

MR. LAUGHINGHOUSE'S SPEECH.

Argument of One of Pitt's Representatives for Jury Reform.

But all lawyers are not alike in character, nor do they practice the same virtues. There are unscrupulous men in their ranks as we find such men in other callings or pursuits of life. A lawyer who is lacking in honor and integrity, who resorts to corrupt practice to put money into his pockets, is an evil in any community. His influence as far as it goes is pernicious and destructive of all that is good and ennobling. That ethical maxium of the legal profession, "a lawyer's first duty is to his client," should be accepted with some limitation. In fact it is rejected by many eminent lawyers who take the position that "the first duty of the lawyer is to the State, to organized society. Governor Hughes, of New York, known as a great and learned lawyer and said to be a man of clean habits and high ideals, recently delivered a notable address before the bar association of the Empire State. In that address he condemned lawyers "who take retainers which array them against the public interest," and using still stronger language he said that one who "engages in practice that involves such antagonism is a traitor to the interests of the people and commits treason." I commend those utterances. They are worthy to be printed in the largest type and placed in a golden frame to adorn the walls of every lawyer's office in this land. My admiration is great for any lawyer who holds to correct, just, and high ideals and jealousy follows them in the practice of his profession as well as in the other activities of life. I am not mistaken, however, when I say that some lower the standard, disregard it entirely, and with no sense of morality or obligation to the public, resort to methods that are corrupt and to tricks that are dirty to accomplish an end in view. Of such I have known and have when occasion suggested it expressed my opinion in no timid or dubious words. I express my honest convictions openly and boldly and I thank the good Lord for making me that way whether it pleases everybody or not. Our courts are necessarily under the control of the judges and the lawyers and a large responsibility rests upon them as to the record of our State in dealing with and punishing crime. A practicing lawyer as a part of the court should be a support to the judge in applying the law to the guilty and not prostitute his talents in any case or under any circumstances to thwart or defeat justice. I hold that any man, no matter what his position, title or profession may be, who gives his efforts to or succeeds in having a proven criminal acquitted and turned loose on society, commits not only a grievous wrong but does that which makes him an enemy to society and an encourager and promoter of crime. I have somewhat digressed from the subject pending before the house, but it occurring to me that in a discussion of this bill some might think think me hostile to lawyers, I concluded it would be well to make myself clearly understood in that respect and I hope I have succeeded in doing so.

Trial by jury, Mr. Speaker, has come down to us with the approval of the centuries. The jury system is the most important and vital part of the laws' machinery, and yet in certain cases jury trials are oftentimes nothing less than a farce and a failure. This is not due to the system in itself, but is the result largely of unfair and unreasonable privileges given one side in selecting a jury as against the other side. The bill before us seeks to correct serious abuses by giving the defendant and the State the same number of peremptory challenges. When this is done we will be more likely to have men in the jury box who will not only hear the evidence but will properly consider and weigh the evidence and render their verdict accordingly. The opportunities for getting a packed jury will be greatly lessened, and the verdicts rendered will more often conform to the law and the evidence. By equalizing the number of peremptory challenges making it fair and just to both sides, we will improve the personnel of juries and strengthen our courts in the trials of capital cases. Our juries should be composed of intelligent, impartial men who have a proper conception of the responsibilities and obligations resting upon them, men clear-headed and sound-hearted who can brush away "the chaff from the kernel of truth," capable men of unbiased judgment who can distinguish between a fancied or imaginary doubt and an actual reasonable doubt in arriving at a just conclusion. While it is true all this cannot be fully assured by passing this bill, yet I am convinced that when we equalize the number of peremptory challenges, allowing the same number to each side, considerable progress will be made in that direction in the trial of capital cases and guilty men will find it more difficult to escape the penalty of the law through juries packed in their behalf.

I feel deeply the importance of this kind of legislation. I believe it will have a far reaching effect for good. To defeat the bill would mean to keep upon the statute books a law that shows unreasonable partiality, rank and gross favoritism, to men charged with capital crime. I believe in laws applying equally with special privileges to none, in trials under our jury system. Let the innocent go free, but let not the guilty escape through the weakness or partiality of any provision in our laws.

