GAS BOAT SINKS.

Large Quantity of Fertilizers Goes Down With It.

On Monday the gas boat Lillian, belonging to J. L. Fountain & Co., of Falkland, went to Tarboro for a load of fertilizers. A crew of five went along with the boat and took on a load of 300 sacks of cotton seed meal and two tons of guano. It taking until about dark to finish loading the boat it was the intention of the crew to remain in Tarboro over night and wait for day light to return to Falkland.

About 10 o'clock the men pumped the boat out well and went to bed. One of them awoke at 1 o'clock and found that the boat was rapidly filling with water and sinking. He called up the others of the crew, but it was too late to do anything and the boat and cargo sank to the bottom of the river.

It is supposed that the accident was due to a new shaft having been put in the boat just before the trip to Tarboro was made, and the hole where the shaft went through the keel was not closed sufficiently to make it water tight. The leaking was much more rapid after the boat was loaded than when she was light.

The boat can be raised but most of the cargo will be a loss.

Get Us a Club.

THE REFLECTOR subscription list has been considerably helped by the agitation along the rural free delivery routes to get people to take papers and increase the business of the routes. We are willing to share this benefit with those who help us by talking for THE REFLECTOR and will give the paper free to any one who gets us a club of four new subscribers. It might be easy for you to get four of your neighbors to subscribe for THE REFLECTOR and you can have your paper free by doing so.

Ash Wednesday Service.

Tomorrow being Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, there will be service with sermon at the Episcopal church at 11 a. m.

There will also be services daily except Saturdays all through lent. The Wednesday service will be at 7:30 p. m. at which there will be an address; services on other days will be at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Christian people of every name are cordially invited to attend these services. The church bell will be tapped a few times fifteen minutes before each service.

The forty days of Lent correspond to the forty days' temptation and struggle of our Lord in the wilderness, and are kept in commemoration of that event. It is a season set apart for special devotion, special self denial and self discipline. It is earnestly to be hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to quicken their spiritual life, deepen their devotion and draw nearer to Christ in every way.

Rector.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

AYDEN, N. C., Feb. 27, 1906—

Right many of our citizens are attending court in Snow Hill this week.

R. A. Nichols, of Rochdale, has been in Ayden on business.

M. G. Bryan and Joshua Manning, of Winterville, were here yesterday on business.

Mrs. S. M. Smith, of Fort Barnwell, is here visiting relatives.

The condition of the children of J. A. Harrington is not at all improved, we regret very much to learn.

J. W. Perkins, all the way from the city on the Tar, has been a visitor to our city among the oaks.

W. M. Edwards was over in Greene county Sunday.

Since painting and otherwise repairing his residence L. H. Witherington indeed has a pretty home.

A little cotton creeps in occasionally, but our lone buyer seems like a huge tree in a deserted forest.

A number of young people attended the festival at Winterville Friday evening.

Several persons were baptised in Frizzell's pond last Sunday afternoon and united with the Free Will Baptist church at this place that evening.

Mrs. Lon Nichols, of Beaver Dam, is here on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hamby.

There were services in the Disciple church Sunday night.

Mrs. Capt. Johnson went up the road Saturday.

Miss Mary Johnson, of Grifton, spent from Saturday until Monday with Miss Hennie Brown.

Mrs. W. E. Hooks and Miss Mittie Garris have been visiting out in the country.

M. A. James and several other gentlemen from Bethel were here Saturday in attendance upon a magistrate's court.

J. J. Edwards spent the better portion of last week in Hookerton looking after the interest of his store and large farming interests in that section.

Thomas McGhee, of Goldsboro, has been here several days working insurance.

Misses Whitehead, Brown and Taylor, with their guest, Miss Mary Johnson, of Grifton, were delightfully entertained at tea Saturday evening at the hospitable home of Mrs. M. E. Cason. Later the party was joined by Messrs. Covington, Cannon, Turnage and Noble. After a most pleasant evening of games and music, delightful refreshments of chocolate and cake were served, and at a late hour the guests departed, voting Mesdames Cason and Brooks ideal hostesses.

