ALBERMARLE PRESBYTERY.

In Session With the Church at Greenville.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the assembling of the Presbytery in the afternoon the special order of reading the Narratives was taken up.

A resolution to change the mode of assisting churches and fields was docketed to be taken up at the fall session of Presbytery.

Sessional records and reports were called for and referred to the proper committees.

Rev. F. D. Viehe was clothed with evangelistic powers in Pitt county.

The committee on devotional exercises reported the night session be set apart for missionary addresses.

The report of the committee on Bible cause was presented and adopted.

The report of the committee on Sessional records was adopted.

The report of the committee on Systematic Benevolence was read and approved.

The Presbytery then took a recess to 8 p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session was presided over by Dr. Moment and was devoted to missions.

First came the report of the committee on Home missions, read by Dr. Morton, which gave a detailed report of the missionary work throughout the bounds of the Presbytery during the past year. It showed gratifying gains in membership and contributions.

Ruling Elder George Allen followed the report with an address. He went back forty years ago when there were but three Presbyterian churches within this Presbytery—at New Bern, Goldsboro and Washington—and told how through earnest missionary effort the gain to the present time had been made.

He was followed with an eloquent address by Dr. Grier, who urged the necessity of still greater missionary effort. He emphasized the obligation resting upon every one, minister and layman alike, to put forth the best endeavor to meet the command of Christ to carry the gospel everywhere.

The closing address was by Rev. T. W. Winfield, who spoke on foreign missions. Having spent several years as a missionary on the west coast of Africa, the address was principally on his experiences in that dark region. It was exceedingly interesting.

The evening session closed with a fervent prayer by Rev. J. E. Wool for the success of missions.

THURSDAY MORNING SESSION.

Presbytery met at 9 o'clock, devotional exercises conducted by the moderator.

Rev. J. G. Garth appeared and was excused for tardiness.

The committee on the removal of the Parmele church to Hobbgood, reported that the way was not clear for such a change. The committee was discharged and the matter referred to the home mission board.

A communication from Rocky Mount church asking permission to sell its church lot, was read and the request granted.

The treasurer made his report which was referred to the auditing committee.

The committee on education for the ministry made its report which was approved.

A communication was received from Rev. M. McG. Shields requesting a letter of dismission to the Presbytery of Norfolk. The request was granted.

Dr. Morton and Elder Shaw were appointed a committee to bring in report of the work of Mr. Shields in the Presbytery.

The resolution offered Wednesday by Rev. Mr. Bradley to change the mode of assessing weak churches, came up for discussion.

This matter brought out a lengthy discussion that was not entirely free from feeling. The home missions committee construed the resolution to be a reflection on the committee. A substitute for the resolution offered by Rev. Mr. Henderlite, settled the matter and was unanimously adopted.

This resolution provides that where assistance is rendered a weak church the transaction shall be between the committee and the church and not between the committee and the minister.

Rev. W. T. Whitehead arrived and was excused for tardiness.

The home mission committee made report with recommendations of aid to the church is for the coming year, which was adopted.

Recess was taken to the afternoon.

LADIES MEETING.

The Wednesday afternoon session of the Ladies' Union opened with devotional services by Dr. Grier, of Washington, who gave a short talk on missions, reminding us of the great missionary, Christ, whose foreign field was the world. Dr. Grier is heart-searching, and makes his hearers realize what personal matter this salvation of the heathen, both at home and abroad, is to each one.

The special business was reports from delegates from different societies and their work, which was encouraging yet showed how much more should be accomplished.

There was a discussion of several business matters, many of the ladies taking part in a very informal manner, not, however, all talking at once.

New questions to be considered Thursday were assigned. After prayer the ladies adjourned to rest for the night service, and enjoy social intercourse with friends in this hospitable little city.

Three Skating Events.

