A UNIQUE FIND.

Gold Watch Dug Up In Street.

The road force repairing the Yellowly hill under the direction of Mr. Joe McLawhorn, while digging through the clay for substance to fill in the low places, dug up a handsome gold watch which was buried fully two feet in the clay beneath the surface. There was no evidence of recent digging anywhere near the place it was found, but on the contrary there is every evidence that the watch had been in its hiding place for half century or more. The watch is in perfect condition and went to work as soon as wound.

If any person can identify this handsome old watch Mr. McLawhorn will be glad to deliver it to its superior owner.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

The George B. Singeltary Chapter Brilliantly Entertained.

Reported for Reflector.

The Greenville chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy have a pretty historic custom of holding their second mid-winter meeting on the birthday of George Washington. The 22nd was accordingly made memorable in the history of the chapter by one of the most elaborate and artistic entertainments it has ever enjoyed since its organization.

Mrs. Jesse R. Moyer was the hostess of the evening. The program was full and perfect from start to finish. Of course the session on this occasion was given almost entirely over to the father of his country, and the young and talented hostess displayed the most faultless taste and ingenuity in the make up of her subject. The flag of the Nation was tastefully in evidence about the large and handsomely furnished hall and colonial stairway, the bases of luxurious potted plants being draped in national colors. As one entered the darkened drawing room electric lights flashed out from red, white and blue bulbs arranged for the occasion, while tri-color candles burned in minor iridescence in silver candelabra.

After the usual routine work of the chapter a number of very clever questions relative to Washington himself and some incidents of his time and campaigns were asked by the hostess and answered by her guests, and laughingly answered on the spur of the moment. The prize, a prettily framed picture, was awarded to Mrs. Haywood Dail.

The refreshments, another enjoyable feature of the evening, were still essentially Washingtonian. The napkins were bordered with slender cherry tree slips with here and there a bright cherry peeping from the foliage. Sandwiches in the midst of the first served viands were cut in perfect hatchet shape. Delicious ice cream displayed in historic cherry with stiff and tiny flag in the center, while the quaintest of tiny boxes in cocked hat shape held the final course of bon bons.

Certainly the universal expressions of appreciation should compensate Mrs. Moyer in some slight measure for her elaborate and most successful entertainment.

Mrs. S. Parham will be the hostess of the March meeting. The day will be given later.

Harvie Jordan to Speak in State.

President Harvie Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, will be in North Carolina the first three days in March and will join President Moore of the North Carolina division at Tarboro, March 1st, Goldsboro, March 2nd, and Raleigh, March 3rd.

Thanks.

The citizens have been so exceedingly kind, and have responded to our appeals so willingly, and have given us their patronage so heartily, that we, in the name of the Methodist church, particularly the Sunday school, wish to thank them in this public manner.

As all know, we are putting forth every effort trying to make the annex of our new church habitable by May 1st, because in our present quarters our work is very hampered and restricted.

We desire especially to thank our citizens for their hearty responses which alone will insure us large success at the box party to be held next Tuesday night. We desire this to be a town matter, and the manner in which all have responded, regardless of denominational lines, assures of the interest of the entire community.

Again most heartily thanking one and all for their sympathy and co-operation, we are,

Yours very truly,
J. A. HORNADAY,
GEO. S. PRICHARD.

A Fine Success.

The baby show and entertainment held Friday evening by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, in Perkins' hall, was a decided success. The attendance was large and much interest shown. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore won the prize for the handsomest baby.

For the most popular young lady Miss Lillian Whitfield received the highest vote and was crowned queen. Miss Irma Cobb received the next highest vote.

Several beautiful tableaux were presented during the evening and were appreciated by all present.

The ladies made a nice sum on the entertainment.

PRESIDENT MOORE HERE.

Addresses the People of Pitt County.

Mr. C. C. Moore, president of the State Cotton Association, spoke to a large gathering of farmers, merchants and business men in the court house here today. He was introduced by Mr. R. R. Cotton, president of the Pitt county division.

Mr. Moore's address was instructive and entertaining. He outlined the work of the cotton association from its beginning, showing how the movement has the support and hearty sympathy of every class and calling of men. He cited instances of many men in this state who have given their time and money to this cause.

When the association first organized the farmer was getting only $35 a bale for his cotton, while now he is able to get $55. The association has been the means of showing up the frauds in the agricultural department at Washington.

