SEWERAGE CONTRACTS AWARDED

System to be Completed in Four Months.

At a special meeting of the board held Thursday afternoon the bids for construction of a sewerage system were opened.

The Bent Kason Construction Co., of Gloversville, N. Y., made the lowest bid for construction, and the Chattanooga Sewer Pipe and Fire Brick Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn., made the lowest bid for piping and the contracts were awarded to those firms.

The contracts with these firms stipulate that the sewerage system shall be completed within four months, the cost to be $18,000.

Poultry Farms.

Here are a couple of poultry items that one informant sends in: "Capt. C. A. Plyer, of Lancaster county, has a hen that built her nest in the forks of a tree twenty-five feet from the ground. Mr. John Fisher has a goose that is now setting." Geese, we are told, never set except in the spring, but as the poultry editor is gone and Bill Arp, of Buford township, is now commissioner and hasn't time for such things, we have nobody to prove it by. But we can vouch for the fact that it is quite unusual for old speckle to go so high to make her nest—Monroe Journal.

Doings in Congress.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The house today, while waiting on the report of appropriation bills, began its legislative grind by passing three measures: Incorporating the National German-American Alliance authorizing secretary of treasury to duplicate gold certificates in lieu of one's lost or destroyed, and the bill amending the national banking associations to make loans on real estate as security and limiting the amount of such loans.

The "Worn-Out Shoe."

The world is full of homes where in bureaus laid away with care akin to reverence is "the wornout shoe." Wrapped in a piece of tissue paper; tied around with a faded ribbon and folded with a precision that shows it to be long since old, makes it of no value to the onlooker. But to the mother it is a priceless thing. The number of times that little parcel has been opened and as reverently placed back again has never been recorded by human hand. Every time it has been opened fresh memories of almost forgotten promises have tempted anew the love of old. Is it possible "the little worn-out shoe has a message for us? Does it make us think that the same reverence we have laid away in the "bureau of memory" things that bear equal sacredness? Have we tied up with trembling hands things that we once loved so dearly and placed them away in the same manner? Perhaps it would be well to take them out occasionally and gain an inspiration for the present.—Ex.

A few years ago banks were thought to exist for merchants only or for those who could deposit large sums of money. But now the farmers generally are placing their money in the bank, thus availing themselves of the safety convenience and protection which the bank offers. Every man should have a bank account, even though it be small. The first money deposited in the bank has been for many a man the first step on the road to prosperity and wealth.—Goldsboro Headlight.

The man who went out to milk and sat down on a boulder in the middle of the pasture and waited for the cow to back up, was a brother to the man who kept a store and wouldn't advertise because he reasoned that the purchasing public would back up to his place of business, when it wanted something.—Mt. Olive Tribune.

The Baltimore Sun, writing of cotton seed, cites a law of Mississippi passed in 1857 whereby it is made a misdemeanor for gin owners to fail to remove or burn them. At present prices, cotton seed, which are manufactured into almost everything from flour to imported olive oil, are selling for 30 cents a bushel, enough to add to the price of a large bale of cotton $7.50.—Raleigh News and Observer.

TOWN MATTERS.

Meeting of the Board Aldermen.

The board of aldermen met in regular session Thursday night, seven of the members being present.

Dr. Laughinghouse requested the board to increase the donation made by the town to the public library.

J. L. Wooten made final report as chairman of the board of internal improvements. The report was referred to an adjourned meeting for examination.

J. S Corbett was released from payment of poll tax in graded school district.

A street light was ordered placed at the corner of First and Cotanch streets.

The mayor was instructed to purchase a steel cabinet in which to file papers and records belonging to the town that need preserving.

Accounts were allowed amounting to $885.33

The board adjourned to next Tuesday night to complete its business.

ADAMS AND SAWYER CASE.

District Attorney Skinner and Dr. Carmichael in Washington.

