WINTERVILLE NOTES

Interesting Items from Our Hustling Neighbor.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Feb. 28, 1906

Miss Lillie Tucker, of Greenville, was visiting Miss Mitiam Johnson Sunday.

Miss Tessie Speight, of Renston, spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Hattie Kittrell.

Misses Lyde Roberson and Cora Carrioll spent Saturday and Sunday at J. D. Cox's.

D. S. Chapman, of Greenville, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Chapman.

Miss Mollie Bryan spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bryan.

Joe Raspberry, of Farmville, was in town Sunday.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, of Greenville, was a very pleasant visitor to the Winterville High School Tuesday.

Miss Ida Moore, after spending a few days visiting Miss Mimie Cox, returned Monday morning to her home in Kinston.

A. W. Ange left Tuesday evening for a business trip to Plymouth and other points in that vicinity.

Oscar Speight and Henry Langston, of Renston, were in town Sunday.

Heber Mumford spent Sunday in town.

Rev. T. H. King filled his regular appointment here Sunday, and preached two excellent sermons, as he always does.

G. G. Fineman was in town Tuesday.

Last Friday night, Feb. 23rd in the Winterville High School chapel, one of the best entertainments was given that has ever been here. While the time preparing this was very short, it was well done. The entertainment started by a crowd of the little folks carrying hatchets covered with the colors red, white and blue, and they marched to the time excellently. They reflected much credit upon themselves, and upon their most excellent teacher, Miss Joyner.

Next come the "flag drill" which was composed of a crowd of girls, who carried out their parts well, and showed excellent training. Several beautiful songs were sung by some of the girls, and several very beautiful instrumental pieces were played by different ones, all of which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

And last but not least, came a play by the name of "The Old Daisy Homestead." The play consisted of three different scenes, which were in the form of climax, each one getting better, and it seemed as if the first could not be beaten, but before it closed all present saw that it was good, but that the last two were better.

There was a large crowd present, and every one seemed to enjoy the evening very much. The whole entertainment was gotten up by the lady teachers of the Winterville High school, and as it was a perfect success in every way, Misses Perry, Joyner and Harrison have reflected much credit upon themselves, and all those who were connected with the entertainment

COXVILLE ITEMS.

Coxville, N. C., Feb. 27, 1906.

We are having some nice weather now and it is a busy time with the farmers.

Miss Lillie Corey returned to her school Sunday.

Walter Gardner, our popular mail carrier, spent Thursday in Greenville.

Misses Lyda and May Bell Kittrell spent Saturday night with Miss Carrie Chapman.

Hugh Corey returned home Friday from Craven where he has been teaching for his sister.

Caleb Cannon, of Rountree, has bought the Charles Tripp land.

Misses Sallie Chapman and Lizzie Burney spent from Friday till Sunday in the Fork Swamp section visiting relatives and friends.

It is reported that our R. F. D. route will soon be changed to Ayden and the Coxville postoffice will be discontinued.

Herbert Corey attended church at Riverside Sunday.

Miss Fanny Roach, who is teaching near Gum Swamp, spent from Friday till Sunday with her parents.

N. R. Corey went to Ayden Friday.

Mesdames J. W. Cannon, LaFayette Cox, J. L. Joyner, C. L. Stokes and W. H. Chapman visited Mrs. N. R. Corey last week.

Josh Mills and Zeb Bland, of Ayden, passed through this section Saturday.

The B Flat Player.

After the newly organized band at Morrison had desisted from the practice for a few nights the B flat player found the valves of his cornet had stuck. He wrote to the factory asking what kind of grease to use on the valves. The house answered him, saying that cornet players used only saliva on the valves and never used grease of any kind. The B flat player then wrote:

"Gentlemen: Please send me 25 cents' worth of saliva. I can't get it at the store here. Enclosed find stamps for payment."

A reply has not yet been received.—Perry (Okla.) Republican.

Notice Red Men.

All chiefs of Withlacoochee Tribe No. 35, I. O. R. M., and visiting chiefs are hereby cordially requested to be at the wigwam of the tribe on next Friday sleep (March 2) when the keeper of faith will deliver his charge. Something rich is in store for those who attend and it is earnestly desired that every member be present.

