THE PASSING OF THE NIGGER.

It is snowing. A man has a wood-pile, but he can't find a nigger in town to cut it. The steam saw does all that sort of work now, but it is busy elsewhere. A real estate agent had a "load" of wood dumped at his door yesterday. Twenty-six chunks compose the load. It cost him a dollar. He was on the lookout for a boy to come along with whom he might negotiate for the carrying of the wood upstairs into his office. One came. "Will you tote that wood up for ten cents?" asked the real estate man. "Naw," was the contemptuous reply of the boy, who scarcely stopped to look at the pile, all of which could have been placed on a fire in an old-fashioned chimney and not have made the old folks sit very far back, either. Well, this goes to show how times have changed. The furnace in the basement has knocked the nigger out. The house resounds like a boiler shop and hisses like a locomotive at rest while steam is being raised, and the duty is to pay when the furnace goes wrong, which it has a way of doing at the very time when it ought not to do so. A man is just as liable to wake up frozen as boiled, any morning.

The weather we are having is oldtime weather, all right, but it is shorn of its old-time enjoyments. Life is not what it was. Instead of the bang, bang of the steam pipes, give us the shuffling noise of the negro boy as he comes into the room with an armful of wood, piles it in the fireplace, puts the "kindling" under it, and soon has a fire crackling merrily, while in the kitchen Dina has the pork sausage and the hominy and the hot biscuits and the home-churned butter ready for one's coming.

Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight,
Give us our nigger just once for to-night!

—Charlotte Chronicle.

KEEP YOUR SHOP.

After all there is a good deal in talk. Let a man talk dull times and it is infectious, everybody talks dull times. Instead of rattling around to take care of what business there is they all go and sit down and mope over dull times. If a customer does happen to drop into one of these "dull times" stores he actually gets frightened out of one-half as much as he expects to buy, because things look so blue. He catches the spirit of the store and resolves to hang on to his money with a death grip, even if his business goes to pieces on account of running short of goods to fill up the empty shelves. The bug-bear of hard times should be sat down upon. It is doing more to kill business than anything else. Tell a man he is sick, keep it up and it will eventually hound him to death.

If you are a merchant advertise your business and pay liberally for it and push your business.

If you pretend to farm then stay at it and consider that there are twelve and not six months for work.

Whatever be your avocation, remember the saying of Ben Franklin, "Keep your shop and your shop will keep you." Stick to your business and work intelligently and dull times will flee away.—Ex

COMMITTEE FAVORS CANAL.

Senate Committee Favorably Reports Senator Simmons' Amendment to Appropriate $784,000 for Deeper Channel From Pamlico Sound to the Ocean.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Some matters of importance to North Carolina transpired today while the rivers and harbors committee of the Senate was in session. The committee favorably reported the amendment of Senator F. M. Simmons carrying an appropriation of $784,000 for digging a channel from Pamlico sound to the ocean, giving 12 foot depth. This is the third section of the well-known inland waterway, which Congressman Small and others have so long advocated, and this work alone will be of immense advantage to a large section of the State, whether or not another dollar is ever appropriated. Of course the all-important question now is whether the appropriation will stand in conference. Senator Barry is minority conferee on the part of the Senate, and the Arkansas Senator says he will insist on retaining the item in the river and harbor bill as long as talking will avail anything. Of course the House committee has been consistently unfriendly to this measure, but Chairman Burton will certainly have to give way to Senate conferees in some matters and this may be one of them.

The committee also favorably reported the amendment of Senator Simmons, which is designed to secure survey of the Beaufort harbor for a 30-foot depth. Senator Overman went before the committee and urged the acceptance of his amendment appropriating $400,000 for upper Cape Fear projects, and a further hearing will be held in a day or so when the committee will make a final disposition of the matter. This is another measure which Chairman Burton, of the House committee, has never regarded with favor.—Charlotte Observer.

Wife of Editor Thomas, of Louisburg, Times Passes Away.

Messages by telephone from Louisburg Monday night brought the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. J. A. Thomas, of the Franklin Times, she passed away at a quarter after nine o'clock Monday night after a lingering illness of several years. While her death was not unexpected, it came as a shock to the family and their many friends in Louisburg, Raleigh and elsewhere. They have the sympathy of a host of friends. Mr. Thomas has sympathy of the newspaper men of the State in this hour of grief, following so closely the death of his father, who passed away but a few weeks ago.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Easter Normal School.