There are three skating events on the program next Friday. In the afternoon there will be a pig chase at Prichard's stemmery, and at night there will be big events at both the Centre Brick rink and at Parham's rink. At the former there will be a flower carnival and boys' race with two prizes. At the latter there will be a masquerade march and tournament. Much amusement may be looked for at each of these events.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight, warmer in extreme western portion Friday fair.

THE REPORTS GROW WORSE.

Terrible Work of Earthquake.

FLAMES COMPLETE THE DESTRUCTION.

Death roll in the Ten Thousands and Property Loss in Hundreds of Millions.

THE LOSS INCREASES.

Norfolk, Va. April 18.—A late dispatch this evening places the possible loss of life at 3,000. The Call newspaper building and the Emporium are now gone. Market street is described as a seething furnace. The whole city east of Sansom street to the water front and south on Market street as far as Tenth street is completely destroyed. It is now stated that every building in the city is more or less damaged.

10,000 PERISH.

Norfolk, Va. April 19.—News from San Francisco this morning reports the fire that followed yesterday's earthquake as still raging. At this time it is stated that fully 10,000 people have perished, and the property loss is estimated as exceeding $200,000,000.

TROOPS GUARD CITY.

Washington, D. C. April 19.—Official reports from San Francisco are that fire is still raging and the business portion of the city is destroyed. Fully a hundred thousand people are homeless. The city is under martial law and guarded by United States troops. Several towns along the Pacific coast suffered terribly by the earthquake.

SANTA ROSA DESTROYED.

Los Angeles, Cal. April 19.—It is reported here that the city of Santa Rosa has been destroyed. Five thousand people there are rendered homeless and the dead may reach into the hundreds. Not a business building is left standing. Main street is one line of charred ruins. Buildings not destroyed by the earthquake were consumed by fire. People fled to the hills and watched the destruction of the city.

REPORTS NOT EXAGGERATED.

Norfolk, Va. April 19.—The latest reports this afternoon are that Nob Hill, the residence portion of the city, has been reached by the fire. The flames are leaping from house to house, destroying everything in their path. The water supply is cut off and nothing can be done to check the fire. Chief of the fire department Sullivan is among the killed. The reports of casualties are underestimated. Over 100,000 people have been rendered helpless and homeless. Looks like the entire city will be destroyed.

Caught the Pigs.

There was considerable amusement Tuesday night at both the Centre Brick rink and at Prichard stemmery. At the former the pig was caught by Ed Ward and at the latter by S. G. Boddie.

THE BETHEL OUTRAGE.

Mr. Teel Gives Particulars of the Assault Upon Him.

Mr. W. J. Teel who lives near Bethel, and who was the victim of an outrageous assault last Sunday night, was in Greenville Wednesday, and The Reflector interviewed him for more definite particulars regarding the affair.

Mr. Teel said that in the dead hours of the night the door of his home was broken open with a crash and the next instant he was aroused by violent hands being laid upon him in bed. He slept with a pistol in easy reach, and his first impulse upon being so rudely awakened was to grab the weapons. As he was being dragged out of bed he began firing at his assailants and knows that some of the balls took effect. After the trouble was over a hat worn by one of the men was found in the room with several holes shot through it. The direction of these holes showed that a ball had gone in under the brim, passed through the inside leather band and went out through the crown, evidently striking the skull as it glanced and plowed upward. There was an indenture on the ceiling of the room where this ball struck and the mashed ball was later picked up from the floor.

During the attack Mrs. Teel, who was terribly frightened and screaming, struck matches by which two of the men were recognized. Only three of the assailants entered the room, but there were about a dozen in the party which went to the house.

When Mr. Teel began firing the efforts of his assailants were directed toward trying to disarm him, they in the meantime forcing him toward the door. Reaching the door he let go his pistol and put out his hand to brace himself so they could not force him to the outside. By this time his son up stairs, to whom he had called to bring his gun, was heard responding to the call and the men broke and run. Mrs. Teel sent a load of buck shot after them and is satisfied that his aim was good, as there are said to be some wounded men in the community.

