GRANTED THE FRANCHISE.

Aldermen Give Railroad Right of Way Across Streets.

The board of aldermen held another meeting Friday night to consider the application of the Raleigh and Pamlico sound railroad for a franchise to cross Dickinson avenue and Clark street in order to have a switch from their depot to the track of the Atlantic Coast Line at a point north of the Imperial factory. Six members of the board were present, and after much discussion the franchise was granted.

In granting this franchise the board placed several provisions in it.

First. It is for a term of twenty years.

Second. The railroad shall bury its cross ties below the level of the streets and sink its "T" irons so that the top shall not be above the level of the streets.

Third—The space between the rails to the level of the irons shall be filled with heavy plank, stone or other hard material, the approach to the crossing being fixed in the same way for three feet.

Fourth—The grade of Dickinson avenue shall not be changed.

Fifth—The railroad shall construct and maintain necessary drainings.

Sixth—No engine, car or obstruction of any kind shall remain on the track on Dickinson avenue, and no moving train shall obstruct the avenue for a longer period than three minutes at any one time.

Seventh—The town reserves the right to make and enforce such regulations governing said streets and crossings as may be expedient for the welfare and safety of the public.

Eighth—Any violation of these conditions on the part of the railroad or its successors shall forfeit the right hereby granted.

Ninth That the switch crossing Dickinson avenue and Clark street is to be used only for the transportation of freight being moved to and from that territory lying north of Dickinson avenue along the line of said switch.

Thank Offerings to Our Orphanage.

The work of the orphans' homes of North Carolina is regarded highly by our people, and these institutions are worthy of our heartiest support. We can see something of the good they are accomplishing, but the far-reaching, ever-widening influence of their work we are not now able to fully know and measure. They are being greatly used of God in the betterment of lives, in the salvation of souls.

Thanksgiving Day has been adopted by our people as a time of special effort for and gifts to the orphanages of the State. Can we in a better, more fitting way express our gratitude to the Giver of all good than by helping in the care and equipment for life of these homeless children? Such a method of expressing thanks to God appeals to us, and surely, it is pleasing to God.

The aid received by the orphans' homes of North Carolina at Thanksgiving is a factor in the maintenance and improvement of their work.

May the observance of Thanksgiving Day this year be even a greater means of honoring God and blessing mankind.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the river by Elder W. H. Laughinhouse of the Free Will Baptist church.

Wonders of Kansas.

A man who lives with his wife's people and furnishes the breakfast food and salt allows his mother-in-law to supply the balance.

A handsome young man who doesn't imagine that every girl who looks at him and smiles is just dying to marry him.

A man who dries the dishes for his wife night and morning and doesn't complain more than is absolutely necessary.

A man who attends to the baby by occasionally and appears to enjoy it.

A young woman who gets up at 3 o'clock on Monday morning, puts out the family washing, is downtown ready to begin her work at the store promptly and isn't engaged.

A family of five that pays house rent and lives on $6 a week.

A man who is past middle age and saw his first ball game a few days ago.

A woman who is so young in appearance that she is frequently mistaken for her daughter.—Kansas City Journal.

To the Business Men.

The Chamber of Commerce meets Monday night, 13th inst, at the mayor's office at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing a board of directors, committees and soliciting membership. This is a work all the business men in Greenville ought to take an active interest in, a few individuals can not accomplish anything, and this is one time we need a well attended meeting, and I want to make this as a special request of you. Arrange to give as much as one hour of your time Monday night to this association. It will mean much for Greenville, but without your cooperation we cannot do any thing. Our success with the Chamber of Commerce depends very much on Monday night's attendance. Place a reminder of this meeting on your desk so that you will not overlook the hour.

C. E. Bradley, Sec.

Don't Save This Way.

Don't save money by—Using cheap soap. You will ruin your complexion.

Sewing in the dusk. Gaslight is cheaper than oculists' bills.

Wearing thin clothing. Flannel is cheaper and better than medicine.

Going without luncheon. You will injure your health and digestion if you do.

Walking when overtired to avoid carfares. You save in money but undermine your constitution.

Overworking. Nobody thanks you. You will be cross and irritable and your husband will wish you were not so zealous.

Memorial to McIver.

