FARMVILLE ITEMS.

Farmville, N. C., Feb. 24th, 1906.

One of the most unique and enjoyable functions given in this place was the banquet on Thursday night by the ladies of the Magazine and Book club.

The spacious store of James Laag, formerly occupied by Speight & Co. was artistically decorated in bunting with the red, white and blue colors, and flags of all sizes. In the centre of the building was a large picture of Washington draped in flags. In the rear of this stood a reproduction of the cherry tree cut by Washington. This the children enjoyed trying to see which could come nearest with a hatchet by one cut to the place where George cut it down. A prize of a fancy hatchet was given for the one coming nearest to the mark, which was awarded to Roland Joyner.

Following is the menu which was written on American flags: Martha Washington sandwiches, independence salad, cannon ball croquettes, devil crab, pickles, Yorktown chicken, rolls, crackers, Washington cake, Mt. Vernon cream, hatchet cake, cherry cream, coffee and chocolate with cream.

In the front in each of the large windows were two punch bowls filled with liberty punch which were presided over by Misses Vivian Parker and Olive Morrill, of Snow Hill, and Henry Jackson and L. E. Vick. These charming young people gave you a pleasant time while you enjoyed the liberty of drinking punch.

May the Magazine club long live and enjoy many anniversaries to come as the one of Feb. 22nd, 1906.

We are sorry to learn of Mr. Seth Tyson's continued illness.

Mrs. Sallie Hines is confined to her room yet, but we hope is some better. Miss Alice Hines has resigned her work in the graded school in Tarboro to be with her mother in her illness.

Miss Ada Tyson has also given up her work in the graded school here to be with her father in his illness. Miss Harper, of Dunn, has charge of Miss Tyson's grade in school.

County Supt. Ragsdale was in our town Thursday night.

J. Stanley and Jack Smith spent Thursday in Greenville.

Redding Fields has begun work in his new machine and repair shop on Wilson street.

COLLEGE BUILDINGS BURN.

Three Boys Die and Many Hurt.

Gambier, O., Feb. 24.—Three are dead and nine seriously injured and several others more or less hurt as a result of a fire at Kenyon College and Military Academy, which destroyed Milner hall, the military academy, Delano and North halls and North annex, early today. The fire broke out at 4 a. m. while the students and college authorities were asleep and quickly spread through the buildings named, which were consumed. The search for the missing boys, the bodies of whom it is now certain are in the ruins, was kept up till late this afternoon when the walls of the burned structure fell and tonight their recovery is regarded as improbable for some time. The search during the day was impeded by the fact that the ruins were still red hot and passage through them was nearly impossible. The falling walls this afternoon barely missed Dr. Pierce, president of Kenyon, and Regents Wiant and Williams, who were leading a party of rescuers through the ruins. The dead and injured are all students of the military academy and old Kenyon.

UNION COUNTY FOLKS MIGHTY GOOD.

Mr. M. C. Austin, who served on the grand jury last week, tells a tale that deserves to be embalmed. Its rarity is sufficient to entitle it to immortal recollection. Here is what Mr. Austin said after the grand jury had finished its week's work: "You can say that not a member of that jury drinks or smokes, not a word of profanity or vulgarity was uttered during our stay together by any member, and nothing was said or done that we wouldn't have been willing for our families to hear or see and no man spit on the floor."—Monroe Journal.

Sunday School Rally Day.

Our Baptist friends are much gratified over the progress the Sunday school of the Memorial Baptist church and the splendid work it is doing. Both teachers and scholars are showing much interest in the work and the result is apparent in such attendance as on Sunday when the record went to 175. Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale expressed gratification at the support the teachers and scholars are giving him in building up the school. He announced that next Sunday is to be a rally day, when it is hoped every member of the school and every member of the church will be present and help make it a memorable day.

Young Girl Killed.

