SUPERIOR COURT.

These Cases Have Been Disposed of.

J. W. Ashburn, Ollen Warren, Jr., and Jesse Speight, selling tagged fertilizer, Warren guilty, others not guilty.

Josephus Hardy, malicious poisoning stock, fined $15 and costs and required to reimburse damage done to stock.

Beverly Daniel, false pretense, not guilty.

Henry Fleming, carrying concealed weapon and larceny, guilty sentenced 12 months to be assigned to roads.

John D Cox, colored, false pretense, not guilty.

P. S. Cannon, appeal from mayor's court, not guilty. The prosecutor, Frank Forbes, was taxed with the costs.

Anderson Ragland, appeal from mayor's court, guilty.

Charlie Best, false pretense, not guilty.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The grand jury made the following report to the court:

That we have, through a committee, visited the county home for the aged and infirm and found the buildings, out houses, etc. in good condition, and the inmates well fed and cared for. We would recommend that a fence be placed around the cemetery of the county home to protect it from the ravages of hogs and stock.

We have been informed by the superintendent of the county home that James H. Spain, an inmate of the home, is the father of three motherless children, and the said James H. Spain being mentally incapable of and financially unable to provide and care for said children, we recommend at the suggestion of the superintendent, that the children be bound out respectively to J. O. Proctor, Mack Williams and Joseph Dixon, who are now caring for the children.

We also beg to report that we have visited the convict camp and found the same to be in very good condition, sanitary and otherwise, and the convicts well treated and cared for.

That we have visited the jail and found the condition good as could be expected with the exception of the ground under the windows. We recommend that this be disinfected and the refuse through the windows be discontinued.

That we have visited the court room and petit jury rooms and recommend that the walls of the same be patched and cleaned.

That we have visited the offices of the several county officers and find the books and offices of the same to be well kept and in first class condition.

We recommend that the broken pains in the windows of the grand jury room be replaced with new ones, that the floor be patched and the room be supplied with a sufficient number of chairs to accommodate the grand jury.

We also recommend that the office of the clerk of Superior court be supplied with new furniture and especially does it need a new desk.

W. C. Jackson, Foreman.

Will Open Tonight.

The Williams Comedy Co., arrived yesterday morning from Kinston and will open a week's engagement here commencing tonight. The Free Press spoke well of the company and we may expect some good plays during the week.

All Executions for One Place.

Noting an editorial in the Raleigh News and Observer seriously wondering if the people of North Carolina believe in the death penalty again brings to our mind a suggestion made by one of our contemporaries some time ago. That is that the carrying out of every legal death penalty take place in the penitentiary in Raleigh First of all we most certainly believe it is the only means of meting out punishment to brutes and because we sincerely believe that crime of a capital nature would increase but for its deadly, ghastly, if you will, example. And believing in the death penalty we deem the only place to inflict it is at a fixed place. All executions should take place either at the penitentiary in Raleigh or at some one place designated and prepared for them by the State. Unquestionably this would do away with private hangings that are farcical in name and would remove much worry and trouble from all uncanny events of his type. We also sincerely believe that it would save the counties much expense, because when a hanging takes place there is always much expense attached to it and there is plenty of excitement; perhaps, hysteria. The question of finance we have not looked into sufficiently to make a positive assertion, but upon its face the proposition looks like a saver of money.

New York has two places of execution—Auburn and Sing Sing—and certainly this State should be able to have one, especially when that place need not be outside of the State prison. We believe the idea is worthy of adoption; at any rate it is certainly worthy of serious consideration.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Gas Boat Burned.

Friday evening some parties came up here from Washington on a gas boat and tied up at the wharf for the night. Sometime before day next morning one of the parties got up and struck a match. In a moment a flash of fire swept over the boat and the occupants barely had time to escape.

The boat was practically ruined by the fire. It seems that gas has been escaping from the tank and this ignited when the match was struck. We could not learn the names of the parties.

Fair tonight, colder in eastern portion, freezing temperature on the coast. Tuesday fair.

LAYMAN IN PULPIT.

Mr. J. S. Mundy Speaks in Baptist Church.

As the pastor himself remarked, it is refreshing to both pastor and congregation to sometimes have a layman to speak from the pulpit instead of the pastor preaching at every service. This opportunity was given in the Baptist church Sunday night, and it was much enjoyed by the large congregation, not that the excellent sermons of the pastor are not always appreciated, but because it is refreshing and helpful to hear the practical side of Christianity from a business man.