To reduce the commission of crime it must be promptly and adequately punished. To check the crime of murder which seems to have little fear in our state, murderers must be convicted and forced to pay the penalty. When we make the number of peremptory challenges fair to both sides, establish an equality in that respect, the good results will soon be seen in our courts by the more certain conviction of the guilty. By passing this bill we perform a duty we owe to every peace-loving, law-abiding citizen of our State, and for one shall always feel proud of the earnest support I have given to it on the floor of this house. — Raleigh News and Observer.

Weather.

Fair and somewhat colder tonight. Wednesday fair and not quite so cold.

The board of aldermen will meet in adjourned session tonight to complete business left over from the regular meeting.

AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes from a Hustling Town Ayden, N. C., Feb. 12, 1907.

In the bill as introduced in the present legislature to pay the officers of Pitt county salaries instead of fees, the high and important office of superintendent of public instruction was entirely ignored. Certainly this high office is worthy of some consideration, and, too, something might have been said concerning the offices of coroner and surveyor. Maybe our conception is a little strained and we failed to read aright. We are, however, open to correction from the bureau of information.

Miss Anna Belle Kittrell spent from Saturday until Monday visiting her father in Grifton.

Freddie, the little two and a half year old daughter of Mr. J. R. Smith, died Saturday morning and was buried in Ayden cemetery Sunday afternoon. Mr. Smith has another little daughter quite sick and grave apprehensions are felt as to her recovery. An expert physician and a trained nurse are in attendance and everything that human ingenuity can think is being done for the little one's good. Mr. Smith and family have the sympathy of our whole community. He has lost two children within the past two years.

The recent snow has afforded much amusement for our young people in the way of sleighing and snow balling.

Mrs. W. H. Buhmann entertained a few friends last Friday evening at an ice cream supper.

John A. Hatton has been appointed rural mail carrier from this point in place of J. B. Patrick, resigned, C. R. Williams is substitute.

Spirits during the past week have been of an exhilarating nature in our town, but just the atmosphere has cooled down.

The Williams Comedy Company, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, is the talk of town. The company comes highly recommended.

Major Smith is at home on a visit to his people.

W. H. Harrington, of Greenville was a pleasant caller at our office yesterday.

M. G. Jenkins, of Washington, was here Monday on business.

A. B. Forrest and family returned Saturday from a visit to relatives in Goldsboro.

Miss Mary Cecilia Rowe, a trained nurse from the S. R. Fowle hospital at Washington, is here in attendance upon the little sick child of J. R. Smith.

W. G. Smith had a house full of folks Saturday night, all three of his brothers came to see him. The big bed, the little bed, the baby's crib and even the cradle were in demand. Whether the extension table for breakfast was run around the house, or whether they had a hand around affair we have not learned, but this we do know, it was a good set of folks assembled there, for there are none better among us.

AFTER THIRTY-TWO YEARS.

Man Thought Long Dead Turns Up.

About 32 years ago a colored man named John Burney left the Swift Creek section of this county and went to Florida. John owned a piece of land on which there was a debt, and after he was gone his creditors took over the land and what personal effects he left behind. Time went on and nothing being heard from John he was supposed to be dead, and a year or two ago his children started a suit to recover possession of the land.

The matter took on a new phase last week when John turned up alive and well. Learning what had been done by his children to recover the land he decided to take the matter in his own hands. He came to Greenville Monday to consult the lawyers who had charge of the suit and had his own name entered as suitor in place of his children.

John says he only wrote two letters during his thirty two years absence and never heard from his people while gone. He recently got the idea in his head to return to his old home and back he came. His children being small when he went away could no recognize him on his return and had to rely on what older people who remembered him said to establish his identity. John is now 64 years old.

END OF THE CENTURY BOOK CLUB.

Reported for The Reflector.

The regular meeting of the Book Club was held with Mrs. F. C. Harding on Tuesday, Feb. 5th. In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mrs. L. C. Arthur presided over the meeting.

The literary feature of the evening was the life and works of Michele Angelo. Mrs. Ficklen read an interesting character sketch of the sculptor. Mrs. Arthur a selection on his life, and Mrs. J. G. Moye entertained us with an instructive reading on his works.

In addition to the members Mrs. Harding had quite a number of visitors with her, among the number was Mrs. Harry Galloway, of Mt. Airy.