Mr. Moore urged thorough organization on the part of the farmers. People following every other pursuit are organized, and the farmer should be also. Get away from the conditions where we have been working for Northern capitalists and making no profit on our labor. Farmers as a class have not enough system about their business and do not even know what it costs to raise their crops. It costs 8 cents a pound to grow cotton, and for fourteen years the average price at which the crop sold has been 7 1/2 cents.

Farmers cannot pay mortgages and take care of their families doing business like that. They must have a profit. It is absolutely necessary to reduce the acreage this year 25 per cent from what it was in 1904.

Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse followed with a few remarks and expressed his sympathy with the purposes of the association. Among other things he urged the farmers to read the Progressive Farmer.

Mr. A. J. Moyer also made some remarks, urging farmers to do what the association requested them to do.

Mr. O. L. Joyner offered a resolution, which was adopted, that every cotton grower present agree to reduce his acreage this year 25 per cent from what it was in 1904.

The county association will hold its next meeting on Monday, March 5th.

M. F. Hardee returned from Kinston this morning.

COX'S MILL ITEMS.

Cox's MILL, N. C. Feb. 13, 1906.

This fine weather has got farmers very busy sewing beds plowing and planning. I plan as much of my time as I can. Oh it makes one feel that spring time is near at hand.

I am glad to say that Mr. Johnny Cox's little boy who has been very sick with pneumonia is improving very fast.

Some of our people attended church at Black Jack and others at Hancock's Sunday. Eld. Linday, of Wilmington preached a very good sermon at Hancock's and Eld. C. C. Bland, of Ayden, preached a short but very interesting sermon.

J. S. Edwards, of Grimesland, went to see his brother, L. N. Edwards, Sunday. The latter is able to get out again.

Josh Manning, of Winterville, was in this section Sunday.

B. C. Savage, of Greenville, was visiting in our section Sunday.

Guilford Page, a prosperous farmer near here, broke one dozen plow points in a day and a half with one horse and it wasn't a good day to plow either.

Miss Ellen McGowan, who has been sick, is very much better.

Henry Hardee is off at present so we can't get any shingles made just now, and building goes slow.

Our little boy says he don't put any faith in signs or predictions for snow, any more but guess we will have some rain soon.

Nothing to Frighten One.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—The Secretary of State has received a telegram from Mr. Rockhill, minister to China, stating that he and his colleagues see no cause for undue apprehension concerning the situation in China. While they consider caution and watchfulness always necessary, they believe the published reports of uneasiness to be without cause. Missionary troubles are not more frequent than usual, it is said, and are due, as was the Shanghai riot, to local causes.

Mr. Rockhill says the Chinese government appreciates the importance of preventing hostility towards foreigners; that it has recently been cautioned by Japan in this respect, and has declared its determination to ensure their safety under all circumstances. The dispatch adds that while the boycott may continue, with local friction, nothing more serious is anticipated by those on the ground.

Use of Both Hands.

We should form the habit of using each of our hands in turn in our one handed activities. In a few months we might attain to fair ambidexterity, in a few years to the full use of each hand. For this object the best exercise is writing with the neglected hand. If a man learned to write well with either hand almost all the other unimanual graces would be added unto him. There are many other unimanual activities in which, by changing the hand employed in them, we might cultivate ambidexterity, as in carrying a stick or umbrella, in fencing with a foil, in counting money, in changing our watch pocket from side to side, in changing the parting of our hair, in the use of a spoon in taking soup, in domestic carpentry and in many other usual activities.—Sir James Saw-

A New Dish.

It was Tuesday morning, the clothes had been washed, dried and folded the day previously, and common sense pointed to the fact that it was ironing day, but cautious Scandinavian Tillie, the new maid, was not going to make the mistake of going ahead before being sure that she was right.

Before committing herself to the obvious task she poked her head into the dining room to say appealingly:

"Meesis, I skuld like to speak something."

"What is it, Tillie?"

"Skal I cook some flatiron?" asked Tillie earnestly.—Youth's Companion.

Forehanded Boys.
It is perhaps not true that in St. Louis when the noon whistle blew carpenter nailing shingles on a roof left his hammer suspended in the air at the upper end of a stroke and went to lunch, but Search Light vouchers for the following, which is along the same line:

While the American Library association was in session a number of members went to inspect a cotton mill. They were in the card room when the whistle blew for noon and saw the card room boys put up their work as if by magic and disappear.

