COUNTY CONVENTION.

Enthusiastic Gathering of Democrats to Nominate County Tickets.

It was moved to nominate one county commissioner at the time. The names of D. J. Holland, N. T. Cox, J. Z. Brooks, W. R. Horne, B. W. King, W. A. James, Ivey Smith, M. G. Moye, and R. Staton were presented. There was no nomination on first ballot. J. Z. Brooks was nominated on second ballot, N. T. Cox was nominated on third ballot. D. J. Holland was nominated on fourth ballot. No nomination on fifth ballot. R. W. King, was nominated on sixth ballot. No nomination on seventh ballot. M. T. Spier was nominated on eighth ballot.

A motion to adjourn was defeated.

J. W. Smith, offered the following resolution which was adopted:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the principal county officers should be allowed fair and reasonable salaries for their services, and that all fees collected by them should be paid into the county treasury, and that after the payment of such salaries whatever excess there may be in the treasury shall be applied to the improvement of the public roads of the county."

The following resolution was offered by O. L. Joyner and adopted:

"Whereas, The Democratic party being desirous of expressing its approval and satisfaction of the efforts of its representatives in the last legislature, therefore be it resolved,

"1st. We endorse their efforts in securing a law increasing the pay of jurors, and making this increase without expense to the tax payers by charging $5 in each case as jury tax.

"2nd. We heartily endorse the work of our representatives to secure the repeal of the present Dutch net law, and we most earnestly urge our representatives in the next legislature to use every effort possible to secure the repeal of this unjust law which operates in the interest of only a limited few and to the detriment of all the people of Pitt and the other counties on the Northern and Western border:

"3rd. We favor the reduction of both freight and passenger rates, and therefore endorse fully the attitude of our representatives on this question and urge them to work for this end in the next legislature.

"4th. The people of Pitt county enjoy the unenviable distinction of having the poorest public roads of any county in the Eastern part of the State, and we therefore urgently appeal to our representatives to work for and secure the passage of some practical system by which our present deplorable roads may be improved."

J. D. Cox, who had been nominated for surveyor, stated that he had served several terms and could not accept it again. He presented the name of Robert Jenkins for this position and the latter was nominated by acclamation.

The convention then adjourned. Following the convention there was a meeting of the county executive committee. This body elected F. C. Harding, chairman, and W. L. Brown, secretary. Central committee—A. L. Blow, F. G. James, W. H. Ragsdale, D. C. Moore, and R. W. King.

THE CONVENTION

Excellent Order for so Large a Crowd.

Pitt county has never before witnessed such a political convention as met here Wednesday. People from all sections of the county were here and the court house was crowded, even the gallery being full. In all the crowd in the court house and on the streets during the day not a drunken man was noticed and there was no disturbance of any kind. Not an arrest was made by the police.

Such a condition with so large a crowd is commendable. The Reflector is frank to express the

PERSONAL MENTION.

Of Those Coming and Going.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McClellan left this morning for Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Winslow returned Wednesday evening from Indiana.

Misses Bessie and Sudie Harding returned this morning from Brevard.

U. S. Attorney Harry Skinner returned Wednesday evening from Wilmington.

Mrs. R. J. Cobb and daughter, Miss Irma, left this morning for a visit to Baltimore.

2ND PRIZE.

Below We Reproduce Rev. J. N. Henderlite's "Reasons Why Every Residence Should Have Telephone."

This paper was awarded 2nd prize in the "Reason Contest" of the Home Telephone & Telegraph Company.

Why there should be a telephone in every house. The business house and the office must, of course, have a phone. It pays for itself twenty times over and nothing else can exactly take its place.

Can the average household with small income afford a phone? The phone is a time-saver.

Experience proves that it saves the average household one hour a day, more than thirty working days annually. For that length of time it is doing some person's work.

The phone is a labor-saver. It saves trips to the grocer, merchant woodyard, meat market, and many others. It runs errands, without error or delay, night and day, summer and winter, through snow and rain and heat.

Hence, the phone is a money-saver. Today, time and labor are money. The phone is worth the value of working time saved. The profit is a simple calculation, the difference between the value of time saved and cost of phone.

