NO. 2499.

CAN SHOOT FIREWORKS.

That Will Please the Boys.

The board of aldermen held an adjourned meeting Wednesday night, to consider some matters left over from the last regular meeting. One of these was the matter of granting a franchise to the Raleigh and Pamlico sound railroad to run a track across Dickinson avenue and Clark street so as to reach the Atlantic Coast Line track north of the Imperial factory. After some discussion the matter was again deferred to a later meeting.

The ordinance prohibiting the shooting of fireworks in town was ordered to be suspended for 36 hours at Christmas, between the hours of 6 p. m. December 24th and 6 a. m. December 26th.

There was much discussion and several motions regarding the hours of duty between the day and night police. This was settled by ordering the day police to be on duty from 6:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. and the night police from 9 p. m. to 6:30 a. m.

Sans Souci Club.

The Sans Souci Book club was delightfully entertained on the afternoon of Tuesday, the sixth of November, by Miss Janie Brown at her pleasant home.

The program was in the form of a debate as to the merits of the new spelling. Mrs. W. H. Dail took the favorable side and Miss Nell Skinner the opposing.

Delicious refreshments were served and the club adjourned to hold its next meeting with Mrs. C. S. Carr.

Another Cabinet Change.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Ethan Allen Hitchcock will retire from President Roosevelt's cabinet on the 4th of next March, and James R. Garfield, of Ohio, at present commissioner of corporations will succeed him. Herbert Knox Smith, now assistant commissioner of corporations will be appointed to Mr. Garfield's place. These changes and that of Commissioner Richards, of the general land office on March 4th, were announced from the White House today.

Preparing for Depot.

The site for the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound railroad depot, on Dickinson avenue, is being cleared off and put in readiness for work to commence on the buildings.

Coroner's Jury Blames Stewart for the Atlantic City Horror.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 7.—After a stormy scene, lasting several hours, the coroner's jury late tonight agreed to place the blame for the Thoroughfare wreck of Sunday, October 28, upon Daniel Stewart, the aged bridge tender. The jury disagreed on many points. According to the coroner, Stewart will be arrested on a charge of criminal negligence.

The Womans Missionary Society of the Baptist church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. D. Rountree.

One Use for a Grave.

William Gowdy, a nephew of John K. Gowdy, formerly consul general to Paris, is a candidate for county assessor in Rushville, Ind. Democratic leaders questioned his eligibility, charging that he had not been a free holder for four years, as required by law. Young Gowdy, however, proved that during the period named he had owned half a lot in the Rushville Cemetery, and Attorney General Miller has decided that the possession of this "six feet of earth" constitutes eligibility in the eye of the law. —Boston Transcript.

Taking Care.

The following from a letter by some writer to the Progressive Farmer is worth the attention of every farmer.

"I either shelter my tools or burn them. A thing not worth sheltering is not worth saving.

"My wagon hasn't stood out four nights in 10 years. I have harnessed my team for no other purpose than to draw the wagon into the barn.

"after thirty years of farming I have the same wagon I began with. The same with my horse-rake. It cost $41 thirty years ago, and still does good work. A new one can be bought for half the sum.

"I have never owned a reaper because I haven't room to shelter it.

"Besides keeping my buildings and contents insured every hour, I use the greatest care in regard to fire. A chimney or stove-pipe that isn't right is immediately seen to. No old stove-pipe in the kitchen greet for me.

My horses do lots of work, but are not banged up.

"I stop them often when drawing a load up hill."

Bargain in Printing Press.

The Reflector will sell a 6 column quarto Monona leverless, cylinder printing press, complete with some fixtures at a bargain. It is practically new, having been in use only about 18 months. Can be worked either by hand or power and is a good press for weekly paper, having speed of 800 per hour. It will print two 9 column pages or four 6 column pages. Reason for selling is speed is not fast enough for daily paper with circulation as large as Reflector now has. Any one interested can correspond with us.

SHOT BY SECRET ASSASSIN.

Mr. L. Banks Holt the Victim.

Graham, Nov. 6. Mr. L. Banks Holt was shot by an unknown person in his house at 9:15 o'clock tonight.

He was sitting in his bed room when the telephone rang. Mr. Holt went to the 'phone and called several times without any response. Then a shot rang out and when Mrs. Holt rushed into the hall she found Mr. Holt lying against the 'phone, his face streaming with blood. The hall was full of smoke. The alarm was given over the 'phone and soon the house was filled with an anxious crowd.

