CHAIRMAN SIMMONS TALKS.

Fine Showing For Democrats.

Raleigh, Nov. 7.—Chairman Simmons said today: "Our majority is going to be pretty nearly equal to, if not quite equal to that given two years ago. We have made gains in two-thirds of the counties, these being simply wonderful in the east. For example we have gained several hundred in Lenoir, in Wilson, in Robeson and Harnett, and in Sampson, Marion Butler's own county. We have carried more by majorities varying from 300 to 600. That county had been considered doubtful. Columbus votes for it by 400. Jones by 400, Cumberland by 500, Martin by 1,000, Tyrrell by 100, this having been a doubtful county, Greene by 600 to 700, Chatham by 350. Up-State, the Republicans have carried Davie by 300 and Caldwell by 63, a falling off in both counties. I figure that Hackett's majority is well up, somewhere between 1,000 and 1,500. Crawford is elected by 800 majority. I have been talking to Locke Craig over the wire about that district and he tells me that is the figure in the 10th. We have carried Pitt by 2,000. The Republicans actually talked about carrying it. Wake leads in majority, but Pitt makes a fine showing. Splendid work was done in Sampson, where the Republican majority was only 550 and we reduced it by 250 votes. I want to say that Marion Butler carried the State in 1894 by a campaign of gross misrepresentation and deception and tried the same game this time, but failed utterly. The result is a great rebuke to him. The result will put an end to the campaign speaking and other work of the big postmasters, some of whom were actually running for State offices, and speaking here and everywhere, among these being Briggs, of Raleigh, Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, and Meekins, of Elizabeth City."

In the first four or five days after the San Francisco fire, when people could get no money from the banks, many applied to the railroads for tickets on the promise to pay when they reached their destination, or when they could. They gave written promises and received tickets to all points in and out of the State. The officials took these promises to pay to an amount aggregating $60,000 from nearly one thousand persons. It is announced that within five months of the disaster no less than $53,000, or nine-tenths of the full amount, has been paid by remittances from the refugees to whom the credit had been extended. Much of this came from grateful sufferers who had not even been asked to sign a promise to pay.

Chamber of Commerce.

Business men keep in mind that there will be a meeting of the chamber of commerce Monday night, 12th. Every business man interested in the progress of the town should be present.

Happiness Now.

If the passing weeks teach us anything, it is that we should be getting our comfort and happiness out of life as we go on. Many think they will get it by and by, when they have achieved success, but how often, even when that end is reached, the anticipated glamour fades. Meanwhile, one has lost the best that life yields every day. In the long run, there can be nothing better than work and friendship, nothing sweeter than the love and confidence of little children, no richer rewards than a sense of duty done and service rendered. God has been as good to us this week, as He ever has been or can be, provided we will let his goodness touch and enrich our lives. Complications, distresses, disappointments, failures—yes, these are part and parcel, too, of our present life—and some day we may emerge from the shadow and incubus of them, but even while they press us down, why lose or ignore the sources of peace and joy right at hand?—Boston Transcript

Registered Letter With $3,000 Disappears.

It has just leaked out that on the morning of October 26th the biggest postoffice robbery that has occurred in this section in years took place in the Fayetteville postoffice. A registered letter, containing $3,000 in currency, addressed to the Fayetteville National Bank by the Planter's National Bank, of Richmond, arrived here on the 1.40 o'clock a. m. train, and was regularly receipted for. The letter was supposed to have been placed in the vault. On Monday morning the letter could not be found in the vault or anywhere else, despite the most minute search. Postmaster McCaskill at once notified the postoffice authorities at Washington and inspectors are now making a thorough investigation. So far there is no clue to the theft.—Fayetteville Dispatch, 5th.

Proverbs That Sound True.

Wise men drink sage tea.
Sailors are fond of port.
Millers must have their sack.
Pawnbrokers prefer hock.
Shoemakers are partial to cobbles.
Pugilists like a claret punch.
Business partners drink half and half.
Artillerymen approve of high balls.
The man with a broken arm wants a sling.
Thin men relish stout.
Many well persons drink well water.
The luggage burden traveler asks for porter.
Countrymen want cocktails.
Cotton growers must have their gin.
Tanned summer girls request lemonade.
Deaf-mutes like Mumm.
The bald man wants a night-cap of some warm stuff.
The drowning man craves something extra dry.

Didn't Want to Arouse the Juror.

Mr. Chas. McKesson, of Morganton, was in town one day last week and dropped into the Superior court room to see what was going on. While there a colored citizen was arraigned charged with selling soppaw contrary to the form of the statute. The prisoner had no lawyer and Mr. McKesson, always kind-hearted, generously volunteered to defend him, which he did with tact and ability, but the evidence was too strong for him and his man went to the roads.