Hendersonville, Feb. 24.—Elizabeth Robertson, the 13-year-old daughter of J. Caldwell Robertson of Columbia, S. C., was killed here today by the falling of a stone pillar of a gate on which she was swinging with several other children. Death was instantaneous.

While it was perfectly fair Sunday night with the sky full of stars, there were frequent flashes of lightning in the eastern horizon.

JARVIS MEMORIAL CHURCH.

The Methodist House of Worship to be Named in Honor of Our Distinguished Townsman.

Following the usual morning service in the Methodist church Sunday, a church conference was held to discuss matters pertaining to the church and especially in reference to the beautiful new house of worship the denomination is erecting here. The interest of the members in the matter was manifest in the very large attendance, it being noticeable that more of them were present than had ever come together before in a church conference.

One of the matters that came up for consideration was an appropriate name for the new edifice. After some discussion the following was offered and met with such spontaneous approval that it was adopted by unanimous rising vote.

"Resolved, That as an expression of the love and esteem of the membership of this church to Governor Jarvis, and as showing in some measure our deep appreciation of his services to his church and country, we, the members of St. Paul's M. E. Church, South, hereby request our Quarterly Conference to name the new church now building Jarvis Memorial Church."

This was indeed most graceful, and the members of the church honor themselves highly in conferring this honor upon our distinguished townsman. Greenville is indebted to no other man so much as to Hon. Thomas J. Jarvis. For more than a quarter of a century he has been a citizen of this town and his life and work among us are apparent to all. In everything that pertains to the public welfare he has been first and foremost, giving of both his time and means to their furtherance. It was largely through his efforts that Greenville has so splendid a graded school, and other instances might be mentioned where he has been equally active. With all due credit to the other many good members of the Methodist church, we are frank to say that we believe that but for the efforts of Governor Jarvis the handsome new building now going up, and which is such an ornament and credit to the town, would not have been realized in years to come.

It is graceful to honor him by naming the building for him.

While the church cannot give the building the name without the approval of the quarterly conference, it is reasonable to suppose that this conference, being composed mainly of members of this church, most of whom were present on Sunday morning when the resolution was adopted, will endorse the action of the church.

Critically Ill.

Mr. S. B. Wilson, who has been an invalid for several years, is reported critically ill today at his home on Dickinson avenue. Reports from his bedside give but little hope of his recovery.

The squall that came up suddenly Sunday afternoon looked threatening for a short time.

BETTER COUNTY HOME NEEDED

Greenville, N. C., Feb. 24.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

You sometimes say things in your paper that are proper subjects of criticism to many minds, but I do want to commend you for the splendid editorial on the subject of the home of the aged and infirm in your issue of 21st inst. If there is a class of people in the world that manhood and womanhood should bow to and reverence, it is the aged and infirm.

I have read your editorial with great interest. I have been to the "poor house" many times and the picture you draw is not strong enough. The good women of the town often go out and minister to these whom, as you say, have been left by some unforeseen providence in indigent circumstances.

The last grand jury did a splendid thing in its investigation and report. Let the matter be pushed as you have started it and a home of comfort may be soon had for those who cannot help themselves. The matter must start with the board of county commissioners. They have had one meeting since the court and nothing was done. Will they act? They are good men and Pitt countians, all of them, X.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Brooding over her father's death, which occurred a week before, caused Miss Avie Forbis, near Greensboro, to commit suicide Friday.

Dr. J. L. Gunn, of Caswell county, was found dead in the public road. It is presumed he fell from his buggy and broke his neck.

Layman Speaks.

A pleasant surprise was given the congregation in the Memorial Baptist church Sunday night. When the time arrived for the text and sermon Pastor J. E. Ayscue announced that he thought it well for the people to sometimes get lessons in Christianity from the standpoint of a layman, and not hear it only from the standpoint of the ministry. He said he was glad that Mr. M. A. Allen, a man well known and loved by the people of Greenville, was present and would talk to them. Mr. Allen made a delightful talk and all were glad of the opportunity to hear him. He expressed pleasure at another opportunity to see and greet the people here, and told how his Christian life had been helped by contact with these people during the years his home was among them. No man holds a warmer place in their hearts than Mr. Allen.

