MRS. W. H. RICKS ENTERTAINS.

Reported for Reflector:

Mrs. William H. Ricks charmingly entertained a large number of friends Monday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. As the guests arrived they were welcomed by the lovely hostess, and in the hall were served with punch by Misses Lizzie Jones and Mary Higgs. The hall, parlors and dining room were beautiful in decorations of silver and red subdued by the soft light of many candles.

Red and silver hearts, both large and small, some pierced by cupids dart, formed a prominent feature in the decorations.

In the parlors progressive hearts was played, the score kept by Miss Higgs was counted from beautiful heart shaped cards, on which was inscribed a verse of cupid sentiment. Mesdames Wheelbee, Cobb, Ficklen and Fleming tied for first prize. Mrs. Fleming drew the lucky card and was awarded a beautiful fan. The booby prize, a pretty Japanese bisque figure, was presented to Mrs. H. A. White.

Mrs. Coward received first consolation prize, a box of Lowney's bonbons. The second consolation prize, a box of Lowney's chocolate, was given to Mrs. C. S. Carr.

The prizes were presented by the hostess in very fitting little speeches. The guests were then invited into the dining room. In the middle of this room was a large table laid in white; around the edge of the table were large red roses, each holding a lighted candle and in the centre was a large heart-shaped Pandora's box, richly decorated with small silver hearts and a large silver arrow. The flower decorations were red and white carnations and ferns.

Elegant refreshment were served in a most unique and attractive way by Misses Jones, Lang and Higgs. Those present were Mesdames W. H. Long, R. W. King, A. E. Tucker, J. L. Fleming, H. W. Wheelbee, A. H. Taft, H. A. White, H. L. Coward, J. B. White, B. W. Mosley, J. L. Wooten, S. T. White, C. S. Carr, H. L. Carr, F. C. Harding, E. B. Ficklen, J. A. Andrews, W. H. Dail, R. J. Cobb, C. T. Muntford, and Misses Bessie and Bertha Patrick, Mary Higgs, Lizzie Jones, Janie Brown and Alice Lang.

Memphis Has Big Fire.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 21.—The four upper floors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society office building at the corner of Jefferson and Main streets were burned out by a fire tonight which originated in a storage room adjoining the offices of the Bradstreets agency on the second floor of the building. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The fire was discovered about 9 o'clock and within a few minutes the entire upper floors of the building were in flames.

Confederate Memorial Auditorium.

Durham, N. C. Feb. 21.—Mr. Hill C. Linthicum, the Durham architect, has just completed plans for a Confederate Memorial Auditorium, at Hertford, N. C., which will be a very fine structure, of gray brick, 50 x 120 feet. It will be the first one of the kind to be erected in the State.

HE'S A CUCKOO.

How the Young Married Man Tried to Play the Cuckoo Clock on His Wife.

This story was told recently at a smoker given by the alumni of the University of Michigan at Chicago. "A young man and his wife, not long married," said the narrator of the incident, "lived down on the South Side, where they had a pretty little two story house. One of their wedding presents was a large clock which told the hours and half hours by means of the cuckoo's cry instead of by the usual chimes or the ringing of a bell. One night the college fraternity, of which the man was a member, gave a banquet, and it was accordingly late when he arrived at the front door of his home. He thought that discretion was the better part of valor so that when he got inside he began to remove his shoes before going up stairs. Unfortunately he was not very happy in the execution of this act, for one of his shoes slipped and made a noise that could be heard all over the house. A moment later his wife's voice came from the head of the stairway: "Is that you Charles?" "Yes, dear." "What time is it Charles?" "Bout 12." "And then," said Charles, in telling the incident afterwards, "that blamed clock began to cry out. But it only cuckooed three times, and I had to stand there like a fool and cuckoo the other nine."—Detroit Free Press.

ABBOTT-HOOKER.

A Pretty Home Wedding.

Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hooker in South Greenville, was witnessed a beautiful marriage, the principals in which were Mr. Stephen M. Abbott and Miss Elizabeth Hooker.