J. F. Smith, Sachem.

deserve much credit for having so excellently performed their duty. But the nicest time of the evening came when the play was all over, and every one had stopped laughing so much, and came down stairs and there saw the large recitation rooms, so brilliantly lighted, and decorated, with the nicest of ice cream and cake. It was then that every body looked all smiles from the oldest to the youngest, and the remaining part of the evening was spent too pleasantly to try to describe it.

RUMLEY-HASKETT.

A Pretty Afternoon Marriage.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Hasket, in South Greenville, was witnessed a beautiful marriage.

At that hour their eldest daughter, Miss Mary Louise Hasket, and Rev. Julian Lecraft Rumley, of Elm City, took the solemn vows that made them one through life, the ceremony being impressively performed by Rev. J. A. Hornaday.

As the guests arrived they were received in the front hall by Mrs. W. B. James and Miss Mary Higgs and ushered into the parlor, where an entrancing scene greeted them. The room was darkened and many lighted tapers shed soft lustre on the white and green decorations. In one corner was an arch of white draperies twined with smilax with a background of palms. Beneath this arch the happy couple stood as they spoke the words that made them husband and wife.

The bride and groom entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Nina James, and with exquisite touch she rendered "Angel Serenade" during the ceremony.

The bride carried a lovely bouquet of bride roses and asparagus ferns and was attired in a most becoming traveling suit of grey cloth with hat to match.

In the sitting room opposite the parlor was a large collection of handsome bridal presents in silver, cut glass and china. Among these was a beautiful set of solid silver spoons, a gift from the Methodist church.

Following the ceremony and the congratulations of the many friends present, Mr and Mrs. Rumley left on the afternoon train for Elm City where a reception will be held tonight.

Greenville regrets to lose the bride, but the best wishes of all follow her to her new home.

Chewed Her Husband's Hand.

Bill Bailey, a colored teamster in the city, while in front of Mr. L. J. Moore's store Monday evening, made a demand on his wife, who was with him, for the keys to their house as "Bill Bailey wanted to go home," but the wife refused the keys to Bill and he tried to take them from her hand. Thereupon Bill Bailey's spouse seized his hand with her teeth and came down with a bull dog grip. Bill was very forbearing with the woman and simply tried to wrest his hand from the vise-like grip, but nary a loose, and in the tussel the woman went through the large glass window in Mr. Moore's store with a crash,

Bill paid for the window but the police carried the irate woman before the mayor, who put the cost on her. She showed anything else but an appreciative spirit and intimated she "jess live go to jail as not," and she was accommodated to the extent of 30 days.—Kinston Free Press.

THE WEATHER

Fair, continued cold tonight though not quite so cold in extreme western portion. Thursday fair, warmer.

PERSONAL MENTION

Of Those Going and Coming

Rev. F. D. Viche returned this morning from LaGrange.

Mrs. R. M. Starkey returned from Kinston this morning.

H. A. White returned from down the road Tuesday evening.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale returned from Winterville Tuesday evening.

M. A. Allen, who had been visiting Dr. R. L. Carr, left this morning for Smithfield.

J. P. Hasket, of Kinston, came over this morning to attend the Rumley-Hasket marriage.

Misses Emma Starkey, Hattie Smith and Emma Joyner returned from Kinston this morning where they had been to attend an entertainment.

SHELMERDINE ITEMS.

SHELMERDINE, N. C. Feb. 28.

C. D. Duke, of Suffolk, was in town Tuesday night.

Ogle Minton and C. D. Baker spent Sunday in Washington. They reported a most delightful trip.

Elder Laughinghouse, of Greenville preached a most excellent sermon at Pleasant Hill Sunday.

J. T. Alford and Jack Sykes spent Sunday very pleasantly at Mr. Carroll's, near Cox's Mill.

Mrs. O. G. Calhoun left for Greenville Tuesday and will spend several days with friends there.

C. H. Harrington returned Monday night from Aulander, resuming his regular duties here.

Rev. Mr. Stanfield, of Ayden, filled his regular appointment at the Methodist church here Sunday night and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Whaley.

Miss Coy Hall, of Vanceboro, is the guest of relatives and friends in Shelmerdine.