Facts and figures show that one cannot afford not to have a phone. Nothing has been said of the comfort and convenience of being able to project one's self at a moment's notice far or near.

Consider the protection. It is fire-alarm, police alarm, a special messenger carrying instant tidings night and day. In case of accident it calls the physician. In one emergency it may render service beyond all price. Of all labor saving devices and modern utilities, none is comparable to the phone in actual service rendered to the general public, for amount of cost.

SHELMERDINE ITEMS.

SHELMERDINE, N. C. August 16.

There was considerable excitement in town last night as a result of the nomination of Richard Williams for register of deeds. This is a Williams stronghold and his many partisans engaged in a torchlight procession on Jackson avenue when the results of the convention became known.

The many friends of J. S. Jennings are congratulating him on the birth of a daughter.

Jas. T. Alford has returned from a two weeks trip to the mountains. Mr. Alford is much improved and has gained considerable weight during his sojourn in the western part of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Carr, of Greenville, were the guests of Mrs. F. G. Whaley, on Bobbitt's Boulevard last Sunday.

Millard Dickens has returned from a flying visit to New York and Niagara Falls. He reports a very enjoyable visit.

Isham Sledge, Jr., of Nash county, is spending a few days with his brother, W. T. Sledge, on Jackson avenue.

Residents on the line of the Greenville and Vanceboro railroad were considerably surprised Monday evening to see extra No. 23, come flying by with Mrs. W. T. Harrell at the throttle. Mr. Harrell has lost his job.

DANCE GIVEN.

Complimentary to Miss Clara Hampton, of Plymouth,

Reported for Reflector

There was a very enjoyable dance given in Perkins opera house Tuesday evening by the young men of the town complimentary to Miss Clara Hampton, of Plymouth. The young ladies were beautifully attired in white shirt-waist suits, and the gentlemen in negligee. It being strictly a card dance, the German began at nine thirty and lasted until nearly two o'clock.

The German was gracefully led by Miss Margaret Skinner and Walter Wilson, Jr. The following couples participated:

Miss Clara Hampton, of Plymouth, with Frank Wilson.

Miss May Whitfield with Ray Tyson.

Miss Jamie Brown with Andrew J. Moore.

Miss Margaret Skinner with Walter Wilson, Jr.

Miss Ethel Skinner with Roy Hampton, of Plymouth.

Miss Bertha Patrick with Walter G. Ward.

Miss Irma Cobb with Jack White.

Miss Bessie Patrick with Cary Mayo.

Miss Francis Bagwell with Mr. Lassiter, of Snow Hill.

Miss Mary James with Cary Warren.

Miss Mary Cobb with Alec Blow

Miss Alice Blow with Mark Williams.

Miss Anderson with Stephen Wooten.

Miss Nora Howerton, of Halifax with John Shelburne.

Miss Helen Jenkins, of Gastonia, with Argall Vick-

Miss Rosa Wells, of Wilson, with Bob Howard.

Miss Jamie Bryan with Mr. Edgerton, of Louisburg.

Miss Alice Lang with Mark Turnage.

Miss Nina James with Mr. Hager, of Richmond, Va.

Chaperones, Mesdames Aycock, Wilson and Cobb.

Music furnished by the Greenville String Band.

Stags—Harry Skinner, L. E. Scoggins, A. M. Moseley.

Miss Ethel Skinner entertained at late lunch in honor of Miss Hampton and the following invited were Frank Wilson, Miss Clara Hampton, Alex. Blow, Miss Mary Cobb, Roy Hampton, Miss Ethel Skinner, Cary Warren, Miss Mary James.

Miss Jamie Brown entertained at late lunch and the following invited were: Miss Rosa Wells, Bob Howard, Miss Margaret Skinner with Walter Wilson, Jr., Miss Jamie Brown with Andrew Moore.

The dance together with the delicious late lunches was by far the nicest dance given here this summer.

Miss Hampton is a very beautiful young lady and very attractive and has made many friends during her stay here.

The old soldiers' encampment at Morehead will begin on the 21st. We have heard a number of Pitt county veterans say they will attend.

