ALL AROUND GRIFTON.

Vanderbilt Finds Interesting Things to Tell.

Grifton, N. C. April 14.

We had the pleasure of a visit from Col. W. M. King, of Greenville, last Wednesday evening. He looks as hale and hearty as of yore. Always glad to see you, Cousin Bill. Come again before we have a call to the "Promised Land."

And then again, we were glad to greet two of Centerville's most amiable and accomplished young ladies last evening. "God bless the ladies" is a sentiment that will always have a dwelling place within my heart.

Thursday evening Cousin Bill Blount, (who had been to Kinston to take lessons in skating under the professor of a great many antics the night before) went to the rink here and while cutting up some of his didoes on the skates missed his footing and came down ker-flap, and broke his arm. "Now dar, what you say now? I ain't sayin' nuffin, I ain't in it when it comes to walking on wheels, next."

Our genteel Christian friend, Dr. Wm. Cobb Whitfield, gave our town a short visit Friday. Always glad to see the doctor. He seems so cheerful it makes anyone feel good to be in his company.

We were glad to have the pleasure of a call from our good friend, W. F. Harding, yesterday. Walter is another one of our friends that brings good cheer with his presence.

Our Friend A. J. Mitchell, of New Bern, was a visitor to Grifton Thursday looking well as usual.

L. H. Cox, our Swift Creek sheriff, was a visitor to Grifton yesterday.

T. G. Rice was here yesterday.

It is like Vanderbilt told a couple of young ladies not long ago, that Grifton had some attractions that caused people to come. Good looking old men, hard looking young men, milliner shops, one dispensary, several old widowers. And the like o' dat, you know, is bound to draw a crowd.

Some folks say that tomorrow never comes. "Vanderbilt" says it may not come, but it certainly goes. Because we had a "Tomorrow" here a few days ago. He went to Ayden and has not come back yet.

Every thing looks lovely and the goose is altitudum. Fairly good weather for the past ten days puts a smile on the physognomy of a great many people who are dependent upon the weather for the success of their agricultural plans.

From the looks of the grand display of the millinery goods at the opening here under the management of Miss Rosa Quinerly and Miss Clara Gardner, and G. Bland & Co., looks like "Easter" will be welcomed with a right hearty good will among the people that will make the old lady ("Easter") feel superluous. Vanderbilt.

Raymon A. Tyson has purchased the stock of groceries of Jesse H. Starkey, in the Rialto building, and taken charge of the business.

There is music in the air around the merry-go-round.

WINTERVILLE NOTES

Interesting Items from Our Hustling Neighbor.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Apr. 14, 1906

J. M. Blow, of Ayden, was here Thursday evening shaking hands with his friends. "Bud" Joe is a good one and has many friends here who are always glad to see him.

Miss Ida Wyne, who is a student, of the Winterville High School went to her home near Parmele Friday evening to spend Saturday and Sunday with the home folks.

Katie Gold Warren, who is a student of the W. H. S. went to her home in Tarboro Friday evening to spend Saturday and Sunday. She was also accompanied by Janie Kittrell.

Frank Carroll a very prosperous farmer of the Black Jack vicinity was in town Friday evening buying lots of goods from our merchants. I know they are always glad to see Mr. Carroll, as well as all the rest of his many friends here.

Miss Oliver Cox, who is teaching at Grifton, came up Friday evening to spend Saturday and Sunday with her mother Mrs. E. E. Cox.

Dan Braxton, who is a student of the W. H. S. went to his home in Farmville Friday evening to spend Saturday and Sunday with the home folks.

Miss Clara Carroll and Daisy Tucker were in town Friday evening shopping.

S. I. Parker, who is a student of the W. H. S. went to his home near Conetoe, Friday evening to spend Saturday and Sunday with his parents. He was accompanied by his friend, Pete Litchfield.

Miss Georgie Joyner, who is a teacher of the W. H. S. went to Greenville Friday evening to spend Saturday and Sunday with relatives.

Miss May Brooks and Jerome McLawhorn were in town Friday evening.

A. D. Cox will soon have his new dwelling completed and it is going to be a nice one too.

Joshua Manning made a business trip this week to Shelmerdine and surrounding vicinity.

