

REFORMATORY.

Restraining the Cigarette and Dope Habits of Higher Importance.

Youthful criminals should not be confirmed with old and vicious offenders, for such association hardens their natures and lessens the chances of ever reclaiming them. I will, therefore, throw no obstacles in the way of establishing some kind of a reformatory for young offenders, provided you find it expedient and the State can now afford it.

At the last session of the General Assembly, in order to protect youthful criminals all I could do, I sent a special message, and got the Legislature to pass a law allowing me to grant a conditional pardon, or rather pardon, on parole. Under this authority, I have taken several young criminals out of prison and got them good homes where they are being properly trained. Under this parole, if the criminal remains of good behavior, he is free; if he violates his parole, he is returned to prison. The law has worked well, and with the help of good people in securing suitable homes, I believe I can reclaim the wayward boys without cost to the State.

Therefore, as this is a matter of grave importance and no mistake should be made, and as for the present I can by parole provide homes for young criminals, would it not be wise for you to appoint or the have governor appoint a committee of wise and humane men to take the whole matter into consideration and report to the next Legislature if a reformatory is absolutely needed, and if so, to recommend the kind most suitable for such criminals, and then with all necessary information before them, there will be slight chance of there being any mistake made?

In this connection, I desire most earnestly to ask this question. Why is there today such a crying demand for a reformatory, and what is causing so much sin and vice among our tender youth? The answer is easy, for never before were there so many temptations placed in the path of youth to warn and destroy their moral training their moral stamina. See the thousands of cigarette fiends, the opium eaters, the cocaine victims, the whiskey and beer drinkers, the soda fountain frequenters, and many others who are taking drugs, opiates, stimulants and nervous tonics, and you will see why our boys, and alas! sometimes our girls are becoming nervous wrecks and moral degenerates.

While seeking to build a reformatory to take care of our wayward youth, let us not neglect to take away the causes and curses that make such institutions necessary. Make the most stringent laws, well guarded, against selling drugs, such as cocaine, morphine, etc., except on the prescription of a practicing physician, and add penalties and forfeiture of license to a physician or druggist aiding any one to violate this law. Enforce the law most rigidly against any one selling liquor, cigarettes, opiates, etc., to minors, and compel all officers finding a boy with liquor, cigarettes, or opiates to make him testify before some justice or mayor as to where he got his liquor, cigarettes etc., and then at once arrest the offender selling to the boy, and make him liable to indictment and most severe punishment. Pass a law, also requiring regular inspections of fountains; for while connect-

ACCIDENT WITH GUN.

Boy Loses Part of His Foot.

After school Thursday afternoon Charles Rountree, John Martin and some other boys went out hunting and stopped near the railroad to watch a train go by. John Martin reversed his gun, placed the muzzle on his foot and clasped his hands across the stock, thus leaning on the gun. Charlie Rountree was standing by John with one hand resting on the latter's shoulder.

As Charlie was in the act of raising his other hand for something the cuff of his coat sleeve caught the hammer of the gun and pulled it back far enough to explode the shell in falling. The load passed through John's foot cutting off two toes and a portion of the ball of the foot.

John Martin is a son of Mr. J. W. Martin, of Bethel township, and has been boarding here attending the graded school.

Guns are dangerous things for boys to have, but they do not seem to realize it even though warned by accidents.

Mr. Mundy Will Talk Sunday Night.

Mr. J. S. Mundy, of Newark, N. J., who is a guest of Mr. Ola Forbes, has consented to make a talk in the Baptist church at the service Sunday night. His subject will be "Lost Opportunities" and the young people of the community are especially invited to hear him, for while what he says will be of interest to all it will apply chiefly to young people. Mr. Mundy has the reputation of being a forcible, practical speaker, and the opportunity of hearing him will give pleasure to many.

Jamaica Earthquake.

London, Jan. 16—A terrible earthquake on Monday afternoon is reported from Kingston, Jamaica. There was much loss of life. The shocks continue. Everybody is camping out and much distress prevails. Fires started at Kingston immediately after the earthquake.

The Jamaica-Colon and the Jamaica-Bermuda cables are interrupted.

Weather.

Generally fair tonight and Saturday.

Men will not do so many will sell in their fountains the drinks that breed the dope and liquor habits. You cannot too closely safeguard our youth by checking these fearful practices. Last year it was estimated that sixteen million dollars was spent in North Carolina for liquor and beer. Add to this equally as much for cigarettes, opiates, and so-called soft drinks, and we have about thirty-two millions a year, or $16 per capita for every man, woman and child in the State, that is wasted, or worse than wasted, while only four and a half millions is spent by our State for educating our youth and in building up our institutions, etc.

