

FIRST HEBREW IN THE CABINET.

Oscar Straus to Have a Portfolio.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The following statement regarding prospective changes in President Roosevelt's cabinet was made public tonight:

"October 23, 1906

"On the retirement of Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Moody from the cabinet the following changes will be made:

"Secretary of the Treasury: Hon. George B. Cortelyou.

"Postmaster General: Hon. George Von L. Meyer.

"Attorney General: Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.

"Secretary of the Navy: Hon. Victor H. Metcalf.

"Secretary of Commerce and Labor: Hon. Oscar S. Straus."

The appointment of Mr. Straus, caused considerable surprise as it will be the first case where a citizen of the Hebrew faith has been made a member of the president's cabinet. He was born December 3rd, 1850, and is well known as a merchant, diplomat and author. He represented the United States as minister to Turkey on two different occasions and was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy caused by the death of ex-President Harrison as a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

OPERA HOUSE, OCT. 30.

It is Rare That the People Have the Opportunity to Get as Much and do as Much With 50c.

The ladies will give a first class entertainment at the opera house Tuesday night, 30th.

The "Reveries of a Bachelor" will be rendered by talented impersonators. "Under the Mistletoe" will form an attractive feature of the evening. "The Holy City" will be dramatized and sung by sweet singers.

Delightful music, vocal and instrumental. An evening full of healthful pleasure and high ideals.

The net proceeds to be used on helping pay for a pipe organ for the new Methodist church.

Think of it, you get more than 50 cents worth of pleasure at once, and then your money helps make beautiful, soul stirring music for years to come. Surely the Greenville people will pack the opera house to overflowing on this occasion.

Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast "To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from ankrupcty, advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair, send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

Everybody was glad when they found the sun shinning this morning. Hope it will stay fair for awhile.

WILL BE A SEVERE WINTER.

All Signs Point to This Fact, Say the Weatherwise.

Persons who are wise in their knowledge of the weather that is to come predict that the coming winter will be a severe one, remarks the Richmond News-Leader, which adds that they are of the wishbone school of weather prophets, but it is possible that they may be right, for they base their predictions on signs which they say have never failed them in the past.

Then there are many signs that next winter, unlike last winter, will be unusually severe. In the first place, there are the thick-leaved bushes in all the parks and in the surrounding country. This is said to be nature's way of providing food for the birds, and a big crop of holly berries means a long and severe winter. This prediction is supported by the statement from the West that the cornhusks are much thicker this year than they have been for a long time, while news comes from the mountain section that there will be an enormous yield of acorns, beechnuts, chestnuts and other fruits of the forest upon which birds and beasts depend for food during the winter months.

Still another sign of a long and cruel winter is found in the activity of the barn mice. These little animals have already begun the work of building their nests and observers agree that they are making them this year unusually cozy and warm. Last year they seemed to give little attention to the building of their winter homes, but this year they are not only beginning to build them unusually early, but are giving remarkable attention and care to their construction. All of which signs points to a severe winter, and there are many people who place as much confidence in these homely predictions as they do in the reports of the weather bureau.

Cat's Bite Kills.

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 24.—The one year old child of Asa W. Lee, living at Dawson's Creek Pamlico county, died yesterday from a mad cat's bite. The little one was innocently playing with a pet cat and had been doing so for quite a long time, when the animal turned and scratched and bit furiously, showing every sign of rabies. Treatment was given the child, but the injuries were severe and disease spread rapidly, death ensuing in twenty-four hours.

Attack of Vertigo.

Mr. J. R. Davenport, a large merchant and farmer of Pactolus, had an attack of vertigo early Wednesday morning, and for awhile was quite sick. He is reported much better today.

Knights of Pythias meet tonight.

Two more days for registering.

The fair weather today was almost like stepping into another country.

THANKSGIVING DAY

November 29th the Date by Proclamation.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The President today issued a proclamation naming November 29th as a day of thanksgiving.

The text of the proclamation is as follows:

A Proclamation.

The time of year has come when, in accordance with the wise custom of our forefathers, it becomes my duty to set aside a special day of thanksgiving and praise to the Almighty because of the blessings we have received, and of prayer that these blessings may be continued. Yet another year of widespread well-being has past. Never before in our history or in the history of any other nation has a people enjoyed more abounding material prosperity than is ours, a prosperity so great that it should arouse in us no spirit of reckless pride, and least of all a spirit of heedless disregard of our responsibilities; but rather a sober sense of our many blessings, and a resolute purpose; under providence, not to forfeit them by any action of our own.

