AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C. June 22, 1906.

Yesterday morning news was received here that Mr. John Langston, who lives near Vanceboro, while walking across his field was shot from ambush by a negro and killed. The murderer escaped. Friends of Mr. Langston at once sent to Greenville for bloodhounds and it is to be sincerely hoped the perpetrator of this foul deed may be caught and punished. We don't know, though, about the punishment. Like similar cases he will be made a hero, and crowned with a wreath of myrtle and evergreen as a model for others. Certainly if the judge and lawyer don't get frightened. That is hardly probable, they never do. We point with pride and why not(?) to the murderer of the Farmville Constable. Where is he? Can anyone tell.

Mrs. M. M. Sauls would esteem it a kindness if the friend who borrowed her three quart ice cream freezer would return it, as she is very much in need of same.

Miss May Anderson after spending a week with Miss Nina Cannon has returned to her home near Grimesland.

Mrs. Adrian Dudley and children, of Washington, who have been visiting the family of her father, J. S. Hines, has gone home.

If the slow movement they have now got on with no lock arm assortment is any sign, then Ayden will shortly have a few weddings.

Mrs. H. B. Gray and children, of Hertford, and Miss Essie Ferebu, of Camden, are visiting the family of Capt. D. G. Berry.

Miss Earl Tucker, of Grifton, is here on a visit to Miss Sallie Bet Quinerly.

There were several from here to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. J. Kittrell at Kinston last Wednesday.

We regret to learn that Mr. Jesse Cannon, who has been sick for several weeks, is no better.

Mrs. M. M. Sauls and little Miss Burruss Sauls left yesterday to visit relatives in Richmond.

A. J. Moore, of Greenville, has been here during the week.

The very many friends of Miss Lucy Turnage exceedingly regret to learn of her illness at the home of her father in Ormondville.

A letter addressed to J. B. Stronach, care best hotel, Ayden N. C., was received at the office here and plained if Ed Tripp didn't claim it as his hotel. How's that being on one's self.

Miss Meta Mewborne, of Kinston, came up Wednesday and spent the day with Miss Helen Quinerly.

A crowd of young people went out in the country yesterday afternoon picnicing and fishing. They had a nice time, a fine picnic, but a very few fish.

Improvements—Chief of Police Alexander with his street brigade is doing a vast amount of work during this hot weather. Deep trenches are being cut in which tiling is placed and when through the town will have a thorough

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

Adopted by Grifton Lodge A. F. & A. M.

Inasmuch as God in His wisdom has seen fit to enter the home of one of our members and take from it his beloved companion and transfer her from this imperfect to that all perfect and celestial city above where the Grand Master ever presides, we, his brethren, therefore beg the privilege and do hereby extend to Brother W. J. Kittrell our deepest and heartfelt sympathy for him in his sorrow, and enter with him into his grief. We shall remember the sweet character of his wife while we spend the short years allotted to us here, and know we shall meet the same gentle character when we enter the "Golden City" above.

RENSTON ITEMS.

RENSTON, N. C. June 21, 1906—

The farmers are very busy these days destroying "master green." Miss Delia Smith spent Saturday night with Miss Allie Dail.

William Tucker, of Greenville, spent Sunday at C. H. Langston. J. A. Jarrell spent Sunday afternoon in Winterville.

Mrs. Kate Spivey continues very ill at her home near Tucker's school house.

Jesse and Jim Braxton were visitors here Sunday.

Several from here are expecting to attend the Masonic picnic in Winterville today.

Misses Bessie, Laura and Nina Smith spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives here.

Miss Clara Jolley spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Eva Langston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beaman, of Snow Hill, spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Craft.

Little Fannie Lee and Lima Patrick, of Ayden, are spending some time with their grand parents.

Eld. R. I. Corbitt filled his regular appointment at Bethany Sunday.

H. J. Corbitt, of Ayden, spent Sunday afternoon in this vicinity.

Missing Papers Received.

Mr. C. E. Bradley was kind enough to bring us the two copies of the Daily Reflector of March that we advertised for to complete our file. We appreciate them.

Curtis Henderson also brought us copies of the same date. We have all desired now.

system of drainage. Mr. Alexander is a hustler and instead of ornamental tiling on the corners he is rapidly converting it into proper usage. This is a long felt need and now that we are so soon to have it we congratulate Ayden and our little self too, for we have long wished to walk in dry and tender spots. Alexander is the right man.