At 8:30 o'clock when the guests had assembled in the parlor, Mrs. H. C. Hooker sang most sweetly "A Story Ever Sweet and True." Then to the strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march, skillfully rendered by Miss Mamie Haskett, the bridal party entered.

First came the dame of honor, Mrs. Lawrence Hooker, and the maid of honor, Miss Rosa Hooker, sister of the bride.

The dame of honor wore a becoming dress of chiffon over silk, trimmed with duchess lace and carried white carnations. The maid of honor was tastefully gowned in pink silk and carried pink carnations.

Then came the bride and groom, the bride beautifully attired in white organdy and carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations.

Rev. J. E. Ayscue, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church, united the happy couple with a ceremony that was beautiful and impressive.

As the guests arrived they were received in the front hall by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hooker and ushered into the parlor.

After the ceremony the guests passed to the sitting room where they were received by Mrs. W. B. James. Here the wedding gifts were displayed, comprising a large number handsome presents in cut glass, silver, laces, exquisite china, pictures, rugs, chairs, mirrors, etc.

Passing on to the dining room the guests were received by Misses Bessie Haskett and Vernessa Smith and served with ices and cake.

The color scheme throughout was green and pink, every room containing an abundance of palms and cut flowers amid pink draperies.

It was a beautiful marriage and many friends were present to extend congratulations to the young couple and wish them every blessing through a life so happily begun.

About the Size Of It.

Some gentlemen were discussing how to keep a cook, when one of them reported a rule that was given by the late Mr. Alfred Forbes when the same question was under discussion not many years ago. It was "give her everything she wants and let her do as she pleases." That rule just about covers the case, and seems to be the order of things.

Coming March 1st.

Comedy and pathos richly blending, touching that well spring of emotion, the heart, and causing the risibilities of its beholders to broaden from a smile into a hearty laugh are some of the promises made by Manager U. D. Newell for his sensational comedy drama, "A Jolly American Tramp", which comes to Masonic Opera House, Thursday, March 1st.

BRIDES OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

Apropos of the wedding of the President's daughter, it is interesting to recall other affairs of like character that have taken place in the Executive Mansion. One of the leading articles in the March Delin-eator is "Brides of the White House," by Mrs. Schuyler Crowninshield. It is illustrated with a handsome portrait of Miss Roosevelt never before published. "Miss Todd, a niece of the lovely Dolly Madison, was the first bride to pronounce her vows beneath the ancient roof," writes Mrs. Crowninshield. "She married Congressman Jackson of Virginia. Little is told in history about Miss Todd, but if she was as charming as her distinguished relative, the fascinating Dolly, Congressman Jackson was a lucky man indeed. One may in fancy see Miss Todd watching from the windows of the old Executive Mansion, which was afterwards burned by the British, for the arrival of her lover: and the lovely Dolly herself, hardly less excited, peering over the shoulder of the girl by her side. Congressman Jackson would presently arrive in one of the old Virginia coaches driven by a yellow or black boy, his body-servant sitting with the coachman, anxious to attend upon his master in this the most interesting and vital moment of his life. One can fancy Congressman Jackson approaching in knee-breeches and buckled shoes, taking his sip of negus or toddy in the great hall before being ushered into the presence of his beloved; and from the accounts of the times one may imagine the brilliant nuptial ceremony, which, historians say, was attended by every one who had any claim to social distinction.

Why Children are "Bad."

Because they are hungry or thirsty.

Because they have been allowed to overeat.

Because they have been given pernicious cheap sweets.

Because they have not had proper sleep.

Because their clothing is not comfortable.

Because the room in which they sleep or play is stuffy or ill-aired.

Because their parents break promises to them and buy them off with bribes.

Because they are brought up on a negative diet of continual "No, no, no," instead of an occasional good, hearty "yes."

Because their activity is not directed into a right channel. Even from babyhood a child must be doing something, and if it is not wisely directed its energies will find outlet in naughtiness.—Chicago News.

Be Prepared For War.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Chairman Hull, of the Military Affairs committee, in presenting the Army Appropriation bill to the House today urged the necessity of complete preparedness as to our army and navy, for trouble in the Orient. He declared that any nation not prepared to defend its position in China, might as well haul down its flag and quit the Pacific.

