WINTERVILLE NOTES

Interesting Items from Our Hurling Neighbor.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Apr. 11, 1906.

Miss Lee Nichols was visiting Miss Hattie Kittrell Sunday.

Rev. G. T. Lumpkins, of Scotland Neck, preached here in the Baptist church Monday night to a large and attentive audience. The sermon was excellent, and greatly enjoyed by all.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, of Greenville, spent Monday night here visiting the school.

Chas. McLawhorn was in town Tuesday.

A. D. Johnson returned Tuesday evening from a business trip down the road.

Rev. Mr. Crater, of Stantonburg, preached an excellent sermon here Sunday night in the Baptist church, and also made a talk to the pupils of the W. H. S. Monday morning.

Rev. T. H. King, of Grifton, came up Tuesday evening to visit the Winterville High school.

Quite a large crowd from Winterville attended services at Ayden Sunday.

Miss Mollie Bryan, who is teaching at Smithtown, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bryan.

R. G. Chapman spent Sunday with his son, Claud, who lives near Shelmerdine.

Rev. G. M. Duke, of Mapleville, preached an excellent sermon here Tuesday night in the Baptist church. He also made an interesting talk to the pupils of the Winterville High school Tuesday morning.

Miss Mimie Cox left Monday morning for Durham to attend the annual meeting of Woman's Central Committee of Missions which is now in progress there. We hope her a pleasant trip.

A series of meetings will begin here in the Baptist church next Tuesday night, April 17th. It will be conducted by Rev. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh. We hope all will come and take a part in the good cause, and that it will be the best meeting that has ever been among us.

Treat All Alike.

Durham is after two of the Duke millionaires for not paying taxes. One of them, who swears he is worth ten million dollars claims to be a citizen of this State, but pays no taxes here. He pays in New York not less than three hundred thousand dollars. The other, who resides in Durham, claims to be a citizen of New York, but his name is not even on the tax books of New York city. If the rich as well as the poor would pay their just share of the taxes no one would have cause to complain of the taxes being too high.—Wilmington Messenger.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

Black Jack, N. C. April 10. 1906.

W. M. Chauncey, president of the grand lodge C. B. H. delivered an excellent speech here Sunday at 11 o'clock. There was a very large crowd present.

Miss Julia Cox has returned from a visit to Miss Dora Cox, near Greenville.

R. M. Williams has purchased an iron safe weighing 1,000 pounds or more.

J. O. Johnston went to Greenville Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Harper, who has been very ill, is getting better we are glad to say.

Farmers in this section have done a good deal of work in the past week. They are not losing much time.

Noah Haddock has been very sick but is now much better.

Miss Rebecca Mills has returned from a visit to friends near Greenville.

Miss Daisy Porter spent Saturday and Sunday at Black Jack.

W. H. Porter, from near Greenville, spent Sunday here.

Eggs are selling here at 11 cents per dozen.

R. F. D. No. 1 from Black Jack now has twenty one Daily Reflectors coming regularly to subscribers, while two months ago there were only two. What route can beat this?

There is a good Sunday school here now in which the young people are taking much interest.

E. L. Clark would like very much to know who sent him that April fool. It was a good one.

The measles is still raging in this community, and there are cases in almost every family.

J. B. Tucker was here a few days ago collecting taxes.

There will be preaching services here next Saturday night and Sunday.

Charles Galloway's horse run away, a few days ago, and threw his mother out of the buggy. She was hurt, but not seriously.

Our people have waded in the mud so long that they rejoice to see this pretty weather.

Aged Couple Died Same Day.

On the same train which arrived yesterday afternoon from the South were the remains of Mr. Edward Fadin and Mrs. Ann E. Fadin, husband and wife, aged 79 and 71 years, respectively, both of whom passed away at their home in Howard, S. C., between Conway and Chadbourn, Sunday, the bus band at 7:35 a. m. and the wife exactly seven hours later to the minute at 2:35 p. m. Mr. Fadin's death was due to Brights Disease and that of Mrs. Fadin resulted from a stroke of paralysis suffered three weeks ago. Only a few months ago the venerable couple celebrated their golden wedding and their deaths on Sunday so near one another was quite singular.—Wilmington Star.