While Mr. McKesson was arguing the case to the jury, Mr. R. O. Leinster, who was one of the jurors, closed his eyes as if asleep, but he was only playing 'possum, for he knew what was going on. Seeing Mr. Leinster's eyelashes droop Mr. McKesson dropped his voice to a stage whisper. You'll have to speak louder, Mr. McKesson," said Judge Ferguson "May it please your honor," said Mr. McKesson with this blandest smile, as he turned to the judge, "one of the jurors is asleep and I don't want to wake him up."

And the court house roared.—Statesville Landmark.

Given a Respite.

Those who were expecting to attend a hanging in Pitt county on the 17th can change their calculations. The governor has given Sylvester Barrett a respite to Dec. 18th, and an effort is being made to have the sentence against him commuted to life imprisonment.

A party will have trouble in keeping its followers in line as long as it persists in putting up candidates that a part of the party cannot vote for without holding their noses.—Durham Herald

Leslie's Weekly discovers that editors are usually unfortunate when they try to get office. Sad but true. Ye editor is not a popular man. He is always praising the wrong man or failing to praise the right one. Ye editor had better keep out of politics if he doesn't want to find out how unpopular he is. He sees the seamy side of life as it is but it could, as a rule, be worse.—Greensboro Telegram.

Died.

Miss Jane Moore, aged 68 years, died Tuesday morning at the home of her brother, Mr. Richy Moore, 4 miles below Greenville, and was buried Wednesday. She had been in feeble health for sometime. She leaves three sisters, one brother, and many relatives and friends to mourn their loss. She was a good, kind and obliging woman, and was held in high esteem by her neighbors.

RESPITE GIVEN NEGRO.

Sylvester Barrett Who Was to be Hanged November 17 is Asking for Life Imprisonment.

Sylvester Barrett, a negro of Pitt county, who was to be hanged on the seventeenth of November for the murder of Walter Lovett, a constable, has been granted a respite till the eighteenth of December. Barrett's counsel took an appeal to the Supreme Court, but this was not sustained, and November 17 was set for the date of the execution. His counsel are now seeking for a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment, and Governor Glenn has granted the respite till the 18th of December, so as to give a hearing in the case.—News and Observer.

Members of the fire companies of Greenville were released from poll tax.

S. M. Jones tendered his resignation as a member of the board of commissioners.

Trying to Steal Hearst Vote.

New York, Nov. 8.—Chairman Connors, of the Democratic State committee, today issued a call for a meeting of the full committee to be held here tomorrow. The object of the meeting is to devise plans "to safeguard the interests of the Democratic State ticket."

Chairman Connors said this afternoon that the Republicans were holding back the returns, that fraud was being practiced, and that in his opinion there were enough Independence League ballots not counted to reduce greatly Hughes' plurality and possibly to elect Mr. Hearst.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Ayden, N. C., Nov. 9, 1906.

Many have gone from here to attend the big union at Marlboro.

Rev. H. R. Jones is holding a meeting in Martin county this week.

Wilson Lamb, Jr., was here Wednesday waiting on his customers. He is a "chip off the old block."

Rev. Joseph E. Rickburg, of South Carolina and several others of the old ministerial students, returned to Ayden this week and will resume their studies at the seminary.

J. R. and R. W. Smith spent Sunday with J. J. May, in the country.

Miss Olivia Berry came home Tuesday evening after a long visit to friends in Scotland Neck and vicinity.

Mrs. Pope is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. W. Taylor.

W. S. Elount and S. V. Laughinghouse, of Grifton, have been to see us during the week.

Mrs. Bertha Buhman has returned home from a visit to Grifton.

Pete McLawhorn, of Belhaven, came home Tuesday to visit his parents.

In sauntering around Ayden we were surprised to note the many new residences in course of erection and many of them, too, of considerable size, some eight and ten rooms each.

Well the other fellows left a little of we Democrats didn't they? But they say they are going to have the balance next time. They do say there is one among who hasn't been able to see anything but his toes since last Tuesday.

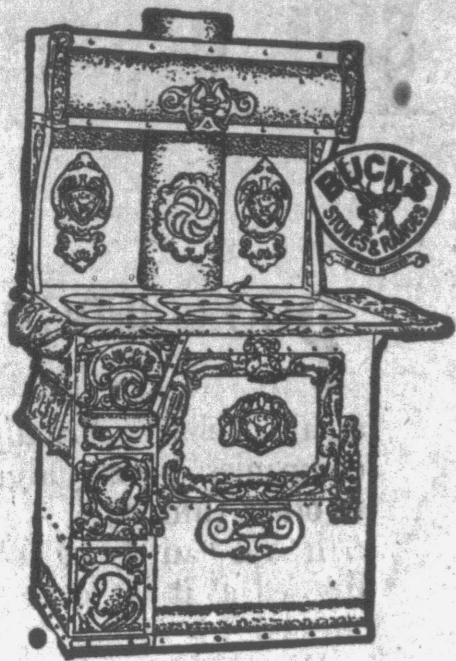

Henry Manning went to Greenville Thursday.

