OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Mrs. Nancy Shuman, aged 98 years and the oldest woman in Rowan county, died Tuesday.

The indictment against the Anson county lynchets was quashed this week and the matter of a trial goes over to another court under an amended bill.

Thirty-five prisoners in Asheville jail came near making their escape by cutting out of the steel cages and through the brick wall. The sheriff discovered the plot in time to prevent any of the prisoners getting away.

The president has appointed two North Carolinians, William Whitam and W. Graham Clark, as a special commission to investigate the cotton markets of the world with a view of selecting the best places to dispose of the product.

FUN AT HOME.

Don't be afraid of a little fun at home. Don't shut your house lest the sun should fade your carpets; and your hearts, lest a hearty laugh shake down some of the old dusty cobwebs there. If you want to ruin your sons, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold when they come home at night. When once a house is regarded as only a place to eat, drink and sleep in, the work is begun that ends in gambling houses and reckless degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation some where. If they do not find it at their own hearthstones it will be sought at other less profitable places.

Therefore let the fire burn brightly at night and make the homestead delightful with those little arts that parents so perfectly understand. Don't repress the buoyant spirits of your children; half an hour's merriment around the lamp and fire-side of home blots out the remembrance of many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safe guard they can take with them into the world is the influence of a bright little domestic sanctum—Ex.

A correspondent of The New York Sun, after attending the recent Republican State convention at Greensboro, writes his paper that "the Republicans in North Carolina will enter the coming campaign united for the first time in years, and they expect to send two Congress candidates." and adds that "they predict with great confidence that two years from now North Carolina will cast its electoral vote for the Republican candidate for the presidency." One is about as likely to be realized as the other. The fact is, however, that this fall the Republicans will in all probability lose even the one Congressman they now have and as to the electoral vote of North Carolina in 1908, it will go to the Democratic candidate, whoever he may be.—Charlotte Observer.

FOR NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

State Loans Money to Various Counties for Improving Public School Buildings.

Raleigh, July 18.—The State Board of Education has just approved loans from the State public school loan building fund aggregating $119,643 to be expended in twenty-seven counties for building new school houses and improving old ones. By the making of these loans the State board assures the expenditure of not less than $239,073 as loans are only made to something less than half of the total amount to be expended in the building or improvement. Up to date the State board has loaned $636,068 since the loans began three years ago. It is a notable fact that not a single school district that has borrowed money has ever failed to meet a payment of either interest or principal when due. Four per cent. interest is charged. The counties that have just been granted loans for districts within their borders are as follows: Cherokee, $2,100; Duplin, $2,000; Caldwell, $500; Sampson, $240; Pitt, $8,304; Johnston, $1,200; Guilford, $2,000; Pender, $600; Bladen, $50; Cabarrus, $700; Wake, $950; Burk, $500; Sampson, $500; Washington, $5,000; Alleghany, $500; Harnett, $3,000; Swain, $600; Transylvania, $2,550; Anson, $150; Northampton, $2,000; Columbus, $1,756; Dare, $300; Wilkes, $280; Randolph, $3,000; Clay, $200; Pender, $800.

It is a notable fact that the loaning of the $5,000 to the town of Washington the town will erect buildings aggregating $35,000 in cost.

A Mob Proof Jail.

Mecklenburg county jail has a reputation of being mob proof, not structurally, but managerially. In recent years three mobs have gathered there to see about the prospects of getting out a prisoner and found it bad. Two of these attempts were serious, notably the gathering one Sunday night to lynch Bigham, the murderer of an old Italian, John Motter. At its height the mob embraced at least two thousand people, but their coming had been anticipated and they found the jail fortified like a fort. Soldiers surrounded it and bayonets gleamed from every window. The mob led by Colonel Charles Geissenheimer is yet of refreshing memory. One day while Judge Hoke was holding court a negro who had outraged a white woman was brought in and jailed. By nightfall the mutterings of the mob were heard, but when it reached the jail the soldiers were found on guard. There was a great deal of shouting and swearing and stamping of feet, but no one dared enter the jail gate, which was the dead live. In this county the sheriff and not the mob, is in the habit of hanging criminals. Once a culprit is in Mecklenburg jail he is practically safe for the court house.—Charlotte Chronicle.

