MEMORIAL DAY.

Program of the Exercises.

Following will be the order of exercises on Thursday, May 10th: Assembly of Bryan Grimes Camp at court house at 10 o'clock, where in command of Major H. Harding they will form and march to Cherry Hill Cemetery, led by an old Confederate drum corps. At the cemetery graves of soldiers will be decorated with flowers.

Return from cemetery to Masonic temple opera house where the following program will be observed:

Song—"Dixie's Land Battle Hymn," by choir.

Invocation by Rev. H. H. Moore.

Song—"America" by choir.

Presentation of battle flag to Bryan Grimes camp of Confederate veterans by little Miss Helen Grimes.

Acceptation by Major Henry Harding.

Song—"Old North State," by choir.

Introduction of speaker by F. C. Harding

Address by Hon. J. Bryan Grimes.

Song—"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," by quartette.

Benediction by Rev. J. E. Ayscue.

Song—"God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," by choir.

After the exercises dinner will be served to the Veterans on the court house square.

Excellent Temperance Conditions.

We need to be constantly reminded that we have in North Carolina excellent temperance laws and conditions—the very best in the nation, we think. Let's see.

We have State prohibition in the rural districts and in unincorporated towns.

In incorporated towns we have local option—the universally approved method of administering the drink evil where population is numerous.

In our local option we have choice of saloons or dispensary or prohibition, giving us the desired elasticity. That is to say, there are places that are not ready for prohibition. In them we may set up dispensaries. There are other places where prevailing sentiment favors the saloon. In them we may carry on our work of education.

We have less than 250 saloons in the entire State and only nine dispensaries.

Question: Will it not be better to close these saloons and dispensaries slowly by educating sentiment than by a State prohibition enactment, which if not approved by a majority, say in Wilmington, Asheville, or Salisbury, would certainly not be sustained by the officers of the law? If we should close them by local public sentiment, they would stay closed; if we should close them by State law they would only run to cover. In time we will certainly close them.—Biblical Recorder.

The board of aldermen held an adjourned meeting this afternoon to complete some business left over from the regular meeting last Thursday night.

FLEMING FOR SENATE.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

While I am not, nor will be, a candidate for any office, and shall keep myself as far removed from politics for the present as possible, still as one of the personal friends of Jim Fleming, who urged his nomination two years ago, I feel compelled in justice to myself, as well as to him, to say a few words as to his senatorial record. I have read in your paper and the News and Observer the letters as published by Laughinghouse and the comments upon same, and also the letter of C. M. Jones proposing the name of J. J. Laughinghouse for the Senate, and I was, and am still, slow to believe, that the letters signed by Laughinghouse were intended to reflect upon the official conduct of Jim Fleming as our Senator. And yet if it was, and Jim Fleming has been sailing under false colors, has been disloyal to the trust imposed upon him by his constituents, whom he has vowed to represent fairly and fearlessly, why don't Mr. Laughinghouse tell those of us who are less informed wherein and at what instance, he has done so. I don't know that Fleming will be a candidate, or that he would accept the nomination if it was tendered him, but I do feel that his record and his work as our Senator in the last Legislature deserves not only my approval but the approval of all the people of Pitt county. I firmly believe that I can assert without fear of successful contradiction, that he endeavored to carry out every pledge made by himself or the other members of the Legislature during the last campaign, and every wish of the people that was made known to him; and that he honestly and faithfully represented all the people of the county with justice and impartiality, those who opposed as well as those who supported him for the nomination. He is the one and so far as I recall just now, the first representative who caused the bills he introduced and supported to be published in the home papers in full, where his constituents could see and know what he was doing. There is no better way, Mr. Editor, to judge the merits of such a representative than by the talk or general declarations of the people at the time the bills he offered were being introduced and published and the measures he supported and opposed were being discussed in the newspapers. Those who opposed as well as those who supported his nomination, said, Jim Fleming is working harder and doing more for the people than any representative we have had in a long time. As I recall it the first law made by the last Legislature was a bill introduced by Jim Fleming to increase the pay of jurors from $1 to $2 per day, which bill he afterwards supplemented by another bill providing for the payment of this increase without any additional tax upon the people, by charging in each case tried a larger jury tax. He is the author of the Pitt county road law, which is and will be of vast benefit to the county, though the improvements of roads is and must be a slow process. While not the author of the original bills he was on the committee, which revised and considered our new vagrancy law, and our new landlord and tenant acts, two of the best laws enacted by our Legislature, without exception, for many years. He passed no local measure without submitting it to the people for approbation or condemnation, except probably some minor measures which were satisfactory to everybody. He had an opinion upon every question and as I believe never shirked a duty, straddled or sidetracked any demands made upon him by his constituents. As for railroad influence, I am sure Mr. Fleming is as far removed from it as any many in Pitt county, Mr. Laughinghouse not excepted, and I assert without fear of contradiction that Fleming gave his heartiest support to every measure that came before the Senate looking to compelling the railroads to give the people fair and just treatment, and his hardest condemnation of every measure that came before the senate seeking to give the railroads an advantage. I have known Jim Fleming ever since he began the practice of law and I have never known him to appear for a railroad in my life; and I never saw many railroad cases tried in the court house, but what he was fighting, the railroad. I cannot believe that the people of Pitt county, who know these things perhaps as well as I do, will believe for one moment that Jim Fleming would ever be affected by any railroad or other corporate influence. He has appeared in many cases in Pitt county as practicing attorney, and I have yet to hear of any cause he has deserted however small the fee might have been. So I say, Mr. Editor, in view of the earnest and faithful service of Fleming in our last senate, he is entitled to the endorsement of the good thinking people of Pitt county, and his record be approved by the people, and the nomination for the second term be at least tendered to him. I know he went in the last campaign at a sacrifice and I know he gave the entire Democratic ticket loyal support. If Mr. Fleming does not desire the nomination to the senate, then I feel that his services to us in the last Legislature, should be approved and commended by our convention, by a complimentary vote for some higher and more responsible position.