At their regular meeting Tuesday night the Pythians elected the following officers for the ensuing term: J. R. Turnage, C. C.; J. J. Hines, V. C.; J. H. Browning, Prel.; W. E. Hooks, M. of A.; John Pierce, M. of F.; W. J. Boyd, K. of R. & S.

SOME FIGURES ABOUT WEDLOCK.

The census report on population, just issued, shows that in the total population of 75,994,575 in 1900, the number of "single" persons was 43,983,965, or nearly 58 per cent. The married were 27,770,101; the widowed, 3,895,847; the divorced, 198,914. In the Old World the proportion of single is different, being 41.4 per cent. in India, 54.6 in Spain, 60.8 in England and Austria and 64 in Scotland. In Australia the figure varies from 66 to 68 per cent. In the Southern States the percentage of unmarried persons is 60.8, of married 33.7, of widowed 5.1, of divorced .02, while in the North the corresponding figures are 56.4, 38.0, 5.2, .02. The twelfth census shows 21,494 more negro wives than negro husbands, the women reporting themselves married more freely, it appears, than the men. But the figures, as respect the colored population, are open to question, many reporting themselves married when not legally married. "Of 40 couples at Cinclare, La.," says the report, "who reported themselves as married, only 20 were legally married in the church or by the civil authorities. Numerous cases are seen of two persons legally married and yet each living with a different person and reporting as being married to the second." In Porto Rico the same state of things exists to a large extent, owing to the cost of the necessary religious ceremony. In Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont the divorced are half of 1 per cent. of the population, while in Maryland and West Virginia the divorced were two-tenths of 1 per cent. and in Virginia one-tenth of 1 per cent. In Nevada the divorced are seven-tenths of 1 per cent., and in Washington, Oregon and California six-tenths of 1 per cent.—Baltimore Sun.

THE DOG TAX.

Dr. H. Q. Alexander, writing from Matthews to The Statesville Landmark, defends his efforts during two terms in the Legislature to secure the passage of a dog tax. He did get a bill passed through the House taxing dogs in Mecklenburg, but it was killed in the Senate. In the second session he was looking out for a bill introduced by another member and was ready to help it along, but it never came his way—was side-tracked. After some further remarks, explanatory and defensive, Dr. Alexander says: "Public sentiment is undergoing a decided change on this question as it is on many others, and the day is near at hand when the worthless cur dog that roams the community will have to go." We hope he is right, and if he offers for the Legislature again, The Chronicle, for one, will support him on his dog tax platform, if for no other reason. Haste the day when we can assemble at Raleigh a body of statesmen not "afraid to put a tax on that all important asset of the great American voter—the dog."—Charlotte Chronicle.

BAILEY CAUGHT.

And Carried to New Bern Jail.

Information reached here this morning that the negro, Bailey, who on Thursday morning shot and killed Mr. John Lancaster near Vanceboro, had been captured. The capture was made about 4 o'clock a few miles from Vanceboro. The negro came out of a swamp and started to cross what is known as Palmetto bridge, when some of the posse who were guarding the bridge caught him.

The negro surrendered without resistance and was first carried to Vanceboro. In his pocket was found a bottle containing a mixture with which he had saturated his clothes and rubbed his feet to keep the blood hounds from trailing him. He had spent the night in the swamp and started out as soon as daylight came.

There was much excitement at Vanceboro when the negro was taken there; and for a time there were threats of lynching. The sheriff of Craven county urged the people not to do violence but let the law take its course, promising to do all in his power to get a speedy trial and quick punishment. This quieted the excitement and the negro was taken to New Bern jail.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, our kind and loving Heavenly Father, in the benevolent workings of His Providence, has called unto Himself our dearly beloved sister, Mrs. Pattie A. Parker, Whereas, as in the death of our beloved sister, the Christian Woman's Board of Mission of the Greenville church loses a faithful, true and earnest member, Therefore be it resolved 1st, That we ever hold in grateful remembrance the sweet Christian life, which moving in our midst illumined every path of duty.

2nd, That in her death, one is removed from our meetings, whose patience, love and forbearance marked her as a faithful follower of the Master in every walk of life.

3rd, That we acknowledge our submission to the Divine will and express our deepest and heartfelt sympathy to the children and other relatives, rejoicing that she who faithfully bore the burdens of life, and acquitted herself well in every field of duty, is now at rest from the pain and suffering with which she battled so long, and is with her beloved companion at the foot of the Great White Throne in the presence of the Master.