If the young people returning home late at night from parties would make less noise on the street they would not disturb so many people.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS

What the Southern Cotton Association Has Done for the Farmer.

An interesting bulletin has been issued from the office of Mr. Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Association, headquarters at Atlanta, Ga., concerning the value of the Southern Cotton Association to the cotton planters of the South.

The bulletin shows that in the two years ending September 1st, 1906, two crops of cotton, aggregating practically 25,000,000 bales will have been marketed at an average price to Southern producers of nearly 10½ cents per pound.

In the two years ending September 1st, 1898, 22,500,000 bales of cotton were produced and marketed at an average price of 6½ cents.

This increase in price is an aggregate of about $550,000,000 and is very largely the work of the Southern Cotton Association.—Charlotte News.

THE MEANEST OF ALL

There is probably no place on earth, says an exchange, better than a country newspaper to find out how many kinds of people there are. Some get huffy if a statement is sent, others will not pay until they get a statement. Some will pay without a statement, and others won't pay whether a statement is sent or not. Some thought they owed more, and some thought they didn't owe so much. Some say they couldn't get along without the paper, others say it don't amount to much. But the meanest scurbiest in the world is the man who takes it until he is shut off for nonpayment and then spends his explaining how he used to take "the thing" but stopped it because it was no count.

Lawyers Changing.

The law firm of Fleming & Moore has dissolved copartnership, and Mr. Moore has formed a copartnership with Mr. W. H. Long under the firm name of Moore & Long. The new firm has moved into the office in the rear of the postoffice where Mr. C. S. Wooten was located, the latter having moved to the office vacated by Mr. Long.

Rain Interfered.

There was so much rain this morning that not many people went from here on the Norfolk excursion and the crowd brought from between here and Kinston was not large. The excursion train was behind the morning passenger train.

If there is any one change needed as far as elections to congress are concerned it is an amendment to the constitution lengthening the terms of members of the house of representatives. Under present conditions a man hardly has time to get accustomed to his seat in the house before he has to begin formulating plans to get there again.—Winston Sentinel.

OF INTEREST TO BANKS.

Conditions Under Which Institutions May Become Government Depositors.

Washington, July 18.—The secretary of the treasury authorizes the following statement.

A large number of banks have asked to be designated depositories of public money. To these the secretary has made the universal offer to leave with the bank one third of the proceeds of any Panama bonds it may buy under bid direct from the government, taking purchased bonds at par as security therefor. These offers have been in the main, to small banks. He now makes the offer general, but limits such deposits to any one bank to $1,000,000.

"The secretary calls attention to the circular invitation for bids wherein the government reserves the right to permit bidders offering the highest prices to increase the amount of their purchases.

This reservation, the secretary says, was made to avoid the possibility of a combination between bidders and will be exercised to the prejudice of any one who has bid above 103½.

Sand-Clay Roads.

A coating of sand on a clay road is a good thing, but the more this sand inclines to gravel the better. Good gravel would be far superior. The exact amount of sand to use will generally have to be determined by experiment in each locality. Apply the sand when the road is wet but not rutted. It will not be of much value till it becomes mixed with the clay and thus forms a sort of artificial hard pan. On the other hand, if sand is applied to hard dry clay it will be a positive nuisance until wet weather comes and allows it to become mixed with the clay. It is only suitable for roads of comparatively light traffic.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. J. Bruer Moore, of this city, announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen Bruer, to Mr. Daniel Gould Fowle. The wedding is to take place some time in September. Miss Moore is one of Washington's popular young ladies, and is a grand-daughter of the late Mr. Edmund S. Hoyer. Mr. Fowle is a promising lawyer here and a son of the late Gov. Daniel G. Fowle.—Washington Messenger.

Dram Drinker's Argument.

The dram drinker is apt at saying tea and coffee are stimulants, and that those who use them are on par with the liquor consumer. But, did coffee or tea ever make a husband beat his wife, stain his hands with blood, or dishonor his own name? Does the mayor have to issue a proclamation on election day, closing the coffee houses from fear of riot?—Kam's Horn.

