RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, Our kind and loving Heavenly father, in His dispensations in respect to human life, has taken by death from among us, and unto Himself our dearly beloved sister, Mrs. Lula Cleve, therefore, we the members of the Missionary and Ladies Aid Societies, of Greenville Memorial Baptist church do hereby Resolve 1st. That though we cannot understand this dispensation of Providence, yet we bow in submission to His divine will, knowing and believing that He doeth all things well.

Resolved 2nd. That in the death of our dear sister, the societies lose a member loved by all, one who was ever faithful, earnest and true to every interest of the societies and church, one whose life and walk exhibited all those sweet Christian graces which always mark the path that is close to our Master. She was always willing, patient, loving and forbearing. She never failed in duty. Sweet in disposition, gentle in manner, affectionate and true to friends, she filled her place in our societies as only one like her could do. We shall miss her from our meetings, but will ever cherish the fondest recollections of her true life and her faithfulness and devotion to every interest we represent. Though gone thou art not forgotten.

Resolved 3rd: That we hereby express our deepest, heartfelt sympathy to her grief stricken mother, whom she loved so tenderly, and who has been our much loved president almost at all times, also to all relatives who are sorrowful because she is gone from us. To all these there should be this sweet thought, she is with her Master who took her, she is free from care, and happy in that glorious home of the faithful Christian. May her Savior comfort and sustain us all in this hour of bereavement,

Resolved 4th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of both societies as a permanent testimonial of our love for our dear deceased sister. That a copy be sent to the family and a copy to The Reflector with a request to publish the same.

BALL STOPPED HIM.

Sheriff Brings Down Fleeing Negro With Pistol.

A day or two ago some one broke into the house of Mr. Peter Fleming, four miles from town, and stole some clothing. Today while Mr. Fleming was in town he recognized one of his shirts on a negro named Ben Jenkins.

Ben caught the eye of Mr. Fleming and fled. Mr. Fleming went after Sheriff Tucker to help catch the negro who ran all the faster at the sight of the officer. The Sheriff called him to halt, but the negro gave no heed to this. At a distance of about a hundred yards the Sheriff fired on the negro, the first shot bringing him down. The ball went entirely through the negro's hip.

AYSCUE-HOYLE.

Wedding at Wakefield of a Prominent and Popular Couple.

Wakefield, May 31.—There was a pretty wedding here last evening at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, when Rev. John Edward Ayscue, of Greenville, N. C., and Miss Annie Belle Hoyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Hoyle, were married.

The parlor was prettily decorated and the wedding music was rendered by Miss Lillian Gupton, who, before the ceremony, sang a lovely solo. The ceremony was most impressively performed by Rev. A. D. Hunter, pastor of the Wakefield Baptist church. There were many beautiful wedding gifts.

The groom is the son of Mr. Geo. Thomas Ayscue, of Franklin county, and is a promising young minister, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church at Greenville, where he is highly esteemed. The bride is a charming and attractive young woman, with a host of friends, a member of a prominent family of this county.—Raleigh News and Observer.

RECEPTION IN GREENVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayscue reached Greenville on Friday evening's train, and a reception was tendered them from 9 to 11 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Parham, corner Greene and Fourth streets, which was attended by a host of friends.

The guests were received at the front door by Mrs. H. W. Whedbee and Mrs. G. J. Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayscue were assisted in receiving in the parlor by Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Parham and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Whichard. The bride's reception dress was of white organdy over taffeta trimmed with mecklin lace.

Misses Lena Matthews and Hennie Ragsdale received at the dining room door. Miss Maggie Doughty was in charge of the refreshments and the guests were served by Misses Jamie Bryan, Mary Shelburn, Annie and Nellie Lawrence. The dining room was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and ferns and lighted with wax tapers in silver candelabras.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayscue were the recipients of a large number of beautiful bridal presents from their Greenville friends. Besides many presents from individuals there was an elegant leather couch from Withlacooche Tribe of Red Men, a handsome suite of furniture from the six deacons of the church and five other friends, an exquisite art square from ten friends, a beautiful toilet set from the Baraca class of the Sunday school, and a dozen solid silver spoons from the Philathia class.

