WINTERVILLE NOTES

Interesting Items from Our Hustling Neighbor.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., June 16—

Miss Olivia Cox, who had been spending several days in Greenville with her brother, Rev. W. E. Cox, returned Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. H. Rouse and two of her children left Wednesday morning for Morehead where they will spend sometime with her sister, Mrs. W. J. Wyatt.

A force of hands is at work on the streets of our town, which is adding no little to their appearance.

The Eastern Carolina Supply Co., are building an ice house at the rear of their store which will add greatly to its convenience.

Several of our citizens went to Greenville Wednesday to attend the county convention to appoint delegates to the several conventions. They report a harmonious meeting.

A. W. Ange returned Friday morning from a visit to his old home near Jamesville. He reports an excellent time.

Emmet Smith, of New Bern, spent several days in our town this week visiting relative and friends. He lived here several years before he went to New Bern last year. We were glad to see him.

W. F. Carroll, one of our best citizens, was here Thursday buying goods.

Elder Fred McLawhorn passed through here Friday morning on his way to Robersonville to visit his daughter.

Guy Taylor, one of our leading merchants, went to Grifton Friday. Clyde Daughety spent Thursday in Kinston.

J. S. Cox, one of our brightest young men, has accepted a position with the Beaufort County Lumber Co. He left Monday morning for Shelmerdine to begin his work. We wish him much success.

J. L. Jackson, cashier of the Bank of Winterville, informs us that above $108,000 had been handled through it since its establishment Feb. 1, 1906. This an excellent showing.

Luther Smith, buggy trimmer for the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., went to Greenville Thursday morning.

Miss Mary Guilford, of Aurora, came in last night to spend some time with Miss Olivia Cox.

The family of Capt. L. Whitehead, our excellent section master, left this morning for Goldsboro to visit relatives and friends.

M. G. Bryan went to Bethel this morning on business.

L. L. Kittrell, E. W. Braxton and F. O. Nye went to Greenville this morning.

Notice Odd Fellows.

A special meeting of Covenant Lodge is called for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of holding memorial exercises in commemoration of our deceased brothers. Every member is expected to be present. Visiting brothers are cordially invited to participate.

By order of the Noble Grand.

A DELIGHTFUL DAY ON THE OLD TAR.

Reported for Reflector.

Never has there been gathered together a fairer or lovelier set of ladies (and gentlemen) than which which on June the tenth met at Blue Banks on the famous old Tar to spend a day of recreation and pleasure, the Farmville people met at the home of Misses Eva and Lottie Wilkinson, after feasting on delicious peaches all started for Blue Banks, each lady carrying a nice basket well filled with good things which was highly enjoyed. There was plenty for all and plenty left. The Farmville crowd was met by the Smithtown crowd. Never has Farmville and Smithtown lads and lassies spent a more enjoyable day from beginning to end. Boat riding, climbing the steep hills, strolling o'er the sand bars and valleys, gathering the wild flowers and viewing the lovely scenery, listening to the little birds' sweetest songs as they seemed to make love to each other, while some lovers were seated beneath the little songsters on the grass or the top of a tree, vowing their love for each other. The day was all that could be asked for, the bright rays of the sun were shut in making the drive more pleasant.

Among those present were Jehn Harris and Miss Ellen Tyson, Frank Thigpen and Miss Letha Burnett, Henry Hyde and Miss Maggie Gay, Arthur Stamper and Miss Eva Wilkinson, Seth Tyson and Miss Lottie Wilkinson, Lonnie Matthews and Miss Blanche Cobb, Frank Tyson and Miss Rosalind Tyson, Ben Joyner and Miss Annie Hearne, Aaron Turnage and Misses Ruberta and Carmen Flanagan, Johnnie Flanagan and Miss Mary Belle Flanagan, Joe Smith and Miss Trilby Smith, Haywood Smith and Miss Mary Smith, Lloyd Smith and Miss Caroline Little, Tom Willoughby and Miss Agnes Smith, Jenness Smith and Misses Rosa and Ellen Smith and a good size bundle of stage.

After enjoying the beautiful scenery and the most bountiful dinner all hilariously departed, voting the occasion an entire success and hoping soon to spend just such another day.

