Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C. July 24, 1906.

J. E. Turnage went to Wilson Sunday and returned yesterday.

There has been rain each day for the last ten consecutive days. It begins to look serious, but we stick to what we always have said, "You can't down a working man" and if the farmers of Pitt are not of that class then we would like to see a real smart fellow. We are not going to perish. The old Pitt stock have got too much push to even think about it.

Prof. Allen Barwick has been here on a visit to his brother, J. F. Barwick.

Exum Dail went to and returned from Washington yesterday.

Mrs. Julia Dunn came up on the afternoon train Monday from a visit down the road.

There is a certain young insurance agent in town who is very much distressed in mind. He has a fine cow that gives anywhere from three to four gallons of milk a day, and now he thinks it to his interest to dispose of her at once, as he has discovered she has no upper teeth. Here is a bargain for some one who wants a good cow.

F. J. Berry and wife came over from Greene county where they have been visiting the family of Tedoc Frizzelle, and left on the Saturday morning train for their home in Washington.

J. L. Sugg and Miss Minnie Exum Sugg, of Greenville, spent the day here Friday.

Mrs. Lillian Nann, of Bellefield, Va. is here on a visit to her parents, Elder C. C. Bland and wife.

B. F. Manning, Jr., has a little girl at his home, that he is very much pleased with.

Mrs. Trotman, Misses Essie Ferree and Helen Gray, who have been visiting the family of D. G. Berry, left Saturday to visit friends in Wilson.

Rev. P. B. Hall, a Disciple minister from Kinston, came up Saturday and went over in Greene county where he conducted religious services Sunday.

Miss Sallie Bet Quinerly came home Sunday from a visit in the country.

Miss Nora Smith has come from an extended visit down in Bertie.

F. M. Smith, of Greenville, spent Saturday night with W. J. Sumrell.

W. E. Hooks left yesterday for Greensboro.

John Tripp, a former Contentnea boy, but who has attained success in the business world and is now a resident of Philadelphia, in company with his sister, Miss Nancy Tripp, of Greenville, spent from Saturday until Monday with his sister, Mrs. Titus Jolly, near here. John has shown true grit and his people are proud of him as they should be. Such boys are rare and deserve not only success but should be appreciated by everyone.

Mrs. J. T. Smith, Jr., and Miss Delia Smith are at Morehead taking in the delights of old ocean's briny billows and its many other attractions.

W. M. Edwards family are away off in the lovely city on the Moccasin, Hookerton.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Rev. J. C. Rowe, pastor of the Methodist church in Salisbury, was assaulted by a man whom he rebuked for cursing.

Congressman Blackburn has been elected president of the Tar Heel Publishing Company, of Greensboro, to succeed H. L. Grant.

NORTH CAROLINA JOURNAL OF EDUCATION A NEW PAPER.

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner made the announcement Saturday that a conference of the board of manager and the publisher of the proposed State educational journal has resulted in the determination to begin publication in September.

The name will be The North Carolina Journal of Education, and it will be published semi-monthly. Superintendent E. C. Brooks, of the Goldsboro graded schools, will be the editor-in-chief, and there will be associate editors for each of the departments, among which will be primary education, intermediate and high school, city schools and superintendents, county superintendents, State department of public education, college and university education, among the teachers, general educational news. The editors of these departments will be announced later. The prospectus will be issued at once.

Mr. Joyner says that such a medium of communication between the educational forces of the State has long been needed and will certainly prove a potent factor in the advancement of the cause of education in the State.

Turn It Over.

A young mother chanced to occupy a seat in front of us on a train last week, when an amusing incident occurred. She was vainly endeavoring to quiet her youngster who was apparently about 2 years old. The young cherub had gormandized vast quantities of fruits, nuts, etc., and seemed to be in great misery and positively refused to be comforted. Finally an old gentleman, who was sitting beside the distressed mother, whom we took to be her father, remarked: "Jenny, I'd larrup the kid." "Oh, I hate to whip a child on a full stomach," said she. "Looks to me like it'd be an easy matter to turn it over," was the quaint reply.—LaGrange Sentinel.

Church Dedication.

