

OLD ABE PETERS

BY JOE CONE
COPYRIGHT 1906 BY JOE CONE

ABE PETERS was a Yankkee man an' sharper than a pin. He lived way out in Lonesome Lane, all by himself, an' he would never visit other folks or ask his neighbors in. An' never had Thanksgivin' or a Christmas jubilee. He was the sharpest feller in a trade you ever knew. He was the closest buyer ever seen around the town. An' if he lent a dollar he was sure to get back two. An' always took advantage of the feller who was down. The old folks used to talk of him beside the fire at night. An' dwell upon his dealin's in a most peculiar way. The children used to mock him when he chanced to come in sight. An' this is but a sample of the things they used to say:

"Old Abe Peters of Lonesome Lane,
Old Abe Peters in town again,
Poor as a buzzard an' mean as a crow,
With lots of money, but none to show—
Old—Abe—Peters!"

There come a mighty blizzard, an' it buried Lonesome Lane. Abe Peters he was covered under seven foot of snow; He tried to leave his shanty, but he found it all in vain; Each day he grew more frightened, with his fodder runnin' low. Some said, "Let's dig out Peters," an' some said, "No; let him go." They argued o'er the matter till the week was on the wane,

Till finally they ventured, half a score of souls or so,
An' this is what they shouted as they dug out Lonesome Lane:

"Old Abe Peters, unbuckle your gold;
Old Abe Peters, we're dry an' cold;
Cider or coffee or crackers an' beer
Or money to buy us some Christmas cheer—
Old—Abe—Peters!"

Abe Peters saw 'em comin' from his garret window pane;
He saw 'em diggin' fiercely through the mighty drifts of snow.
His heart warmed for a moment; then it turned to ice again.
He scowled with selfish malice on the workers down below.
And did he pass 'em coffee? Did he offer Christmas cheer?
An' thank 'em for their labor, which, alas, was all in vain?
He warned 'em from his dooryard in a manner most severe.
An' sued 'em all for trespass when he got around again.

"Abe Peters has vanished from Lonesome Lane;
Abe Peters will never come back again,
Just where he is quartered we do not know,
But it's safe to reckon he's found no snow—
Old—Abe—Peters!"

Abe Peters saw 'em comin'.

THE PATIENT REINDEER

AWAY up under the arctic circle is Santa Claus Land. It is the land of ice and snow, of sleds and reindeer, of queer little huts in which live queer little people, the Eskimos. There can be no doubt that this is Santa Claus Land, because the old saint who comes down to the warmer and more lovely lands of all the world every Christmas eve and leaves many gifts for the children is himself dressed in heavy skins and furs, just as the Eskimos dress, and he rides in an arctic sled drawn by swift little reindeer.

Santa Claus Land is very unlike ours. It has no pretty gardens in summer nor any green fields or forests. On the contrary, it is always bleak and barren. The winters are very long and very cold. In the northernmost parts the sun is seldom seen in winter, the night being nearly six months long. The people dwell in huts built of ice and snow during the winter and in tents made of the dried skins of seals and reindeer during the summer. The reindeer supplies them with their only means of "rapid transit" during the long arctic night when the sledge dogs grow sullen and drowsy. It travels in the darkness as well as in daylight and gives rich milk, which may be made into butter or cheese. When slaughtered the reindeer's meat is eaten, and his hide is made into clothing for the Eskimos or stretched over poles and dried for use in making tents.

All the people of Santa Claus Land—men, women and children—are clothed in reindeer skins or sealskins. In summer they wear one suit and in winter two suits. All wear big hoods, called parkas, of fur, and in these hoods the mothers sometimes carry their babies. In certain parts of the frozen regions the babies are carried on their mothers' backs, next to the skin, for warmth, while elsewhere it is the custom to carry the infant about in one of the big deerskin or sealskin boots of the mother.

Reindeer, sure footed and fleet, are the motive power for freight and passenger trains in the great white north. They can travel from 50 to 100 miles a day, drawing laden sleds. In Alaska, which is Uncle Sam's section of Santa Claus Land, there is a reindeer mail and express sled, which travels ninety-five miles a day all through the winter.

The reindeer was introduced into Alaska only about a dozen years ago by the Rev. Dr. Sheldon Jackson, who, under the authority of the United States government, brought a small herd from northern Siberia. Since then Dr. Jackson has brought thousands of reindeer into Alaska, and they have multiplied rapidly.

They are now very generally employed in carrying the mail, in the transportation of supplies and in carrying passengers between the various mining towns and camps. The native Eskimos also find them very valuable as a food and clothing supply.

In late years the Christmas tree has been introduced among some of the Eskimos where the Christian religion is taught by missionaries. This makes it very handy for Santa Claus, who lives there, of course, but usually it is a most difficult matter to get the tree. Sometimes a poor little bush is carried hundreds of miles on a reindeer sled to reach the hut, or igloo, of an Eskimo family.

Eskimo children, however, are by no means lacking in merriment. They have their games, quite different from ours, yet played with just as much zest. One of their favorite games is football, though they play it in a manner quite different from the American college method. The children get a big old glove or boot, stuff it with waste fur or bits of skin, sew up the opening and kick and cuff the crude ball about over the frozen snow in great glee. Eskimo children also indulge in coasting. They use no little sleds, however, but simply slide down the steep snow banks on their knees, which are well protected by the thick deerskin breeches worn by all. Sometimes they tumble over and go down headforemost, but there is seldom any injury to their little bodies, owing to the remarkable thickness and softness of their garments.

Sometimes the Eskimo men step outside the huts and play many many degrees below zero and enjoy a wrestling match which keeps them warm enough, no matter how cold the hut and water may be around the fire, telling tales of adventures from ancient times or singing quaint songs of folklore.

The Eskimo children, except at one or two points here, go to no school. But from their infancy they are schooled in the various items of daily labor which it is necessary for all of them to know. They learn how to gather and dry moss, to catch the scant driftwood that comes their way and to extract blubber. These three things are their only fuel. The boys learn how to fish and hunt and the girls, in a crude way, how to cook. One of the chief duties of the women is to tend the soapstone lamps, which both light and heat the huts in which the Eskimos live. These must be well fed with hunks of blubber. The little girls learn lamp-tending when they are scarcely old enough to toddle.

Later they become proficient in the curing of walrus meats and the drying of fish. The girls also learn how to prepare the feathered skins of certain birds for fashioning into soft and comfortable underclothing.

AT MASONIC TEMPLE OPERA HOUSE.

Tuesday Night 25th, 1906.

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock there will be indeed one of the most unique Christmas entertainments ever seen here. Every Sunday school in Greenville proposes to enter heartily into it. The spirit that prompts it, the purpose for which it is held, and the interesting program to be had all commend it to the people of the town and it is desired not only that those who attend Sunday School shall go, but that every man, woman and child in Greenville shall go. You are invited and earnestly requested to be present. Nobody is left out. Carry with you some little gift that you are willing to make and these will all be collected and the hearts of those who need them will be glad by these little gifts. We do earnestly request the grown people as well as the children to make this "gift giving" one of the main features of the entertainment, and Greenville will have the happiest Christmas it has ever had. Be on hand promptly at 8 o'clock, enter into the spirit of the meeting, bring your little gift, and no three quarters of an hour of your life will be better spent. A TEXAS WONDER.
There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctor gave me up to die of Consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds. Now, after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured." Only sure cough and cold cure. Guaranteed by Jno. L. Wooten Druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