Mr. J. S. Mundy, of Newark, N. J., who with other friends is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ola Forbes, talked at the evening service and did it most interestingly. He is a prominent and successful business man and an earnest Christian, and was qualified to speak helpfully to his fellow man on how business and Christianity work together.

Taking as his text a portion of Galatians 6:10 "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men," Mr. Mundy first told of his own conversion forty years ago, and since that time his motto had been to embrace every opportunity to speak a word for Jesus.

By various apt illustrations he pointed out many opportunities that come in life and how they bring gain through embracing them or loss through failure to embrace them. The greatest of all opportunities is to obtain eternal life through Jesus Christ.

In giving emphasis to so no point Mr. Mundy related incidents of his own personal experience most interestingly. His admonition to honesty in all dealings with our fellow men, and to always speak the truth, (for he said a man who will lie will steal) and his warning to young people to avoid evil habits that wreck the life, were strong. He urged Christians to liberality, saying that all there is in the world and we ourselves belong to God, and we should return to God what is due Him.

It was a plain, practical talk by a practical Christian business man, and if every person present was not helped by it the fault was with the hearer.

Ladies Called Meeting.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will have a called meeting at Mrs. B. E. Parham's Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Matters of interest to all members are to be considered.

Died.

Mr. E. A. Coward a member of the drug firm of Coward & Wooten, at this place, died at 5 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. Willis Dixon, near Ormondville in Greene county. Mr. Coward had been in poor health for some time, and a few weeks ago went to the home of his sister.

He was a member of Withlacoochee Tribe of Red Men, of Greenville, and was buried Sunday afternoon with the honors of that order. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity and was held in high esteem not only by the fraternities to which he belonged but by all our people.

Fire in Kinston.

A message from Kinston this afternoon stated that the telephone exchange in that town was on fire. The message gave no particulars about the fire.

A GALA DAY IN SCOTLAND NECK.

Scotland Neck, N. C. Jan. 21st.

The Buck Kitchen Camp of United Confederate veterans celebrated Gen. Robt. E. Lee's one hundredth birthday.

I being a visitor here from old Pitt and happened to be waiting at the postoffice for my mail, about 11:30 I heard a drum beating. I looked out and saw a flag floating in the gentle breeze, being carried by the bearer, and the old veterans marching after it. Being one of the old veterans myself, it brought such a feeling on me that it seemed like something whispered to me and said, go join them. I walked across the street and fell in ranks with them and marched to the graded school building with them.

After arriving there, Capt. Butterworth being master of ceremonies, read the program for the day. First was prayer by Mr. Phelps of the Episcopal church Second, song by Mrs. Bond and others. Third reading appropriate pieces by Mr. Hilliard, editor of the Commonwealth. Fourth, music by Mrs. Bond which was most beautifully rendered, especially Dixie, which made the house roar with cheers.

Fifth, Speech by the orator of the day, Mr. Steinback, of Weldon. He made one of the best speeches that I ever heard on such an occasion. He started with General Lee when he was only four years old, and followed him to the Civil war and found him to be unequalled all the way in all of his traits. In the war as a commander his equal was not found unless it was in Stonewall Jackson. His discourse all the way from Lee's youth to his death proved him to be the greatest hero and patriot in the South.

After the speech we marched to the hotel, found one of the best oyster dinners that I ever partook of. Though a visitor, they all gave me a cordial welcome. We enjoyed the evening in talking over old times. Would write more but guess I have written enough. THOS. E. LITTLE.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

Adopted by the Methodist Sunday School, Jan. 20th 1907

Whereas, on Tuesday Jan. 15th, 1907 one of the members of this school, little Burton Brown, left his earthly home to dwell forever in his home beyond the skies, therefore be it

Resolved, that even in this hour of sorrow and bereavement we rejoice that we know that it is well with Him and that our loss for a little while is his gain for eternity.

That we extend to Burtons' parents our sympathy and pray for the comfort of Him who alone can strengthen and sustain in such an hour.

Mrs. F. G. James.
Mrs. R. M. Hearne.
G. E. Harris.
Committee.

Examination for Carriers.

On Saturday at the graded school building, an examination was held by Postmaster R. C. Flanagan of applicants for carrier in the rural mail delivery. There is a vacancy in the service in this county, the carrier from Ayden having resigned. The following persons were examined: A. L. Summerell, W. J. Hemby, J. J. Stokes, J. H. Cheek and J. A. Hatton, of Ayden, and W. E. Barrett, of Farmville.