I can by parole take care of the few young criminals who are convicted and sent to prison; but you alone can stop the practices that are now at work corrupting and destroying the bodies, minds, and souls of our boys and girls. If you will only pass laws helping to save our youth before they fall, what a blessing it will be to them, and saving our youth we save the State that we love and should protect.—Extract from the Governor's Message.

HARDING-DOWD NUPTIALS.

A Popular Couple Married

The wedding of Miss Nan Tyson Dowd and Mr. William Frederick Harding was celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. J. Dowd, at No. 701 North Tryon street, last evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony, which was impressively said by Rev. H. K. Boyer, pastor of Tyron Street Methodist church, took place in the north parlor of the Dowd home, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. While the vows were being taken the couple stood before an improvised altar of palms and ferns.

The wedding scene was a very pretty one. As the Richardson Trio started playing Mendelssohn's wedding march, little Misses Julia Bryan, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mildred Means began descending the windings' airway, carrying baskets of La France roses and scattering the petals the way the couple would come. The little maidens were daintily gowned in white China silk, with pink silk sashes. Following the flower girls were Miss Jean Dowd, dressed in white organdy over silk and carrying pink carnations, and Mr. Edward, niece and nephew of the bride. Next came Mrs. E. K. Bryan, of Memphis, Tenn., sister of the bride, and her dame of honor. Mrs. Bryan wore white chiffon, trimmed in round thread medallions and lace and carried La France roses. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Willis B. Dowd, of New York, and was met at the altar by the groom, who entered with his brother and best man, Mr. Fordyce Harding, of Greenville. The bride wore a gown of white ivory satin, trimmed in duchess and rose point lace, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lillies of the valley. Her veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms.

Immediately after the wedding the bride and groom were tendered a reception by the bride's mother, after which they left for Pinehurst, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride is one of the most talented and accomplished young women in the city, has a circle of friends and admirers as wide as her circle of acquaintances. The groom is one of the most popular and able young members of the Charlotte bar. He is a native of Greenville and came to Charlotte about four years ago.

Among the many beautiful and costly presents received by the young couple were a chest of silver from the Charlotte bar and a chest of silver from Phalanx Lodge of Masons, of which the groom is a member.

At the wedding reception that followed the wedding Mrs. Dowd was assisted in receiving by the following named: In the hall—Misses Minnie Slocumb, of Goldsboro; Pat Adams, of Monroe; Mesdames E. C. Register, W. C. Dowd, A. B. Reese and Mr. Herman Dowd; in the parlor, Mr. and Mrs. Harding, Mrs. L. J. Dowd, Mrs. E. K. Bryan, of Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Mattie Dowd, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dowd, Mr. Willis B. Dowd, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cramer; in the dining room; Mesdames A. L. Smith, W. H. Harris, C. M. Davidson, H. A. Murrill and Miss May Oates; in the library, Mesdames H. E. Adams, of Monroe; C. H. Duls and C. C. Hook. Mrs. H. S. Bryan presided, over the punch bowl, and assisting her were Mesdames W. C. Houston, of Concord; J. C. Montgomery and S. C. Brooks. At the wedding register were Mesdames T. C. Guthrie, Frank B. Smith; Misses Louise Wadsworth, Shirley Montgomery, of Concord, and Charles Hutchinson.—Charlotte Observer.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes from a Hustling Town—Ayden, N. C., Jan. 18, 1907.

Robbers—Tuesday night after B. F. Manning and family had retired he heard a noise as if some one was breaking in the house. Having heard of so many robberies and safe crackings recently his imagination at once conceived the idea that gentlemen of this peculiar art had come to give him a call. Desiring at the time no other visitors than the present inmates of his home he seized his breech loader and fired away, at the same time giving a cry which aroused his neighbors and attracted several others passing by who responded to the call of distress. With pistols galore and knives drawn they started on the hunt for the intruder of pleasant dreams and calm repose, only to find it was a hog snugly at rest under the house. Like Mr. Manning, perhaps the hog had dreamed something was after him, and awaking with a jump jarred the house, and then calmly resumed his rest. Mr. Manning is minus a window destroyed by the shot.

For eight different persons to be compelled to attend court five consecutive days when there is no excuse for postponement of case, only a member of the "profess" wishing to attend the marriage of a brother in another part of the State, is something we can neither digest or understand.

