CAPTIVE STOMACHS FOR ALCOHOL TESTS.

Government Chemist Intends to Fill Men With Strong Drink.

If congress will consent to it, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture, will inaugurate a series of experiments to determine the effect of alcohol on the human stomach.

Of course, nearly everybody has an idea that intemperate use of strong drink is followed by what is technically known as "the big head," while continued use of it produces what is known as "snaks." But Dr. Wiley wants the hard, scientific facts, and Dr. Wiley wants live things for his experiments.

It has become known that Dr. Wiley, will be permitted to get a dozen or so human stomachs in captivity and fill them with all forms of alcohol, from the real goods in the rough, grading up from hard cider and beer to straight whiskey, then to the highball and then the cocktail, and from that delicious concoction to the finest "mixed" drink.

Whispers have been heard that another poison squad was about to begin doing business in Dr. Wiley's laboratory. Dr. Wiley confirmed the report today.

"It is true," he said, "This time we shall use food products containing saltpeter."

He then explained the saltpeter squad will be on trial for about four weeks. For the first two weeks they will be fed the purest food, and in the last two weeks they will get the saltpeter. —Ex.

The Best Christmas Present for a Little Money.

When your Christmas present is a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion you give as much in good reading as would twenty 400-page novels or books of history or travel or biography ordinarily costing $1.50 a volume. Nor do you give quantity at the cost of quality. For more than half a century the wisest, most renowned, most entertaining of writers have been contributors to The Companion. You need never fear that The Companion will be inappropriate or unwelcome. The boy, the girl, —every other member of the family, — will insist upon a share in it. There is no other present costing so little that goes so far.

On receipt of $1.75, the yearly subscription price, the publishers send to the new subscriber The Companion's four leaf hanging calendar for 1907, lithographed in twelve colors and gold, and subscription certificate for the fifty two issues of the year's volume.

Full illustrated announcements of The Companion for 1907 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address free.

Subscribers who get new subscriptions will receive $16,290.00 in cash and many other special awards. Send for information.

THE WASHINGTON HOSPITAL.

Our Neighbor Town Has Cause to be Proud of Such an Institution.

We spent part of a day in Washington recently, our first visit to that town in a number of years. The progress the town has made is almost marvelous. The business section of Main street has been nicely paved and beautiful brick stores have taken the place of the frame buildings that stood there for so many years, very few of the ante bellum relics being now in evidence.

While it was pleasant to note these changes, what impressed us most was the splendid hospital the town has, the institution in charge of Drs. D. T. and Joshua Taylor, two of the best physicians to be found in the East. We were shown through the institution by Dr. Joshua Taylor, and while much had been heard of it we were not prepared for such a revelation.

The building is an elegant one of two stories and basement, large enough to care for thirty patients at one time. It is heated throughout by steam and fitted for both gas and electric lighting. The wards, halls, office, reception and operating rooms are appropriately furnished; the equipment of surgical instruments and medical appliances is the very best science and skill have produced. There are fourteen trained nurses connected with the hospital, not all engaged at the same time in attending the patients, but a reserve force kept to be sent out on call where their services are needed in nursing the sick. Its patronage extends over many counties.

After going through the hospital we were not surprised that it has grown so rapidly in popular favor. It is a credit to the physician and attendants in charge as well as to the town of Washington. We long for the time to come when Greenville can have such an institution.

FRISCO EARTHQUAKE

Reproduced Friday Night by Pierce's Moving Picture Co.

By special request of the Opera House Management and other citizens, Mr. Pierce of the Pierce Moving Picture Co., will reproduce the San Francisco horror at the opera house next Friday night. They reproduce the scenes in Frisco just as they happened, showing buildings falling and on fire, soldiers on guard, ghouls robbing the dead, their capture and final execution by the enraged boys in blue. How Frisco looked after the horrible disaster—burying the dead—how the people lived for many days after the quake, cooking in the streets. How the brave fire-fighters tried to save the buildings on fire and were handicapped by the water mains bursting.

The Red Cross on its God-sent errand of mercy, relieving the poor and terror-stricken inhabitants. All these and hundreds of other scenes will be shown. This is merely an added feature and only are of the many sensational comedy and historical pictures that will be reproduced.