"Do all the boys drop their tools the instant the whistle blows?" asked one of the visitors.

"No, not all," replied the foreman. "The more orderly have their tools all put away before that time."

He Got the Pass.

An application for an annual pass was once made to Commodore Vanderbilt by the president of a road about twenty-five miles long. "Your road doesn't seem to cover a great amount of territory," suggested the commodore to the applicant. "No," said the applicant, "it isn't quite so long as the New York Central, but, by gracious, Mr. Vanderbilt, it's just as wide!" The pass was issued.

Small sorrows are most voluble
Kindness is the key to every heart
Fidelity is the best evidence of faith.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

No big success can come to a little soul.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Saving money is not being saved by money.

Sorrow is often one way of spelling strength.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Beauty is but skin deep
'Almost' never killed a fly

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C. says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Age increases love.
Few people know how to be old.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Occasionally love affairs drag on so that Cupid disappears and Father Time takes his place.— Atchinson Globe.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

MUTILATED MONEY.

Conditions Under Which It Will Be Redeemed by Uncle Sam.

The United States government will pay for a mutilated bill provided that three-fifths of it are recovered. The method of determining just what part of the note remains is rather interesting. Each mutilated bill is carefully pasted on a backing of paper the size of the complete bill. The expert has a piece of glass the exact size of the bill. This glass is divided into forty squares. When placed over the bill if the expert can find that the remnants of the bill fill twenty-four of the squares, or three-fifths of them, the bill will be redeemed.

Not long ago a Missouri farmer was leaning over to feed his pigs when he dropped his purse into the pen. When he discovered his loss an hour later he searched the pen and found the purse, but nothing of its contents. The pigs were slaughtered that day and the remains of the money taken to Washington. Three hundred dollars were returned to the farmer.

Burned money is the hardest for the government experts to work on, with the possible exception of money which has been gnawed by mice. The department at Washington once received a cigar box full of money which had been sent from Philadelphia with the necessary affidavit showing that it had been inside a poorly constructed safe and had been burned to the condition in which it was forwarded. Evidently with the idea that the original package ought not to be broken, the sender inclosed the charred pieces with some silver coins which had also been in the badly burned safe. In its passage through the mails the heavy silver was shaken through the charred bills till there was hardly a piece left the size of the head of a pin.

The experts who handled the mutilated money by the aid of magnifying glasses soon brought out four fifty dollar bills and within an hour recommended that they be redeemed by the treasury.

Only infinite care and patience can bring any result with the mice chewed bills. Each of the pieces is laid out on a hard, smooth surface, and with the assistance of magnifying glasses they can be placed in their proper position in relation to one another. The experts have a copy of every bill which has been issued by the government. These are used as models as soon as enough of the bill has been laid out to establish its issue. The experts say that the best bills were printed by the government during the civil war period. The grade of paper was superior to any other used, and the engraving has never been excelled.

Yawning For Health.

A German expert on gymnastics announces that one need not go to a well known equipped gymnasium in search of a course of health giving exercises. Deep yawning practiced as a regular exercise is the cheapest and surest road to perfect health. We are still familiar with the theory that systematic deep breathing is an excellent thing for the lungs, and it is on similar grounds that yawning is recommended. The expansion of the breast bones and the stretching of the arms which accompany a wholehearted yawn, together with the filling of the lungs, form a splendid daily exercise.

His Farm Work.

A professor of the New York Law school was telling his students one day of the need that lawyers occasionally have for a little knowledge of agriculture. "I was reminded of this need once," he declared, "when a young attorney of this city told me about his plans for spending two or three days in the country next summer. 'I want to go to a farm,' the young attorney said, 'and for two or three days do a farm hand's work. I want to shovel hay.'"

STRONG Again

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it. Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer—weak, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the whole-some food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.

They are a fine set when even the congressmen get indicted for wrong doing in office.

It just shows what is in Greenville when gold watches can be dug up on the streets.

Durham has grown almost envious of Charlotte's lead and has begun to arrest the operators of blind tigers.

Congressman Blackburn can now feel how it is to face true bills found against him by the Federal grand jury.