J. F. Stokes went down the road on business Thursday.

Prof. F. C. Nye went to Greenville this morning to attend the teachers meeting.

Wilford Buck is preparing to build a new house in South Winterville, and he has a beautiful location and is going to build a nice house. Winterville continues to go on in the right way.

Quite a large crowd from Winterville went out to Renston Friday night to the closing exercises of Kenston school, and report it to have been fine.

Miss Delia Smith, come over from Renston this morning and went to Greenville to attend the teachers meeting.

Miss Bonna Kittrell went to Greenville this morning to attend the teachers' meeting.

Misses Bertha Moore, Effie Moore, Hattie Blackman and Nannie Braxton went to Greenville this morning shopping.

SIXTH GRADE PICNIC.

Reported for Reflector.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent Friday by a number of pupils of the sixth grade of the graded school, when their teacher, Miss Spruill, took them to Rock Spring for a picnic. All the girls took baskets of lunch while the boys carried fruits, and it was a jolly crowd that started with their teacher at 12:30 for the afternoon's pleasure. Much fun was had along the way by the girls and boys lugging their heavy baskets of lunch and fruits.

The most amusing events of the afternoon was cracking jokes and taking kodak pictures. About 3 o'clock Easter eggs were hid and the pupils hunted for them with much glee. A half hour later a delicious dinner was spread which was much enjoyed, for by this time all were amply hungry to do full justice to the lay out.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to games, and not until the sun was setting in the west were faces turned homeward. The pupils declared Miss Spruill a delightful chaperone and teacher, and they hope to have other such delightful afternoons with her.

Opera House Tonight.

Herald Square Opera Company will appear again in Masonic temple opera house tonight. The play last night was witnessed by one of the largest audiences of the season and all were well pleased. There are some excellent voices in the cast and the singing was fine. The comedians kept the house in laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Bank Statement.

The Greenville Banking & Trust Co. publishes a statement today showing the standing of its business on the 6th of April, under the call of the State Corporation Commission. This bank makes a good showing and its volume of business steadily increases.

Catch That Pig.

The Center Brick rink is going to have a great time Tuesday night over the greasy pig chase, and somebody is going to own the pig, provided he can lift it from the floor by the ear. It is going to be immense fun running after the pig on skates.

Capt. Smith Stricken.

This morning as Chief of Police J. T. Smith was going from the court house to the mayor's office he was attacked with vertigo and fell to the ground. In the fall his face was badly skinned and bled freely. The captain was taken home and his host of friends hope he will soon be himself again.

Both Convicted.

Savannah, Ga., April 13.—Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaylor were sentenced by Judge Speer in the Federal Court today to serve four years in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., and to pay each a fine of $575,794.90, the amount they are charged with having embezzled.

ENGLISH DRUMMERS.

The Way Their Comfort is Looked After at the Hotels.

"Traveling men in England have special dining rooms, special rates and special lots of things," said a citizen of Manchester, England.

"When you go into the lobby of an English hotel you may be surprised to find a great open fire burning in one end of the room. Great, comfortable chairs will be found about the lobby, and you need not exclaim if you see several salesmen smoking long pipes and reposing their stockinged feet upon large foot stools. Empty shoes can be found in many portions of the room.

"The English lobby is a parlor or sitting room, a place of comfort, and in no instance bears the stiff, varnished, emblazoned appearance of your American hostelry. When you go to the dining room you may be surprised to hear the clerk ask if you are a traveling man. If you are you are ushered into a simply but homely furnished room containing one long table. The apartment is more like a private dining room, and everybody is everybody else's friend.

"The meal is especially served, the waiters show especial deference, and everything bears a tone of home life. As each man leaves the table he is seen to drop a halfpenny in a little box. This is an unwritten law of the land, and the money thus collected goes to pay for schools and orphanages for the children of traveling salesmen who die without leaving sufficient means for their support. Several of these schools and orphanages are maintained throughout England.

"English traveling salesmen take life easier than do the men following a similar occupation in America. They never think of entering a man's store with a lighted cigar, and they would as soon forget to wear a collar or coat as to expect to do business with a man without having their shoes carefully polished. All hotels look to this, and a 'boots' gets your shoes each night, marks them with chalk, polishes them and returns them before you are awake the next day." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Wholesome Onion.