Mrs. Ayscue is a charming and attractive woman Greenville extends her a most cordial welcome.

Broke His Buggy.

Mr. A. L. Potter was driving by Five Points Friday afternoon. He made too short a turn and the hub of one wheel struck the hydrant on the corner. The take up was so sudden that the shafts and cross bar of the buggy were broken.

First Saturday.

WARD PRIMARIES.

Nominate Candidates for Aldermen.

The several wards of the town held primary meetings Friday night to nominate candidates for aldermen to be voted for in Monday's election. As a nomination here is the same as an election—opposition tickets being seldom heard of—the result of the primaries shows who will compose the board of aldermen for the next year.

Half of the present board will continue in office and the other half will be composed of new men. The changes were in the first, second and fifth wards, the third and fourth renominating the present incumbents. The nominations show that the officers of the town will continue in good hands.

The result of the primaries was as follows:

FIRST WARD.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by F. C. Harding, Mack Hearne secretary. B. T. Bailey was nominated for alderman by acclamation.

F. C. Harding was elected executive committeeman for the ward.

SECOND WARD.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by J. S. Smith. F. M. Hornaday, secretary.

B. W. Moseley and Dr. S. Spain were nominated for aldermen by acclamation.

J. S. Smith was re-elected committeeman for the ward.

THIRD WARD.

A. H. Taft and W. A. Bowen were nominated for aldermen by acclamation.

J. R. Moye was re-elected executive committeeman for the ward.

FOURTH WARD.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by R. W. King. D. J. Whichard, secretary.

C. S. Carr and T. E. Hooker were nominated for aldermen by acclamation.

R. W. King was re-elected executive committeeman for the ward.

FIFTH WARD.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by C. D. Rountree. J. L. Sugg, secretary.

G. J. Woodward, J. A. Lang, R. A. Tyson and J. S. Tunstall were presented for aldermen. On first ballot G. J. Woodward received a majority of the votes and was declared the nominee.

J. A. Andrews was elected executive committeeman for the ward.

FIRST WOMAN GRADUATE.

Receiving Diploma From Female College.

Col. I. A. Sugg showed us an invitation to the triennial reception of the alumni of Wesley College, of Macon, Ga., May 29th, 1906, with the compliments of Mrs. Catherine E. Benson (nee Miss Catherine E. Brewer,) who was the first woman in the world to receive a graduating diploma or certificate from any college for girls. Col. Sugg met Mrs. Benson several years ago, and learning that there was history or rather some interesting incidents connected with the matter, has kept in touch with Mrs. Benson who is now a very aged lady, of Macon. Mrs. Benson has a son a lieutenant in the navy, and was awarded the duty to receive Admiral Cervera while a prisoner of war on his landing at Montank, N. Y., from Santiago; and the Southern courtesy extended to him by young Benson captivated the old veteran and he presented him with a very beautiful pebble frame in which the diploma is now incased, and hangs in the chapel of Wesley Female College, of Macon, the alma mater of Mrs. Benson. The diploma is dated July 26th, 1840.

Col. Sugg informs us that Lieutenant Benson and Lyman Cotton, son of R. R. Cotton, a Lieutenant commander in the navy, are friends.

J. B. JOHNSTON,

THE TEACHER TAUGHT.

Why Sir Edwin Arnold Ceased to Use the Rod on His Pupils.

Sir Edwin Arnold, in his autobiography, tells the unique story of how, as master of the Birmingham Grammar school, he was caned by one of the boys.

The class was engaged on Cicero. Some disorder occurred near the master's chair, and seizing the cane he "gave a nasty cut upon the too tempting back of one youth who seemed to be the offender." "If you please, sir," said the boy, squirming, "I did nothing. It was Scudamore that kicked me in the stomach underneath the desk."

The statement was true. Scudamore had demanded from his neighbor, quite illegitimately, the explanation of an obscure passage and, not being attended to, had taken this much too emphatic means of enforcing attention. Having called the class up, Arnold said to the doubly wronged boy, who was still rubbing the place: "It is I who am most to blame for having dealt you an undeserved blow. Take that cane and give it back to me as hard as you got it." "No, sir," the lad answered. "I can't do that." The whole great schoolroom was now listening, masters and all. Arnold insisted. "Jones, you must obey me, and if you disobey I am sorry to say I shall make you write out that page of Cicero three times, staying in to do it."