F. H. Jordan spent Saturday and Sunday in Washington.

Rev. H. H. Jones left Saturday to fill his regular appointment at Grifton.

Mrs. Betsey Taylor, of Hookerton, was here visiting friends Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Nonie Davenport, a charming little miss from Reedy Branch, has been visiting Miss Delia Smith.

J. H. Savage, wife and children

"The Respectable Republican Party" in North Carolina.

Ever since the adoption of our suffrage amendment and the elimination of the ignorant negroes from politics, constant and continued efforts and arguments have been made by republican speakers and papers to make decent democrats think that the republican party in this state is respectable enough for them to join.

No, not even if high republican authority can be relied on. A political party that is controlled by a few "bosses" cannot be any better than its bosses. The republican party in this state is divided into two hostile factions. Rollins, as chairman of the state executive committee, is the leader of one faction, and Blackburn, the only republican congressman from this state is the leader of the other faction. If what is said of each other by those two leaders is true, neither is fit to be the leader of good and patriotic citizens of any party. Each of these factions accuses the other of not trying to build up the republican party in this state, but of only trying to get control of all the federal offices.

The truth of this accusation was very forcibly asserted last week in a speech by one of the ablest and most respectable republicans in the south, Hon. William P. Bynum, Jr. In his speech in the federal court at Greensboro in behalf of the indicted revenue officer, Samuel, Judge Bynum said that there are "many republicans in this state, who in their infernal lust for office, turned demons in their efforts to damn and blacken good men's character." He also said that it is "a fight of old revenue officers who were out against revenue officers who are in. Following the lead of higher officials these revenue outs depended on getting office again by slandering those that were in."

If this statement is true of the "higher officials," how can decent democrats desert their old party and join a party whose leaders are such as above described?—Chatham Record.

An Appeal From the Heart.

We have been requested to ask the people living contiguous to Cherry Hill cemetery to please keep their chickens confined so the fowls cannot run at large in the cemetery. This "city of the dead" is, or ought to be, too sacred a place to become the roving ground of fowls. Many who have loved ones buried there try to beautify the plot surrounding the graves, and it is harrowing to their feelings to go there and find their care and efforts destroyed by the depredations of fowls. This is a simple request that ought to be cheerfully complied with by every one, as it should be their wish to see the cemetery beautified rather than devastated.

left Monday to visit relatives in Washington.

Mrs. C. C. Bland and Mrs. E. L. Brown returned yesterday from a visit to Kinston.

Rev. Mr. Brown, of the Disciple church, came home Monday from an appointment in Grifton.

MURDERS HIS WIFE,

Awful Deed of a Brutal Husband.

Durham, Feb. 25.—One of the foulest and most brutal murders ever committed in this section or in the State was done at West Durham last night at midnight, when John H. Hodges dragged his wife from her sick bed and shot her to death.

The six children of the mother witnessed the murder and were afraid to speak when the brutal father and husband drew his pistol and fired the fatal shot into the heart of his wife and erstwhile companion. One son, the oldest, did enter protest and did what he could to prevent the terrible deed.

Hodges was arrested about two hours after committing the horrible crime. A coroner's inquest was held quickly and the brute was committed to jail.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

A life insurance company with $100,000 capital, half paid in, has been organized in Kinston. All the stock was subscribed for by local capitalists.

Salisbury has made a date with Sarah Barnhardt, but had to pay her $2,000 to appear there.

The state treasurer has made the Citizens Bank of Kinston a depository for state funds.

C. S. Chamberlain, of Kinston, was viciously attacked by a large St. Bernard dog and his face badly torn by the brute.

Dr. Edwin Geer, a native North Carolinian who located in Baltimore and had gained prominence there in the practice of his profession, died in that city Monday morning.

Washington, N. C. was the second town in the United States to be named in honor of George Washington, the first being a town in Georgia. Our national capital was fourth to take the name.

FARMERS' WIVES INTITUTES.

The State department of agriculture is preparing to inaugurate a system of institutes for farmers' wives in connection with the regular farmers' institutes held under the auspices of the department in all parts of the State.

The experiment will be made during the coming summer and if the attendance and interest is sufficient to warrant it regular and permanent provision will be made for them. The institutes for the women are to be held at the same time and place as the men's meeting, but in separate halls.