Phonographs

Evan's Book Store is selling the wonderful Edison phonographs, not the cheap affair but the kind that is perfection. Read the advertisement in this paper and go down and talk it over, and hear the phonograph talk too.

The Rio Grande Valley in Seismic Unrest

Santa Fe, N. M., July 18.—Two more earthquake shocks were felt distinctly as far south as El Paso, Texas, where yesterday a street car was thrown from the track by a shock. Refugees from Socorro and other towns in the Rio Grande valley are daily coming to Santa Fe and Albuquerque.

All night long one tremor after another passed over the lower Rio Grande valley, keeping the people at the highest tension. But few have slept in houses for the past few nights. Observers reported thin spirals of smoke in the lava fields in the direction of Alamogordo, probably from hot springs or other volcanic manifestations. A drenching rain passed over the valley during the night, adding to the discomfort of the campers.

THE GREAT

JULY

Clearance Sale

KEEPING ABREAST OF THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

The time for Clearance Sales has moved up a month or more. Formerly September, then August, now July. The factory agents are even out selling fall goods before the selling of Summer Stuff began, even now solicitations are made for next spring's delivery. The wheels of commerce are spinning. To keep pace with this progressive age, Clearance Sales, swift and fast, is now the order. Nothing summerish is to be carried over. So profitless is this sale to us that no goods can be charged or sent out to see at July Clearance Sale prices. We have planned to sell all Summer Goods, have taken into due consideration the great loss of profit at such reduction as we are making means. We take the loss cheerfully, wisely, believing it to be the best kind of business sense to clean up all summer goods at a sacrifice, and do it while the wearing season is at its height.

All the 8c and 10c Lawns have been reduced to 5c and 6c yard.

The 12c and 15c Lawns are to sell for 10c yard.

Trying lynchers is one thing, but convicting them is another.

Every day shows Greenville's increasing need of factories.

Whether Thaw is insane or not, they are trying to make it appear that he is.

When the county convention is over there will be number of candidates in the also ran class.

John D. Rockefeller is going to write a book. A good title would be "How I Escaped the Officers."

When the sun does shine out between the cloudbursts, the warmth of its smile is something to put the fans going.

Georgia is something of a peach. The estimate is made that the crop this year will reach something like 3,500 cars.

The bicycle did not run the horse out of business, much as it looked for a time like it would, nor will the automobile be able to do so.

Rowan county is getting a reputation as being the crime center of the State, with Durham and Buncombe both crowding for the honor.

The late heavy rains show that Greenville is badly in need of some intelligent work along the line of drainage, a thing the town has not had in recent years.

The man who was struck on the head with a plate by waitress in a Greensboro Hotel, was a Republican postmaster who was there attending the convention. The blow ought to kill him officially.

People who have visited Ocracoke this season say Dutch nets are ruining the fishing in Pamlico sound. This calls to mind that Representative Laughinghouse tried to remedy this trouble in the last Legislature but his bill was defeated.

It sometimes takes death to show up the figures of a man who has been a long time in office. This was the case in regards to G. A. Bartlett, disbursing officer of the United States treasury, who died recently. A shortage of $33,000 has been found in his accounts.

Kinston will install day electric current about August 1st. If the dynamo for Greenville that has been on the way some time does not hurry up and get here, Kinston will turn on day current before we do and Greenville will have to take second place.

AGAIN THE DOG

Plantation Life, an agricultural journal published at Greenville, has this to say about the sheep industry:

"It costs less to raise a sheep than any other domestic animal. They will soon destroy the briars, noxious weeds and other unsightly growth about the farm, besides supplying the best table meat; and yet farmers in this section are practically barred from raising sheep because we can't get a legislature with enough backbone to pass any law restricting the depredations of the worthless cur."

Dogs and sheep won't mix except to the detriment of the sheep, and it is up to the legislature to provide a way for the sheep to live and thrive unmolested by the dog. There is not much sheep raising now in Lenoir county, but this profitable and comparatively easy industry is possible on a profitable scale, provided the dog industry is abolished or reduced to the minimum.