Whether it was desperation at this dreadful alternative or the sparkling eyes of his class fellows, evidently longing to have the good luck themselves of "licking" a master, that suddenly inspired Jones, I know not. What I do know is that he reached forth his hand, took the cane and dealt me no sham stroke, but the severest and most telling cut over my shoulders. I had no idea that the ridiculous instrument could sting as it did, like a scorpion. "Rubbing the place" in my own turn, I managed to thank Jones for his obliging compliance and then said to him: "Break that detestable weapon across your knee and throw it out of the window. Never again will we have anything to do with such methods here."

Sir Edwin Arnold adds that corporal punishment is, in his view, a cowardly and clumsy expedient and that "he who cannot teach without the stick had better get some other business."—London Globe.

Lying in Bed.

Avoid a cramped position as you go to sleep. If the base of the brain, the spine or the chest is especially tired, take the middle of the bed and place a pillow under you perpendicularly, so that it reaches just below shoulder blades and the head hangs over slightly at the top—enough to throw out the chin. Then throw the arms out horizontally. This expands the chest wonderfully, and, in fact, recuperates all the upper part of the body. When the posture becomes irksome, turn the pillow about at once and assume the usual sleeping attitude. Let all the muscles of the body remain as passive as possible.

SATURDAY, JUNE, 2 1906

It is now easy to understand since the grafting has been uncovered the bond of sympathy between the railroad officials and the Republican politicians.

The Republican party claims to be "the party that does things," but when the record of the present Congress is made up its sins of omission will be found as numerous as those of commission. The Republicans of the fifty-ninth Congress will go down into history as the procrastinators and as the most sacred lot of politicians that ever sat on the lid.

The Merchant Marine League, an association very close to the steamship trust, was assured by President Roosevelt that was heartily in favor of the ship-subsidy bill now pending in Congress. You can't find a Republican politician that does not favor subsidies in some form. They are all imbued with the Hamiltonian doctrine that the people were born to be taxed for the benefit of the favored few.

The surprising amiability of Senators Aldrich and Elkins towards the radical amendments to the railroad rate bill strengthens the suspicion that it is intended to knock out in the conference committee the amendments bringing pipe lines, express companies and sleeping car companies under the law.

If the other departments of the government had as much vim and technical knowledge of their business as the Interstate Commerce Commission has shown in its investigation of the railroads, the trusts and combines would have a hard road to travel. No wonder there is a settled purpose of Senator Lodge and other railroad senators to reorganize the commission that is doing its duty so ably and manfully.

THE EFFECT OF SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

An Oklahoma man tells a good story which illustrates the difference between the effect of putting a man in jail and merely compelling him to pay a fine, and shows how the black-mailers and thieves who manage certain trusts and railroads may be tamed. According to the story, a ferocious person came into South McAllister some time ago and disturbed the public peace by announcing that he was a wolf. That he came from the headwaters of Bitter Creek and that this was his right to howl. He emphasized this statement by firing a pistol several times and was promptly put in the calaboose. Next morning he was brought before Judge Stewart and the case was heard.

"I fine you $50 for being a wolf, $50 for being from the headwaters of Bitter Creek and $50 because it was your night to howl," said the judge.

"All right, Judge," the bad man replied, flippantly. "I've got that amount right here in my jeans."

"I also sentence you to jail for six months," continued the judge. "Have you got that in your jeans too?"

This was too much for the bully and he wilted like a codded cabbage. Wouldn't it be a good thing to try the same remedy on the trust bullies?

IMMIGRATION AND CITIZENSHIP.

In the early days of the republic the Democratic party strongly encouraged immigration. But at present some of its wisest leaders are looking askance at the hordes pouring in upon us from Asia and South-eastern Europe.