A long distance telephone message to the Star last night stated that District Attorney Harry Skinner had left for Washington at the request of the president for a conference with him and with Attorney General Moody in regard to the case of Adams and Sawyer, the condemned mutineers in jail here under sentence of death, December 15th. The message stated that it was pretty generally understood in Raleigh that Col. Skinner and Judge Purnell were pretty favorable to commutation. Dr. Carmichael of Wilmington, has also gone to Washington in behalf of the condemned man and will see either or both the president and Mr. Moody.—Wilmington Star.

A Few Dont's for Husbands.

Don't forget that the sunshiny side of a woman's nature cannot outlive coldness, indifference and neglect.

Don't growl about womanly extravagances so long as you are keeping your own personal bills in good running order.

Don't meddle with the affairs of the house. The man who must know every little detail, and counts the cost of every household move is an unmitigated nuisance.

Don't expect smiles and kisses from the being who labors from early morn till night for the comfort and happiness of a man who has not soul enough to appreciate her.

Don't forget that the patient little woman you call your wife was once your sweetheart. A caress now and then, or a tender word costs so little and means so much to the woman of your choice.

BAZAAR CLOSED.

It Was a Financial Success.

The bazaar in Perkins' hall under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church closed Thursday night, like the former days, the patronage the closing day was good.

The entertainment "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" illustrated with living pictures was quite interesting.

In the article in Wednesday's Reflector the name of Mrs. J. E. Ayscue should have been mentioned among those assisting in managing the bazaar. She represented Mrs. P. E. Dancy, president of the society, who is absent in Philadelphia.

The bazaar was quite a success financially, the ladies realizing a good sum from their efforts.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C. Dec. 7, 1906.

At their regular meeting Tuesday night the members Eureka lodge No. 162, K. of P., elected the following officers for the ensuing term:—J. J. Hines, C. C.; W. B. Quinerly, V. C.; Frank Lilly, Prel; J. H. Browning, K. of R. and S.; W. L. McLawhorn, M. of F.; Frank Burney, M. of E.; John Pierce, M. of W.; D. S. Moore, M. at A.; Elmer Gardner, O. G.

Miss Rosa Bland has returned from a visit to Rocky Mount

B. B. Babbington, of Sheiby, N. C., has been here during the week selling a little book containing a biographical sketch of the life of his mother the only woman who ever obtained the secrets of Masonry. It is a right interesting little pamphlet.

Owing to the Odd Fellows occupying the hall the Masons had no meeting Thursday night.

F. G. James was here Thursday representing the party before a J. P. court who it is said stole 'possum.

A. D. Johnston has been here several times during the week.

It has been impossible for us to get the proceedings of the meeting of Odd Fellows here last night. We sincerely hope however some member of the order will write them up and have them published.

J. A. Harrington is staying in Baltimore so long we wouldn't be surprised if he wasn't making arrangements to bring the whole place back with him. Darn if we don't know he'll have two pockets full anyhow, for he had some extra ones made before he left.

We have been informed right many people anticipate moving to Ayden during the coming year, and we hear of none who expect to leave. That's the way a town grows.

There's going to be right much splicing in and around these parts pretty soon. Oh, how they blush.

Tedoc Frizzle, of Greene, spent Tuesday night here.

Weather.

Fair and colder tonight, temperature close to freezing on the coast, Saturday fair.

THE BAZAAR

Written for Reflector;

I take my pencil in hand to write,
About the bazaar each night. ||
This bazaar was fixed, and all that was made,
Went to the wonderful workers of the ladies aid.

Over on one side [was dolls you see,
Hanging on a Christmas tree. ||
Over in the fancy sale booth things were nice,
They were sold at a retail price.

The entertainment the first night was grand, ||
The children marched with canie in hand.
The last night it was fine,
It represented [an] "Old sweetheart of mine."

Thursday night in spite of the rain,
The people were [there, just the same.
There were [people up [there, over] one hundred eleven,
The next bazaar will be in nineteen and seven.