The committee on education of the legislature will on Thursday night take decisive action on the bill to establish a normal school in Eastern North Carolina. A number of Greenville citizens leave for Raleigh this evening to urge the claims of the school before the committee and hope to get a favorable report on the bill.

Weather

Fair and warmer tonight. Thursday fair, warmer in eastern and central portions.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From our Hustling Neighbor. Winterville, N. C., Feb. 13.

Miss Laura Cox, who is teaching in LaGrange graded school, came in Saturday morning to spend a few days at home.

Elder T. N. Manning filled his regular appointment at the Free Will Baptist church last Sunday.

Joseph Dixon, manager of the Ayden Milling & Mfg. Co., was here Tuesday afternoon.

We are glad to announce that Mrs. Polly Smith, who has been very sick with grippe, is improving.

A. W. Ange returned Monday from Amesville, accompanied by Mrs. Ange and children who had been visiting there for sometime.

A. G. Cox and several others went to Grifton Tuesday to load some machinery which he has recently purchased. He knows exactly how to handle machinery and also to make a success of it after it is installed.

H. A. White, of Greenville, was here Tuesday looking after the interest of the oil mill.

Miss Elizabeth Boushall, primary teacher in W. H. S., spent Tuesday in Greenville visiting the graded school there.

The Vance Literary society will celebrate Washington's birthday by giving a public debate. The query is, Resolved, That the government should own and control its railroads and telegraph lines." W. L. Gay, J. D. Rodgers, and D. R. Jackson will represent the affirmative. F. C. Perry, A. W. McLawhorn and R. T. Cox will support the negative. The boys are working hard on their speeches and we predict that they will fully sustain the record of the past debates. The public is cordially invited to be present.

Miss Mollie Maynard, who has made her home for the past year with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cox, has accepted a position at Thomasville orphanage as head matron in the dining department. She has many friends here who regret to see her leave. We wish her much success at the orphanage. She left for Thomasville this morning.

We heartily approve of Mr. Laughinghouse's speech on the present jury system. We believe in giving a prisoner every opportunity for a fair and impartial trial, but we think that is enough to be asked.

Miss Huldah Cox spent last night at home.

Pull Together.

The best way to build up a town is for each and every man in it not to strive to rend and tear down. Whenever a man in town is doing well do not tear him down. All the residents of a town are partners not opponents. In all likelihood the more business done by your rival the more you will do. Every gentler who treats his customer honestly, courteously and fairly will get his share, and the more business that can be secured by united effort, the better it will be for all. When a town ceases to grow it commences to die, and the more the people try to kill off each other in their business and good name, the more rapidly will utter ruin come to all. Stand together for the advancement of every citizen. If a man shows ability to prosper do not pull him back with jealousy or weigh him down with cold indifference.—Carthage Blade.

WITH THE ALDERMEN.

Several Important Matters Considered.

The board of aldermen held quite an interesting adjourned meeting Tuesday night and considered several matters of importance. A number of citizens were present and upon request discussed the matters that came up.

The bill pending in the legislature to establish a normal school in Eastern North Carolina being of much concern to Greenville, the aldermen made an appropriation not exceeding $250 to defray the expenses of a committee to get to Raleigh in the interest of the measure.

Another important matter discussed at some length was extending the corporate boundaries of the town. A committee consisting of the mayor and two aldermen was appointed to investigate the matter fully, and if they found it advisable to extend the boundaries to have a bill drawn to that effect and also embrace such other amendments to the charter of the town as are deemed best.

A resolution adopted at the last regular meeting of the board to have Greenville exempted from the fire waste law, was reconsidered, it having been brought to attention that the operations of this law had resulted in a reduction of 10 cents on each $100 risk in the business section of the town, which reduction would not hold if the exemption is made.

There was also some discussion of the water and light plant looking to its improvement and increased facilities to meet the needs of the town.

HOUSE FOR THEM.

Dead men are only fit to inhabit cemeteries. If they age decently dead, dead all over, we tenderly lay them away in the sleep of the tomb; but if they are dead to all the enterprise, out of the narrow plane of their own interests and yet persist in walking around, moving their dry bones, calloused hearts and consciences where real business is wont to throb and pulse with vigor, they are only like the drone bees, in the way until they are stung to death and dragged outside the hive of legitimate industry. Twenty real live men are worth more to the public generally than a round full thousand of useless material that lies around like rubbish in a rising stream that is aching and foaming to turn mills and factories. Yes, live men bless, and dead men curse a town.—Ex.