Senator McCreary, of Kentucky, in a recent speech on the immigration bill, urged the regulation of immigration so as to confine our acquisitions only to the worthy. The present increase be characterized as startling the immigration for the last year numbering as many as for the entire first 100 years of the history of the country. At the present rate only four generations would be necessary to bring the population of the country up to the density of China. He called attention to the increase in recent years of the immigrants from Southeastern Europe and to the falling off from Northwestern Europe, and also the unequal distribution of the immigrants in our Northeastern States after their arrival. He predicted that this uneven distribution would soon present a serious problem to the people of the large Eastern States.

Organized labor in this country is urging the restriction of immigration, and Senator Patterson, of Colorado, who is its champion in the Senate, defended the contract labor law. But for that law, he said, immigrant laborers would be brought into the country to take the places of the striking coal miners, and expressed apprehension that persons allowed to enter as farm laborers would turn to other occupations which give more continuous employment at better wages. Hence he continued that the restrictions should not be removed, but rather that they should be enforced.

GOOD DEMOCRATIC PREACHING.

There are some good Democrats left among the preachers yet. At the recent Episcopalian Diocesan Convention at Indianapolis it was unanimously resolved, that—"We declare that it is the business of Christians and churchmen to be honest before they are rich; that success gained by violating the law or by swindling one's fellows is a base thing; that the greed for wealth and power which leads men into these crimes must be checked; that the church cannot afford to allow men to think that her silence must less her approval, can be purchased by gifts from them; that unless the church does take a strong stand against these sins of the rich and powerful she will inevitably lose her weight and influence and sink to the level of the world's life."

This reads like a plank in the Democratic platform. If those ministers will only get their parishioners to practice such doctrine, Indiana will never again send a Republican to Congress or cast its electoral vote for a Republican candidate for President.

The case is this: If a man has one Summer Suit, it ought to be a Serge Suit.

If he has two or more he ought to have a Serge Suit among them.

For his comfort, for one thing, for his looks, for another; and for the durability and service he'll get out of the Suit, for a third.

It might seem as though we were trying to make the Serge Suit out a paragon of all the virtues. It is really—at least

THE SECURITY BOND SUIT.

Our now popular Mrs. Jane Hopkins "Security" Bond Suit originated last season in an attempt to furnish progressive dealers with a really meritorious boy's suit that can be sold at $5.00 with an unconditional guarantee of satisfaction or money back should the suit prove defective. After considerable experimenting as to fabrics, tailoring, improved features, such as

Double seats, double knees extra strong thread, linings waist band, etc.

We succeeded in producing a guaranteed boy's suit that is proving a tremendous success with dealers now selling it. The "security" bond suit is good because it is so thoroughly reinforced throughout. Our success of last season has encouraged us to still greater efforts, and we are determined that the future of the Mrs. Jane Hopkins "Security Bond Suit" shall be a bright one from your standpoint and ours.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., June 1.—So sudden have been the moves in the beef trust fight that the bill authorizing the appointment of an adequate force at the expense of the packers, has reached the House where it is temporarily at least, held up before most people have had a chance to realize what a momentous fight there is on. For once the beef trust seems to be up against it.

Less than a year ago one Upton Sinclair wrote a book entitled "The Jungle." This may advertise the book somewhat, but it is essential to an understanding of the story. The book was about as disgusting as could be imagined. It pictured the life in Chicago's Packingtown as the stockyard quarter is known, and it told of more filth, corruption and other unpleasant things in connection with the meat business than any decent minded man could imagine existed. The story was denounced as slanderous and a fabrication. But none of the "interests" came out and sued the author. In fact he says that he has dared them to sue him several times.

Then the Department of Agriculture got excited and sent out a commission to investigate the stockyards and report on them. The commission reported, and the president calmly impounded the report and has it yet. He took the matter entirely out of the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture and told him in so many words to keep mum. Meantime other things were happening.

It happened that papers got hold of the story and they have printed enough stuff in the past week about conditions in the packing houses to make the official report smell like a disinfectant if it is ever published. Now that the story is practically out anyhow, the packers are making a sort of a fight on the inspection amendment in the House with a view not to getting it repealed, they would not dare to do that, but to render the law as useless as possible.

This is the sort of a fight that is now being waged in the House. If the charges are not true, the packers ought to welcome an inspection that will prove their falsity.

FRESH WATER IN THE SEA.