The Universalist church here will be dedicated next Sunday morning. The dedicatory services will be conducted by Dr. D. B. Clayton and Rev. Thos. Chapman. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend the service.

Rev. Mr. Chapman will preach at the church on Friday and Saturday nights, July 27th and 28, previous at the dedicatory services Sunday.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday.

MISS COTTEN'S ENGAGEMENT.

North Carolina Girl to Become Bride of Boston Man Announcement at Birthday Party.

The eighty-fourth birthday of Mr. Robert Bruce and also the birthday of Miss Sally Drangoole Cotten was celebrated at the home of Mr. Bruce on the 4th of July, and the occasion was made doubly happy by the announcement by Mr. Bruce at that time of the betrothal of Miss Cotten, of Cottondale, N. C., a daughter of an old Southern friend, Col. Robert B. Cotten, to Mr. Russel B. Wiggin, of Boston, a prominent broker.

The birthday celebration took the form of a dinner party, and it was while the guests were seated at the table, which was decorated for the 4th with flowers and appropriate souvenirs, that a loving cup was brought on. Mr. Bruce then made the announcement of the betrothal. As the loving cup was passed around each guest responded wittily with toasts and congratulations for the fortunate young people.

Miss Cotten is a very beautiful and accomplished young lady; a true daughter of the South. She is a lover of music and a skillful musician herself. Like many of her Southern sisters she is possessed of much wit, leading any company in which she may be, with her repartee and story-telling.

Miss Cotten is still the guest of her father's old friend at "The Castle" on the hill. Her home, Cottondale, which takes its name from her family, is a part of the town of Bruce, N. C., which gets its name from Mr. Robert M. Bruce. The two families have long been close in their friendship.

Since the announcement scores of telegrams and a host of good wishes have poured in upon the happy couple.

Among the guests from out of town at the birthday party were: Mr. Russell B. Wiggin, of Boston, the fiancée of Miss Cotten; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Smith, of Norwich, Conn.; Miss Elba Cotten, Lieutenant Lyman A. Cotten, U. S. N.; Miss Sarah Bruce, of New York city; Mr. Douglas Wesson, of the firm of Smith & Wesson, of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. Nyce and Miss Nyce, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Bruce himself, although marking his eighty-fourth birthday, is hale and hearty and entered into the spirit of the occasion with as much zest and with as much enjoyment as any.—Greenwich, Conn., Graphic.

Bad Wreck on Seaboard.

The local passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line between Wilmington and Charlotte, was wrecked near Hamlet Sunday night. Fifteen persons were killed and many others injured.

The wreck was caused by the failure of a telegraph operator at Rockingham to deliver an order.

Tall Corn.

Talking about high corn, Mr. C. W. Harvey sent The Reflector a stalk that measures about 13½ feet. As tall and thrifty as this stalk is it has only one ear on it.

OAKLEY ITEMS.

OAKLEY, N. C., July 24, 1906.

W. G. Little was in town Friday.

Ebert Andrews of Rocky Mount is spending a few days here with his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jenkins.

Mrs. Martha Rawls and daughter, Mrs. S. A. Congleton, visited the former's sister near Washington, last week.

When you are bound to thrash a fellow best wait until you know he is several miles off.

Oakley has been blessed the past week with the presence of many pretty young ladies from different parts of old North Carolina.

The city market is nearly completed, it will keep at all times canned beef and lobsters. Don't all call at once, but come soon and avoid the rush.

Thursday night about 10:30 fire destroyed W. J. Jenkins pack house and barn with a large amount of corn and farming implements. His residence caught several times but was saved.

J. F. Moore, of Bethel, spent a while here Sunday.

Many from this place attended church at Oak grove Sunday.

Mrs. J. L. Gibson is still in Reidsville with her father, Caleb Smith, who is quite sick.

Everybody in this section has fine crops and expects good prices.

Mrs. Hattie Sutton, of Winterville returned to her home Saturday after spending a few days here with her daughter, Mrs. Hardy.

James Congleton, of Keelsville, was here Saturday on business.

Court closed Thursday p. m. good many cases disposed of. Much time was consumed in proving characters. All of us proved to be very good people. When the lawyer was pleading against us I thought I should be hung, and felt that I was almost guilty, but when my man got through pleading for me I certainly was not guilty.

