OCEAN SWALLOWS UP BREAK-WATER.

Remarkable Phenomenon at Fort Macon.

Morehead City, N. C., Dec. 8.—Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock Captain Pough, of Fort Macon like saving station was startled to realize that the embankments, breakwater and large pier was settling.

The breakwater just in front of the main building has completely disappeared and there is now over fifty feet of water, where only prior to the giving way of the heavy rocks there was three feet above the high water mark. The large wharf in front of the building settled until the water would not let it settle and Captain Pough says this morning there is over 50 feet of water where generally there was about eight to ten feet on an average high tide.

Captain Pough called his men out, and they moved everything they could out of the station, for fear they would all be swallowed up. He says the main building is all in tact now but in a dangerous position. He lost all his wood for the winter that was piled along the breakwater. He says there was no shock or anything to attract his attention except the gradual settling of the earth. He says there are large cracks running on the hills now.

The disturbance lasted fully forty minutes, the foundation around the east end of the building has settled about five feet. The citizens here think it was caused by the gradual heavy current settling against that point of beach and had cut a subterranean channel under the breakwater and beach.

At five o'clock this evening the beach is within two feet of the life station. The beach is now gradually sinking. The doors in the main building cannot be closed. The beach has given away about ten feet during the day. The station and all buildings are expected to go at any time.—Releigh News and Observer.

An Old Printer Takes a Whirl at the College Lads Who Spell "Tale"

"T-a-i-l."

"Talking about spelling," said the staff man who came up through the "print shop," "these college dudes can't spell the simplest word. And the strange thing about it all, is that you cannot teach them to spell. I would rather train a greenhorn than one of your college cubs.

"My cub fetched in a fine story the other day and in telling of a fellow who told a strange tale he spelt that familiar word 't-a-i-l.' The next day he said, 'T-h-e-r-e friends deserted them, leaving them to while away the time in the dark coal prison cell.' I have a list of such breaks. I wish every fellow could study the Blue Back or take a turn at setting type before he enters a newspaper shop.

"This boy that I have in mind is a college graduate. He took some such honors as magna cum laude, but he can't spell plain English words."—Charlotte Observer.

Good Singer.

Mr. C. C. Clough, who sings the illustrated songs in the Cameragraph Company, spent Sunday here and sang the offertory at both the morning and evening service in the Baptist church. He has an excellent baritone voice and his songs were much enjoyed by the congregation.

Twelve years old today.

This has been an anxious day with the cotton men.

There are rumors of a number of marriages in the near future.

Greenville Volunteer Fire Co., will hold its monthly meeting tonight.

Next Friday will be observed by the public schools as North Carolina day.

In two weeks now the fire crackers will start, provided they don't start sooner.

Several business changes are in contemplation for the first of the coming year.

Mr. Merchant, it is time you were writing your Christmas advertisements.

The Reflector printery has recently added a large lot of new type. Our job printing is not beaten every day.

J. M. Moore & Bro., who purchased the Parkerson stock on Five Points, will enlarge it and increase the business.

The moving picture and illustrated song entertainment in the opera house tonight will be a very interesting one of the kind.

Special Policeman J. J. Jenkins killed a dog on the street Saturday afternoon. Pity but what more of them met the same fate.

Weather.

□ Rain tonight, warmer in east-portion, Tuesday clearing and colder.

Guilford Pippin and Hattie Doward.

Cotton.

"In 1784, now only 64 years, since, an American vessel, with eighty bales of cotton on board her, was seized at Liverpool, on the plea that so large an amount of cotton could not have been produced in the United States. In 1785, the shipment amounted to 14 bales; in 1786, to 56 bales; in 1787, to 109; in 1788, to 389; in 1789, to 842. In 'Norman, New Orleans and Environs,' we read the following anecdote; 'An old Carolina planter having gathered his crop of five acres, was so surprised and alarmed at the immense amount they yielded which was fifteen bales, that he exclaimed: Well, well! I have done with cotton—here is enough to make stockings for all the people in America.' How many stockings would the crop of 1847 make, which will in all probability number about 2,250,000 bales?"