Plea for the Simple Life.

"Speaking of the woeful waste of money, we wish to interrupt the meeting long enough to give a few figures on an important matter that seems to have been entirely overlooked," says Homer Hoch. "We refer to the four buttons on the sleeves of men's coats. Now, there are probably 600,000 men in Kansas and they probably have on an average two coats apiece. That makes 1,200,000 coats and 4,800,000 or 400,000 dozen sleeve buttons. The buttons cost about 20 cents a dozen, and at that rate the men of Kansas alone are carrying around on their coat sleeves in the form of buttons that have no use on earth or in the sky an investment of about $80,000. And the estimate is most conservative. Fellow-countrymen, in the name of economy, and thrift, and philanthropy, and business sense, and a 11 sorts of other things, is there no way to stop this reckless extravagance?"—Kansas City Journal.

President Moore Coming.

Let everybody remember that President O. C. Moore, of the North Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Association, will speak in Greenville on next Saturday, 24th. Every farmer, laborer, merchant and professional man who can do so should be present to hear him.

The Strange Kiwi.

In New Zealand is found the kiwi, a strange bird of the ostrich family. Ostriches have two toes, but the extinct moas had three toes, so also have the existing emus, cassowaries and rheas, or South American ostrich.

The kiwi, however, differs from the other struthionian birds in having four toes. Further, the kiwi cannot be said to be quite ostrich-like, for in size it is not larger than the ordinary barnyard fowl. It has a small head, with a large and muscular neck and a long, slender bill, with the distinguishing feature that the nostrils are placed close to its tip. The legs are short, but the muscles on the thighs are well developed, and the feet are strong and powerful and provided with sharp claws.

The kiwi is a bird devoid of any external trace of wings, and there is no trace of tail visible, while it is covered with long, narrow, hairlike feathers, and on the fore part of the head and sides of the face are straggling hairlike feelers. — Chicago Chronicle.

Mourned His Loss.

Soon after the death of a rich citizen Jones met Brown, who looked very downcast. Inquiring the cause of the seriousness of his friend, Jones was told of the rich man's death.

"But he was no relative of yours," remarked Jones.

"That's just why I feel like crying," said Brown. — New York Press

Reflections of a Rhinoceros.

I am glad beauty is only skin deep.

Sometimes I wonder what I was made for anyhow.

I hear other animals talking about mosquitoes. What are mosquitoes?

Of all the awkward, ungainly things I ever saw I think the kangaroo in that next cage is the queerest.

It must be awfully unhandy for these two legged creatures they call men to move around. They seem to have only one toe on each foot.

Weather correct or not, first impressions usually are lasting.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

No matter how homely an heiress may be, she is never reminded of her ugliness.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Be careful when you handle a phonograph or you may develop into a record breaker.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use it. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Many a man would stop paying premiums on his life insurance if he knew what his wife had decided to do with the money.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C., says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Indifference is not to be mistaken for independence.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Jump at conclusions only when the conclusion is in sight.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fulness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

With the Best Intention.

Quite lately a workingman of the best type, having been laid up in a London hospital with an illness which needed incessant care, was at last nursed into convalescence. Gratitude to the kind lady who had tended him beamed on his honest face as he wished her farewell with untutored cordiality:

"Goodby, Miss Nurse, and thank you heartily. If there ever was a fallen angel on this earth it's you."

An old Balliol friend to whom I have told this anecdote caps it with an experience of Charles (afterward Lord) Bowen, whom we both knew well. Bowen when at Oxford went to a tobacconist's shop to order a peculiar kind of tobacco. As the woman in the shop did not understand the order, he explained that her husband would understand it perfectly.

"My husband, sir, is above."

Bowen said, "Surely you can call him down."

"No, sir; he is in heaven."—London Saturday Review.

Tapping of the "Death Watch."