The Dewberry Crops.

The dewberry season is now on in full blast and something like two car loads are being shipped from here daily, and the prices are holding up very well, the last shipment bringing 12 cents per quart. A car load of berries contains on an average of 200 crates of 32 quarts to the crate, which at 12 cents per quart brings the gross amount of $768, and the two cars daily fetch an aggregate of upwards of $1,500. This means turning loose among the pickers daily $125. Other sections of the county are doing as well or better, and this crop is the means of putting in circulation quite a little sum of money at what is considered the dull season of the year.—Moore County News.

THE WEATHER.

Showers tonight and Sunday.

WATER FROZEN IN FIRE.

Perfect Cakes Found in Cans in Ruins of Burned Ice Factory.

When an examination was made today of the ruins of an ice factory destroyed by fire last Thursday in each of the freezing cans, which had been lowered into a tank of brine just before the fire started, was found a full sized cake of ice as clear and perfect as if it had been frozen under the ordinary conditions, instead of in a seething furnace, which had swept everything before it for two and a half squares.

Another result of the fire was the killing of many fish, by the water thrown on the fire, which, becoming impregnated with nicotine from a tobacco warehouse, was conducted to the river by sewers.—High Point Enterprise.

BETTER MAIL CARS.

Representative Small, of North Carolina, has introduced a bill which looks to construction of better and safer mail cars. It orders the Postmaster General to have plans prepared for a fire-proof, bandit-defying steel car.

The bill ought to pass. Both business and humanitarian reasons dictate this. On the business side, the government is paying about $6,000,000 a year for rental of postal cars owned by railroads. So high is this rental that cars are paid for in two or three years, according to statements currently made in Congressional discussion. The government could well afford to own its cars. If this is not desirable, certainly should insist on getting good cars for what it pays. Good steel cars ought to be provided without adding a dollar to the present rental.

It is little less than criminal to lock overworked postal clerks into the flimsy structures now provided for postal cars, which are smashed to kindling wood in every wreck, with excellent chances that the wreckage will be fired and the wretched wight who may have escaped death in the crash subjected to the more exquisite torture of roasting to death.

Pullman cars don't telescope or burn. Neither do properly constructed day coaches. The number of mail clerks killed and maimed is greater than of sleeping car passengers, yet the aggregate number of sleeping car passengers is hundreds of times greater than of mail clerks. The men on the engine, those grimy heroes who traditionally sit, stoics, at their posts and go to death with hand on throttle, are the only class whose chance of accidental death on the rail compares with that of the mail clerks.

The government is overpaying the railroad companies for the privilege of having its most faithful servants unmercifully slaughtered, and the practice ought to be ended.—Washington Times.

The Rev. Thos. Chapman will preach in the Universalist church next Tuesday night.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

H. B. Varner, editor of the Lexington Dispatch, was elected first vice president of the National Editorial Association in session at Indianapolis.

Rocky Mount, June 15.—Miss Pearl Jones is the recipient of a beautiful locket and chain, given by the Atlantic Coast Line force at South Rocky Mount, in appreciation of her bravery in shooting the negro at Selma a few days ago. On one side of the locket her initials, "P. E. J." are engraved, on the other, "From the A. C. L. Office Force, South Rocky Mount."

Rocky Mount, N. C. June 15.—Miss Nina Moore was awakened Wednesday morning about three o'clock by a negro entering her room. Her screams brought her step-father to the scene at once and the negro made good his escape through a window. She was, of course, very badly frightened and was thrown into an extremely nervous condition, but is now getting on nicely.

Kissed His Way into Favor.

William D. McNeal, No. 353 Hawthorn street, Flatbush, returned to Brooklyn yesterday with the distinction of having been elected an honorable member of a Batchelor Maids club in Syracuse, an honor never before bestowed upon a man. Mr. McNeal qualified for membership by kissing all the members of the club, sixteen beautiful young women, and he was very proud of it.

He was in Spracuse last week on business and attended the wedding of his niece, Miss Ethel McNeal, who was before her marriage a member of the Batchelor Maids' club. After the ceremony he gallantly kissed the bride. The remaining members insisted that they should be declared in on that part of the ceremony. Although old enough to be a father to the girls, he accepted the challenge and kissed every one of the young women.