Visiting lawyers Fleming and James, of Greenville, and Dunning of Robersonville.

Miss Lessie Overton returned Sunday from Mt. Olive, Dudley and Wilson where she had been visiting for the past ten days.

J. E. Hines left Monday to resume his work.

J. S. Overton and son, Will, of Stokes, honored Oakley with their presence a short while Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Corey and daughter, Miss Ella, spent Sunday here with Mrs. J. O. Williams.

Russell Sage Dead.

New York, July 23.—Russell Sage died suddenly Sunday at his country home, "Cedar Croft," at Lawrence, L. I. The immediate cause of death was heart failure resulting from a complication of diseases incident to old age. The veteran financier would have celebrated his 87th birthday on August 4. Mr. Sage had been in exceptionally good health since his arrival at his summer home about six months ago. At noon Sunday he was seized with a sinking spell and collapsed, falling into unconsciousness about two hours before his death, which occurred at 4:30 o'clock.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Of Those Coming and Going.

Leon Smith is very sick with fever.

L. A. Cobb, of Kinston, was here today.

Jesse Smith has taken a position with C. S. Forbes.

Will Lipscomb returned Monday evening from Washington.

J. J. Cherry went back to Ocracoke today.

Mrs. Mellie Harris returned Monday evening from a visit to Washington.

Mrs. Mary E. Lawrence and daughter Mrs. M. A. Gray and son Vernon, of Portsmouth, Va., are visiting the family of L. W. Lawrence on Washington, street.

Miss Rachel Borden, of Goldsboro, is visiting Mrs. J. W. Aycock.

Mrs. Nana Brown and Mrs. J. B. White returned Monday evening from Hamilton.

Mrs. R. M. Starkey and daughter, Miss Emma, went to Kinston Monday evening.

Eugene Wilson and Ned Laughinghouse returned Monday evening from Virginia Beach.

R. D. Cherry, of Sanford, who has been spending some days here, left Monday afternoon.

J. B. Tripp, who has been visiting his father, J. C. Tripp, returned to Philadelphia Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hearne, of Tarboro, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Starkey, left Monday afternoon.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

Grimesland, N. C., July 24, 1906.

Rev. Jno. B. Respers filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

Godfrey Porter and John Dixon, of Black Jack, spent Sunday at J. O. Proctor's.

Juo Warren and Miss Helen Galloway went to Hookerton Friday but got home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Galloway and children, Willie and Lizzie, also Miss Lucy, spent Sunday in our city.

B. G. Mayo and E. A. Fleming went to Paramore's Sunday to get some kisses.

Miss Julia Jones, of Wharton, is spending some time with Miss Caddie Holliday.

Mammoth Tomatoes.

Mr. A. A. Andrews, who is more familiarly known as "Uncle Sandy," is somewhat of a tomato raiser, and has a patch at his home South Greenville in which he takes much pride. He brought The Reflector two that are mammoth in size, the two together weighing just 3 pounds and said "If anybody beats them I will come again."

Another Heavy Rain.

It rained all night last night, and several times it came down hard. Mr. C. V. York, the river observer, tells us that the rainfall for the night was 2.84 inches.

Proclamation by the Governor. $100.00 REWARD

State of North Carolina
Executive Department

Whereas official information has been received at this department that W. H. Harrington Jr. late of the County of Pitt stands charged with conspiracy and assault upon W. J. Tell, and whereas it appears that the said W. H. Harrington Jr. has fled the State or so conceals himself that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him.

Now, therefore, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of authority in me vested by law, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of One hundred Dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said W. H. Harrington Jr. to the Sheriff of Pitt County at the Court house in Greenville N. C. and I do enjoin all officers of the State and all good citizens to assist in bringing said criminal to justice.

Done at our City of Raleigh the 16th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six and in the one hundred and thirty-first year of our American Independence.

R. B. GLENN,
By the Governor.
A. H. ARRINGTON,
Private Secretary.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

A Democratic convention of Pitt county will be held at the court house, in the town of Greenville, at 12 M, Wednesday August 15th 1906, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the Legislature and various county officers.

