AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C., Dec. 4, 1906.

Heber Coward has been down during the week.

Miss Nancy Lawrence passed through Thursday on her way to Greenville.

Miss Sallie Ann Harrington, a very old lady died here Wednesday, night and was buried the following day.

Friday noon the fire alarm was sounded and in response thereto the graded school building was found to be in flames, but our citizens fought bravely and manfully and soon the fire was extinguished with but slight damage to the building. The same evening a tenant house on Nehemiah Garris' farm near here was entirely consumed. The inmates were very poor people and lost all they had. Here is an excellent opportunity for charity for a noble purpose.

Miss Nellie Barnhill, of Greenville, has been visiting friends here recently.

The protracted meeting in the Missionary Baptist church having closed Rev. P. T. Anthony, who was assisting Rev. T. H. King, the pastor, has returned to his home in South Boston, Va.

H. E. Ellis has resigned his position as a magistrate in Contentnea township and J. M. Blow has been appointed in his stead.

Miss Rosa Bland is visiting in Rocky Mount.

Lee Sauls, of Fremont, spent several days here last week with M. M. Sauls.

Mr. Hinson and Redding Smith, of Farmville, have been here on business.

Mrs. Croom and family, of Martin county, are visiting friends at the camp.

Miss Fannie Hardee, of Greene county, Miss Helen Galloway and John Warren, of Grimesland, were at Hotel Tripp Wednesday.

Prof. H. B. Smith, of the Greenville graded school, spent Thanksgiving here with his friend, Prof. J. A. McArthur.

Miss Mattie Hill, of Chocowinity, is visiting Mrs. F. G. Buhmann.

The graded school has added to its library a very large Webster's unabridged dictionary for the use of the pupils.

Misses Bessie Harris and Annie Dudley spent Thanksgiving up the road.

There were 156 bales of cotton sold on this market Saturday.

Chamber of Commerce.

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce met Monday evening in the mayor's office. While the attendance was not large, enough business men were present to make it interesting. The time for holding the banquet was set for Wednesday night, Jan. 9th.

The secretary was instructed to write officials of the Southern Express company, and ask that free delivery of express packages be provided in Greenville. This is a matter the business of the town needs.

AS REPORTED IN ARIZONA.

President Roosevelt's Panama Trip By a Country Editor.

"Teddy" upon his arrival boarded the railroad coach and "rid across" His "Isms" (as now speld), and waded out nine miles into the Pacific ocean, where it was knee deep, just to show the man-eating sharks and numerous marine gupchucks that he was "game." On turning round to food it back to shore he discovered a school of whales in his path. He squared himself for a real good kick into the gang, but was only partially successful, as his Rough Rider spur, which he happened at the time to have on, caught in a three-acre bunch of seaweed and his effort landed only eleven full-grown whales ashore, including the big bull of the flock.

On his way back on the train he jumped off near the Culebra cut, grabbed 11,000 workmen by the hand in exactly three quarters of a minute, schedule time, with the expression, "D-e-l-i-g-h-t-e-d" for each man. Then, seizing one of the five-ton steam shovels, spit on his hands and began to dig toward the Atlantic ocean. He plunged that gigantic shovel eleven feet into the bosom of Mother Earth at his first motion, and the Pan-American republics took it for another earthquake when the vibrations were felt. Within just 12 minutes and 17 seconds he had dug that "Isms canal" one mile and three-quarters.

While awaiting for his train to convey him from the cut he held a "levee" with the workmen, which numbered something over 200 English speaking persons and something over 9,000 imported shirt-tail-hop-consuming animated Chinese pigtailed, the latter warmly greeting him with "Hoopla, Teddy him belly good Melican man." During this brief interval, and in exactly 41 seconds, "Teddy" made a six-year contract with three of the coolie pigtailed to do the White House washing up to the end of the next presidential term.—Safford (Ariz.) Guardian

Absent-Minded Bridegroom.