A special meeting of the club was held at once and Mr. McNeal was elected an honorable member.

Memorial Services.

In Masonic temple opera house at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Covenant Lodge I. O. O. F. will hold memorial services to the members of the lodge who have died during the past year. Rev. H. H. Moore will deliver the principal address of the occasion and the entire exercises will be interesting. A good musical program by the several choirs of the town has been arranged. The public is invited to attend these services.

Driving Out Saloons.

The Anti-Saloon League is probably accomplishing more in the work of driving saloons out of business today than all other organizations combined. In some states where the saloons are strongest, the work of this organization has been most aggressive and effective. Local option is its method of fighting saloons, and that, without doubt, is the same, practical manner of handling the whisky question.—David A. Gates, in June Watson's.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Of Those Coming and Going.

E. B. Feklen left Friday evening for Danville.

R. M. Moye returned from Seven Springs Friday evening.

Mrs. Kleber Denmark, of Kinston, is visiting her parents here.

Mrs. F. G. Whaley, of Shelmerdine, came in this morning to visit Mrs. J. L. Flemming.

Methodist Church.

Owing to the absence of the pastor there will be no services at 11 a. m. nor 8:15 p. m.

Devotional exercises of the Epworth League will be held at 4 o'clock p. m., conducted by Prof. C. L. Hornaday. It is earnestly desired that all leaguers and all interested in league work be present.

Street Needs Improving.

The way every rain floods certain of the sidewalks along Evans street shows the faulty street work. It is troublesome to property owners and occupants of the stores. The center of the street from Second to Fifth streets is really too high and should be graded down, and the dirt from this could be used to good advantage in filling the low places of the street on each side of the hill near the graded school building. The street will have to be made nearer level before it could ever be paved to advantage.

Like Grandma Made.

The entire force, from the editor down to the devil, are under many obligations to Jimmie Reuss for a bunch of ginger cakes like grandma used to make, that was sent to us yesterday just before noon. They looked good, they tasted good and they certainly were good, and very good in Jimmie to send them.

Ice Cream Party.

Mr. W. T. Burton, teacher of class No. 5 of the Memorial Baptist Sunday school, gave the boys of his class an ice cream party, Friday night in Parham's warehouse. The boys had a delightful time and ate and drank to their heart's content.

The umbrella is handy either for sunshine or showers.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

The Renovation of Skirts That Have Become Shabby.

When a walking skirt commences to look shabby or, indeed, any skirt, for that matter, hang it out of doors, first of all, to air thoroughly, then carefully remove every stain and cut off the worn binding around the bottom edge. If the waistband is pulled out from much pinning or the skirt is commencing to "pull up" because the band is a little tight remove that, too, very carefully. Now hang out of doors until the sponging (to remove stains) has dried, when the skirt may be given a new binding around the bottom, a new waistband, letting out a little of the fullness from the plaits at the back and replacing all hooks and eyes that are necessary. Give the skirt a thorough pressing, using a warm, not a hot, flat iron and taking plenty of time. Press on the wrong side or lay a damp cloth on the right side and iron till it dries. Hang up for twenty-four hours before wearing, as any wrinkles that are made in it before it is thoroughly dry are apt to remain in the goods. A skirt fixed in this way is equal to a new one.—Housekeeper.

The Mikado's Self Denial.

In the bitter cold of the winter of 1904-05 the mikado, not content with the fullest official reports, sent his grand master to look into the conditions at the front, to ascertain how the soldiers were faring. When Count Hijikata returned with his harrowing tale of frightful suffering caused by the cold the emperor was broken hearted. Nothing more could be done, the Manchurian winter must drag its icy season through, but the emperor would not take his ease while his men were freezing, and the order to discontinue all heating of the palace till the war should be over showed that his sympathy was with them day by day.—World's Work.

Cheated the Jail.

A soldier named Rosinski, lying under sentence of death in the prison at Posen, Prussia, has escaped. He was kept under almost constant supervision, but contrived to make a straw figure, using his mattress and other odds and ends. This he placed in his bed so that when the sentry looked through the peep holes in the door he believed that Rosinski was asleep. Rosinski then managed to bore a hole through the floor and, dropping into an empty cell beneath, succeeded in getting away.