THE REFUGEES

BY A. CONAN DOYLE

Creator of the Famous Sherlock Holmes Stories

Every reader of fiction is familiar with the work of this writer whose stories have fascinated and entertained people of every nationality.

The Refugees

Is one of his most famous productions, said by many to be the best he has ever written. It is a stirring tale of the troublous times when the Huguenots were driven from France. The scenes are laid in France and America, then the newly founded home of the free and oppressed from all climes.

Beginning in the court of Louis XIV, detailing the life of the vacillating and pleasure loving king, exploiting the intrigues of the leisure class about him, the story carries the reader to the shores of the new world where a band of brave refugees have thrilling experiences with ferocious Indian warriors and find peace at last when they reach the English provinces about New York and Boston.

THIS ALL ABSORBING TALE WILL BE PUBLISHED IN THIS PAPER

belief that the cause for this can be attributed mainly to Greenville having a dispensary instead of open saloons. Surely we do not remember to have ever seen a large convention here when saloons were in existence that was not marked by more or less drinking and disorder. Under the new order of things conditions are improved in every way.

Try it, Once.

Don't look at the thermometer, Don't speak of the hotness of the weather. Let your mind calmly and quietly revert to a snow storm or blizzard, with hail or snow pelting you in the face, and old Boreas blowing his chilly breath around your ears until they tingle. Think of these things, and see if you do not feel more comfortable and a little cooler.

Miss Ethel Pierce, from near Ayden, came up Tuesday evening to visit Miss Dessie Kittrell.

T. F. Rose, advance agent of Cole's circus, was here Wednesday. The circus will come Sept. 22nd.

Miss Clara Hampton, of Plymouth, who has been visiting Miss Jamie Bryan, returned home Wednesday evening.

H. A. Barber, an inspector in the postal service, is spending a few days here looking over the rural routes that are supplied from the Greenville postoffice.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight, local rains Friday.

Some of the nominations Wednesday were by very close margins.

FRANCE AS A WORLD BANKER

Among other results of the Algeiras conference France has come to a consciousness of her real power in the world at large. An English financier had already said that if the French people continue to live on the principle, "Where you have four sous spend only two," they will end by having in their possession all the coined gold in the world. The great portion of it, which they already possess, and the distress caused by German finance and industry by the patriotic refusal of the united French banks to allow their gold to be drawn until peace was secure had a great and probably decisive influence in the happy termination of this entangled affair of Morocco. The floating of the latest Russian loan has since come to show yet further the riches of France, to which tourists alone, it is estimated, add 2,000,000,000 francs in gold each year. This money power and money need should tend to the keeping of European peace more than all the theories of the pacifists who clamor for a disarmament impossible to obtain. In favor of France should also be added the unwieldiness of parliamentary government in case of sudden war.—Stoddard Dewey in Atlantic.

Who Are the Real Owners of a City?

It has been predicted that the task of rebuilding the city of San Francisco would be hindered and made difficult by labor union restrictions. It has been remarked as unfortunate that organized labor now has control of the city's government. Emphatically I dissent from these pessimistic opinions. I regard it as in the highest degree fortunate, for the masses of the toilers who must supply the labor that will rebuild San Francisco, that their representatives will have something to say about how the work is to be done.

I look to them to prevent the duplication of many miseries inflicted upon the poor of the city, as upon the poor of all great cities, through huddled and insanitary housing in narrow, dark, neglected back streets. There is a dawning general consciousness in this world that a city belongs not to the few who take its revenues, but to the many who build and inhabit it; that, at any rate, the few who take the revenues are not solely to be considered; that the many have some rights which must be regarded.—Frank Putnam in National Magazine.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Why Certain Beasts and Birds Are More Clever Than Others.

Why do you suppose squirrels, elephants, parrots, monkeys and opossums are clever? They certainly are not much alike, but there is one power they all have that most animals have not. It sounds rather like the old riddle: "Why is an oyster like a cow? Because neither of them can climb a tree." But this isn't meant to be a riddle. There really is one great power that all these animals have. It is the grasping power. Elephants can pick things up with their trunks and feel the shape, parrots grasp with their claws, monkeys with their hands, feet and tails, opossums with their hind feet and tails and squirrels with their paws. And so all these animals who have not, like dogs and horses, had the advantage of living with men, have nevertheless grown wise in the woods and jungles.