There are other things around Greenville worth digging for. This town is a gold mine if properly worked.

The ground hog may be staying in his hole to save his reputation, but we bet he wants to be out in this pretty weather.

With Dr. McArthur's views on social equality we do not think many people in North Carolina will care to hear him speak.

As Mr. Morris, husband of the woman ejected from the White House, could not get an apology from the President, wonder what he will do next.

The song "Everybody works but father," hits the spot in many instances, but a new version with
"nobody" in place of "everybody" would not miss the mark as often as might be imagined.

Money can cover a multitude of sins, or play an important part in hushing the voice of scandal. The publicity in connection with the Duke suit for divorce has reached the point of affecting the business of the tobacco trust and is hurting its trade, especially in Europe. That this may be checked negotiations are now on for the divorce proceedings to be withdrawn and the family trouble between Duke and his wife ended.

The people around town are getting more interested in the matter of day current from the electric plant.
It is a thing that is needed and must come before a great while. We notice that several other small towns throughout the State that have electric plants are also discussing the day current question, realizing that to install it will by the means of developing various small industries that will help to build up the town.
Greenville cannot afford to be behind in the march of progress. We need small manufacturing enterprises, and being able to get power will bring them

The North Carolina and Virginia Press Association will hold a joint meeting the latter part of June or early in July at Hotel Mecklenburg, Chase City, Va. After the meeting
there will be an excursion by steamer to Providence and Boston. This will give the editors a delightful trip.

Congress refused to adjourn
Thursday in honor of Washington's birthday. We believe that was right. There are too many holidays of which legislative bodies, public institutions and schools take advantage to adjourn, merely to take a day off at public expense. If those who get their salaries from the public treasury had to miss their pay for every day lost, as is the case with the business man if he closes, there would be less of the birthday adjournment. Holidays are all right occasionally when they mean something, but there are too many of them.

A BETTER TEST.

"I've just learned a new charm to tell whether or not a man loves you," says the girl with the gulging pompadour.

"What is it?" asks the girl with the new diamond ring.

"Why, you take four or five apple seeds and name each of them after a particular man, and place them—the apple seeds, I mean—on the stove, and that first one that pops is the one that loves you."

"Humph!" mused the girl with the new diamond ring, absent-mindedly twisting that piece of jewelry about her finger. "I know a surer way than that."

"You do?"

"Yes, indeed. You take one particular man and place him on the sofa in the parlor, and sit close to him with the light a little low, and look up to him very attentively, and if he doesn't pop you know it's time to put another man on the sofa."

AGAINST C. O. D. SHIPMENTS OF LIQUOR.

Minority Leader John Sharp Williams yesterday delivered himself of some opinions to which we want to utter a hearty "Amen."

The occasion of Mr. William's remarks was at the consideration of the bill to prevent the C. O. D.
shipments of liquor into prohibition territory, brought up before the House Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Williams said that such shipments enabled the "blind tigers" to thrive and that communities in his native State, Mississippi, were so incensed over this encouragement of liquor selling by the express companies that attracts upon the express offices, which were in effect barrooms, need cause no surprise.

Mr. Williams was exactly right, and he was also right when he protested against the shipment of liquor to fictitious persons, in communities which had decided on local option.

He was again right when he entered protestations against the United States standing in a position of assisting lawbreakers.

We give the brother our hand for expressing our sentiments. It is wrong and a rank injustice to allow the C. O. D. shipment of liquor to persons in prohibition districts, who seek to hide their identity by an assumed name. It is an injustice to the majority of the people, who voted out whiskey.

And it is, when permitted, nothing more nor less, than a system as railroad "blind tigers," allowed under the smiles of the law.—Charlotte News.

TO SPOT HOLDERS.

About the middle of last November the Southern Cotton Association advised all spot holders to demand fifteen cents per pound, basis middling, for the balance of the unsold portion of the present crop and pledges were asked for ninety days. The mammoth cotton convention held at New Orleans, January 11th 13th, 1906, passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the holding movement for fifteen cents and advocated the continued holding of the unsold portion of the crop for that price independent of the 90 day pledging.
The executive committee of the association subsequently endorsed the action of the convention and all spot holders were earnestly asked to stand firm until a maximum price of 15 cents was offered. Remember one year ago cotton sold at seven cents per pound in February and advanced to over ten cents early in July in the face of a 14,000,000 bale crop. This year the crop is 3,500,- 000 bales less. Consumption is far greater this year than last, and the prices of all lines of cotton goods abnormally high. If the small balance of the cotton now held is sold for fifteen cents, the whole crop will not average 11 cents per pound.
Receipts will soon drop off heavily and a stronger market will be had.