After partaking of delicious refreshments the club adjourned to meet on Feb. 19th.

In Honor of Misses Whitehead and Whitaker.

The most elegant social function of the season, was the six o'clock course dinner given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Jesse Rountree Moye complimentary to her guests, Miss Whitehurst, of Tarboro and Miss Whitaker, of Enfield.

Those present were Misses Mayo and Waldrop of Bethel, Misses Nina James, Irma Cobb, Janie Brown, Glenn Forbes, Lizzie Jones, Lillie Savage, Lizzie Higgs.

Shake in Virginia.

Charlottesville, Va., Feb. 11.—An earthquake of considerable violence was felt throughout this section at 8:23 o'clock this morning. In Charlottesville dishes were rattled at the breakfast tables. The shock was recorded at the University of Virginia by Frederick W. Reed, assistant to Prof. Ormond Stone, director of the Leander McCormick Observatory. The tremor lasted about twenty seconds.

THE LEGISLATURE.

And What the Law Makers are Doing.

The Senate Committee on Salaries and Fees Monday reported affirmatively a substitute bill fixing the salaries of the State officers. The substitute is for the bills of Senators Webb and Turner. The salary of the governor is fixed at $5,000 per annum. The fees are taken away from the other State officers, and a flat salary is prescribed for them. Their salaries are fixed in the bill as follows: State Treasurer $4,000; Secretary of State, $4,000 and he shall receive no other compensation or fees; the Attorney-General $3,500, and in addition thereto he shall be allowed his actual expenses in attending to the business of the State, whenever it is necessary for him to leave the city of Raleigh for that purpose; the State Auditor, $3,000; the Insurance Commissioner, $3,500; the Superintendent of Public Instruction, $3,500 with no allowance for traveling expenses; the chairman of the Corporation Commission $3,500, and the other two members of the Commission shall each receive a salary of $3,000 in full compensation for their services as members of the Corporation Commission, and also as members of the Board of State Tax Assessors; the Commissioner of Agriculture, $3,000. The bill requires that the Attorney General, Secretary of State, Insurance Commissioner and other officers therein referred to, shall collect the fees which may come into their hands and which may be authorized by law, and turn over the same to the State Treasurer to be deposited by the Treasurer in the General State fund.

There were a number of new local bills and much work done in clearing the calendar of old bills.

The house also had a busy day in clearing the calendar of bills. One of the fish bills was up and after a spirited discussion passed second and third readings. There were no new bills of general importance introduced but several of a local nature.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Printed Pictures of Passing People.

Charles Skinner left this morning for Bertie county.

Mrs. J. W. Aycock and little daughter, Claude, returned from Goldsboro Monday evening from Richmond.

Mrs. D. Abram, of Rocky Mount, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Schultz, returned home today.

PARSIFAL AT TARBORO.

Special Train Can be Secured for Return to Greenville After Play.

In reply to a telegram sent the general passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, he stated that the special train can be secured to return to Greenville after the play Friday night for a minimum of 50 people at $1.05 each. If those who desire to do so will leave their names and a deposit of $1.05 for each person at The Reflector office by noon Wednesday the special train will be engaged provided there are as many as 50 people. This will make the round trip fare from Greenville $2.10. It will be necessary to advise the railroad authorities by noon Wednesday so they can arrange for the special train to return, so those desiring to go should not delay to hand in their names. The special train will not be engaged unless the 50 names are secured.

The Norfolk and Southern Will Retain its Shops at New Bern. Col. M. W. Maguire, general superintendent of the Norfolk and Southern Railway Company, put a quietus yesterday on the report that the shops of the company would shortly be moved from their present location at New Bern to Goldsboro. "Although several cities along our lines are clamoring for the shops," said Colonel Maguire, "we have no present intention of moving them from New Bern. No decision will be reached in the matter till we come to a more definite conclusion regarding our big general shops which we contemplate building at some day in the future."

Colonel Maguire stated that Washington, Edenton, Goldsboro, Wilson and New Bern are among the petitioners for the big shops when they are built. The shops at New Bern are located on the Atlantic and North Carolina division of the Norfolk and Southern, which has Goldsboro for its western terminal and Morehead City for its eastern terminal.—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

The papers say that Harry Lehr is making a fool of himself in London. How much better could he be expected to do abroad than at home?