Water In Grinding.

Why is water used on a grindstone in sharpening a knife? That is one of the questions asked on the porch of a summer hotel recently, and, although several well informed men and women were in the little gathering, the only one who could answer it satisfactorily was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy. Here is the explanation he gave: The object in using water is to secure a better contact of the blade with the stone, so that the entire edge of the blade may be smoothly sharpened. The application of water not only fills the little spaces between the particles of stone, but it softens them and thus makes a smoother surface. If a dry stone were used, the edge of the blade would be rough, for the friction would be unequal.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxin, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by J. L. Wooten's

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

How a Dime's Worth of High Life Started a Balking Team.

The old man was driving a heavy load when his team, suddenly coming to a bog hole, balked. He tried every way to start it. Coaxing, praying and flogging helped none and swearing very little. He had almost given up when he saw a young man coming leisurely down the road. The young man stopped and said: "Stuck, eh? I'll get you out for 10 cents."

The old man jumped at the chance. The young man produced a small bottle of liquid and dashed a drop on each horse. No sooner had he done this than the horses plunged forward and were gone. The old man asked excitedly, "What kind of stuff is that?"

"High life." "Well," the old man said nervously, handing him 35 cents, "put a quarter's worth on me. I've got to catch that team." — Judge's Magazine of Fun.

A Wonderful Lock.

Ninety-six million years is the time given to unlock a safe which is fastened with the wonderful new lock invented in Jamaica. The combination consists of four sets of twenty-four letters of the alphabet, which can be set to a sentence in most modern languages. When one letter is used in one alphabet and another in the second set, and so on, it becomes a most complicated matter. Then there is the initial problem of which language it has been keyed in to be solved by the man that attempts to open the safe. Furthermore, instead of letters the inventor, one Neuman Tobias, has employed four sets of numerals. Assuming that the lock has been set to a figure in the number of 3,030,303-030,303,030, it would take any one who undertook to unlock the safe 96,090,278 years 269 days 30 minutes and 30 seconds, working at the rate of 60 numbers a minute, to arrive at the proper combination. During this time he would have no time for food and sleep.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Fancy Table Ways.

We are getting dead swell in this good town. We eat ice cream with a fork. Some time ago we learned to make salad at the dinner table. Then we served coffee in the library after dinner. We have had finger bowls some dozen years. We are beginning to use them even when there is no company. One family has finger bowls at breakfast, after fruit and before bacon, even when there is no guest at the house. That's dead swell. We have drunk soup out of a teacup and put grass on the fried chicken, and now we eat ice cream with a fork. Why not? These little evidences of social progress are commendable.—Columbia Herald.

Relic of the Constitution.

A valuable relic of the historic old frigate Constitution has been dug from the river bed of the Delaware by the crew of a clam dredger off New Castle, Del. It is a china water urn presented to the famous old fighting ship of the American navy by the city of Philadelphia in 1797 and long ago lost and forgotten. How the urn came to be at the bottom of the river is a mystery. On one side of the receptacle is the coat of arms of the state of Pennsylvania, while on the other side is the inscription, "Presented by the City of Philadelphia to the Constitution—1797."—Philadelphia Press.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. H. Stockland, pastor of the First M. E. church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1906

It is all over now except counting the votes on election day and swearing in the officers.

Everybody may not be exactly satisfied, but it goes without saying that the majority got who they wanted.

The campaign for governor in Georgia has grown so warm that the candidates have gone to suing each other.

Yes, there is a sentiment against lynching. But it is to be observed that lynching goes right on whenever a mob takes the notion.

Just suppose you could get up as much enthusiasm for good roads as was manifested for candidates in the nominating convention Wednesday.

A candidate certainly ought to appreciate the way folks howl and hurrah for them in nominating conventions. But it is so soon forgotten.