EDWARD HEARNE.

ON THE GO.

The People Who Pass This Way.

G. W. Baker went to Lewiston today.

F. D. Foxhall went to Aulander today.

Jessie Speight went to Hobgood today.

A. M. Mosely went to Bethel this morning.

J. B. Doris went to Wilson today.

E. H. Thomas went to Ayden today.

Miss Nellie Pender returned from Tarboro today.

Charles Skinner and J. B. Randolph went to Grifton today.

Mrs. W. B. Wilson went to Littleton today to visit relatives.

H. Harding and H. A. Paramore went to Winterville on the forenoon train.

Mrs. T. L. Bland, of Rocky Mount, came in this morning to visit her mother, Mrs. L. A. McGowan.

Chief Police J. T. Smith and Assistant Police G. A. Clark went to Raleigh today as witnesses in the Federal court.

Teachers' Meeting Tomorrow.

Miss Viola Boddie, of the State Normal and Industrial college at Greensboro, will speak to the Woman's Betterment Association in the graded school building tomorrow at 11:45 o'clock. A splendid program in addition to this address has been arranged. The ladies of Greenville are specially invited to this meeting. The people of the town are missing a great deal by not attending these gatherings of the teachers.

Go out tomorrow and you will have this statement verified.

Fine Tobacco Sale.

Mr. R. C. Cannon, of Ayden, sold a lot of tobacco here today at the Center Brick warehouse. He had 1,500 pounds, barn through and got an average of $20 per hundred net.

A man said he don't see why somebody cannot have a good cold, as everybody seems to have a bad one.

For Your Convenience

In the making of a Buck's Range your convenience has been considered. They are made with every modern appliance that tends to make them save time, energy and money for you.

Buck's Ranges fire boxes that are practically hot blast in construction insuring economy of fuel.

They have sanitary white enamel, so ventilated as to bake ideas. Neither the top nor the bottom of the oven will warp—always smooth and level.

Let us tell you of their other superior merits. Sold only by

C. W. HARVEY & CO

For chapped and cracked hands nothing is quite as good as an application of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Put it on before going to bed, use an old pair of gloves and see what a difference the morning will bring. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is a mistake to use a violent cathartic to open the bowels. A gentle movement will accomplish the same results without causing distress or serious consequences later. EeWitt's Little Early Risers are recommended. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Open the bowels and get the cold out of your system. Kennedy's Laxative, (containing) Honey and Tar opens the bowels and at the same time allays the inflammation of the mucous membranes. Drives out the cold and stops the cough. Absolutely free from any opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A man with a sprained ankle will use a crutch, rest the ankle and let it get well. A man or woman with an over-worked stomach can't use a crutch, but the stomach must have rest just the same. It can be rested too without starvation. Kodol will do it. Kodol performs the digestive work of the tired stomach and corrects the digestive apparatus. Kodol fully conforms to the provisions of the National Pure Food and Drug Laws. Recommended and sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

After all when it rains it settles the dust, and when the sun shines it dries up the mud, Town and Country paint withstand both rain and sun, sold by Baker & Hart.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

An Atlantic Liner Passenger and the Superfluous Pilot.

Among the passengers on an Atlantic liner when she left New York recently was a charming young woman from St. Louis, who was making her first trip abroad. The vessel had not proceeded far when the fair passenger approached the captain and said:

"The ship appears to be stopping, captain. Why should we stop here?"

"We stop here to let the pilot off," was the reply.

"To let the pilot off?" exclaimed the young woman in a tone of polite incredulity. "Do you mean to say that the pilot doesn't cross the ocean with us and direct the course?"

"I mean just that," answered the captain.

The fair passenger pondered for a bit. Then smiling as if a bright idea had occurred to her, she added: "Oh, I suppose after he has set the rudder pointing in the right direction that there's nothing left for him to do, so he goes."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Ins and Outs.