With mild winters and abundant pasturage—which are the conditions that prevail with us—nothing stands in the way of Eastern North Carolina enjoying a rapid development in sheep-husbandry—nothing except the dog. But the legislature can cure this defect in this way: Tax the festive dogs and in addition make the owner responsible in damages for the damage his canine does.—Kinston Free Press.

Forgiving and Forgetting.

Some people have a habit (it seems to have been cultivated) of making the remembrance of a man's sin or injury more severe than his punishment, hence what they mete out to him in remembering and constantly bringing up, is harder to bear than what they cause him to suffer from the punishment. Now when you forgive a person FORGIVE him and do not subject him to the constant misery or lingering torture of forever reviving his wrongs.

Some men seem to carry not the record of a man's good parts, but the carefully chronicled record of every evil deed he has committed. One said well when he remarked that there is an ugly kind of forgiveness in this world—a kind of hedgehog forgiveness, shot out like quills. Men take one who has offended and set him down before the blow-pipe of their indignation and scorch him and burn his faults into him, and when they have kneaded him sufficiently with their fiery fists then—they forgive him.—Ex.

The Edison Phonograph.

THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH solves the problem of home entertainment. Its clearness and richness of tone wins the immediate admiration of every audience.

BY means of this wonderful instrument your home can be brought in direct touch with the musical world, and you can hear as many times as you like, for the small cost of a Edison Record, what people in the large cities pay one or two dollars a night to hear. The Edison Phonograph reproduces so perfectly that you miss nothing but the sight of the orchestra and the faces of the singers.

EVERY family circle is incomplete without an Edison Phonograph. Every one of them bears the signature of Thomas A. Edison, the greatest inventive genius of the age.

TO those interested we will take great delight in showing it at our store. Come and hear it for yourself. Ask about our easy payment plan at the cash price. To prospective purchasers we will exhibit the Phonograph at their homes.

A Few Reasons why you Should Buy From
A. B. Ellington & Co.

Because their prices are lower for the same goods than others. Because they have but one price. Because if goods are not satisfactory they can be returned and money refunded. Because they buy and sell for cash and save you time profits. Because it is the only store of its kind in Greenville. Because they need your patronage and are trying to deserve it. Because they study your wants and try to supply them. Don't forget the Queer Decorations.

Many Japanese women gild their teeth. Women of Arabia stain their fingers and toes red. In Greenland women paint their faces blue and yellow. In India the women of the high castes paint their teeth black. A Hindoo bride is anointed from head to foot with grease and saffron. Borneo women dye the hair in fantastic colors—pink, green, blue and scarlet. In New Holland scars made carefully with shells form elaborate patterns on the women's faces. In some South American tribes the women draw the front teeth, esteeming as an ornament the black gap thus made.

His Explanation.

A bishop, recently returned from a tour of his diocese, according to the Springfield Republican, brought this story: He was the guest of one of the pillars of the church in a rural community. Beefsteak was the piece de resistance, and the guest sawed at it with such energy that its toughness was perfectly obvious. Finally the host thought it necessary to do something to save his reputation for hospitality. "It's fine meat," he remarked; "nice and tender. But, you see, we have to keep the knives very dull on account of the children."

Salt a Luxury.

Salt is the greatest luxury known in central Africa. In some sections among the poorer inhabitants salt is never used. Even among the better classes a man who eats salt with his food is considered a rich individual. In some tribes where salt is not so scarce children are so fond of it that they may be seen eating it like our American children would pieces of lump sugar.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

A Boy and a Bird.

A Capitol Hill small boy received a pair of pet pigeons from his aunt. The youngster was very much interested in them and paid them much attention. He fed them a dozen times a day at least. He was very desirous that some eggs should be laid, but the hen pigeon did not seem inclined to please him in this respect. One day the little boy came running to his mother. He was excited.

"Mamma," he said, "I know why Mrs. Pigeon don't lay a egg!"

"Why?" asked his mother.

"Because her egg is stuck in her neck," he replied. He had felt the pigeon's full crop.—Denver Post.

A Weighty Consideration.

"I wish," said the bookkeeper discontentedly, "that I had taken up a scientific career. I've a great mind to be an astronomer yet."

