DEATH OF REV. G. L. FINCH

Passed Away in Richwood, W. Va., Wife Formerly Here.

It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of Rev. Gilbert Lafayette Finch which occurred in Richwood, West Virginia, on June 16th.

The deceased was born in Halifax county, North Carolina, in 1864, and was in the 42nd year of his age and from his earliest youth showed those honorable and upright qualities that have distinguished him all through life.

He received the collegiate education at Wake Forest college N. C., and labored in his master's vineyard with great zeal and success until four years ago when a severe attack of throat trouble necessitated his giving up the preaching of the gospel and entering another field of work.

Mr. Finch was married on June 25, 1895, to Miss Ida Naomi Barnes of this city.

While in Valdosta, Ga., last December Mr. Finch had pneumonia which resulted in consumption and his wife accompanied him to St. Petersburg, Fla., hoping the change would benefit him. In April he was removed to Southern Pines, N. C., for special treatment and from there to the mountains of West Virginia where he lived but a week.

Owing to the critical illness of his wife Mr. Finch's remains were interred in Richwood, W. Va., for the present.

Besides his bereaved wife, Mr. Finch leaves one sister, Mrs. E. D. Washburn, of Richwood, W. Va., and one brother, Mr. W. B. Finch, of Columbia, S. C., all of whom have the sympathy of the entire community.—Wilmington Stat.

Rev. Mr. Finch was well known here having served as pastor of the Baptist church at this place.

Death of Rev. J. W. Jenkins.

Raleigh, July 4.—The people throughout the state will learn with deep sorrow of the death of Rev. J. W. Jenkins, D. D., at the Methodist Orphanage here this morning at 9 o'clock, as the result of a stroke of paralysis received last Sunday. He was in his 74th year. He was born in Granville county in 1832.

Dr. Jenkins was in the active ministry over 40 years, eight years in charge of the Methodist Orphanage which is largely a monument to his zeal and devotion.

Epworth League Meeting.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the Methodist church tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The League Council will meet at 8:15 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

FRIDAY, JULY 6 1906.

Nothing the matter with Greensboro when it comes to taking care of and entertaining a crowd.

The Republican state convention is the next thing to attract attention. It meets at Greensboro on the 10th.

In England Chicago canned meats and cigarettes are being put in the same class, with cigarettes declared the most dangerous of the two.

On the ground that it is not a political gathering, President Roosevelt has been invited to preside at the New York reception to be tendered Hon. W. J. Bryan on his landing there from his trip abroad.

Congressman Henry, who was one of the speakers at a Tammany celebration in New York on the 4th, nominated W. J. Bryan and C. A. Towne as the Democratic national ticket for 1908. The reports say the suggestion was greeted with a roar of applause.

A farmer living near Mooresville was desperately ill with typhoid fever. To save his crops from ruining by want of attention, twenty-five of his neighbors gathered and in one day thoroughly worked them out. That is a kind of "brotherhood of man" that is worth while.

BRYAN ON WELCOME FEAST.

London, July 3.—William J. Bryan and Mrs. Bryan arrived from Norway late this afternoon. They landed at Newcastle yesterday and remained there over the day, Mr. Bryan desiring a chance to quietly complete some writing. Arriving here, Mr. Bryan went to the hotel Cecil, where he was soon besieged by callers. John Burns, and William T. Snead and Mrs. Snead came early in the evening and paid an extended visit. Messrs. Bryan Snead and Burns engaged in animated discussion of economics and of the social labor questions. Mr. Bryan received a great mass of American mail. When he had finished reading his letters he received a deputation of newspaper correspondents and dictated the following statement:

"The first suggestion of a reception for me in New York came prior to the action of any of the state conventions and before there was any discussion of the next campaign, it came from the Commercial Travellers' League of which Mr. Hoge is president. I assured him I should be pleased to meet the members of the league suggesting that the reception be characterized by simplicity. Now that the action of some of the state conventions have raised a question as to the political significance of the question, I am glad to say that it must not be regarded in the light of an endorsement for the presidential nomination. While I appreciate the compliment paid by the various state conventions, I do not regard their action as binding upon them or the party of their state. I shall not prosecute them for breach of promise if they transfer their affections to another. I will not even publish their letters. To allow the receipt to be regarded as an endorsement, would in the first place, be unjust to others who may be candidates.