At a banquet of clergymen recently the subject of absent-minded people was under discussion and yarns ancient and of recent origin were told by several speakers. It is seldom that ministers compete with one another to tell stories that task the credulity of their hearers, but upon this occasion Rev. Stephen W. Dana, pastor of the Walnut Street Presbyterian church, carried the honors. "There was a physician whose absent-mindedness was so marked that it often causes queer complications," said Dr. Dana. "Why, when he was married the minister told him to place the wedding ring on his bride's finger. He reached for her and felt her pulse, and, as it was very naturally beating faster than normal, exclaimed: 'Let me see your tongue.'"—Philadelphia Record.

COTTON.

Cotton sight receipts during October amounted to 2,351,483 bales compared with 1,992,517 bales for October 1905, and 2,399,328 for October 1904. For the first two months of the current crop year similar receipts aggregated 3,349,011 bales, being slightly in excess of corresponding arrivals in 1905, but over 400,000 bales below that of 1904. The net overland movement for the same periods was 92,321 bales in 1906 86,975 in 1905, and 114,099 in 1904. Of the American spinners' takings during the two months under discussion, the Northern mills received 320,157 bales and the Southern 477,315, a total of 797,465 bales; compared with 880,527 for the corresponding period in 1905 and 318,584 in 04. Exports exclusive of movement to Canada which is included in the northern mills' takings, amounted to 1,582,058 bales during the first two months of the current crop year, and were over 150,000 bales in excess of corresponding decrease of more than 400,000 bales if compared with like activities in 1904.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Freight rates are too high. The railroads have organized themselves into a powerful monopoly that has destroyed all competition. The only relief possible from the arbitrary charges and the unjust discriminations lies within the power of the General Assembly. No section of the country can attain its full growth when the railways operating within that section levies an unexual tax upon its industries. The railroad monopoly is the most powerful organization in the country today. The influence exerted by it in the legislative halls is both astounding and demoralizing. Astounding because the people who pay the freight continue to allow themselves to be pilfered by this monopoly and demoralizing because organized monopoly is never slow to exact ample tribute from the people to satisfy its utmost desires, and its desires are always co-extensive with its opportunities. The States of North Carolina and South Carolina are more largely discriminated against than any of the Southern States while the entire South is discriminated against in comparison with the classifications made by the railroads in the Northern and Western States. The active and determined efforts of all the people in the South should be directed against the furtherance of these violent abuses of equity and justice. An advantage is not sought, but as fair treatment as is given elsewhere should be had, and will be had if the people will show their interest in legislation that is manifested by the railroads.—Merchants Journal.

Election, Episcopal Church.

The annual meeting of St. Paul's parish for the election of a Vestry will take place tonight at 7 o'clock in the church. All male members are requested to be present. W. E. Cox, Rector.

Meeting of the Woman's Betterment Association.

The teachers and friends of education in the county will see from the published program of the meeting of this association to be held in Greenville next Saturday that we may expect a great meeting. This is the first county meeting we have ever had and I am anxious that every teacher in the county and every member of this association shall be present. The president of the State organization has been invited to be with us Miss Viola Boddie, of the State Normal College at Greensboro, will speak to the association at 11:45 o'clock that morning. You will never fully appreciate the work and enter into it unless you are here Saturday.

If there is a single teacher in any district who has not organized in her district I would specially request that you do so before Saturday and report the same to your township vice president in order that her report may show that the entire township has been organized.

We cordially invite everybody to this meeting. Let us all aid in making this the best educational meeting ever held in the county. W. H. Ragsdale Co. Supt. of Schools

Mrs. Fred Cox Dead.

Mrs. Fannie Cox, wife of Mr. Fred Cox, of Richmond, died Saturday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Haddock, near Shelmerdine. Mrs. Cox came from Richmond Tuesday of last week to visit her sister and a day or two later was taken with apoplexy and soon died. She was a native of this county and leaves a husband and three children.