Taste Governs Spelling.

Shakespeare spelled his own name in sixteen different ways which have survived, and it is evident that Elizabethan spelling "depends upon the taste and fancy of the speller." It is the printing press which made spelling by stereotyping it, and it is, after all, on the printer's reader more than on the professor that the spelling of the future depends.—London Star.

Napoleon's Name.

The name Napoleon written in Greek characters will form seven different words by dropping the final letter of each in succession. When read, these words form a complete sentence, meaning, "Napoleon, the destroyer of whole cities, was the lion of his people."

Wrong.

"There is a word of one syllable in the English language that is always spelled wrong, even by the most educated people."
"What is that?"
"The word 'wrong.'"

Obviously.

"Let me see," mused the sporting editor, "What is an incubator?"
"An incubator," replied the agricultural editor, "is an egg plant."

Discouragement is but disenchanted egotism.—Mazzini.

THE LEGISLATURE.

And What the Law Makers are Doing.

The house Tuesday passed the Bickett bill to provide for the care of the mental defectives of the State. It was sent to the senate and passed its second reading without a vote in opposition, but at the request of several senators took its place on the calendar for its third and final reading today. The bill creates the State Hospital Commission, to consist of five members who shall be appointed by the Governor. The Commission is directed to make additional provision for the care of the mental defectives of North Carolina, and their duties are prescribed in the bill. Five hundred thousand dollars are appropriated to carry out the provisions of this act, for which not more than $125,000 shall be available for the year ending November 30, 1907, and a like amount is made available on the same date annually until November 30, 1910. If in any one of these years the revenues of the State, not otherwise appropriated, shall not be sufficient to meet the appropriations made in this act, then the State Treasurer is authorized to borrow enough money to make out the deficiency, and he is authorized to provide for the payment out of the revenue of the succeeding year.

Among the new bills in the senate was one by Senator Fleming to allow sheriff's a fee for seizing illicit distilleries.

A larger number of bills were ratified than on any previous day.

In the house Representative Whitley introduced a bill to provide for good roads in Williamston township, Martin county.

Representative Winborn offered a bill to compel railroad and telegraph companies to obey the lawful orders of the co-operation commission.

There are also a bill by Representative McRae to provide additional pension for ex-Confederate soldiers wearing artificial legs; and by Representative Pitt to prohibit the giving of liens on crops grown on lands of another.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Printed Pictures of Passing People.

Mrs J. A. Webb went to Rocky Mount today.

Rev. W. E. Cox returned this morning from Kinston.

Ex-Gov. and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis returned from Raleigh Tuesday evening.

Notice to White Teachers.

You will remember that it has been announced that the 20th of February is the limit to receive the names of those who will compete for the Grimes and Arthur medals. The subjects are for the Grimes medal "Pitt County's Contribution to North Carolina History" and for the Arthur medal "What has Education Done for Pitt County, and what do the People owe to its Schools?"

Please have your pupils send in their names at once. They will have until April 1st, to hand in their papers. I want 100 boys and girls to compete for these prizes. You will have to attend to this at once if your school is represented in this contest.

W. H. Ragdale,
Co Supt. of Schools.

AN UNJUST MEASURE.

The Reflector is not among those who think it right to jump on corporations just because they are corporations. At the same time corporations should bear their just proportion of taxation, and such as exist for public convenience and depend upon the public for support should be required to regulate their affairs so as to conform, safety and convenience of the public. This paper has already expressed its opinion as to railroad regulations, that there should be a reasonable reduction in both passenger fares and freight rates, but legislation to that end should be fair both to the public and to the railroads.

But there is another matter we wish to speak of now. The eagerness of some men to strike at corporations seems to lead them to unreasonable extremes which appear to be taken without due consideration of the consequences, either to the corporations effected or the people whom the corporations serve. Such is the nature of a bill now pending in the legislature in regard to telegraph companies. The bill provides a penalty of $100 for negligence, or to put it more plainly to punish a telegraph company for what might be construed by a complainant of any short comings among the thousands of telegraph employees, regardless of whether the complainant has suffered any damage whatever in consequence. Just a fine of $100, so to speak, for an error or delay that results in harm to nobody.