I trust that these few lines, Mr. Editor, will call to the attention of the right thinking people of Pitt county the duty of giving one of our citizens who has served us without compensation or reward due credit for his capable, earnest and faithful service.

Very Respectfully,
M. T. SPIER.

THE WEATHER

Fair and warmer tonight and Wednesday.

There will be a meeting of the Kings Daughters tonight at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. A. L. Blow, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the state convention. All members earnestly requested to be present.

Beautiful weather followed the showers.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C. May 8, 1906.

Mrs. Nancy Hart, a very old lady aged about 80 years, died at the home of her son, Jesse Hart last Saturday and was buried Sunday. Mrs. Hart was the mother of three sons, W. F., J. S. and Jesse Hart, all of whom are living and they are well to do, thrifty men, an honor to society, a credit to the community in which they live, having the regard and esteem of all who know them. Mrs. Hart was a consistent member of the Free Will Baptist church and was a most excellent lady in every particular. Surely the life of such a good woman is commendable and worthy of emulation. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

That's a whopping boy at R. W. Smith's. They say R. W. is so proud he can't stand still. He is very happy.

Mrs. T. F. Johnson went up the road on a visit Friday.

There will be a meeting of the cotton growers' association in Ayden Saturday before the fourth Sunday in May, 1906. All farmers are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Georgia Joyner, of the Winterville high school spent Saturday and Sunday here with her relative, Miss Annie Joyner.

There were services Sunday morning and evening in the Disciple church conducted by the pastor and also Sunday night in the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Stanfield.

Miss Ella Raspberry came up from Kinston yesterday to visit Mrs. Cason.

Right many from here attended preaching at Reedy Branch last Sunday.

Elias Hemby, of Beaver Dam, has been visiting the family of J. A. Nichols.

Mrs. J. R. Smith and children spent Sunday with her parents near Winterville.

Fresh corn herrings at J. R. Smith & Bro.

R. A. Darden one of the clever-shoe drummers on the road was here last week.

Tom Harvey, of Kinston, spent the day here yesterday on business. W. A. Darden, of Greene county, was here Saturday.

At the election held here yesterday for town officers the following gentlemen were elected for the next twelve months, E. G. Cox, Mayor; M. M. Sauls, Stancil Hodges, S. A. Jenkins, Sebron Cox and R. W. Smith commissioners.

Mr. Peter Braswell, a very old and wealthy gentleman and former Pitt county, is here on a visit to relatives. Mr. Braswell left Pitt in 1869 and since that time spends his winters in Florida and his summers in the mountains of North Carolina. He says the older he gets the greater the longing for old Pitt and old friends.