B. L. Hull and F. Bailey, on Pine street, are confined at home on account of sickness.

H. H. Stanley is all smiles—It is a fine boy.

R. G. Chapman, of Winterville, is visiting his son, C. H. Chapman, near Shelmerdine.

H. Harrington and Miss P. Olive Woodard, N. L. Williams and Miss Lula Sexton went up the road Sunday on the velocipede.

His many friends will be sorry to hear that O. G. Calhoun is sick at his home in Phillip's court.

Mrs. L. E. Ricks, who has been sick for several days is convalescing.

Snow and Cold.

There was a brisk fall of snow here Tuesday evening and early in the night, which the preceding rain cause to melt almost as fast as it fell. There was enough left to cover house tops and high places, but this quickly disappeared in the bright sunshine today. The temperature went down and last night and today were plenty cold.

The trial of Dr. J. B. Matthews, who some weeks ago poisoned his wife, is now in progress at Greensboro.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

The Knights of Pythias are preparing to erect a lodge building at Washington.

The North Carolina Bar association will meet at Wrightsville June 27th to 29th.

The United States prisoners confined in the county jail at Asheville made complaint to the Federal court in session there that the jail is infested with body lice. They took a bottle of the "goods" into court as evidence of the find.

W. B. Everage, a Wilkesboro man, went over into West Virginia where he became rather sporty and threw kisses at another man's wife. The husband of the woman took Everage as a target for rifle practice, and his body was shipped back to North Carolina for burial.

Mrs. Sherman Hiatt was burned to death at her home near Mt. Airy. Her children had set fire to some trash in the yard and she went to put it out, when her clothing caught fire and she was so badly burned as to cause her death.

The Spring Headgear.

The spring style of headgear for women is out. We saw it on the streets this morning. It consists of a sort of two story hen's nest, with an owl's eyebrow on one side the caudal appendage of a cross-eyed bandy rooster on the other, and a few festooned persimmons forming a picturesque background.—Baltimore Herald.

It is a common saying that the man who has money enough is seldom hanged. This is not true in every case by a great deal, though too often he either escapes or staves off the event a long time. But Hoch, the Chicago man of many wives, several of whom he was convicted of killing, had no money and he staved off his execution a long time, while it was once thought he would escape. Virginia goes after murderers with money with more vim than the poor devil who has none. A man's wealth seems to "sick 'em on" and they seldom let him escape, no matter the size of his bank account.—Greensboro Record.

The tobacco growers feel that they have been imposed on and it looks as if there is a good ground for their feeling that way. The cotton growers have shown that they are to some extent the makers of their own destiny and there is no reason why the growers of tobacco shouldn't be as courageous, persevering, and united. They don't want any thing more than their rights and this is to hope that they will get them.—Greensboro Record.

On the Irwin farm, between Rocky river and Coddle creek, in the line of the Southern in Cabarrus, is a large field of cotton as white as snow. Wonder if the owner has not been able to get hands to pick it, or is he just letting it hang in the bolls waiting for something like 20 cents to come along!—Charlotte Chronicle.

Heroic.

In the Carlist war of Spain, which was prolonged from 1833 to 1840, most of the mountain races of the north of Spain were supporters of Don Carlos, the pretender to the Spanish crown then worn by Queen Isabella. Upon the defeat of the insurgents one detachment of them under the command of General Elio was taken to Bayonne as prisoners of war. Victor Hugo in his letters tells this incident of the occasion: General Elio, who had spent seventeen months in prison by order of Don Carlos, was a member of this troop. When he reached Bayonne, General Harispe said to him:

"General Elio, I have been ordered to make an exception in your favor. Ask of me what you desire. What would you like for yourself and your family?"

"Bread and shoes for my soldiers," said Elio.

"And your family?"

"I have just told you."

"You spoke only of your soldiers," insisted General Harispe.

"My soldiers," said Elio, "are my family."

Maple Seed.

The seed of the maple is provided with a contrivance like the tail of a fish or the rudder of a ship. When this seed is separated from the tree, particularly if the breeze is blowing, the rudder imparts to the seed a revolving motion, somewhat similar to that for the propeller of a ship, and the germ of the future tree is thus transported often hundreds of feet from the parent stock.