State Veterinarian Tait Butler is in charge of the whole institute work and is now arranging for several series to be held during the spring and summer. Permanent organization of the farmers for the holding of the institutes has already been perfected in nearly all of the counties.

"Adulterated" Dress.

The Lancet calls attention to the wholesale manner in which the materials which keep us warm during the day and the blankets which cover us at night are adulterated. The silk dress of the lady of a hundred years ago rustled as she moved or account of the goodness of the silk; now it rustles with the 36 per cent of salts of tin used to sophisticate it. The lady of the period in her silk dress is indeed a sort of "woman in armor." Epsom salts, instead of being used for medicinal purposes, as formerly, are now employed, it would appear, for loading flannel. The snowy table linen which used to delight the hearts of Mrs. Tulliver and Aunt Gleig is no longer linen, as of yore, but largely made of cotton filled with china clay, starch and size.

In a Hurry.

Rev. Kong Yin Teb of Honolulu was describing in Philadelphia the horrors of leprosy.

"An American, a tourist, I suppose, is almost afraid to look at a leper, isn't he?" a Baptist minister asked.

"Indeed he is afraid," said Mr. Yin Teb, smiling.

"Does he run away?"

"Well," Mr. Teb replied, "I wouldn't quite like to say he runs away, but he retreats pretty briskly. If you saw him going for a doctor at that speed you would be altogether warranted in thinking that somebody was dreadfully sick."

Coincidences.

The late Lord Acton for many years kept a record of coincidences. A very strange one occurred in his own experience. A rumor spread that his wife had drowned herself! She had done nothing of the kind, but it was quite true that a Barone Acton had drowned herself at Tegensee, where Lord and Lady Acton were staying, and had drowned herself under their window.

The strangest of all coincidences noted by Lord Acton concerned Sir Edmund Berry Godfrey, who was murdered at the bottom of what is now Primrose hill, but was then known as Greenberry hill, in London. Three men were hanged for the murder. Their names respectively were Green, Berry and Hill.

The Star Arcturus.

It is quite natural for the human mind, which associates all thoughts and makes all comparisons by earthly standards, to think of the inhabitants of some of the monster worlds which are known to be whirling through space as being giants of the most gigantic kinds. Take the star Arcturus as an illustration. That gigantic planet is 2,000,000 miles in circumference, or about 656,000 miles straight through from pole to pole, or from equator to equator. Our little world is only 8,000 miles in diameter, or 24,000 in circumference. In fact, it is such a mere pygmy compared with Arcturus that it might fall into one of that planet's great lakes, whether they be water or burning seas of gas, and bury itself out of sight. We are apt to think of these planets as being inhabited, however much the chances may be against such an assumption, and to compare such supposed persons to the size of the world upon which they live. If Arcturus is inhabited and its people are built on the same ratio that we are an average Arcturian cannot fall much short of being twelve miles in height.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Scrub yourself daily, you're not clean inside. This means clean stomach, bowels, blood, liver, clean healthy tissue in every organ. Moral: Take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Old maids would be scarce and hard to find,

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use it. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A woman worries until she gets wrinkles, then worries because she has them. If she takes Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea she would have neither. Bright, smiling face follows its use. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's drug store.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C. says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fulness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Good Rules For the Eyes.

Although the eyes contribute more than almost any other feature to personal beauty, they get surprisingly little attention from the majority of persons. Here are a few simple rules for preserving their strength and brightness:

Do not read by firelight. When possible, protect the eyes from the direct glare of lamp, gas and candle light. Do not read or work in such a dim light that an effort is necessary to see clearly. If the eyes are tender wear smoked or tinted glasses. Never apply soap near the eyes. Bathe them once daily, the lids being open, in tepid water. It is best to use an eye bath or egg cup and to open and close the lids in the water. Do not apply any face cream near the eyes. Put nothing on the lashes but the best of unperfumed oil. Never cut the lashes in the belief that they will be improved. Keep in mind that white cliffs, stretches of sand and of snow are injurious and must be guarded against with glasses.

A Story About Dumas.