"I have seen the names of several mentioned as possible candidates, among them Congressman Hearst, Senator Bailey and Governor Folk, who have all rendered conspicuous service to the party and the country, and their claims should be considered. The party is entitled to its most available man, and the question of availability cannot be determined so far in advance. Circumstances and issues may strengthen the claims of some one of the gentlemen mentioned, and the list should be an open one until the time comes to close. "I may add that it would not be just to me to be put in the attitude of announcing my candidacy or admitting the certainty of my being a candidate. It is two years before the convention meets, and I am not willing to sit on a stool and look pretty that long. I prefer to be in position to say what I think ought to be said and write what I think ought to be written, and do what I think ought to be done. I am advancing in years and cannot spare two years of my life just at this time.

"I shall be glad to return to America, although every day of my trip has been enjoyable. I shall be glad to meet my friends in America, and after I have met them they will be just as free as before to do what they think best on issues and candidates."

The People Thinking.

A level headed man who makes no display said to us a day or so ago that the people of the country are doing more thinking for themselves than formerly. He said that this is true especially in politics, and gave it as his opinion that those who aspire to political leadership will have to be very careful of their conduct and will have to regard the rights of the people or their leadership will soon pass out. And this is correct. To be sure the people need leaders but they are not willing that leaders shall be autocrats. It is well too, for the people to do their own thinking and act upon their own best judgment, arrived at by their own interest and what is right. It is the part of all good citizens to take interest in what transpires about them no matter if some things do go wrong as they see it. The way to right a wrong is to tackle it at the best point you can and do what you can to correct it. Wrongs seldom right themselves, and if left alone they generally assume larger proportions and so the correction has to be made by those who prefer right. Yes, let the people continue to think and they will be profited by it.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

A Few Reasons why you Should Buy From
A. B. Ellington & Co.

Because their prices are lower for the same goods than others. Because they have but one price. Because if goods are not satisfactory they can be returned and money refunded. Because they buy and sell for cash and save you time profits. Because it is the only store of its kind in Greenville. Because they need your patronage and are trying to deserve it. Because they study your wants and try to supply them. Don't forget the

The progressive Farmer points out very clearly the pressing need of a better method of handling land titles, and advocates the adoption of the "Torrens System of Land Registration," under which all lands at the will of the owners, are registered, and the titles guaranteed by the state. Then when the transfer is made, instead of employing a lawyer to search out the title, the certificate of registration is displayed, showing at a glance that the title is good. This certificate is negotiable like stocks and bonds and money can be borrowed on real estate with much more ease and dispatch than at present, when hundred-year-old records have to be searched each time a mortgage is given and a sale made. The "Torrens System" should be adopted. — Lexington Dispatch.

If we could all reach the top there would be more demand for space at the bottom.

THE SHAPE OF THE SUN.

Professor C. L. Poor as the result of careful study of heliometer measurements confirmed by that of solar photographs makes the remarkable suggestion that the sun periodically changes its figure, being sometimes an oblate spheroid, like the earth, with its equatorial diameter exceeding the polar and sometimes a prolate spheroid, having a greater polar than equatorial diameter. His idea is that the solar globe is to be regarded as a vibrating body, having an equatorial diameter on the average slightly in excess of the polar, but changing at certain times so that the ratio of the two diameters is temporarily reversed.
The period of variability he thinks, is the same as the sun spot period.
The changes of figure, if they really occur, are so small that only the most delicate observations can make them manifest, but, affecting a body of such supreme importance as the sun, they must possess much scientific interest.

Breaking It Gently.