For the life of us we can not understand why any right thinking man should not want the homestead law repealed and the jury system reformed. One is merely a shield behind which a man can keep from paying his honest obligations, and the other is a shield to help criminals escape justice.

We have heard it said that in Washington City "a white man was considered as good as a negro, provided the white man behaved himself." But it seems to have developed that even in that city the negro is running against opposition. One recently bought a house in what was termed an exclusive section of the city and was about to move his family in it when the neighbors got together and had him enjoined. They declared that his residing in the neighborhood would cause depreciation in value of surrounding property, and are trying to have the deed to his purchase annulled. First thing you know the South will be the only section in which the negro can live without molestation.

Important Trade Mark Decision.

Lynchburg, Va., Feb. 4th, 1907.—A decision of importance to all manufacturers of trade mark goods has been awarded by Judge Pritchard in the United States Circuit Court of this district. The question involved was whether the Allen Brothers Tobacco Co., of Lynchburg, Va., has the legal right to use on its "Traveler" brand of plug tobacco a tag similar in size, shape, color, and slant of lettering, but different as to wording, from that used by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., of Winston-Salem, N. C., on its "Schnapps" plug tobacco.

In the argument, on motion of the plaintiff, the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., that a restraining order be issued forbidding the defendant company from further imitating its tag, many affidavits were submitted tending to show that owing to the similarity of the tags, the "traveler" tobacco, purchased by dealers at a lower price, was sold to uneducated chowers for "Schnapps."

In a decree signed by Judge Pritchard, the Allen Brothers Tobacco Company is enjoined from manufacturing, putting up, advertising, selling, or offering for sale plug tobacco bearing a tag identical with or like the said tag of the complaint, known as the "Schnapps" tag.

 According to this, no manufacturer can imitate even in color, shape, or style of lettering, the trade mark of another manufacturer, even though the wording be entirely different.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatic.

Kodol

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Dollar bottles hold 5¢ times as much as the trial, or 5¢ cent size.

Prepared at the Laboratory of E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, excites nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—asa general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

The Stale Bread of Hungary.

In Hungary they do not eat fresh bread. What is it? The Hungarians believe in hygiene more than their American or European brothers and sisters or not has never been told, but the Magyar is partial to stale bread, and the staler the better. His "roskenyer," or ordinary black bread, as it is eaten by the very large majority of the Magyar population, is carefully laid away on a shelf and dug out for consumption months and months after it has come out of the great ovens. If the huge loaf, weighing something like five pounds and for which the Hungarian pays 6 or 7 kreutzers, equivalent to about 3 or 4 cents in American money, has carefully been hidden away for two years, it is considered all the better. The Hungarian never thinks of where the bread is to come from tomorrow. He thinks of where it is to come from next year, for he has at least a year's supply on the shelves. The Hungarian bakes her bread 335 days ahead of time. Her Wednesday baking is for the Wednesday of a year to come; her Thursday baking for the Thursday of a year to come.

To Cut the Night in Two.

Professor Victor Hallopeau, member of the Paris Academy of Medicine, says:

The true secret of long continued, valuable brain work is to cut the night in two. The scholar, the inventor, the financier, the literary creator, should be asleep every night by 10 o'clock, to wake again at, say, 2 in the morning. Three hours' work, from 2 to 5, in the absolute tranquillity of the silent hours should mean the revealing of new powers, new possibilities, a wealth of ideas undreamed of under the prevailing system.

From 5 to 8 or 8:30 sleep again. Taking up then the day's work, the brain will be still saturated with the mental fruits of the midnight vigil; there will be no effort in putting into practice or carrying further what was planned or begun those few hours before.

The habit may be hard to acquire, but mechanical means of waking at first will induce the predisposition.—New York World.

The Military Death Sentence.

"You know how a soldier traitor is put to death," said the colonel. "The traitor stands blindfolded, and half a dozen privates shoot at him simultaneously. But perhaps you don't know that each of those privates, though he take the most careful aim, may afterward say without fear of contradiction that the traitor's blood does not stain his hands. This is the reason: Two of the rifles for this ghastly shooting are always loaded with blank cartridges. Then they are shuffled, and no one knows which the harmless ones are. The executioners draw, and each is as like as not to draw a harmless gun. So when they shoot they can solace themselves with the thought that maybe they are only shooting a blank cartridge at the poor blindfolded wretch before them."

