MASONIC SHAD STEW.

Grifton, N. C., April 5th
Wednesday evening at Lang Hall the Masons of Grifton Lodge, No. 452, gave a very nice shad stew which was highly appreciated by all present. The managers, C. J. Tucker, J. C. Griffin and W. J. Kittrell, knew only too well how to make the entertainment becoming in all departments. The table was filled up from one end to the other with the good things that are necessary to tickle the fancies of the most fastidious epicure. The culinary department was complete in all its offices and was second to none—Parisian artists of the culinary art not barred.
There were several visiting brethren present, Van Lindley's man, W. G. Morrow, with the fruit tree book and Drummer Prefet who enjoyed themselves hugely swapping jokes, etc. A great many friends not Masons were invited to partake of this glorious good old Tar Heel hospitality. God speed the fraternity at Grifton. May its shadow never grow less. Shad are selling today 10 cents and over.

VANDERBILT.

REWARD FOR DAVIS' CAPTURE

Part Remaining Unclaimed in Hands of Secretary of War.

For the past forty-one years, when the secretary of war makes a report of the financial condition of his department and asks for the annual appropriation to carry on the work of the year he makes note of the fact that $253 of the reward offered for the capture of Jefferson Davis remains unclaimed. This sum does not accumulate in interest, but is carried over year after year as a surplus.

When Mr. Root was secretary he called attention to this money lying idle, and asked permission to give it to the soldiers and sailors' aid society; but the request was not acted on. Mr. Taft tried his hand at getting rid of the reward offered for the capture of the great Confederate chieftain, but unless this congress takes up the matter before adjournment it will go over for the forty-second time. Mr. Taft wants the amount credited to the Confederate museum fund or to some philanthropic organization, or, if this cannot be done, to give it back to the treasury.—Washington Special to Industrial News.

Greensboro Gets It.

The Democratic state executive committee met in Raleigh Thursday and selected Greensboro as the place to hold the next Democratic state convention, the date being July 3rd. Asheville was a close competitor for the convention, the vote being 31 to 29 in favor of Greensboro.

Old Friends Coming Back.

On Friday night, April 13th, Greenville's "old friends," the Herald Square Comic Opera Company, will open a two night's engagement here in their season's success—"A Trip to India" and from recent press notices and reports in the New York dramatic magazines, we are to be treated to a rare musical fun show. It is said to be a screamingly funny production but, withal, entirely satisfactory from a musical point of view; one of those rare combinations in which the ingredients music, girls, costumes and an abundance of clean, wholesome comedy has been so blended as to produce the most pleasing effect on both the eye and the ear. The Herald Square Company has a reputation for "binging out" some phenomenal singer each season but when Miss Leona Watson, the prima donna, was signed for the season of 1905-1906, it outclassed all its previous records. She has a remarkable voice of rare quality and sweetness and has left a host of admirers behind her.

The seat sale will open on Wednesday, April 11th, at Coward & Wooten's.

Building and loan meeting for organization in the Mayor's office Monday night. Keep it in mind.

The masquerade at the skating rink tonight is going to afford plenty of fun.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

AYDEN, N. C., Apr. 6, 1906.—

Mrs. Lon Nicholas, of Beaver Dam, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hemby, returned to her home Thursday.

One of the most pitiful objects we have ever seen is a little colored boy here, only five years old, who has but one leg. When very young he had a sore on his leg which caused gangreen and the leg had to be amputated. It is really wonderful to see him get about on his little crutches. He is as spry as a kitten and plays with other children as gleefully and cheerfully as if he did not realize his misfortune. Still it is pitiful to see him. He seems happy and contented and no child enjoys a good time more than he. We do not suppose there is another such case on record.

Tuesday night a Pythian lodge was instituted here under the supervision of Deputy Grand Chancellor Nutt, of Wilmington. The work was done by Greenville lodge of which there were a large number present. The personnel of the Greenville lodge is composed of a fine, handsome and intelligent class of young gentlemen. The work was of a fine order and we were proud of our home boys, all of whom are warm personal friends. After the organization was effected the following officers were elected for the present term: J. R. Turnage, C. C.; J. J. Hines, V. C.; W. E. Hooks, P. C.; H. L. Blount, Prelate; D. S. Moore, M. at A; W. J. Boyd, K. of R. S; John Pierce, M. of E; C. L. Cannon, M. of F; G. A. Kittrell, O. G. Next Thursday night many more will be instituted into the secret mysteries.