It was Willie's tenth birthday, and to celebrate the occasion his father had given him a watch.
"Now, Willie," he said to his delighted offspring, "I am going to have my bath. Don't you break your tucker while I'm gone, will you?"
About ten minutes later there came a gentle tap at the bathroom door.
"Well, who's there?" growled Willie's dad.
"It's me, dad!" piped little Willie's voice. "I've broken my watch glass."
"Go away, your careless scamp!
Don't worry me," cried his father.
When he came out of the bathroom it was to find little Willie patiently waiting on the stairs.
"Why do you want to come worrying me while I was in the bath?" he queried sharply.
"Well, dad, I thought I'd give you time to get over it," said little Willie.—Answers.

Cleaning Carafes.

Rice is invaluable for cleaning carafes and oil and vinegar cruets.
For a water or wine carafe use at least two tablespoonfuls of rice and several lumps of soda. For the oil cruet use warm water and a little washing soda to remove the oil.
Then put in a tablespoonful of rice with warm soapsuds, shake vigorously and rinse in clear water. Do not use the soda in vinegar cruets.

A Kitchen Hint.

When frying ham or pork or any food that is apt to spatter a few newspapers spread around the stove will prevent the tiny but unsightly grease spots that sink into the wood and are so very difficult to remove.
Newspapers tacked to the wall at the back of the range and spread around on the floor before commencing to blacken the stove will catch all the dust and black lead.

Advice on Buying Beef.

Fine, well fed beef is distinguished by the bright red color of the lean, which should be marbled with fat; by the pinkish whiteness of the fat, and the suet being firm and white.

When beef is lean, the flesh dark colored and the fat yellow it is not good. Old meat has a streak of horn running between the fat and lean of the sirloin and ribs.

To Remove Scorch Stains.

Lay scorched articles in the sun wet with suds. Where this does not answer chop and extract the juice from two onions and boil this with half a pint of vinegar, an ounce of white soap and two ounces of fuller's earth. Spread this when cool on the scorched part and when dry wash off in clear water. In brief, treat a scorch stain as you would any other.

For a Shabby Carpet.

To brighten a shabby carpet put a teacupful of vinegar into a pail of warm water and wash over the entire carpet with the mixture. The carpet should be first thoroughly brushed, and care must be taken to merely damp it with the vinegar and water. Allow it to dry thoroughly before being walked upon.

Taking No Chances.

"Here's a good scheme," she said, looking up from the paper she had been reading.

He seemed a trifle suspicious, but it was so evident that he was expected to answer that he made the inquiry.

"Why, it says that some wives shave their husbands and in that way save what they would ordinarily pay for a barber," she explained.

"Mary," he said after a moment's thought, "you may get that gown you spoke about this morning. It won't be necessary for you to get at my throat with a razor."

He Won the Suit.

"The worst case of ignorance I can tell you of occurred in 1869 in a remote section of our country," said a western congressman. "There was a man who suddenly became rich and built an enormous house, with some statuary, and so he wrote to Italy for a copy of Venus de Milo.
The copy in due time arrived. It was executed in Carrara marble very beautifully. But no sooner did he receive it than the millionaire sued the railroad for $2,000 for mutilation, and, what's more, he won the suit."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Willing to Compromise.

The poor but honest young man had bearded the millionaire in his den.

"Sir," he said, "I want to marry your daughter."

"Impossible, sir, impossible!" exclaimed the old man. "Why, I would rather give up every dollar I have than part with my only daughter."

"Oh, very well," calmly rejoined the diplomatic youth. "If that's the way you feel about it, I won't be too heavy on you. Just write me out a check for half a million and we'll let it go at that."—Chicago News.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Clever Sayings From the Mouths of

The Governess—What happened

Where the Wheels Stop.

"Most of our patients," said the superintendent of the insane asylum, "are rational enough except on one subject."

"And what is that?" queried the visitor.

"They think they are sane," answered the superintendent.—Detroit Tribune.

Endurance.

"A woman can endure more than a man," remarked Mr. Meekton's wife.

"That's right, Henrietta," was the reply. "Look at the ice cream, soda water and lobster salad she can endure without flinching."—Washington Star.

Not Art, but Saltsmanship.