4th, A copy of the resolution be spread upon the minutes of the C. W. B. M. and copies be sent to the family and local papers.

MRS. H. H. MOORE,
MRS. HEBER COWARD,
MRS. H. T. KING.

Cotton Blossom.

Mr. C. W. Bailey, of Bethel, sent The Reflector a cotton blossom, which he pulled this morning. June 22nd is early for blossoms, and this is the first report to us this season.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Of Those Coming and Going.

R. S. Carr returned from Danville this morning.

N. H. Whitfield left this morning for Oxford.

Mrs. Bettie Swindell left this morning for Raleigh.

J. G. Bowling went to Scotland Neck this morning.

G. S. Prichard returned from Panacea Springs this morning.

J. R. Moore returned from Wrightsville Thursday evening.

J. S. Tunstall and Dow Beaman left for Seven Springs this morning.

Mrs. R. L. Humber and children returned from Hobgood Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Parham and little son, Hugh, left this morning for Oxford.

Miss Lois Stanley, of Jacksonville, Fla., came in Thursday evening to visit Miss Irma Cobb.

Master James Perkins, accompanied by Master John Pender, returned home Thursday morning after a visit to Tarboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of Herderson, and F. H. Haarer, of the Isles of Pines, Cuba, came in Thursday evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Taft.

Tarboro Wins From Washington

The Tarboro and Washington base ball team played an interesting game in Washington Thursday, the score resulting 5 to 3 in favor of Tarboro. The game was closely contested until the last inning when Tarboro made rapid and frequent connection with Short's curves and played with the Washington lads as a toy. Several Greenville enthusiasts witnessed the game.

Five Mile Walk.

Several young men of Greenville went to Washington on a gasboat Thursday to witness the ball game. As they were returning late that night the boat struck a log in the darkness and was disabled for the time being. The accident occurred about five miles below Greenville. The young men got ashore and footed it on home, reaching here about 1 o'clock.

Health Improved.

Mr. J. R. Moore, agent of the Atlantic Cost Line here who has been in sick leave for some time, returned Thursday evening from a month's stay at the mountains, springs, and seashore. His health is greatly improved and he looks much better than when he went away, though he will not return to his work at present.

Which?

A man offered to bet us that June 21st was the longest day of the year. We always thought the 22nd had that distinction, but either is long enough. In fact several days at the turning point are very near the same length.

Do not be afraid of a rush at the tax listers' office. There is room for you.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

To Preserve the Freshness of a Bouquet of Flowers.

When flowers are so plentiful out of doors it is pleasant and cheerful to have some in the house. Unless bouquets are properly cared for, they decay very rapidly. Before putting flowers into water cut off the ends of the stems if they have been gathered long. A freshly cut stem will take up the water much better than a dry, toughened one. Then pick all leaves from the stem as far up as the stems are to be in the water. Leaves which are allowed to stand in the water decay rapidly and render the water unfit for stems. The water on a bouquet should be changed daily, and many think it keeps pure longer if a little salt is added. Sickroom bouquets should never be allowed to remain in the room at night. A fresh bouquet is a thing of beauty, but a stale bouquet has not only lost its beauty, but the odor is disagreeable and unwholesome.

Laundering Black Goods.

Soap should not be used in laundering really nice black gowns. The better way is to use cornstarch or flour or rice water. Boil a pint of rice in six quarts of water, and use this for washing black goods. It will clean them perfectly. It is also excellent for any light tinted goods that one is at all uncertain of. After all, the safest way is to wash a small piece of the goods first. Experimenting in this way will prove whether soap will injure the color. Compare the washed and ironed sample with the gown before deciding. A hopelessly faded light gown should be put into a boiler of strong hot suds, having half a cup of Javelle water added, and boiled until it is all white, then hung out in strong sunshine.

Eyebrow Ointment.

Red vaseline, two ounces; tincture of cantharides, one-eighth ounce; oil of lavender, fifteen drops; oil of rosemary, fifteen drops. Mix thoroughly. Apply to the eyebrows with a tiny toothbrush once a day until the growth is sufficiently stimulated; then less often. This ointment may be used for the eyelashes also. In this case it should be very carefully applied. It will inflame the eyes, as any oil will, if it gets into them.

Spiced Grapes.