You may not have the chance again to see such fancy skating as will be at the Centre Brick warehouse rink tomorrow night.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

S. E. Parks, a white barber of Asheville, committed suicide by hanging himself with a wire.

Mrs. Julia Tyndal, aged 65, of Lenoir county, was found dead in bed. The cause of her death is not known.

C. T. Coffey, of Wilkesboro, while brooding over the death of his wife, committed suicide at a hotel in Baltimore.

A little son of the sheriff of Halifax county was shot by another boy while they were playing with a rifle.

William Quinn, of Buncombe county, hung himself from a rafter with a towel.

H. D. Hawley, the gold brick swindler who was serving a term in the penitentiary and for whose pardon several efforts had been made, died in the penitentiary hospital Tuesday. He was from New York and was convicted of his crime at Greensboro in 1903.

A Rare Treat in Store.

From recent press notices the theatre patrons of Greenville are to be treated to a real musical comedy treat Friday night, when our "old friends" the Herald Square Opera Co., will be with us again after an absence of two or three years. This company is so well known throughout the south that it is almost superfluous to attempt to recommend it but the following press notice taken from the Sumter Herald seems to indicate that the organization is still living up to its old reputation of making good.

"The Herald Square Opera Co's presentation of 'A Trip To India' last night was all to the good and worthy the liberal attendance accorded it. The music was fine and rendered by an able cast of principals and a well drilled chorus. The work of Miss Leona Watson was especially pleasing and we venture to say that she has as fine a soprano voice as has ever been heard in Sumter.

The seat sale for this engagement is now open at Coward & Wooten's.

More Earthquake Shocks.

Naples, April 11—5:30 a. m.—A great eruption of sand is observed on the east side of the main crater this morning. This is worse than ashes as it is heavier. The ejections of ashes seems to have diminished.

Fresh shocks of earthquake are being felt, especially in the direction of Ottajano, Somma and Nola. Fortunately the great amount of ashes on the ground seems to have counteracted the telluric action of the shocks. Another part of the main cone of the volcano has fallen in causing a great discharge of red hot stones, flame and smoke.

Reports from Sicily state that ashes from Mount Vesuvius are noticeable there.

The interior of the Bank of Greenville is being remodeled and new furniture added.

GENERAL NEWS.

Happenings of Interest Over the Country.

Mrs. Snyder, wife of a wealthy hotel keeper at Elizabethton, Tenn. committed suicide by drowning herself in the river.

Lewis Persell, a military prisoner from Tennessee at Fort McPherson, Ga., was shot and killed by officers while attempting to escape.

The eruption of Mount Vesuvius is something terrible. Already 500 people have lost their lives and more than 150,000 have fled for refuge.

Dr. A. W. Barton, a well known physician of Birmingham, shot and killed his wife fatally wounded Dr. T. T. Thaxton, a dentist of Pratt City, Ala., and cut his own throat, dying a few minutes later.

Good Friday Services.

Friday of this week being Good Friday, there will be service with sermon at the Episcopal church at 10:30 a. m. All who may wish to attend this service are cordially invited to do so, and it is earnestly to be hoped that a large congregation will be present.

The Christian church throughout all time has celebrated certain great events in our Lord's earthly life, the chief of which are His Birth, Death, and Resurrection. The church has an annual commemoration of our Lord's Atoning Sacrifice on Good Friday, just as regularly as it has an annual celebration of His Resurrection on Easter Day. The same reason for observing one moves us to keep the other. As the element of spiritual life and spiritual rejoicing are presented to us at Easter, so the fellowship of Christ's suffering, and the imitation of His self-sacrifice, is the special lesson of Good Friday. Inconsistent is the Christian who keeps the Church's Festivals but not her Fast; who enjoys the privileges of Easter, but never humbles his soul on Good Friday; who is willing to exult in the Redemption, but not to sympathize with the Passion; who wants the crown, but not the cross; who will not partake of Christ's sufferings, although he hopes to share His glory.

There will also be a celebration of the Holy Communion at the Episcopal church Thursday night at 8 o'clock, in commemoration of the Institution of that blessed Sacrament by our Savior on the night before His Crucifixion.

W. E. Cox.

Merry-Go-Round Coming.