JR. COOKING CLUB.

Reported for Reflector. Saturday afternoon was spent most enjoyably by the members of the Jr. Cooking Club, when Miss Florence Blow, in her usual pleasant manner, entertained them.

After the meeting was called to order and the business transacted the hostess had a very interesting contest. Several of the guests had to put for the prize, Miss Marguerite Higgs cutting the highest, was declared the winner.

The guests were then invited into the library where refreshments were served, which were prepared by the guests and hostesses.

Many enjoyable games were played, and the guests lost sight of the time, but the clock striking six reminded them that it was time to go home.

The club then adjourned to meet with Miss Ruth Cobb, March 3rd, 1906.

Wasp in His Pants.

"Coot" Whichard says one wasp up your pants leg keeps you busier than a whole nest full up a tree. One got up his pants leg in church, Sunday morning, and the fervor of the insect was very distracting to "Coot's" spirit of worship for the time being. He did not follow the example of the demoniac in Christ's day by crying out in the meeting, but he went after that wasp just the same, much to the amusement of those sitting near him.

A Life Annuity.

A Scottish life office sold an annuity to Pat Maloney and paid and paid until they reckoned his age was about 100, when they sent an inspector to Tipperary to interview the annuitant and to make sure they were paying the annuity to the proper person. The emissary called at the cottage and asked if Pat Maloney was in. No; he was in the field plowing. A centenarian working plowman seemed rather an anomaly. The insurance man found the field and a man of about sixty at work.

"Are you Patrick Maloney?"
"Yis," he says, "I am."
"Are you the Mr. Maloney who draws the annuity from the Insurance company?"
"Yis, bedad, and me father before me."—London Globe.

Said Mr. C.: "In those days I was a Republican, and my friend R., who was the most penurious man in New England, was a Democrat. One day he said to me, 'C., have your committee been after you?'"

"Not yet," I replied.
"Well, mine have been after me, and they wanted me to subscribe $500, and I told them I would," said he.

"I looked at him in amazement. Then he added: 'Yes, I told them the Republicans would expect $500 from you, and I was going to pair off. So, mind you, stick to that arrangement. It will be all the same to both parties, and it won't cost either of us a cent.'"—Lippincott's.

Peace Overtures.

There was blood in the eyes of the two suburban housewives as they glared daggers at one another over the whitewashed fence.

"As for you," hissed the one in the red knit jacket, "I don't know what I could say that would be sufficiently severe. I hate you!"

"And you," retorted the one in the blue shawl, "are really not worth wasting breath over. So there!"

There was a painful pause, and then the one in the knit jacket continued:

"I would say a great deal more were it not for your sweet little baby."

"Do—do you really think he is sweet?"
"I do, and I am not backward about saying it, although I despise his mother. He is the prettiest little boy in twenty blocks."

"Then—then let's make up. Neighbors shouldn't be enemies. I'll hand you a dish of stewed prunes over the fence."—Chicago News.

Ornaments in India.

In India for the mass of the people the purchase of ornaments is almost the one form of indulgence to which a man who has made a little money treats himself. Ordinarily the man who has saved a few rupees does not change the nature of his food or the style of his clothing, nor does he invest in articles of furniture. What he does, if he is of a cautious and saving nature, is to put his rupees in a hiding place, but if he is inclined to show he indulges his fancy by putting gold or silver ornaments on the persons of his wife and children. These ornaments are the very last things to be parted with on a reverse of fortune, and even in the lowest social depths they are not put on the market until the last piece of coined money has vanished and no household utensils of brass or copper are left with which to obtain a coin.