His son went to ring the farm bell to call neighbors to their aid, and as he did this several pistol shots were fired at him by the retreating crowd.

When asked as to the probable course of such an attack, Mr. Teel said he had been charged by certain parties with giving information leading to the discovery of "blind tigers" and "moonshining" and that they sought revenge by this method. It has since become known that another man, Mr. J. A. Manning, who was also charged with giving such information, had three weeks before this attack on Mr. Teel been taken from his home at night and whipped with switches, but it was not told until after this last occurrence.

Mr. Teel is a good citizen and stands well in his community, and there is much indignation that he was the victim of such an outrage. The matter should be ferreted to the bottom and the perpetrators given the full penalty of the law.

FARMERS CONSOLIDATED TOBACCO COMPANY.

Holds Annual Meeting and Pays 32 Percent Dividend.

The Reflector had a reporter present at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Consolidated Tobacco Company, Wednesday the 18th. There was more interest manifested by these farmers, these stockholders of the Consolidated Tobacco Company, than we have ever before noticed among so large a body of farmers. By their presence and conduct at this meeting they showed an intensity of interest which means unquestioned success for the movement.

When this company was first organized there were numerous predictions that you could not do anything with the farmers, that they would not stick together, that they were unreliable and a great many other such charges were made, but if those who said these things could have witnessed the interest and satisfaction apparent among all those in attendance at the annual meeting, we think they would have changed their mind.

Mr. O. L. Joyner has contended all along since this company was organized that the organization would succeed, notwithstanding the tremendous opposition directed against it. He has based his belief and faith in the organization entirely on the principal of making money for the stockholders. He has held that if the organization could make money it would hold and increase the interest of the stockholders until such time as they would become thoroughly familiar with the objects and aims of the movement. Certainly the attendance at this meeting, when a dividend of 32 percent, was declared and paid in cash, verifies his belief.

Fully seventy-five percent of the stockholders attended personally and entered into the proceedings of the meeting with as much zeal and as much interest as any body of business men could possibly have done. We talked with a number of the stockholders and every one of them seemed perfectly satisfied and contented, and has great hopes for the future of the movement.

The organization is controlled by eleven directors who are elected by the stockholders. Of these eleven directors The Reflector knows a large majority of them are men who started in life almost without anything, and yet, by their own individual efforts have accumulated considerable of this world's goods. They belong to a class known as self-made men, the most reliable, level-headed men in the world.

If the numbers increase in the future as fast as has the interest in this organization we are going to say right now, that in a few years it will have reached such proportions and power that its influence for the general good of the farming classes will be felt and appreciated more in our opinion than any past or present organization of the farmers.

In the three years this organization has been in existence dividends aggregating 80 percent have been paid. This beats any stock company we have knowledge of and shows what the farmers can accomplish when they come together.

Frankly, we wish this movement success, we believe its success will mean the benefit of the many and we can't see that it will harm any, therefore, we say hurrah for the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company.

Reassured.

A learned professor, noted for his power of concentration and for his absorption in the matter at hand, came home one night, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger, still concentrated on the thought of the evening. He had scarcely pulled the bed covers over himself when he heard a slight noise.

"Is some one there?" he asked.

"No, professor," replied the intruder under the bed, knowing his peculiarity; "there is no one here."

The professor gave a sigh of relief and turned over to sleep.

"I was almost certain I had heard some one," he remarked to himself.

A Scented Message.

When Lord Randolph Churchill was leader of the house of commons he was a somewhat unconventional occupant of that exalted post, according to a story in the biography by his son.

"I am commanded by the queen," said Lord Iddesleigh, writing to Lord Randolph from Balmoral, "to say that her majesty was greatly amused by the contents of your dispatch box last night. I suppose you won't understand this message without some explanation—there was a liberal sprinkling of tobacco in it!"

Sticking to the Point.