N. Constantine, of Tarboro, who was here with his merry-go-round last summer, is in town making arrangements to bring it here again next week. He tells us his machine has been entirely overhauled and repainted and looks like a new equipment. It will be put up in front of the court house, the same place as before.

If the old folks saying is true, along about now there ought to be a big run of herrings in the river. They used to say have your nets in on Good Friday.

PERSONAL MENTION

H. A. White went to Ayden this morning.

Leg Badly Hurt.

On Tuesday afternoon Wade Butts, a seven-year-old boy, was badly hurt by a horse. The boy was standing in front of the horse which a short while before had been unhitched from a plow by his father. The horse became frightened at something and jumped to run off, knocking the boy down and stepping on his leg. The flesh was torn off one of the boy's legs from the ankle nearly to the knee. The boy was brought here to Dr. Fountain who, assisted by Dr. Nobles, dressed the injured leg.

National Biscuit Display.

On Tuesday T. E. Hooker & Co. at their popular grocery store, had an exhibit of the National Biscuit Company's package goods. A large number of people visited the store during the day, and all were served with a variety of these excellent goods, also "White Star" coffee and Wilco's pickles. The Reflector was not forgotten, and in the afternoon the entire force enjoyed a feast of these good things that were sent up to the office by Messrs. Hooker.

Congressman Small Speaks.

Washington, D. C., April 10—Representative Small spoke today on the postoffice appropriation bill and while he discussed rural free delivery and compensation to railroads for carrying the mail, he devoted the greater part of his remarks in advocacy of the special appropriation for the Southern Railway fast mail.

Mr. Small, who was on his feet nearly an hour and a half, made a strong presentation of the cause that he advocated. He was applauded a number of times and received fine attention.

"China For the Chinese."

The cry of "China for the Chinese" finds an unexpected echo in another part of the world. According to a writer in the London Mail, there is unrest among the blacks of west Africa, fostered by negroes from the United States who entered Africa originally as missionaries, "but were not many months in the colonies before they dropped their religion and devoted themselves mainly to politics, beginning a propaganda of Africa for the Africans."

Hydrophobia In Europe.

Hydrophobia, which has practically been stamped out in England, still flourishes in most continental countries. Germany tops the list, with an annual average of 2,682 dogs and cats destroyed for this reason, while the figures of France are 2,263. In Belgium, Switzerland and Holland cases of hydrophobia are rare, the total for all three countries combined being under fifty.

An Unsuccessful Operation.

A Dresden correspondent says that the servant of a carpenter at Freyning, in Bavaria, happened to cut off the end of her forefinger the other day. Her employer quickly brought the glue pot up and glued the finger together again. However, the operation was not successful.

A Substitute For Teeth.

"I think the funniest experience I ever had," said a photographer, "was with an old lady of seventy years. She wanted a good looking picture because she'd got it into her head she wasn't going to live long and she wanted all her relatives unto her third and fourth cousin to have something by which to remember her. She couldn't bring herself to buy a set of false teeth, however, and her mouth fell in woefully without them. I was despairing of making an attractive picture of her when she suddenly produced some crusts of bread from her handbag and stuffed them into her mouth. When she'd put in enough to make her lips and cheeks fill out she explained to me rather thickly that the crusts would do just as well as false teeth. And the strangest thing was that they did do very well, and I got a good picture."

America and Rome.

With idleness and luxury went the usual tendency to brutality and demoralization. The historical novel was not invented, so that Roman ladies and gentlemen could not sit by the fire of an evening and read highly spiced narratives of murder and torture. But, after all, the incidents of the arena, though less varied, were perhaps even more piquant than modern novels. Social morals, too, were of a quality which seems only too apt to accompany the highest civilization. Divorce was almost as easily obtained as in some of our states and nearly as common. Cicero, for instance, was separated from two wives, yet he was universally regarded as of stainless character, and that he was wise is shown by his remarking when urged to marry a third time that "it is difficult for a man to devote himself at once to a wife and to philosophy."—Gamaliel Bradford, Jr., in Atlantic.

Babes in the Wood.