Hans Breitmann's Philosophy.

I have found that if we resolve to be vigorous of body and mind, calm, collected, cheerful, etc., we can effect marvels, for it is certainly true that after awhile the spirit or will does haunt us unconsciously and marvelously. I have, I believe, half changed my nature under this discipline. I will continually be free from folly, envy, irritability and vanity, to forgive and forget, and I have found, by willing and often recurring to it, that, while far from being exempt from fault, I have eliminated a vast mass of it from my mind. It is certainly true, as Kant wrote to Hufeland, many diseases can be cured by resolving them away. He thought the gout could be.—Letters of Charles Godfrey Leland.

Time to Change.

It was at a table d'hote dinner at a hill station in India that a very young officer just up from the plains found himself seated next to a lady whom he took for one of the grass widows common in those parts. He made himself agreeable, but his neighbor seemed a good deal out of spirits, so he said sympathetically:

"I suppose you can't help thinking of your poor husband grilling down below?"

But the lady was a real widow, and when he learned that he changed his seat.—London Answers.

Sparing the Smasher.

"I told you," said the merchant, "to mark this box 'Handle With Care.' What's this nonsense you've painted here?"

"That," said the college graduate, "is the Latin for 'Handle With Care.'"

"How do you expect a baggage man to understand that?"

"He won't and therefore he won't get mad and smash the box."—Philadelphia Press.

For Feminine Jurors.

In breach of promise cases the presence of female jurors among the male jurors would certainly benefit the men, as they would at once see through the wiles of their own sex, disconnect the picture hat and the pretty gown and disclose the hussy at heart in the pleading, innocent betrayed one.—Lady Violet Greville in London Opinion.

Superimposed.

In the hall of a philanthropic society the following notice was posted:

"The seats in this hall are for the use of the ladies. Gentlemen are requested to make use of them only after the former are seated."—H. Riso.

We love to expect, and when expectation is either disappointed or gratified we want to be again expecting.—Johnson.

A Fairly Big Fish.

Paddy had been telling the story of a big pike he caught, too big to get into the boat, so that he had to be towed behind (with the gaff in it, it must be understood). Then followed this dialogue: "What weight, Paddy?" "Divvil a know I know, but he was an ojus baste." "Was that the biggest you ever saw, Paddy?" Then Paddy gave a description of the biggest he ever saw. "What weight, Paddy?" "Sorra a bit I know. He was a terror." "How big, Paddy?" "Sure, I can't tell to a foot or two, but a man could walk down his throat." On this incredulity, but Paddy "clinched the matter and silenced all controversy" by adding, "Wid his hat on."—Angier's Evenings.

Emergency Foods.

According to Dr. Robert Hutchinson of London, if at any time meat is not available, bread, sugar and eggs will make "a very respectable support for the body." Sugar is an exceedingly valuable article of food as a source of energy, the unfortunate thing about it being that it contains no nitrogenous matter. Bread, however, does contain some; hence it balances up well when combined with sugar. In times of scarcity of food bread and molasses is not a half bad diet—at least it can be relied on to keep the body up to a fair state of efficiency.

Women as Walkers.

Even the athletic girls and women of today can hardly make any advance upon the record of Mary Lamb, who wrote to Miss Wordsworth (both women being between fifty and sixty years old): "You say you can walk fifteen miles with ease. That is exactly my stint." She then speaks pityingly of a delicate woman who could accomplish "only four or five miles every third or fourth day, keeping very quiet between."

Manhattan Island.

Indians who accepted $24 from Governor Peter Minuit for Manhattan Island in 1624 did not make such a bad bargain, for if they had invested that sum of money at compound interest at the prevailing rates since then their heirs would now have $12,000,000,000.

Keeping Pace With the Service.

Patron (angrily) — Bring me some lunch. Restaurant Waiter—But you've already ordered a breakfast, sir! Patron—Yes, but it was breakfast time then.

Courage!

If you get a job the first day you look for it don't be discouraged. You may lose it Saturday.—Atlanta Journal.