The following is the report as rendered by the commissioners of the dispensary since it has been in operation for the past ten and one half months:

R. W. King and L. I. Moore, of Greenville, were here yesterday.

Y. T. Ormond came up from Kingston to participate in the institution of the Pythian lodge here Tuesday night.

R. W. Ward, a former citizen of Pitt county, has been appointed as office clerk in Raleigh by Hon. Claudius Dockery, the newly appointed United States Marshal for Eastern North Carolina.

Josephus Cox, A. D. Johnston and Uncle Redding Tripp, of Winterville, made us a very pleasant call Tuesday. We were glad to see our old friends.

Mrs. J. H. C. Dixon, after two days very pleasantly spent with Mrs. J. M. Dixon, returned to her home in Winterville yesterday.

W. J. Turnage, of Greenville, was here a short while Wednesday.

TOWN MATTERS.

Proceedings of the Aldermen.

The board of aldermen met in monthly session Friday night, all the members present.

The several standing committees had no regular reports to make.

A donation of $100 was made to the Confederate veterans to aid in their reunion on May 10th.

The board ordered that connection be made with the water main so as to provide water for use in Cherry Hill cemetery.

J. S. Corbett was released from graded school poll tax.

Bridgett Latham was refunded taxes erroneously charged against her.

The chief of fire department was ordered to investigate the cost and efficiency of fire alarm systems and report at next meeting of the board.

A parcel of land adjoining Cherry Hill cemetery was purchased of E. G. Flaagan for $400. This will add enough land for about twelve lots to the cemetery.

The several officers made their report for the past month. The report of the superintendent of the water and light plant showed four new light customers and six new water customers during the month. Income for the month $910.

The dispensary report showed sales for the quarter ending March 31st to be $15,399.55, and the profits amounted to $4,834.57.

The orders from the general fund drawn on the treasurer amounted to $1,097.07.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

The State Sunday school convention is in session at Charlotte.

Beaufort county is going to build a $50,000 court house.

J. D. Hamlin has been elected treasurer of Durham county to succeed Paschall Lunsford, deceased.

It is sent out from Selma that there are fully a hundred illicit stills operating in Johnston county. That is a bad record.

The State convention of the Woman's Missionary Societies of the Baptist denomination will meet on Tuesday, 5th, in Durham.

Thursday morning Messrs J. W. and Cannon Wilson, of the Had dock Cross Roads section, came to town in a cart driving a very spirited horse. Just as they were crossing the railroad near the depot the animal became frightened at a freight train and began to run. Before running far he threw Mr. Cannon Wilson out, but fortunately did not hurt him. The other Mr. Wilson was driving and held on manfully, guiding the horse around in a circle until at last he, too, was thrown out and sustained right serious bruises, necessitating the service of a physician. To what extent he was injured we do not know. The horse continued to run, demolishing the cart and was caught about two miles from town. It was one of the most exciting and dangerous runaways we ever saw.

His Higher Power.

A United States senator was talking about a statesman whose great talents are coupled with an unusual mildness and gentleness of disposition.

"Poor fellow!" said the senator. "His wife henpecks him. When he was governor he had a page boy who stole some postage stamps, and the governor in his gentle way set out to give him a little religious admonition.

"Willie, he said, 'don't you know that there is a higher power always watching us?'"

"Yes, sir," said the page.

"Who is it," the governor went on, "who sees and hears all we do and before whom even I am as a worm?"

"The missus, sir," said Willie."

Champ Clark's Retort.

Champ Clark of Missouri was addressing the house of representatives on one occasion when a rash member interrupted him with some frivolous comment. Mr. Clark fairly shrieked up the man who had "buted in," winding up his scorfication in this way: "Mr. Chairman, there was once a tenderfoot who struck the grizzly region looking for bears. He was all got up in the finest hunting garb, and his weapons were the newest that could be obtained. He had come to show the west how to kill grizzlies. He went forth one morning and never came back, and over his remains they raised a stone which bore this epitaph: 'He whistled for the grizzly, and the grizzly came.'"—Kansas City Journal.

Dying Thoughts of a Cowboy.

One day a party of townspeople were camping in the hills beside a raging river till it should be safe to cross. They saw a rough man struggling midstream with a very small chance of ever reaching shore. It was an exhausting time even for those who helplessly looked on. When the man at last saved himself and had been ministered unto, the psychologist of the party asked, "What were you thinking of while you were in such danger?"

"I thought," said the honest cowboy, "that I had $100 to my credit and did not want to die with all that money unspent."