This is a most unjust and unreasonable proposition, and if enacted in a law would place the telegraph companies at the mercy of unscrupulous and designing persons who would jump at an opportunity to get $100 on the most frivolous pretext. There are already ample laws covering the liabilities of telegraph companies when through negligence or otherwise they cause damage or loss to persons whom they serve. Even under the existing laws such companies are made to suffer unjustly under the plea of "mental anguish," when there has been no damage nor even much "mental anguish," but the latter serves an excuse under the law of jumping on a corporation and recovering for imaginary damages. However, if a telegraph company does actually cause damage to a person it should be required to fully compensate the damage, but nothing more than this is just.

When a business is so dependent upon human agencies, as telegraph companies are, and every energy being exerted to hurry the transmission of messages, it is but natural that unintentional errors sometime occur, even though there might be every desire to perform a perfect service. The writer has been telegraph operator for twenty three years, and with a practical knowledge of the details of the service is in position to see the injustice in the measure now pending in the legislature and to declare that no such measure should become a law.

There is also another side of this question that affects the public and may result in people in some of the small towns being deprived of telegraph facilities if the bill referred to becomes a law. In North Carolina there are something like 400 telegraph offices. More than three fourths of these offices have to be operated in connection with railroad stations—the operator and agent being one and the same person—because the telegraph business is far too small to justify independent telegraph offices at such points. Statistics we have read show that the average telegraph receipts at fifty odd of these joint offices is less than $2 per month, eighty odd less than $5 per month and seventy odd less than $10 per month. The first duty of the man in charge of these offices is to the railroad for which he is agent, commercial telegraphing being a matter he can only attend to as time from his other duties permits. If delay should occur in handling a telegram under these circumstances, and such a law as contemplated in the bill in question should be in force, the telegraph company could be penalized $100 while it would in no way be responsible for the delay, yet there would be no penalty resting on the railroad employing the agent to attend to its business. This shows plainly that the telegraph companies could not afford to take such risk by continuing business at these small points which are open purely as a matter of accommodation. If only independent offices could be open at which the receipts are large enough to pay the expense of conducting them, there would hardly be a hundred telegraph offices left in the State.

The contemplated bill is unjust and dangerous and ought to be killed.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. Health Coffee is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real coffee, remember in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet it's flavor matches closely old Java and Mocha coffee. If your stomach heart or kidneys can't stand coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's safe even for the smallest child. Sold by T. E. Kooker & C.

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably endorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains honey and tar. It is the original laxative cough syrup and is unrivaled for the relief of croup. Drives the cold out through the bowels. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

To stop a cold with "preventives" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" preventives will head off all colds and Grippe and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventives are little toothsome cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventives. They will surely check the cold, and please you. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat-producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat
Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Dollar bottles hold 5¢ less as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

The State Bread of Hungary.
In Hungary they do not eat fresh bread. When it is baked the Hungarians believe in hygiene more than their American or European brothers and sisters, and it has never been told, but the Magyar is partial to stale bread, and the staler the better. His "roskeny" or ordinary black bread, as it is called by the very large majority of the Magyar population, is carefully laid away on a shelf and dug out for consumption months and months after it has come out of the great ovens. If the huge loaf, weighing something like five pounds and for which the Hungarian pays 6 or 7 kreutzer, equivalent to about 3 or 4 cents in American money, has carefully been hidden away for two years, it is considered all the better. The Hungarian never thinks of where the bread is to come from tomorrow. He thinks of where it is to come from next year, for he has at least a year's supply on the shelves. The Hungarian bakes her bread 305 days ahead of time. Her Wednesday baking is for the Wednesday of a year to come; her Thursday baking for the Thursday of a year to come.

To Cut the Night in Two.
Professor Victor Hallopeau, member of the Paris Academy of Medicine, says:

The true secret of long continued, valuable brain work is to cut the night in two. The scholar, the inventor, the financier, the literary creator, should be asleep every night by 10 o'clock, to wake again at, say, 2 in the morning. Three hours' work, from 2 to 5, in the absolute tranquillity of the silent hours should mean the revealing of new powers, new possibilities, a wealth of ideas undreamed of under the prevailing system.

From 5 to 8 or 8:30 sleep again. Taking up then the day's work, the brain will be still saturated with the mental fruits of the midnight vigil; there will be no effort in putting into practice or carrying further what was planned or begun those few hours before.

The habit may be hard to acquire, but mechanical means of waking at first will induce the predisposition.—New York World.

The Military Death Sentence.

