than a week old. "The boy'll need it some of these days," he wrote, "and we may as well begin to save for him right off." Six months later a tear dimmed letter came asking to withdraw the money to pay the little fellow's funeral expenses.

A working woman in a little town in New York sent a dollar bill in the name of her daughter, six years of age. "She'll be marrying by and by," she said, "and ought to have something to start life on." That was nearly two years ago, and almost every week since a dollar bill has been added to the account. There'll be a snug little marriage portion for the young lady some day if nothing happens.

Not long ago a woman living in Illinois sent $5, with explicit instructions not to let her "old man" know about it, as "he'd be after spending every cent of it for drink."

—William S. Power in Success Magazine.

TRAGEDIES ON TOMBSTONES.

English Churchyards and Their Graven Charges of Murder.

In the churchyards of Britain several tombstones exist with the accusations of murder deeply engraved upon them. A stone over the grave of three children in Mer-rington (Durham) churchyard bears the following inscription:

Sleeping we were slain,
And here we sleep till we must rise again.

In Sandridge churchyard, Surrey, on the tombstone of a custom house officer who was shot in an encounter with smugglers is the following:

Thou shalt do no murder, nor shalt thou steal.

Are the commands Jehovah did reveal,
But thou, oh, wretch, without fear or dread

Of thy tremendous Maker, shot me dead.

On a stone in Cadoxton churchyard, Glamorganshire, is inscribed the most fearful accusation of murder to be found on any tomb in Great Britain:

TO RECORD MURDER.

This stone was erected over the body of Margaret Williams, aged twenty-six, living in service in this parish, who was found dead with marks of violence upon her in a ditch on a marsh below this churchyard on the morning of Sunday, July 14, 1822.

Although the savage murderer escaped for a season the detection of man, yet God hath set his mark upon him either for time or eternity, and the cry of blood will assuredly pursue him to certain and terrible but righteous judgment.

A tombstone stood in Dulverton churchyard a few years ago on which was inscribed:

Poisoned by the doctor, neglected by the nurse,
The brother robbed the widow, which made the matter worse.

An accusation of murder appears on the tomb of Edwin, the Irish comedian, who was buried in St. Werburgh's churchyard, Dublin, and also on tombs to be found in Acton churchyard, Gloucestershire; Hoo, near Rochester; Little Stukeley and Mytton, near Clitheroe, Lancashire. —London Tit-Bits.

A new feature in our Corset Department is bound to interest all our friends. Of course, they understand that nothing finds a place there which is not right up to the mark. We've had women buying their corsets here regularly for many years. Now we are showing a real novelty,

We earnestly invite you to come in and inspect this innovation. It carries the approval of fashion, and the models are so beautiful that you must prepare to be tempted.