Many a man who is honest from principle is honorable only for effect

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

But the more confidence a man has in himself the less paying he does.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

If a man is properous he has no use for his friends; if he isn't they have no use for him;

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The finest sermon is one that makes the fur fly on the other fellow.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C. says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

You do not need to prove you are a square man by sticking your corners in everybody

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Some men try to raise a $10 col on a 10 cent sermon and then proceed to preach on the sins of playing pocker

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fullness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

FACTS ABOUT MAKING TEA.

Japanese Way is Best, Explains an Expert in the Trade.

Remarks made recently by a man who has acquired some prominence in the tea trade and who passed some years in Japan may be of interest to some to whom they come as hitherto unknown facts.

"There are two ways to make tea," said the dealer in that commodity, crossing his legs and squinting his left eye reflectively—"the Japanese way and the other way." Whether or not tea is harmful may depend entirely on which of these entirely different methods is employed.

"A small platter or bowl is an indispensable part of every Japanese tea set. In this the water to be used in the process is heated, not to the boiling point, but to a point as near it as may be without actually reaching it. The native expert will bend over the little sizzling fire, testing the degree of heat imparted to the water in the bowl by delicately fingering the outside of this receptacle from time to time, even while carelessly talking. When he becomes at last satisfied that the desired end has been attained he pours the warm water on to his tea leaves and lets it stand for from three to five minutes. He then pours off the liquid into his teapot, and the result is the mild aromatic stimulant much prized as being genuine Japanese tea.

"The 'other way' is very well known in this country. It consists in pouring boiling water over the leaves and letting the mixture steep for an indefinite period. By this means the tannin which is contained in the tea is brought out and a dark amber colored liquid is produced. It is the tannin which is responsible for the long crusade against indulgence in the beverage. This is the 'injurious principle.' Chemically there is no difference between this tannin and that which is used in preparing leather for the market. No wonder the 'inner man' rebels.

"The average American, however, cannot wait and watch throughout the time required in the preparation of the Japanese drink, and a practical substitute must be suggested if he is to enjoy its harmlessness and flavor. My experience has been that if boiling water be used and allowed to stand only a minute and is then poured off a decoction is obtained which is very similar to the oriental in every way. Such a drink is mild at best, but it has the value of being physically undetrimental. Should there be any one, however, who in opinion resembles the old woman who stated that she didn't like her tea strong and never let it steep more than fifteen minutes it is to be feared that no substitutes will be accepted."

How long the watch had been there and who lost it, are questions under discussion.

Hock had been about lost sight of until the papers told that he was hanged in Chicago Friday.

There is a chance yet for the ground hog to turn on his traducers and give some blizzard weather, but we hope he will not.

With such things coming out on them it would be more creditable to the State for both Holton and Blackburn to be retired to private life and forgotten.

The funny part of it is that people who are so susceptible to mental anguish never seem to allow their consciences to worry them.—Durham Herald.

One thing that is a great drawback to Greenville's progress is the condition of the streets. We have a good town otherwise, but the streets are about as poor as are seen anywhere. Really our streets are discreditable. A prospector might be ever so favorably impressed with the prospects of the town from a business view point, but the condition of the streets would turn him away in disgust. Some steps ought to be taken for giving the town better streets.

Next Monday, March 5th, the Pitt county branch of the Southern Cotton Association will meet in Greenville, and there should be a large attendance. Not only should the farmers be interested in this movement, but every business and professional man should unite with them. If the farmers will organize as they should, and all cut down their cotton acreage as recommended by the association, there can be no question about who will control the price of the next crop.

Never growl because a newspaper fails to give every scrap of news so long as you take no pains to give the editor information, advises the Oxford Ledger. We have seen readers who are awfully cut up at times because we make no note of the arrival and departure of a friend visiting them, or of a local affair, or of the heaven sent babies that visit their homes over night. The average newspaper man isn't a medium nor a mind reader, but gets most of news like the milkman gets his milk—pumping.—Greensboro Record.

And it does look like everybody would want to tell the newspaper man such things as he cannot know without being told. But many of them will not do it, yet they blame him afterwards because certain things did not get in the paper.