As soon as she died Mr Cox was notified by telephone at Richmond and being too late to catch the regular train Sunday morning, he chartered a train to take himself and children, with Dr. Fitzgerald, of Richmond, to Weldon where they caught the afternoon train for Greenville, carriages being in waiting at the depot here to take them out to Mrs. Haddock's. Undertaker E. G. Flanagan embalmed the body and it was taken from Ayden, Monday afternoon, to Richmond for interment in Hollywood cemetery there.

Make the Best of One Another.

We may, if we choose, make the worst of one another. Every one has his weak points; every one has his faults; we may make the worst of these; we may fix our attention constantly upon these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive, even as we hope to be forgiven. We may put ourselves in the place of others and ask what we should wish to be done to us and thought of us were we in their place. By loving whatever is lovable in those around us love will flow back from them to us and life will become a pleasure instead of a pain and earth will become like heaven and we shall become not unworthy followers of Him whose name is love.—A. P. Stanley.

DECEMBER FOLKS.

Those Getting Around Among Us.

A. J. Moore went to Bethel this morning.

Miss Nancy Coward left this morning for Florida.

W. B. James left this morning for Williamston.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Stevens left this morning for Wilson.

J. Y. Monk left Monday evening for Goldsboro.

A. F. Kennedy and little daughter came in Monday evening from Panacea Springs.

D. D. Gardner and family left Monday evening for Bethel where they will make their home.

Mrs. Gallup and Miss Nina Harrison, of Norfolk, who were here to see their uncle, ex-Gov. Jarvis, returned home today.

Miss Mary Gottlieb, of Baltimore, who has been visiting at Cottondale, took the train here this morning for her home.

Bazaar Opens Tonight.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the bazaar given by the ladies of the Baptist church will open with an entertainment.

There will be six beautiful booths containing all kinds of pretty and useful things. The kitchen department will be in charge of some of Greenville's most attractive hostesses, and meals served there every noon and night will be much enjoyed by all who patronize this department.

The little folks should not miss the pleasure of finding out what "Mrs. Wiggs" has hidden in the corner among her cabbages. They will also enjoy looking at the pretty dolls and their Christmas tree.

There will be a free entertainment each night at eight o'clock. The first, given tonight, will be a candle drill and evening song by the children.

Don't fail to come. You are invited.

The cold December wind butts right in.

Buy your sweets at the candy booth.

Notice the color scheme at the bazaar.

Perkins' opera house will be the place of attraction tonight.

For dainty things look in the baby booth at the bazaar.

Many pretty things in the fancy work booth at Perkins' opera house.

What is hidden in "Mrs. Wiggs' Cabbage Patch" at the bazaar?

Dolls! Dolls! The prettiest ever seen in the red and white booth at Perkins' opera house.

Call at black and yellow booth at Perkins' opera house for odds and ends.

The board of county commissioners was in session again today.

It must be a joy to be so rich you aren't ashamed to confess you can't afford something.

Weather.

Fair and continued cold tonight, Wednesday fair, warmer

CONDENSED STORIES.

The Nicely Conducted Politeness of Talleyrand.

Prince Michael Cantacuzene, who is endeared to America through his marriage to Julia De Witt Grant, said on the night he left New York, according to an official report:

"I have observed the politeness in a remarkably nice manner."

TALLEYRAND DID NOT SAY A WORD.

ican manners are the best. I have never been one to approve of Talleyrand politeness.

"You know the sort of politeness Talleyrand's was—how it was graduated, as nicely as a centigrade thermometer, to all ranks."

"Talleyrand once gave a dinner party, and in serving the beef he graduated his manners to his guests' rank in this way:

"To a prince of the royal blood—May I have the honor of offering your royal highness a little beef?"

"To a duke—Monseigneur, permit me to offer you some beef?"

"To a marquis—Marquis may I cut you a little beef?"

"To a viscount—Viscount, have some beef?"

"To a baron—Baron, some beef?"

"To an untitled gentleman—Some beef?"

"To his secretary—Beef?"