THE LEGISLATURE.

What the Law Makers are Doing. THURSDAY.

was a busy day in both branches of the General Assembly. There were many bills of local interest only, while some of great importance were introduced.

Among the principal bills in the senate was one requiring transportation companies to provide cars when shipments are tendered them, and one to prohibit misrepresentation by life insurance companies.

The reformatory bill was introduced in the house by Mr. Preston, of Mecklenburg. It would establish a reformatory and manual training school for the benefit of wayward, depraved and criminal children, provide for its government by the creation of a board of directors, and prescribe what children shall be admitted.

Representative Laughinghouse again introduced his bill allowing prisoners awaiting trial to work on roads at their request, making it apply to Pitt County only. Representatives of twenty other counties asked to be included in the bill and which these added it passed.

Other important bills in the house were: To separate white and colored passengers on street railways; to encourage immigration; to fix punishment when parties are convicted of carrying concealed weapons; to encourage the writing of history of counties established prior to 1861; to authorize corporation commission to require railroads to maintain more passenger trains and make connections.

The Englishman's Frank Toast.

A well-known local minister who has just returned from an extended Western trip tells the following:

Recently in Los Angeles five prominent gentlemen of foreign birth chanced to meet. One was a Russian, one a Turk, one a Frenchman, one an American and one an Englishman. These gentlemen became bosom friends, and finally a champagne supper was proposed, at which each gentleman, to be in keeping with the times, was to give a toast to his native country, the one giving the best to be at no expense for the wine. Here are the toasts given;

The Russian—"Here's to the siars and bars of Russia, that were never pulled down,"

The Turk—"Here's to the moons of Turkey, whose wings were never clipped,"

The Frenchman—"Here's to the cook of France, whose feathers were never picked."

The American—"Here's to the stars and stripes of America, never trailed in defeat"

The Englishman—"Here's to the rampin' roarin' lion of Great Britian, that tore down the stars and bars of Russia, clipped the wings off the cock of France and ran like h-l from the stars and stripes of the United States of America.

RAILROAD LAWS.

From the number of bills that are being introduced in the present legislature regarding railroads, one might think that there is a general fight on against them, but we do not believe such is the intent of that body. The people have been long suffering in their treatment by the railroads and some legislation regarding these is needed. At the same time no drastic measures should be enacted, but what is done should be equally fair to the railroads as to the people. Out of the number of bills introduced the best features in each might be brought together in a law that will meet the requirements, and we believe the men composing this general assembly can be trusted to do this justly. The corporation commission should be given larger power in controlling the operations of railroads; there should be a reduction in both passenger fares and freight rates to an equitable basis; schedules and connections should be made to conform more to the convenience of the public; needless delays in freights should be corrected; a fair tax valuation according to earning capacity should be made, and above all the danger of accidents should be lessened.

All these can be brought about in a way that will benefit the public and at the same time not cripple the railroads. Railroads are much abused, and no doubt a great deal of it is deserved, but they are useful and beneficial to every community they enter. The people have rights that the railroads should respect, and the railroads have rights that the people should respect, and the laws that are enacted governing them should be equally fair to all.

Pitt county should ask the present legislature for an opportunity to submit to a vote of the people the question of issuing bonds for good roads.

Senator Tillman is much a man, even if he does make a spectacle of himself occasionally.

Brownsville has become one of the best known places on the map.

The State cannot call it providing for the old soldiers as long as it only gives them a little Christmas money. True, the State may be doing its best, but in this case the best is not much. —Durham Herald.

According to the Chicago Tribune there were 9,350 murders and homicides in the United States last year, with 123 legal executions. These latter figures explain the first. —Raleigh Times.

Tomorrow will be the anniversary of Gen. R. E. Lee's birthday.

Good Performance Given Last Night.

A good audience attended the Opera House last night to see "The Fatal Wedding" presented by the Williams Comedy Company. The show was one of the best of the series given this week by this well known company. All the parts were well taken and those present showed their appreciation by giving the closest attention.

The specialties between acts are alone well worth the price of admission.

The comedy parts were well taken up in fact the entire company were at their best.

The company is one of the strongest to visit Washington this season and should be well patronized. —Washington Messenger.