Township Primaries—The Democratic primaries of the several precincts are hereby called to meet their usual places on Saturday, the 11th day of August, 1906, at 3 o'clock p. m., to elect delegates to the county convention, nominate Constables, Justices of the Peace, and elect precinct executive committees. The townships are entitled to delegates and alternates as follows.

TEACHING IN CHINA.

The Schoolmaster's Life Is One of Dignity and Drudgery.

"Most village schoolmasters in China have qualified themselves for the post by having failed at least once in the government triennial examinations," says a critic in the China Mail. "After two failures the scholar turns without any hesitation to this lucrative employment—it furnishes him usually with two coarse meals a day. He needs no diplomas, no apparatus, no assistants, not even brains, only a fairly retentive memory and a few old books. He simply puts out a few days before the old year expires a flaming proclamation of red paper and announces that it is his intention to open a school and receive pupils—if they will come. Not even a schoolhouse is necessary. He sits in a straight backed chair in the ancestral hall, which he owns in common with his clansmen, the hens, the pigs, the farming implements and the ancestral tablets, to receive ragged, shoeless urchins and chopped dollars.

"The conditions of life under which a schoolmaster lives, unite to foster his vanity. His neighbors cannot indulge the love of long nails. He can. They cannot wear the long robe. He does—on feast days and special occasions. If they write a letter they confuse the Chinese characters. When they send to their honored dominie a present of roast pork they unwittingly describe it as a 'small gift of pearls and jade.' He always writes correctly, for long practice has made him as familiar with a certain number of elementary characters as an Englishman is with his alphabet. By comparison with his neighbors he is a veritable 'kwan tsz,' or superior man. He cannot be deceived. The rustic urchins every morning worship Confucius, afterward the god of literature, next the dignified occupant of the high backed chair.

"Were it not for the honor attached to the post the drudgery of the life would be unbearable. From 6 in the morning until 5 in the evening, with one short interval for rice, amid shouting and howling which would silence the parrot house at the zoo, with voice and stick, he devotes his life to the driving of Chinese characters into the almost impervious skulls of his pupils. But he perseveres, believing that no position—except the mandarin's—is so respected and no profession so honorable. When an old man, according to Chinese custom, he looks to his son for support. At last, with deafening noise of cymbals, flutes and gongs, his wornout body is laid in the hillside grave."

"Colognian" Architecture.

One of the young architects who delivers lectures on modern architecture in the series of free public school lectures in New York, says a writer in the New York Sun, had just shown his audience the beauties of the Cologne cathedral when he thought of an experience he once had on a similar occasion.

"It was at the conclusion of my lecture," he told his audience, "that a woman came to me, explained that she, too, was a student of architecture and thanked me for enlightening her on one point that she had never been able to understand before. 'I have always wondered,' she said to me, 'where the colonial style of architecture came from. Now, of course, I see that it comes from Cologne.'"

Prentiss and His Wit.

Sergeant S. Prentiss was a great lawyer and an eloquent orator as well as a humorist, but his humor, though at times excessive, never obscured his oratory or weakened his argument. He was once engaged in a political discussion on "the stump" with a gentleman who was wordy, dull and spoke "against time" so that Prentiss might speak at a disadvantage. It was nearly dark when Prentiss rose, and the same moment a jackass in a neighboring pound began braying and kept it up until Prentiss' friends were annoyed and his opponents delighted. When the jackass stopped, Prentiss, casting a comical look at his unfair antagonist, said:

"I did not come here today to reply to two equally eloquent speeches." Then he sat down, and his friends carried him from the stand in their arms.

MAN'S WEAKER HALF.

One Side of the Body Generally Not Wholly Developed.

The popular belief is that the left side is weaker than the right, and, as in all popular beliefs, there is much truth in this. In most cases the right arm is decidedly stronger than the left, the bones are larger and the muscles more vigorous.

When we come to consider the lower limbs, however, we find a precisely opposite state of affairs. The left leg is stronger than the right in the great majority of cases. This want of symmetry is noticeable all through the body. Nine times out of ten we see better with one eye than with the other and hear better with the left than with the right ear or vice versa.