Material well-being, indispensable, though it can never be anything but the foundation of true national greatness and happiness. If we build nothing upon this foundation, then our national life will be as meaningless and empty as a house where only the foundation has been laid. Upon our material well-being must be built a superstructure of individual and national life lived in accordance with the laws of the highest morality, or else our prosperity itself will in the long run turn out a curse instead of a blessing. We should be both reverently thankful for what we have received, and earnestly bent upon turning it into a means of grace and not of destruction.

Accordingly I hereby set apart Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and supplication, on which the people shall meet in their homes or their churches devoutly acknowledge all that has been given them, and to pray that they may in addition receive the power to use those gifts aright.

In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed Done at the City of Washington this 22nd day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and six and of the independence of the Tihited States the one hundred and thirty-first.

THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION AND SOCIETY.

Brilliant Social Events Will Emphasize the Charm of the Great Celebration.

Norfolk, Va., Oct 24—The summer resort for the year 1907 will be the site and environment of the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition. Situated on the shore of Hampton Roads in direct view of the scene where the first fight between ironclads took place, that historic encounter between the Monitor and the Merrimac will give an interest to the location. A sweep of vision across Hampton Roads ends with the Hotel Chamberlain and Fortress Monroe, while a slightly oblique direction will terminate with Newport News. The intervening space of water is always occupied with ships of all countries, either in transit or at anchor, and this phase of nautical life will be enlivened to an unusual degree during the exposition by every variety of craft from the formidable battleship to the winsome yacht.

The enclosure within the grounds will be a charming admixture of park, boulevard, stately edifice, rustic retreat and military encampment. Here in this miniature world of the beautiful, social functions will find an idyllic resort and the tedium of life will find an ever present diversion.

There is not a seaside resort anywhere in the world that will be able to compare in attraction with the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition and its environment.

Sea food is plentifully obtained and this fact is unquestionably accepted when it is known that Lynnhaven Bay, with its famous oysters, is just around the point from the grounds. In addition to this sort of cheer to the inner man the markets, in close proximity are abundantly supplied with every variety of home and foreign product while the steady incoming of ships from foreign ports brings as part of their cargo, the refreshing wines of France, Germany, Italy and Spain.

As a driveway the grounds of the exposition will be unsurpassed. The splendid boulevard in course of construction from Norfolk will reach a becoming terminus on the grounds.

There are miles and miles of driveway, through street, avenue and boulevard, lined by a character of architecture that will bring the mind back to Colonial period of our history. Speeding along past these structures of a former age and a heroic time, Lee's parade will be reached, the largest military parade ground in the world.

All social aspirations will converge at the Jamestown exposition during its continuance. Modern society in the flower of three hundred years of life may trace its history and its growth back by means of the entertaining and instructive phases of life there on exhibition, and it will be one of the most solicitous cares of the management to provide every entertaining diversion which the culture of the country approves.

Good Crowds Out.

The county Democratic candidates spoke at Johnston Mills Wednesday, and at Winterville Wednesday night. About 150 people were out to hear them at Johnston's Mills and fully 250 at Winterville.

NOT SO MANY.

But Some Brave the Weather and Travel.

A F. Kennedy returned to Panacea Springs today.

Miss Jennie Congleton is home from Raleigh to visit her parents.

Mrs. W. W. Moore left this morning for Buffalo Springs, Va.

Mrs. E. B. Ficklen and Mrs. C. S. Carr returned Wednesday evening from a visit to Ayden

J. S. Keel and family left this morning for Scotland Neck to make their home in that town.

Miss Cora Tannill, of Greensboro, is visiting Mrs. B. W. Moseley.

Mrs. W. S. Brinkley and little daughter, of Savannah, who have been visiting Mrs. J. F. Brinkley, left this morning.

Mrs. Jane Savage, of Wilson, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Munford, returned home this morning.

Mrs. Nannie Hostetter has moved here from Kinston and will make her home with her sister, Mrs. R. W. King.

Sam Fleishman is all smiles this morning. A little daughter arrived at his house last night.

AUCTIONEERS SICK.

And the Well One Has an Over Dose of Chin Music.

"If this thing gets much worse it is going to kill Burton out," was a remark Auctioneer W. T. Burton made this morning as he leaned against the door of Parham's warehouse, "What's the trouble?" asked the reporter who was passing and heard the remark.

"Why the Auctioneers are all about to get sick and it looks like I'm going to have to run the whole market. I sold over a thousand piles on three floors yesterday, and there is no telling what I'm up against today. It's too much talk for Burton."

Mr. Burton is a good one all the same, and is hard to get ahead of when it comes to auctioneering tobacco.

A Nice Spread.