Whereupon he forsook his job, gathered his little fortune, made for town and blew it all in ere thirty-six hours were past.—Boston Transcript.

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Advertisements reasonable and can be had on application to the editor or at the office.

FRIDAY APRIL 6th, 1906.

Now for the day current. Let it come on.

Durham county is moving ahead to have good roads. Some of these days Pitt county may awaken to the needs of getting in the good roads procession.

Those counties that are claiming to have the first and best teachers' association seem to be forgetting that Pitt is on the map and is leading them all. We will put the Pitt county association against any in the State without the slightest fear of being out classed.

Some of these days you will be hearing folks talking street cars for Greenville. That's all right, let them talk. Things that seemed equally impossible have been accomplished. You just don't know what this old town will be doing, now, that she is getting worked up sure enough.

We hope the canvass to ascertain how many persons want to use day electric current will result in enough customers being secured to operate the electric plant in the day time. It will be the means of furnishing power to many small enterprises, and every one of these will help the town that much.

With the National Bank in operation, a building and loan association at work, and day electric current working various small enterprises here, all of which now seem assured, Greenville ought to be in shape to enjoy the next 4th of July whether we have a celebration or not.

Carnegie has done a great good for people in many of the large towns by establishing public libraries. He could do a great deal more by endowing newspapers and having them furnished to people throughout the country who are not able to pay for them. In this way he would benefit a large number of people and help lessen his chances of dying rich.

It is but little more than a month now to May 10th, the date of the reunion of Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans, and it is time committees were getting active in preparations for the event. We all should endeavor to make this the most enjoyable reunions the old soldiers have had. Col. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, is to deliver the address, and the excellence of that part of the program is assured, yet there are other features of the exercises that should be getting in shape.

THE REIGN OF PUBLIC OPINION.

One of the most impressive things is the responsiveness of all men to Public Opinion. Men of the greatest powers cower before the judgment of their fellows. Even likewise nations. For Public Opinion forced Japan and Russia to make peace. That was the point of the diplomacy indulged in by the plenipotentiaries, and Russia succeeded in putting Japan in the position of continuing the war for mere money. Japan could not stand that because it would forfeit her cherished claims among the civilized nations. The princes of American commerce and the bosses of American politics have lately gone down in a heap before Public Opinion. Mr. Rockefeller never spoke a word in defence of himself until it appears that the American people were about to repudiate his benevolence on account of their suspicion that he had made is unfairly. We believe he will yet come into court and give testimony rather than endure the present judgment of the people—judgment not unlike that which killed John A. McCall, Senator Depew, rich and proud, has been plunged into melancholia by Public Opinion.

Men can endure their own self-reproaches, men can defy God; but men cannot endure the judgment of the Public.

The organ of Public Opinion is the newspaper and the editor. If we do not look well to our papers, if we do not repudiate the evil-minded men that would conduct newspapers, if we do not watch our newspapers with most jealous eyes, we shall not only have papers issued in behalf of special interests but papers issued in behalf of personal hate. Newspapers are as human as the men that make them.—Biblical Recorder.

TRINITY COLLEGE NOTES.

TRINITY PARK, Apr 6th 1906.--

President Kilgo has been asked to be one of the commencement speakers this year at Vanderbilt University. He will preach the commencement sermon. Dr. Mims has also received an invitation deliver the annual literary address before the students of Elizabeth College at Charlotte. Both of these invitations have been accepted.

Due to inclement weather, the two games of ball which were scheduled for Thursday and Friday of last week with Lafayette College, of Easton, Pa, could not be played. There was much disappointment among the entire student body as these games had been looked forward to with great expectations. The game played yesterday between Trinity and Davidson was by far the closest contest of the season, the score being two to one in favor of Davidson in a ten inning game. Trinity had expected to win this game, but lost it in the tenth inning by a balk made in the box by Clement, which, according to rules, moved the man from third base in home. We play A. & M. College tomorrow. This also promises to be an interesting game. On next Thursday the team will start on its Southern trip and will be away from Durham until April 17th.

Tomorrow evening the Senior class will hold an informal reception in the banquet hall of the new dormitory, and from what can be learned it promises to be a thoroughly enjoyable occasion.

EASTER

IS Approaching.

-E-A-S-T-E-R-

C-L-O-T-H-E-S

Every man and boy of taste desires to be well dressed upon EASTER above all days of the year. And to every such man, well fitting clothes add much to his general appearance. No Clothes made to day are so popular as the "GRIFFON BRAND" with men of recognized taste in matters of dress. The Styles are here, the Prices are here. Our Suits at $12.50, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00 and $22.00 have that air of superiety that suggests custom made. There's the same good values to be found in the Boys Department.