Tommy—The mucilage bottle, and he's been like a mouse since the first suck.—Baltimore American.

Ex Governor C. B. Aycock for professional reasons declined the appointment tendered him by President Roosevelt as one of the commissioners to the Pan-American congress at Rio Janeiro.

A new feature has been added to the college baseball games. In a game between the A. & M. and Trinity College the side features were a chicken pulling and free-for-all fight. The affair is to be investigated, but the best step would be to cut out the competitive games and require the boys to give that much more attention to their books.

That is an ugly condition of affairs in the vicinity of Bethel and it is no wonder the better class of citizens are indignant that it exists. Good men being molested in their homes because they try to remove evil from their community, show a spirit of lawlessness that is dangerous and should not be tolerated. While the reports of such occurrences in the past from the "moonshine" districts of the West were common, they were nevertheless shocking, but that such spirit has drifted to this enlightened county is appalling, and calls upon good men to pause and consider. It has been said that a man who would run a "blind tiger" or engage in the illicit making of whiskey, is mean enough to do anything, and such occurrences as those near Bethel bear out this charge.

From its organization The Reflector has had faith in the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company, and has not hesitated to say so. It has looked to us all along that this was the ideal movement for farmers to protect their own interests and to reap a just reward in return for their labor. This Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company is an organization of farmers and those interested in tobacco culture. They bought warehouses and hired men of experience and integrity to conduct them, they sell their crop at their own houses and participate in the profits. The wisdom of this movement is manifest in the results as shown in the news columns of this paper. Mr. O. L. Joyner, the president of the company, who was the originator of the movement, has thrown his energy and ability into it from the beginning, and the success of the organization is largely due to his excellent management. He is entitled to the gratitude of every tobacco farmer in Pitt county.

Senator Depew's condition is not serious enough to give his aspiring successors any hope.

(By an Occasional Contributor.)

Mr. Rockefeller says that money does not bring happiness and promptly starts out to embitter the future of John D. III with a check for several millions.

People who have been compelled to read Ion Perdicaris magazine articles will cease to wonder why Reason let him off without waiting to collect that ransom.

The Senators who confessedly do not know anything about the pending rate bill are numerous enough to pass any sort of a bill they wanted if they only could get together.

If Mrs. Reed Smoot had just come out with the announcement a few months back that she was singular and not plural she would have saved the government several thousand dollars in judicial expenses and robbed the public of a lot of amusement.

In spite of the fact that the Cuban treaty has two years more to run, the islanders are beginning to wonder if the Senate will think the same way about them that it did about the Philippines.

If the enemies of Caleb Powers do not succeed in getting him hung, they will at least manage to keep him out of a job for a long time.

The commission appointed some time ago has just reported in favor of heating the capitol with hot air. An economical plan would be to simply open the doors of the Senate chamber.

The new Russian parliament is to be provided with a press gallery and an official copy reader to tell the correspondents what part of the debate they didn't hear.

General Insurance Agency.

On April 14th, 1905, we opened our doors to the people of Greenville and adjoining community, earnestly soliciting a share of their patronage. As a result of our labors we have gained the confidence and friendship of the vast majority of the insuring public and on this our happy anniversary, we wish to return to them our thanks for more than

of Life insurance placed through his agency in addition to many thousands of dollars in Fire, Health, Accident, Burglary, and Plate Glass insurance which we also control. Having spent a pleasant and successful year in Greenville we wish to state that "We Are Here To Stay" and shall appreciate a share of YOUR patronage.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, nervous dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me. D. KAUBLE, Nevada, O.

EGYPTIAN CIVILIZATION.