Onions are stated to be almost the best nerve known. No medicine, it is claimed, is so useful in cases of nervous prostration, and there is nothing else that will so quickly relieve and tone up a worn-out system. Onions are useful in all cases of coughs, colds and influenza and if they are taken regularly are very good for the complexion.

Scratches on Silver.

Few people realize how easy it is to get rid of scratches on silver, granted, of course, they are not very deep. The secret is simply to rub the scratched surface vigorously with the thumb and then polish it thoroughly with wash leather or chamois.

Salt Treatment For Scalp.

The hair and scalp may be cleaned by a dry salt rub. Loosen the hair, rub the scalp vigorously with salt and brush thoroughly. This is cleansing as well as a tonic.

What is Blue Blood?

The term "blue blood" is used, as you all know, to signify high aristocratic descent, but as blood is red why should it be called blue? The notion comes from Spain, where the families that trace their pedigree beyond the time of the Moorish conquest claim that their blood is blue, while that of common people is black. It is likely that the conceit originated during the occupancy of Spain by the Moors. The blue veins of the Spaniards could be seen by reason of their fairer complexion, but those of the Moors could not.

Making Collections of Things.

When boys and girls make collections they should try to stop for a minute and wonder if it will be something that they will be proud of always. Stamp collections teach a great deal of history and geography, collections of stones teach geology and history, and pictures and books and curiosities are worth while. Some collections are fads of an hour, and when a boy or a girl puts time and energy into hunting for a particular thing it should be some object that pays.

What the Birds Do.

We are all in the habit of saying that birds sing, but a man who claims to have made a study of them divides "sing" into a good many parts. According to him, the magpie chatters, the woodlark whispers, the ringdove crows, the woodpecker laughs, the titmouse chirps, the goldfinch whistles, the curlew cries, the greenfinch chirps, the snipe pipes, the swallow whistles, the sparrow chirps and pipes, the willow wren stammers, the quail whistles and the dove coos.

Brush Your Teeth.

Pretty teeth are like pearls. False teeth will not be in demand in Germany if the free care of children's teeth continues to grow in popularity. Strassburg started the movement in 1902, and Darmstadt, Muhlhausen and other cities have followed suit. The third annual report from Strassburg says that there were 12,691 visits to the clinic last year and that the children are improving in the care they give their teeth.

Faith is food as well as medicine.

What good does it do you to eat if your stomach fails to digest the food? None. It does you harm—causes belching, sour stomach, flatulence, etc. When the stomach fails a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after each meal will digest what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Struggle is the school of strength.

If you would lose that dull old headache,
And feel as lively as a flea,
Make haste to your druggist
And buy some Rocky Mountain Tea. Wooten's Drug Store.

When the cat is away its up to the mouse trap to get busy.

Nothing will relieve indigestion that is not a thorough dig-stant. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, and allows the stomach to rest—recuperate—grow strong again. A few doses of Kodol after meals will soon restore the stomach and digestive organs to a full performance of their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Too often fortune smiles upon those who are unable to appreciate it.

Its equal as a curative agent does not exist. So perfect is the medicinal action as to challenge the admiration of the medical profession. Such is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

There is a lot of sentiment in the squeeze of a hand in the right person.

The most rational remedy for coughs and colds is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It acts on the bowels as a mild cathartic—expels all cold from the system. Cuts all phlegm out of the throat, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. An ideal remedy for children—equally good for adults. Sold by John L. Wooten.

It takes more than Sunday dress parade to make the Christian warrior.

Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is a wonderful spring tonic. It drives out all impurities. A good thing for the whole family. Keeps you well all summer. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

Its a waste of time to pray for the heathen if you are not on speaking terms with your neighbor.—Orang Va. Observer.

If you ever bought a box of witch Hazel Salve that failed to give satisfaction the chances are it did not have the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co." printed on the wrapper and pressed in the box. The original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve never fails to give satisfaction for burns, sores, boils, tetter, cracked hands, etc. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles it affords almost immediate relief. It stops the pain. Sold by John L. Wooten.

