WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From our Hustling Neighbor. Winterville, N. C., Feb. 6th.

John Brooks, Jr. of the Red Banks section was here Sunday visiting the school boys.

Esther Johnson is very sick with gripe.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry left Tuesday evening to join the party from Greenville, that were delegated by the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville to go to Raleigh in the interest of the Normal school for eastern Carolina. We hope that school may be established and we believe that Greenville is the most convenient location for it. We hear the cry every year that numbers of girls are turned away from lack of accommodation. There is a demand for well trained teachers in our State as never before. Let the State make ample provision for these needs and send forth her girls well trained for the highest duties of life.

Two more pupils from Elm City entered W. H. S. Monday. The school is in excellent condition and good work is being done.

The town has purchased an acre of land from Mr. S. L. Kibrell for the use of a cemetery. We have been in need of this for a good while.

Our community was shocked Tuesday morning by the death of Jas. L. Butt, who had been sick for only a little more than a week, with pneumonia. While away from home on the fourth Sunday in January, he took a severe chill and on returning home took his bed.

Mr. Butt was about fifty years old at his death, leaving a grief stricken wife and four children to mourn their sad loss. Immediately after his marriage he began to farm near Durham's creek in Beaufort county and made a marked success.

About six years ago, he moved to Chocowinity where he could secure better educational advantages and lived there as a successful farmer. Realizing that the town of Winterville with its excellent school would afford still greater advantages for educating his children, he moved to Winterville last November.

He was a high toned Christian gentleman, having been a layman in the Episcopal church for several years and a leader in the Sunday school work.

The funeral will take place at the Episcopal church this evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains will be laid to rest in the new cemetery near town. Rev. W. E. Cox, his pastor will conduct the service.

We feel confident that our sad loss is his eternal gain and we extend to the grief stricken widow and children our heartfelt sympathy.

Several of our people attended church at Reedy Branch last Sunday and report an excellent service.

A few days of cold enables us to sympathize with the people of the northern cities who have to deal with the fuel problem. Weather like this is unusual in this section of the country, and it catches many unprepared for it. The wood dealers are doing a good business, and the carts which bring in wood from the country have an extra large cross piece under the load—to keep it from falling.

We all thought the weather here bad enough, but both North and West of us it was much worse.

WEDS HIS OLD SWEETHEART.

William H. Walton Marris Girl He Loved at Sweet Sixteen.

The following from the Washington Post of Friday will be read with interest as "Bill" Walton is well known to a great many of our readers.

"The wedding of William H. Walton, a well-known printer of this city, and Mrs. Minnie Slater took place on Wednesday evening Rev. Dr. Evans officiating, at the latter's residence Capitol Hill.

"There is a touch of romance in connection with the happy event. Thirty years ago the bride was the pretty sixteen-year-old daughter of John Gorman, of Raleigh, N. C. About that time Mr. Walton left his home in the interior of that state and stopped at the capital of the Tar Heel state. Chance guided the young folks together, and as they grew older they became sweethearts. Then a slight dispute arose and Walton went away. Later the lovers corresponded and a reconciliation was almost effected.

William Slater, one of Raleigh's young men of prominence, about this time courted Minnie Gorman and won her. They were married and lived happily together until her husband's death.

"With her mother Mrs. Slater came to Washington in order that she could better educate her children. Here fate found for her her old lover. They spent part of yesterday morning reading again the letters they wrote nearly thirty years ago.

"Mrs. Gorman, the bride's mother, lives with the couple at 204 F. street northwest. Mrs. Walton's father at one time was adjutant general of North Carolina and held other offices of trust in the state.

"Mrs. Walton has six brothers, Thomas Gorman, of Durham, N. C.; Nicholas Gorman and Garfield Gorman, of Richmond, Va.; Patrick Gorman of New York; Jacob Gorman, of Philadelphia, and Seaton Gorman, employed at the navy yard here. They were all present at the wedding dinner, as was a sister of the bride, Mrs. Pratt, of Atlanta, Ga., the wife of an official of the Southern railway."—Wilmington Messenger.

Joke on Dead Man.