Just to the right of the 'phone is an open hall door, from behind which the shot was evidently fired, the assailant escaping through the side hall door.

There are foot marks on the freshly painted steps. The deed was evidently committed by one familiar with the house, who had secreted himself within. Suspicion is directed towards one, who is being traced. Mr. Holt is not regarded as being in a dangerous condition.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

Black Jack, N. C., Nov. 6, 1906.

Elder G. S. Johnston filled his regular appointment at Bear creek Sunday.

J. W. and Abram Dixon went to Winterville Sunday.

Harry Dunn and Miss Mollie Godley, of Chocowinity, were here yesterday.

G. S. Porter and others from here attended church at Salem Sunday.

Several of the people from here attended services at Massadonia Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lula V. Mills, of W. H. school, came home Friday and returned Sunday.

Miss Maud Manker left Friday to visit friends near Haddock's X Roads.

J. O. Johnston attended church at Bear Creek Sunday.

Miss Mary Midgett, of Pamlico county, came in Sunday to teach school here.

Mrs. G. S. Johnston spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. W. P. Buck.

Abram Dixon lost a fine young horse last week with blind staggers.

Charlie Mills, W. H. and Geo. Adams all went to Newbern last week.

W. A. Hudson is very ill with typhoid fever. We hope he will soon get better.

Teachers' Meeting.

The county Teachers' Association will meet here Saturday. There was such a fine attendance at the October meeting that we are sure every teacher in the county will want to be here Saturday. They get much benefit from the meetings of the association and even those who are not teachers will be well entertained if they attend.

Died.

Mrs. Fannie Edwards, wife of Mr. Alonzo Edwards, of Hookerton, died Wednesday.

Mrs. J. H. Mitchell and children, of Suffolk, came in Wednesday evening to visit Mrs. W. H. Johnson.

Miss Mattie Abram, of Rocky Mount, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. S. M. Schultz, returned home this morning accompanied by the latter.

How to be Great.

Here is a little clipping that we found in one of our exchanges a few days ago that we take pleasure in publishing for the benefit of some of our criticising friends:

"If you don't just like everything you see in your home paper, go around the streets and howl. The editor is never supposed to make a mistake and of course cannot do so. Other people can, but the editor is ubiquitous omniscient, 'omnipresent.' If you can't see a good point, don't fail to see a bad one. If a thousand pleasant things are said of people, hunt for something unpleasant. If you don't find it, howl some more; if you do, howl anyway. Never mind your own business; watch for something to find fault with in some other man's business—this will make you great."—Smithfield Herald.

One Way of Paring Off.

A number of years ago, at a small town in Maine, an important local election was to take place and there was strong rivalry between the Republicans and Democrats. Old Hiram Morse the blacksmith, was a strong Democrat, but many of the farmers were Republicans.

On the morning of the election a farmer came into have his horse shod. The blacksmith said to him: "We're both busy. You're a Republican and I'm a Democrat. Let's pair off. We'll neither of us vote, and it will amount to the same as if we both went to the polls."

This was agreed upon. After the election it was found out that Morse had paired off with five Republican farmers.—Boston Herald.

Card of Thanks.

I desire in this method to return my heartfelt gratitude to the brethren of the Odd Fellows, people generally and especially the ladies, for their many kindnesses shown me during my recent sickness. I shall always hold them in grateful remembrance. J. J. Cherry.

if So!

One who observes well often sees indications and suggestions that the "younger set," as the older people sometimes call them, are not altogether and uniformly courteous, which means that good manners are somewhat passing out. If this is true it is a pity; for nothing so commends one as good manners coupled with a good life. To be sure, some people whose lives are correct and whose characters are above reproach, have blunt and repelling manners. But even with these people it would be far better for all if good manners were coupled with the correct life and unsullied character. It is not always an intention to be blount and discourteous, but often-times the spirit of flippancy gets such hold upon the younger people they forget to lay it aside when older persons appear to speak. Fun and frolic and jollity are all well enough, and sometime frivolity is really good in its place; but nothing should ever be carried so far as to make it seem a sacrifice of good manners. —Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Far-Sighted.

Little Margeret is a far-sighted child and she always provides in her thoughts for the future. Recently her father went to Boston on business; at the evening prayer time her mother suggested that Margeret should add "keep papa safe in Boston."