Ian MacLaren's Pun.

The Rev. John Watson (Ian MacLaren) is degenerating into a punster. At a dinner not long ago the conversation turned to the art— or crime—of punning, and Mr. Watson ventured the opinion that he could do very well in that line, offering to try then and there. He sat silent for a few moments, and Hall Caine, who was among the guests, exclaimed, "Come along, Watson, we're all waiting." The preacher punster replied at once, "Don't be in such a hurry."

Keep Blankets Clean.

To wash blankets allow a large tablespoonful of lump borax to every two gallons of soft warm water. Soak the blankets in this overnight, the white ones in separate tubs from the colored ones. Let the water cover them as they lie loosely in the tub. In the morning squeeze them, wring-out with the wringer, rinse in clear, soft warm water, wring and hang on the line.

Kitchen Helps.

Use soap and wood ashes to brighten pans and kettles that have been used over an open fire.

Grease the upper inside edge of the pan in which chocolate is being made, and it will not boil over.

Always place a knife which has been used in cutting onions immediately under the cold water spigot to prevent the odor from clinging to the blade.

Drive Away Beetles.

Add a piece of rock alum the size of a large potato to a pint of boiling water and allow it to simmer for about half an hour. Paint over the places that the beetles haunt with the mixture. At the same time sprinkle the floor with powdered borax, and you will soon be rid of the pests.

Wooten's Drug Store.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

If your stomach troubles you do not conclude that there is no cure, for a great many have been permanently cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Get a free sample at J. L. Wooten's drug store and give them a trial. They also cure constipation and biliousness.

If you ever bought a box of witch Hazel Salve that failed to give satisfaction the chances are it did not have the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co." printed on the wrapper and pressed in the box. The original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve fails to give satisfaction for burns, sores, boils, tetter, cracked hands, etc. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles it affords almost immediate relief. It stops the pain. Sold by John L. Wooten.

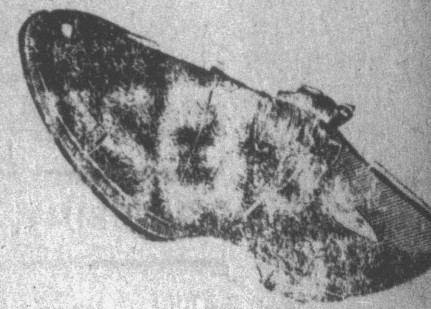

The Very Best Remedy for B. Wel Trouble.

Mr. M. F. Borroughs, an old and wellknown resident of Bluffton, Ind., says, "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel trouble. I make this statement after having used the remedy in my family for several years. I am never without it." This remedy is almost sure to be needed before summer is over. The young man picked up his hat and looked sadly at the lining.

"There is no hope for me?" he asked faintly.

"None whatever," replied the beautiful girl, her eyes filled with compassion.

When he reached the door, he turned toward her again.

"I have to thank you for one thing," he said bitterly.

"What is that?" she inquired.

"You have not told me that you would be a sister to me."

"I thought of that," she rejoined hurriedly, "but I suddenly remembered."

"What?" he asked shortly as she stopped.

"That I promised this morning to marry your father."

A Happy Thought.

A well known Boston writer tells with glee of a neat sally on the part of his nine-year-old son, who is a pupil in a private school at the Hub. Apropos of something or other the teacher had quoted the line "In the bright lexicon of youth there's no such word as fail." At this point the lad mentioned arose and politely made known his desire to offer an observation with reference to the maxim. "It occurs to me, sir," said he, "that if such be the case it might be advisable to bring the omission to the attention of the publishers of the lexicon."—Harper's Weekly.

Mixed Theology.

A group of small girls turned their attention from their dolls for a few minutes to comment upon the religious beliefs of their respective parents. Several denominations were represented, according to the census, and the count narrowed down to the seven-year-old daughter of an active member of the leading Presbyterian church in the district. "What church does your papa and mamma go to, Ethel?" asked the most inquisitive of the members of the company. Ethel answered: "Papa don't go to any church. He ain't got any 'ligion. Mamma's a preposition."

To Clean Saucepans.