Greenville, S. C., Feb. 4.—Tomorrow Coroner Joe Wooten will hold a second inquest in the case of a negro by the name of Cordoza Williams, whose body was shipped in here from Concord several days ago, with a certificate attesting that the man had died of heart failure. The negro was a member of a freight train crew and when his body arrived here his family discovered that the man had died from some violent cause as his body showed unmistakable signs of it. Both jaws were broken, the skull fractured and the abdomen crushed.

The negro's family reported the matter to the coroner who empaneled a jury, and at the inquest this morning it developed that the man had been killed by a locomotive, having his foot caught in a switch. A letter was read from the undertaker in Concord who prepared the body for shipment, stating that he had put the "heart failure" label on the box as a sort of joke on the Southern railway.

The coroner failed to see the joke and will have the freight crew to give testimony at tomorrow's hearing.

DRINKING MEN NOT WANTED.

Railway Men Must be Total Abstemious.

Notice has been served on all employes of the Lehigh Valley railroad that they must be total abstainers from alcoholic drinks or leave the service of the company. Heretofore other corporations have issued orders of a similar nature and not a few of those on the working force have been relieved from duty because they failed to obey. Men holding positions of responsibility cannot be depended upon if they drink. They are apt to fail at the critical moment. Disaster often follows the debauch.

"It is the greatest of evils, this dram habit," says the Washington Post. "It curbs the will, it stains the character, it is the advance agent of poverty, it impairs the intellect. It alienates friends, it humiliates kindred, it eradicates pride. First it exhilarates, then banishes responsibility; but the pendulum swings just as far the other way. The debauch is a remorseless creditor and exacts with pitiless extortion the utmost farthing. There is no escape from the debt, and it can only be discharged in cash and by prompt payment, the only legal tender regret, remorse, and shame."—Raleigh Times.

Southern Soil Unsurpassed.

The annual report of Mr. Wilson, the Secretary of Agriculture, shows that the value of farm products in the United States for the year 1906 was $6,794,000. The value of live stock of the country was placed at $4,000,000, and the worth of farm real estate was $22,746,000. Secretary Wilson says: "The farmer will not fail the nation if the nation does not fail the farmer." James C. Monohan, Chief of the Bureau of Consular Reports, Washington, D. C. says: "No soil on earth surpasses Southern soil; no sun is so soft on field and farm, plantation and vineyard. Of the world's soil, suitable for farming the United States has by far the largest part and the best lands." This is a region aptly described in Deuteronomy 5th chapter, 7th, 8th and 9th verses: "A good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys, and hills; a land of wheat and barley, and vines and fig trees, and pomegranates, a land of oil, olive and honey; a land wherein thou shalt not lack anything in it."

TO IMPROVE MAIL SERVICE.

Heavy Penalties on Railways for not Making Advertised Schedules.

Railroads which have a contract with the government for carrying the mails will be required to make the schedule time of their mail trains regularly or pay a heavy penalty, if the bill decides upon today in the postoffice committee of the house is enacted into a law. The postoffice department now imposes a small penalty for delays in the transmission of mail by railroads, but the congressional committee proposes to give wider authority in order to force compliance with contracts in keeping advertised schedules.

It was also decided to reduce the present mail pay 5 per cent where the average each day per mile is from 5,000 to 48,000 pounds. Where the average is under 5,000 pounds no reduction is contemplated. From 48,000 to 80,000 the reduction will be 10 per cent. On an average weight of over 80,000 the reduction will be $19 per ton flat. The rate of pay for railway postoffice cars is reduced also.

It is further provided that the mail shall be weighed seven times a week instead of six and the total weight divided by seven to get the daily average. Empty mail sacks will not be weighed when returning.

The committee approved the bill fixing the salary of rural free delivery carriers at $85.—Washington Special of News and Observer.

Regiment Commanded by North Carolinians.

Statesville, Feb. 4.—Col. Cam D. Cowles, a North Carolinian, a son of Col. C. J. Cowles, of Wilkesboro, and a nephew of Col. H. C. Cowles, of Statesville, is now in charge of the Fifth Infantry United States Army, stationed at Cadenas, Cuba. Captain Douglas Settle, son of the late Judge Settle, of North Carolina, is captain in Col. Cowles' command and has been appointed adjutant by his colonel. Zeb B. Vance, a son of the late Senator Vance, who was a captain in the army, has recently been promoted to major and assigned to the Fifth Infantry. It is quite a coincidence that the colonel, adjutant and major of this regiment are all North Carolinians, and it is a further coincidence the adjutant and the major are sons of two distinguished North Carolinians who were opposing candidates for governor more than thirty years ago. The North Carolinians make good soldiers and are proud to know that the Fifth Infantry is in charge of our young officers.