Do not rush your cotton on the market, but hold it and win out in the great struggle that is on between the spot holders on the one side and speculators' spinners and buyers on the other.

Yours truly,
HARVIE JORDAN,
President S. C. A.

The largest Methodist church in Georgia expected to use 100 gallons of the usual kind of paint, they only used 32 gallons L. & M. mixed with 24 gallons Linseed Oil.
It costs less to paint a house with L. & M. than with other paint because painter mixes Linseed Oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents a gallon with L. & M., and doesn't pay $1.50 per gallon for Linseed Oil as done if ready-for-use paint is used. Also because the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the paint wear like iron.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

From Hungary.

A well known publisher has received the following entertaining epistle from a Hungarian reader. It is quoted verbatim:

"Subscribed I am so free to You apply and beg. You would be so good on my address a list of prices of Your precious shop upon my costs to send. I would English works buy and I know not any English book trade. I pray You, to me for my bad English friendly to pardon. I am a native Hungarian and study the beautiful but for us Hungarians very heavy English language only by the way from one and a half years. Hoping you will my modest petition accomplish, remain, Your servant, &c.

"P. S.—I beg to me your list of prices with payment on delivery to send."—Harper's Weekly.

He Had Preferences.

Squire Lord, of local fame in Effingham, N. H., in the last century had accumulated, by all sorts of methods, a fortune for the times and place. Keeping the country store, being practically the "bank" of those parts and increasing wealth beyond expenditures, had nourished an ambition to live in a place larger and with more social opportunities than the little village afforded. So he packed up one autumn, took a house in Portland, which was the town of the world to country people then, and, with his family, started in to cut a dash.

To his chagrin he found he was one of many in that place, and not a scrape or bow was coming his way. Christmas saw him back, bag and baggage, in Effingham, and that evening in his store, to the inquiry of one of the village loafers, "Why'd ye come back, squire, fore you'd calculated?" he replied:

"I've had enough of that place. Yer see, I'd rather be a king among hogs than a hog among kings."—Boston Herald.

Too Busy to Work.

The way to command a good price is to never cheapen one's stock in trade. At least that is the principle adopted by an Ohio justice of the peace. This gentleman, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger, has missed his calling. Given his opportunity, he would soon make a name among the humorists.

An attorney in a neighboring city wrote him to inquire about a judgment that had been entered against a client. He inclosed a stamp for reply. Several days later he received a postal card bearing this message:

"Your inquiry received. I beg to inform you that my time is mighty valuable just now. Corn cutting is most nigh here, politics is sizzling and the bass fishing is fine. If you would inclose a dollar bill it might stimulate me some. I paid $2.00 to a lawyer for answering a question, and all he said was 'No.'"

IMITATIVE MONKEYS.

One That Essayed the Roles of Laundress and Cook.

Monkeys are the most imitative of the lower animals, and some very funny stories are told of their pranks. Occasionally they get themselves into trouble by their propensity for doing what they see people do and then get well punished for their mischief. A story is told of a pet monkey owned by a lady living in London that, seeing the maid washing the laces of her mistress one day, obligingly offered to help her. Being angrily repulsed by the maid, the monkey withdrew at a safe distance, and after giving the girl a good scolding in monkey chatter for her rudeness he started out to see what he could find on his own account in the way of laundry work. Relating the story, the lady who owned the monkey said:

"Unfortunately the windows of my room were invitingly open, and he entered with the idea of the washing still fresh in his head. He soon discovered two small drawers containing lace, ribbons and handkerchiefs. Ah, here was the washing all ready to his hands! In a moment all of these articles were out of the drawers and into a foot pan, together with all the soap and water that happened to be in my room, and the laundering began. He must have washed away with great vigor, for when I returned to my room after an absence of an hour or so I found him busily spreading out to dry the torn and disfigured remnants of my lace, ribbons and handkerchiefs. He was well aware that he had done wrong. Without my speaking to him, he made off the moment he saw me, going very quickly and hiding himself in the case of the kitchen clock in his own home."