Pulp the grapes; put the pulp in a saucepan and stew gently until soft enough to be rubbed through a strainer to remove the seeds. Weigh the pulp and to five pounds of it add a pint of vinegar, four pounds of brown sugar, three-tablespoonfuls of ground cloves and two of ground cinnamon. Stew all together until very thick, then pour into jelly glasses and seal.

Washing Fluid.

One box of potash, one ounce of salts tartar, one ounce of pulverized ammonia, one ounce of pulverized borax, two quarts of boiling water. After dissolved add four quarts of cold water. Use one cupful to boiler of clothes. Keep in jars or glass jars out of the way of children; also keep the children out of the room where it is being made.

Thought It Quite Regular.

On the morning of the earthquake a fashionable eastern woman who was living at the St. Francis came down to breakfast attired in her nattiest morning gown. Noticing the confusion prevailing, she asked:

"Why, what's the matter?"

"Didn't you feel the earthquake?"

"Certainly, but I thought you had such things in San Francisco all the time."—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Fish Story From France.

While fishing in the lake at Geradmer (Vosges) recently a man caught a large pike weighing about thirty pounds, which was subsequently sold to the proprietor of a hotel. In preparing the fish for the table the cook found a purse containing £9 inside, and this was afterward identified by one of the guests at the hotel, says the Radical, who a few days before had dropped it into the lake.—London Chronicle.

Simple Frying Batter.

Take four ounces of flour and work it smooth while quite dry, then add gradually a tablespoonful of best salad oil and a quarter of a pint of tepid water. This must be mixed very smooth with a wooden spoon. Let the batter stand for at least an hour, then beat together lightly, add the beaten white of one or two eggs and use.

To Remove Face Moles.

Make a paste of thirty grains of salicylic acid with two ounces best bay rum; use a tiny camel's hair brush and touch only the mole itself night and morning. It will take several days to affect the mole at all and a week or more for it to heal. Use a little glycerin of starch to sooth the redness and only treat one spot at a time.

Disinfectant For Sickroom.

For the sickroom a simple disinfectant is made by putting some ground coffee in a saucer and in the center a small piece of camphor gum. Light the gum with a match. As the gum burns allow the coffee to burn with it. The perfume is refreshing and healthful as well as inexpensive.

To Remove Acid Spots.

When lemon juice or other acid has made a white spot on a colored fabric try applying ammonia to neutralize the same. Rub with a little chloroform, after which the original color should return as bright as ever.

Silver Polish.

Take half a cupful of whiting, half a cupful of cold water and one ounce of ammonia. Bottle. Shake well before using and apply with a flannel cloth. This is good also for brass or nickel.

The Glass Washer.

When you dine en famille at a house where each glass on the table is worth $20 you naturally wonder how the servants manage to wash and dry so costly and delicate an article without breaking. I put the question to a matron who is her own housekeeper. "Tell me how many of your beautiful goblets, tumblers, wineglasses, sherry glasses, etc., are broken every week." She replied: "Every glass is insured by a company formed for the purpose. This company sends to us every day an expert glass washer, a Bohemian, and if he breaks anything it has to be paid for. Our butler keeps tab on him, of course. He breaks very few pieces, indeed. Before he came to us we lost a great many through the carelessness of our maids."—New York Press.

A Puzzler.

It is not often that a class of school children is permitted to examine its teacher, but a Glasgow pedagogue was so pleased at the way his pupils answered his questions in an examination that he told them they could ask any question they liked. No one took advantage of the offer, and the teacher was about to dismiss the class when he noticed one little chap in deep thought. "Well, what is it?" he asked. "I was just about to ask you, sir," replied the youth, "whether, if you were in a soft mud heap up to the neck and I was to throw a brick at you, would you duck?"

A Court of Law.

A new definition of law was given recently by a negro in court. This man, a witness, was roaring out his testimony. "Stop!" the judge commanded. "Don't you know you're in court?" "Ya-a-s'r," replied the negro. "Well, don't you know what a court is?" "Oh-h-h, ya-a-s'r," said the old fellow, with a bow. "Ya-a-s'r; a co't is a place whah dey dispenses with justice!"

FRIDAY, JUNE, 22, 1906.

President Roosevelt expresses the confidence that Mr. Bryan will get the Democratic nomination in 1908, and says that Secretary Taft is the only Republican who can defeat the Nebraskan in the election.