A delegation representing the citizens of Pitt county left Greenville Monday and Tuesday to be in Raleigh today. It is reported that not a merchant of the town of Greenville went with this delegation. We all want an Eastern Normal established and we think we have the best location in the State for it, but get here it come here we must have the vigorous efforts of all citizens.

Free.

Send twelve names and addresses of leaders of music and Sunday school superintendent and we will send you a copy of our new Sunday school song book. Windows of Heaven No. 5.

Miss Charlotte Fennell, one of Wilmington's most attractive young ladies left for Greensboro Thursday, where she will attend the marriage of her friend, Miss Alice White, who is very pleasantly remembered as a former guest of Miss Fennell at her home on the Sound. Miss White made many friends while here and the best wishes of all go with her. Miss Fennell will return to Wilmington after paying a short visit in Greensboro.—Wilmington Star.

IF I ONLY HAD CAPITAL.

The above words were recently uttered in our hearing by a worthy boy and undoubtedly they are often reiterated by many who are out of employment, or have little or nothing to do. Tell all such we say, you have home capital, you have hands, feet, bone, muscle, health and are not these capital? What more capital has God given anybody? "But if I only had a few thousands in cash capital," says the young man. But these are better than cash capital, for no one can take them from you, and with these you can earn cash.

Our men of wealth and influence did not start with any cash capital. They went to work with their plow, the hoe, the jack plane or ax, and in time their capital brought them a rich harvest. Ah! but there's the rub; you don't want to work. You want money on credit so you can play the gentleman, speculate and end your career by playing vagabond. You want to marry a rich girl who will support you, while you wear fine clothes, smoke cigars and be a gentleman of leisure.

Shame on you, young man! Go to work with the capital you have and you will soon make interest enough upon it to give you as much money as you need. If you cannot make money on what capital you have, you could not if you had a larger amount in cash. If you waste your present capital you would waste money if you had it. So don't stand around, a great helpless fellow, waiting for something to turn up, but go to work. Take the first work you can get and do it well. Always do your best, and if you manage your capital that God has given you, well, you will soon have plenty more to manage.—Carthage Blade.

It is better further on—the weather.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS.

A bill to be entitled an act to fix salaries for the public officers of Pitt County.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Sec 1. All fees, commissions, profits and emoluments of all kinds now belonging or appertaining to or hereafter by any law belonging or appertaining to the sheriff by virtue of his office shall be faithfully collected by him and turned over to the treasurer of said county.

Sec 2. The sheriff shall appoint a jailer, whose salary shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners: Provided, that such salary shall not be less than fifty dollars per month.

Sec 3. The said sheriff shall receive a salary of two thousand five hundred dollars per annum in lieu of all other compensation whatsoever, and may appoint one or more deputies at a salary to be fixed by the county commissioners: Provided, that said salary shall not be less than six hundred dollars per annum: And provided further, that the sheriff's bond shall be paid for in addition to his said salary.

Sec 4. The clerk of the Superior court, and the register of deeds of said county shall faithfully collect, account for and turn over to the treasurer of said county, all fees, commissions, profits and emoluments of every kind now or hereafter by any law accruing, belonging or appertaining to them by virtue of their office.

Sec 5. The clerk of the Superior court and the register of deeds shall each receive a salary of two thousand five hundred dollars per annum in lieu of all other compensation whatsoever, and shall each be allowed the sum of one thousand dollars per annum for clerk hire and assistants, if in their opinion so much shall be needed.

Sec 6. The treasurer of Pitt county shall receive a salary of two thousand dollars per annum in lieu of all other compensation whatsoever: Provided that the treasurer's bond shall be paid for in addition to his said salary.

Sec 7. The officers hereinbefore mentioned shall faithfully perform all the duties of their several offices imposed upon them by law, and shall receive no other compensation or allowances whatsoever for any extra or additional service rendered to the county or State or other governmental agencies, and they shall be liable to all the pains and penalties now or hereafter provided for failure to perform the duties of their several offices.