Our cousins, the Vanderbilts, should not be so sporty in their tour of the world, and should be more careful lest they have to holler for us to come over to some foreign country and help them out of a hole or get them out of jail. In a town in Italy the other day William K. and Mrs. Vanderbilt with their chauffeur were flying through the streets in their automobile when the machine run over a boy and seriously hurt him. The engaged folks rushed up and mobbed them and treated them so roughly that officers had to go to their rescue.

BIG TREE IN EDGECOMBE.

A great many of our people do not know that Edgcombe county can boast of probably the largest tree in the State. It is an immense pine located on what is known as Coaky Swamp, and is owned by Dr. Mercer. Some time ago a friend of Mr. W. E. Parrish, of this city, asked him to try to buy the tree at almost any price. His purpose in buying the tree was to cut a block from it to make an exhibition advertising his business, that of saws, at the Jamestown Exposition, his idea being to station a table in the center of the block with a saw on it and about six chairs surrounding same. Dr. Mercer refused to allow the tree to be cut down. This tree is said to measure about ten feet through and to be about 175 feet high. It is estimated that if the tree was cut into wood it would make about twelve cords, and that it would cut a total of about 7,000 feet of lumber. It is also said that the reason the tree has never been cut down to this day is that when it was first discovered it was so large no one felt like undertaking the task.—Rocky Mount Record.

TOBACCO FARMERS AT WORK.

The gathering of the tobacco farmers at Durham yesterday was an occasion of importance and interest. The spacious court house was crowded with earnest men who have been systematically robbed of the rightful proceeds of their labor since the organization of the tobacco trust. At the very home of the trust the farmers declared their intention to fight until they restore the working of the law of supply and demand throttled by the tobacco trust.

The growers of dark tobacco in Tennessee and Kentucky have effected a strong organization. They talk out in meeting and have gone to law to get justice. The North Carolina tobacco growers should study the aggressive methods of their Kentucky brethren and organize on practical lines to get fair prices for the tobacco they grow. They will fail unless they recognize that their enemy is the rich, powerful and resourceful American Tobacco Company that controls prices, and has fattened by depressing prices of tobacco.—Raleigh News and Observer.

CENTRAL'S DREAM.

A patron of the telephone system who was always cross to the central girl died suddenly, says The Belleville Telescope. One of the girls worried for fear she might have been too short with him at times, and her worry led her to dream. She dreamed she had gone to her celestial home and she determined to call up Mr. Blank and apologize to him. She asked St. Peter for Mr. B.'s number. St. Peter, who is the whole system, looked at her sorrowfully and said: "My dear, a copper wire laid within 4,000 miles of where he is now would melt in a minute." The girl wept no more.—Exchange.

Leaves That Are Fifty Feet Long.

In our temperate climate none of the trees has leaves of a size that will even compare favorably with those of the sea island and tropical countries in general. The maple, the oak and the elm leaves are but infinitesimal bits of green when compared with the gigantic sheets of velvety verdure found on some of the trees, shrubs and plants of South and Central America. The South American tree which has the largest leaf is the Inaja palm, which grows on the banks of the Amazon. The leaves of this giant are often fifty feet in length, but they are very narrow, seldom exceeding eight to ten feet. With the Ceylonese coconut palm it is different. In that species the leaves are from twenty to twenty-five feet in length and from sixteen to eighteen in width. The natives of Ceylon are said to use these leaves in tentmaking, three or four being sufficient to make a shelter for a whole family.

The talk about the discontinuance of some of the rural free delivery routes, has set the farmers to work. From all over the country they are writing letters to the Postoffice Department, and these letters leave no doubt as to the farmer's estimate of the value of the service. They speak enthusiastically and congratulate the department on the system which has been so modernized. Some of them declare they don't see how they have ever been able to get along without the service.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Statesville Landmark says "the truth is, if one can believe what he hears privately—and there is much in it—if they had their deserts about 75 per cent of the Republican office holders in this State would either be in the penitentiary or would be eternally disgraced." Wouldn't ninety-nine per cent be nearer right?—Raleigh News and Observer.