Scouring an enameled saucepan with powdered pumice stone will remove its stains, but prevention is better than a cure, and the easiest way to keep them nice is to boil them out frequently with water containing a little chloride of lime. In this way they may always be kept clean and nice.

Discolored Piano Keys.

When piano keys are discolored they may be cleaned with a cloth which has been dipped in eau de cologne and then into finely powdered whiting. The keys should be rubbed one at a time and afterward polished with an old soft silk handkerchief.

His Account Book.

Jefferson De Angelis, still starring in "Fantana," has a tiny nephew who is inclined to be a bit of a spendthrift. In an effort to check the boy's extravagance Mr. De Angelis recently gave him a dime with the advice that hereafter he keep an account of his expenditure. This is the account:

May 3, got 10 cents..... 10c.
May 3, spent 5 cents..... 5c.
May 4, spent the other..... 5c.

Carried a Sting.

Dr. R. A. Torrey, the evangelist, was dining at a Philadelphia hotel when the talk turned to Easter livery. In his ready way Dr. Torrey used this topic as a peg where to hang a little lesson.

"Some people," he said, "can play a sting in the pleasantest manner. Most of us only care to wound when we are angry, but these folk, the bane of social life, are continually inflicting causeless stabs.

"One of these people, a woman met another woman, who is older."

"Now, this is pleasant," said the elderly woman after a few minutes' chat. "You haven't seen me for eleven years, and yet you knew me at once. I can't have changed dreadfully, can I?"

"I recognized your bonnet," said the first woman.—American Spectator.

This renewed enthusiasm for Bryan is making Hearst and his followers throw spasms.

It is noticed that those who are opposed to Mr. Bryan are coming forward with excuses since the tide of popularity seems to be flooding his way again.

The suggestion of establishing a hospital in Greenville should not be allowed to fall by the wayside. The matter was up a few years ago and a wealthy Northern gentleman offered a handsome contribution to establish it, but for want of interest here at home the offer was not embraced. Perhaps if proper steps were taken now the offer might be renewed. At any rate the hospital is needed and would be a great help to the entire county.

The recent judicial convention at Durham nominated J. Crawford Biggs for judge, defeating Judge Shaw. What woeful mistakes the Democrats of North Carolina sometimes make. While we know nothing against Mr. Biggs, it looks like Judge Shaw is one man North Carolina could least afford to retire from the bench. An exchange in commenting on his defeat for the nomination says he would not allow the lawyers to run his courts and they were against him in the convention.

The installing of day electric current is going to be a factor in the development of Greenville. The Water and Light Commission has ordered an additional dynamo for the plant by which the day current can be supplied, and this will be received and in operation before many days pass. By the means of the day current many enterprises that need small power can be developed. Electricity is the cheapest power for small plants that can be had. Some months ago The Reflector, anticipating the coming of day current, bought a 3-horse power electric motor to operate its presses. The cost of running the motor is only about 7 cents per hour, and we never saw a better working piece of machinery. From this experience our advice to all wanting small power is to put in electric motors and get current from the city plant. Those wanting motors or fans should go ahead now and put them in.

The beef trust manager has invited the agricultural committee of Congress to visit Packingtown to see for themselves how clean and sweet everything is there, and the Republicans of the committee are said to favor the white-washing junket.

The Episcopal convention of the diocese of Delaware has undertaken to end bribery in that State. It will be necessary to defeat the Republican party to accomplish that wholesome purpose.

In Washington where the people know President Roosevelt they laugh at his idiosyncrasies, while others more remote from the center of government who never come in contact with him wonder if it is statesmanship.

The Democrats of Vermont have very wisely determined to nominate a blacksmith for governor. It takes sledge hammer blows to knock any political sense into a Vermont Republican, he never learns and never forgets.

According to the Shaw theory the tariff cannot be revised with safety to the Republican party before an election—that is at the long session of Congress. As there is no time to consider and pass a tariff bill at the short session, after the elections are over, why of course there is no revision of the tariff at all and that is just what Secretary Shaw and the other standpatters want.

A cablegram from Europe respecting the tainted prosperity of this country contains one sentence worth remembering. It is this: "When America begins to send its greatest criminals to jail Europe will begin to believe that there is a real standard of morality in the country." But so long as America is governed by the henchmen of its greatest criminals who masquerade under the name of Republicans, Europe must continue to believe that there is no standard of morality in the country, but only a standard of graft. Let the jail be filled with crooks of the highest class.