Not only so, an injury to the body, a burn or a cut, for instance, causes more pain on one side than it would were it inflicted on the other. Even diseases attack one side on their first onset in preference to the other. Eczema, varicose veins, sciatica and even tuberculosis begin invariably to manifest themselves on our weaker side. A blistering plaster, too, will provoke an eruption only if applied to the right side in certain individuals; in others only if applied to the left side.

The simplest way apparently of discovering which is our weaker side is to observe which side we lie upon by preference in bed, as it is certain that we will instinctively adopt the attitude which is most agreeable or, rather, which causes the least inconvenience. In other words, we will lie upon the side the muscles of which, being more vigorous, are less sensible to the pressure upon them of the weight of the body.

Statistics and observation go to prove that in about three cases out of four it is the left side which is the weaker, thus giving reason to the popular dictum. Curiously enough, however, pneumonia, it has been noticed, unlike most diseases, usually attacks at first the right—that is to say, the stronger side of the body.

No Chance For Illusions.

There was no false pride about Lucinda Madden, and she had no illusions at the age of forty-six when she accepted Hiram Gregg's offer of marriage. She was a hard featured and sharp tongued person, and she knew it.

Also, however, she knew her capabilities as cook and housekeeper, and she was well aware that Hiram Gregg's slow wits and shiftless ways had made him anything but a favorite with the feminine portion of the village. She found things to like in Hiram by looking hard for them, but she proposed to keep him well in hand.

"Well, Lucindy," said Hiram one evening two or three days before the wedding, "here we are going to be married, after all, both of us. I guess, Lucindy, I'm about your first offer, ain't I?"

"You are," said Lucinda firmly, "and I'm your last offer, Hiram, and going to be if my health holds out, so we won't make any more talk over that."

A Good Naval Name.

When Commodore Rodgers, U. S. N., was in charge of a recruiting station after the close of the war he received an application. "What is your name?" asked the commodore gruffly. "Don Emilio de Ranco Razanini," was the reply. "No, sir," answered the commodore, "I take no man in the United States navy with a name like that. Go away and get a better name if you want to enlist." The next day, bright and early, the same man reappeared and in a soft foreign voice said his name was Frederick Rodgers. This time he was accepted.—Christian Register.

Just Missed It.

An elderly woman who had during the course of a somewhat eventful life buried four husbands encountered at the gates of the cemetery where they reposed an old but timid lover she had not seen for years. She took him inside and showed him, not without a feeling of pride, the well kept tombstones of her former lords and masters. "Ah, James," she remarked feelingly, "you might have been lying there today if you had only had a little more courage!"—London Tribune.

Saved His Comrades Life.

"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill. was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Houghton, of Elgin, Iowa. I gave him Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North steady, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Venceboro Me., permitted a little cold to go on until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "The doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. Guaranteed best cough and cold cure at J. L. Wooten's drug store. 50 cent and 1.00 Trial bottle free.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. what they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by J. L. Wooten.

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brunson, of Dublin Ga. Surely there is nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by J. L. Wooten druggist. Price 50c.

Removes the microbes which impoverish the blood and circulation. Stops all troubles that interfere with nutrition. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Tea or Tablets. 35 cents. Wooten's Drug Store.

Fled down to his desk in the office while others are free and at play, Papa fauces he is having a vacation, (NICK TO) whi thinking Rocky Mountain Tea.

Does evil still, your whole life fill? Does woe betide? You, tho ghts abide on suicide? You need a pill! Now for prese and facts, DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most pleasant and reliable pills known today. They never gripe. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Try a little Kodol for Dyspepsia after your meals. See the effect it will produce on your general feeling by digesting your food and helping your stomach by holding your stomach to get into shape. Many stomachs are overworked to the point where they refuse to go further. Kodol digests your food and gives your stomach the rest it needs, while its re-constructive properties get the stomach back into working order. Kodol relieves flatulence, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, belching etc. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

A sweet breath adds to the joys of a kiss. You wouldn't kiss your wife, mother or sweet heart with a bad breath. You can't have a sweet breath without a healthy stomach. You can't have a healthy stomach without perfect digestion. There is only one remedy that digests what you eat and makes the breath as sweet as a rose—and that remedy is Kodol for dyspepsia. It is a relief for sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, and ailments arising from disorder of the stomach and digestion. Take a little Kodol after your meals and see what it will do for you. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

A prompt relief for croup. One Minute Cough Cure, cuts the pitegan, allays the inflammation—the cough syrup with a reputation. Sold by John, L. Wooten.