Alexandre Dumas was one of the most generous of men. There is a pretty story told concerning a voluminous manuscript which his publisher received from him one day. On it he had written, "You must publish this novel, for which you must give 1,500 francs." It was a translation from the English, and the publisher objected, explaining that a translation wasn't worth that sum and that, moreover, he was busy with a number of original works. He wouldn't give more than 300 francs. "Very well," replied Dumas, "put down 1,500 francs to my account. Take your 300 francs and give the remaining 1,200 to the translator." The publisher soon discovered that this was a piece of noble helpfulness on the part of Dumas. The translator was the widow of a friend, a once well known politician, who had died shortly before, leaving the poor woman with a large family to support.

A Word of Cheer.

Some little boys were running a race, and all felt sure that Tommy, the boy in the lead, would win, as he was the fastest runner. Those looking on began to cheer the different boys, and Tommy gradually fell behind until he was the last one to reach the goal. His friends gathered around, inquiring why this was, and Tommy, wiping the tears from his dirty little face, replied, "You yelled, 'Go it, John!' 'Go it, Jimmy!' but there was not a one yelled 'Go it, Tommy,' and somehow I just could not run at all." A word of cheer frequently makes the difference between success and failure.

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated. Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Raleigh has got so much that she is not satisfied. She has three telephone systems and says there is too much hello about it.

Some of the other fellows up that way might be fortifying themselves with evidence to prove an alibi. No telling which one of them lightning will strike next.

Durham comes forward with another murder, and one as brutal as can be imagined. They have actually caught the murderer this time, and if that town does not follow it with a hanging there will be a woeful miscarriage of justice.

The talk of the government about discontinuing such of the rural free delivery routes as did not handle a specified amount of mail per month, has put the people living along the routes in Pitt county to talking and working in a way which means that they do not want any of these routes to fall under the axe and be cut off. They are taking more papers themselves and getting their neighbors to do likewise. It is a good way to pick up the business of the different routes.

Wednesday night is the time for the regular monthly meeting of the water and light commission. We hope the board will consider well the advisability of giving Greenville day electric current so as to develop numerous small enterprises in the town. There are several here wanting power and will put in electric motors as soon as assurance is given that current will be supplied in the day time. It is needed and we hope the commissioners can see the way clear to provide it.

KEEP OUT OF SPECULATION.

The Chronicle yesterday quoted a New York man's warning to the cotton farmers to beware of the speculator. Mr. J. C. Maxwell, a New Orleans man, read what the New Yorker had said and is quoted by the Washington Post as saying that he "hit the nail squarely on the head." Then he detailed an incident on the train. "As I came North this time," he said, "I overheard two prosperous-looking planters in the parlor coach near me discussing the market, and telling of their operations. At length I got acquainted with them, and we began to talk of 'futures.' In fact, that was about the only subject they seemed to care about discussing, and it was evident the bug of speculation possessed them. Finally, I asked them if they had been long accustomed to playing the market, and they confessed they were amateurs of but little experience. Upon this an elderly gentleman who had been listening to our conversation, addressing the planters directly, said: 'I understand that you gentlemen are cotton growers. Now take the counsel of an old man and content yourselves with making that necessary article of consumption. There are plenty of others to gamble in it. Pardon my plain talk, but you farmers are the veriest greenhorns in financial matters, and the speculative game was made to shear just such innocents. Even if you make a few winnings your success is only temporary; the big gamblers in New York will sooner or later pick you as clean as a bleached bone on the prairie. The cotton grower of the South who will stick to his legitimate business is going to be rising on the top crest of prosperity, and he, of all men, ought to be content to let well enough alone.' It will be an evil day for the farmer when he goes into cotton speculation, or delivers himself into the tender care of the cotton speculator.—Charlotte Chronicle.

HE WAS PAPA'S BABY BOY.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 24.—There is always much of novelty and interest in an Asheville Federal court and there is never a day so dull or prosaic but that much of the diverting may be found in the array of defendants and witnesses summoned from their mountain retreats in connection with making of illicit firewater. Nothing more pathetic or interesting, however, has developed at this term than an incident yesterday when an old gray haired man, Dave Hall, of Shelton Laurel, Madison county, aged 73, who is here to answer the charge of blockading, arose and with tears coursing down his tanned cheeks, pleaded to be allowed to go home, stating that he had received a message that his father was dying and that he wanted to see him once more. He pleaded that he was papa's baby boy and his broken voice and shaken hand showed his distress.