The Kinston Free Press has received the following invitation: "The board of trustees, the faculty and the students of the North Carolina State Normal and Industrial College, Greensboro, North Carolina, invite you to be present at the exercises in memory of its founder and president, Dr. Charles Duncan McIver, to be held at the college, November 20, 1906, at 11 o'clock a. m."

Fell Over Grip.

This morning while the passenger train was at the depot some one set a grip on the ground right in the midst of the crowd. A lady while going from the train to the platform stumbled over the grip and fell, narrowly escaping injury. The person who set the grip in such a place ought to have had better sense.

Work on the Farm.

There was a time when work on the farm was largely work of the hands and only to a limited extent work of the head. Modern progress has changed all that. The introduction of machinery has lightened almost to the vanishing point what used to be the hardest manual tasks. The farm has become a factory, in a sense, and the most successful farmers use as much system and find occasion for as much ingenuity in adapting means to ends and as much alertness in taking advantage of conditions as if they were running a business in town.

Another phase of the revolution of farm life which is not to be overlooked in considering the theme of women as farmers, is the improvement in living conditions which has taken place on American farms during the past generation. Farmers are no longer herrits. They are no longer cut off from the elegancies and enjoyments of life. It may be that a reaction from the rush to the cities is about due, and that there will be American women in the future, as well as American men, who will conclude that life on a farm is neither uninteresting nor unprofitable compared in a large way with life devoted to urban pursuits.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Longworth's Re-elected.

The good-natured but weak-minded and bald-headed husband of Mrs. Alice had a close shave for re-election to congress, and a published telegram from his august father-in-law was deemed necessary to save him at all. Also a telegram of congratulation from that eminent relation by affinity, with "love to Alice," was given out after the result became known. Manifestly, a successful opponent of Mr. Longworth would hardly stand well with the administration, and all the Washington world and its wife would be pretty sure to snub him and his wife. Mrs. and Mr. Longworth are in a position to get more enjoyment out of representing the first Ohio district than any couple else, and likewise to afford the public more entertainment. Nor should we neglect to say that Mrs. Alice did strenuously during the campaign and deserved well of the Cincinnati electorate. She proved herself an ideal candidate's wife, going everywhere, shaking hands with thousands of voters, and never losing her smile when her fine frocks were torn or smudged by the eager multitudes. It is thus that the great ladies of England are wont to help their husbands in parliamentary election. As for Nick, he is well fitted to shine in reflected glory. Lastly, Mrs. Alice's presidential sire deserves well enough of the country to have his wishes in a matter like this gratified. All three of the popular trio are greatly to be congratulated, but we must say that both of the men showed incredibly bad taste in the matter of those published telegrams.—Charlotte Observer.

This part of November is quite dry, but will not likely stay that way long.

KEEPS GROWING.

Building and Loan Climbs Upward.

The board of directors of the Home Building and Loan Association met Friday night in the office of the president. The report of the secretary and treasurer was very gratifying, both as to the old series and the new series just started. As two series of stock are now in operation, necessitating more work on the part of the secretary and treasurer, he was given a small increase in salary. Every person in the community who can do so, especially the wage earners, should take a few shares. As a savings institution nothing beats a well managed building and loan association. One share worth $100 at maturity, can be carried for 25 cents a week, and even any boy could lay aside that much.

Negroes Ordered to Go From Burlington.

Burlington, N. C., Nov. 9.—A negro barber named Crater was in Mr. Will Holt's office this morning. Mr. Holt asked him about some remarks he had been making about the trial in progress at Graham, being in the nature of threats against some of the witnesses. He answered Mr. Holt very insolently, whereupon Mr. Holt knocked him down. When he got up he made at Mr. Holt with a razor. Mr. Holt drew a revolver and shot at him. But for the interference of his brother, Mr. R. L. Holt, he would have killed him. The negro ran down stairs and while doing so lost four dollars and three or four razors. The negro Crater and three other negroes have been notified to leave Burlington and have done so.

The Teachers.

The teachers association had another splendid meeting today with a large attendance and fine program. They are enthused in their work and what they are doing in Pitt county speaks for itself. Fuller report of the meeting will be published later.

Calendars for 1907 have begun their appearance. The Reflector received a beautiful one from Youth's Companion, of Boston. Messrs. Brady & Best, jewelers, are the first of the home people to bring us one, and it is very pretty.

Weather.

Fair cooler tonight, Sunday fair.

The teachers were with us today and had pretty weather for their meeting.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

A Tree That Is a Boon to Travelers. Ancients Liked the Poplar.