Ses. 8. The salaries and allowances herein provided for shall be paid by the treasurer of said county upon warrant as required by law, to the officers and assistants in monthly installments: Provided that the allowance may be paid in warrants of irregular size, according to the needs of the various offices, but shall never exceed for the year the amounts herein provided.

Sec. 9. The officers hereinbefore required to turn over to the treasurer of Pitt county, moneys coming into their hands shall make settlement with said treasurer on the last day of each and every month; and the county commissioners may at any time require said officers, or any of them, to exhibit to them all books and accounts, showing all moneys received and turned over to the treasurer under the provisions of this act.

Sec 10. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec 11. That this act shall be in full force and effect on and after the first Monday in December, 1908.

On Bird Kites.

No birds so far as known records show, have ever alighted on a kite or attacked one. While a scientist was flying a kite of five kites some years ago a large silver tipped eagle came suddenly out of the higher air and swooped round and round the first kite, looking against the sunset sky like a huge silver ball. As the train of kites was pulled in the eagle followed, visiting one kite and then another, seeming uncertain just what to do. In a few minutes, when he seemed to have decided that they were not good to eat and he knew nothing about them, anyway, he indignantly flew off and was lost to view. While the scientist's kites were high in the air one March flock of geese flying in the wedge flew over. They invariably stopped, broke up, hovered above the queer object and at last slowly reformed and flew away. While the larger birds all come from heights above the kite, the small birds of the air will alight on the string holding the kite and sway to and fro.

Mysterious Glass Balls.

According to a foreign correspondent of the geological survey at Washington, among the most interesting features of the small island of Billiton, between Sumatra and Borneo, an island long famous for its rich tin mines, controlled by the Dutch government, are the "glass balls of Billiton," found among the tin ore deposits. These natural glass balls are round, with grooved surfaces. Similar phenomena are occasionally found in Borneo and Java as well as in Australia. The correspondent quoted thinks they cannot be artificial, and there are no volcanoes near enough to support the theory that they are volcanic bombs. Besides, it is claimed, the glassy rocks produced by the nearest volcanoes are quite different in their nature from the material of the balls. It is suspected that the mysterious objects were ejected ages ago from the volcanoes of the moon and afterward fell upon the earth.

"Caracul"—Its Etymology.

I have often been asked for the etymology of "caracul," which is a term now largely used by furriers to denote a variety of the fur called astrakhan. The new English dictionary does not contain caracul, but it has caracul, which is liable to be confused with it, though really quite a different word. The caracul is an animal, but caracul, like the nearly synonymous term, astrakhan, is the name of a place—Kara Kul—i. e., the Black lake, near Bokhara, which has long been celebrated for its output of furs. The earliest reference I can find to it in English is in Matthew Arnold's "Sohrab and Rustum."

And on his head he set his sheepskin cap, Black, glossy, curled, the fleece of Kara Kul.

Living in the Electric Light.

Writing to a friend in the country, a New York merchant says: "I live in the electric light. I leave my home at 7 o'clock, after dressing and taking my breakfast by electric light. Then I go to the subway, one block distant, and ride to within a block of my office. There I work all day by electric light and go home again by the subway and spend the evening in the glare of the incandescent lamp. The weather conditions make no difference, because my flat and my office belong to the semidark kind. Sometimes I wonder what I would do without electric light, and sometimes I ask myself when I yearn for a little sunlight, is the new light really a blessing?"—New York Tribune.

John Stuart Mill.

The genius of this great Englishman was such that before he was twenty he was recognized as the champion and future leader of a powerful school of philosophy and politics. John Stuart Mill is said to have studied Greek at the age of three and at fourteen had begun logic and political economy. The writings and doctrines of this master mind were and are still read and preached not only in this country, but throughout the world. John Stuart Mill stands out prominently among nineteenth century thinkers.—London Mail.

Hardened.

"Listen to this, Maria," said Mr. Stubb as he unfolded his scientific paper. "This article states that in some of the old Roman prisons that have been unearthed they found the petrified remains of the prisoners." "Gracious, John!" replied Mrs. Stubb, with a smile. "I suppose you would call them hardened criminals."—Chicago News.

But He Was Cured.

"I think I'll have to take treatment for the forgetting habit. From whom did you take your treatment that was so satisfactory and successful in improving your memory?"

"From—ah, from—ah—oh, I forget his name, but wait a minute, and I'll get one of his cards out of my desk."—Exchange.