The prosecuting attorney agreed to his request and he was allowed to go his way a free man.

The family is well known to the revenue officers, and in speaking of the case Deputy Marshal Ben Barnes said: "The statement that Dave Hall is the baby boy is not really a fact. He may be the youngest living though. The father of the defendant resides on Shelton Laurel in Madison county. He must be between 115 and 120 years of age. I believe he is the oldest man in North Carolina. He is a remarkable person. He is the father of 39 children, all boys. He is Ales Shelton, and when I saw the old man last fall he was well and hearty. He has a clear eye. He doesn't wear glasses and I was told that he never has. He is not deaf.

Put Him in a Cage.

If there is any big Radical boss in North Carolina who hasn't been engaged in whiskey frauds, indicted, sued, prosecuted or threatened with exposure for public or private irregularities he is requested to raise his right hand and hold it up until all the congregation can see the curiosity. Bill Sykes has made a cage and soon as he finds this rare varmint he proposes to put him in the cage and take him to Washington and put him on exhibition. Some folks in Rhamkette say if Bill can find such a Radical, he'd make his fortune exhibiting him, for he would be a greater show than Barnum's animals that kaint live in water and will die on land. But the general opinion in these diggings is that there ain't no such a man.—Rhamkette Roaster.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB INCOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

FULLY IDENTIFIED.

A Description That Satisfied the Cautious Bank Teller.

The necessity of identification is one of the concessions the honest portion of the community has to make to a world in which fraud and deceit are not unknown. Not every one holds the same confidence in human nature as the toll keeper, who, when asked what the bridge fees were, replied, "Two cents, sir, and half price for ministers." "But how do you know a man is a minister just because he says so?" "Oh, sir, ministers never lie." The paying teller of a certain bank did not see matters in such a Hibernian light. He inquired a definite identification, and the Chicago News tells how he got it.

"You will have to be identified before I can pay you the money on this check," said the teller.

"Ain't it good?" asked the man.

"Oh, the check's all right, but I don't know you. You must get some one who knows you to come here and tell me you are the one to whom the check is made out."

The man left the bank with a puzzled expression on his face. Half an hour later he returned.

"The man that give me that check," he said, "can't come, but he sent this and says for you to give me the money."

He held up a large sheet of paper. On it was the pencil outline of a man's hand. The chart showed a first finger cut off below the knuckle and the second finger missing. Below it was written: "This is the best I can do. I can't come over, and the man can't write, so I can't O. K. his signature. The man has an anchor tattooed on his right arm and powder marks on the lobe of his left ear. He smells of whisky and can lick any man in your bank with one hand tied behind him." That the note was written by the signer of the check was evident from the handwriting.

"Hold up your hand," said the teller.

The man held his hand over the tracing on the paper, and it fitted perfectly.

"Show me the anchor."

The blue tinted emblem of hope appeared. The powder marks were in evidence, and the air was burdened with the odor of whisky.

"Here's your money," said the teller. "You needn't try to lick anybody. You're sufficiently identified."

What She Feared.

Beggs—My wife says that if I were to die she would remain a widow.

Meggs—Evidently she thinks there is not another man in the world like you.

"On the contrary, she's afraid there may be and that she'd get him."

"SPOTTED DOG."

A Dainty Sea Biscuit That is Not Very Hard to Make.

One evening my friend, the skipper, suddenly clapped his hand on my back and blithely announced that tomorrow would be his birthday.

"And, gee whiz," he continued, "we must have some 'spotted dog!'"