They never gripe or sicken but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Scrub yourself daily, you're not clean inside. This means clean stomach, bowels, blood, liver, clean healthy tissue in every organ. Moral: Take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

All old time Cough Syrups bind the bowels. This is wrong. A new idea was advanced two years ago in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy acts on the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs and loosens the bowels at the same time. It expels all cold from the system. It clears the throat, strengthens the mucous membranes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Old maids would be scarce and hard to find, Could they be made to see, How grace and beauty is combined By using Rocky Mountain Tea. —Wooten's drug store

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use. No need to fear of your child choking from croup with One Minute Cough Cure handy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A woman worries until she gets wrinkles, then worries because she has them. If she takes Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea she won't have neither. Bright, smiling face follows its use. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's drug store.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C. says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night. Kodol Digests what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A man who once had rough horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co, Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind bleeding, itching and protruding Piles. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Just a little Kodol after meals will relieve that fulness, belching gas on stomach, and all other symptoms of indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat, and enables the stomach and digestive organs to perform their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

First Use of Umbrellas.

There can be little doubt that when umbrellas first came into use in England they were carried only by women. Of this we have the evidence of Guy Mege in his French dictionary, 1688, who has the sentence, "Umbrellas are only in use amongst women." "The New World of Words," revised, etc., by J. K. Philobibl, 1720, has the remark, "Such as are here commonly used by women to shelter them from rain." Both umbrella and umbrella are given. Gay has the following allusion:

Good housewives all the winter's rage despise,
Defended by the riding hood's disguise
Or underneath th' umbrella's oily shade
Safe through the wet on clinking pattens tread.
Let Persian dames th' umbrella's ribs display
To guard their beauties from the sunny ray
Or sweating slaves support the shady load
When eastern monarchs show their state abroad.
Britain in winter only knows its aid
To guard from chilly showers the walking maid.
—"Trivia," 1, 715, bk. 1, ll. 209-18.

For many years the carrying of an umbrella was regarded as effeminate. In the Draper's Dictionary it is stated that when men began to carry umbrellas they were hooted and jeered at as "Frenchmen."—Notes and Queries.

Advanced Backward.

The expression "advanced backward" gained great currency just after the encounter on the floor of the United States senate between Senator Henry S. Foote of Mississippi and Senator Thomas H. Benton of Missouri. In that famous verbal duel, which almost culminated in a bloody tragedy, one of the senators—perhaps Foote, though this is a matter of recollection—bore down on Benton, when the latter drew his pistol, an old Allen, commonly called in those days a pepper box and sometimes a wasp nest. Foote stopped, and afterward in detailing the occurrence he said that when "Mr. Benton pulled his pepper box I advanced backward." Montague refers in his works to "rowers who advanced backward."

An Agile Marshal.

The whimsical Suvaroff, one of the Empress Catherine's favorites, on receiving the marshal's baton ordered a "Te Deum" and commanded a number of chairs to be placed in the center of the church, one for each officer his senior. He appeared in the sacred edifice arrayed in his pajamas or something less than their equivalent and proceeded to vault over these files of chairs, taking each in its due succession. It was not until the conclusion of this performance that he donned the new uniform and desired the horror stricken clergy to proceed with the office.

CAUSES OF FAILURE.

Queer Reasons That Have Been Assigned For Bankruptcy.

The petitioner in the court of bankruptcy was a young man of aristocratic birth. He had inherited a fortune of $2,000,000 at the age of twenty-three. Now, at twenty-six, he was a bankrupt.

"How did you come to run through your money at this rate?" asked the judge.

"A love of food ruined me, sir," the bankrupt answered. "I gave the best and costliest dinners America has ever seen. One of my dinners—a dinner of ten covers—cost $10,000."

"Foolish young man," murmured the judge.

This judge at the end of the session talked about the strange reasons for their bankruptcy that some bankrupts would give.

"A bachelor of thirty-five," he said, "appeared before me owing something like $75,000 for gambling debts, $20,000 for wines, $4,500 to his tailor, $15,000 to the jewelers, $1,700 to his haberdasher and $1,100 to his florist. When he was asked the cause of his bankruptcy he answered:

"An inability to negotiate any more loans."