E. L. Brown, depot agent, is attending court in Bertie county.

Mrs. Louisa Manning has been visiting friends in Winterville.

Mrs. Sallie Edwards came up Saturday from a visit to Kinston.

"LITTLE BLUE SHOES."

Dear little worn-out, rusty shoes,
With the toe prints showing plainly
And dear little heels that are rubbed and scared,
And laces hanging ungraciously,
Wee little shoes that once were blue;
Wee little laces that once were white,
As you lie tucked away with discarded things
A story you tell tonight,

A story only mothers can hear,
Of rosy toddling feet,
Whose restless pattering the whole day thro'
Made music divinely sweet—
Music that memory may ever make
On the strings of a mother's heart,
That throbs to the pattering of babyhood,
Life's half-blown lily, life's start.

Ah! the years will creep on and the rosy feet
Will be scarred on the hazardous way,
While a mother will clasp two little worn shoes
And over them smile and pray;
And perhaps she will sit in the soft twilight
When the home seems still and bare,
And dream of the pattering of baby feet
Once more on the old worn stair.

Now, little blue shoes, your story is told,
And each mother will understand,
For we all have a pair safely hidden away
In our sacred treasure land,
For we love the scars on the worn-out heels,
And the print of the little toes,
And we treasure our baby's wee blue shoes,
For only a mother knows.

—ANNA WALKER DOUGHTY.

First Marriage by Woman Minister in North Carolina.

A correspondent sends us the following account of a marriage which took place in Sampson county, the novel feature of which was the ceremony which was conducted by a woman minister, Rev. Ada C. Bowles, a Universalist minister who has been doing missionary work in the South for her church:

At the Red Hill, Sampson county, Universalist church on April 25th, a large congregation packed the church to witness the marriage of Rev. Thos. Chapman, the State superintendent of Universalist church, to Miss Nancy Robinson, an attractive school teacher. The novel feature of the ceremony was its performance by Rev. Ada C. Bowles, the Southern missionary of the Woman's National Missionary Association of the Universalist church.

The pair stood under a marriage-bell of green and white, and the ceremony was in the usual form, the word "obey" being omitted, as in most instances in these days.

After the wedding breakfast, in the home of the bride's parents, the pair went at once to their future home in Magnolia, where had preceded them many valuable presents in silver, china and linen, from friends far and near.—Kinston Free Press.

FARM DEVELOPMENT.

One of the biggest items in business of the country in the early spring was the trade in horses and mules. The farmers bought freely and paid big prices. In the Lumberton Robesonian, Rev. P. R. Law quotes a dealer in horses, mules and buggies as saying that since last September he has sold $60,000 worth of horses and mules and $10,000 worth of buggies, and he is only one of a number of dealers in Robeson county. The statement is remarkable, but is probably not exaggerated for business in this line all over the country has been larger this year than at any time since the war. What is the explanation? Mr. Law thinks it is to be found in the fact that our country is developing rapidly in agriculture. The size of farms is increasing and their number is multiplying in every section. All of our fine lands are being cleared and converted into farms. Charlotte Chronicle.

POPULARIZING A COIN.

If M. Poincarre, the new French minister of finance, does nothing else he will at least go down in history with the reputation of having made the exceedingly unpopular twenty-five centime nickel coin the most sought after product from the French mint. The coin has long been boycotted by shopkeepers, and it has been as hard to get rid of in Paris as foreign coppers. The other day, however, a rumor emanated from the ministry of finance that on five coins of the unpopular issue might be found the word "Rothschild" in tiny letters and that the first person who took one of these five coins to Rothschild's bank in the Rue Laffitte would receive 25,000 francs ($5,000) for it. Ten thousand francs would be paid for the second nickel, 5,000 francs for the third and fourth and 2,000 francs for the last of the five.

Why Rothschild should offer this gratuitous lottery was explained on the ground that the banker had a large stock of nickels on hand which he was anxious to get rid of as quickly as possible. Now everybody in Paris grabs every twenty-five centime nickel coin within reach, carefully examines it under a magnifying glass and then passes it on to other eager hands.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Glance Into the Future.