It is always well to have a bottle in the house. Sunburn, bruises piles, a d boils yield to Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Should keep a box on hand at all times to provide for emergencies. For years the standard, but followed by many imitators. Be sure you get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

TUESDAY, JULY 24, 1906

We hope Joe Daniels has not lost his rabbit's foot.

The usual summer cry is raised about the scarcity of men at the summer resorts.

Charlotte is rejoicing that the city water has become good enough without boiling.

Much has been said of late about excessive rains, and up to now the end is not in sight but it keeps right on raining every day. It has already reached the point of being a very serious matter for the farmers, and along with them for every other branch of business, for when the farmers suffer we all suffer. Crops of every kind have suffered untold damage with little prospect of overcoming it when the weather changes to something better than we are now having.

What would have happened to the Republican party of North Carolina if the President had sent some more of his cabinet there to sit on the lid? It is evident that mere weight did not tell for Taft weighs over 300.

The Lincoln Republicans of Pennsylvania have invited some of the members of the cabinet to speak in that state for the reform ticket, but there does not seem to be one that is not allied with the machine organization for none of them have accepted the invitation. This shows how far reform is advocated by the administration.

Republican extravagance is best shown by the fact that while our population increases less than 2 per cent a year, yet the appropriations increased for the present fiscal year 76 per cent more than they were for the year previous. Every year shows a much greater increase than the per cent of increase of the population.

When Secretary Root attempts to manipulate the Pan-American conference at Rio Janeiro, he will run up against the so-called Drago doctrine as opposed to the "big stick." The Drago doctrine is merely a declaration against the indiscriminate use of force in collecting debts from a nation, but it is expected our delegates will oppose its adoption.

The Republican machine in Oklahoma enters upon the fight for the fruits of statehood somewhat handicapped. The Republican governor has just been under investigation on charges implicating him in Osage Nation oil leases. Most of the other federal officials have been mixed up with land of Indian frauds and the people have no confidence in them.

Distance Traveled in Dancing.

A young man was found of dancing took a pedometer with him to a hall, and found that in the course of the evening he had covered thirteen and a half miles. The average length of a waltz was half a mile; of a polka, three-quarters of a mile; of a gallop or shottische, a mile, and of a lanciers, a quarter of a mile. A girl usually dances more than a man, and is calculated to cover more than 16 miles in a single evening.

Fairbanks, Cannon, Taft, Shaw are, or were, candidates for the Republican nomination for President, but the voters don't take kindly to any of them. Fairbanks, Cannon and Shaw are uncompromising standpatters and machine politicians and Taft seems to be an understudy of the President and the people want some one that has ideas of his own. The only chance for Taft would be a differing with Roosevelt on one of the numerous issues in which he takes the palpably wrong side, such as the Santo Domingo and Panama scandals.

The Edison Phonograph.

THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH solves the problem of home entertainment. Its clearness and richness of tone wins the immediate admiration of every audience.

BY means of this wonderful instrument your home can be brought in direct touch with the musical world, and you can hear as many times as you like, for the small cost of a Edison Record, what people in the large cities pay one or two dollars a night to hear. The Edison Phonograph reproduces so perfectly that you miss nothing but the sight of the orchestra and the faces of the singers.

EVERY family circle is incomplete without an Edison Phonograph. Every one of them bears the signature of Thomas A. Edison, the greatest inventive genius of the age.

TO those interested we will take great delight in showing it at our store. Come and hear it for yourself. Ask about our easy payment plan at the cash price. To prospective purchasers we will exhibit the Phonograph at their homes.

Wireless Across the Pacific.