Hurrah for Congressman Small. He has succeeded in getting from the house committee a favorable report on his bill appropriating a million dollars for the drainage of Dismal Swamp. It was hardly expected that the committee would report the bill at this session. Mr. Small has his heart set on two matters in which if he succeeds he will have done inestimable service to his State—the draining of Dismal Swamp and the construction of the inland waterway—and if the Democrats of the first district will just give him time he will accomplish both.—Wilmington Messenger.

AN ADMIRABLE PLATFORM.

The Democrats of Indiana at their last convention adopted an admirable platform, which deserves success by the support of all honest citizens. The following plank is especially worthy of careful attention by Democrats and independent voters in every State as a fair statement of the conditions imposed on the people through Republican legislation and the remedy proposed when the Democrats are entrusted with power. The platform said:

"For nearly ten years the Republican party has been in absolute control in all departments in the national government, with power to change unjust conditions and to rectify evils. Yet during that time colossal combinations of capital have dominated the people and have stifled competition and unfairly limited the opportunity of the individual citizen. Wealth thereby illegally obtained has been unsparingly used to control legislation and corrupt elections. No honest effort has been made or is being made by Republican legislation to cure or eradicate these evils. We denounce the hypocrisy of the Republican party, which, while pretending to legislate against these conditions, deals only with the symptoms and not with the disease. The unfair, tyrannical features of the so-called 'protective tariff' have made these things possible, and no permanent relief can be secured until its obnoxious features are removed. We demand that this be done by a tariff for revenue only.

"The growth of the trusts and other inordinate and dangerous combinations of capital, the tremendous and rapidly increasing absorption and centralization of the wealth of the country in the hands of a chosen few, all due to premeditated and systematic legislation in behalf of special interests by the Republican party, demand a change in the policies imposed upon the country by that party and make the passage of respective laws an imperative necessity."

Mary had a little lamb,
And when she saw it sicken,
She shipped it off to Packingtown,
And now it's labelled chicken.

Teddy had a little sheep,
He made it into mutton,
And then he made the packers weep,
By touching on the button—
And calling on the Democrats to do the rest.

Uncle Sam's Income.

Uncle Sam has done a big business with foreign countries this year. With fifteen more days of this fiscal year to come, the receipts on tariff duties have reached nearly a million dollars more than for any past full year and are expected to reach twenty-five million in excess by the time those fifteen days are out. They are expected to exceed last year's receipts by forty million dollars. The receipts to date aggregate $285,351,323. The previous record breaking year was 1903, when the customs receipts amounted to $284,497,581. The indications are that the internal revenue receipts for this fiscal year will reach two hundred and fifty million dollars, or fifteen million greater than last year. Uncle Sam can afford to spend a good sum on new building, rivers and harbor improvements and other work for the benefit of the people.—Wilmington Messenger.

Charles James Fox, the famous English advocate of a century ago, and his secretary, Mr. Haze, who lived with him, were both noted for their impecuniosity, and their creditors spent much time in dunning them. One morning before daylight there was a violent ringing at the door, and Mr. Fox, going to the window, found a group of creditors below.

"Are you fox hunting or hare hunting this morning, gentlemen?" he asked.

"Come, now, Mr. Fox," one of them called up, "tell us when you are going to pay that bill. Just set a date, and we will leave you in peace."

"All right," was the reply. "How will the day of judgment suit you?"

"Not at all," said the creditor. "We'll all be too busy on that day."

"Well," said Mr. Fox, "rather than put you to any inconvenience, we'll make it the day after."

Time For Rejoicing.

The editor of the Bacon Ridge Beacon came out on Main street and tossed his hat twenty feet in the air. "Praise to Providence!" he whooped, dancing around like an Indian.

"Are you crazy?" demanded the only policeman in town. "What do you mean by cheering when the cyclone has carried away your office?"

"That's just it, friend. I have been complaining twenty years because the circulation of my sheet was so limited, and now there's a chance of its being circulated in four states and twenty counties. Wouldn't be surprised if one copy doesn't blow clean to Europe."—Columbus Dispatch.