WOMEN FAVOR A REFORMATORY

King's Daughters of North Carolina Issue an Appeal to Men.

The following appeal has been issued by the reformatory committee of the King's Daughters in this state:

To the Men of North Carolina:

The King's Daughters of North Carolina, at their last state convention, elected a committee to petition the men of the state to establish a reformatory for boys. We ask your careful consideration and indorsement of the plea which we make to you. There are more than one hundred reformatories in this country, all working successfully. The foremost states in this work are California, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Virginia. Why is not North Carolina on this list? Her boys are as well worth saving as others, her men and women as philanthropic, and yet her criminal children are either hardened in their crimes, by association with those more vicious than ourselves or have to be sent to other states for reformation; that there may be no doubt of the duty and expediency of having a reform school in this state, we mention the following statistics:

The majority of states declare that they save 75 per cent. of delinquents in their reformatories. The percentage is much larger in the case of youthful than adult offenders. In some cases 90 per cent. and more of the youthful criminals are reclaimed. In Nashville, Tenn., a citizen in the presence of the reform school stated that of the 1,300 inmates only 11 had been known to return to criminal life. From the house of refuge, Cincinnati, we learn that the number of good reports received from boys after leaving the institution is 91 per cent. From Brooklyn we are told that 83 per cent. of juvenile criminals are reclaimed, and only 10 per cent. of adults. There can be no doubt, then, of our duty to educate, morally and mentally, our juvenile offenders. As a matter of economy money is saved to the state by doing so. A boy is clothed, fed, taught and reclaimed in a reform school at a cost of $100 a year. A sheriff is paid annually $100 for feeding him only.

If the wealth of a state depends upon its producers, we increase that class by saving the boys and converting them into workingmen, and in like manner diminish the number of consumers to be fed and guarded the jails.

Come to our aid then and save the boys, by urging that the legislature establish a reformatory for them.

The recent rains have done still further damage to cotton. Farmers coming in say that seed are sprouting in the burr.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C., Oct. 23, 1906.

J. W. Moore has been down this way again.

C. R. Williams and James Jones went to Greenville yesterday.

E. L. Coward left Monday to make his home in Florida among the orange groves and palms.

William Manning and family went to Hanrahan Monday to attend the funeral of a little grandchild, daughter of Wyatt Manning of that place.

Mrs. W. J. Hemby and children are away on a visit to friends and relatives.

The Raleigh crowd have returned and of course report big things.

C. L. Cannon has gone to Greensboro to take a special course in pharmacy.

Miss Mamie Dawson came up from Grifton yesterday to visit friends here.

C. S. Carr, of Greenville, spent from Saturday until Monday with Dr. L. C. Skinner.

Col. Skinner in opening his address here Saturday asked those present if the speech of Dockery wasn't better than that of Senator Overman, the Saturday previous. One lone, long, sonorous "voice way out responded loudly, "No-o-o-o." There was a silence, calm and deep, then the colonel proceeded.

According to previous appointment the Republican county candidates, accompanied by Claudius Dockery and Col. Harry Skinner, were here Saturday and addressed our people. There was a large crowd present, many being here from and around Greenville, Farmville, and even so far off as Carolina and Pactolus townships to fill up the band wagon. After usual announcement by the county candidates, Dockery and Skinner made speeches. Their talks were somewhat of an improvement on the old style of the radical addresses, being clean and devoid to a great extent of slang and utter contempt of any and everything not of their calling. No new converts so far as we can learn were made and old Contentnea will as of old render a Democratic majority that will swell that throughout the county so as to convince these worthy sons of seeking propensities that this is a Democratic county and will so ever remain. The crowd was orderly and the occasion passed off quietly and peacefully.

The News and Observer and Us are specially attached one to the other by several kindred ties, and we don't believe they would do us dirt, but really we think they might have given Ayden correspondent credit for his copy instead of Reflector. We deem it an honor to have anything of ours copied by the great News and Observer. We live in Ayden and would like for Ayden to have some benefit too.

Prof McArthur informs us he is very much pleased with our graded school, the faculty and the pupils. He is unusually complimentary to the students, not only for proficiency in study,

NOT SO MANY.

But Some Brave the Weather and Travel.