The editor helped to enjoy a spread right today down at the store of Baker & Hart, where the Majestic range exhibit is in progress. In addition to the hot coffee and biscuits, there were fried oysters and trimmings that made the feast very enjoyable. The Majestic takes the lead when it comes to good cooking.

Makes Another Good Sale.

John W. Hall, the colored tenant on Mr Wm McArthur's farm in Beaver Dam township, who recently made such a fine sale of tobacco at the Star warehouse, brought in another load Wednesday, and received a check amounting to $277.50 for it.

Mr. McArthur says John is an industrious tenant and makes good crops. Think what a colored man can do and the estimation he is held in when he tries to make something of himself.

THURSDAY, OCT. 25, 1906.

In a recent blind tiger raid at Durham a wealthy woman whose husband left her $50,000 was among the parties arrested. She must have been very anxious to get more money.

The West Central District Association of county superintendents of public schools adopted a resolution requesting State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner to hold his present position and not accept the presidency of the Normal and Industrial College which is likely to be tendered him.

Let us again remind any indifferent Democrats, if there are such in Pitt county, that it is their duty to go to the polls on election day and vote. The Republicans are omitting no effort to make their vote as large as possible, and Democrats cannot afford to stay at home that day.

The railway postal clerks are reported to be agitating the passage of legislation requiring the railroads to equip their lines with what they term accident-resisting cars. By this they mean a heavy steel car, similar to one which is in use on one or two railroads. This kind of a car they say, has been severely tested and not found wanting, and that its use were made compulsory the number of injuries to mail clerks would be greatly lessened. They say, too, that it frequently happens that enough valuable mail is destroyed in one wreck to pay for a thoroughly modern steel mail car. As to one thing the public in general will agree: the railway postal clerks are among the most faithful and efficient public servants, and are entitled to more adequate protection from death and injury than that at present afforded them. More than any other persons on the train they are at the mercy of accident. The engineer and fireman can often jump and thus escape danger. The postal clerks are not in a position either to see or to escape from danger, and the frail car which encases them affords no protection. —Charlotte Observer.

The President wired sympathy to Mrs. Hayes on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Jefferson Davis. That was all right, probably, and perhaps it is just as well to let bygones be bygones, but when one recalls the harsh and cruel and false things Mr. Theodore Roosevelt said about Mr. Jefferson Davis in one of his books; and when we recall further that Mr. Davis then alive, wrote Mr. Roosevelt a courteous note pointing out his error; and that Mr. Roosevelt responded by saying that "Mr. Theodore Roosevelt wished to have no communication with Jefferson Davis"—well, when we recall these things one can but wonder if it would not have been better for the President not to have sent any telegram of sympathy on the occasion of Mrs. Davis' death.

It is customary when youthful witnesses are put on the stand in court to ask them, by way of testing their capacity, if they know what will become of them if they tell a lie. If the witness answers that he will go to hell he is presumed to be a competent witness. This has been the custom in courts for generations, but Judge Ward, of the Superior Court bench, is supposed to call a halt on it. In Forsyth Superior Court a few days ago a small negro boy was put on the stand and Solicitor Graves asked him the usual question, as follows: "Boy, do you know where you will go when you die if you tell stories?" Before the witness had time to answer, Judge Ward dryly remarked: "Boy, you need not answer that question. Older people than you can't answer that question. There's lots of difference between thinking and knowing a thing, and this court doesn't want to hear a witness tell anything he does not know." Come to think of it, dodged if Judge Ward isn't about right. —Statesville Landmark.

REMARKABLE WORK OF GOOD GUNSMAN.

Press Agent Tells a Snake and Hawk Story Hard to Equal.

Regarding Mr. A. Topperwein who has been engaged to give an exhibition of fancy rifle shooting here, on the grounds of the Greensboro Gun Club, Tuesday, October 23 there is a story going around that is a credit to their press agent.

The story goes, that while the Winchester team of experts were giving their exhibition, before an audience of several hundred people, on the gun club grounds at a certain town, the attention of the crowd was called to the antics of a large hawk that had just captured a snake and was having considerable difficulty in flying away with it, owing to the snake's activity.

The hawk was making for a large dead tree and its course took it towards the shooting.

When about directly overhead Mr. Topperwein reached for his automatic rifle and shot off the toes of the hawk one by one, until it dropped the snake. Then with one well directed shot killed the hawk, and with the balance of the loads in the gun shot the head off the snake before it reached the ground, amid the deafening applause of the spectators. —Greensboro News.

A Word to You About SCHOOL BOOKS

We carry the largest line of school books in this town. There is not a larger line of school books to be found in this section of the State. School books and school supplies are our specialties. It is our main business, and we are therefore in the best position to supply our needs.