10,025,000 Bales.

The government ginners' report issued today places the number of bales cotton ginned up to December 1st at 10,025,000

Opera House Tonight.

You will enjoy the life motion pictures and the latest songs illustrated, in the Cameragraph show in the opera house tonight. The admission is only 15 and 25 cents, no reserved seats.

Mr. Elbert A. Moye, Sr., and Miss Lucy Johnston will be married at the home of a friend on Tuesday afternoon, December 18th at four o'clock. No cards, but all friends invited.

Mr. Plyler to Greenville.

The appointments of the North Carolina Conference at Rocky Mount were read out today. Rev. M. T. Plyler was sent to Greenville station, and Rev. J. A. Hornaday, former pastor here, goes to Roxboro.

December Lightning.

Durham had a thunder storm a few days ago, during which one residence was struck by lightning, and the electric power plant also sustained some damage. It was unusual for the time of year.

Seven Killed Near Marion.

Marion Dec. 8.—In an explosion which occurred near Marion today, in a tunnel on the South & Western Railway seven men were killed and seven injured, one white and five negroes and one Indian. No names, either of the dead or the injured, have been learned. The explosion was caused by a man hammering on a box of dynamite with a hammer.

"Old Pictures in New Frames."

In his recent Sunday evening sermons Rev. J. E. Ayscue, pastor of the Baptist church, has been giving interesting talks on prominent Bible characters and drawing practical lessons therefrom. So far in this series which he calls "old pictures in new frames" his subjects have been "Saul the tragic," "Peter, the triumphant," "Belshazzar, the wicked" and Esther and her opportunity." In the latter his tribute to woman and the power of her influence was beautiful.

Complete Sunday Mail Service.

Postmaster Flanagan has been notified that beginning next Sunday a mail clerk will be placed on trains No. 58 and 59 on Sundays and give the same service as on other days of the week. For sometime Greenville has been getting what is known as pouch mail, but there was no mail clerk on the Sunday trains to distribute mails. Now an extra railway mail clerk will be put on which will give Greenville and all the smaller towns along this road benefit of the full railway postal clerk service.

"The Bad Man's After Me."

We know a very small boy who with several of his playmates engaged in a rumpus. Before going to bed that night he was reminded of his naughty conduct. In the small hours of the night his parents were awakened by sobs coming from the corner occupied by the little boys' bed. Inquiring as to what he was crying about brought the answer "I can't sleep 'cause the bad man's after me." Even though coming from such a young hopeful it was another reminder of that oft-quoted admonition "Be sure your sin will find you out."

Original Inconsequential.

This little story comes from the South:

The first slice of the Christmas goose had been cut, and the negro minister, who had been invited to dine, looked at it with as keen anticipation as was displayed in the faces around him.

"Dat's as fine a goose as I ever saw, Brudder Williams," he said to his host. "Where did you get such a fine one?"

"Well, now, Mistah Rawlins," said the carver of the goose, with a sudden access of dignity, "when you preach a special good sermon I never axes you where you got it. Seems to me dat's a trivial matter, anyway.—The Home Magazine.

The following from the Rich Square Times can be read with much profit: "A single bitter word may disquiet an entire family for a whole day. One surly glance casts a gloom over the whole household, while a smile, like a gem of sunshine, may light up the darkest and weariest hours. Like unexpected flowers, which spring up along our path, full of freshness, fragrance and beauty, do kind words and gentle acts and sweet dispositions, make glad the home where peace and blessings dwell. No matter how humble the abode, if it be thus garnished with grace and sweetened with kindness and smiles, the heart will turn lovingly toward it from the tumult of the world, and it will be the dearest spot beneath the circuit of the sun. And the influence of homeperpetuate themselves."

RAILROAD ENJOINED.

People on Pitt Street South of Town Limits Want Damages.