C. S. FORBES,

The Man's Outfitter.

Bill Arp, writing some years ago about the value of a newspaper, said:

"I never took a paper that didn't pay me more than I paid for it. One time an old friend of mine started a paper way down South and sent a copy to me and I subscribed just to encourage him and, after awhile it published an order to sell a lot at public auction. So I enquired about the lot and told a friend to run it up to $50. He bid off the lot at $38 and sold it in less than a month for $100, so I made $62 clear by taking that paper. My father told me that when he was a young man he saw a notice in a paper that a school teacher was wanted away off in a distant county, and he went and got the situation, and a little girl was sent to him, and after awhile she grew up sweet and beautiful and he married her. Now if he had not taken that paper what do you suppose would have become of me? I would have been some other fellow, or maybe I would not have been at all."

THERE IS A WAY TO SAVE AND A WAY TO LOSE.

You save when you buy the best goods, you lose when you buy any other kind. It is poor policy to buy any but the best, especially when it comes to

GROCERIES.

Don't put just anything on your table and think it is good enough. The same money at my store will get the best to be had. I have just put in a fresh stock of

Canned Goods, Package Goods,

COCHINEAL DYE.

The Way the Insects Are Gathered and Prepared For Use.

The history of the cochineal insect was for a long time very obscure, and at one time the species employed in commerce was considered a kind of grain. It was not until near the close of the seventeenth century that it was discovered to be of insect origin. The insect is a native of Mexico, where it was raised by the Mexican Indians long before the country was discovered by the Spaniards. It is now cultivated in some of the West Indian islands and in a few of our western states, but it is in Mexico only that it is raised in sufficient quantities to form an article of commerce. The insect is raised on the cochineal tree, or Indian fig or nopal, which is a species of cactus.

The cochineal is first collected about the middle of December. The insects are removed from the tree with a knife, the edge of which has been blunted, or are carefully brushed off with a squirrel tail. This labor is performed by the women. The insects are usually killed by the application of heat, by baking in ovens or by the heat of the sun.

When the cochineal arrives in the market it is in the form of a small grain, having a convex and a concave side, but with very little resemblance to the body of an insect. It is used for dyeing crimson and scarlet and for making carmine. Cochineal alone yields a purple color, which, when mixed with a solution of tin in nitromuriatic acid, may be changed to a most beautiful scarlet. The discovery is said to have been made in this wise:

A man who was making a thermometer placed in his window an extract of cochineal made with boiling water, and in some way a vial containing nitromuriatic acid was broken over it. This acid changed the purple dye into a most beautiful dark red, and by experiments this man soon found that the tin dissolved in the acid caused the change of color. An ingenious dyer at Leyden, Holland, brought the discovery to perfection. The secret afterward became known, and a large dyeing establishment was erected in Paris. This accident occurred 300 years ago.

The Fox and the Fleas.

Reynard is a knowing animal. The foxes are much tormented by fleas, but when the infliction becomes too severe they know how to get rid of the insects. They gather from the bark of trees moss, which they carry to a stream that deepens by degrees. Here they enter the water, still carrying the moss in their mouths, and, going backward, beginning from the end of their tails, they advance till the whole body, with the exception of the mouth, is entirely immersed. The fleas during this proceeding have rushed in rapid haste to the dry parts and finally to the moss, and the fox, when he has, according to his calculation, allowed sufficient time for all the fleas to take their departure, quietly opens his mouth. The moss floats off down the stream with its burden of fleas, and when it is out of jumping reach the fox finds its way to the bank much relieved.

Too Hot to Get Warm There.

During my experience as traveling agent for a certain railroad I was one day obliged to call on an agent whose station was located in the mountains in northern Vermont. It was a bitter cold day in February, and, although there was a roaring fire in the station, the building was so loose one had to almost sit on the stove to feel any warmth. Soon after I arrived an old gentleman came in and, walking to the stove, extended his hands, but it was so hot he was obliged to retreat a few steps, and after making several unsuccessful attempts to get near the fire he remarked, "It's so god darned hot here I can't get warm."—Boston Herald.

His Bluff.

"Does your wife belong to any clubs?"

"Not one."

"How do you keep her home? My wife belongs to half a dozen and goes to them all, though I have forbidden her time and again."

"You went to work the wrong way. I told mine I approved of club life for women and to join all she could and not to mind if Mrs. Prettymen over the way did go about pitying me for being so neglected."