"At another time this same monkey saw the cook at work preparing partridges for dinner. This looked like an amusing and interesting operation, and he determined forthwith to put it to the test. There were no more partridges. But, ah, yes! His mistress had some pet bantam fowls! Doubtless one of them would do equally well. At the first opportunity he hurried out in the yard, seized one of the hens, quickly returned to the kitchen and then coolly began pulling out the feathers just as he had seen the cook do, utterly regardless of the squawking protests of the poor bantam. The servants heard the noise and hurried to the kitchen, but they found the hen in such a pitiful condition that they were obliged to kill her."

A Tender Husband.

"Wherever did you get that dreadful black eye, Mrs. Hawkins?" said the east end district visitor as she seated herself on the extreme edge of the least dirty chair in the room.

"It was the result of a triflin' haltercation wiv my husband, mum," replied the lady of the house.

"Dear, dear, dear!" cried the visitor, holding up her hands in horror. "How dreadful! What a bad, wicked man your husband must be!"

"Not at all, mum," retorted the other, with dignity. "'Awkins is 'asty, but 'e's a puffet gentleman at 'eart. I can hassure you that after 'e'd giv' me this black eye 'e gat 'old-in' a cold fryin' pan to it for hupwards of a hower, a-tryin' to deduce the swellin'. A little hattention like that goes a long w'y toward makin' marri'd life 'appy, mum, as I dessay you've fahnd yerself." — London Mail.

Well Timed.

"That was a great sermon you preached this morning," said the old churchwarden, "and it was well timed too."

"Yes," rejoined the parson, with a deep sigh; "I noticed that."

"Noticed what?" asked the puzzled warden.

"That several of the congregation looked at their watches frequently," answered the good man, with another deep sigh. — London Answers.

When There Is No Hope.

Here are a few simple rules by which a man may determine whether or not his attentions to a girl are in vain.

If she asks him for the fan which he has been carrying home from the theater, she isn't in love with him. If she were, she would forget the fan and give him a chance to call and return it.

If she fondles the flowers he gives her, she is interested. If she lets them wither in the box, his case is hopeless.

If she often pleads a headache and "can't see him" he would better call elsewhere.

When she yawns and says she "can't think of anything to say" it is time for him to go away and stay away.

When she forgets to ask him to come again and says "How do you do?" when he says "Goodby" and neglects to make up an excuse for him when he jams his umbrella through her father's hat there is no hope for him.

THE RALSTON

HEALTH SHOE.

Sho making has been developed on wooden feet--lasts--which know no "pinch" nor discomfort. The soft, yielding, tender flesh of a live foot has thus been compelled to inhabit an unnatural, ill-fitting and oftentimes unsanitary shoe. To be foot-tired is the average man's daily inheritance. And how much ill health can be traced to an ill-fitting shoe. When the foot is improperly shod the delight of walking is gone, and man's best friend,—his feet—refuse to him the comfort he should enjoy. A perfect walking shoe, one that keeps the foot always in good condition,—can such be had?

This question brought into being the Ralston Health Shoe. Recognizing that the foot sole is a curve made by the twenty-six bones which form the heel, ball and toes, (a fact strangely ignored by shoemakers in the past) we evolved a construction method which places prime importance in last modeling.

Ralston lasts are anatomically correct and differ from all other makes. Ralston construction is a principal combining comfort, ease, service, style, fit and commonsense,—real quality in footwear, built into the shoes from the very start.

Shoes made on Ralston lasts are nature shoes, conforming to the natural foot, and because they need no "breaking-in" they never lose that charm and style for which Ralston shoes are famous,—and which cannot be obtained in other methods of manufacture.

In the selection of materials for Ralston shoes the World's best makers are searched, and every bit of upper, top, or sole leather, linings and fittings must pass the Ralston test before acceptance. The same idea with our employees. Each and all must do his or her part according to the Ralston idea, whether it is cutting, stitching, lasting, making or finishing. The result is a shoe unrivalled in pleasure giving, service and abounding in comfort and style. Thus our immense factory with its army of happy, skillful employees is dedicated to the gospel of the foot salvation from cramped and unsuitable footwear. The Ralston Shoe cannot be duplicated at the price asked—$4.00—and as good a shoe is not made or sold for less.