The tapping resembling the ticking of a watch heard in old bedrooms is caused by a minute beetle, or, rather, by several species of the genus anobium. Raising themselves on their hind legs, very much as a woodpecker taps the bark of a tree with its beak, they strike their horned heads quickly and with considerable force for such tiny insects against old books, wooden panels or the plaster of a wall. Thus to the superstitious "The solemn death watch ticks the hour of death."—Nature Notes.

Against a Cat-astrophe.

Frank R. Stockton's "Reformed Pirate" has a harmless and absorbing occupation. To keep himself out of mischief he had taken to knitting tidies. London M. A. P. says that among the classes held at the east end of London for the instruction of the poor was one devoted to ambulance work.

One day a woman came to say that her husband had been drinking immoderately and to beg that something might be done for him. A clergyman sought him out, persuaded him to become a member of the club and put him into the ambulance class.

In a short time the man became earnest in the work and was a regular attendant.

"How is your man doing now?" asked the clergyman the next time he met the wife.

"He never goes to the 'pub,' sir," said she proudly. "He spends his evenings at home bandaging the cat."

He Proposed.

Together they were looking over the evening paper. He had been hanging around for six months without coming to the point.

"Oh, my, how funny!" she said.

"What is it?" he asked.

"Why, here's an advertisement that says, 'No reasonable offer refused!'"

"What's so odd about that?"

"Nothing, nothing," she replied, trying to blush; "only those are my sentiments exactly."

China Grove got the longest stop of the bridal train, even if it did take a wreck ahead to hold it.

Fertilizers are not being hauled in quantities that indicate any extensive curtailment of acreage.

Some of these days Greenville is going to want a park when it may be too late for a desirable location.

The railroads seem willing to run on a cheap scale and take chances on damages arising from accidents.

All the fuss about it shows that they are only in the Republican party for the jobs they expected to get out of it.

We verily believe there are more mental anguish and kindred suits tried at Greensboro than at any place on the map.

The President is credited with being quite disgusted over the rumpus between his political crowd in North Carolina.

The Republican leaders are about to prove on each other what the rest of the people have been believing for some time.

She will be remembered as Miss Alice, even though her name has been Nicholson, adding that much to its Longworth.

If they are as bad as is made to appear, why not indict the whole push of them around Greensboro and keep the court going all the time.

Amid the other good things coming Greenville's way, don't forget that a building and loan association is one of the greatest needs.

When it comes to the counties that cost the State more than they pay into the treasury (and there are forty-seven) Pitt is not one of them. But we have got one of the poorest county homes for aged and infirm in the State, all the same.

Farmers cannot hope to accomplish much unless they stand by their pledges. It is evident that some of them somewhere are turning loose their cotton, or the daily receipts could not be reported at 25,000 to 30,000 bales.

Editor W. F. Marshall, of the Gastonia Gazette, has preferred charges against them and caused the whole board of aldermen of his town to be indicted for wrong doing in office. Editors are sometimes loaded for big game, and we will bet Marshall did not flush that covey without knowing what he was doing.

Keep in mind that Greenville wants more originators and not too many imitators.

Asheville keeps on assuming metropolitan airs. A rich Northern lady visiting there was recently robbed of $2,000 worth of jewelry. One thing not metropolitan about the affair was the capture of the thief and recovery of the jewelry.

That was an enterprising correspondent at Fayetteville who telegraphed the number and name of the train that passed that town with the Longworth special on it when in reality the bridal car did not get in a hundred miles of that section.

When married men leave their homes and wives and lurk around houses of fallen women, it is hard to have sympathy for them when overtaken by such occurrences as the one at Concord. The wife and children who have to bear the shame are the ones entitled to sympathy.

SOCIAL EQUALITY.

Rev. MacArthur, D. D., a New York preacher, in a sermon recently delivered at the Epiphany Church, had the following to say regarding social equality: "There are thousands of white men whom I would not have at my table, but there are hundreds of negroes that I would be glad to have dine with me." There is little to say with regard to Mr. MacArthur's statement. It is a matter of no concern to us whether the reverend brother has the seats around his table occupied by negroes, or with members of the Anglo-Saxon race. It is a little nauseating, however, that some men will keep on advocating a foolish and dangerous doctrine, and of which they know absolutely nothing.