Mr. Marconi used a ten inch induction coil, giving a spark three-quarters of an inch long, in his early attempts to communicate across the English channel by wireless telegraphy. His masts were 150 feet high. To provide for commercial communication across the Pacific ocean between San Francisco and Honolulu a gigantic induction coil fifteen feet long is being built, which will give a spark fifteen feet long and as thick as a man's body. Two thousand miles of fine silk insulated copper wire are used in the coil, with more than a ton of bees-wax and paper for additional insulating. Its potential will be about 5,000,000 volts. The masts from which the impulses will be sent out are twin towers, each 300 feet high, on the very apex of Mount Tamalpais, across the Golden Gate from San Francisco. The antennae—3,000 pounds of heavy copper wire—will thus be nearly 3,000 feet above the waves which wash the foot of the mountain.

London's Infant Slaughter.

John Burns, the English Labor member and cabinet minister, the sixteenth member of a family of eighteen children, nine of whom survived, said to the national conference on infantile mortality in London:

"I believe I am well within the mark when I say that there are roughly 100,000 lives sacrificed in some form or another every year, not to man's inhumanity, but to neglect, carelessness, thoughtlessness and ignorance. It is pathetic to know that in some districts from 30 to 60 per cent of the total children born die under five years. Wealth has increased, but the infant has not shared it. Physical comforts have increased, and yet the weakest and the smallest bear an undue share of the burden of death. It seems as though material progress is hitting the child too hard."

Tragedy of a Lost Shell.

The Natal Mercury (South Africa) tells the story of a Boer farmer named Moolman, who found a 4.7 naval shell lying on the veldt unexploded and took it home to his sister. She wanted the shell for decoration purposes and began to dig out the lyddite, and to soften it poured cold water upon it. The lyddite and water began to effer-vesce, and the girl went indoors and from the end of the passage watched the shell, which lay upon the doorstep. Suddenly there was a terrific explosion, and Miss Moolman fell dead, struck in the breast by a piece of shell. The whole house was wrecked, every pane of glass, every window frame and every door being cast to the ground and most of the furniture being upset and smashed.

TO OUR FRIENDS THE TOBACCO GROWERS

We take this opportunity of extending to our friends and patrons our sincere thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon us the past season.

WHEN THE CENTRE BRICK WAREHOUSE

was first erected, three years ago, it was the intention of its management to build up a permanent business upon a sound business basis. Our business has increased with the years, and we trust to be favored with your patronage the coming season

Each customer, as well as each Pile of Tobacco shall have our Personal Attention, and we shall endeavor, as in the past, to make The Centre Brick headquarters for High Prices, Fair and honorable treatment.

It affords us pleasure to announce in this connection that

MR. W. T. LIPSCOMB,

THE VETERAN TOBACCONIST AND WAREHOUSEMAN

Will be associated with us the coming season. Mr. Lipscomb is too well-known to the trade, planters, buyers, or manufacturers to need any commendation at our hands, suffice to say with his judgment and experience at the command of our customers with our facilities for conducting the warehouse business, assisted as we will be by an experienced and competent force, in every department, it puts us in better position than any other warehouse in Eastern Carolina, at all times, to secure for our friend outside prices for their Tobacco. When you come to GREENVILLE, always

Always make the CENTRE RICK your headquarters, and when your tobacco is ready to sell, bring it where experienced judges will sell it to the best advantage for you. Again, thanking you for your liberal patronage we beg to remain,

BRINKLEY and LASSITER,

BRINKLEY, LASSITER and LIPSCOMB, Successors,

THE MOB OF 1848.

Dramatic Climax That Awed the King of Prussia.

When the disturbance of 1848 broke out in Prussia the king, Frederick William IV., issued many proclamations. They denounced those who protested against the old state of affairs and urged a constitution as "a band of miscreants, mostly foreigners," and informed "my dear Berliners" that he would never grant a constitution.

The actual fighting, however, when for days his troops took barrier after barrier, only to be opposed after each as resolutely half a block farther down the street, soon changed his attitude, and he announced concessions. The troops were sent from the city.

When the soldiers had marched away from all parts of the city solemn and silent processions moved toward the royal palace. They escorted the bodies of those who had fallen in the battle. The bodies of the slain were borne aloft on litters, their gaping wounds uncovered, their heads wreathed with laurels and immortelles. So the procession marched into the inner courtyard of the palace.