The news comes from Philadelphia that A. J. Abernathy, the former North Carolinian who is in jail there for having four wives, is insane. Hardly a doubt of it, as no sane man would want so many wives.

Some of Judge Shaw's friends seem to be laboring under the impression that he needs an office.—Durham Herald.

Not that, but they see what North Carolina is going to lose by Judge Shaw's retirement from the bench.

The Mutual Building & Loan Association, which, perhaps, is the oldest in the State and one of the most successful, will soon retire, within the standard time, 700 shares of stock, representing $70,000. Of this princely sum, $51,000 will be paid out in cash, the remainder being in mortgages to be cancelled.—Charlotte Observer.

Charlotte is recognized as the home of building and loan associations in North Carolina, and the above gives a good idea of what the associations are doing in that city. Some of these days we hope to publish as good results for the association in Greenville. The first of May this town began an association with nearly one thousand shares of stock issued and just think what it will mean when these shares mature, to say nothing of the good to be accomplished in the meantime by helping people build homes.

Speaking of the disposition of a number of fire insurance companies to evade payment entirely or discount their loans arising from the late destruction in San Francisco, the Charlotte Observer says:

The companies involved should pay the last cent for which they are liable, no matter if it results in putting them out of business. They received the premiums demanded and now that the property insured has been destroyed speedy settlement so far as the companies are able to make it should result. It is too often the case that fire insurance companies seek to evade full payment after fire, despite the fact that they have for an indefinite period collected premiums to the full amount of the policy. Of course, in a case like that of San Francisco concerns are not to be blamed for endeavoring to save themselves from bankruptcy by all reasonable or just means, but indefinite delay in making settlements and efforts to cut down policies in cases where companies are able to pay are to be condemned.

When Tilman gets Lumpkin on his pitchfork wonder how the latter will feel.

Since it has been discovered that alcohol can be made from potatoes that vegetable may increase in demand.

With the House wanting a sea level and the Senate a lock canal, the people wonder when the controversy will end and the digging of dirt begin.

The little item of $25,000 to cover traveling expenses of the President yearly has passed Congress. Most of us would be proud to get that much to cover salary, expenses and all.

PRAISE FOR MR. SMALL

In making mention of the fact that Representative John H. Small, of the first North Carolina district, has succeeded in securing from the House committee a favorable report on his bill appropriating one million dollars for the drainage of the Dismal Swamp, The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot says that "while it is hardly possible that the House, with the session about to close, will find time to act on this report, that in no wise detracts from the credit due Mr. Small for the energy and ability with which he has handled the measure, the enactment of which would mean so much to his constituents and his district." The Virginian-Pilot goes on to say:

"Another measure of which Representative Small is the father and the passage of which he is advocating with tireless energy and persistence is that providing for the construction of an inland waterway from Norfolk to Beaufort, N. C. The construction of this waterway would be of inestimable value not only to his district and his State, but to every State on the Atlantic seaboard from New England to the gulf. If he is ultimately successful in getting these two measures through, and we are confident he will be if the Democrats of his district continue to return him, he will have erected to himself monuments more enduring than brass or bronze."

Mr. Small is entitled to the highest praise for the efforts he is making to benefit the whole Atlantic coast in the matter of an inland waterway and for the improvement of a large section of Virginia and North Carolina by means of drainage of the Dismal Swamp. The Virginian-Pilot is confident of his ultimate success in both endeavors provided the Democrats of his district continue to return him. In this instance we have the reelection of a Representative of a North Carolina district a matter of special interest to the people of another State, and in a general way those of the entire Atlantic coast. This is decidedly complimentary to Mr. Small as well as to the district which he represents.—Charlotte Observer.

It is lamentable that there are now so few really good spellers, even among men of education. Lying before the writer is a letter from a minister of the gospel, and in that letter are twenty-one misspelled words, some of them being very simple ones, too. This minister lives quite a bit from Durham. In former days those who mastered Webster's "old blue back" spelling book were in deed and in truth excellent spellers. In our estimation, no text book on spelling during the present day can compare with the "old blue back."—Durham Sun.

KEEPING WORD.

"If you make a bad bargain stick tighter to it," was an adage that the good people of former times were accustomed to instill into the minds of their children. It was only another way of admonishing their children to keep their word in all contracts, promises and obligations. This was indeed wholesome advice, and many a misunderstanding and wrangle would be avoided nowadays if people would stick to that good old principle of right. He who keeps not his promise or his word need not hope to make any impression for good. He will never do it as long as he disregards his word and promise.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

NO BANK FAILURES IN CHINA.