A printer who can set ads and make up can get a position by applying to The Reflector.

CAUGHT IN PASSING.

People Whose Names the Reporter Finds

D. D. Gardner went to Bethel today.

M. R. Lang went to Washington Sunday.

J. M. Mooring spent Sunday in Bethel.

J. G. Moye spent Sunday at Conetoe.

Robert Howard spent Sunday in Conetoe.

Jesse Speight went to Norfolk Sunday.

G. E. Cherry went to Rocky Mount Sunday.

D. C. Moore Jr., went to Rocky Mount Sunday.

G. G. Fineman left this morning for Wilmington.

That Selma Connection.

The Corporation Commission has secured from Judge E. B. Jones, holding Wake Superior court, a mandamus against the Southern Railway, directing the company to show cause before him at Lillington, Feb. 5th, why connection should not be maintained with the Atlantic Coast Line at Selma. This is a proceeding independent of the suit for penalties instituted some days ago by the Commission against the Southern for refusal to obey the order of the Commission requiring this connection.

Why a Woman Was Made of a Rib.

A young lady having asked a surgeon why a woman was made from the rib of a man in preference to any other bone, he gave the following gallant answer:

She was not taken from the head lest she would rule over him; nor from his feet lest he would trample upon her; but she was taken from his side, that she might be his equal; from under his arm that he might protect her; from near his heart that he might cherish and love her.—Exchange.

Good Jury.

A lawyer remarked that he stood before the most intelligent jury last week that he had ever seen in the box in Pitt county. The jury he referred to was the one Judge Neal on Monday morning ordered the clerk to select to serve during the week and the result showed the wisdom of Judge Neal's departure from the usual custom of selecting talis jurors. The judge himself was so well pleased that he ordered these jurors to be paid the same as regular jurors, $2 per day.

A Good Calendar.

The Chattanooga Medicine Company of Chattanooga, Tenn., sent us one of their calendars and weather charts for this year. It gives a forecast of the weather every day and is one of the most useful calendars we have seen.

MONDAY, JANUARY 21 1906.

It should not be that way in a free country, but it looks like Speaker Cannon is running congress to suit himself.

If the legislature could make Wilmington and Salisbury dry, it would strike the root of the whiskey evil in North Carolina.

The year is getting old enough for another enterprise in Greenville to be getting on the way. This year should go ahead of last in the way of development.

On every hand we hear much praise of Judge W. H. Neal who is holding this term of Pitt Superior court. He is a good judge.

Representative Laughinghouse has again introduced the bill to prevent fishing in the rivers with pound nets. His bill passed the house two years ago but was killed by the senate committee. We hope the bill will have better success this time. It should become a law.

George W. Vanderbilt is the latest to be shown up as a tax dodger. While he pays taxes on $1,500,000 of real estate in Buncombe county, his personal property is listed there at only $50,000. It is known that his personal estate runs up into the millions in value, and the auditor of Buncombe county is looking into the matter to see where this personal property is listed. Private inquiry of parties in New York brought one reply that "Geo. W. Vanderbilt swore off personal taxes here two years ago, asserting that he was a resident of North Carolina. He has not been on the list since." The Buncombe auditor is going to follow this up with an official investigation and if he finds that Vanderbilt does not list his personal effects elsewhere the effort will be made to require him to list in North Carolina where he claims his residence. If he is really a tax dodger he should be made to come up.

Coffin Borne on Waves.

The body of Charles Coghlan, playwright and actor, which has been lost since the storm of September, 1900, has been found in its metal coffin on the mainland in an out of the way place.

A visitor came upon the coffin almost buried in a marsh, hidden by weeds. It had been lifted in the floods and carried nine miles from the cemetery.—Galveston Dispatch.

Convenient Building.

The building erected on Third street by Mr. E. H. Shelburn for his bottling works is a very convenient one. There are two rooms on the ground floor, one used for his bottling business and the other to be used for store or office. The second story has been arranged into convenient sleeping rooms, with a bath room at the end of the hall. The rooms are large, well lighted and airy.

The Way to Rest.