To this Margeret exclaimed: Goodness! I did not know God was in Boston." Then, pondering she continued, "But I'll ask Him, for papa is very important, isn't he mama?"

"Oh, very, dear. If we did not have our papa, we would not have this pretty house and all our nice things."

"Does papa give us all these?" queried the little maid; "and without him would we have to give them up?"

"Yes, Margeret." "Goodness! I think it an awful thing to have only one papa in a family. I think there should be several, in case of accidents."

Neck Broken.

John Grant, Snow of Hill, was returning home from Kinston a few days ago when he fell off the cart on which he was riding and broke his neck.

Pickerts Gone.

The 4 Pickerts Company closed the engagement here Wednesday night and left this morning for Rocky Mount. The people of Greenville have greatly enjoyed the presence of this company and the Pickerts will be given a warm greeting when they come this way again. It is a good company.

Three weeks to Thanksgiving.

Knights of Pythias meet tonight.

The next thing in the opera house will be something else.

The members of the Baptist church choir will meet for practice tonight at the home of Mrs. B. E. Parham.

After Death in Africa.
 Two old time darkies were engaged in a discussion of death and its mysteries when Uncle Mose said: "Reuben, does you b'lieve dat whin a pusson dies he kin turn into a dorg er a chicken?" "Well, I dunno," answered Reuben, "ef you had you way whin you dies, would you turn to a chickea?" "Dat depend altogedder." "Altogedder ou what?" "On whedder er not you lived in de nearabouts." — Philadelphia Ledger.

Turning Out Jellies.
 The following method of turning jellies quite whole out of a mold will be found an excellent one and very useful when parties are to be given. Grease jelly molds with butter, and when the jelly is to be turned out plunge the mold into hot water and remove at once.

Plaster Ornaments.
 Cover plaster of paris ornaments that are intended to be cleaned with a thick coating of starch and allow it to become perfectly dry, then it can be brushed off and the dirt with it.

Sale of Blooded Stock.

At are opportunity by the Farmers of this Section to get improved stock at common Stock Prices.

On Wednesday November 14th, 1906 I will offer for sale at my farm, three miles West of Greenville on the Tarboro road about 150 head of high bred hogs, about 20 young steers some of them ready broketo work, and a few choice young bullocks of the Red Pole and Polled Angus breed. I will also sell some very fine farm mules. Only reason for selling mules is I want to replace them with mares for breeding. I am ordering this sale of improved stock simply as an experiment and if the farmers will buy this stock at anything like fair prices my purpose in future is to have an annual sale of improved stock. Here is a rare opportunity to get especially fine gilts, either of the Berkshire or Pollard China blood for common stock prices and the stock will be offered for sale in such a manner that every one rich or poor, can have the same chance to purchase. In other words you can buy one or as many more as you like. Let everyone interested in this branch of farming attend his sale.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

How the Old Man Hit Back at His Son.

John was at home to spend his vacation and the family was gathered around the supper table to hear him give an account of himself. He had expounded at length Darwin's "Descent of Man" and the theory of evolution in general, at which the home people seemed very much impressed.

"Yes, pa," he concluded, "you are descended from a monkey, and a long time ago your ancestor swung by their tails from the tree in the forests."

"How unnatural," ventured the timid mother, to whom these new doctrines were little short of blasphemy.

"Waal, I dunno," said the old man, as he leaned forward to take another piece of ham from the dish, and then resumed, between intervals of deliberate munching, "I dunno. I dunno. Mebby it ain't no more unnatural to have a monkey for a ancestor than it is to have a jackass for a son."—Lippincott's Magazine.

His Boyhood Memory.

"It's a funny thing," the merchant observed as he dried the address on an envelope, "but every time I use a new blotter it makes me think of a weird detective story I read when I was a boy. The plot of the story, as I remember it, revolved on the sleuth finding a new blotter that had been used to dry the ink on a letter that was the key to all the mystery. He held the blotter up to a mirror and of course could read the address he wanted. And here I am, an old fool, I suppose you will say, still trying the same thing thirty years after that. The curious part of it is that I only do it once, the first time I use the fresh blotter. Then the memory of the thing slips away from me until it is time to take another."

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxin, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure it would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all the remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, however, will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by J. L. Wooten

PICTURE POST CARD RIOT.