The above attraction will be here all next week.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the present General Assembly of North Carolina to pass a bill submitting to a vote of the people of Greenville a proposition to issue $50,000 bonds to complete the sewerage system of said town and for street improvement.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Mothers who give their children Kenne dy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably endorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains honey and tar. It is the original laxative cough syrup and is unrivaled for the relief of croup. Drives the cold out through the bowels. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

The camel must be all right other wise nature wouldn't have backed him up.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant and safe Syrup called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for croup, that's all. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

To stop a cold with "preventives" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventives will head off all colds and Grippe and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventives are little toothsome cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventives. They will surely check the cold, and please you. are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and so prove it he has created a little pink tablet. This tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruse your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

THE DEVILFISH.

Its Ability to Change Its Own and the Water's Color.

"I was lying on a rock watching the movements of some land crabs which kept retreating from the water as the tide rose, when suddenly a crab dashed frantically from the water, and out after it galloped—there is no other word for it—a devilfish nearly two feet across," writes an observer from Avalon, Cal. "The animal continued the chase a short distance, lifting its tentacles in the air in a sort of overhead motion; then, finding pursuit hopeless. It withdrew with a peculiarly unpleasant, writhing, gliding motion characteristic of these animals. Upon reaching the water it stationed itself just at the edge, so mimicking the color of the bottom that when I glanced away and looked suddenly back I could not at once distinguish it. This devilfish had the appearance of a cat watching for mice, and when a crab was seen it would shoot out a long, attenuated tentacle and attempt to seize it. By carefully insinuating my way to the water's edge I quickly grasped the specimen and after a short struggle tore it from the rocks and secured it.

"At various times I had from three to five devilfishes in an inclosure where I could watch them change color and test their strength. In confinement, if the tank bottom was dark, they assumed various tints, generally a dark reddish brown, but the largest one was a tigerlike creature, about three feet across, with a ground of livid white covered with black or dark gray blotches, giving it a truly fiendish appearance, especially as the eyes were conspicuous and appeared to emit lambent gleams. The change of color was marvelous in its rapidity. In a special tank in which two of these prisoners were confined they occupied the corners, facing outward, with arms either coiled under or above them. At any offensive movement on my part, presenting my hand under water, the color scheme would change. A blush appeared to pass over the entire surface, and in a large squid I can only compare it to heat lightning—a rapid and continued series of flushing and paling, from deep brick red to gray.

"It was very evident that the animals differed much in pugnacity. Some did not resent my touching them; others merely threw a tentacle in my direction, while one never touched me, but directed its siphon at my hand under water and sent a violent current in that direction, apparently endeavoring to blow my hand away. It was fascinating to observe the range this water gun had and how by seeming intuition the devilfish could direct it at my hand as I slowly moved it about while attempting to attract the animal's attention in an opposite direction."

When Hoops Began.

When were hoops "in" for the first time? According to Strutt, "trundling the hoop is a pastime of uncertain origin, but much in fashion at present" (1801). Dr. Murray's dictionary, incidentally remarking that the original hoop affected by boys was a barrel hoop, gives no English reference to it earlier than 1792. But the hoop was well known to ancient Greek and Roman boys, who called it a "trochus" (wheel). Their hoops were made of bronze, and representations of them on gems show that they were driven by a little hook with a wooden handle, very like the modern boy's hoop stick. This was called by the Greeks "elater" (driver) and by the Romans "clavis" (key). Sometimes the ancient hoop had bells attached to it, and modern London may be glad to be spared at least that exasperation.—London Chronicle.

Unfortunate Omission.

One of the most singular instances of punishment for an oversight was that shown by the commitment of an almanac maker to the Bastille in 1717. It was made out by order of the Duke of Orleans, regent during the minority of Louis V. of France, and read as follows: "Laurence d'Henry, for disrespect to King George I. in not mentioning him in his almanac as king of Great Britain." How long this unlucky almanac maker remained in prison is unknown. The register of the Bastille, examined at the time of the revolution, failed to throw any light on the subject.

Beards and Battles.

Shaggy locks and patriarchal beards have proved highly inconvenient things on the battlefield. Does not history record that Alexander ordered the Macedonians to be shaved lest their beards should give a handle to their enemies? Peter the Great was also a friend of the barbers, for he not only ordered all ranks to be shaven, but caused officers to go about to cut off the beards of offenders by force.

His Second.

She—I must say I don't believe in "warmed over" love. He—Well, there's one thing sure—a widower's second love is always worth more than his first. She—The idea! He—I mean his second ladylove is always worth more money than his first.—Philadelphia Press.

Womanly.

"What," she asked, "is your idea of a womanly woman?" "One," he replied, "who takes the comb out of her back hair every little while and gives it two or three upward serapes and then jabs it in again."—Chicago Record-Herald.