The sawing machine is again out on its rounds and the wood-chopper is out in the cold, while the housewife rejoiceth and all the world is content that the machine is as it should be, a great benefit.

Chanler Wins.

New York, Nov. 8.—With the official vote of but three counties missing tonight, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler apparently is elected lieutenant governor on the Democratic-Independence League ticket by a plurality approximating 1,700 over M. Linn Bruce, Republican.

Cheaper by the Wholesale.
When the late Charles Pease was landlord at the Pease hotel at Hartford, Vt., an old gentleman dropped in one morning and asked for a drink of brandy, saying that he was not feeling very well. Mr. Pease produced the brandy with water and sugar and told the old gentleman to help himself, handing him an ordinary drinking glass. The old gentleman poured out an ordinary drink and, fixing it to his taste, drank it. Smacking his lips, he said: "That is pretty good. I guess I will have some more." Filling the glass well up this time, he drank the contents and handed Mr.
Pease a quarter. The latter gave him back 17 cents. The old gentleman counted the change and said:
"You have made a mistake, Mr.
Pease. You have given me back too much change. I usually pay 10 cents, and you have only taken 8."
"Well," said Mr. Pease, "it is cheaper at wholesale."—Boston

His Special Line.
When the late Colonel Elliott F.
Shepard, son-in-law of Commodore Vanderbilt, bought a newspaper and started to run it he found that he knew little about the duties of active newspaper men. Although it was an afternoon paper, he made an innovation by employing a night city editor, and this was a signal for all kinds of people to seek employment on the paper. One day a very bright general writer sought the colonel and asked for a place on the staff.
The colonel then put him through a regular course of catechising as follows:
"Are you a member of the church?"
"Yes; I am a Presbyterian."
"Well, that is good. What is your special line?"
"I am merely a bohemian writer."

CONDENSED STORIES.

Train Went on Time, but Without Senator Bailey.
Senator Bailey was once staying for a short time at a country place, when he received a telegram urging his immediate appearance in Washington. The place was about two miles from the railroad station, and as the schedule had been recently changed, and his host did not know the new hour for the train—there

"WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN, YOU RASCAL?" was but one day—a negro was hastily sent to inquire of the station agent.
It was perhaps three hours later when the negro ambled into the yard.
"Where have you been, you rascal? Does it take three hours to ask when a train is due?" the senator's host demanded angrily.
"Now Mars Jeems," the negro protested, "yo' know hit don't take no three hours ter ax er train gwine

FRIDAY, NOV. 9, 1906

The president has sailed from Washington and is now on the sea enroute for Panama. Everything will put on its best appearance there to make him think great things are being done in digging the big ditch. The greatest of all is the way they are spending money.

A newspaper dispatch announces that a huge dam is to be built across the Mississippi river. It surely must cost a big pile of money for a dam undertaking of such magnitude—Wilmington Star.

Yes, whether its a dam or a ditch they bury money in the digging.

If folks took as much interest in material development all the time, as they do in politics during a campaign, this old country would blossom like a rose.

As Blackburn lost out in the congressional race, perhaps he can get a job in the revenue service or move back to Wilkes and go to moonshining.

We thought Cassie Chadwick was being forgotten in jail, but cases in which she was connected are bobbing up in court again.

In one respect Mr. Hearst is like another fellow nearer home—does not know when he has seen his political finish.

The Democrats will have a larger majority in the next legislature than they had two years ago. Nothing bad about that.

Wonder if Butler and Adams have heard yet how it went in North Carolina.

The Wilmington Star has been exercising its chicken roosters. Let them crow.

It happened like it did because most of them voted that way.

Blackburn Don't Know He is Dead

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 8.—Congressman-elect R. N. Hackett, of the Eighth district arrived here this evening and tonight responded to a toast "The Brotherhood of Man," at a banquet given by the Masons, who today laid the cornerstone for their $75,000 Masonic temple. Mr. Hackett, in an interview tonight, stated that according to figures furnished him, his majority over E. Spencer Blackburn the present congressman, is 1,507, and he thinks this is accurate. Mr. Blackburn declared today that he proposed to make a contest and that he would fight it out in congress if it took him ten years.

Say So.

Are you proud of your home?
Say so!

Do you think your wife, even in her kitchen apron, is queen among women?
Tell her so!

Is your son a comfort to you?
Say so!

Do you appreciate all the home folks do for your well-being?
Say so!