"The weather often causes bankruptcy. A succession of warm winters will make skate manufacturers and sleigh manufacturers and furrers go under. A succession of cold winters will ruin the hotel men and the shopkeepers of summer resorts. Weather unprecedentedly dry will send to the wall the handlers of india rubber goods—waterproof coats, overshoes, gum boots, and so on.

"Insects hardly visible to the eye have caused the bankruptcy of florists, farmers and fruit growers. One of these insects, the phylloxera, made bankrupt the whole island of Madeira. Getting among the vines, it destroyed them utterly.

"A woman insurance agent once pleaded in my court that a depreciation of beauty was the cause of her failure. She had been making $7,000 a year, but an illness seized her, and this illness impaired her beauty greatly. 'Before and after' photographs of her were shown, and I must admit that her looks had suffered much. Since her illness she had been unable to make much money. Men had not listened to her as before. Her income, in fact, had fallen from $600 to $75 a month."—Chicago Chronicle.

The tobacco trust don't want to have the Duke divorce scandal and the fight with the farmers both on its hands at the same time.

The farmers are now in earnest about it, and the other fellows are putting up a stiff fight against them. It may look gloomy for the time being, but the farmers will win out if they hold together.

FUTURE COTTON CROP SELLING A HANDICAP.

The leaders of the National and State Cotton Growers Association in their efforts to sustain the farmers in holding their cotton for higher prices, or rather for fifteen cents, lose sight of a most important factor, which plays a leading part, if cotton is to be sustained and sold at any minimum price in the future. This factor is the future cotton selling of cotton farmers.

Since cotton has reached ten cents and above, the price has been one which has satisfied the majority of farmers, specially those who have struggled in years past, and raised cotton to be sold around six cents. Therefore with cotton selling at ten cents in the winter months, or even above this figure, a good many farmers have been willing to enter into the sale of their next prospective cotton crop at prices about the same as might be prevailing during the winter months, so that cotton buyers in some sections practically controlled the entire cotton acreage for the following season.

There is no question but that in the past two years, many farmers have done well by thus selling their future crop of cotton, for when they were prepared to market their cotton, the then prevailing market prices was in some instances one to two cents lower than the price at which they had contracted to sell and at which they were delivering their staple. This has given the cotton farmer a new position, in the future crop selling, and when cotton has reached eleven cents, it has not been hard for cotton buyers to make contracts for the next cotton crop.

Two things result from this. The cotton grower who thus sells is out of the market, so far as being able to co-operate with any growers' association, for his output belongs to someone besides himself, and it must also follow that having contracted his crop at some fixed price, the farmer is going to put in so great an acreage as possible, and this again removes him from entering any movement that the growers' association may try to make up for a reduced acreage.

Thus it is that this future crop selling of cotton by the farmer, must prove a serious handicap to those who may try to have any minimum price, or who seek to have a co-operative movement of the farmers to reduce their acreage.

Whether this future crop selling is a wise thing for the individual farmer to do, is another question. It is only as to its effect on the growers' association that is now considered.—New Bern Journal.

COX'S MILL ITEMS.

COX'S MILL, N.C. Feb. 27, 1906. Miss Rosa Tucker, who is teaching near here, went to Greenville Friday to visit her mother and returned Sunday, accompanied by her sister, Miss Maggie, and little brother, Bruce.

Misses Cora and Sadie Carroll and their brother, Johnie, attended the concert given by the Winterville High School, and report a very nice time.

Miss Annie Carroll came home Saturday from Winterville to spend Sunday with her parents and returned to school Sunday evening.

Messrs. Sikes and Alford, of Shermidine, were visiting in our section Sunday.

Our friend, L. N. Edwards, has moved in his new residence that he has built near where his old one was burned last August.

Frank Carroll has a very bad case of sore eyes.

Our roads are getting busy with hauling fertilizers for the farmers.

Miss Sadie Carroll came home Friday evening from near Black Jack where she is teaching and returned Sunday.

Frank Dixon was badly hurt Saturday night by being thrown out of a wagon while the team was moving at a fast gait. His shoulder was dislocated. His many friends hope he will soon be able to get out again.

Our farmers are improving on the old method of plowing by working from two to four teams at the same time, a saving of from one to three hands and doing much better work.