Largest Reservoir in the World.

In South as in North America nature does her work on the grand scale, and one of her noblest achievements is the Amazon river. Rising in the Andes, it flows across the continent and discharges into the Atlantic ocean at the equator. The vastness of the area which it drains, amounting to 2,368,000 square miles, will be evident when you are in mind that this is more than the area of Russia in Europe and Austria-Hungary. It has a length of nearly 4,000 miles, is navigable for fully 2,300 miles from the sea and is fed by numerous streams, which in any other country would be ranked as great rivers. In the wet season, which lasts for about eight months, its width varies from 5 miles to 400. No wonder the Amazon has been called a gigantic reservoir rather than a river.

Its First Entry.

The Earl of Hopetoun has in his possession an old brass bound leather covered ledger, which is prized very highly as an heirloom. It is the book with which John Hope, the founder of the family, began business in High street, Edinburgh, more than 200 years ago, and that which makes the book so highly prized is the first entry, which is the following prayer: "O Lord, keep me and this buik hone."

Popularity of Open Air Eating.

Thinly the old custom of open air eating is being revived. Many are having their meals on warm days in their gardens in London or in the country. At hotels on the Thames the proprietor no longer refuses to serve tea in the open, and at most of the suburban clubs luncheons and dinners may be eaten on the terrace or the lawn.—London Truth.

Beware of Ointment for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

The History of This Wonderful and Imposing Structure.

Washington monument is a wonderful structure and very imposing. Built of white marble, absolutely without ornamentation and capped by an aluminium pyramid, this immense needle rises to a height of over 555 feet.

It took thirty-six years to build, cost $1,250,000 and weighs close upon 100,000 tons. There is room enough in the interior of the monument to house an army of 12,600 men, for the landings will accommodate 7,675, the stairs 3,845, the upper and lower platforms 450 and the elevator 30. There are 900 steps. The weight of the capstone is 3,300 pounds, while the number of blocks of marble used in its construction reached 23,000.

The cornerstone of this gigantic monument was laid on July 4, 1848, and on the 6th of December, 1884, the topmost stone of the pyramid was set. Two months later the great shaft was dedicated. The immense structure rests on a foundation bed of fine sand two feet thick, which is laid on a stratum of bowlders and gravel, and its stability is assured against all natural causes except earthquakes and the washing out of the sand beds beneath the monument.

The Washington monument stands on a site selected by George Washington in the year 1783. It is close by the banks of the Potomac, surrounded by forty acres of sloping mounds and terraces, and but a fractional distance from the Jeffersonian meridian, which passes due north and south through the center of the White House and due east and west through the center of the capitol.

The monument has thirty-one landings, the first one being 30 feet from the base and the last 330 feet. On the walls of each landing are various memorial inscriptions and tablets presented by different societies, persons and countries. The thirteenth platform is at a height of 150 feet, and it is here where the government began its work of finishing the monument in 1878. Altogether the monument contains 176 memorial tablets. There is one tablet which is totally decayed and illegible, so that no one knows where it came from or who gave it.

Many of the blocks of marble were sent by foreign countries as a tribute of admiration for the Father of His Country. All of these now form part of the monument with one exception. This was a block of African marble from the temple of Concord, Rome, sent as a gift from the pope. It bore the inscription, "Rome to America." In March, 1854, however, the lapidarium, where the memorial blocks were kept, was forcibly entered, and this stone was taken and, it is supposed, was thrown into the Potomac. A reward for its return was offered, but the stone was never recovered, and its hiding place remains a secret to this day.

Going "Out" to Dinner.

A Philadelphia business man had as guest a friend from Toledo, an extremely busy individual, little familiar with the social graces. For the first evening of his stay a dinner party had been arranged. The hostess had provided a most attractive young woman for the Toledo man, and it was thought that he would take a desperate fancy to her, which, indeed, he did. When the guests had gathered and were ready to go out the host, with his politest bow, said, "Mr. Blank, will you please take Miss Dash out to dinner?" "Certainly," responded the Toledo man, with alacrity, "but I understood that we were to have dinner here in the house."—Argonaut.