"There was present a person even inferior to the secretary, and to him Talleyrand did not say so much as one word. He simply looked at the man and held the carving knife at the table."

The Governor of Rhode Island said one day in Providence, apropos of a conversation:

"It is asserted that clergyman was a very good man. This is a very good question, and an original idea was thrown upon it by the Rev. Mr. P. J. Delaney."

"A gentleman from Europe said to me: 'Be the minister in Philadelphia.'"

"Yes," replied the Philadelphian, "with interest. And what did he say for himself?"

"He said to the tourist, 'that he was on a long vacation. It seemed to me, though, that he looked remarkably well. He didn't seem in any great need of a rest.'"

"No," said the Philadelphian calmly, "he wasn't, either. It was his congregation that needed a rest."—Washington Star.

A Long Legged Deer.
A huge, finely mounted antlered head hung just above the sideboard in the dining room. This trophy of some huntsman's skill was fastened so firmly to the wall that the glistening neck seemed to be coming right out through the plaster. Robert, who was seeing this decoration for the first time, eyed it with lively curiosity and very evident uneasiness. It looked almost too life-like for comfort.
Finally the boy, asking to be excused, slipped from his chair, tiptoed into the next room and then, flushing with embarrassment, returned to his place at the table.
"What's the trouble, Robert?" asked his host.
"I wanted to see," explained candid Robert sheepishly, "if that animal's legs were really as long as that or if he were standing on something in another room."

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Helpful Suggestions on the Art of Carving Meats.

Good carving is necessary as a matter of economy as well as health. Meat carved the wrong way will be found stringy and tough, but carved the right way it will be easy to digest. Beef should be cut thin, mutton thick. In sirloin the under cut is considered the most delicate part and is eaten first, so that the joint must be turned over to be cut. Ox tongue should be commenced in the thickest part in the center and sliced not too thin. Hams should also be cut in the middle. A saddle of mutton should be cut down the length of the joint. When carving the loin of pork, mutton or veal, insert the knife in the thickest end of the meat and feel your way between the bones. In cutting ribs of beef the knife should be first inserted at the bottom and run between the meat and the bone. Then the slice will come away better.

Air the Bedrooms.

On rising in the morning see that a full current of air can pass through every sleeping room. Remove all clothes from the beds and allow them to air at least an hour. Only in this way can one be sure that the impurities thrown off from even the cleanest body by the pores during the night are carried off. A neat housekeeper often is tempted to make beds or have them made almost at once, but no practice can be more unwholesome.

Kentucky Potatoes.

Pare and thinly slice six large potatoes, wash and soak them for half an hour. Place in a baking dish, season with one scant teaspoonful of salt and one-third of a teaspoonful of white pepper, pour over them two-thirds of a pint of milk and bake in a hot oven until tender—about forty minutes. When half done add one-half to a tablespoonful of butter.

Cake Frosting Without Eggs.

Good frosting for cake can be made with milk instead of eggs. Take four tablespoonfuls of milk to a cupful of sugar and cook until the sirup spins a thread or forms a soft ball between the fingers when dropped in cold water. Then beat the sirup until it is thick and white. Maple sugar is particularly delicious prepared in this way.

To Clean Brooms.

To clean brooms may be rarely thought necessary, but washed occasionally they will be found to last far longer than otherwise. About once a week prepare a good lather of hot water and soap and into it dip the broom, shake it until it is nearly dry and hang it up with the bristles downward until quite dry.

To Remove Tar Stains.

Rub butter well into the tar and leave it on for an hour or two. Sponge then with kerosene. It will cut the tar. Coat with magnesia or French chalk and let it remain on long enough to draw out the grease—say, all night. Sponge with diluted household ammonia to complete the work.

To Keep Silk.

Articles of silk should not be kept folded in white paper, as the chloride of lime used in bleaching the paper sometimes destroys the color of the silk, more especially if it is of a delicate shade.

Blue, brown or a glossy, yellowish paper should be selected for this purpose.