"Gentlemen," said the brilliant young statesman as he arose to address the senate, "a solemn duty confronts us. Thirty years ago our fathers were battling to save Niagara. We all know how futile their efforts were. Some of us can even remember when the last few drops of water trickled over that mighty precipice. I do not propose, however, to tire you with ancient history. The mill will never grind with the water that is past, and there are no heels on last year's shoes. What I desire to ask you, gentlemen, is this: Shall we permit a private corporation to blast away and use for building purposes the rock which marks the site of what was once the world's most awful cataract? Shall we?"

But noticing that several of the statesmen before him had fallen asleep, while others were beginning to be busy with their manicuring sets, he carefully pulled apart the tails of his neatly fitting frock coat and sat down. — Chicago Record-Herald.

Julia Marlowe's Throat.

Not long ago while Julia Marlowe was playing in Chicago she received a note containing a plea so startling as to be almost incredible and which was so amusing as to send her into peals of laughter. It was from a feminine vocal teacher of the Windy City, who stated that she laid great stress in her work upon the formation of the throat in both the speaking and the singing voice, holding that certain positions of the vocal cords are requisite for producing full, mellow tones. She went on to say that she had long been an ardent admirer of Miss Marlowe's voice and requested that as a special privilege she be allowed to bring her class of young lady pupils to visit the actress and let them look down her throat!—Success.

What good does it do you to eat if your stomach fails to digest the food? None. It does you harm—causes belching, sour stomach, flatulency, etc. When the stomach fails a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after each meal will digest what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Tell a girl she is sensible and she will think you said it because you had nothing complimentary to say about her personal appearance.

Begin to reason with the average young woman and she will want to know what you are mad about.

What's the good of keeping from him

Any good things you may see. That will lift his load of labor. Like Rocky Mountain Tea, Wooten's Drug Store.

Most any woman could be content to have rheumatism if she could convince her friends that it is gout.

Nothing will relieve indigestion that is not a thorough digestant. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, and allows the stomach to rest—repopulate—grow strong again. A few doses of Kodol after meals will soon restore the stomach and digestive organs to a full performance of their functions naturally. Sold by John L. Wooten.

No girl ever despairs of making an eligible match as long as she can afford an afternoon and evening gown.

Don't be fooled and made to believe that rheumatism can be cured with local applications. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the only positive cure for rheumatism. 35 cents, Tea or tablets.

The most rational remedy for coughs and colic is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It acts on the bowels as a mild cathartic—expels all cold from the system. Cuts all phlegm out of the throat, relieves coughs, colic, croup, whooping cough, etc. An ideal remedy for children—equally good for adults. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Once in a while you find a married woman who does not need a servant as long as her husband is around.

When the baby talks, it is time to give Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It's the greatest baby medicine known to loving mothers. It makes them eat, sleep and grow. 35 cents, Tea or tablets. Wooten's Drug Store

It isn't hard for the girl who has pretty white teeth to smile.

If you ever bought a box of Witch Hazel Salve that failed to give satisfaction the chances are it did not have the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co." printed on the wrapper and pressed in the box. The original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve never fails to give satisfaction for burns, sores, boils, tetter, cracked hands, etc. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles it affords almost immediate relief. It stops the pain. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The only kind of love that isn't beautiful is that that doesn't last.

Don't tie a cough or a cold up in your system by taking a remedy that binds the bowels. Take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It is different from all other cough syrups. It is better. It opens the bowels—expels all cold from the system, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. An ideal remedy for young and old. Children like it. Sold by John L. Wooten.

No John; girls don't always feel blue when they are red in the face.

Living indoors so much during the winter creates a sort of stuffy, want-of-ozone condition in the blood and system generally. Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. ### Cocoanuts.

The word cocoanut is derived from the Portuguese "coco," meaning monkey, because the base resembles a monkey's face. The tree was known to the people of Ceylon as early as 100 B. C., the milk being used by them for making cement. The cocoanut is one of the most useful of plants—root, trunk, leaf, sac and nut are made to yield tribute to man. The fiber of the husk furnishes excellent yarn and is preferred to horsehair for stuffing beds, cushions, chairs and saddles. It is stronger and more elastic than hemp. The Polynesians twist small cords of this fiber, which serve in the construction of houses and canoes where Europeans would employ nails. The green nuts are grated for medicinal use. Grated cocoanut forms an ingredient of the East Indian condiment curry.