Don't be fooled by what you hear or read. Most anybody can buy a few books and school supplies and claim to be "Headquarters" but it takes your personal inspection to discover the ruse. Come in and compare our line with anything else to be found in Greenville in this line, and see how matters stand. We have just received a shipment of miscellaneous books, novels, choice books in dainty findings, nicely bound editions of the poets etc.

Majestic Baking Demonstration NOW GOING ON

We heartily invite our friends to call at our store any day during this week where we are demonstrating the superior qualities of the well known

New Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Ranges.

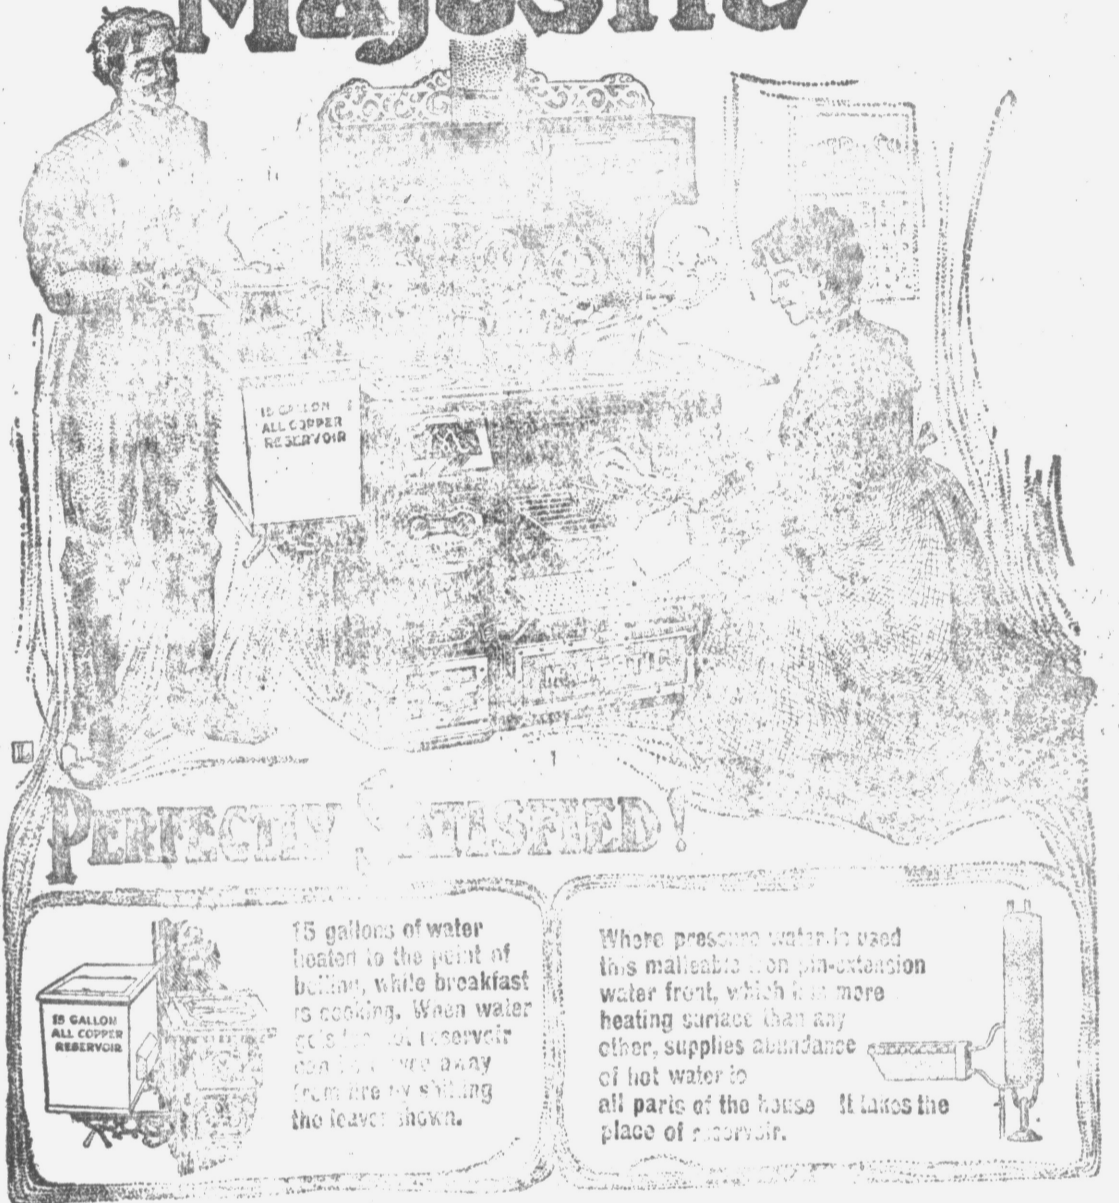

Majestic

The majestic Malleable and steel range as formerly turned out by the Majestic people has considered throughout the entire country par excellence, and far ahead of any other range made. But with the new Charcoal Iron body in place of Steel making it double its value, and the fact that it is the only range in existence made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron you can readily see that its quality is consideed, the Majestic leads by a big margin. WE WANT YOU TO CALL at our STORE this week, and let us explain this new feature;-- CHARCOAL IRON BODIES. Let us explain why it is the best material for range bodies, and incidentally, why it is not used on other ranges. We want you to call if you intend to buy or not, as the information gained will serve you in the future.

Malleable

Majestic

PERFECTLY TESTED!

15 gallons of water heated to the point of boiling, while breakfast is cooking. When water gets hot, reservoir can be moved away from fire by sliding the lever shown.

Where pressure water is used this malleable iron extension water front, which has more heating surface than any other, supplies abundance of hot water to all parts of the house. It takes the place of a boiler.

Hot Coffee and Biscuits Free.

Come any day during this week and have buttered hot biscuits and hot coffee. Biscuits baked on a Majestic in 3 minutes while you wait.

Handsome Set of Ware Free

While every range sold during this Demonstration we will give absolutely Free one set of Majestic ware worth every cent of $7.50. This ware is on exhibition at our store. Everything useful ornamental and durable. Come in and see it, and you will agree with us that it cannot be bought for a cent less than $7.50, and it is cheap at that.

The Scented Court.

"The scented court" was the name by which the court of Louis XV. was known throughout Europe, on account of the rage for perfumes which then prevailed in France. The expenditure of Mme. de Pompadour for this one branch of her toilet amounted to $100,000 annually. It became the fashion for the host or hostess of a great entertainment to signalize to their guests what particular perfume was to be employed for scenting their rooms on the night for which the invitations were issued, and they were expected to use no other, so that the delicate effect of a unity of odors might be produced. At court a different perfume was presented for each day of the week.