To Dry Clean White Cashmere.

Heat some flour in the oven and rub this well into every soiled part of the material. Shake and brush afterward till all the flour is removed and repeat the process if necessary. If the cashmere is extremely dirty, it is best to send it to a professional cleaner.

Soap Jelly Shampoo.

A shampoo that agrees with nearly every scalp and head is made by dissolving a cake of white castile soap in a quart of boiling water. This forms a jelly, and two tablespoonfuls of a solution of water will be right for the shampoo.

For a burn or scald apply olive oil, butter or cover the burn with a cloth wrung from boiling water, which a piece of common washing soda has been dissolved.

TUESDAY DECEMBER 4.

As telegraph operator Mattox has established his innocence, it is up to the railroad to find some other cause for the wreck. We expect the Raleigh News and Observer gave the correct solution in saying that but for a disabled engine which caused delay of an hour in stops to patch it up, the train carrying President Spencer would have been miles away and no wreck would have occurred.

This way of congress meeting about the first of December ought to be changed, as the time and expense of getting the members there is practically wasted. They hardly get ready for work before they are all planning to go back home for the holidays; so that there is really nothing of consequence done until after the new year comes in.

With the Atlantic Coast Line continually running its passenger trains behind schedule time, no one need be surprised if it soon follows in the wake of the Southern in disastrous wrecks. It is not safe for anybody to travel when the roads are running irregularly.

One good way to help folks enjoy Christmas is to pay up if you owe them anything.

To be alive, up-to-date business town, and take advantage of every good thing that comes along, the merchant and business men generally must cultivate one another. Because one man has different opinions politically and religiously from you is no reason you should hold yourself aloof from him. Remember always that his friendship is worth more to you than his opinion. In friendship there is harmony, and in harmony there is strength. One man alone cannot build up a town, nor can half its citizens do so when the other half oppose them. It may be a bitter pill to pull in the same harness with your neighbor up the street, but nine to one if you pull with him awhile you will find out that he is a better man than you thought for, and if you are pulling to accomplish the same good end, in this way will quickly become acquainted with his good qualities, like him better and overlook his faults. -Merchants Journal.

This is the time of year a woman has to think what she needs most at home, so she can buy it for her husband's Christmas present from her and charge it to him.

Regarding New Counties.

With the meeting of the next legislature will come the customary demand for the formation of new counties made up from one or more of the present counties. The aldermen of High Point have endorsed such a project with their thriving metropolis as the county seat. Rockingham county is also considerably interested since the burning of the court house at Wentworth. Some favor rebuilding at Wentworth and others favor a division of the county with Reidsville and Madison respectfully as the seats of government. Other sections of the State are to be heard from and the possibility is that there will be a great many more applications for such privileges than favorable results, as is usually the case with the convening of every General Assembly. -Greensboro Record.

If a man has to be supported by his wife and sisters he'll insist on giving them advice about making money.

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as it cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional by sease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful result in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

For chapped and cracked hands nothing is quite as good as an application of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Put it on before going to bed, use an old pair of gloves and see what a difference the morning will bring. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is a mistake to use a violent cathartic to open the bowels. A gentle movement will accomplish the same results without causing distress or serious consequences later. EeWitt's Little Early Risers are recommended. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Open the bowels and get the cold out of your system. Kennedy's Laxative, (containing) Honey and Tar opens the bowels and at the same time allays the inflammation of the mucous membranes. Drives out the cold and stops the cough. Absolutely free from any opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A man with a sprained ankle will use a crutch, rest the ankle and let it get well. A man or woman with an over-worked stomach can't use a crutch, but the stomach must have rest just the same. It can be rested too without starvation. Kodol will do it. Kodol performs the digestive work of the tired stomach and corrects the digestive apparatus. Kodol fully conforms to the provisions of the National Pure Food and Drug Laws. Recommended and sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

AMERICAN IDEALISM.