An Unhappy Comparison.

Sir Charles Russell when he was practicing at the bar was a noted cross-examiner, and it was a shrewd witness that could circumvent him. On one occasion at least, however, the laugh was turned on him by an innocently intended answer. He was cross examining a witness in regard to certain hoof prints left by a horse in sandy soil. "How large were the prints?" asked the learned counsel. "Were they as large as my hand?" holding up his hand for the witness to see. "Oh, no," said the witness honestly; "it was just an ordinary hoof." The examination was temporarily suspended till order could be secured in the courtroom. —Law Notes.

Soap the Boiler.

One often hears complaints that the boiler rusts and iron molds the clothes. This may be easily prevented by rubbing the boiler directly it is emptied and while still warm with any good household soap. Give it a good coating of soap, for the soap will not only prevent rust, but will help to make the suds when the boiler is filled for the next washing day.

To Clean Kitchen Walls.

First pour some clear kerosene into a basin, then take a soft cloth and dip it into the kerosene and wash a part of the wall with it. Then wring another cloth out of nice hot soapy water and go over the spot just cleaned with kerosene, and lastly wipe with a clean dry cloth. You will be surprised at the result.

The Dishcloth.

Excellent dishcloths are made of knitted cotton, for they are very strong and can be washed and boiled again and again and will come out like new.

Every time a dishcloth is used it should be washed with soap and soda and hung out to dry.

Toilet Powder.

Use a powder made of equal parts of baking soda and cornstarch. Dust about the neck, under the arms, etc. This is a good thing to use now that the warm weather is coming along. The powder will not injure the most delicate skin.

Shiny Skirts.

The shine that shows a serge skirt or jacket to be no longer new can easily be removed by sponging the garment with bluing water, such as is used to laundry clothes. While still damp press the goods under a thin cloth.

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1906.

A number of towns in the state held municipal elections Monday, and they all went Democratic.

The way he took water in regard to the railroad rate bill indicates that the president does not possess much more back bone than some other folks.

By announcement published elsewhere in this paper it will be seen that the campaign in this county will formally open next month. The county convention to select delegates to judicial, congressional and state conventions will be held on Thursday, June 14th, and township primaries to select delegates to the county convention will be held the Saturday previous 14th.

The Charlotte Chronicle says it took a mile-long petition and much pressure to induce the Southern railway to put on a local train between Charlotte and Richmond, the company declaring it would not pay. Finally the train was put on as an experiment, and it has proven to be the best paying train the railroad has. The same thing happened down this way. It took petitions and work and agitation for months, even extending into years, to induce the Atlantic Coast Line to put an extra passenger train on this branch of their road. Finally as an experiment a local train was put on between Tarboro and Kinston. It began operations in December last and not a day since then has it failed to more than pay expenses. In fact we doubt if there is a train covering the same number of miles any where on the entire system that pays as well as this one.

THE MEN WHO MOVE THINGS.

Now it is a well-known fact that, as a rule, the men who move things in this world are not the men who in their youth inhaled the perfumed air of the drawing room, but rather those who followed a bay mule bare-footed, and learned in the cornfield how to manage men.

They go to college from the farm awkward and ungainly boys from find themselves outside of the fraternity because they are not fit to associate with the sweet-scented chaps within. They receive a hearty welcome into society, however, and under its fostering care they soon show the metal of which they are made. They forge their way to the front by main strength and awkwardness.

They may be bungling as an oxen at a card party, but woe betide the waxen figure with store clothes who attempts to meet one of these country men where mental strength becomes the test.—Charity and Children.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

A Democratic convention of Pitt county will be held at the court house in Greenville at 11 o'clock A. M. Thursday, June 14th, 1906, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the various State, Judicial and Congressional conventions.

The Democratic primaries for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention will be held at the various voting precincts of the respective townships of Pitt county on Saturday, the 9th day of June, 1906, at 3 o'clock P. M. At these primaries the Democratic voters of the respective townships will select delegates to the county convention to be held at Greenville on the 14th of June. Each township will be entitled to the following number of delegates, to the county convention based upon its vote for Governor for 1904, to wit:

Beaver Dam	8
Belvoir	2
Bethel	6
Carolina	6
Chicod	16
Contentnea No. 1	13
Contentnea No. 2	5
Falkland	7
Farmville	6
Greenville	20
Pactolus	3
Swift Creek

It is hoped that a full attendance of the Democratic voters of each township will be at their respective primary meeting to select delegates to the county convention in accordance with the organization of the party.