People walking out Pitt street from Ninth to where the "Y" of the Norfolk and Southern railroad is being constructed, can see numerous signs posted along where the grading has been done on that street beyond the town limits. These signs warn the railroad contractors against laying any cross ties or track along this portion of the street and not to remove any more dirt therefrom.

The board of aldermen of Greenville gave the railroad permission to use Pitt street from the southern boundary of the town to the depot site on Ninth street but had no jurisdiction beyond the town limits. The street is opened some distance south of the town boundaries, and it is the people living along that portion of it who are enjoining the railroad from further work. They claim that they have been trespassed upon and damaged and want remuneration accordingly. They insist that the railroad must either pay what they demand or else proceed according to law to have the property condemned and assessed.

It is hardly likely that the trouble will delay the building of road any, yet it is hoped the differences can be easily adjusted. Greenville wants to see the new railroad running trains here just as quick as possible.

SHEEP OR CURS.

Is it to be the stock raisers sheep or the worthless curs that are for all time to have the run of the farm? The following item from the Greenville Reflector makes the question very pertinent at this time—a few weeks before the convening of the legislature.

Mr. O. L. Joyner has been trying to raise sheep at his stock farm two miles above Greenville, and had built up his flock to over 100 head. A few nights ago dogs invaded his pasture and almost annihilated the flock. Mr. Joyner says he can find only twenty five or thirty live sheep, while the ground was strewn with dead ones. The dogs had just knawed the throats of the sheep and left them in a condition from which they died. It is a heavy loss and something ought to be done to protect stock raisers against such depredations by dogs.

We agree with The Reflector that something ought to be done to protect stock raisers against such depredations by worthless dogs, and we suppose if one were to lay that proposition before every member of the legislature the declarations would be unanimous in favor of the sheep; but when it came to legislative action for the protection of the farmers the friends of the curs would be greatly in the majority. Such has always been the case. Legislators will always admit, when discussing this question outside of the legislative halls, that "something ought to be done" to enable our farmers to raise sheep, but as soon as they enter the doors of those halls they become fearful that they might curtail some of the constitutional privileges of the dogs if they try to legislate for the protection of the sheep, and so nothing is ever done. Until our legislators do find some way to put a stop to the roaming of the country by the sheep killing dogs sheep raising will not become profitable in this state. This industry could be made very remunerative but all experiments will prove a dead failure and heavy expense to those who attempt them under present conditions.—Wilmington Messenger.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 10.

TWELVE YEARS OLD.

The Daily Reflector is twelve years old today and makes a new start for another year. Its parent, The Eastern Reflector, is much older than this and will begin its twenty-sixth year with January.

The past career of the paper is so well known to most of our readers that little will be said of it now—only a brief reference to the year just closed. While The Reflector has done a larger volume of business than ever before, from a financial standpoint it has been the worst year in the history of the paper. To be plain it has lost money, and a good bit of it. This may sound like a strange statement of a business that is growing, yet it is true. It has cost more to do business than ever before, and the ratio of expense has increased more rapidly than the income.

Of course there are causes for this, but the fault is due to business policy of the paper and not with its patrons. For weeks past we have been thinking over these causes and planning how to correct them, for having no resources except its earnings we realized that the avenues of loss must be closed or the paper would have to stop. We are satisfied our patrons do not want the paper to stop, and believe when they know the facts they will be willing to help correct the trouble, hence we are making a plain statement to them. It is the best policy in any business to do this.

One source of loss to the paper has been its advertising rates. These have not been changed in accordance with the enlarged size and increased circulation of the paper. In fact the advertising rates are no higher than when The Reflector was only a small paper with about one-third the circulation it now has, and the receipts from this source have not covered the expense of carrying the advertisements. Any good business man will know this was bad policy and should be corrected. So for the coming year a somewhat higher rate will be charged for advertisements, yet the new rate made leaves the price charged by The Reflector much lower than other papers of its class, as we have recently had a comparison of rates with several. Our increase in rate now will be small, but each year hereafter it will be made in accordance with the circulation and expense of carrying the advertisements. We believe this will be best and most satisfactory to all. The Reflector has never received a dollar that did not give full value for it that shall always be its policy.