"D'Auber's paintings sell very well, don't they?" remarked Crit-tick.

"No," replied Schmeerer jealously;
"I wouldn't say that. I should say he sells his paintings very well."
—Houston Post.

Indian Names.

Indian names are nearly always given on account of some act of the child's. If a boy, for instance, sees a bear and runs to the lodge he is likely to be called what, in their language, means "Runs-from-a-bear," and he retains this name until some other notable act of his changes it. If, for example, he should kill a bear, he would no longer be called "Runs-from-a-bear," but "Kills-a-bear." These names, given on account of personal acts or personal traits, seem very strange when translated into English, but they are quite natural in the original.

Brush Your Teeth.

Pretty teeth are like pearls. False teeth will not be in demand in Germany if the free care of children's teeth continues to grow in popularity. Strassburg started the movement in 1902, and Darmstadt, Muhl-hausen and other cities have followed suit. The third annual report from Strassburg says that there were 12,691 visits to the clinic last year and that the children are improving in the care they give their teeth.

When Mrs. Stowe Awakened.

A friend of mine, a northern woman, long a resident in Florida, once gave me the following account of a visit from Mrs. Stowe: "I had invited her to spend the day, with several other ladies, at my villa. She came with an old white fur tippet wrapped about her neck. She sat all day near the open fire, occupied apparently with her own thoughts, for she spoke to no one. When the day was well nigh spent one of the guests related the remarkable experience of a woman who had passed through some danger—I forget of what sort. Mrs. Stowe presently startled us all by inquiring, with some show of interest, 'Did the woman live?'"—Julia Ward Howe on Harriet Beecher Stowe in Reader Magazine.

Criticism For Tennyson.

Alfred Tennyson early made it a rule to read aloud his newly written poetry to private friends in whose judgment and taste he could confide.
It has come to light that he once called at Cheyne row and read a new poem to Mrs. Thomas Carlyle and then asked, "What do you think of it?" With characteristic and almost merciless outspokenness she replied, "I think it is perfect stuff!" Somewhat discouraged, Tennyson a short time afterward read it to her again. "It sounds better this time," was her criticism that day. On his reading the poem a third time Mrs.
Carlyle was obliged to confess that she liked it very much, and Tenny-son immediately communicated with his publishers.

The First Occasion.

The caution of the Aberdonian in giving an answer to a direct question was well illustrated the other day when I asked an eastern friend of mine whose family was not noted for very active habits:

"Was not your father's death very sudden?"

Slowly drawing one hand from his pocket and pulling down his beard, the interrogated one cautiously replied: "Aye, it was uneb' sudden for nim. I ne'er kent o' ma feyther bein' in a hurry before."—London

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. No one ever saw a girl wear gloves to hide an engagement ring. A man always has use for at least one more pair of suspenders.

OVERWORKED!

The Munford Building Taxed to its Uttermost.

Every sales person within the great walls held right at their post, each carrying out the instruction given.

Don't LOSE A SINGLE Sale!

To any ordinary man or woman in our city the above sentence is not hard to conceive and the fact that crowds that gather there daily and depart with their arms laden with the good things advertised is sufficient proof to convince every one that MUNFORD'S BIG STORE IS THE PRIDE OF GREENVILLE.

Well may it be said, and so it may be deserved, what other store would ever even dare to reach down in their pockets and hand out, actually give away pure money, free as the water you drink, and what else can you call it. Scant over the prices and just compare, the idea.

Race Horse Drops Dead.

Snow Hill celebrated the Fourth of July with horse racing by members of the Greene County Uring Association and several went from Kinston to witness the sport. There was only one complete race, the rain breaking up the last one after two heats had been trotted. Mr. Jim Exum's horse won in the first race against three entries, and in the second Mr. Bill Williams' horse had taken two heats when the rain broke up the racing.

In the first race Mr. Josh Potter's horse dropped dead at the first heat as he was passing under the wire. It was a good horse for which he had just prior to the races refused $300. A lady watching the races fainted when the horse dropped dead on the track.—Kinston Free Press.