The litters were placed in rows on the courtyard floor, and around them stood the multitude of men with pallid faces, begrimed with powder, smoke and blood, many of them still carrying the weapons with which they had fought during the night, and between them women and children bemoaned their dead.

The king was loudly called for. He appeared in an open gallery, pale and dejected, by his side the weeping queen.

"Hat off!" the multitude shouted. And the king took off his hat to the dead below. Then a deep voice among the multitude intoned the old hymn, "Jesus, Mein Zuversicht" ("Jesus, My Refuge"), in which all joined. The chorus finished, the king withdrew, the corpses were lifted up again and the procession moved away in grim solemnity.

It was a terrible humiliation to the crown, at the same time a pointed answer to the king's address, in which the fighters had been denounced as a band of miscreants. Had there been such among them Frederick William IV. would hardly have survived that moment when he stood before them alone and defenseless and they fresh from the field of blood, with guns still in their hands. But at that moment their cry was not "Death to the king!" nor "Down with royalty!" but "Jesus, my refuge!" — Carl Schurz in McClure's Magazine.

George Du Maurier's Double.

George Du Maurier had a double, and his double was, as many people are aware, Alma-Tadema. So remarkable was the resemblance that even their most intimate friends frequently mistook them. A certain young lady, however, prided herself that she had no difficulty in determining which was which. On one occasion, finding herself seated next to Du Maurier at dinner, she remarked:

"I cannot understand how any one can mistake you for Mr. Tadema. To me the likeness is very slight." Presently she added: "By the way, I have a photograph of you. Do be so good as to put your autograph to it."

Mr. Du Maurier assenting graciously, the photograph was afterward produced. He looked at it for a moment, sighed and then very gently laid it on the table.

"That," he remarked, "is Alma-Tadema's portrait." — Pearson's Weekly.

Drew's Boarders Differed.

Under the proprietorship of L. S. Drew the old American House at Burlington was one of the most popular hotels in Vermont, and it was the scene of many a humorous episode. One night after supper Mr. Drew was welcoming a new arrival in the office when an extremely corpulent guest came out of the dining room. Pointing to the fat man, Mr. Drew said: "You can see how well we feed our guests. Just look at that man." It chanced that a permanent resident of the hotel overheard the remark. This man was extremely thin—just the opposite of the guest referred to by Mr. Drew. The thin boarder at once spoke up, saying: "Yes, that fat man has been here three days. I have been here thirty years. Look at me!"

THIS IS FOR YOU

I take this method to thank every one who has sold a load of Tobacco with me for the past nine years. Since on the Greenville market I have always, as auctioneer, at all times, looked after your best interest in the sale of your tobacco and if you will continue to sell with me I will see in the future, as I have in the past, that every pile of your tobacco is well looked after. This season you can find me at the "Liberty Warehouse" to welcome you at all times and with Mr. S. T. Hooker, one of Greenville's best judges of tobacco, and as we all know the strongest bidding warehousemen in the State, I feel safe in saying that I am in a better position this season to look after your interest than ever before. You will also find Mr. H. S. Hardy to see that nothing is left undone that is to your best interest.

Yours to serve,
THE LIBERTY WAREHOUSE, Co.
Per H. A. Timberlake,
Auctioneer.

North Carolina }
Pitt County } In Superior Court,
East Carolina Railway vs.

T. W. Whitehurst, Octavia Whitehurst (a minor) and Shelly Swain guardian of said Octavia Whitehurst.

T. W. Whitehurst, who is a defendant in the above entitled cause, will take notice that a special proceeding, entitled as above, has been commenced in the Superior court of Pitt county, before the clerk, to condemn a right of way for the plaintiff's railway across a tract of land in Farmville township, Pitt county, in which the said defendant has an interest. And the said defendant will further take notice that he is required to appear at the office of the clerk of Superior court of said county on Friday the 31st day of August 1906, in the town of Greenville, and answer or demur to the petition and complaint in said proceedings, or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief therein demanded.

This the 24th day of July 1906,

D. C. MOORE,
Clerk of the Superior Court