Its Origin One of the Unsolved Enigmas

The origin of Egyptian civilization has been the enigma of the world for the past twenty-five centuries. Presenting no historic or even mythic infancy, it appears before the world at once as a highly civilized and organic community centuries before Moses was a boy. Upon this subject Renan says, "Egypt has no archaic epoch, but suddenly takes its place in the world in all its matchless magnificence, without father and without mother and as clean apart from all evolution as if it had dropped from the unknown heavens." Would not an explanation at least feasible be found in the hypothesis that it received its civilization from some source no longer existing? Menes, the first historic figure in its long line of dynasties, the outlines of whose personality loom up wavering indefinite, but grandly impressive, against the deep mythic background of prehistoric story at least 4500 B. C., conceived and executed enterprises extorting the warmest admiration from the best engineers of the twentieth century. Did he not alter the course of the Nile by vast embankments to gain stable foundations other than the shifting sands for his sacred city of Memphis and construct the artificial lake of Moeris, 450 miles in circumference and 350 feet deep, as a reservoir for the waters of the Nile?

Look, too, at the colossal achievements of his successors in architecture, sculpture, engineering, astronomical, political, medical, social and military science, to say nothing of navigation and theology. Witness the ruins of the Labyrinth recorded by Herodotus, which had 3,000 chambers, half of them above ground and half below, a combination of courts, chambers, colonnades, statues and pyramids. Witness the wonders of the magnificent temple of Karnak, which still awakens our admiration, a temple, as Denon says, wherein the Cathedral of Notre Dame, in Paris, could be set inside one of its halls and yet not touch the walls. Witness the sublime pyramids originally built in honor of the sun god Ra and for use in astronomical observatories, the splendors of Memphis, Thebes and Heliopolis, of the sphinx and the obelisks, the statuary and the numerous temples with the ruins of which the land is still filled.

CONDENSED STORIES.

What Happened to a Deacon Who Slept at Prayer Meeting.

Dr. W. Robson Notman, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, at the corner of Rush and Superior streets, is fond of a good story. He dropped in at a Christian Endeavor social for a few moments one evening, and the president, catching sight of him, called upon him for a talk, much to the surprise of the minister. This was the story he told as an illustration of his feelings:

"I am reminded of the good old deacon who was wont to attend prayer meeting very regularly, but who always chose the hour as a time for a comfortable nap. The old man likewise was fond of a good game of cards. He was taking his usual snooze during the prayer service one evening when the minister said:

"WILLIAM, WAKE UP. IT'S YOUR TIME TO LEAD."

"Brother Blank, will you please lead in prayer?"

"Brother Blank was too far in dreamland to hear, and the fact was a source of much embarrassment to his good wife.

"William," she whispered, giving him a nudge, "William, wake up. It's your time to lead."

"Why, no, it isn't," said William sleepily, "for I just dealt."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Beaver's Tooth.

No carpenter's chisel can do more effective work than is turned out with ease and neatness by the beaver's tooth. This is the principal tool with which these patient, clever builders construct their dams. The outer surface of the tooth is a scale of very hard enamel, while the body of it is of softer dentine. As the softer substance wears away in use the end of the tooth takes a chisel-like bevel, leaving a thin, slightly projecting edge of hard enamel as sharp as any carpenter's tool fresh from the oilstone. The thin scale of enamel gives keenness, the softer dentine supplies strength, and thus the combination forms a formidable tool, which actually sharpens itself by use.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Reported For Reflector.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson gave a delightful party at their home on Cotanch street, April 17, in honor of their daughter's, Minnie Victoria, birthday.

The guests arrived at 5 p m.
and played some interesting games in the yard and at 6 the hostess invited them in a most beautiful decorated dining room where they were met by Misses Lenard Wilson and Maggie Dickinson, who served them with ice cream and cake.

Then the hostess took them in the parlor where Miss Dickinson had a guessing contest for them.
Miss Minnie Wilson being the lucky one was awarded a lovely Easter egg, and she also received several other nice presents. There were sixteen of her most intimate friends to help her enjoy it and at 8 o'clock they all bid their hostess adieu, thanking her for their delightful time and insuring her that it was a party that would not be easily forgotten.