To understand how to rest is of more importance than to know how to work. The latter can be learned easily; the former it takes years to learn, and some people never learn the art of resting. It is simply a change of scenes and activities. Loafing may not be resting. Sleeping is not always resting. Sitting down for days with nothing to do is not restful. A change is needed to bring into a different set of faculties and to turn the life into a new channel. The man who works hard finds his best rest in playing hard. The man burdened with care finds relief in something that is active, yet free from responsibility.

The evening passenger train coming in on time two days in succession is a decided improvement, but too good to last.

"Hiram, what profession do you think our John ought to follow?" "I dunno," replied Farmer Kornob, "John is rather handicapped. The only profession he thinks he is natural y adapted to is that of a capitalist, and I can't see where the money's coming from."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heart palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and put up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, nervous dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and his tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers, thus effecting a rapid, pleasant relief. Gentle though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 30 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply common sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

HORSESHOES.

Doubt as to What Nation and Age First Used Them.

Horseshoes were not known to the ancients, and there is much doubt as to what nation and age first used them. An authority on the subject says: "The first kind of shoe known was not a shoe at all. It was a species of sock, often made with woven or plaited hemp. Camels in ancient warfare were thus shod, and so were mules and horses when their hoofs were hurt. In time of heavy snow these socks were necessary to prevent the horses from sinking up to their girths in the snow, according to an old writer. Similar socks are used by the Russians in Kamchatka for their sledge dogs, and this kind is provided with little holes for the claws. Horse soles were also made of woven broom, reeds and bast strapped on, such as are still used in Japan, where they are made by the children, who wait about the roads offering them for sale at a low figure. The next step made by the old Romans and Greeks seems to have been the manufacture of leather soles and shoes. But the great drawback to all these hoof protectors was the galling of the straps, and they were really only of substantial use in the case of baggage animals or when the road was rough and dangerous. Delays were often occasioned by the shoes sticking in the mud and letting the horse go on in front.

"So the old 'mule doctors' had to devise means of hardening horses' hoofs. One advised stone slabs fastened with iron clamps to the ground which formed the stable, another recommended oak flooring, while yet another prescribed the smearing of the bottom of the feet of draft animals with pitch. The exact date when metal shoes were first brought out is not known, but it is said that Nero had the mules attached to 1,000 carriages shod with silver sandals, while Poppea's mules were gold shod. These may be the hipposandals which have been found wherever the Romans settled—in Germany, France and England. The form of the hipposandal varies. The commonest shape is an oval plate of metal drawn out backward on both sides and in some cases fitted with a curved hook. There are wings to the sides, and in front they are furnished with eyes and rings. Another kind is distinguished by the bending upward of the sides in front and behind, suggesting to the eye the form of an ancient galley. They were fixed to the hoofs by straps passed through clips and rings.

"French horseshoologists think that the Celts were the first to use nailed on shoes before the Christian era and that they popularized their use throughout Gaul, Germany and England. Many shoes have been found in graves, the favorite horses having been slain and buried with their masters in accordance with primitive beliefs as to the hereafter. Between the French towns of Langres and Dijon, near the spot where Caesar encamped his army at the siege of Alesia (B. C. 52), small fullered shoes have been found at a depth of two or three feet in the ground. Some have nails in the shape of a Roman T and are provided with clinches. Others ascribed by geologists to the sixth century have been found in the Bernese Jura. All these had six large, round nail holes, and opposite to each hole the border of the shoe is scalloped. Some shoes had heels and some had not. But the heels were hardly of any size and, moreover, lacked strength."—Chicago News

Secret of Success in Journalism.
The first fundamental quality for success in journalism is a keen interest in everything; the power of throwing yourself into any subject, finding a joy in handling it. The second quality is a capacity for forming a very clear idea as to what it is you want to say and a passion for expressing your ideas so clearly that the greatest idiot in the world cannot misunderstand them. Thirdly, I should be inclined to put a capacity to sleep soundly whenever you get a chance and the ability to sleep up arrears. I do not say anything about what ought to be taken for granted—namely, good health, industry, conscientiousness, and so on. Above all, I should say a journalist should be keen.—W. T. Stead in Grand Magazine.

Scared His Speech Back.
A remarkable case of the recovery of speech and hearing is reported in the London Lancet from the canton of Ticino, in Switzerland. An Italian, aged forty-one years, who five years ago became a deaf mute in consequence of a serious disease, was startled by the sudden appearance of a runaway horse. As he jumped aside to avoid the animal he uttered a loud scream and after it had gone by found that he was able to talk and hear.