North Carolina People Caring for Themselves

"The sentiment in favor of Home Insurance Companies is stronger in North Carolina than in any other Southern State," was the remark made a few days ago by the representative of a Life Insurance Company who travels through the South. This fact speaks volumes for the future welfare of North Carolina and shows that our people are learning to care for themselves instead of relying upon others. They are caring for themselves in increasing numbers by buying from THE GREENSBORO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE SUPERB IGHOME INDEMNITY POLICY.

Which is recognized as the best Life Insurance contract yet devised. The best evidence of the superiority of this contract is to be found in the fact that more North Carolina people are buying the Income Indemnity Policy than are buying the Policies of any other Company. This Policy costs no more than others, but it affords a great deal more protection. It pays double Insurance in case of accidental death and becomes fully paid up for life in the event of total permanent disability or incapacity. Dividends are guaranteed and may be used to reduce the number of Annual Premiums.

KEEPING BOOKS.

Helpful Hints That Will Prove of Value to Accountants.

Add it just once more.

It pays to take a balance of balances.

Better think about it at the time. Some think about it at the end of the month.

Have you any systematic way of checking? Check as you post. It's easier and quicker.

Look for the exact amount of your error. You possibly overlooked it in posting.

Divide it by 2 and look for a debit on the credit side or for a credit on the debit side.

If it's exactly divisible by 9, look out for a transposition, such as 18-81, 27-72, 36-63, etc. The number of times 9 is contained in the error will be the difference between the transposed digits. Illustration: Say 45 is the error. It contains 9 just five times; hence the transposed digits must have been (sixteen) 16 as 61, 27 as 72, 38 as 83; 49 as 94, etc.

Remember that the books are firm property, and you are at liberty to reveal no secrets they may contain.

Don't be in a hurry to suggest new methods to the senior of the firm. He is likely to think he knows more about his business than you do.

Be sure to put the books in the vault each night. You will never realize the value of this precaution until you've had a fire.

Study the needs of the business. Plan special rulings to facilitate the handling of the business. Do not make radical changes at a time.

If you make an error, carefully rule a line through it with red ink. Then write the correction above it.

How about your writing? And your English? And your spelling? Or do you know nothing but book-keeping? If you do not, you'll never be the manager. You'll always be the bookkeeper.

Have an ambition to occupy the chair behind the manager's desk.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Moments With Dictionaries.

Many an interesting hour may be spent in the company of a good dictionary. It should tell you that kings were in the earlier times merely "fathers of families," while queen meant at first "wife" or "mother." An earl was an "elder," pope was the same as "papa" and czar and kaiser both meant "Caesar." Lord is the Anglo-Saxon hluford, meaning "loaf distributor." "Huzzy" was once a respectable housewife, knave was simply a boy and "cattif" meant a captive. From the name of the laborer on the villa of an old time Roman gentleman we get the name "villain." A pagan was originally a countryman, while varlet is the same word as valet. Our students should study their dictionaries a little more closely than the majority do.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

NAMING RACE HORSES.

Many Turf Performers Called After People in Every Walk of Life.

From statistics compiled here is gleaned the interesting fact that many great turf performers have been oddly named for people in every walk of life. The best horse ever named for a policeman was Inspector B., a very brilliant race horse and famed in the stallion ranks as the sire of Endurance by Right. He was named as a compliment to Thomas Byrnes, who was then inspector of police in New York. The best horse ever named for a governor was Luke Blackburn, and Senator Bland was the best horse ever named for a United States senator. Hugh Penny won more races than any horse ever named for a jockey. The mighty Domino, the largest winning horse in American turf history, received his name from his color, being a black horse, and, as a consequence, was so called for the masquerade costume instead of the popular game, as many supposed.

Daily American and Enquirer were the best horses ever named for newspapers, and David Garrick was the most brilliant race horse that ever bore the name of an actor. Butterflies, the Futurity winner of 1894, was the best performer ever named for a play in this country, and Drake Carter was the most sensational horse ever named for a doctor. Iroquois, the only American bred winner of the English Derby and St. Leger, stands as the greatest performer ever named for an Indian chief, and Boston was by long odds the best horse ever named for a game of cards.