"Are you tired of figures?"

"A little."

"But if you were an astronomer you would be obliged to make calculations on a scale that you never have to attempt now. You'd have to deal with millions and billions and quadrillions of miles, instead of hundreds and thousands of dollars, as you do now."

"That's very true. But I wouldn't be nearly so likely to lose my position if I made a mistake."

Indian Names.

Indian names are nearly always given on account of some act of the children. If a boy, for instance, sees a bear and runs to the ledge he is likely to be called what, in their language, means "Runs-from-a-bear," and he retains this name until some other notable act of his changes it. If, for example, he should kill a bear, he would no longer be called "Runs-from-a-bear," but "Kills-a-bear." These names, given on account of personal acts or personal traits, seem very strange when translated into English, but they are quite natural in the original.

Not Exactly Reassuring.

A boy who was sent to a boarding school sent the following letter to his loving and anxious mother:

"I got here all right, and I forgot to write before. It is a very nice place to have fun. A fellow and I went out in a boat, and the boat tipped over, and a man got me out, and I was so full of water that I didn't know nothin' for a good long while. The other boy has to be buried after they find him. His mother came from Lincoln, and she cries all the time. A boss kicked me over, and I have got to have some money to pay the doctor for fixing my head. We are going to set an old barn on fire tonight, and I should smile if we don't have bully fun. I lost my watch and am very sorry. I shall bring home some mud turtles, and I shall bring home a tame woodchuck if I can get 'im in my trunk."

That Was Jenkins.

A chemist who for many years was the manager of a concern in Massachusetts manufacturing various high grade explosives recently revisited the place of his former employment.

During a talk with his old friends of the institution he made inquiry with reference to a certain colleague of the name of Jenkins.

"By the way," said the chemist, "what has become of Jenkins? Fine fellow?"

"Fine chap indeed," agreed the foreman, "and very skillful in the use of chemicals, but a little absent-minded, Jenkins. See that discolored spot on the wall over there?"

"Why, yes. But what has that to do with Jenkins?"

"That is Jenkins."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Just the Thing.

Guest (to proprietor of summer hotel)—That's great music you have with the meals.

Proprietor—Like it, do you?
"Splendid! Makes me forget that I'm not getting enough to eat."—New York Life.

THE SHAPE OF THE SUN.

Professor C. L. Poor as the result of careful study of heliometer measurements confirmed by that of solar photographs makes the remarkable suggestion that the sun periodically changes its figure, being sometimes an oblate spheroid, like the earth, with its equatorial diameter exceeding the polar and sometimes a prolate spheroid, having a greater polar than equatorial diameter. His idea is that the solar globe is to be regarded as a vibrating body, having an equatorial diameter on the average slightly in excess of the polar, but changing at certain times so that the ratio of the two diameters is temporarily reversed. The period of variability, he thinks, is the same as the sun spot period. The changes of figure, if they really occur, are so small that only the most delicate observations can make them manifest, but, affecting a body of such supreme importance as the sun, they must possess much scientific interest.

Adjustable.

Jenkins—That's the way the thing was told to me; but, of course, there's always more than one side to a story.

Wiseman—Of course, there are always as many sides to a story as there are people to blame.—Houston Post.

Starting the Bores.

"Don't you know that when you ask your little girl to recite it makes everybody feel like going home?"

"Yes."
"Then why do you do it?"
"That's why."—Washington Star.

An Exploded Theory.

"Do you believe all men are created equal, Mr. Newpop?"

"Not by a long shot. Why, that baby of mine knows more now, although he is only three days old, than some people ever learn."—Houston Post.

Making an Island.

There used to be an old storekeeper at Chatham, on Cape Cod, who was formerly a sea captain. With very serious mien and many shakings of the head he told of how he once got even with a rival captain by selling him an innocent appearing anti-fouling paint.

"Yaas, sir," said this old barnacle, "I gum, sir, when Cap'n Darius got out inter midocean, you m'believe me or not, that paint I had sold him begun to collect everything floatin' on the ocean, seaweed, driftwood, until at last, I gum, the ship could not move at all, no, sir; she turned inter an island, that's what she did, and she's out there yit in latitude—let m' see—waal, I clean fertig the p'int, but howsumever there she be to this day, skipmate—betcha a-dollar."