It is not alone in our great English cities that children are to be found who have never known the joys of a day in the country. There are, or were until a short time ago, two at least of them in Berlin. But at last good fortune chanced their way, and into the country they were taken. They were not at first favorably impressed with what they saw, gazing about them with stolid disfavor, but in time they came to where a flock of sheep were feeding in a field. Then, indeed, little Max opened his eyes. "Look, Moritz!" he cried excitedly. "There are lots and lots of sheep without wheels!"—London Tribune.

A Little Heroine.

Little Janet, aged four, noticed the other day at dinner the rest of the family helping themselves liberally to the mustard.
 Nobody offering her any, she waited until something drew away the attention of the others, when she lifted the mustard spoon, liberally daubed a piece of bread which she was eating with the fiery condiment and took a substantial bite.
 Her hand immediately went up to her burned mouth; but, bravely suppressing an outcry, she put the bread away, remarking:
 "I think I'll wait till that jelly gets cold."—Pearson's Weekly.

The Young Men's Christian Association at Spencer cancelled an order for furniture given the High Point manufacturers because of the lockout in the latter town wherein the manufacturers refused to employ union laborers. We think the Y. M. C. A. is missing its calling when it takes a hand in disputes of this kind. The manufacturers have a right to employ or not employ whom they please, and the laborers have a right to work or not work as they please. And that is all there is to it.

Why do people continue to say that the South twice nominated Bryan for President? It is an honor to the South that on both occasions it joined the East and the West in naming the greatest living American for the presidency, but the West and North shared in the honor. In 1896 the solid West and every Northern State west of Pennsylvania voted to nominate Bryan and in 1900 New York and Pennsylvania led off in favor of renominating him. It is a great honor conferred upon the South by these writers, but it is an honor equally deserved by other sections of the republic.—Raleigh News and Observer.

NAVAL AND MILITARY BRANCHES OF WORLD POWERS TO VIE IN BRILLIANT AS-EMBLAGE

The Jamestown Exposition promises to be the great social event of the century. Blue cloth, red cloth, green or buff, white or orange, dull khaki or still duller nankeen, each has its strong adherent when ornamented with brass buttons.

It is only when he wears a uniform that man vies in beauty of decoration with the fair sex. Especially in America, man's conventional clothes are sombre, and the more formal the occasion the less color appears upon the male person, evening wear having been for years dead black and white. The few sporadic attempts to interject color into man's garments for dress occasions have failed signally.

The soldier or the sailor does not share the disabilities of his fellow man. His gold lace and brass buttons make him a shining spectacle and perhaps accounts largely for the strange fascination which the military have for womankind. It is a known fact that in England, carrying this argument to an absurd reduction, nursemaids and other domestics subsidize the petty officers of the British army to walk with them in the parks, and actually pay the soldiers for doing so.

We have not arrived at that stage yet in this country, but girls seem never so proud as when clinging to the arm of a uniform-wearer. Military balls, hops aboard ship, entertainments at barracks or navy yards, are usually attended to the full number of invitations sent. Those who decline are generally unattached men, who are not philosophic enough to stand being overshadowed by their better decorated brothers.

Not less than three thousand commissioned officers, naval and military, will be in constant attendance at the Jamestown Exposition. The United States, as host, will plan many social and spectacular entertainments for its visitors. These courtesies will, to a certain extent, of course, be returned by the foreign guests, and as a consequence the harbor of Hampton Roads and the waters of the officers at the military encampment will be scenes of successive entertainments from the beginning of the Exposition to its conclusion.

No special effort will be made by the Exposition Company to have single men detailed for duty during the celebration, but a large proportion of the wearers of Uncle Sam's uniforms, especially those on the sunny side of thirty years, are unmated, and if no discrimination is made in regard to selection for Exposition duty, 1907 will offer a remarkable and unique occasion for American girls to see Uncle Sam's fighters en masse, become acquainted with them, and decide whether they prefer the humdrum life of a business or professional man's consort, or the more glittering outlook as an officer's bride.

We get it from the Boston Commercial Bulletin that in Bristol, Eng., 600 girls have agreed not to associate with boys who smoke cigarettes. Such a course in America might be far more effective than anti-cigarette legislation. The fellows could then prove whom they love the better, Lady Nicotine, or the bright American girl. Here's one of the boys that will sign up before he would submit to being boycotted by our girls.—Wilmington Star.

NOTICE FOR MILL DAYS AT SHEPPARD MILL.