By order of the committee.

About Borrowing Money.

Never ask a loan from your bank unless you are reasonably sure you can get the money. First establish your credit. The business man always knows to what extent he can depend on his bank, and his bank knows to what extent they can depend on this self-same business man. Of course, if yours is a collateral loan, then it is a different matter, and it is only a question of the value of the collateral and the banker's willingness to accommodate you. But the accommodation loan is an entirely different matter. For every dollar of their own capital the bank is probably loaning five that belongs to their depositors and you can depend on it, care and prudence are going to enter into every transaction.

Your credit must be established. This may have already been done by long acquaintance and association, particularly if you are an old depositor at the bank. The financial statement, property verified, along with satisfactory references, is also frequently relied upon as basis of credit. The mercantile agencies are likewise relied upon, and last, but not least, the banker will survey the application as a moral risk and exercise his own faculties for separating the wheat from the chaff.

If you are entitled to the loan, you will probably get it, but unless you are very well known, the money will not be handed over until you have been investigated. Prudent and conservative banks do business no other way. Your credit must be established.—New York Commercial.

A Los Angeles man has been arrested for selling a human skin for $500. In New York they will skin a man for much less than that.—Durham Sun.

Comfortable SHIRTS

The man with a comfortable Shirt is pretty sure to be comfortable all over.

It doesn't take an expert to tell when a Shirt is comfortable, but it takes an expert to make one comfortable. It has to be roomy, well-shaped, well sewed; the sleeves aren't be too long, the collar must not be cut too low or too high.

When a man once finds a comfortable shirt, he comes back for the same brand year after year.

Some even get to know the kind of box they are packed in and won't look at the Shirts at all if they don't see the right box.

SELLING THE BEST SHIRTS

Brings us more business every season, lets us buy more Shirts and, consequently, we sell better Shirts than we did the year before. Don't think you can duplicate anywhere the Shirts we are selling.

The King Clothier.

A regrettable fact in connection with the independence of young woman is that with some it takes the form of impudence.

One of the comical sights of this life is a big, broad-faced girl trying to look "cute"; another is a fat man trying to act frisky.

The business woman will never be thoroughly satisfied with her lot until she is able to completely dispense of the man's partonage.

Happenings Over the State.

In Wilkes county a family trouble led to Hiram Higgins shooting and killing his son, Silas. The son was 50 years old and the father 70. The old man is in jail for a crime.

Six miles from Charlotte Miss Mollie McCord was knocked down and badly beaten by a white man who is a foreigner. The man went to the McCord home and begged for something to eat which was given him. He discovered that the young lady was alone, and after withdrawing and eating the food he returned to the house, knocked her down, beat her in the face, tied a handkerchief around her mouth and chloroformed her. His purpose was robbery, but after rendering the young lady unconscious he fled without plundering the house.

The report makes a printed column of 188 pages and gives the name of the principal office, the capital and period of corporate life of the 607 corporations which were chartered during the year, and of 2,500 which are doing business in the State. The number of charters granted during the previous fiscal year was 540 and the year previous to that, ending November 30, 1903, was 554.

We succeeded in producing a guaranteed boy's suit that is proving a tremendous success with dealers now selling it. The "security" bond suit is good because it is so thoroughly reinforced throughout. Our success of last season has encouraged us to still greater efforts, and we are determined that the future of the Mrs. Jane Hopkins "Security Bond Suit" shall be a bright one from your standpoint and ours.

"RULES OF CIVILITY."

Good Breeding as It Was Taught in the Good Old Days.

The author of a quaint little book published in England in the year 1655, though manifestly of French origin, defines civility as "a science that teaches us to dispose of our words and actions in their proper and just places." With this definition, based, as he honestly confesses it to be, upon the experience of the ancients, no one will feel disposed to quarrel. It is only when we come to examine the fruits of this philosophy that we feel tempted to enter a mild protest. Hear, for instance, the funny way in which the author of "The Rules of Civility" warns his contemporaries against making too abrupt an entry into the presence of a great person. Rule 2 says: "At the door of his chamber or closet it would be rude to knock. We are only to scratch, and when in a king's or a prince's lodgings our name is demanded by any of the officers we must give him our surnames only without the addition of master."