"It is 900 years since the failure of a bank in China," said a bank examiner. "Over 900 years ago, in the reign of Hi Hung, a bank failed. Hi Hung had the failure investigated, and to his indignation found it had been due to reckless and shabby conduct on the part of the directors and the president.

"Hi Hung at once issued an edict that the next time a bank failed the heads of its president and directors were to be cut off. This edict, which has never been revoked, has made China's banking institutions the safest in the world.

HALF SUTRO LIBRARY SAVED.

The Montgomery block escaped unscathed from the fire that devastated the surrounding property, and that fact saved to the Sutro heirs 125,000 volumes, or one-half of the library of Adolph Sutro. After the death of Sutro the library, which was one of the finest in the United States, containing many priceless original editions and quartos of the early writers, was placed in storage, the heirs being undetermined as to what disposition to make of it. One portion was stored in a warehouse on Battery street and was destroyed.

Among the other rare volumes contained in the half of the library in the Montgomery block that were saved were a number of early quarto editions of Shakespeare, a collection of misprint Bibles, notably the "vinegar" Bible, the first folio edition of Ben Jonson's works, and a priceless collection of pamphlets on the civil war and the Revolutionary war.

Contained among the books that were destroyed in the Battery street warehouse were 4,000 "black letter" parchment volumes, written by the monastery monks and dating from the second and third centuries up to the time of the invention of printing. The collection was one of the most complete of its kind in the world.—San Francisco Chronicle.

It Was His Job.

One day last winter Representative Cushman of the state of Washington was entertaining a constituent at luncheon. A man passed whom Mr. Cushman seized by the arm and presented to his friend.

"This is the man," said Cushman confidentially, "who has written more stupidities than any other living person."

The man from Washington was so taken back by the remark, which appeared to him to be the height of impoliteness, that he sat in open mouthed silence. The man introduced, however, took the observation good naturedly, smiling broadly.

"Perhaps I should add," continued Cushman, "that this gentleman is one of the official stenographers of the house."—Harper's Weekly.

A Plague of Frogs.

An Australian town near Melbourne had a strange visitation. An army of frogs probably from a nearby morass swarmed into the town. They covered the roads and got into the houses, whence the householders had to sweep them or shovel them. The episode caused somewhat of a scare in the minds of the superstitious, and some of the old folk declared the end of the world was at hand. The invasion, however, finally passed on to some more congenial home to sing its chorus of "Brek-kek-kek-kek koax," which Aristophanes has put into their mouths.

Artists' Blunders.

The recent criticism of the Tailor and Cutter regarding the seams and buttons in a portrait of Lord Roberts and the rural criticism of the ox driver in a picture in the Iowa capital recall the expert objection to Turner's painting of a locomotive. A correspondent of a London paper who saw the picture in 1845 tells us how a friend took him to see it, pointing its beauties. But the railway expert cried at once, "Why, the train is running on the wrong track!"

Beware of Ointment for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. KING AND CLIPPINGS.

When his majesty Peter I. of Serbia was called to the throne he was anxious to know the world's opinion about him and instructed an agency to collect all press cuttings, whereupon the Argus opened its one hundred eyes and in a few weeks gathered together a collection which, as regards quantity, would make a prima donna jealous. By his majesty's command the collection was bound, and the manager of the Argus himself took fifteen volumes to Belgrade to present them to his royal client. There a terrible disappointment awaited him. The king of Serbia, lacking in humor, gazed with horror and indignation at the collection wherein the English, French, German and Swiss caricaturists had displayed their wit at his expense. While the Argus clamored for its money the king was roaring threats inside his palace, declaring that nothing would induce him to pay a cent for those volumes. When the agency threatened to exhibit these morocco bound books the king shouted, "I don't care as long as they are not exhibited before me!" And now these 30,000 cuttings will be sold by auction in Paris, and the sale will no doubt attract many amateurs.—By-stander.

An East Indian Tragedy.

Here is a shocking tale of superstition from British India: "Ten Indians, of whom five were women, have perished by fire, the result of blind credulity and religious superstition. Seven were burned alive and three died as the result of burns. A fanatic at Vasad who claimed to be a god partially filled a pit with wood and invited his followers to jump in with him before he applied a light. On his assurance that they would obtain a glimpse of paradise while the flames should do them no hurt four men and five women joined him. The fanatic kindled the fire, but no sooner was the scorch of the flame felt than piercing shrieks for help arose from the pit. Ropes were thrown to the victims, but only three were brought to the surface, and these were fatally burned."