One of the most remarkable trees in the world is the traveler's tree, which grows in Madagascar. Its leaves are so large that they are used for partitions, and also for the walls of houses, being in some cases five feet in width and eight feet in length. The property of the tree that gives it its name, however, is that it affords pure, pleasant water, even in the driest time. By piercing the thick part of the leaf stalk a quart of this fluid may be obtained at once.

The popular tree was of considerable note in the olden time. It was a favorite tree with conquerors, who often wore branches of it upon their heads during their triumphs. The idea is derived from the legend that Hercules bound his brow with a chaplet of poplar leaves after his famous contest with the robber Nessus at Mount Aventine. Among the Greeks the white poplar was dedicated to time, because its leaves were continually in motion and because the dark side was supposed to represent night and the light side day.

Sale of Blooded Stock.

At are opportunity by the Farmers of this Section to get improved stock at common Stock Prices.

On Wednesday November 14th, 1906 I will offer for sale at my farm, three miles West of Greenville on the Tarboro road about 150 head of high bred hogs, about 20 young steers some of them ready broketo work, and a few choice young bullocks of the Red Pole and Polled Angus breed. I will also sell some very fine farm mules. Only reason for selling mules is I want to replace them with mares for breeding. I am ordering this sale of improved stock simply as an experiment and if the farmers will buy this stock at anything like fair prices my purpose in future is to have an annual sale of improved stock. Here is a rare opportunity to get especially fine gilts, either of the Berkshire or Polland China blood, for common stock prices and the stock will be offered for sale in such a manner that everyone rich or poor, can have the same chance to purchase. In other words you can buy one or as many more as you like. Let everyone interested in this branch of farming attend to this sale.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by J. L. Wooten

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Shuffle Race is a New and Funny Game For Summer Holidays.

The shuffle race is new and funny. Its requisites are, for the girls, short skirts held well above the ankles, and slippers many times too large, worn over ordinary shoes. Unless the foot can be lifted out without touching the shoe with the hands the shoe or slipper is too small. For the men provide the largest sized slippers obtainable, having uppers only at the toes.

The course should be about 200 feet over a smoothly shaven lawn. The contestants must stand in line at the starting point and at the word "go" must start off on the race, shuffling along as fast as possible. The men have no advantage over the girls in the game, for it is no easier for one to cover the distance quickly shuffling along in the large shoes than for the other, and both look equally ridiculous in their absurdly frantic efforts to keep the shoes on their feet. — Woman's Home Companion.

Pretty Smoke Pictures.

A boy who has made them says that smoke pictures are very pretty decorations to place on one's room walls. He has done so. He says to take a piece of drawing paper and hold it over the flame of a lamp, the chimney being off, until it is smoked thoroughly and is quite black, being careful not to let it scorch.

After doing this select some picture—a snow scene is preferable—and trace it upon the smoked paper with a toothpick or match. With your finger rub off the soot in places where the model is light.

A little practice will enable you to make very pretty pictures.

How They Obeyed.

Laura and Gertrude had hardly got seated at the dinner table before they began giggling. Their mamma spoke to them several times, and their papa frowned at them, but still they couldn't help giggling. They must have had the giggles that day.

Finally their papa could not stand it any longer, and he said severely, "Girls, you may leave the room!"

Now, this was hard, for their plates had just been filled, and both were very hungry. Still they had to obey.

But when they had gone it was noticed that they had taken their plates with them!

Cheaper by the Wholesale.

When the late Charles Pease was landlord at the Pease hotel at Hartford, Vt., an old gentleman dropped in one morning and asked for a drink of brandy, saying that he was not feeling very well. Mr. Pease produced the brandy with water and sugar and told the old gentleman to help himself, handing him an ordinary drinking glass. The old gentleman poured out an ordinary drink and, fixing it to his taste, drank it. Smacking his lips, he said: "That is pretty good. I guess I will have some more." Filling the glass well up this time, he drank the contents and handed Mr.
Pease a quarter. The latter gave him back 17 cents. The old gentleman counted the change and said:
"You have made a mistake, Mr.
Pease. You have given me back too much change. I usually pay 10 cents, and you have only taken 8."
"Well," said Mr. Pease, "it is cheaper at wholesale."—Boston Herald.

His Special Line.