Apropos of ladies, the author of "The Rules of Civility" tells us that "it is not becoming of a person of quality when in the company of ladies to handle them roughly, to kiss them by surprise, to pull off their hoods, to snatch away their handkerchiefs, to rob them of their ribbands and put them into his hat, to force their letters or books from them or to look into their papers," etc.

With regard to the subject of "what we are to observe at the table" our author has many amusing things to say. "If a person of quality," says he, "desires you to help him with anything that is to be carved with a spoon you must by no means make use of your own spoon if you have eaten anything with it," but call for another, "unless he sends his own spoon along with his plate, where there will be no occasion for yours." "If we eat out of the dish we must have a care of putting in our spoons before our superiors or of eating out of any other part of the dish than that which is directly before us." "Having served yourself with your spoon, you must remember to wipe it, and indeed as often as you use it, for some are so nice that they will not eat potage or anything of that nature in which you put your spoon unwiped after you have put it into your mouth."—St. James Gazette.

HEROIC TREATMENT.

The Remedies That Are Used by the Doctors of China.

Chinese doctors seem to delight in heroic measures.

In several diseases, notably rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, ulcers, carbuncles and diarrheal complaints, they are very successful. The method in treating these troubles seems to be a liberal use of hot teas and broths and a relinquishment of all other foods. In most of the foods there is the simple tonic, ginseng. In others there are aperients which are apparently impure epsom salts. One broth contained peppermint leaves, chopped almonds, bay leaves, honey, blood and wine.

The idea seems to be to drench the entire system with hot water, washing out the body in that way, and relying upon the elements added to the water for medicinal action as well as nourishment.

Their treatment of most forms of dyspepsia is truly heroic. The patient is laid at full length and the doctor with his muscular hands pinches the body. The pinching is done with the thumb and forefinger. The method, though cruel, has excellent results, and there is immediate relief and a speedy cure.

For catarrhal troubles they use warm solutions of astringents, rendered aseptic by peppermint and similar oil, and where there is pain, as in nasal catarrh, they use oil, in which is put a tincture of opium.

For some forms of dyspepsia they burn paper. The paper burned is a thick yellow tissue, which when burned leaves a fluffy black ash, which is probably one-half carbon and the rest silica and mineral salts. Occasionally they write talismanic characters with colored pencils on the paper. Different pencils are used, and each is made of a different substance, which when burned exercises a chemical or medicinal influence.

When it is burned and diffused in a cup of tea the ingredients pass into the stomach along with the carbon of the paper.—Kansas City Independent.

The Coconut Crab.

The coconut crab is one of the oddest specimens of the whole crab family. He lives in the south islands and makes a diet of coconuts. This species has a pair of front legs terminated with a strong pair of pinchers, and it is with these that he husks the nuts and breaks through the weakest portion of the shell. The crab begins by tearing the husk, fiber by fiber, and always at the end where the eyeholes of the nut are situated, that being the weakest place in the shell. When the husk has been removed the crab commences hammering the shell with his heavy claw and soon makes an opening, through which he extracts the meat of the nut. Darwin, writing of this crab, says, "I think this is as curious a case of instinct as I ever heard of, especially in structures so remote from each other in the scheme of nature as a coconut and a crab."

Costly Politeness.

At the battle of Fontenoy occurred a well known instance of politeness on the part of the English and French guards, which, it is almost needless to say, could only have happened in those ceremonious times. The two battalions of opposing guards were about to join in conflict when the English commander advanced and, saluting the French commander, exclaimed, "Gentlemen of the French guards, fire!" The French officer, not to be outdone in politeness, returned the salute and replied: "After you, gentlemen. The French guards never fire first!" upon which the English gentleman, thinking further ceremony needless, fired, with such effect as to put nearly 900 of the French gentlemen hors de combat. Somewhat costly politeness for them.

Fast Driving.