Lexington was the greatest horse ever named for a city or town and Kentucky the best horse named for a state. George Kinney and Joe Cotton were the two best horses ever named for men in the sporting class, and the noted Cleophus was the best mare ever given a name in honor of a nun. Senator J. C. S. Blackburn had two horses named for him. One, a very high priced yearling, left the turf a maiden, while Joe Blackburn, by St. Martin, was a fairly good horse, winning twelve races during his career.—Kansas City Star.

ORIGIN OF WEDDING CAKE.

Roman Maidens Carried Three Ears of Wheat to the Altar.

When in ancient or imperial Rome a maiden was wedded according to confarreation she always carried three ears of wheat in her hand, while over her head was broken a simple cake of far and mola salsa as a presage of plenty and an ample abundance of the good things of life.

In this primitive custom, then, we see the germ from which grew the elaborate plum loaves and daintily beribboned boxes of luscious richness that form so conspicuous a feature of our marriage feasts today.

The bridal wreath of an early English bride was likewise fashioned of bearded (and sometimes gilded) wheaten spikes, while on her return from church corn and other cereals were showered upon her and then carefully gathered up and consumed by the wedding guests. In this also we recognize a rude ancestor of a modern fashion—that of sending a newly married pair off in a small blizzard of hard, snowy rice.

In the course of time, however, the golden grain was ground and made into large, thin, dry biscuits, which were gayly shattered above the blushing maid's flowing locks and then distributed among the bystanders. To this day, too, in some portions of highland Scotland it is still customary for the best man and first bridesmaid to break an oatmeal cake over a young wife as she crosses the threshold of the first house entered after the marriage ceremony. This bannock is then partaken of by all the assembled friends and washed down with the Scotch whisky in which they drink the health of the bride and bridegroom and of their respective clans.—Lippincott's.

A Gourd 200 Years Old.

Mr. J. R. Gray, of No. 10 township, tells us that he has in his possession a gourd that has come down to him from five generations above, having at one time been the property of his great-great grandfather.

The gourd is about two feet long, handle, all, and is in a perfect state of preservation, although it has not been in use for 25 years. As Mr. Gray is himself about 50 years of age, it is safe to say that the gourd is in the neighborhood of 200 years old.—Concord Times.

THE RALSTON

HEALTH SHOE.

Shoemaking has been developed on wooden feet--lasts--which know no "pinch" nor discomfort. The soft, yielding, tender flesh of a live foot has thus been compelled to inhabit an unnatural, ill-fitting and oftentimes unsanitary shoe. To be foot-tired is the average man's daily inheritance. And how much ill health can be traced to an ill-fitting shoe. When the foot is improperly shod the delight of walking is gone, and man's best friend,--his feet--refuse to him the comfort he should enjoy. A perfect walking shoe, one that keeps the foot always in good condition,--can such be had?

Ralston
HEALTH
Shoes $4.

The Latest Oxford. College Pattern.

Extra large Eyelets.

Very Stylish . . . . .

If you want something distinctive, individual, come and see this shoe.

This question brought into being the Ralston Health Shoe. Recognizing that the foot sole is a curve made by the twenty-six bones which form the heel, ball and toes, (a fact strangely ignored by shoemakers in the past) we evolved a construction method which places prime importance in last modeling.

Ralston lasts are anatomically correct and differ from all other makes. Ralston construction is a principal combining comfort, ease, service, style, fit and commonsense,--real quality in footwear, built into the shoes from the very start.

Shoes made on Ralston lasts are nature shoes, conforming to the natural foot, and because they need no "breaking-in" they never lose that charm and style for which Ralston shoes are famous,--and which cannot be obtained in other methods of manufacture.

In the selection of materials for Ralston shoes the World's best makers are searched, and every bit of upper, top, or sole leather, linings and fittings must pass the Ralston test before acceptance. The same idea with our employees. Each and all must do his or her part according to the Ralston idea, whether it is cutting, stitching, lasting, making or finishing. The result is a shoe unrivalled in pleasure giving, service and abounding in comfort and style. Thus our immense factory with its army of happy, skillful employees is dedicated to the gospel of the foot salvation from cramped and unsuitable footwear. The Ralston Shoe cannot be duplicated at the price asked--$4.00--and as good a shoe is not made or sold for less.