When the late Colonel Elliott F.
Shepard, son-in-law of Commodore Vanderbilt, bought a newspaper and started to run it he found that he knew little about the duties of active newspaper men. Although it was an afternoon paper, he made an innovation by employing a night city editor, and this was a signal for all kinds of people to seek employment on the paper. One day a very bright general writer sought the colonel and asked for a place on the staff.
The colonel then put him through a regular course of catechising as follows:

"Are you a member of the church?"

"Yes; I am a Presbyterian."

"Well, that is good. What is your special line?"

"I am merely a bohemian writer."

"Do you speak the language also?"—Leslie's Weekly.

Train Went on Time, but Without Senator Bailey.

Senator Bailey was once staying for a short time at a country place, when he received a telegram urging his immediate appearance in Washington. The place was about two miles from the railroad station, and as the schedule had been recently changed, and his host did not know the new hour for the train—there

"WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN, YOU RASCAL?" was but one a day—a negro was hastily sent to inquire of the station agent.

It was perhaps three hours later when the negro ambled into the yard.

"Where have you been, you rascal? Does it take three hours to ask when a train is due?" the senator's host demanded angrily.

"Now Mars Jeems," the negro protested, "yo' know hit don't take no three hours ter ax er train time

SATURDAY, NOV. 10, 1906.

Are the people of Greenville and Pitt county an easy mark for agents and peddlers? It really seems so. Since The Reflector recently made mention of the washing machine right scheme, a number of cases have come to light where people fell easy victims to the game. In years past the lightening rod agent, and clock peddlers, the organ and picture sellers, and book agents without number have unloaded great quantities of their wares at double the prices the same articles could have been purchased for from regular dealers. Just offer anything on the installment plan and it is dead easy to get a contract and note signed for the amount. But this washing machine right seems to be about the slickest game yet worked on them.

The Greensboro Industrial News seems to derive some comfort from the fact that Marion Butler's county (Sampson) and ex-Governor Russell's county (Brunswick) both went Republican. If they could not carry their home counties what could they be expected to carry? But the News is not having much to say about the way the Republican majority in them was cut down.

Talking about what the peddlers and agents can do in the way of lifting money from the pockets of the people in this section, we recently heard of a book agent who made the boast that he took orders amounting to $2,500 in four weeks. And the books covered by these orders could have been bought from dealers for half the sum. Have our people got money to throw away? The oily tongued agents certainly find it easy to work them.

Our well-known inquisitiveness prompts us to ask our Democratic contemporaries to tell us what in their opinion was the "paramount issue" in North Carolina this year?—Greensboro Industrial News.

Weil, if you want to know very bad, it was to beat the Republicans, and it was done in great shape.

If Bonie had shown such undying love and affection for his wife earlier in the game as he now professes in court he might not be facing divorce proceedings with the penalty of no longer having the privilege of drawing on his wife's money.

In New Hampshire the law requires that the successful candidate for governor must receive a majority of all the votes cast. In the recent election in that state the highest candidate in the race fell short ten votes of a majority and the legislature will have to select the governor.

Of course Senator Simmons feels proud over it. He has a right to

WALKER FEELS HALTER DRAW.

A Strong Case Against Discharged Coachman.

Graham, N. C., Nov. 9.—The trial of Henry Walker on the charge of burglary in the first degree, which is a capital crime, in connection with the murderous assault upon Mr. L. Banks Holt, Tuesday night, was begun at half past one o'clock this afternoon, and when court took a recess until tomorrow all the evidence was in, the defense having none to offer.

A strong chain of circumstances was made out against Walker, including a motive for revenge, threats often repeated, the possession of a weapon of the same calibre as the bullet found in Mr. Holt's house, and opportunity to commit the crime. While the evidence was strong at all points, the testimony of Fannie McCain, a colored cook formerly in the employment of Mr. Holt's family, carried convincing evidence of the prisoner's guilt. She told of being with Walker shortly before the crime was committed, when he informed her that Annie, the maid had arranged things for him, that he was going to Mr. Holt's house and gave a broad intimation that he had murder in his heart. The witness said that she begged him not to go, but he left her declaring his intention to do so and advising her to know nothing if she heard of anything happening.

Solicitor Moore's Majority.

Hon. L. I. Moore, Democratic candidate for Solicitor, carried his district by over 4,500 majorities. The exact official figure from three of the counties have not yet come him, but approximately his majorities are as follows: Pitt 1,697, Craven 1,091, Greene 698, Carteret 400, Jones 500, Pamlico 150.