He who has no faith in himself is destined to become a successful failure.

Don't tie a cough or a cold up in your system by taking a remedy that binds the bowels. Take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It is different from all other cough syrups. It is better. It opens the bowels—expels all cold from the system, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. An ideal remedy for young and old. Children like it. Sold by John L. Wooten.

When a girl marries an old man for his money she wears a saintly look to make it seem natural.

Living indoors so much during the winter creates a sort of stuffy, want-ozone condition in the blood and system generally. Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. These famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself. They relieve headache, sallow complexion, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Is North Carolina doing anything toward having a creditable exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition next year? We should not be content with the fact that Norfolk is so largely made up of our folks that it will be almost our exposition any way, but there should be such an exhibit from the Old North State as will show them and the visitors that there are lots of good things "down home."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington D. C., April 13, 1906
—Better than any other indications that the rate bill is approaching a vote is the fact that debate is languishing. Senator Tillman has not found it any easy job "working for the White House," as some of his enemies tantalizingly put it, but he has stood up manfully to the task, and it is quite possible that he and the President understand each other better than some members of the Senate who are more frequent callers at the Executive Mansion.

The ship subsidy bill is again raising its head and it is said that the friends of that measure have been trying to make a deal with the tariff revisionists to see whether they could help each other. The committee on merchant marine and fisheries has been holding hearings all this week for the benefit of those interested in subsidy. There have been a number of more or less interested witnesses who proved more or less interesting. Edwin Crump was one of the witnesses for the shipyard interests and he voiced the general sentiment very well when he said, "We don't care much what you give us, so you give us something"

The Wilmington Star sizes it up about right when it says, "What the government can do for us, in the Socialistic idea; what we can do for the government, is the Democratic principle; and how we can do the government, is what makes the Republican party differ so radically from the other two."

THE EASTER BONNET TRAGEDY.

Her pretty Easter bonnet
Had a full-fledged garden on it
And fifty yards of ribbons—by the mass!
And of birds I counted plenty;
[I am sure they numbered twenty!]
Half the songsters of the settlement—alas!
And lo! there came a wonder:
When the organ pealed in thunder,
And demurely in her cushioned pew she sat—
While the minister-bells were ringing,
All the birds—they went to singing
In a wild, tumultuous chorus on her hat!
And the bees—from meadows golden
Came buzzing down the velvet aisles and dim;
They left their native bowers
And sought honey in the flowers—
The roses on that Easter bonnet's rim!
Then the saints—they grew excited,
And they fled the scene affrighted,
And fans and other weapons did they seize,
And that lovely Easter bonnet—
With the full-fledged garden on it—
Was surrendered to the mad, marauding bees.
—F. L. Stanton.

Subsidy Won by 3 Votes.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—The champions of the Southern Railway fast rail appropriation won out by a nose in the House today, having the comfortable majority of 3 votes, when the roll was called to strike out this provision. Three North Carolinians, Messrs. Small, Gudger and Poy voted for the appropriation and Mr. Blackburn was paired in its favor.

For a long time the merchants of this State suffered under an unjust purchase tax. Now The Merchants' Journal, of Raleigh, is authority for the statement that a prominent politician has advised it that "a revenue bill is being framed for adoption by the next General Assembly of North Carolina which embraces a 'merchants' license tax.' We don't believe it will pass and that any man who favors the same will be elected." The merchants would do well to probe this matter and enquire of prospective legislative candidates what they know about it.—Charlotte Chronicle.

of Life insurance placed through his agency in addition to many thousands of dollars in Fire, Health, Accident, Burglary, and Plate Glass insurance which we also control. The enormous volume of business during our first year, and the great superiority of our contracts, have placed us in a position, as representatives of the leading insurance companies of the world, to successfully meet competition, and our earnest wish is that those desiring insurance give our contracts a thorough examination.

Having spent a pleasant and successful year in Greenville we wish to state that "We Are Here To Stay" and shall appreciate a share of YOUR patronage.