The Reflector will be open at all times for the announcement of candidates (at the usual rates) for two years hence. Don't all speak at once but be in time.

While recommending jury reforms and other improvements about courts to the attention of the next legislature, it is not out of order to suggest that there should be some remedy for judges being out of place and not beginning a term of court at the proper time.

Editor W. C. Dowd, of the Charlotte News, and Editor W. K. Jacobson, of the Washington Progress, have been nominated for the legislature by their respective counties. Mr. Dowd is a candidate for Speaker of the House and stands a good chance for success. The House could not have a more able speaker.

Speeches of acceptance did not get to a hearing Wednesday. Of course those who failed to get nominations never brought theirs to light, and even the nominees were cut off by the convention adjourning after completing its warm work. In fact, it was not a speech making convention any way, not one in the entire proceedings consuming as much as five minutes time. Finally it was warm and noisy a plenty.

The demands of the labor unions are reaching the ludicrous point. Down in New Orleans is a news carriers union that is undertaking to set the hour at which afternoon newspapers shall be published and to regulate the number of pages such papers contain. First thing you know they will be wanting to say how many chews of tobacco the proprietor may take a day.

ADDRESS TO COTTON FARMERS.

President Moore Urges Active Work and a Correct Report of Crop Condition.

To the Editor: In the forty-eight counties in North Carolina organized into the Southern Cotton Association, there was an executive committee of five good men elected and to them I look for the success or failure of the organization in their respective counties. If this committee are alive and alert to the interest of the cotton grower then the organization in their county is a success.

This committee was instructed to have a statistical committee in each township to make monthly condition reports on the growing crop and on bales of cotton in the hands of the growers.

It is the greatest importance that we have an honest, truthful report from every township in the State by the first day of September. This report should give the crop condition up to August 25th, also amount of old cotton in hands of farmers and merchants.

This is a matter that every North Carolinian is deeply interested in and I beg the help of every individual in my effort to secure the exact facts.

The city, town and county merchant can be of great assistance to me if he will look after the statistical committee of his township and urge them and assist them to get up this report and send to secretary T. B. Parker, Raleigh, N. C., by the first of September.

Early in September the several State Presidents will meet at Hot Springs, Ark., for the purpose of finding the true cotton and its value to the consuming world. Representing the interests of North Carolina, I wish to go to this meeting of the Southern Cotton Association, with a full understanding of the true conditions as seen by those most interested in the price we are to receive for our crop.

There is no time to be lost. Every township should hold a meeting on August 24th or 25th, every farmer, merchant, mechanic, doctor, preacher and lawyer is interested in the price of cotton, and every one should attend this meeting of his township division.

Let the person who is interested in this matter at once advertise for a full meeting for his township. Remember that "what is everybody's business is nobody's business." Therefore, reader, it is "up to you" to get busy right now.

The press of North Carolina has been exceedingly kind to me and has given me much assistance in my work, therefore, I do not hesitate to ask the papers published in the cotton counties to do me the kindness to reproduce this call for a general consultation of a matter that is of such great importance to our State,

C. C. MOORE,
Pres. N. C. Division Cotton Assn.

THE TICKET.

That was a good day's work done by the county convention Wednesday. An excellent ticket was nominated, and it is one every Democrat in the county can support. The ticket is as follows:

- For the senate, J. L. Fleming,
- For representatives, J. J. Laughinghouse and S. M. Jones.
- For Superior court clerk, D. C. Moore.
- For sheriff, L. W. Tucker.
- For treasurer, S. T. White,
- For register of deeds, R. Williams.
- For coroner, C. O'H. Laughinghouse.
- For surveyor, Robt. Jenkins.
- For commissioners, J. Z. Brooks, N. T. Cox, D. J. Holland, R. W. King, and M. T. Spier.

The ceremonial of the Chinese court, which used to include complete prostration before the throne, was once the occasion for a display of cool audacity. In the eighteenth century a Persian envoy refused to go through the degrading ordeal, and directions were given to the officials to compel him by stratagem to do so. On arriving one day at the entrance to the hall of audience the envoy found no means of going in except by a wicket, which would compel him to stoop very low. With great presence of mind and considerable audacity the ambassador turned around and entered backward, and thus, according to his own conception of etiquette, saved the dignity of his country from outrage.