R. L. Smith went to Norfolk today.

W. H. White went to Norfolk today.

M. J. P. Williams went to Elm City today.

W. J. Cowell has returned from a visit to Washington.

Mrs. J. S. Turstall left this morning for a visit to Wilson.

Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb returned Monday evening from Raleigh.

OPERA HOUSE, OCT. 29.

It is Rare That the People Have the Opportunity to Get as Much and do as Much With 50c.

The ladies will give a first class entertainment at the opera house Monday night, 29th.

The "Reveries of a Bachelor" will be rendered by talented impersonators. "Under the Mistletoe" will form an attractive feature of the evening. "The Holy City" will be dramatized and sung by sweet singers.

Delightful music, vocal and instrumental. An evening full of healthful pleasure and high ideals.

The net proceeds to be used on helping pay for a pipe organ for the new Methodist church.

Think of it, you get more than 50 cents worth of pleasure at once, and then your money helps make beautiful, soul stirring music for years to come. Surely the Greenville people will pack the opera house to overflowing on this occasion.

ON FALLING PILE DRIVER.

Man Jumps 25 Feet to Save His Life.

On Monday afternoon Mr. Charlie Fleming, of Alabama, who is at work here with Mr. E. A. Kline, the bridge contractor for the Raleigh & Pamlico Sound railroad, had a narrow escape from death. A pile driver was being used at the mill run, near town, and something got wrong with it. Mr. Fleming climbed up the driver to remedy the trouble, and while he was at the top of the machine the guide ropes pulled loose and it fell over. Seeing his danger, men on the ground called to Mr. Fleming to jump in order to save his life. As the machine was coming down he jumped from a height of about 25 feet and fell among some logs. At first he was thought to be dangerously injured, but it has developed that no bones are broken and he is only shocked from the fall. It is almost miraculous that he escaped alive.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will meet with Miss Lena King tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members are earnestly requested to be present as business demanding their immediate attention will be transacted.

The moon would shine if it had a chance.

but a disposition shown by them for promptness and punctuality is very gratifying to him. There were only 13 tardies during the whole of last month. New heaters have been placed in the various departments and every means taken for the comfort of both teacher and pupil during the winter. We believe Ayden has the right man in the right place this year.

The ordinary perfumes of every-day life have a distinct use in the destruction of microbes, and this is especially the case with some of the essential oils which are used in cooking and in medicine. Cinnamon, which is so universally used for flavoring, will kill some microbes within a quarter of an hour, and it has long been reputed as advantageous in the destruction of the bacillus of typhoid while still out of the body. It is a very different thing from the bacillus when it is inside our system. Cloves, too, can destroy some specimens of bacteria in rather more than half an hour, and the common wild verbena has a similar action in about three-quarters of an hour, while geranium flowers have a similar action, though it takes rather longer to develop it.

The Lobster an Idiot.

The best naturalists remain timorous enough and hesitate to dogmatize. Take the case of the lobster. Poke him here, he does this; poke him there, he does that; poke a thousand of him in the same way, and they do the same things. Shall we therefore conclude that the lobster lacks mentality, that he's a mere machine and that he doesn't even know he's a lobster? By no means. All we can affirm with scientific justice is that apparently—and only apparently—he's an idiot. The way to know for sure—is to be a lobster!—Boston Transcript.

A Mystery Solved.

A Thoughtful Officer.
Some years ago a battery of artillery was at gun practice at Bermuda. One of the guns, a thirty-eight ton, was found to have a serious flaw. The officer in charge, not caring to risk half a dozen valuable lives, inquired, "Sergeant, have we any time expired men here?" "Yes, sir," answered the sergeant. "John Jackson has just completed his time." "Well, then," replied the thoughtful officer, "John Jackson will fire the gun." And John Jackson did fire the gun, happily with no fatal result.

"Well?"
"My dear sir, I welcome criticism, but I cannot endure such ignorant abuse."—Washington Star.

TUESDAY, OCT. 23, 1906.

May the fairs pick a week of better weather next time.

The very commonness of the character of some people crops out in their utterances.

What odds does it make to put a fine on the Standard Oil Company? They would pay it and never miss the money.

There are lots of folks on the outside poking fun at Hearst, while if they lived in New York they would vote for him.