Supremely Exasperating.

"Don't you think Mrs. Spurrell has an awful temper?"

"She has, but can you blame the poor woman? She has a husband who just absolutely won't get mad at all."

Dear, Indeed!

"The dear, dear girls!" exclaimed Mrs. Pawkins, looking at her fashionable daughters enthusiastically.

"Yes; the dear, dear girls!" muttered Mr. Pawkins despondently.

Man yields to custom as he bows to fate—in all things ruled, mind, body and estate.—Cradbe.

KODOL

DYSPEPSIA CURE

Under all curable conditions

Mr. D. Kauble of Nevada, O., was cured by Kodol of stomach trouble which had affected his heart.

KODOL
Dignified What You Eat

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood elements. The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy.—Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

The Stale Bread of Hungary.

In Hungary they do not eat fresh bread. Whether it is because the Hungarians believe in hygiene more than their American or European brothers and sisters or not has never been told, but the Magyar is partial to stale bread, and the staler the better. His "rozskenyer," or ordinary black bread, as it is eaten by the very large majority of the Magyar population, is carefully laid away on a shelf and dug out for consumption months and months after it has come out of the great ovens. If the huge loaf, weighing something like five pounds and for which the Hungarian pays 6 or 7 kreutzer, equivalent to about 3 or 4 cents in American money, has carefully been hidden away for two years, it is considered all the better. The Hungarians never think of where the bread is to come from tomorrow. He thinks of where it is to come from next year, for he has at least a year's supply on the shelves. The Hungarian bakes her bread 335 days ahead of time. Her Wednesday baking is for the Wednesday of a year to come; her Thursday baking for the Thursday of a year to come.

To Cut the Night In Two.

Professor Victor Hallepeau, member of the Paris Academy of Medicine, says:
The true secret of long continued, valuable brain work is to cut the night in two. The scholar, the inventor, the financier, the literary creator, should be asleep every night by 10 o'clock, to wake again at, say, 2 in the morning. Three hours' work, from 2 to 5, in the absolute tranquillity of the silent hours should mean the revealing of new powers, new possibilities, a wealth of ideas undreamed of under the prevailing system.

From 5 to 8 or 8:30 sleep again. Taking up then the day's work, the brain will be still saturated with the mental fruits of the midnight vigil; there will be no effort in putting into practice or carrying further what was planned or begun those few hours before.

The habit may be hard to acquire, but mechanical means of waking at first will induce the predisposition.—New York World.

The Military Death Sentence.

"You know how a soldier traitor is put to death," said the colonel. "The traitor stands blindfolded, and half a dozen privates shoot at him simultaneously. But perhaps you don't know that each of those privates, though he take the most careful aim, may afterward say without fear of contradiction that the traitor's blood does not stain his hands. This is the reason: Two of the rifles for this ghastly shooting are always loaded with blank cartridges. Then they are shuffled, and no one knows which the harmless ones are. The executioners draw, and each is as like as not to draw a harmless gun. So when they shoot they can solace themselves with the thought that maybe they are only shooting a blank cartridge at the poor blindfolded wretch before them."

Hans Breitmann's Philosophy.

I have found that if we resolve to be vigorous of body and mind, calm, collected, cheerful, etc., we can effect marvels, for it is certainly true that after awhile the spirit or will does haunt us unconsciously and marvelously. I have, I believe, half changed my nature under this discipline. I will continually to be free from folly, envy, irritability and vanity, to forgive and forget, and I have found, by willing and often recurring to it, that, while far from being exempt from fault, I have eliminated a vast mass of it from my mind. It is certainly true, as Kant wrote to Hufeland, many diseases can be cured by resolving them away. He thought the gout could be.—Letters of Charles Godfrey Leland.

Time to Change.

It was at a table d'hote dinner at a hill station in India that a very young officer just up from the plains found himself seated next to a lady whom he took for one of the grass widows common in those parts. He made himself agreeable, but his neighbor seemed a good deal out of spirits, so he said sympathetically:

"I suppose you can't help thinking of your poor husband grilling down below?"

But the lady was a real widow, and when he learned that he changed his seat.—London Answers.

Sparring the Smasher.

"I told you," said the merchant, "to mark this box 'Handle With Care.' What's this nonsense you've painted here?"

"That," said the college graduate, "is the Latin for 'Handle With Care.'"