The craze for picture post cards led to extraordinary rioting in the streets of Tokyo when the picture post cards issued by the government in commemoration of the war with Russia were placed on sale at the postoffices. Double files of people a mile long were waiting outside most of the offices as soon as they opened. At one place the police lost control of the crowd, which began a desperate struggle to gain admittance. The fence round the postoffice was trampled down and the people climbed up the walls on to the roofs and fought their way in through the windows. Under the weight of people part of the roof fell in, while the walls were damaged and the windows were smashed. Those who could not get near threw stones at the building. To quell the disturbance soldiers were called out. They charged the crowd with fixed bayonets and the fire brigade played streams of water on them.

Conquering the Colorado.

The first of the great American rivers to be completely held in bondage by a dam will be the Colorado. The Laguna dam, twelve miles above Yuma, Ariz., will be completed by the government in two years. It will be 4,800 feet long and will be secured at the ends in the mountains which compress the Colorado at that point into this narrow width. The dam will consist of three massive concrete parallel walls, the spaces filled with stones and the whole width of the dam on top 244 feet. This great barrier will weigh 600,000 tons, and, although it will not rest upon rock, its weight will be such that not even the Colorado will be able to dislodge it. In low water the dam will back the river up and afford irrigation for 100,000 acres of rich bottom land, and in flood time the Colorado will thunder over the top.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

English Praise of Baseball.

In many ways baseball is a game particularly suitable for the youth of England. To excel at it requires many of those qualities which are particularly lacking in British sport generally.—Fry's Magazine, London.

Shaw and the Scientists.

"George Bernard Shaw," said an editor, "likes to poke fun at scientists. He ridicules the high regard in which scientists are held. He says if a clergyman dares to make a startling assertion he is disbelieved and reviled, whereas the rashest, the most unfounded claims of scientists are accepted reverently by the world as so much gospel. Mr. Shaw once declared to me that the utility of scientists was overrated. He said that was a typical scientist to whom a young man took a superb cigarette holder of clouded amber. 'Some one claims,' said the young man, 'that this amber is imitation, sir. Will you tell me how I may prove conclusively its genuineness?' 'Just soak it,' said the scientist, 'for twenty-four hours in alcohol. If it is genuine, it will disappear.'"

Tired Horse Meat.

The question discussed in Paris of removing the horse market throws some light upon horseflesh and makes that viand less appetizing than over to a prejudiced American. The site of the horse market has been sold. The market having to be removed, a strong agitation is on foot to have it established at Vaugirard, where the horse meat market is. The ground upon which this transfer is advocated is significant. There are, of course, several reasons, but the chief argument is that of convenience and humanity. Most of the horses slaughtered can scarcely stand, and to make them walk to Vaugirard, the present location, would be cruel.

The Horses Knew.

For fully fifteen minutes before the great California earthquake the horses in a certain stable in Palo Alto were exhibiting every sign of the most frantic terror, screaming wildly and plunging about in their stalls in a manner which was perfectly unaccountable. The trembling of the ground and the rocking of the houses finally suggested the possible explanation that the animals had been sensible of the approach of the impending calamity before the duller perceptive faculties of the people in the neighborhood enabled them to realize the fact.

A SPLENDID CAMPAIGN.

The campaign in Pitt which has just closed has been one that has been splendidly conducted on the part of the Democrats. Too much credit for this cannot be given to Mr. F. C. Harding, the chairman of the Democratic executive committee. He has been wise, prudent, energetic, and clean in everything he has done or had done. The majorities given the various candidates speak louder in commendation of the work than anything we can say. Nothing but the highest praise is given him for the manner in which he has done the work. All of the candidates on the Democratic ticket have been discreet and made a splendid canvass of the county. They had with them at several places Senator Overman, Hon. J. H. Small and Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, all of whom did splendid work. Mr. S. C. Wooten was also with them at Falkland his home township, and pleased his friends with his maiden political speech. Mr. E. W. Whedbee spoke at a number of places and by unanimous consent did fine work for the party and made many votes for the ticket. The work of all these gentlemen coupled with some magnificent efforts by private citizens in every township did much towards rolling up the unprecedented majority which this county gave Tuesday. It was work well done and the county is blessed in the results that have followed.

Didn't Pitt county do the thing up right?

Politics can settle down now until the legislature meets.

Chicod township gets the banner in Pitt county. Good for Chicod!

The Republicans did not get as many votes in Pitt county as two years ago.