Alas, we keep our compliments for those whom we see once or twice a year. A pretty picture card at Christmas draws from us profuse thanks, while for the home-folks who nurse us through sickness, bear household drudgery for us, exhibit the priceless patience needed in rearing children, we have seldom a word of thanks. We feel gloomy of an evening and we don't mind showing it, nor do we mind how contagious it might be to those we call the dearest on earth, but let a stranger call—a stranger with whose interests we are not connected a bit—and how quickly smiles and politeness succeed gloomy uncompanionableness.

Why is this? And among us, who has not been guilty?

If you have a good thought of anyone, speak it out. You will lighten life, replenish your own stock of sunshine—for the more we give the more we have—and forestall bitter regrets when opportunities to speak are passed.

Say it!
Say it now!

Information as to the Use of Sweet Herbs in Flavoring.

When a soup, sauce or vegetable is to be flavored with an herb or another vegetable the flavor should be added toward the end of the cooking period. Since the oils and other bodies which give seasoning vegetables and herbs their flavor are volatile they are either driven off by long continued cooking or rendered much less delicate in flavor. Herbs that are to be left in the dish or served with the dish must be added just before the food is served. The herbs generally served with the dish are chervil, parsley, tarragon and chives.

Burnet, thyme, summer savory, sage and sweet basil are cooked with the dish a short time, not over twenty minutes, and are then removed.

Making Beds.

The practice of having beds made in the early morning, though exceedingly tidy, is one which should be discouraged, for it is bad. Constantly we see a bed made half an hour after the sleeper has left the room, wherefore all the exhalations from the skin during the night are confined beneath the sheets and are inhaled again when the bed is next used. It is an excellent practice, and one which ought to be encouraged in all young people, to turn the clothes of the bed immediately on rising. The mattress, too, should be turned back so that all may be properly aired and quite cold before being remade.

Papering a Room.

When repapering a room it is well understood that for sanitary reasons all the old paper should be removed. If this is not done it should be remembered that grease spots in the old paper may keep the new from sticking well. If there is a little break in the plaster do not think that the damage is repaired by papering over it, for the paper drawn tight like a drumhead will break easily. Mix some plaster of paris with water and fill the places where furniture has gouged out a hole in the wall or a nail has been driven. Right preparation of surface means much in both papering and painting.

Utilizing Stale Bread.

Those who are trying to cut table expenses should never throw away bread. When it is too dry put it in an iron skillet with plenty of water. When it softens add a big chunk of butter and a little salt sprinkled over, and let it remain covered for awhile. It will stick and brown. Loosen with a sharp knife and turn. Every one likes it with sirup or sauce for breakfast or luncheon. It should be soft, but not soggy, brown, not black, and hot.

Hanging Dress Skirts.

To keep dress skirts from wrinkles, if there are no patent hangers convenient, they should be folded down the center front, then the doubled skirt folded in thirds and a large safety pin thrust through the fold. The safety pin, when fastened, is used as a hanger, and in this way the skirt hangs straight, with no strain on any part of the waistband.

Pickle Test.

If you suspect that pickles have been colored with copper you can satisfy yourself with a very simple test. Put some piece of the pickle into a vial containing a mixture of equal parts of ammonia and water, says the Portland Express. If there is any copper present the liquid will become blue in color.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

An Essay on Hope and Its Misrepresentation of Facts.

Hope, says the adage, is the salt of the earth, and still a man utterly without hope is not at all fresh, as everything is supposed to be which is not salted. Indeed, he is about as withered a specimen as may be found growing.

I do not know why this is so unless it is that hope is not the salt of the earth. In that event the adage is misrepresenting the facts, which I hope is not true.

However, granting that hope is the salt of the earth, I find another adage to the effect that the salt of the earth deferred maketh the heart sick. The logical and pathological conclusion in this case is that salt should be sprinkled on the heart immediately. I am confirmed in this prescription by still another adage, which says, "Salt on, salt ever," or words to that effect.

Measured by the adage I have quoted as authority, Great Salt Lake, Utah, and its shores should be the most hopeful spot on earth. But it doesn't look the part. The Dead sea, despite its name, should also be full of hope. Possibly it is, but it must be the hope of a hereafter.

Gentle reader, did you ever try to catch a bird by putting hope on its tail? Yes? And you didn't catch it, did you? No? But you hoped to, didn't you?

Well, something must be wrong with the adage.

What?—Judge.

THE REASON WHY

It is only by reason of the maker's intimate, thorough knowledge of women's tastes and the requirements of her feet that "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes have achieved their marvelous success. First, they satisfy the eye and lend distinction to the foot. Secondly, they fit women's feet as only "Dorothy Dodd's" can fit. Thirdly, their large sale permits them to be sold at a moderate price. This store secured and controls the sale of these splendid shoes, because it believes them to offer the wearer more real value and satisfaction than any others possible to procure.