The mill days at the Sheppard mill which is now run by Barnhill & McGlohon, after the 20th of April, 1906, will be every week Tuesday and Friday. All corn carried there will be ground at quick notice, as we are well equipped for grinding. We hope our customers will realize that it does not pay to have a miller to sit at the mill house and no corn to grind. Remember that we always make as good meal as anyone. Try us and we believe you will be pleased. Do not be afraid you will not get your corn ground because of mill days for we have increased speed and capacity, therefore we know that you can get your meal. We have three mills in operation.

We tender our thanks to our customers for their past patronage and hope that you will continue the same by increasing your corn and we will increase your meal, for we are workers at the mill.

Harrington, petition to sell land for partition, the undersigned commissioner will sell for cash before the Court House door in Greenville, on Thursday, May 10th, 1906, the following described tract of land, situate in the County of Pitt and in Union Township and being the tract of land upon which James Eiks, Sr., now resides, adjoining the lands of Jesse Hadcock, Abner Smith, the Hardy Smith's heirs and others, containing 115 acres more or less.

F. G. JAMES,

Thought He Lost His Head.

A gentleman while taking a ride with his groom had the misfortune to have himself and companion thrown violently to the ground by his horse taking fright and running away. The gentleman was not seriously injured, his principal loss being that of his wig, which had been shaken off, but he found Pat in a much worse condition, with the blood trickling from his head and holding his master's wig, which he was surveying with the utmost alarm and horror. "Well, Pat," said his master, "are you much hurt?" "Hurt is it? Oh, master, do you see the top of my head in my hand?"

Pat in his terror and confusion had mistaken his master's wig for his own natural scalp and evidently thought that his last hour had arrived.—London Telegraph.

Genesis of "Hear, Hear."

The parliamentary cry of "Hear him, hear him," was familiar by the year 1689, as references in Dr. Murray's Dictionary show. Sir Edward Seymour as speaker seems then to have deprecated certain uses of it—ironical, no doubt. But we have to advance well into the next century, to 1768, before we find Lord G. Cavendish interrupted by a cry of "Hear," and "Hear, hear," makes its first appearance in 1769, Mr. Grenville being the first recorded user thereof. Pope had written of "the 'hear him' of the house of commons" and Bolingbroke of repeated "Hear him" ringing in a speaker's ears, and in the younger Pitt's time "Hear him, hear him," was still the cry.—London Chronicle.

GENERAL DISCUSSION.

12:30—Adjourn.

Above will be seen the program for the next teachers' meeting. We want every teacher in the county present at this meeting. Your presence will show your interest in the work and that you have not been attending just simply to draw your salary. A large number of your schools will have closed before the meeting. This should not keep you away. Your opportunity to come will be better, your obligation greater. I shall be disappointed if the meeting is not largely attended. There are some things I wish to say to all of you and I hope to do so this day. I will make this proposition to you. Every teacher who will attend the next meeting will be excused from any further attendance until next fall. Those who do not attend, unless satisfactory excuse is rendered, will be notified to attend a special meeting held for them and for them alone in May. Teachers, show your interest in the work and progress of the county by being here promptly on Saturday, April 14th. W. H. RAGSDALE, Co. Supt. Schools.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How Denman Thompson Welcomed a Distinguished Visitor.

While touring the state one summer Senator and Mrs. Gallinger visited Keene, N. H., and learning that Denman Thompson was at his home in Swanzy and being a great admirer of Mr. Thompson and his play, the senator expressed a wish to meet him off the stage and to see his fine home. An old friend of Mr. Thompson offered to drive down. Therefore one fine morning they drove down to Mr. Thompson's house. He came out without coat or hat, hands behind his back, as usual. The following conversation ensued:

"I WANT TO INTRODUCE SENATOR AND MRS. GALLINGER."

Denman—How d' do, Bill.

Bill—How are you, Den? Mr. Thompson, I want to introduce Senator and Mrs. Gallinger.

Senator Gallinger—Mr. Thompson, I have witnessed your great production, "The Old Homestead," many times and always with the greatest pleasure, but I want to say it is with still greater pleasure that I am permitted to greet you in your own beautiful home in old Swanzy.

Denman—Yas, it's cheaper.