"You know how a soldier traitor is put to death," said the colonel. "The traitor stands blindfolded, and half a dozen privates shoot at him simultaneously. But perhaps you don't know that each of those privates, though he take the most careful aim, may afterward say without fear of contradiction that the traitor's blood does not stain his hands. This is the reason: Two of the rifles for this ghastly shooting are always loaded with blank cartridges. Then they are shuffled, and no one knows which the harmless ones are. The executioners draw, and each is as like as not to draw a harmless gun. So when they shoot they can solace themselves with the thought that maybe they are only shooting a blank cartridge at the poor blindfolded wretch before them."

Hans Breilmann's Philosophy.

I have found that if we resolve to be vigorous of body and mind, calm, collected, cheerful, etc., we can effect marvels, for it is certainly true that after awhile the spirit or will does haunt us unconsciously and marvelously. I have, I believe, half changed my nature under this discipline. I will continually be free from folly, envy, irritability and vanity, to forgive and forget, and I have found, by willing and often recurring to it, that, while far from being exempt from fault, I have eliminated a vast mass of it from my mind. It is certainly true, as Kant wrote to Hufeland, many diseases can be cured by resolving them away. He thought the gout could be.—Letters of Charles Godfrey Leland.

Time to Change.

It was at a table d'hote dinner at a hill station in India that a very young officer just up from the plains found himself seated next to a lady whom he took for one of the grass widows common in these parts. He made himself agreeable, but his neighbor seemed a good deal out of spirits, so he said sympathetically:

"I suppose you can't help thinking of your poor husband grilling down below?"

But the lady was a real widow, and when he learned that he changed his seat.—London Answers.

Sparing the Smasher.

"I told you," said the merchant, "to mark this box 'Handle With Care.' What's this nonsense you've painted here?"

"That," said the college graduate, "is the Latin for 'Handle With Care.'"

"How do you expect a baggageman to understand that?"

"He won't and therefore he won't get mad and smash the box."—Philadelphia Press.

For Feminine Jurors.

In breach of promise cases the presence of female jurors among the male jurors would certainly benefit the men, as they would at once see through the wiles of their own sex, disconnect the picture hat and the pretty gown and disclose the hussy at heart in the pleading, innocent betrayed one.—Lady Violet Greville in London Opinion.

Supertmposed.

In the hall of a philanthropic society the following notice was posted: "The seats in this hall are for the use of the ladies. Gentlemen are requested to make use of them only after the former are seated."—H. Riso.

We love to expect, and when expectation is either disappointed or gratified we want to be again expecting.—Johnson.

A Fairly Big Fish.
Paddy had been telling the story of a big pike he caught, too big to get into the boat, so that he had to be towed behind (with the gaff in it, it must be understood). Then followed this dialogue: "What weight, Paddy?" "Divil a know I know, but he was an ojons baste." "Was that the biggest you ever saw, Paddy?" Then Paddy gave a description of the biggest he ever saw. "What weight, Paddy?" "Sorra a bit I know. He was a terrib." "How big, Paddy?" "Sure, I can't tell to a foot or two, but a man could walk down his throat." On this incredulity, but Paddy "clinched the matter and silenced all controversy" by adding: "Wid his hat on."—Angler's Evenings.

Emergency Foods.

According to Dr. Robert Hutchingson of London, if at any time meat is no available, bread, sugar and eggs will make "a very respectable support for the body." Sugar is an exceedingly valuable article of food as a source of energy, the unfortunate thing about it being that it contains no nitrogenous matter. Bread, however, does contain some; hence it balances up well when combined with sugar. In times of scarcity of food bread and molasses is not a half bad diet—at least it can be relied on to keep the body up to a fair state of efficiency.

Women as Walkers.

Even the athletic girls and women of today can hardly make any advance upon the record of Mary Lamb who wrote to Miss Wordsworth (both women being between fifty and sixty years old): "You say you can walk fifteen miles with ease. That is exactly my stint." She then speaks pityingly of a delicate woman who could accomplish "only four or five miles every third or fourth day, keeping very quiet between."

Manhattan Island.

Indians who accepted $24 from Governor Peter Minuit for Manhattan Island in 1624 did not make such a bargain, for if they had invested that sum of money at compound interest at the prevailing rate since then their heirs would now have $12,000,000,000.

Keeping Pace With the Service.

Patron (curtly)—Did you eat your lunch. Restauranter—Yes, I already ordered a second course. Patron—Yes, but I mean what did you eat then.

Control.

If you get a job, the first thing to do for it don't let it get away from you. Lose it Saturday—Saturday Evening Post.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Dr. Williams' Catarrh Cure is the only positive remedy known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Dr. Williams' Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