Obtained by Divers From Springs Overlaid by Salt Water.

The hottest region on the earth's surface is on the southwestern coast of Persia, on the border of the Persian gulf. For forty consecutive days in the months of July and August the mercury has been known to stand above 100 degrees in the shade, night and day, and to run up as high as 130 degrees in the afternoon. At Bahrein, in the center of the most torrid part of this most torrid belt, as though it were nature's intention to make the place as unbearable as possible, water from wells is something unknown. Great shafts have been sunk to a depth of 100, 200, 300 and even 500 feet, but always with the same result—no water.

This serious drawback notwithstanding, a comparatively numerous population contrives to live there, thanks to copious springs which burst from the bottom of the gulf more than a mile from the shore. The water from these springs is obtained in a most curious and novel manner. Machadores (divers), whose sole occupation is that of furnishing the people of Bahrein with the life giving fluid, repair to that portion of the gulf where the springs are situated and bring away with them hundreds of bags full of the water each day. The water of the gulf where the springs burst forth is nearly 200 feet deep, but these machadores manage to fill their goatskin sacks by diving to the bottom and holding the mouths of the bags over fountain jets—this, too, without allowing the salt water of the gulf to mix with it. The source of these submarine fountains is thought to be in the hills of Osmond, 400 or 500 miles away. Being situated at the bottom of the gulf, it is a mystery how they were ever discovered, but the fact remains that they have been known since the dawn of history.

NAMING RACE HORSES.

Many Turf Performers Called After People in Every Walk of Life.

From statistics compiled here is gleaned the interesting fact that many great turf performers have been oddly named for people in every walk of life. The best horse ever named for a policeman was Inspector B., a very brilliant race horse and famed in the stallion ranks as the sire of Endurance by Right. He was named as a compliment to Thomas Byrnes, who was then inspector of police in New York. The best horse ever named for a governor was Luke Blackburn, and Senator Bland was the best horse ever named for a United States senator. Hugh Penny won more races than any horse ever named for a jockey. The mighty Domino, the largest winning horse in American turf history, received his name from his color, being a black horse, and, as a consequence, was so called for the masquerade costume instead of the popular game, as many supposed.

Daily American and Enquirer were the best horses ever named for newspapers, and David Garrick was the most brilliant race horse that ever bore the name of an actor. Butterflies, the Futurity winner of 1894, was the best performer ever named for a play in this country, and Drake Carter was the most sensational horse ever named for a doctor. Iroquois, the only American bred winner of the English Derby and St. Leger, stands as the greatest performer ever named for an Indian chief, and Boston was by long odds the best horse ever named for a game of cards.

Lexington was the greatest horse ever named for a city or town and Kentucky the best horse named for a state. George Kinney and Joe Cotton were the two best horses ever named for men in the sporting class, and the noted Cleophus was the best mare ever given a name in honor of a nun. Senator J. C. S. Blackburn had two horses named for him. One, a very high priced yearling, left the turf a maiden, while Joe Blackburn, by St. Martin, was a fairly good horse, winning twelve races during his career.—Kansas City Star.

Nothing too GOOD

FOR

OUR CUSTOMERS

We are always looking for something better; always working to secure values and styles superior to other stores. When began to sell paper patterns we began to investigate. We said to ourselves, is the leading Womans Magazine. It is first class and has never done anything in a second class way. We knew that its reputation was at stake. Our investigation convinced us that the patterns are as high grade as the Magazine

The Ladies Home Journal

 THE LADIES HOME JOURNAL

Furthermore the Ladies Home Journal added a new feature which makes these patterns much more desirable than any other pattern. They furnish a Guide Chart free with each pattern. This Chart shows exactly how the pattern is to be put together. It is so comprehensive that a child can understand it. It is a boon to ladies who are inexperienced in garment cutting and garment making. Mothers advise us that by the aid of the Guide Chart furnished with each

LADIES HOME JOURNAL

They train their daughters to do their own sewing

But there is still another point to consider. The patterns are all new, no old styles, no ancient creations; all new, all up-to-date and perfect in fit and style, and so much more easily understood than other patterns that one trial will convince you and make you a regular customer