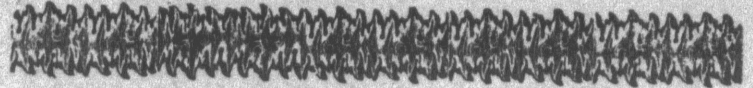

Here is an outdoor game. Each boy or girl must represent a wild beast—lion, tiger, jaguar, etc.—and choose a separate tree for his "den." The game is to see how many beasts can start out on a foraging expedition and return to their "dens" without being captured—i. e., tagged.

The moment a beast leaves his den any other beast is at liberty to try to capture—i. e., tag—him. If any beast does capture him, the captor cannot be tagged while he is dragging his captive home to his own "den." Once there the captive must identify himself with his master and help him try to capture other beasts. The one who captures the largest number wins.

CHOOSING A PART.

Actor's Experience in the Days Before He Became a Star.

I supported visiting stars at the eum. One of these stars was y Cohan, the father of George an. We played "The Molly Maes" with him. I had to play a er and had no white shirt. Con- tion demanded that a lawyer ild not wear a colored shirt. king frantically about the dress- room I found a soiled paper . I cleaned it with breadcrumbs, it into a V shape and pinned it : my colored shirt. Another star Frank Frayne, who was a fine ksman. His wife and brother brother-in-law traveled with . He shot an apple off her head a pipe out of a negro's mouth. member of the company was a e looking bulldog that ran down incline and sprang upon the vil- of the company, bearing him to earth and tearing angrily at a flannel chest protector worn by villain. The dog was a good r, but intense. The man who ed the villain showed me his t covered with scars where the had bitten him instead of the t protector. It was a very melo- natic spectacle, and Mr. Davidge anded upon it to build up the ng fortunes of his house. While yne was playing there there was e dissension in the family, and brother-in-law, who played the in, left the company. Mr. Da- e sent for me and offered me of the two parts, that of the o who had the pipe shot from mouth or the villain who was cked by the dog. "They are both splendid parts," aid, "and if you will play either hem I will put your name on the oards." I did not wait to consider. Of se I would play one of them. y were both dangerous, but if I ed them I was to be featured, that was worth dying for. ch part would I choose? I had the dog before he made the down the incline and attacked villain. I knew his muscles e like steel, and I remembered eager he was for his part in performance. Besides, I never i dogs. I don't now. I elected lay the negro. Frayne was a ndid marksman. He had never ed aim. But I thought he nt. He never drank, but, I red again, he might for the first e. While I played the negro e thoughts disturbed me. The wabbled between my unsteady h. A few years later Frank ne missed aim for the first e. He shot his wife in the head, ng her instantly.—Otis Skinner eatre Magazine.

Looking For Light.

rs. Jones and Mrs. Brown were n friends. They passed a good of their time in discussing the rs of their neighbors. It was nishing what a lot they knew t other people's business which t concern them in the least. y were hammering away at the t scandal when the conversa- turned in the direction of a Tittlesay, a new arrival in the street. "I hear she's suffering from ap- pletitis," declared Mrs. Brown. "Suffering!" echoed Mrs. Jones emptuously. "Why, yes. Didn't you know ?" asked Mrs. Brown. "Yes, I heard she had got appen- is," replied Mrs. Jones, "but, , judging by the way they brag- about it, I thought it was some of piano player! What is it vay?"—London Queen.

Strenuous Hint.

ne had been trying to discourage attentions for ten long weeks, still he persisted in calling. "Don't you know"—she yawned n the cuckoo clock announced hour of 11—"I sometimes wish I was an earthquake." "An earthquake?" gasped the star- chappy. "Why should you wish e anything so extraordinary?" "Because perhaps then I could e you." nd the next minute he called his hat and cane.—Chicago s.

American Governor Murdered.

Manila, June 14.—News was received today of the murder of Edward C. Bolton, of the 17th Infantry, acting Governor of Davao, Island of Mindanao. Chief Mungalayon and two brothers are accused of the crime. An American named Christian, manager of the plantation near Davao, was killed at the same time. The murder was most treacherous as the victims had spent the previous night of the guest at Mungalayon's house. The American planters in Mindanao are concentrating for common safety as they fear the Moros are planning a religious war.