"He ran through a fortune and then shot himself. He had more money than brains."

"I see. He blew in his money and then blew out his brains."—Philadelphia Press.

RIGHTS UNDER A PATENT.

Each of the Three Constitutes a Separate Monopoly.

To make, to use and to sell are the only ways in which an invention is capable of commercial enjoyment. The patentee can, if he wishes, sit down and not only not use the invention himself, but prevent others from making or using or selling the patented thing. If any one else makes, uses or sells the subject of the patent the courts will grant the patentee an injunction against further infringement and a recovery of the profits made.

Each of these three rights—to make, to use and to sell—is a separate monopoly and may, by proper instruments, be granted or sold separately. For instance, a patentee of a machine could grant to a manufacturer the exclusive right to make the machines for him (of course under proper restrictions as to price, etc.), and the manufacturer would be an infringer if he used the machines or sold them to others. The patentee could then grant to a jobber the exclusive right to sell the machines (reserving proper compensation to himself, such as a percentage of the profits), and the jobber would be an infringer if he either made or used the machine. The exclusive right to use the machines could then be granted to a given consumer, who in turn would have no right to make or sell the machines.

The exclusive right to use an invention for each of several given purposes can be separately sold. For instance, a patentee of a process for making watch dials not only sold the exclusive right to make watch dials by that process, but he also sold to a separate company the exclusive right to use the process in making enameled signs under the same patent. The watch manufacturer would have been an infringer if he had made signs and, vice versa, the sign manufacturer would have been restrained from making watch dials.

A process of drying gunpowder was found to be applicable to drying breakfast foods, and the owners, after getting all they had ever looked for from the patent from the gunpowder rights, reaped a second and unexpected harvest from the sale of the rights for breakfast foods. The rights under a patent for a machine can be divided in the same way.—Edwin J. Prince in Engineering Magazine.

FRIDAY DECEMBER 7.

How many of you read the president's message? Hands up.

Wilson and Rocky Mount are both talking street cars. It is time for Greenville to wake up and take notice.

The war between the United States and Japan is on paper only, or rather in the papers. And it will end there.

The president has congress on his hands and congress has the president on its hands. Between the two they have their hands full.

Thaw says if he gets out of this scrape he will leave America forever and take up his residence in Paris. America would hardly miss him.

W. W. Finley, of Washington City, has been elected president of the Southern railway to succeed the late Samuel Spencer. He has been second vice president of the road for about ten years.

The Reflector has been asked to get the sentiment of the business men of Greenville relative to the holding of church bazaars. The columns of the paper are open to any who wish to express themselves.

There is a proposition to increase the pay of congressmen and senators from $5,000 to $7,000 per year, the advance to be effective March 4th, 1909. Buite naturally all the members will be in favor of it.

As Bud Abernethy had escaped and is on the other side of the continent, the pardon granted by the governor and afterward cancelled will not have any effect one way or the other on his Christmas.

The Atlantic and North Carolina railroad and the Raleigh and Famlco Sound railroad, have been merged with the Norfolk and Southern, and hereafter they will all be one system operated under the latter name.

The proposition of W. D. Boyce, a multi-millionaire publisher of Chicago, to take over the government postal business by a big corporation and run it for half what the government is paying for it, would indicate that there is much useless cost in the conduct of this department.

A Paris paper has employed Count Boni de Castellane at a large salary to do special writing. The dispatches say he is incompetent as a writer, but the paper that employed him no doubt thinks the notriety he secured in the divorce trial will be a drawing card.

Good Advice Every where.

There should be no "factio." in this little city of ours. Every improvement made enhances the value of all property in and surrounding the town. We should live as one big family, and we believe few towns can show up a more progressive and intellectual family. We have as few "black sheep" in our place as any flock in the State. When there is discord in the family there is little progress. When there is a united pull there is little we cannot accomplish. Envy, jealousy and hatred pull us all down. Envy is a canker that gnaws at the heart and makes one sour, disgruntled and unhappy. Jealousy makes one unfair in passing judgment; hatred does not pay even from a ordid point of view. Let us all be friends and pull together and show our neighbors what a large and harmonious family can accomplish in building up a town. —Mount Olive Tribune.