Gentlemen:—We want to donate some L. & M. Paint to your church whenever they paint.

The largest Methodist church in Georgia expected to use 100 gallons of the usual kind of paint, they only used 32 gallons L. & M. mixed with 24 gallons Linseed Oil.

It costs less to paint a house with L. & M. than with other paint because painter mixes Linseed Oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents a gallon with L. & M., and doesn't pay $1.50 per gallon for Linseed Oil as done if ready-for-use paint is used. Also because the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the paint wear like iron.

L. & M. paint costs only $1.20 per gallon.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

The Barber's Pole.

In early times, the tradition goes, both medicine and surgery were in the hands of barbers, as indeed they continued to be for many centuries afterward. The old theory was that the men of the razor were the worthiest to handle the lancet, and even in the middle ages the lancet was the one great instrument of medicine, as bloodletting was one of the chief practices of the time. In the days of old during the operation of bleeding the patient used to grasp a stick which the barber surgeon kept ready for use that the pain might be lessened, in just the same way as in the days before chloroform was invented people undergoing a severe operation frequently chewed lead bullets. Around this stick was twined a supply of bandages for tying up the arm of the patient. When not in use the pole was hung at the door as a sign. In the course of time a painted staff was displayed instead of the one actually used during the operations.

Wasn't Certain of Her Name.

She was from Seattle. After inscribing her name on the hotel register she asked the clerk if any mail had come addressed to her. The name she wrote on the register was simply "Mrs. T. Brown, Seattle."

"I don't suppose by any chance that this is intended for you, is it?" inquired the clerk, handing her a letter addressed, "Mrs. T. B. Browne."

"Yes, that is mine," said the demure guest. "I recognize the handwriting."

"But the name is spelled differently," pointed out the cautious clerk. "You spell your name 'B-r-o-w-n,' and the name on the letter has a final 'e.'"

She got all fussed up about it and blushed radiantly.

"You see," she explained, "I am not quite sure how he spells it."

"Who?"

"My husband. We've been married only a month."—San Francisco Chronicle.

His Wife's Money.

Once upon a time a man married a woman who had inherited $500 from a grandfather. This was all she ever received, but the man never got credit for his efforts the rest of his life. He built a new store. "He did it with his wife's money," the neighbors said. The home was made over and enlarged. "His wife's money did it," was the only comment. The little measly $500 she inherited received the credit for everything he did during life, and when he died and his widow put up a monument with his life insurance, "Her money paid for that," was said again. But this is what her money really went for: During her engagement she bought herself a $350 piano and a $150 diamond ring and in a few weeks lost the ring, and there was always some regret that she didn't also lose the piano.—Atchison Globe.

SOME CURIOUS FINDS.

Money Lost on a Farm Was Located
Inside a Potato.

A Scarborough gentleman was surprised recently to find thirty-eight pins in his breakfast egg, and most other people would have been surprised, too, under the circumstances. There ought to be a collection of miraculous eggs somewhere. It was only two years ago since a hen laid an egg at Bedford with a penny in it. There is no doubt at all as to the fact, but the question, "How did the penny get inside the egg?" has never been quite satisfactorily settled.

A companion puzzle is afforded by a market gardener, well known at Spitalfields market, who once lost and found a half crown under almost incredible circumstances. He was inspecting his crops when he dropped the half crown on the ground, and, though he searched long and diligently, he searched in vain. A year passed, and the incident was being forgotten when, as he was selecting some potatoes for the market, Mr. Smith came across one of a very curious shape. Cutting it open to discover the cause of its eccentricity, the gardener found inside it the half crown piece he had lost twelve months before. The potato was seen by hundreds of people, and the truth of the story is well vouched for.