This is always considered a rare treat aboard ship. Just why it is so regarded is as rare as a hen's tooth. "Spotted dog" is a sailor's term for plum pudding. In my wanderings around the world I have seen it served scores of times to celebrate some great event and taken from the table untouched. Mayhap some young woman who is learning to cook would like the recipe, so here goes:

Spotted Dog For Ten Persons.—Take about three-fourths of a bushel of flour in a large dishpan and add sufficient water to make a pasty dough. Do not knead it thoroughly, and do not add any yeast, for fear it may rise when baking. When you have finished kneading, place the pan containing the dough against the wall and step back about five paces. Take several heaping handfuls of dried currants and throw them with all your might and main at the dough. Those that hit the dough will give it a freckled appearance; hence its name. Place in a slow oven. If any of the currants miss fire sweep them up and add while baking, as they give the dish a peculiar piquancy and zest.

I never knew a special occasion aboard a sailing ship when this concoction was not served as the piece de resistance. I have known passengers to fast for days and pass by every other offering on the table in order to whet their appetite for it, but I never knew one to eat it when it was set before him. Of all the edibles of a ship's cuisine it is the most unpalatable. It might be replaced by lignum vitae or cobblestones.—Charles Sarks in Success Magazine.

A Preference For Stagnant Water.

The Arabs in the deserts have contracted a strange prejudice against running water and will only drink what they find in some stagnant pool. So much has this become a matter of habit with them that, while the most poisonous looking water agrees with them admirably, pure running water will make them violently sick in the course of a few hours. This prejudice is shared by most of the lower animals and is often acquired by European travelers in Africa. At first the stagnant water produces nausea and even fever, but when once the system is inured to it running water affects them in precisely the same way that it affects the Arabs.—London Express.

The Traveler's Tree.

In the island of Jamaica there is a tree that is greatly admired by all visitors; hence its name—traveler's tree. It is similar to the palm tree, but in shape is like a fan. A curious feature of this tree is that its plumelike leaves sway and bend with the sun and the rain. In rainy weather the leaves bend almost to the ground, but in sunshine they raise themselves to their upright and more graceful position. The effect is very curious, for the leaves of this tree are immense. Any place of consequence in Jamaica has one or more of these specimens, but it is necessary to travel there for a sight of them, for they will not grow in any other climate.

A Telling Retort.

A young Irish lady one day entered a railway carriage where three Englishmen were seated. When the train had started and was about half a mile out of the station the three travelers began talking about the Irish, when one of them was heard to say, "Why, the Irish sleep with the pigs." "Yes," interrupted the young lady "and travel with them too."

THE RALSTON

HEALTH SHOE.

Shoemaking has been developed on wooden feet--lasts--which know no "pinch" nor discomfort. The soft, yielding, tender flesh of a live foot has thus been compelled to inhabit an unnatural, ill-fitting and oftentimes un-sanitary shoe. To be foot-tired is the average man's daily inheritance. And how much ill health can be traced to an ill-fitting shoe. When the foot is improperly shod the delight of walking is gone, and man's best friend,—his feet—refuse to him the comfort he should enjoy. A perfect walking shoe, one that keeps the foot always in good condition,—can such be had?

If you want something distinctive, individual, come and see this shoe

This question brought into being the Ralston Health Shoe. Recognizing that the foot sole is a curve made by the twenty-six bones which form the heel, ball and toes, (a fact strangely ignored by shoemakers in the past) we evolved a construction method which places prime importance in last modeling.

Ralston lasts are anatomically correct and differ from all other makes. Ralston construction is a principal combining comfort, ease, service, style, fit and commonsense,—real quality in footwear, built into the shoes from the very start.

Shoes made on Ralston lasts are nature shoes, conforming to the natural foot, and because they need no "breaking-in" they never lose that charm and style for which Ralston shoes are famous,—and which cannot be obtained in other methods of manufacture.

In the selection of materials for Ralston shoes the World's best makers are searched, and every bit of upper, top, or sole leather, linings and fittings must pass the Ralston test before acceptance. The same idea with our employees. Each and all must do his or her part according to the Ralston idea, whether it is cutting, stitching, lasting, making or finishing. The result is a shoe unrivalled in pleasure giving, service and abounding in comfort and style. Thus our immense factory with its army of happy, skillful employees is dedicated to the gospel of the foot salvation from cramped and unsuitable footwear. The Ralston Shoe cannot be duplicated at the price asked—$4.00—and as good a shoe is not made or sold for less.