It is stated that Dr. MacArthur has been selected by Trinity College to deliver the baccalaureate sermon this coming commencement and it is our fervent hope that the brother may learn a few facts in the case which will show him how much foolish hot air he has given out to the public for notoriety's sake.—Charlotte Observer.

A POLITE FORM OF BRIBERY.

The free pass in its final analysis is hardly anything more or less than a polite form of bribery. If a man is a gentleman, he cannot help feeling under obligation to a corporation which has done him a favor; if he is not a gentleman, he is likely to be corrupted by the mere fear of losing the pass. And the point has been well-made that when a judge or legislator accepts a pass, it amounts to the railroad paying a part of his salary—the man chosen to serve all the people partly paid by a corporation with whom the public has to deal!—Progressive Farmer.

The Wilmington Messenger predicts that when Robb's sensation is made public "District Attorney Skinner will begin to get busy." There are many who believe that Arey and Casper and other Western distillers were no more guilty than certain distilling companies, owned by Eastern Republican companies. One company is said to have "committed" a steal of $60,000 for a few thousand. If the lid is once really removed, the stink will be greater than has been supposed.—News and Observer.

We are not worrying about the miscarriage of justice in the case of Pat Crowe. There are too many similar occurrences much nearer home demanding attention.—Durham Herald.

AUCTION SALE! OF VALUABLE BUILDING LOTS ON BEAUTIFUL WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, MONDAY AND TUESDAY, FEB. 26TH AND 27TH.

The Washington Investment Co., invites investors, and the public generally to be present at the opening of their new property, "Washington Heights" on Monday and Tuesday Feb. 26th and 27th.

Sales will be conducted on the grounds, beginning 10 o'clock each day.

Terms of sale: 10 per cent of purchase price cash, balance 3 1-2 per cent of purchase price per month until paid.

No interest will be charged on deferred payments and no taxes. Each purchaser will be given coupon at time of first payment: One coupon in the lot will entitle the holder to one extra lot, in addition to those purchased. Rail Road fare will be allowed off the 10 per cent cash payment, to out of town purchasers within 100 miles of Washington. Company give bond for deed. As an investment these lots are far above Government Bonds; there is not a building lot within two miles of the City Hall of Washington, that will not bring 50 per cent more than it can be bought for today, within two years. Numbers of lots in Washington have doubled in value within the past two years, some have trebled, and others have increased four and five times. Washington Heights lies just beyond the corporate limits of Washington; the plot contains 165 acres of open land which the Washington Investment Company has divided into business and residential lots 50 by 150 feet in size; the streets and avenues are 60 feet wide. The plot is beautifully situated, being on a high rolling plateau some 30 feet above tide level, and giving a grand view of the broad Pamlico river, and the town of Washington in the near prospective, and not more than fifteen minutes walk from the City Hall. One hundred, only, of these lots will be sold during this sale. As an investment these lots offer the very best opportunity ever offered you. Remember the date Monday and Tuesday Feb. 26th and 27th, 1906. Come yourself and bring your friend.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

ADVERTISING.

It is One of the Most Ancient of All the Civilized Arts.

It is generally believed, by the simple and unlearned, that the art of advertising is of comparatively modern invention, but a very slight study of the subject will be sufficient to convince the inquirer that it is, in point of fact, one of the most ancient of all civilized arts. Indeed, the first advertisement was probably coeval with the first man who had something to dispose of or with the first woman who wanted something she had not got. It seems not impossible that the serpent tempted Eve to partake of the apple by means of a "puff paragraph," setting forth the merits of the fruit as a complexion beautifier. Be that as it may, the uses of advertisement were known at a very early date to the Israelites, who were accustomed to placard the streets of their cities with the utterances of kings and prophets.

The ancient Greeks, too, were much given to advertisement, chiefly through the medium of the town crier, who, however, was not permitted to offend the ears of the citizens with his proclamations unless he were accompanied by a musician to give him the correct pitch. The fact that property had been stolen or damaged was made known by means of curses, inscribed upon sheets of lead, which were affixed to the statues of infernal deities in the temple, the vengeance of the gods being thus invoked upon the persons who had stolen or injured the advertiser's goods. A rider was usually added, to the effect that should the property be returned, or recompense be paid, the owner would intercede with the gods for a remission of the punishment.