Hint to the Governor.
 Years ago, when John Wentworth was governor of New Hampshire, a man named Barr came down from Coos county laden with a tub of butter and a few yards of homespun cloth as a gift to the governor in exchange for an appointment as justice of the peace.

The governor received Mr. Barr kindly and inquired from how large a settlement he had come. "There is only one other man besides myself," said he, "and he is no more fit for the office than the devil."

The amused governor signed the necessary papers and waited some time for his caller to go, which he did not seem inclined to do. The governor finally inquired if there was anything else he could do for him, whereupon Mr. Barr said:

"If, when I get home, my neighbor should ask me what you gave me to drink, what shall I tell him?"—Boston Herald.

Bill Was Capable of It.
 Justice Brewer's joke about Secretary Taft's politeness in getting up and giving a seat to three ladies in a street car is the same old familiar jest that used to be applied to Phillips Brooks. The converse of it is the story of a man who arose when a stout lady entered the crowded car and politely proposed, "I will be one of two gentlemen to give the lady a seat."—Boston Globe.

Tracing the origin of the joke, it appears to be due to the memory of Bill Nye to say that, so far as appears, the famous American humorist was its father. As he told it, he was riding in a crowded London coach when a stout woman got on and remained standing. Bill arose and announced that he would be one of three gentlemen to give the lady a seat. The point of the joke, as Nye told it, was that none of the occupants of the coach had any remote hold on the name of the situation.—Boston Herald.

WHO IS EXEMPT FROM JURY?

Interesting Question is Settled by the North Carolina Supreme Court in Case of an Ex-Fireman.

A number of opinions were filed by the Supreme court yesterday of which that of most general interest was in the case of State vs. Cantwell, in which the rather vexed question of who is and who is not liable for jury duty is finally settled. The court holds that the recent acts of the Revisal control and that all persons except those who are excepted in section 1980 are liable for service when summoned.

The persons exempted in that section are practicing physicians, licensed druggists, telegraph operators who are in the regular employ of any telegraph company or railroad company, train dispatchers who have the actual handling of either freight or passenger trains, regularly licensed pilots, regular ministers of the gospel, officers or employes of a State hospital for the insane, or active members of a fire company.

The defendant was relying upon an old act exempting certain members of a fire company who had been active members for five years, he not being an active fireman at the time he was summoned to serve upon the jury.

A glance at the exceptions will relieve a popular impression as to the competency of lawyers as to jurors. Although they are not exempt from service, no lawyer would have one on the jury.