E. H. EVANS, Supt.

Bargain in Printing Press.

The Reflector will sell a 6 column quarto Monona leverless, cylinder printing press, complete with steam fixtures, at a bargain. It is practically new, having been in use only about 18 months. Can be worked either by hand or power and is a good press for weekly paper, having speed of 800 per hour. It will print two 9 column pages or four 6 column pages. Reason for selling is speed is not fast enough for daily paper with circulation as large as Reflector now has. Any one interested can correspond with us.

Superintendent Dunlap remembered the force this morning in the shape of a basket of Old Virginia apples. For which he must accept our many thanks.

NOTICE—All persons are hereby warned, under penalty of law, not to hunt or in any way trespass on my lands on Tarboro road 5 miles west of Greenville.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS
The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

Information as to the use of Sweet Herbs in Flavouring.

When a soup, sauce or vegetable is to be flavored with an herb or another vegetable the flavor should be added toward the end of the cooking period. Since the oils and other bodies which give seasoning vegetables and herbs their flavor are volatile they are either driven off by long continued cooking or rendered much less delicate in flavor. Herbs that are to be left in the dish or served with the dish must be added just before the food is served. The herbs generally served with the dish are chervil, parsley, tarragon and chives.

Burnet, thyme, summer savory, sage and sweet basil are cooked with the dish a short time, not over twenty minutes, and are then removed.

Making Beds.

The practice of having beds made in the early morning, though exceedingly tidy, is one which should be discouraged, for it is bad. Constantly we see a bed made half an hour after the sleeper has left the room, wherefore all the exhalations from the skin during the night are confined beneath the sheets and are inhaled again when the bed is next used. It is an excellent practice, and one which ought to be encouraged in all young people, to turn off the clothes of the bed immediately on rising. The mattress, too, should be turned back so that all may be properly aired and quite cold before being remade.

Papering a Room.

When repapering a room it is well understood that for sanitary reasons all the old paper should be removed. If this is not done it should be remembered that grease spots in the old paper may keep the new from sticking well. If there is a little break in the plaster do not think that the damage is repaired by papering over it, for the paper drawn tight like a drumhead will break easily. Mix some plaster of paris with water and fill the places where furniture has gouged out a hole in the wall or a nail has been driven. Right preparation of surface means much in both papering and painting.

Utilizing Stale Bread.

Those who are trying to cut table expenses should never throw away bread. When it is too dry put it in an iron skillet with plenty of water. When it softens add a big chunk of butter and a little salt, sprinkled over, and let it remain covered for awhile. It will stick and brown. Loosen with a sharp knife and turn. Every one likes it with sirup or sauce for breakfast or luncheon. It should be soft, but not soggy, brown, not black, and hot.

Hanging Dress Skirts.

To keep dress skirts from wrinkles, if there are no patent hangers convenient, they should be folded down the center front, then the double skirt folded in thirds and a large safety pin thrust through the fold. The safety pin, when fastened, is used as a hanger, and in this way the skirt hangs straight, without strain on any part of the waistband.

Pickle's Test.

If you suspect that pickles have been colored with copper you can satisfy yourself with a very simple test. Put some piece of the pickle into a vial containing a mixture of equal parts of ammonia and water, says the Portland Express. If there is any copper present the liquid will become blue in color.

Testing His Heroism.

He had been courting the girl for a long time. It happened on Sunday night after church. They were sitting on the sofa, and she looked with ineffable tenderness into his noble blue eyes.

"Tom," she murmured, with a tremor in her voice, "didn't you tell me once you would be willing to do any act of heroism for my sake?"

"Yes, Mary, and I gladly reiterate that statement now," he replied in confident tones. "No noble Roman of old was fired with a loftier ambition, a braver resolution, than I."

"Well, Tom, I want you to do something really heroic for me."

"Speak, darling! What is it?"

"Ask me to be your wife. We've been fooling long enough."

Birds' Calls.

There are many birds of which the male and female have the same call, such as the raven, the rook, the New Zealand parson bird and the gull, and to the highly cultivated musical ear a difference in pitch may be perceived which would escape the ordinary observer. With the true songsters there is little difference in the vocal organs of the two sexes, although the males of most species sing better and more continuously than the females.