Private Drury.

M. Drury, an eminent French historian, served when sixty years old during the siege of Paris as a private in the national guard. One day M. Jules Simon, a member of the administration, caught sight of a familiar face belonging to one doing sentry in the uniform of a private soldier. "Is that you, Drury?" he cried.

"To be sure," gruffly.

"And a private!"

"Why not?" said the other laconically. "We can't all be prime ministers."

It Made All the Difference.

An excited individual ran up to a porter at a railway station and asked, "Have you seen a parcel I left on this seat?" The porter replied that he had not. "Oh, what shall I do?" exclaimed the excited passenger. "It contains three poems I have written!" "Can't you write them again?" asked the unsympathetic porter. "Yes, I can do that, but," hesitatingly, "there were two sandwiches in the parcel as well."—Christian World.

Lack of Space.

There are some trials which beset one at an early age. Bobby, visiting his grandmother, suffered one of them.

"Did you have a good time?" asked Bobby's mother. The small son hesitated before he answered.

"Not so very," he said sadly. "You see, grandmother kept telling me to eat all the dinner I wanted, and I couldn't!"

HENRY HARDING, AGENT

"Medical science has not yet penetrated the secret of spotted fever," said Dr. W. W. King, passed assistant surgeon in the public health and marine hospital service.

Dr. King has just returned from a several months' study of the disease in the Bitter Root valley of Montana.

"There are many baffling characteristics about spotted fever," said he. "In the first place, the disease is only known in a few valleys in the west. It is exceedingly dangerous, but not even prevalent where it occurs. For instance, in the Bitter Root valley there were ten cases this year, with eight deaths.

"A peculiarity of the disease is that it appears only on the east side of the Bitter Root valley. People on the west slope have never been affected.

"Many theories have been advanced regarding the transmission of spotted fever, none of which has been proved. For instance, some of the people maintain that the wood tick spreads the disease in the same manner as the mosquito does yellow fever. Others believe that it is caused by drinking water contaminated by the refuse of sawmills."—Washington Post.

The Big Locks at the Soo.

The greatest attraction at Sault Ste. Marie is the locks which raise the vessels from the level of Lake Huron to that of Lake Superior. Fifty years ago the first lock was opened. It was a small affair compared with the present canals. On the American side two locks are in operation. The larger of these is 800 feet long, 100 feet wide, deep enough to permit the passage of vessels drawing twenty-one feet of water and big enough to permit four large vessels to pass through at once. On the Canadian side there is also a lock, greater in length, but of less width, and of sufficient dimensions to allow three vessels to be raised or lowered at once. All the shipping from the upper to the lower lakes must go through these three locks. The commerce passing through these canals is by far the greatest in the world. In 1904 the Suez canal passed approximately 12,000,000 tons of shipping. In the same year the canals at Sault Ste. Marie carried 31,546,106 tons. Yet all the business in the "Soo" must be done in seven months, while the Suez canal is in operation all the year round.—Four Track News.

A Valuable Invention.

A poor man went about in Nebraska looking for work. He obtained a job in a village sawing wood. The sawyer interested his employer and finally confessed the reason of his poverty. He was an inventor and had spent his substance on a device to keep horses off barbed wire fences. The idea seemed promising to the Nebraskan, and he finally paid $2,000 for the right to sell the device in his state. The sample was sent later. It was a signboard to be hung on the fence and read as follows:

NOTICE TO HORSES.
Dangerous—Keep Away!

With the signboard came a pair of spectacles for the use of nearsighted horses.

Scarcity of Hickory Wood.

Hickory, one of if not the most valuable of our native woods, has become so scarce that many substitutes have of necessity been found for it. The wonderful increase in the demand for buggies and carriages of the finer class had much to do with the virtual exhaustion of the great American hickory forests. England, Germany, China, Australia, South Africa and the South American countries made strong requisitions on the American supply. Years ago the supply of this fine wood north of the Ohio river had been exhausted. Despite substitutes and changed conditions, hickory remains one of the most valuable of American woods.—Baltimore Herald.