Years ago in New Hampshire there were three commissioners appointed to examine candidates for admission to the bar. At one time the commissioners were Jeremiah Mason, the ablest lawyer in the state; Mr. Sullivan and another member of the bar. Of a certain candidate who presented himself for examination, Mr. Willard tells this story in his book, "Half a Century With Judges and Lawyers."

He was an awkward young man, and the chairman proceeded to examine him thus:

"What is property?"

The candidate described it.

"How is it acquired?"

"In various ways."

"Illustrate."

"Mr. Mason gets his by high fees, Mr. Sullivan by usury and Mr. —"

"Stop, stop," exclaimed Mason.

"I think we can admit him, Brother Sullivan."

DANIEL DOUGHERTY.

First Public Speech of the "Silver Tongued" Orator.

Daniel Dougherty may not have been the original "silver tongued" orator, but there never lived a man who was better entitled to the epithet. The other day a man who was a warm friend of the eminent Philadelphian said: "Dougherty's success shows what ambition and persistence will do, backed by common sense and some brains. He told me that he sought for many years an opportunity to make a speech in public. He always carried two or three speeches in his pocket, hoping that something would turn up to give him the chance of making an oratorical display. For many years he waited, his tongue ever ready to open up on any subject."

"At last the eventful day arrived. There was a great convention and numerous important speakers. Just about the moment when the second speaker had finished a rainstorm came up, and there was a grand rush from the platform to a neighboring cafe. Ten thousand farmers, mechanics, laborers, etc., stood out in the wet with nobody to talk to them. The chairman of the meeting was in despair. Dougherty was in the crowd. He saw his opportunity. He rushed to the platform, introduced himself and asked to be allowed to hold the audience until the advertised spouters returned. The chairman was very skittish at first, but the people were clamoring, and he finally said in some disgust, 'Oh, very well. I don't know who you are or what you can say, but we don't want the crowd to go away. See what you can do.'

"Funny, wasn't it? Before Dan had said a dozen words the restless crowd gave him the attentive ear. Umbrellas were closed. Men on the outskirts pushed in, and pretty soon all were standing uncovered in the rain listening with open mouths to the entrancing eloquence of the young Demosthenes. For nearly an hour they were spellbound. The chairman nearly had a fit. His doubts gave place to wonder, his wonder to interest, his interest to the strongest curiosity, his curiosity to unfeigned admiration. The advertised speakers slipped back unobserved to their seats on the platform and drank in every word Dougherty uttered: I tell you he made good. And that first speech made him famous as the 'Silver Tongued' Dougherty."—New York Press.

THE MOOSE YARD.

Winter Quarters of the Animal and the Hunt For Food.

The yarding of the moose is a familiar phrase that has furnished the ground for several misconceptions. Many persons think that a moose yard is a large place, with all the snow in it hammered down smooth and surrounded by a straight wall of untrodden snow which rises to the level of the deep, soft covering of the forest beyond. They imagine, further, that as soon as the new snowstorm begins the moose gets to work, hoof and horn, to hammer it down smooth and hard within the yard.

The fact is that when the snow deepens the moose family, father, mother and little ones, or sometimes several families together, settle in some place of abundant food and by winding daily in this they cover the ground with a network of pathways. The longer they stay the more and wider the pathways, so that finally there are but few spaces untrodden of twenty square yards across.

The deeper the snow in the woods the more the moose must work for their food, since the lower bushes and ground herbs are cut off, and thus the difference between the snow in the yard and that in the woods increases. If the food is sufficiently abundant in the yard and no hunters find them the moose stay there till spring. If it gives out, they must begin a perilous journey through the snow in search of another place. It is during this journey only that they fear the wolves. It is always done in single file, so that the young ones in the rear do not have a very hard time, and it is usually done with judgment founded on their memory of the country.

The moose yard is commonly frequented by the moose birds, or Canada jays. I am not sure why. The moose by tearing down and rooting up logs and dead trees may expose worms, etc., or the parasitic insects in their hair may furnish food for the bird. There are several other cases of small birds associating with large beasts, and in each the bird is believed to serve the beast as a watchman and get his return in parasitic insects.

With the melting of the snow the necessity for yarding ceases, and the moose family scatters.—Ernest Thompson Seton in Scribner's.