Remarkable as they are, there is nothing unique in these cases. One of the romances of money making is the story of a man who found a newspaper inside a shark when fishing in Australia in 1870 and who learned the news of the Franco-German war in this way early enough to make a fortune out of it. The story may be true or not. Everybody in Australia knows it.

Another after the same kind is that of the Milford Haven trawler who, while fishing off Carlingford lough, caught up in his net a packet of papers tied together with red tape and carefully sealed. The skipper of the boat handed the documents to a lawyer, and it was found they were a missing link which stood between a woman and her fortune.

They proved the right of a Miss Macdonald to certain estates in Ireland, which she had claimed ten years before, but which she had failed to win because the will could not be produced. It was this will which was brought up from the sea.—Pearson's Weekly.

Strange, but True.

"I saw a curious thing the other day," said the favorite story teller at a party.

"Well, what was it? Is it a true story?" asked one of the listeners.

"Yes; perfectly true. I saw a duck swimming across a pond and a cat sitting on its tail."

"Indeed!" exclaimed another listener. "What sort of a duck was it? Any particular kind?"

"Yes; it was a diving duck. Strange to say, the duck dived."

For some moments there was silence; then a lady asked:

"And what became of the poor cat? Was it drowned, or did it only lose one of its nine lives?"

"No; it wasn't drowned," said the story teller. "You see, the duck dived in the middle of the pond, but the cat was sitting on its own tail on a wall close by."

Her Triumph.

Mrs. Bricktop (bursting with pride)—How d'ye like my new carpet, Mrs. Crosseye?

Mrs. Crosseye (bursting with envy)—It's—er—very nice indeed, Mrs. Bricktop, fer—fer brussels. By the way, I nearly forgot what I came for. I wish you would lend me your lawn mower a few moments.

"Lawn mower? Why, certainly. But what on earth can you want of a lawn mower at this time of the year?"

"I desire to thin down our velvet carpet in the nursery a little. The children are always losing their marbles in it."—London Answers.

THE RALSTON

HEALTH SHOE.

Sho making has been developed on wooden feet--lasts--which know no "pinch" nor discomfort. The soft, yielding, tender flesh of a live foot has thus been compelled to inhabit an unnatural, ill-fitting and oftentimes unsanitary shoe. To be foot-tired is the average man's daily inheritance. And how much ill health can be traced to an ill-fitting shoe. When the foot is improperly shod the delight of walking is gone, and man's best friend,—his feet—refuse to him the comfort he should enjoy. A perfect walking shoe, one that keeps the foot always in good condition,—can such be had?

Ralston
 HEALTH
Shoes $4.

The Latest Oxford. College Pattern. Extra large Eyelets. Very Stylish
 If you want something distinctive, individual, come and see this shoe

This question brought into being the Ralston Health Shoe. Recognizing that the foot sole is a curve made by the twenty-six bones which form the heel, ball and toes, (a fact strangely ignored by shoemakers in the past) we evolved a construction method which places prime importance in last modeling.

Ralston lasts are anatomically correct and differ from all other makes. Ralston construction is a principal combining comfort, ease, service, style, fit and commonsense,—real quality in footwear, built into the shoes from the very start.

Shoes made on Ralston lasts are nature shoes, conforming to the natural foot, and because they need no "breaking-in" they never lose that charm and style for which Ralston shoes are famous,—and which cannot be obtained in other methods of manufacture.

In the selection of materials for Ralston shoes the World's best makers are searched, and every bit of upper, top, or sole leather, linings and fittings must pass the Ralston test before acceptance. The same idea with our employees. Each and all must do his or her part according to the Ralston idea, whether it is cutting, stitching, lasting, making or finishing. The result is a shoe unrivalled in pleasure giving, service and abounding in comfort and style. Thus our immense factory with its army of happy, skillful employees is dedicated to the gospel of the foot salvation from cramped and unsuitable footwear. The Ralston Shoe cannot be duplicated at the price asked—$4.00—and as good a shoe is not made or sold for less.