Cure For Corns.

One teaspoonful of tar, one teaspoonful of coarse brown sugar and one teaspoonful of saltpeter, the whole to be mixed together. Spread it on bits of flannel the size of the corn, and in two days they will be drawn out.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Directions For Making Dill or Dutch Pickles.

Take a big stone jar that will hold at least four gallons, or a keg without a head. Select cucumbers from six to eight inches in length, wash and wipe carefully so as not to bruise. Add two pounds coarse salt to three gallons of water, boil and skim, replacing the water that evaporates so as to keep the same quantity. Put a layer of cucumbers in the bottom of the jar, with one small African red pepper, a bunch of dill seed in stalk and a layer of green grape leaves to cover. Proceed in this way until the vessel is filled. Then cover with a layer of cabbage leaves. On the very top put a good, big flat stone. Pour in the hot salt and water and let the vessel stand while a quiet fermentation takes place. In two or three weeks the cucumbers are done and should be transparent like amber, with a subacid flavor.

The Kitchen Sink.

Whether a kitchen sink be iron, enamel or stone it should stand on four legs with all its drainpipes exposed to full view. A very clever physician once said, "If I am called in to a case of diphtheria the first thing I look at is the kitchen sink." The danger arising from a badly kept sink cannot be exaggerated, nor can any degree of care in avoiding it be considered extreme. The waste pipe from a kitchen sink should have boiled water and ammonia or washing soda poured down it each day. At least once a week it should be treated to a dose of some good disinfectant, such as chloride of lime.

Apple Chutney.

Put into the preserving kettle one quart of vinegar, one cup of seeded raisins, two green peppers and two onions minced fine, rejecting the seeds of the peppers. Two cups of brown sugar and two tablespoonfuls each of mustard seed, ground ginger and salt should then be added. Simmer two hours, then add sixteen tart green apples peeled and chopped and cook gently another hour. Put into small bottles and seal.

A New Window Screen.

It is said that a fly never walks downward. Acting on this hint, a clever housekeeper has devised a window screen designed to conduct all the flies out of doors. The screen is divided in two halves and the upper laps over the lower with an inch space between. A fly lights on the screen and travels upward till he walks outdoors. Not being able to walk down, he has no way of re-entering the room.

Callouses on the Feet.

Put a good handful of dry mustard into your foot tub and dissolve in cold water, then put in hot water until it is hot as the feet can bear it. Keep the feet in until the water becomes quite cool, then the hard part of callous can be pared off little by little, taking off a little more after every bath until it is all gone. If it ever reappears take more foot-baths, and it will soon disappear again.

To Toughen Glass.

When you buy new tumblers, wineglasses, decanters, etc., you should never use them until you have "toughened" them as follows: Place the tumblers, etc., in a large pan, pack them round with hay and then fill with cold water. Put the pan on the fire and bring it slowly to the boiling point; then remove from the fire and stand aside until cold.

The Sewing Machine.

A new mangle brush to clean a sewing machine is very satisfactory. Lifting the head, insert the brush into every crevice and crack, paying particular attention to the region beneath the needle bar. All this, of course, before oiling it. Then wash the brush and put it in the sewing machine drawer for future use.

Fireproofing Cloth.

To render cloth fireproof the following process has been used by a French chemist: Saturate the textiles in a solution composed of chloride of ammonium, 8 parts; sodium hyposulphate, 2.25 parts; sulphate of ammonium, 10 parts; borax, 4.5 parts; water, 75.25 parts. Hang up to dry without wringing.

CONDENSED STORIES.

A Story That Made Senator John Sherman Laugh.

The late Senator John Sherman, whenever he went to New York city, nearly always consented to see and submit to an interview with Homer Fort, a journalist who knew more public men by sight and interviewed more prominent people perhaps than George Alfred Townsend. Mr. Sherman's friendliness for Mr. Fort began in an amusing way. The latter sent his card to the ex-secretary of the treasury, who was at the Fifth Avenue hotel. He was invited to the senator's room and found the Ohio statesman in a gloomy, reticent mood. After some preliminary interrogatories that resulted in negative replies the newspaper writer told a few jokes to his apparently cold listener. This is the one that caused the senator to laugh and melt sufficiently to give a long and important interview.