The Romans also made use of the town crier to proclaim laws, victories or sales, and the walls of the streets were covered with notices painted in black or red or inscribed upon terra cotta slabs and let into the pillars on either side of houses and shops. Many of these wall advertisements were found in Herculaneum and Pompeii, among the most interesting being the announcements of the gladiatorial games, containing promises that shelter would be provided in case of rain and that the sand would be watered should the weather be exceptionally warm.—Cornhill Magazine.

He Got a "Yes."

Young Bleeter made a bet that he would pop the question to the haughty Miss de Vere and get "Yes" as his answer. He won his bet.

"And when is the wedding to be?" asked the loser.

"Oh," said Bleeter as he pocketed the money, "there isn't going to be any wedding. The question I put to Miss de Vere was, 'Would you like to have a single man accept me?'"

SNOWSHOES.

They Differ Greatly in Shape and Make According to Locality.

In the intense cold of the far northwest, where the snow is deep and frozen to a dry powder, says a writer in Outing, the dog drivers use a shoe that is two and a half feet long and fairly narrow. The meshes are coarse in the spring, but mid-winter and dry, hard snow necessitate an extremely fine mesh. The toe hole is placed about two-thirds the length forward, and the toe of the shoe is broad and upturned. In the best made shoes the filling is cleverly put in and presents a concave surface to the snow and does not sink in deeply, but carries up and forward, so that the long body and heel always remain down, even at a fast pace.

In eastern Canada, where the country is less open, the snowshoe is an almost exact opposite in shape. The oval is shorter and broadened until it appears very clumsy. Nevertheless it has been generally accepted for all around use. In this model the toe hole is placed farther forward for ease in hill climbing.

The "club" shoes follow this design, except that they have upturned toes, whereas the trappers and lumbermen claim that it is easier to climb hills on the old flat toed model, especially when carrying a pack or dragging a toboggan. A specially designed shoe, called a "hill climber," has no filling forward of the toe hole nor back of the rear cross-piece, besides being very coarsely meshed. Where the forests are very dense the Indian uses a fairly broad shoe about three feet in length, enabling him to slip smoothly about through the trees, with small danger of tangling the tails in the thick underbrush, which would be sure to happen incessantly if they were modelled after those used on the open plains.

There is another interesting model, formerly used in the Adirondacks and now mostly confined to the Rocky mountains, called the "bear paw" shoe. It is a perfect oval in shape, having no heel or tail. It measures about 18 by 14 inches and is coarsely strung, the meshes being two to four inches across. This coarse mesh is very necessary where the snow is moist, as otherwise the shoe would load up at every step and make traveling impossible. Most of the eastern shoes are closely meshed, as the snow, being light and fine in a wooded country, sifts easily through.

Some Definitions.

The following are gleaned from the definitions given by English school children:

Henry VIII. was brave, corpulent and cruel, he was frequently married to a widow, had an ulcer on his leg and great decision of character.

The septuagint was a committee of seventy men elected to revise the poems of Homer.

Simon de Montfort's father was a crusader, and from him he inherited religiousness, which was very useful to him afterward when he became archbishop of Canterbury.

The climate of Bombay is such that its inhabitants have to live elsewhere.

Etc. is a sign used to make believe you know more than you do.

At the Minstrels.

"What," asked Mr. Gilfithers, the eminent end man, "what is the difference between a phrenologist and a man who runs into a door in the dark?"

"I give it up," said Mr. Golsizzle, the other eminent end man, for they were cutting the show short that evening in order to catch an early train to the next one night stand.

"One knows the bumps and the other bumps the nose," explained Mr. Gilfithers.

Before the audience could reason it out Mr. Alphonse Rambolio, the celebrated counter tenor, was half way through his touching ballad, "I Never Cut No Ice With Her Until I Learned to Skate."—Judge.