Some candidates are yet wondering what struck them on election day.

Wonder if the Republicans will get over the shock time enough to enjoy Thanksgiving.

The Republicans have seed left in Pitt county, but that is about all. They elected a constable and magistrate in Belvoir township.

North Carolina can feel proud of having a solid Democratic delegation in congress again.

They have buried Dr. Matthews at Durham, but Greensboro is not inclined to believe he is dead.

Four to one! Does that look like the Republicans would ever get enough voters together in Pitt county to elect a man?

A fellow comes up with a fine story that the Japs are trying to pick a fuss with Uncle Sam so as to capture the Philippine islands. For goodness sake don't put them to that much trouble. If they want the islands Uncle Sam should jump at the chance to give them away.

Another funny feature of the campaign just closed is that it was republican papers that were kicking because the state, under democratic rule, spends money to educate the negroes. It may be that in time the negro will discover who are his real friends in the south. —Durham Herald.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS
 The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."
 We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.
 It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

CHARLES C. NOTT, Chief Justice.
 LAWRENCE WELDON,
 JOHN DAVIS,
 STANLEY J. FELLE,
 CHARLES B. HOWRY,

IMPORTANT LAND SALE

By virtue of the power given me by the last will and testament of R. M. Moye deceased, I shall offer for public sale at the Court House of the County of Greenville, on Monday, the 3rd day of November, 1906, at half past twelve o'clock, the following described land to-wit: One and one-half acres of land, more or less, situated in the County of Greenville, N. C., and being a part of the R. M. Moye estate. The location of the land may be seen at Dr. E. A. Moye's office. Terms of sale cash—hour of sale to let at 11 o'clock Nov 3rd 1906. E. A. MOYE, Executor of R. M. Moye deceased.

THE FALL SUIT QUESTION

 in the Selection of a suit of clothes usually accompanies poor judgment in other things.

It is as bad to be under-dressed as it is to be over-dressed.

Wear Clothes in harmony with your station.

The sack suit we illustrate here is appropriate for solid substantial men in

Any Walk of Life

Every detail has been studied and planned to be in keeping with the character of the man who wears it.

The style is conservative, and yet keeps pace with the trend of fashion. The length has been increased, the back made form fitting, the lapels broadened, shoulders widened and the front shaped to accord with the prevailing fashion without the extreme

These excellent Suits start in at $2.50 and run up by easy steps to $15.00 or $18.00

Our $15.00 and $18.00 Suits appear to have the most friends.

A Queer Remark.
 "Oh, just listen to me," finally exclaimed Mrs. Chatter, self-reproachfully, "amusing you with all this talk about Mrs. Nездore's shameful treatment of me and all my other troubles."
 "Not at all, my dear," replied the man, rather ambiguously, "I like to hear it."—Detroit Free Press.

The Omnium Quidam Gossit.
 "That woman who passed must be very methodical," just heard her say "there's a way for everything."
 Newitt—Oh! I guess she was talking about hash. That's Mrs. Starvem, who keeps our boarding house.—Philadelphia Press.

Not Flattering.
 "George, the cook left this morning."
 "Who cooked the breakfast?"
 "I did."
 "Did you? I never noticed the difference. Guess you won't miss her much."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Embarrassing Attention.
 "A dog," said Meandering Mike, "is one of the few animals dat'll foller a man."
 "Yes," answered Plodding Pete. "One was follerin' me yesterday so fast I could hardly keep ahead of it."—Washington Star.

He Found That Out.
 "I could never understand," said the solemn person, "what is the attraction in ontains."
 "Perhaps," replied the beginner with the bandaged head, "it's the attraction of gravitation."—Houston Post.

The Iceman.

The iceman's a nice man—
 Yes; in my heart I feel it—
 So why do little girls and boys
 Do everything that most annoys
 That nice man, the iceman?
 I mean why do they clamber up
 To see the ice—and steal it?
 Jim Jolly used to do this trick
 Until one day the iceman
 Just caught him in the act, and quick
 Jim said, "What is your price, man?"
 It gave poor Jim an awful fright,
 But papa said it served him right.

Centenarians in Paris.
 It is a mistake to consider that residence in Paris goes against longevity. The last census returns show that there are 10,509 octogenarians in the capital and 620 nonagenarians, eighty-nine of whom are rapidly approaching their hundredth year. Six inhabitants of Paris are more than 102 years of age.—Petit Parisien.