"How do you expect a baggageman to understand that?"

"He won't; and therefore he won't get mad and smash the box."—Philadelphia Press.

For Feminine Jurors.

In breach of promise cases the presence of female jurors among the male jurors would certainly benefit the men, as they would at once see through the wiles of their own sex, disconnect the picture hat and the pretty gown and disclose the hussy at heart in the pleading, innocent betrayed one.—Lady Violet Gréville in London Opinion.

Superimposed.

In the hall of a philharmonic society the following notice was posted:
"The seats in this hall are for the use of the ladies. Gentlemen are requested to make use of them only after the former are seated."—El Paso.

We love to expect, and when expectation is either disappointed or gratified we want to be again expecting.—Johnson.

The Berry He Was.

When Bishop Berry of the Methodist Episcopal church was a young preacher he once gave a lecture in a rural community. Wishing to be witty, he announced to his audience that he was a berry and called upon them to state what kind of berry. Nearly every berry known in the vicinity was guessed, and the speaker refused to share the qualities of any of those named. At last an old lady who was not sympathetic with the seeming levity of the lecturer, arose and exclaimed in a squeaky voice: "I know what kind of a berry you are. You are a gooseberry and a very green one at that. Go on with the lecture." And the lecturer departed quickly.—Christian Work.

Animal Shells.

It is a curious fact that the shells of certain animals, such as cephalopods, brachiopods and some bivalves, are commonly marked by retrogressive changes as age advances. "The old man returns to second childhood in mind and body," states a well known scientist at Washington, "and the shell of the cephalopod has in old age, however distinct and highly ornamental the adult, very close resemblance to its own young."

Started Early Enough.

"I want to talk to you, Mary, about that young man of yours," said her father. "When did he say good night to you last evening?"

"10 o'clock," replied the fair girl.

"What? Why, it was 1 o'clock at least!"

"Oh, that was when he finished saying it!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

His Second Book.

"Your first book, if it is a success, generally leads to the success of the second," remarked a rising author.

"Yes, indeed," said another. "It was the success of my first book that made my second. My second book," he added, "was a bank book."

Old Age and Rushing.

You may join the mille a minute class, but no oil has been discovered yet that will keep all the cogs in condition. Good old age was never a sequel to a rush.—Manchester Union.

Modern Irish.

As a professional student of languages I have no hesitation in saying that modern Irish is more difficult than ancient Greek.—Manchester Guardian.

If the poor cannot always get meat, the rich man cannot always digest it.—Giles.

About That Home Do You Contemplate Owning One?

If so the first thing to consider is a good lot in a desirable location and you cannot be better suited in a lot than the

Sam White Property.

No property surpasses this for a desirable home. Lots can be bought there now at reasonable prices and on easy terms. There is every indication that property around Greenville is going to be higher, and the longer you defer buying the lot the higher it will cost.

This property is located only 5 minutes walk from the business part of the town. See Sam White and let him explain prices and terms.

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

If you are interested in Prof. Cecil's Course he would like to know tonight whether or not you will join his class. He teaches Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Letter-Writing and Mathematics. Five months course for fifteen dollars. Give him your name tonight at Hotel Bertha or you may miss this opportunity to take a "Business Course at Home."

Today the committee meets to consider the advisability of establishing a Normal school in Eastern Carolina. A large delegation from all sections of the State will be there to present reasons for or against the school. It is evident that we need another school.

In the local ad of J. R. and J. G. Moye, the type made us say "Oats at 75c" when it should have been 55c, and the price quoted for Corn was "50c" and it should have been 70c

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. Health Coffee is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real coffee, remember in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor matches closely old Java add Mocha coffee. If your stomach heart or kidneys can't stand coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's safe even for the smallest child.
Sold by T. E. Kooker & Co.

Purity is our watchword. Selecting only the choicest herbs and roots known to pharmacists. No spirits or harmful drugs. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is purity itself. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.
Wooten's Drug Store.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet pleasant and safe Syrup called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for croup, that's all. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

To stop a cold with "preventives" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventives will head off all colds and Grippe and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventives are little toothsome cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventives. They will surely check the cold, and please you. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Give me the man with ravishing eyes,

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably endorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains honey and tar. It is the original laxative cough syrup and is unrivaled for the relief of croup. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has first made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.