A well to do farmer had a spare horse, which he used to lend to his neighbors if they required it free of charge. He would, however, always admonish them to be careful of the horse and not work him too hard. One morning another farmer applied for the use of the horse for a part of the day. "Yes, you can have him," said the owner, "but it is going to be a pretty warm day, so be sure and not work him too fast." "I am going to do that," said the farmer, "and I must have the horse all the afternoon if it isn't too late."—Kansas City Independent.

Instructions For Repairing a Mirror That Has Become Spotted.

Equal parts of the following formulas are used for the purpose of repairing spotted mirrors: (A) dissolve sixty grains of nitrate of silver in one ounce of water, and pour the solution quickly into a boiling solution of forty-eight grains of rochelle salts in one ounce of water. On cooling filter the liquid and make up to twelve fluid ounces with distilled water.

(B) Dissolve sixty grains nitrate of silver in one ounce of water, then add ammonia until the precipitate is nearly redissolved, and then make up to twelve fluid ounces, as in A.

To renovate the spotted glass proceed as follows: Cut out the affected part, first marking off squarely with a straightedge and chisel, lay the glass flat on its face and apply the silvering compound. Mix equal parts (A) and (B), pour on the clear glass, allowing the solution to flow evenly over the bare space. Distilled water should be used and the solution kept in black bottles. Absolute cleanliness is essential to satisfactory work.—Boston Traveler.

To Clean Brass Beds.

Brass beds, chandeliers and lacquered goods may be improved wonderfully by taking a soft rag, putting a little sewing machine oil on it and then going over the bed or fixtures. The oil will remove fly specks and leave a luster. It does not harm the lacquer. Don't be afraid to use a little elbow grease. But never use such things as onions, lemons, benzine, turpentine, gritty soap, acids or lye, which will all remove the lacquer more or less, producing a coat of verdigris if the article be not cleaned every day or two after the lacquer is removed.

Little Window Gardens.

For a little window garden in a child's room take a large turnip or even potato, scoop out a hole and fill it with good soil. Plant morning glories or some bright flower seed, such as nasturtiums. Suspend the vegetable by strings, and soon it will sprout from the bottom, while the flowers are climbing upward on the cords. By using hollowed out potatoes for seeding post-summer flowers may be started in the house early.

A Very Light Sentence.

This little side light on life in a Chinese city is from the Peking and Tientsin Times: "Two men who have been killing dogs and cats and selling them to the people as meat in the western part of the city were caught a few days ago, and investigations by the police revealed a tale of shocking cruelty. One has been sentenced to two weeks and the other to ten days at hard labor, and a very light sentence too."

Heckling John Burns.

When heckled about receiving £2,000 a year John Burns at one of his Battersea meetings said he was engaged at a job now where the general rate of pay was £2,000. He was not going to take less than the union pay. But a woman called, "How do ye spend £2,000, John?" And quick as a flash came the answer, "Ask the missus." The heckling stopped amid a roar of laughter.—Toronto Globe.

A Navigable Stream.

"Is the Neosho river navigable?" asks the Iola Register.

Yes, gentle reader, it is navigable for vessels of the size of the Oregon for five days of the year, and during the other 360 the person who would ford it with any degree of comfort must tie a wet towel across his eyes to keep the dust out.—Kansas City Journal.

A Parisian Paradox.

A judgment has recently established the fact that to kiss a woman in the street without her consent, a crime qualified as an offense of "slight violence," is atoned for by a fine of 3 francs. That is not enormous. And if she consents to it? Oh, if she consents it is much dearer.—Le Figaro of Paris.

C. T. Munford's Big Store

The Millinery Opening.

We will place on sale during the two opening days an immense line of nobby, smart, up-to-date hand made ready-to-wear Hats. Possibly one of the greatest selections of Hats ever shown in this city.

THE OPENING WILL OCCUR

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY,

APRIL 10th and 11th, 1906.

The Big Store long since established an enviable reputation for Trimmed and Untrimmed Millinery, constantly showing the latest and newest effects. In Imported Hats, we show the latest ideas, while the designs of our own staff of trimmers will equal them in beauty and excellence. Our Millinery Chief has surpassed even her previous record-breaking achievements. Remember the Opening dates

Tuesday and Wednesday, April 10th and 11th, 1906.

OUR NEW SPRING GOODS ARE ALL IN AND A CAREFUL INSPECTION OF OUR NEW