Chances For Bachelor Girls.
 The bachelor looms large in the world's eye at the present time. Lord Kitchener, Thomas Lipton, James Henry (Silent) Smith, Attorney General Moody, Senators Penrose, Brandegee and Kean and eleven representatives in congress are among the notables who refuse to become Benedicts.—Youth's Companion.

Hint About Old Gloves.
 Old kid gloves or kid slippers may be utilized for making kettle or iron holders. Leather being a bad conductor of heat, these holders are much more effective than flannel ones. Squares of kid should be cut out, joined together and covered with felt or flannel, the edges being bound with braid or strips of thin leather. The housewife will be surprised how such holders save her hands from the heat.

A WINDOW MIRROR.

Transparent From the Inside, but a Looking Glass Outside.

In transparent mirrors, used as screens and in windows, the coating is placed on one side of the glass just the same as the silvering on the mirror and has the same properties of reflecting the rays of light and color. The difference, however, is that when looked at from the back the coating is entirely transparent. To one sitting indoors the view without is not obstructed in the least, but a pedestrian peering into the window or doorway is greeted by his own reflection. The glass is used largely in lieu of screens where privacy is desired without obstruction of light from the outside or barring the vision of those inside.

The method of securing this effect is as follows:

Dissolve one part by weight of silver nitrate in ten parts by weight of water and label No. 1. Prepare another 10 per cent solution of silver nitrate, but in larger quantity. To this add ammonia water, drop by drop, stirring carefully until the precipitate formed at first is completely dissolved, and label No. 2. Now add solution No. 1 to solution No. 2 until the odor of ammonia is no longer recognizable and the liquid has again become very turbid. Now add 100 parts by weight of distilled water for every part of silver nitrate originally used in solution No. 2 and filter until clear. Label this No. 3. Prepare a reducing solution by dissolving .9 part by weight of Rochelle salt in 384 parts by weight of distilled water, boil and to the boiling solution add gradually a solution of three parts of silver nitrate in ten parts by weight of distilled water and filter when cool and label No. 4. Clean the glass to be coated thoroughly, lay it on a perfectly level surface in a room at a temperature of about 25 degrees C. (77 degrees F.). Mix equal parts of No. 3 (the depositing fluid) and No. 4 (the reducing fluid) and pour over the glass. The glass may, if preferred, be dipped into the solution. The time required for the deposition of the layer of silver of just the correct thickness has to be determined by the judgment of the operator in each case, and this may be aided somewhat by observing a piece of white paper below the plate of glass. When a sufficient deposit of silver has been made, and much less is required than for an ordinary mirror, pour off the silvering liquid and rinse thoroughly with the distilled water and stand the mirror on edge to dry. Coat the silvered side with a solution of colorless shellac in alcohol and finally frame the mirror with a backing of clear glass to protect the mirror surface from being scratched.

Why He Ceased Whistling.

One day as Field Marshal Wrangel and Emperor Frederick were walking in Berlin they met an apprentice boy who was whistling a lively tune, but stopped as they came nearer and doffed his cap with a pleasant smile. Wrangel was highly gratified with the civility of the lad and said to the crown prince:

"There, your royal highness can see how loyal these apprentice lads are. How delighted they seem to be when they come across a member of the royal family!"

"Wrangel," said the crown prince, with a touch of merriment, "just ask the boy why he has stopped whistling."

"Here, my lad," exclaimed Wrangel. "Tell us why you ceased whistling."

"Whenever I see you," replied the boy, "I can't help laughing, and then I can't whistle, you know." And, so saying, he took to his heels and promptly disappeared.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Hen's Little Joke.

"Hello!" said the farm dog, observing the hen in the coal bin.

"What are you doing there?"

"Oh," cackled the hen, "I thought this was a good time to lay in coal."—Minneapolis Journal.

THE REASON WHY

It is only by reason of the maker's intimate, thorough knowledge of women's tastes and the requirements of her feet that "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes have achieved their marvelous success. First, they satisfy the eye and lend distinction to the foot. Secondly, they fit women's feet as only "Dorothy Dodd's" can fit. Thirdly, their large sale permits them to be sold at a moderate price. This store secured and controls the sale of these splendid shoes, because it believes them to offer the wearer more real value and satisfaction than any others possible to procure. New styles now ready. Glad to show even though you do not care to buy.