Curious Nesting Place.

A curious story of a nesting place chosen by birds comes from Germany. A pair of redthroats, so a correspondent says, have built their nests upon a freight car running between Marbach and Heilbronn. It contains four eggs, upon which the female is now brooding. The curious part of the story is that the wagon is in daily use, either in transit or in loading or unloading. The male bird feeds his mate, flying to and from the truck while in motion, and, unlike some human travelers who pay for their tickets, he has never been known to miss his train. The starting signal invariably finds him at his post near the nest.

Change in Flour Barrels.

It is stated that a revolution is pending in the Minneapolis flour industry involving a change in the manner of shipping flour. Flour is now shipped in barrels holding 196 pounds and in bags holding half a barrel. It is proposed to use barrels holding 294 pounds, of about the same size as sugar barrels. It is said that there would be a saving in the cost of handling and lower freights, while the barrels after use can be sold for 30 cents each, or double the price now paid for a flour barrel. There is also said to be 15 cents additional saving on the cost of packing the flour.

The Threat to the South.

There is no threat to the south in the negro's presence there, for at last the only negro who threatens our civilization is the criminal negro, and the only white man who threatens the negro is the white criminal, and our whole system is a failure if this question may not be left where Georgia has placed it, in the keeping of the courts, the church and schoolhouse.—Harry Stillwell Edwards in Century.

Whisky in the Commons.

There is always a bountiful supply of Scotch whisky provided for the British house of commons. There are 670 members, and the huge vat which holds their whisky contains 800 gallons, specially distilled for them. The contents of the vat are never permitted to fall below a certain level. It is refilled two or three times during every parliamentary session.

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration, writes T. Morgan retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at J. L. Wooten, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Survivor's Story of a Most Remarkable Meal.

"The most remarkable meal I ever ate," the man in the mackintosh was saying, "was given by a retiring showman."

"The only square meal you ever had, perhaps," suggested the man with the white spot in his mustache.

"How did you happen to get an invitation?" asked the man with the baggy kneed trousers. "In order to make the number of guests fourteen?"

"He had invited a lot of us to partake of a little supper," said the first speaker, paying no attention to the interruptions. "He said there would be the usual large cold bottle and small hot bird. When we sat down at the table and the beverages were brought on"—

"What were the beverages?" demanded the others, with one voice.

"A small cold bottle of beer at each plate. And when the cover was lifted from the dish in the center of the table we found the bird to be"—

"Well, what was the bird?"

"A large, hot, juicy young ostrich with enough meat on it for a regiment. I give you my word, gentlemen"—

"Oh, shucks!"

Then they rose as one man and ejected him. He had told the biggest lie.—Chicago Tribune.

The One Essential.

"The venture doesn't seem to be panning out quite as well as it might," remarked the first schemer.

"No," the other admitted. "There is only one way that we can meet success in this thing."

"And what's that?"

"Avoid meeting our creditors."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Pleased.

"What did the teacher say about your essay?" asked Mrs. McGudley.

"He said it was tautological," answered the girl graduate.

"Gracious me! To think of your doin' anything like that almost the first time tryin'!"—Washington Star.

OVERWORKED!

The Munford Building Taxed to its Uttermost.

Every sales person within the great walls held right at their post, each carrying out the instruction given.

Don't LOSE A SINGLE Sale!

To any ordinary man or woman in our city the above sentence is not hard to conceive and the fact that crowds that gather there daily and depart with their arms laden with the good things advertised is sufficient proof to convince every one that MUNFORD'S BIG STORE IS THE PRIDE OF GREENVILLE.

Well may it be said, and so it may be deserved, what other store would ever even dare to reach down in their pockets and hand out, actually give away pure money, free as the water you drink, and what else can you call it. Scant over the prices and just compare, the idea.

Best Granulated Sugar 4c. pound, Ladies Summer Vests 4c., Men's $7.50 Suits, Full Spring styles for $3.98 and Ladies $2.50 Shoes for 91 cents.

Is it any strange mystery that our building is crowded all the time. We don't want to hurry you but try and be here before Saturday night of this week, some specials might be getting low.