No Democrat will do his duty who stays at home and fails to vote on the coming election day. The Republicans are going to have their full strength out, and Democrats should be equally diligent.

The schools within her borders are Pitt county's pride, and the man who raises his voice against them for political purposes would rob the children of their rights if he could gain personal preferment thereby.

Instead of nearing a settlement, it looks like the strike among the machinists of the Southern railway will reach larger proportions. It is about to draw in union laborers in other branches of the railroad service.

The Republicans may try to gain sympathy by claiming that the Democrats are accusing them of lying, but such accusations are not without foundation. Some of them continue to misrepresent matters about which the facts have been given them.

The practical joker ought to be suppressed. In a store in St. Louis was a bargain sale attended by 2,000 women. A boy cried out "There's a $5 bill on the floor," and the women went to hunting for it, tumbling over each other so that several were seriously injured.

If you want to encourage moonshining and illegal traffic in whisky, you can do so by supporting the Republican ticket. The evidence grows stronger over the State that that party is a refuge for the lawless. Neither the days of '68 nor '98 would compare with what would exist now if the Republicans could again get control of North Carolina.

All the death traps are not in New York, but some of them are found even in the South. Recently a boarding house in Birmingham was destroyed by fire and ten of its guests were burned to death. The house was patronized chiefly by street railway employees.

Why should it take three warships to bring Secretaries Taft and Bacon and their wives and General Funston from Cuba? One would suppose that there was room enough on one of these big vessels for all of them. — Wilmington Messenger.

Oh, hush! Look what a big boat it took to carry Noah and his wife and his three sons and their wives.

The N. C. Division S. C. A. to Organize in Districts.

Raleigh, October 20—President C. C. Moore, of the North Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, held a conference today with members of the board of directors and determined for the next few months to devote their efforts to district rather than county organization. President Moore will go to central points in the North Carolina cotton belt and gather together the county officers in the adjacent counties for conference and carry on through them the work of education in the bringing of the rank and file of the cotton growers into the fullest possible co-operation in the work of the association. The first of these district meetings is to be held within the next week or two.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING AT AYDEN.

Large Crowd At Cox's.

A telephone message from Cox's store, on the line of Chocod and Swift Creek townships, where the Democratic county candidates spoke today, says a large crowd is present, numbering between 80 and 100. There is much enthusiasm, and Democracy in that part of the county is in fine shape. They will show a good vote on election day.

Preparing to Build.

C. S. Forbes has started work preparatory to building a handsome residence on the lot he recently purchased near the graded school.

Weather.

Cloudy tonight and Wednesday with occasional light showers.

The colder has come, but fair weather not yet.

There was much doing on the tobacco market today. The warehouses had heavy sales.

The weather runs the flies in doors much to the annoyance of folks. Cold weather will soon clear them out.

Thaddeus Stevens was once opposed in debate by Horace Maynard of Tennessee. Maynard was very tall and straight and had long black hair, which he wore well down over his coat collar, and which gave him somewhat the appearance of an Indian. It was even rumored that he had some aboriginal blood in his veins. Maynard prided himself on his scholarly attainments, and at the close of his address he quoted one or two Latin verses. Old Thad replied to Maynard's argument in his usual vigorous manner and then paused for a few seconds until he had secured the attention of the entire house. Turning to Maynard, who sat some distance behind him, he delivered this parting shot: "So much for the gentleman's English. As to his Choclaw, I do not profess to understand it."

Mr. Stockton's Chickens.

When Frank Stockton started out with his Rudder Grange experiences he undertook to keep chickens. One old motherly Plymouth Rock brought out a brood late in the fall, and Stockton gave her a good deal of his attention. He named each of the chicks after some literary friend, among the rest Mary Mapes Dodge. Mrs. Dodge was visiting the farm some time later, and, happening to think of her namesake, she said: "By the way, Frank, how does little Mary Mapes Dodge get along?" "The funny thing about little Mary Mapes Dodge," said he, "is that she turns out to be Thomas Bailey Aldrich. — Everybody's.

B. Kuppenheimer & Co., Chi.

We are now ready to show our patrons the finest line of Mens Suits we have ever had the privilege of offering our trade. The man who wants a Fall Suit that's different from the cut and dried styles that greet him at every turn will do well to come here and see what we have to offer.