Many Such.

Old Mrs. B., a lady notorious for her saving habits, one morning entered the doctor's surgery, leading a healthy boy of nine years. "Well, Mrs. B.," said the doctor, "who's our patient?" "My neww from town," Mrs. B. replied. "Not much wrong with him, I should say," laughed the doctor, pinching his red cheeks. "It's about 'is appetite, doctor," said the boy's aunt in a low voice. "What!" exclaimed the doctor, staring. "Surely he doesn't need an appetizer?" "Good gracious, no, doctor," replied Mrs. B. in horrified accents. "I want you to give me summat to make 'is appetite less. 'E'll eat me out of 'ouse an' 'ome afore 'is month's holiday is up if 'is appetite ain't cut down!"—Saunders Heart Review.

Cleaning Carafes.

Rice is invaluable for cleaning carafes and oil and vinegar cruets. For a water or wine carafe use at least two tablespoonfuls of rice and several lumps of soda. For the oil cruet use warm water and a little washing soda to remove the oil. Then put in a tablespoonful of rice with warm soapuds, shake vigorously and rinse in clear water. Do not use the soda in vinegar cruets.

Only a Hint.

The old colored "mammy" who had ruled the Greenough household for more than twenty years was known to the tradesmen and the world in general as "Mrs. Washington," although she allowed the Greenoughs and their friends to address her as "Aunt Euphrasia."

She had a flow of language which has seldom been equaled, and delighted in it more even than in her skill in cooking. On one occasion Mrs. Greenough overheard Aunt Euphrasia berating a tardy grocer's boy.

"Whar yo' been, yo' triflin' lazy, destructful, owdacious, aggravat'ed, presumptuous boy, while I's been a-waitin' and a-y'arnin' for dese yer condimental spices?" demanded Aunt Euphrasia, her turbaned head threatening the delinquent, who cowered before her. "Ef I hadn't got ter put dese yer right into my cake dat's been kept unfinished fer yo' to go dawdlin', philanderin', sojerin' round, I'd stop a minute and gib yo' some rice ob my opinions regardin' yo'!"—Youth's Companion.

The Jury Soon Agreed.

Judge Amasa J. Parker of Albany was as waggish as he was learned. Having had a five days' trial of a breach of promise case, the jury disagreed and averred that a verdict was impossible. Said Judge Parker: "This is unfortunate, and I am sorry for the uncomfortable night you have passed, but I have a circuit term to hold in New York which cannot take longer than a fortnight, when I shall return to receive your verdict, if by that time you have reached one. Meanwhile I shall direct the sheriff to make you as comfortable as circumstances will permit." The foreman glared at his fellows, and they glared at him, but the foreman, recovering his presence of mind, scurried up and down the row of double sixes and in a few minutes announced a verdict for the defendant. But the fair plaintiff obtained from the appellate court a new trial on the novel ground that the judge had coerced the jury.

Saved His Comrades Life.

"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill. was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Houghland, of Eldon, Iowa. I gave him Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

A Tragic Finish

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Seadyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only diverted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. Guaranteed best cough and cold cure at J. L. Wooten's drug store. 50 cent and 1.00 Trial bottle free.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by J. L. Wooten

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brunson, of Dublin Ga. THIS IS FOR YOU

I take this method to thank every one who has sold a load of Tobacco with me for the past nine years. Since on the Greenville market I have always, as auctioneer, at all times, looked after your best interest in the sale of your tobacco and if you will continue to sell with me I will see in the future, as I have in the past, that every pile of your tobacco is well looked after. This season you can find me at the "Liberty Warehouse" to welcome you at all times and with Mr. S. T. Hooker, one of Greenville's best judges of tobacco, and as we all know the strongest bidding warehousemen in the State, I feel safe in saying that I am in a better position this season to look after your interest than ever before. You will also find Mr. H. S. Hardy to see that nothing is left undone that is to your best interest.

Yours to serve,
THE LIBERTY WAREHOUSE, Co.