The tobacco crop is so near sold that not much is coming to market now. But what comes sells for high prices.

For Sale—Valuable farm 7 miles from Greenville, contains 109 acres, 30 acres cleared and 30 more easily taken in. For further particulars apply to Reflector office.

$75. Reward.

James Bell, a white man about 48 years old, about 5 feet 10 inches high, weight about 140 pounds, brown eyes and black hair, droop shoulders, slender built, follows profession of machinist and carpenter, escaped from State farm at Tillery. The State will pay a reward of $25 and expenses for his capture and delivery to the State prison at Raleigh, and I will supplement the above with an additional reward of $50. L. W. Tucker, Sheriff of Pitt county.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

The Words Sounded All Right to Little Helen.

Helen went to a little party. She returned much earlier than expected, and her mother, fearing that something had gone wrong, questioned her. Helen was very fond of using words that she considered fine sounding. She replied:

"I stayed until they went out in the dining room, and then I saw that there were eleven little girls and only ten chairs. I thought I'd tell Ruthie's mother as polite as I could that there weren't chairs enough. So I stayed in the other room, and when she came and asked me why I didn't come out with the other little girls I just told her. I said that she perpetually didn't expect some one, and I didn't go out because there was no incentive. She didn't seem to understand the words, and I couldn't think of any cinnamons, so I came home."

"Did you mean 'no vacancy?'" inquired her mother.
 "Yes," answered Helen, "that was one of the words I couldn't think of."

"And the other word was 'evidently?'"

"Yes," replied Helen, dismissing the subject. "But I hope I'll never show my ignorance of the English language as plainly as Ruthie's mother did this afternoon."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Bernard Shaw Story.

Arnold Daly, the actor, was talking about George Bernard Shaw.

"Mr. Shaw is a vegetarian," he said, "and I once attended a vegetarian banquet in London at which he was the guest of honor. The fare was excellent."

"Mr. Shaw, of course, had to make an address, and I well remember one thing he said. He said that they who persevered in vegetarianism soon became as fond of vegetables as a certain aged Scot was fond of—was fond of—"

"He faltered and said that this Scot was one day observed to limp painfully. A friend stopped him and said:

"What! Lame?"
 "Temporarily," the Scot replied. "I went home sober last night, and my faithful dog gripped me by the leg."

Safe in His Pocket.

The late Duke of Cambridge used to tell with considerable relish the following story of a friend of his, a celebrated colonel:

During the Egyptian war of '82 Major — was shot in the knee, and the projectile made a hole of some depth. When the surgeons were probing the wound and causing endless torture the poor officer begged to know what they were hunting about for.

"We're searching for the bullet," was the reply.

"What! Looking for the bullet? Why, I've had it in my pocket all the time."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Only an Appetizer.

Many years ago dried solan geese, from the Orkneys, used to be imported into Scotland, says the author of "My Strange Pets," and served there as an appetizer, a morsel being eaten at the beginning of a meal.

A worthy farmer gave a dinner to some of his neighbors and in the course of it asked one if he would have "another portion" of the roast.

"I think I will," replied the other. "I ate a bit of solan goose afore I left hame, and it has made me very hungry."

"I dinna believe in the solan geese," broke in another guest. "I et a whole one afore I cam awa, and I dinna feel a bit the hungrier for it."

Mrs. McCall — Your big sister, Mary and that Mr. Lovett seem to be pretty thick, don't they?

Great Luck.

"I had great luck tonight. I didn't have to hang on a strap going home."

"Lots of room, eh?"
 "No; I couldn't get in the car."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

"What would you rather do above all other things?"

"Above all other things? Why, ride in an airship."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