It has frequently struck me in listening to impressions received in America by foreign travelers that the American in his deepest nature is a realist who strives for power and wealth and outer comfort; that the object of his life is to pile up the mighty dollar. People who speak thus seem to me blind to everything which lies below the surface. They seem to have studied the mills and factories of the industrial centers and to have neglected to read or understand the character of the American man or woman.

Since my first arrival in America I have held that the real spirit is idealistic and that the average individual American is controlled by idealistic impulses. Those who may contradict me cannot have sounded the depths of the philosophy of Ralph Waldo Emerson or studied the life and read the speeches of Abraham Lincoln and considered their far reaching effect on the American people.

In Lincoln's great character nothing can be more striking than the way in which he combined reality and the loftiest ideal with a thoroughly practical capacity to achieve that ideal by practical methods.—Baron Speck von Sternburg in Forum.

Lung Fishes.

Several examples of a zoological paradox—a fish which would be speedily drowned if placed in deep water—have just been added to the collection at Regent's park. This is the African walking fish, which spends the greater part of its existence upon the mud banks of tropical rivers. Its method of progression has been described by naturalists as of the "hop, skip and jump" variety, and when journeying inland, as it does over long distances, it climbs by means of the breast fins over the roots and even into the boughs of trees. These curious creatures, which belong to an important group known as lung fishes, form a connecting link with the higher forms of life, the air bladder being converted into what is practically a lung. When the rivers dry up in the hot season they bury themselves in the mud, breathing in the air like a frog or a newt. In Australia there are several varieties of lung fishes, one of the largest, which is much esteemed as an article of food, sometimes attaining a length of six feet.—London Graphic.

The Quivering Earth.

In his Bakerson lecture in London recently Professor John Milne said that in addition to the many tremors due to seismic, or earthquake, influences which delicate modern instruments detect, there are certain pulsations which seem to have some other origin. Some of these are diurnal and are probably due to the influence of the sun and the weather on the ground. In wet weather the sides and bottom of a valley carry a greater load than the bounding ridges. In dry weather the case is reversed. Even the transpiration of moisture by plants may produce perceptible effects upon the tilt of the ground. Thus the face of Mother Earth is almost as sensitive to external influences as the skin of a living creature.

Cost of Cotton Picking.

It requires something like 1,500,000 cotton pickers, each picking 100 pounds of seed cotton on an average for each picker and working 100 days, to pick a 10,000,000 bale crop. Of course, some pick more than 100 pounds of seed cotton and some less. There are days when, on account of rain, no cotton can be picked. The average of 100 pounds a day for 100 days is not far wrong as an estimate of the picker's work. At 60 cents a hundredweight the cost of picking a bale of cotton is $9. At 75 cents a hundredweight the cost is $11.25 a bale. Therefore the cost of picking the entire crop will range somewhere between $90,000,000 and $112,500,000.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Name "Flathouse."

The origin of the term "flat" as applied to an apartment is obscure. In recent years owners have objected to the word. A tenant was threatened with a suit for libel because he persisted in saying that he lived in such and such a flathouse. The landlord declared that the structure was neither a flathouse nor a tenement, but an apartment hotel. The repeated use of "flathouse" as a designation tended to lower the reputation of the place and drove away would be occupants.

Advantages of Esperanto.

Whatever may be the defects of Esperanto, if it comes to be a passport all over Europe, if it comes to aid the small merchant in establishing a foreign trade, if it comes to open a wealth of literature to all nations—then it will be an accomplishment which none can afford to neglect.—London Graphic.

The Danger of Rotten Corn.

"Say, I want you to warn the farmers," said Mr. C. P. Henderson to an Observer man yesterday as he hailed him on the street.

"Warn them against what—the politicians?" was asked.

"N., against rotten corn—there is lots of it this year. I lost the finest mare in the county one day last week. She had blind staggers. Twenty years ago I lost four head of stock from the same cause. It's bad corn and roughness. Tell the farmers to look out for it."—Charlotte Observer.