"AH, WERE YOU AT ZE FUNERAL?"

An Anglo-Saxon citizen in New Orleans attended the funeral of a Frenchman's wife. Several days afterward, meeting the bereaved husband on Canal street, the latter asked, with Gallic jauntiness, "Ah, were you at ze funeral?" The American said yes.

"How you t'ink I did?"
"Oh, splendidly! You appeared to be fond of your wife, as it took four men to hold you and control your grief and active emotion."

"You were only at ze house, eh? You should have gone to ze ceme-taire, for there I raise ze Cain—it take ten men to hold me!"—Leslie's Weekly.

Mr. Whyte and Mr. Gorman.

In the summer of 1871 Mr. Whyte, the new senator from Maryland, then senator and Democratic state leader, was seated in his law office in Lexington street, between Courtland and Calvert. A slender young man, slightly above medium height, with a pale, intellectual face, long, straight black hair and large, keen blue eyes, entered the room where the senator and party leader was examining a law report and, with a winning smile and putting out his hand, said:

"Senator Whyte, I have come in to say that I am favorable to your nomination for governor. I am Arthur Gorman of Howard county."

Although he had heard of him as a rising young Democrat, it was Mr. Whyte's first meeting with the late Senator Gorman.

When the legislature of 1872 convened the county leaders went to Governor Whyte, who had just been inaugurated, for advice as to the election of the speaker of the house of delegates. With characteristic decision and discernment the governor said:

"Why, you have just the man for the place."

"Who?" the then "state crowd" asked in chorus.

"Young Gorman of Howard," answered Governor Whyte, whose word was law, and Mr. Gorman became the speaker.—Baltimore Sun.

MR. J. R. SUGG DEAD

Ayden, N. C., Aug. 16.—Mr. J. E. Sugg, aged 48 years and the only son of Mr. Reuben Sugg, died this morning at his home near Ayden of paralysis of the brain, after an illness of only a few hours. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Mr. Sugg was one of Contentnea's best citizens. He was a member of Ayden Lodge I. O. O. F., and will be buried by that order Friday afternoon in the cemetery near his late home.

SERIAL STORY.

The Reflector has complied with the request of some of its readers and is going to give them a serial story. This story which will begin next Monday will appear in both the daily and semi-weekly editions of the paper. Of course it costs us money to give our readers such a story, but if they want it and appreciate it we will make such stories a feature of the paper hereafter. If you enjoy the story let us know it. Also tell your neighbors about it and ask them to become subscribers to The Reflector. We will keep a few extra copies of the paper containing the story so those who subscribe after it begins can get all of it. Now help us out.

New Ice Firm.

All ice will now come from the ice factory. Prices as follows: 50 cents for 100 pounds by retail, 35 cents for 100 pounds by block delivered in town. You can purchase tickets from factory, at Shelburn's or from the wagon. Either cash or ticket on delivery of ice. Delivery from wagon will be made twice each day in week and once Sunday. You can get ice from factory at any hour.

We have purchased Mr. J. J. Jenkin's ice business and will fill all his outstanding tickets.

Have The Foundation Right.

The Corset is The Foundation

Upon which all women should build their appearance. Those who desire to make the best appearance possible are most careful in selecting their corset, realizing that the best results can be attained only when the corset is right, right in fit---right in shape. The gown may be handsome and stylish in itself, but it will never show to best advantage over an ill-fitting, poorly constructed corset.

OUR CORSET DEPARTMENT

Comes to your aid just at this point by offering you a large variety of styles and makes, the kinds that have been tried and found satisfactory, and the selection is so great you may easily choose the right shape, the one best suited to your needs, the one that will insure comfort and a stylish figure combined. We would like to show you the new "Invisible Lacing," and explain the many advantages it possesses over other kinds. Our corset department is very popular--there's a reason--Let us show you.