Our Suits are Different.

They are made by skilled Tailors, the best in the trade. The fabrics are exclusive, and you'll not meet a dozen men dressed in the same style of a suit. If you want to get away from the common sort of seamy to wear Suits, come here for yours.

A Word to You About SCHOOL BOOKS

We carry the largest line of school books in this town. There is not a larger line of school books to be found in this section of the state.

School books and school supplies are our specialties. It is our main business, and we are therefore in the best position to supply your needs.

Don't be fooled by what you hear or read. Most anybody can buy a few books and school supplies and claim to be "Headquarters" but it takes your personal inspection to discover the ruse.

Come in and compare our line with anything else to be found in Greenville in this line, and see how matters stand.

We have just received a shipment of miscellaneous books, novels, choice books in dainty findings, nicely bound editions of the poets etc.

Watermans Ideal Fountain Pen

PULLEY & BOWEN

A GLIMPSE OF SPAIN.

The Manner of a Wedding Dance in the Province.

The wedding dance was being held in a long, narrow building near a fountain, and we entered on a smooth earthen floor. Seats were arranged about the sides of the white-washed room, and the low rafters were draped and festooned with fancy wall paper with gold scrolls in it. The music was furnished by a piano organ at one end of the long room, turned in rotation by a number of small boys in their clean blue blouses and brown corduroy breeches, who felt their importance, and at the other end of the room a table was spread with cakes and bread and a wine concoction very sweet and pleasant, but seductive. The women, some bringing their babies, were a pleasant set, but not beautiful, although a few, with their large dark eyes, came very near to it. They did not wear the gay costumes of my imagination, but their dresses showed great care and conscientious patching. A gay handkerchief was often folded around the neck and across the breast, and large earrings and big breastpins were the vogue even among the young women. The men wore broad brimmed black felt hats and clean blue blouses, corduroy trousers, either light tan or brown, and the long red or black sash belt called a "faja" wound many times about the waist, the folds serving as pockets for cigarettes, tobacco pouch and the villainous knife that every one carries.

The dances were "round," interspersed with a square dance, where four people comprised a set—a sort of fandango, with lots of stamping and attempts at lithe, serpentine motions, with the hands raised above the head. There was a very old man who danced with great gusto and amused the crowd of young people, who encouraged him with clapping of hands. — Edward Penfield in Scribner's.

Stones In Queer Places.

A round stone is found in the joints of certain kinds of bamboo. This is called "tabasheer" and is supposed to be deposited from the siliceous juices of the cane. Another curiosity of this sort is the "coconut stone," found in the endosperm of the coconut in Java and other East Indian islands. It is a pure carbonate of lime, and the form of the stone is sometimes round, sometimes pear shaped, while the appearance is that of a white pearl without much luster. Some of these stones are as large as cherries and as hard as feldspar or opal. They are very rarely found and are regarded as precious stones by the orientals and as charms against disease or evil spirits by the natives. Stones of this kind are also found in the pomegranate and in other East Indian fruits. Apatite has also been discovered in teak wood.

The Longest Days.

At Hamburg, Germany, the longest day occupies seventeen hours and the shortest seven. At Stockholm, in Sweden, the longest has eighteen and one-half hours and the shortest five and one-half. At St. Petersburg the longest has nineteen and the shortest five hours. In Finland the longest has twenty-one and one-half hours. In the northernmost parts of Norway the longest day lasts from May 21 to July 2, the sun not sinking below the horizon during this period, but skimming along very close to it in the north. At Spitzbergen the longest day lasts three and one-half months.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Concerning Kitchen Odors—How to Counteract Strong Smells.

A generous lump of soda placed in pots and pans in which fish, cabbage, onions and other strong smelling foods have been cooked will thoroughly cleanse and make them smell sweet and clean.

A teaspoonful of vinegar boiling on the stove will counteract the smell of strong food.

A few drops of sandalwood oil dropped on a hot shovel is a delightful deodorizer.

A sponge placed in a saucer of boiling hot water in which has been added a teaspoonful of oil of lavender gives a fragrance of violets to a room in which it is placed. Flies will not remain where the odor of oil of lavender is.

A stale crust of bread boiled with cabbage will absorb the disagreeable odor.