For the present the size of the paper will be as you see it today, but it can be enlarged whenever the demand arises. What is taken off in size will be made up in quality, as it will give us more time to look after the interest of both the readers and advertisers.

Another element of loss to the business of late has been sending out a large semi-weekly paper at the price at which we formerly sent it once a week. This was not a wise step and has not paid its way, as every semi-weekly paper sent has been at a loss. The experience has taught us that a large semi-weekly paper cannot be furnished at $1 a year. So to correct this loss beginning with January The Eastern Reflector will only be sent once a week, but it is our purpose to increase the quantity of reading matter and make it in every way a better paper, so that the reader will be getting just as much or more for his money.

As said in the outset we believe all will agree with us that the plan outlined above is best and will help us to carry it out, for really the loss must stop or the paper must of necessity cease to exist.

The Reflector has always had faith in its patrons and appreciates the way they have stood by it in laboring for the best interest of this section, and we do not believe there is a single one who wants to see us lose money on the business.

In Self Defense

Major Hamm, editor and manager of the Constitutionalist, Eminence, Ky. when he was fierer y attacked 4 years ago, by Piles, bought a box of Bucklen's Aarica Salve, of which he says: "It cured me in ten days and no trouble since." Quickest healer of Burns, Sores, Cuts and wounds. 25 at J. L. Wooten's drug store.

For chapped and cracked hands nothing is quite as good as an application of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Put on before going to bed, use an old pair of gloves and see what a difference the morning will bring. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is a mistake to use a violent cathartic to open the bowels. A gentle movement will accomplish the same results without causing distress or serious consequences later. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are recommended. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

I pay no tax—I pay no duty,
Often busted—without a cent;
But a king among men—from disease I'm free.
Since taking Rocky Mountain Tea.
Wooten's Drug Store.

My heart and hand another claimed,
His plea had come too late,
It's ever thus with people without pluck and vim,
Take Rocky Mountain Tea, don't get left again.
Wooten's Drug Store.

Open the bowels and get the cold out of your system. Kennedy's Laxative, (containing) Honey and Tar opens the bowels and at the same time allays the inflammation of the mucous membranes. Drives out the cold and stops the cough. Absolutely free from any opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is the best safeguard against indigestion, biliousness and dyspepsia, known to mankind. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea or Tablets, 85 cents. W. S. Wooten's Drug Store.

It is noticeable a cold seldom comes on when the bowels are freely open. Kennedy's Laxative, (containing) Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. Taste as pleasant as maple sugar. Free from all opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Jno. J. Wooten's Drug Store.

Any thin or undeveloped girl or woman will be benefited by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It is one of the greatest known remedies for people strong, healthy and well. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents.
Wooten's Drug Store.

A man with a sprained ankle will use a crutch, rest the bnkle and let it get well. A man or woman with an over-worked stomach can't use a crutch, but the stomach must have rest just the same. It can be rested too without starvation. Kodol will do it. Kodol performs the digestive work of the tired stomach and corrects the digestive apparatus. Kodol fully conforms to the provisions of the National Pure Food and Drug Laws. Recommended and sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves regulates the bowels, aids the kidneys, cures stomach troubles, builds up the nervous force and repairs the ill effects of over eating. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents.
Wooten's Drug Store.

A TEXAS WONDER.

There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctor gave me up to die of Consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds. Now, after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured." Only sure cough and Cold cure. Guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten Druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, at whose laboratory Kodol is prepared, assure us that this remarkable digestant and corrective for the stomach conforms fully to all provisions of the National Pure Food and Drug Law. The Kodol laboratory is a very large one, but if all the sufferers from indigestions and stomach troubles could know the virtues of Kodol it would be impossible for the manufacturers to keep up with the demand. Kodol is sold here by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.
